UGI will surrender to Delaware Coach for cancellation 10,000 shares of the latter's 36,000 shares of no par value capital stock, representing $1,000,000 of stated capital. Delaware Coach will issue and deliver to UGI, and UGI will accept, in exchange for such shares, a $1,000,000 promissory note of Delaware Coach. UGI will then sell to Russell S. Stoughton for $400,000 in cash the remaining 26,000 shares of capital stock of Delaware Coach.

A hearing having been held with respect to such proposals at which interested persons were heard, proposed findings and opinions, and briefs in support thereof, having been filed, and oral argument having been held; and

The Commission having considered the record and having entered its findings and opinion herein, and finding that the proposed transactions constitute a plan pursuant to section 11 (e) of the act for compliance with section 11 (b) of the act, and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers to approve said plan and to grant and permit to become effective said joint application-declaration, as amended, subject to the conditions noted hereinafter, to grant the requests of applicants-declarants (1) that the proposed transactions be permitted to be consummated forthwith and (2) that this order include appropriate recitals and specifications conforming to the pertinent requirements of Supplement R and section 1808 (f) of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended, and to exempt the proposed sale from the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50, to the extent such requirements are applicable;

It is hereby ordered, Pursuant to the applicable provisions of the act that said plan be, and hereby is, approved as necessary to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b), and fair and equitable to the persons affected by said plan, and that said joint application-declaration, as amended, be, and hereby is, granted and permitted to become effective forthwith, subject to the conditions (1) that the proposed note agreement to be entered into between UGI and Delaware Coach be amended so that the provision contained therein relating to a limitation on dividends and other capital stock payments include a provision to the effect that in determining the amount of earned surplus of Delaware Coach accumulated from the date of such note agreement to and including the date of any proposed dividend, distribution or payment, such determination shall be made for Delaware Coach and its subsidiaries on a consolidated basis in accordance with sound accounting principles, and (2) the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24;

It is further ordered, That the proposed sale be, and hereby is, exempted from the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50;

It is further ordered and recited, That the transactions, hereinafter described and recited proposed by UGI and Delaware Coach, are necessary or appropriate to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935:

(1) The recapitalization of Delaware Coach in the following manner:

(a) The transfer and delivery by UGI to Delaware Coach for cancellation and retirement of 10,000 shares of the capital stock of the latter representing $1,000,000 of its stated capital; and

(b) The cancellation and retirement of such shares by Delaware Coach, the reduction of its stated capital by the amount of $1,000,000 and the issue and delivery to UGI in exchange for such shares of Delaware Coach Company's note in the principal amount of $1,000,000; and

(2) The transfer and delivery by UGI to Russell S. Stoughton of all the issued and outstanding capital stock of Delaware Coach consisting of 26,000 shares without nominal or par value.

By the Commission.

[File No. 812-712]

EQUITY CORP ET AL.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C. on the 3d day of April A. D. 1951.

In the matter of the Equity Corporation, Industrial Insurance Company, and State-wide Insurance Agency, Inc.; File No. 812-712.

Notice is hereby given that Industrial Insurance Company (Industrial), 103 Park Avenue, New York, New York, has filed an application pursuant to section 6 (c) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 requesting an order exempting from section 17 (e) (1) of the Act, the acceptance by State-Wide Insurance Agency, Inc., (State-Wide), 800 East Main Street, Richmond, Virginia, its agents and employees, of commissions arising from the sale of insurance policies by State-Wide, as agent, for Industrial.

The Equity Corporation (Equity), 103 Park Avenue, New York, New York, a registered investment company, is the owner of a majority of the voting stock of the Morris Plan Corporation of America (Morris Plan). Morris Plan, in turn, owns all of the voting stock of National Industrial Credit Corporation, 103 Park Avenue, New York, New York, which corporation in turn owns all of the capital stock, other than director's qualifying shares, of Industrial. In addition, Morris Plan owns a majority of the capital stock of The Bank of Virginia, 800 East Main Street, Richmond, Virginia, which bank owns a majority of the capital stock of State-Wide. Accordingly, both Industrial and State-Wide are companies affiliated with and controlled by a registered investment company, under the definition of the act.

Section 17 (e) (1) of the act makes it unlawful for State-Wide, or any person affiliated with it, acting as agent, to accept from any source any compensation for the purchase or sale of any property to or for Industrial or any other controlled company of Equity, unless an exemption therefrom is granted pursuant to section 6 (c) of the act. The application, therefore, requests an exemptive order permitting State-Wide, its agents and employees, to enter into agency arrangements with Industrial for the sale of various types of insurance policies. Pursuant to the proposed agency arrangements, State-Wide will receive a straight commission of 25 percent of net premiums, payable 15 percent at the time of risk placement and 10 percent annually on premiums earned during each fiscal year, plus an additional compensation based upon loss experience

For a more detailed statement of the matters of fact and law asserted, all persons are referred to said application which is on file in the offices of the Commission in Washington, D. C.

Notice is further given that an order granting the application, in whole or in part and upon such conditions as the Commission may deem necessary or appropriate, may be issued by the Commission at any time after April 25, 1951, unless prior thereto a hearing upon the application is ordered by the Commission, as provided in Rule N-5 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act. Any interested person may, not later than April 23, 1951, at 5:30 p. m., e. s. t., submit to the Commission in writing his views or any additional facts bearing upon this application or the desirability of a hearing thereon, or request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held thereon. Any such communication or request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C., and should state briefly the nature of the interest of the person submitting such information or requesting a hearing, the reasons for such request, and the issues of fact or law raised by the application which he desires to controvert.

By the Commission.

[SEAL] ORVAL L. DUBOIS,
Secretary.

[Vesting Order 17578]

ANNA ELISABETH OTTO-SARAUW

In re: Bonds owned by and debts owing to Anna Elisabeth Otto-Sarauw. F-28-31117.

Under the authority of the Trading With the Enemy Act, as amended, Executive Order 9193, as amended, and Executive Order 9788, and pursuant to law, after investigation, it is hereby found:

1. That Anna Elisabeth Otto-Sarauw, who on or since the effective date of Executive Order 8389, as amended, and on or since December 11, 1941, has been a resident of Germany, is a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

2. That the property described as follows:

a. Two (2) United States of America 2⅞ percent Treasury Bonds, due 1955-1960, of $1,000 face value each, presently in the custody of Swiss American Corporation, 30 Pine Street, New York 5, New York, in an account entitled "Credit Suisse, Zurich, identified Eduard Sarauw", together with any and all rights thereunder and thereto,

b. That certain debt or other obligation of Swiss American Corporation, 30 Pine Street, New York 5, New York, in the amount of $581.80, as of January 29, 1951, held in an account entitled "Credit Suisse, Zurich", maintained with the aforesaid corporation, and any and all rights to demand, enforce and collect the same, and

c. That certain debt or other obligation of Credit Suisse, New York Agency, 30 Pine Street, New York 5, New York, in the amount of $1,155.60 as of January 29, 1951, held in an account entitled "Credit Suisse, Zurich, General Ruling #6 Account", maintained with the aforesaid agency, and any and all rights to demand, enforce and collect the same, is property within the United States owned or controlled by, payable or deliverable to, held on behalf of or on account of, or owing to, or which is evidence of ownership or control by Anna Elisabeth Otte-Sarauw, the aforesaid national of a designated enemy country (Germany); and it is hereby determined:

3. That to the extent that the person named in subparagraph 1 hereof is not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such person be treated as a national of a designated enemy country (Germany).

All determinations and all action required by law, including appropriate consultation and certification, having been made and taken, and, it being deemed necessary in the national interest,

There is hereby vested in the Attorney General of the United States the property described above, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of Executive Order 9193, as amended.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on March 23, 1951.

For the Attorney General.

SUBPART B—UNITED STATES STANDARDS FOR GRADES OF PROCESSED FRUITS, VEGETABLES, AND OTHER PRODUCTS[1]

UNITED STATES STANDARDS FOR GRADES OF FROZEN BRUSSELS SPROUTS; REVISION

On June 17, 1950, a notice of proposed rule making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (15 F. R. 3938) regarding a proposed revision of the United States Standards for Grades of Frozen Brussels Sprouts. After consideration of all relevant matters presented, including the proposals set forth in the aforesaid notice, the following revised United States Standards for Grades of Frozen Brussels Sprouts are hereby promulgated under the authority contained in the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 (60 Stat. 1087; 7 U. S. C. 1621 et seq.) and the Department of Agriculture Appropriation Act, 1951 (Pub. Law 759, 81st Cong., approved September 6, 1950):

§ 52.199 Frozen Brussels sprouts. Frozen Brussels sprouts are prepared from the fresh heads of the Brussels sprouts plant (Brassica oleracea gemmifera) by trimming, washing, and blanching and are frozen and maintained at temperatures necessary for the preservation of the product.

(a) Grades of frozen Brussels sprouts. (1) "U. S. Grade A" or "U. S. Fancy" is the quality of frozen Brussels sprouts that possess similar varietal characteristics; that possess a good color; that are practically free from defects; that possess a good character; that possess a good flavor and odor; and that score not less than 90 points when scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this section.

[1] The requirements of these standards shall not excuse failure to comply with the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

(2) "U. S. Grade B" or "U. S. Extra Standard" is the quality of frozen Brussels sprouts that possess similar varietal characteristics; that possess a reasonably good color; that are reasonably free from defects; that possess a reasonably good character; that possess a good flavor and odor; and that score not less than 80 points when scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this section.

(3) "U. S. Grade C" or "U. S. Standard" is the quality of frozen Brussels sprouts that possess a fairly good color; that are fairly free from defects; that possess a fairly good character; that possess a fairly good flavor and odor; and that score not less than 70 points when scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this section.

(4) "U. S. Grade D" or "Substandard" is the quality of frozen Brussels sprouts that fails to meet the requirements of U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard.

(b) Ascertaining the grade. (1) The grade of frozen Brussels sprouts is ascertained by considering, in conjunction with the requirements of the respective grade, the respective ratings for the factors of color, absence of defects, and character.

(2) The relative importance of each factor which is scored is expressed numerically on the scale of 100. The maximum number of points that may be given such factors are:

Factors:	Points
(i) Color	30
(ii) Absence of defects	40
(iii) Character	30
Total score	100

(3) The scores for the factors of color and absence of defects of Brussels sprouts are determined immediately after thawing so that the product is sufficiently free from ice crystals to permit proper handling as individual units and the product is completely thawed to determine the factor of character. The product is cooked to determine the flavor and odor.

(4) "Good flavor and odor" means that the product after cooking has a good, characteristic, normal flavor and odor and is free from objectionable flavors and objectionable odors of any kind.

(5) "Fairly good flavor and odor" means that the product after cooking may be lacking in good flavor and odor but is free from objectionable flavors and objectionable odors of any kind.

(c) Ascertaining the rating for the factors which are scored. The essential variations within each factor which is scored are so described that the value may be ascertained for each factor and expressed numerically. The numerical range within each factor which is scored is inclusive (for example, "27 to 30 points" means 27, 28, 29, or 30 points).

(1) Color. The color of Brussels sprouts is based on the characteristic and predominating color of the outer surfaces of the Brussels sprouts.

(i) "Yellow-green" means a predominating characteristic green color with a definite yellow cast.

(ii) "Yellow" means a predominating characteristic yellow color with slight tinges of green or a predominating characteristic yellow color typical of the color Brussels sprouts possess after the outer green leaves have been removed.

(iii) Frozen Brussels sprouts that possess a good color may be given a score of 27 to 30 points. "Good color" means that not more than 5 percent, by count, of the units may be yellow and that the remainder of the units are yellow-green or more green in color. One Brussels sprout in a single container is permitted to be yellow if such unit exceeds the allowance of 5 percent.

(iv) If the frozen Brussels sprouts possess a reasonably good color, a score of 24 to 26 points may be given. Frozen Brussels sprouts that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Extra Standard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Reasonably good color" means that more than 5 percent, by count, but not more than 25 percent, by count, of the units are yellow and that the remainder of the units are yellow-green or more green in color.

(v) If the frozen Brussels sprouts possess a fairly good color, a score of 21 to 23 points may be given. Frozen Brussels sprouts that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Fairly good color" means that more than 25 percent, by count, of the units are yellow and that the remainder, if any, are yellow-green or more green in color but are not off-color for any reason.

(vi) Frozen Brussels sprouts that fail to meet the requirements of subdivision (v) of this subparagraph may be given a score of 0 to 20 points and shall not be graded above U. S. Grade D or Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(2) Absence of defects. The factor of absence of defects refers to the degree of freedom from grit, silt, harmless extraneous material, loose leaves and loose small pieces, poorly trimmed units, and from units damaged by discoloration, mechanical injury, pathological injury, insect injury, or other means.

(i) "Grit" (or sand) is rough, hard particles of earthy sediment.

(ii) "Silt" is fine earthy sediment from material such as mud or clay.

(iii) "Harmless extraneous material" means vegetable substances other than from Brussels sprouts, such as weeds and grass and any portion thereof, that are harmless.

(iv) "Loose leaves and loose small pieces" means leaves, pieces of leaves, and small pieces of edible stalk or stems not attached to a unit, whether or not damaged.

(v) "Poorly trimmed units" means (a) that the butt end is not trimmed smoothly and closely at the approximate point of attachment of the outer leaves; or (b) that the appearance of the unit is materially damaged from excessive cutting into the head. Brussels sprouts heads from which the leaves have been stripped, whether or not excessively, are not considered "poorly trimmed units."

(vi) "Damaged" means any unit damaged by surface or internal discoloration, mechanical injury, pathological injury, insect injury, or by other means to the extent that the appearance or eating quality is materially affected.

(vii) "Seriously damaged" means any unit damaged to such an extent that the appearance or eating quality is seriously affected.

(viii) Frozen Brussels sprouts that are practically free from defects may be given a score of 36 to 40 points. "Practically free from defects" means that no grit or silt that affects the appearance or eating quality of the product is present; no harmless extraneous material is present; loose leaves and loose small pieces that do not affect the appearance or eating quality of the product may be present; and that units that are damaged or seriously damaged do not exceed 10 percent, by count, of all the units, but of such 10 percent not more than one-half thereof or not more than 5 percent, by count, of all the units may be seriously damaged; and, in addition, not more than 10 percent, by count, of all the units may be poorly trimmed.

(ix) If the frozen Brussels sprouts are reasonably free from defects, a score of 32 to 35 points may be given. Frozen Brussels sprouts that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Extra Standard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Reasonably free from defects" means that no grit or silt that affects the appearance or eating quality of the product is present; not more than one piece of harmless extraneous material may be present for each 20 ounces of net weight; loose leaves and loose small pieces that do not materially affect the appearance or eating quality of the product may be present; and that units that are damaged or seriously damaged do not exceed 20 percent, by count, of all the units, but of such 20 percent not more than one-half thereof or not more than 10 percent, by count, of all the units may be seriously damaged; and, in addition, not more than 15 percent, by count, of all the units may be poorly trimmed.

(x) Frozen Brussels sprouts that are fairly free from defects may be given a score of 28 to 31 points. Frozen Brussels sprouts that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Fairly free from defects" means that a slight trace of grit or silt that does not affect materially the appearance or eating quality of the product may be present; not more than two pieces of harmless extraneous material may be present for each 20 ounces of net weight; loose leaves and loose small pieces that do not seriously affect the appearance or eating quality of the product may be present; and that units that are damaged, seriously damaged, or poorly trimmed do not exceed 50 percent, by count, of all the units, but of such 50 percent not more than three-tenths thereof or not more than 15 percent, by count, of all the units may be seriously damaged and of such 50 percent not more than two-fifths thereof or not more than 20 percent, by count, of the units may have butt ends that are not trimmed smoothly and closely at the approximate point of attachment of the outer leaves.

(xi) Frozen Brussels sprouts that fail to meet the requirements of subdivision (x) of this subparagraph may be given a score of 0 to 27 points and shall not be graded above U. S. Grade D or Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Reasonably good character" means that not less than 50 percent, by count, of the units are at least reasonably well developed; not more than 10 percent, by count, may be very loose-structured units; and the remainder are fairly well developed.

(vii) Frozen Brussels sprouts that possess a fairly good character may be given a score of 21 to 23 points. Frozen Brussels sprouts that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Fairly good character" means that not less than 50 percent, by count, of the units are at least fairly well developed.

(viii) Frozen Brussels sprouts that fail to meet the requirements of subdivision (vii) of this subparagraph may be given a score of 0 to 20 points and shall not be graded above U. S. Grade D or Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(d) Tolerances for certification of officially drawn samples. (1) When certifying samples that have been officially drawn and which represent a specific lot of frozen Brussels sprouts, the grade for such lot will be determined by averaging the total scores of the containers comprising the sample, if:

(i) Not more than one-sixth of such containers fails to meet all the requirements of the grade indicated by the average of such total scores, and, with respect to such containers which fail to meet the requirements of the indicated grade by reason of a limiting rule, the average score of all containers in the sample for the factor, subject to such limiting rule, is within the range for the grade indicated;

(ii) None of the containers comprising the sample falls more than 4 points below the minimum score for the grade indicated by the average of the total scores; and

(iii) All containers comprising the sample meet all applicable standards of quality promulgated under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and in effect at the time of the aforesaid certification.

NED R. BASKIN

Subpart—Advertising falsely or misleadingly: § 3.15 Business status, advantages or connections—Connections or arrangements with others; § 3.75 Free goods or services; § 3.200 Sample, offer or order conformance; § 3.240 Special or limited offers. Subpart—Offering unfair, improper and deceptive inducements to purchase or deal; § 3.1955 Free goods; § 3.2000 Limited offers or supply; § 3.2060 Sample, offer or order conformance. Subpart—Using misleading name—Vendor; § 3.2370 Connections and arrangements with others. In connection with the offering for sale, sale, or distribution of plain or colored photographs, or enlargements thereof, in commerce, (1) representing, directly or by implication, that any photograph or enlargement, colored or black and white, framed or unframed, will be made and delivered for a stipulated price, unless such photograph or enlargement will in fact be made and delivered for the stipulated price without the imposition or attempted imposition of any condition not clearly disclosed in the representation; (2) representing, directly or by implication, that any offer is for a limited time only, when such offer is not in fact limited in point of time, but is made by respondent in the regular course of business; (3) using the words "free" or "given", or any other word or term expressly or impliedly importing a like meaning, in advertising, to designate, describe, or refer to any article of merchandise which is not in fact a gift or gratuity or which is not given without requiring the purchase of other merchandise or the performance of some service inuring directly or indirectly to the benefit of the respondent; or, (4) using the name "Hollywood Film Studios", together with pictures of motion picture celebrities, on letterheads or in advertising matter; or otherwise representing that the respondent has any connection whatsoever with the motion picture industry; prohibited.

(Sec. 6, 38 Stat. 722; 15 U. S. C. 46. Interpret or apply sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended; 15 U. S. C., 45) [Cease and desist order, Ned R. Baskin, Docket 4902, Jan. 26, 1951]

In the Matter of Ned R. Baskin, an Individual

This proceeding having been heard by the Federal Trade Commission upon the complaint of the Commission, the respondent's answer thereto, testimony and other evidence in support of and in opposition to the allegations of the complaint introduced before a trial examiner of the Commission theretofore duly designated by it, the trial examiner's recommended decision, and brief in support of the complaint (no brief having been filed on behalf of the respondent and oral argument not having been requested), and the Commission having made its findings as to the facts and its conclusion that the respondent has violated the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act:

It is ordered, That the respondent, Ned R. Baskin, an individual trading under the name of Hollywood Film Studios, or trading under any other name, and his agents, representatives, and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale, or distribution of plain or colored photographs, or enlargements thereof, in commerce as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, do forthwith cease and desist from:

(1) Representing, directly or by implication, that any photograph or enlargement, colored or black and white, framed or unframed, will be made and delivered for a stipulated price, unless such photograph or enlargement will in fact be made and delivered for the stipulated price without the imposition or attempted imposition of any condition not clearly disclosed in the representation.

(2) Representing, directly or by implication, that any offer is for a limited time only, when such offer is not in fact limited in point of time, but is made by respondent in the regular course of business.

(3) Using the words "free" or "given", or any other word or term expressly or impliedly importing a like meaning, in advertising, to designate, describe, or refer to any article of merchandise which is not in fact a gift or gratuity or which is not given without requiring the purchase or other merchandise or the performance of some service inuring directly or indirectly to the benefit of the respondent.

(4) Using the name "Hollywood Film Studios", together with pictures of motion picture celebrities, on letterheads or in advertising matter; or otherwise representing that the respondent has any connection whatsoever with the motion picture industry.

It is further ordered, That the respondent shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon him of this order, file with the Commission a report, in writing, setting forth in detail the manner and form in which he has complied with this order.

Issued: January 26, 1951.

By the Commission.

(Sec. 6, 38 Stat. 722; 15 U. S. C. 46. Interpret or apply sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended; 15 U. S. C. 45) [Cease and desist order, Arms Textile Manufacturing Company et al., Docket 5783, Jan. 16, 1951]

In the Matter of Arms Textile Manufacturing Co., a Corporation, Its Officers, Directors, and Members, as Such, and Individually, Philip L. Sheerr & Sons, a Corporation, Its Officers, Directors and Members as Such, and Individually, Sheerr Bros. & Co., a Copartnership, Robert Sheerr, Stanley I. Sheerr, Alvin Sheerr, David B. Carmel, Isidore Doner, Pearl Sheerr Bensinger, Individually and as Copartners Trading Under the Name of Sheerr Bros. & Co.

Decision of the Commission and order to file report of compliance. Pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act, the Federal Trade Commission on June 22, 1950, issued and subsequently served its complaint in this proceeding upon the respondents, Arms Textile Manufacturing Co., a corporation, Philip L. Sheerr & Sons, a corporation, and Robert Sheerr, Stanley I. Sheerr, Alvin Sheerr, David B. Carmel, Isidore Doner and Pearl Sheerr Bensinger, individually and as copartners trading under the name of Sheerr Bros. & Co., charging said respondents with the use of unfair methods of competition in commerce and unfair acts and practices in commerce in violation of the provisions of said act. A trial examiner of the Commission was thereafter designated by it to take testimony and receive evidence in support of and in opposition to the allegations of the complaint, and at the initial hearing convened for such purpose a stipulation of all of the facts in the case was entered into by and between counsel for the respondents and counsel in support of the complaint. There was also presented and received into the record an appendix to said stipulation in which the respondents expressly waived their right to present further evidence and waived all intervening procedure; and on the record thus presented the trial examiner on September 19, 1950, filed his initial decision.

The Commission, having reason to believe that the initial decision was deficient in certain material respects, on October 30, 1950, issued and thereafter served upon the parties its order placing this case on the Commission's own docket for review and affording the respondents an opportunity to show cause why said initial decision should not be altered in the manner and to the extent shown by the tentative decision attached to said order. The respondents not having appeared in response to the leave to show cause, this proceeding regularly came on for final consideration by the Commission upon the record herein on review; and the Commission, having duly considered the matter and being now fully advised in the premises, finds that said proceeding is in the interest of the public and makes the following findings as to the facts, conclusions drawn therefrom, and order, the same to be in lieu of the initial decision of the trial examiner.

Findings as to the Facts

PARAGRAPH 1. Respondent Arms Textile Manufacturing Co. is a corporation organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the State of New Jersey, with its home office and principal place of business located at 4301 Torresdale Avenue, in the City of Philadelphia, State of Pennsylvania. Said respondent is engaged in manufacturing and selling hair canvas used in manufacturing women's, misses', juniors' and teen-age untrimmed coats and suits. Said canvas is sold under the trade name of "Armo".

Respondent Philip L. Sheerr & Sons is a corporation organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Pennsylvania, with its home office on Torresdale Avenue, in the City of Philadelphia, State of Pennsylvania. Said respondent is engaged in manufacturing hair canvas to be used as interlinings and facings. The hair canvas manufactured by the said respondent Philip L. Sheerr & Sons is sold under the trade name "Hairvas", and this particular type of canvas, used as interlining for men's garments, is not involved in this proceeding. Said respondent does not manufacture any hair canvas under the trade name of "Armo". Said respondent Philip L. Sheerr & Sons has had no significant or substantial connection with the acts and practices alleged in the complaint.

Respondent Sheerr Bros. & Co. is a copartnership, with its home office and principal place of business located at 51 Madison Avenue, New York 10, New York. Said partnership is the selling agent for the two respondent corporations hereinbefore described and is composed of the respondents Robert Sheerr, Stanley I. Sheerr, Alvin Sheerr, David B. Carmel, Isidore Doner and Pearl Sheerr Bensinger as co-partners.

Respondent Robert Sheerr is the president, respondent Stanley I. Sheerr is the executive vice president, respondent Alvin Sheerr is the treasurer, and respondent Isidore Doner is the secretary, respectively, of both of the corporate respondents, Arms Textile Manufacturing Co., and Philip L. Sheerr & Sons.

PAR. 2. Respondent Arms Textile Manufacturing Co. is now, and for a number of years last past it has been, engaged in the manufacture and in the sale and distribution in commerce among and between the various States of the United States of a hair canvas sold under the trade name of "Armo," and has caused said product, when sold, to be shipped to purchasers thereof, many of whom are located in states of the United States other than the state of origin of said shipments. Said respondent now maintains, and for a number of years last past it has maintained, a constant course of trade in said product in said commerce.

PAR. 3. The individual respondents herein trading under the partnership name of Sheerr Bros. & Co. are not engaged in manufacturing the product sold under the trade name "Armo," but they have been and are now acting as sales agents of the corporate respondent Arms Textile Manufacturing Co., as aforesaid, in the sale and distribution of the product hereinbefore described and, while acting in the capacity of sales agents, the individual respondents, trading under the partnership name of Sheerr Bros. & Co., have shipped or caused to be shipped said product, when sold, to the purchasers thereof, many of whom are located in states of the United States other than the state of origin of said shipments.

PAR. 4. While there are other individuals, firms and corporations engaged in the manufacture and in the sale and distribution in commerce of hair canvas, and with which the respondents are in active and substantial competition, the respondents herein named are the largest manufacturers of hair canvas in the United States.

PAR. 5. During or about the year 1948, the respondents herein, other than Philip L. Sheerr & Sons, put into operation a plan of merchandising whereby they entered into agreements with large retail stores and large buying agencies engaged in buying women's, misses', juniors' and teen-age untrimmed coats and suits for retail stores located throughout the United States. Said stores and buying agencies represented a substantial number and a substantial volume of such trade and business. Under the terms of said agreement said respondents agreed to pay, and obligated themselves to pay, in the way of allowances for advertising, substantial sums of money to said retailers and buying agencies when said retailers and buying agencies in their advertising made reference to their use of the product "Armo".

PAR. 6. As an additional consideration for the advertising allowances paid and to be paid by respondents, as aforesaid, stores and buying agencies agreed, undertook to, and did:

1. Require manufacturers of women's, misses', juniors' and teen-age untrimmed coats and suits to use as interfacings or linings of coats and suits purchased by such stores and buying agencies the respondents' product "Armo".

2. Require such manufacturers to attach to every garment purchased by them a "Good Housekeeping" tag, stamp or label, and to state on such tag, stamp or label that the respondents' product was used in such garment.

3. Report to respondents the names of all manufacturers who refused to use respondents' product.

PAR. 7. The acts and practices of the respondents herein, with the exception of respondent Philip L. Sheerr & Sons, have had a dangerous tendency to and have hindered and restrained the sale and distribution of hair canvas in commerce among and between the various states of the United States and have hindered and prevented a normal, free, and unrestrained competition in said product in said commerce; have had a dangerous tendency to create in said respondents, except the respondent Philip L. Sheerr & Sons, a monopoly in the manufacture and in the sale and distribution of said product in said commerce and to deprive the public of the advantage of competition in price which it would otherwise enjoy. The purpose and effect of the above-described agreements was to exert pressure upon and to intimidate the manufacturers of coats and suits and to coerce them into using the respondents' said product "Armo" to the exclusion of comparable and like products of respondents' competitors, and to prevent such manufacturers from buying competitive material through preference based on quality, price or other competitive factors.

Conclusion. The acts and practices of the respondents herein, except Philip L. Sheerr & Sons, have been to the prejudice and injury of the public and of respondents' competitors and have constituted unfair methods of competition in commerce and unfair acts and practices in commerce within the intent and meaning of section 5 of the Federal Trade Commission Act.

The motive, purpose or belief of any party to the agreements described hereinabove was immaterial; it is the effect of such agreements on the public which alone is of consequence.

It is ordered, That the respondents, Arms Textile Manufacturing Co., a corporation, and its officers, and Robert Sheerr, Stanley I. Sheerr, Alvin Sheerr, David B. Carmel, Isidore Doner and Pearl Sheerr Bensinger, individually and as co-partners trading as Sheerr Bros. & Co., or trading under any other name or trade designation, and said respective respondents' agents, representatives and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale or distribution in commerce, as "commerce", is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, of hair canvas used in the manufacture of women's, misses', juniors' and teen-age untrimmed coats and suits, do forthwith cease and desist from entering into, cooperating in, or carrying out any understanding or agreement with any retailer or buying agency whereby such retailer or buying agency undertakes to, or does:

1. Require any manufacturer or supplier of women's, misses', juniors', or teen-age untrimmed coats or suits to use the respondents' hair canvas as interfacings or linings in any coats or suits purchased by said retailer or buying agency.

2. Require any such manufacturer or supplier to attach to any garment wherein the respondents' hair canvas was used a "Good Housekeeping" tag, stamp or label, or any tag, stamp or label showing that the respondents' product was used in such garment.

3. Report to the respondents the name of any manufacturer who refuses to use the respondents' hair canvas in garments manufactured by them.

It is further ordered, That nothing contained in this order shall be construed as prohibiting any of the respondents from entering into cooperative advertising contracts or agreements with retail stores or buying agencies which do not contain any of the requirements herein referred to and which are not otherwise contrary to law, nor as prohibiting any of the respondents from directly requiring any manufacturer purchasing and using the respondents' hair canvas in garments to so label such garments.

It is further ordered, That the complaint herein be, and it hereby is, dismissed as to the respondent, Philip L. Sheerr & Sons, without prejudice, however, to the right of the Commission to institute a new proceeding against said respondent or to take such further or other action in the future as may be warranted by the then existing circumstances.

It is further ordered, That Arms Textile Manufacturing Co., Robert Sheerr, Stanley I. Sheerr, Alvin Sheerr, David B. Carmel, Isidore Doner and Pearl Sheerr Bensinger shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with this order.

By the Commission.

Callahan, Individually and as an Officer of Goodall-Sanford, Inc.; and Goodall Fabrics, Inc., a Corporation

This proceeding having been heard by the Federal Trade Commission upon the complaint of the Commission and a stipulation as to the facts entered into by and between Daniel J. Murphy, Chief, Division of Litigation, of the Commission, and counsel for the respondents, in which stipulation the respondents waived all intervening procedure and further hearing as to said facts; and the Commission having made its findings as to the facts and its conclusion that the respondents have violated the provisions of the Wool Products Labeling Act of 1939 and the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act:

It is ordered, That the respondents, Goodall-Sanford, Inc., a corporation, and its officers, Elmer L. Ward, F. Everett Nutter, and Ernest Chamberlain, individually and as officers and directors of Goodall-Sanford, Inc., Cornelius A. Callahan, individually and as an officer of Goodall-Sanford, Inc., and Goodall Fabrics, Inc., a corporation, and its officers, and said respondents' respective agents, representatives, and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the introduction or manufacture for introduction into commerce, or the offering for sale, sale, transportation, or distribution in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the aforesaid acts, of wool products as such products are defined in and subject to the Wool Products Labeling Act of 1939, which products contain, purport to contain, or in any way are represented as containing "wool," "reprocessed wool," or "reused wool" as those terms are defined in said act, do forthwith cease and desist from misbranding such wool products by failing to affix securely to or place on such products a stamp, tag, label, or other means of identification, showing in a clear and conspicuous manner:

(a) The percentage of the total fiber weight of such wool product, exclusive of ornamentation not exceeding five per centum of said total fiber weight, of (1) wool, (2) reprocessed wool, (3) reused wool, (4) each fiber other than wool where said percentage by weight of such fiber is five per centum or more, and (5) the aggregate of all other fibers.

(b) The maximum percentage of the total weight of such wool product of any non-fibrous loading, filling, or adulterating matter.

(c) The name or the registered identification number of the manufacturer of such wool product or of one or more persons engaged in introducing such wool product into commerce, or in the offering for sale, sale, transportation, or distribution thereof in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act and in the Wool Products Labeling Act of 1939.

Provided, That the foregoing provisions concerning misbranding shall not be construed to prohibit acts permitted by paragraphs (a) and (b) of section 3 of the Wool Products Labeling Act of 1939: And provided further, That nothing contained in this order shall be construed as limiting any applicable provisions of said act or the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

It is further ordered, That the respondents shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission a report, in writing, setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with this order.

TITLE 17—COMMODITY AND SECURITIES EXCHANGES

Chapter II—Securities and Exchange Commission

PART 240—GENERAL RULES AND REGULATIONS, SECURITIES EXCHANGE ACT OF 1934

PRESERVATION OF RECORDS AND REPORTS OF CERTAIN STABILIZING ACTIVITIES

The Securities and Exchange Commission acting pursuant to authority conferred upon it by the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, particularly sections 17 (a), 23 (a) and 24 (b) thereof, and deeming such action necessary and appropriate in the public interest, for the protection of investors, for the execution of the functions vested in it by the act, and to carry out the provisions of the act, hereby adopts § 240.17a-6 (Rule X-17A-6) and amends § 240.24b-3 (Rule X-24B-3) each to read as set out below:

§ 240.17a-6 Right of a National Securities Exchange to destroy or dispose of applications, reports, and documents filed with it pursuant to sections 12, 13, 14 and 16. (a) Any application, report or document, or portion thereof, which has been on file with a national securities exchange for more than five years pursuant to sections 12, 13, 14, or 16 of the act or any rule or regulation promulgated by the Commission pursuant to any of such sections may be destroyed or otherwise disposed of by such exchange pursuant to the terms of a plan for the destruction or disposition of such application, report or document, if such plan has been filed with the Commission by such exchange and has been declared effective by the Commission.

(b) For the purposes of this section a plan filed with the Commission by a national securities exchange shall not become effective unless the Commission, having due regard for the public interest and for the protection of investors, declares the plan to be effective. The Commission in its declaration may limit the applications, reports and documents as to which it shall apply, and may impose any other terms and conditions to the plan and to the period of its effectiveness which it deems necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors.

§ 240.24b-3 Information filed by issuers and others under sections 12, 13, 14 and 16. (a) Except as otherwise provided in this section and in § 240.17a-6, each exchange shall keep available to the public, under reasonable regulations as to the manner of inspection, during reasonable office hours, all information regarding a security registered on such exchange which is filed with it pursuant to sections 12, 13, 14 or 16, or any rules or regulations thereunder. This requirement shall not apply to any information to the disclosure of which objection has been filed pursuant to § 240.24b-2, which objection shall not have been overruled by the Commission pursuant to section

24 (b). The making of such information available pursuant to this section shall not be deemed a representation by any exchange as to the accuracy, completeness, or genuineness thereof.

(b) In the case of an application for registration of a security pursuant to section 12 an exchange may delay making available the information contained therein until it has certified to the Commission its approval of such security for listing and registration.

(Sec. 23. 48 Stat. 901, as amended; 15 U. S. C. 78u)

Sections 240.17a–6 and 240.24b–3 as amended shall be effective May 15, 1951.

Subchapter C—Miscellaneous Excise Taxes

[T. D. 5836]

PART 130—TAXES ON SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES AND ON CERTAIN TRANSPORTATION AND COMMUNICATIONS SERVICES

EXEMPTION OF FURLOUGH TRAVEL OF SERVICE PERSONNEL

In order to conform Regulations 42 (1942 edition) (26 CFR Part 130), to Public Law 878, 81st Congress, 2d Session, approved December 15, 1950, such regulations are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. There is inserted immediately preceding § 130.63 the following:

PUBLIC LAW 878 (81ST CONG., 2D SESS.), APPROVED DECEMBER 15, 1950

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That effective with respect to amounts paid after the date of enactment of this act—

(a) Section 12 of the act of August 8, 1947, entitled "An act to terminate certain tax provisions before the end of World War II" (61 Stat. 919), is hereby repealed.

(b) Section 3469 (f) (2) of the Internal Revenue Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

"(2) Exemption of members of military and naval service. The tax imposed by this section shall not apply to the payment for transportation or facilities furnished under special tariffs providing for fares of not more than 2.025 cents per mile applicable to round-trip tickets sold to personnel of the United States Army, Air Force, Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard traveling in uniform of the United States at their own expense when on official leave, furlough, or pass, including authorized cadets and midshipmen, issued on presentation of properly executed certificate."

PAR. 2. Section 130.63, as amended by Treasury Decision 5604, approved February 25, 1948, is further amended as follows:

(A) By striking out the caption and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

(B) By striking out the last sentence and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "This paragraph shall not apply with respect to amounts paid after December 31, 1947."

(b) Amounts paid on or after December 16, 1950. Under the provisions of section 3469 (f) (2), as amended by Public Law 878 (81st Congress, 2d Session), the tax does not apply to amounts paid after December 15, 1950, for transportation or for seating or sleeping accommodations furnished under special tariffs providing for fares of not more than 2.025 cents per mile applicable to round-trip tickets sold to personnel of the United States Army, Air Force, Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard, including authorized cadets and midshipmen, traveling in uniform of the United States at their own expense when on official leave, furlough, or pass. A person claiming exemption under this section will be required to exhibit to the agent of the carrier a properly executed certificate to show that he is traveling on official leave, furlough, or pass, but the submission of an exemption certificate on Form 731, revised, is not necessary in such case.

Because the amendment to section 3469 (f) (2) of the Internal Revenue Code became effective on December 16, 1950, the date following the date of approval of Public Law 878 (81st Cong., 2d Sess.), and because of the technical nature of the amendments made herein, it is found that it is impracticable and unnecessary to issue this Treasury decision with notice and public procedure thereon under section 4 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act, approved June 11, 1946, or subject to the effective date limitation of section 4 (c) of said act.

This Treasury decision shall be effective as of December 16, 1950.

(53 Stat. 206, 423, as amended, 467; 26 U. S. C. 1855, 3472, 3791)

[SEAL] GEO. J. SCHOENEMAN,
Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

[Regulations 17]

PART 173—DISPOSITION OF SUBSTANCES USED IN THE MANUFACTURE OF DISTILLED SPIRITS

Preamble. 1. These regulations, "Regulations 17, Disposition of Substances Used in the Manufacture of Distilled Spirits" (26 CFR, Part 173) are a republication of Regulations 17, 1945 Edition (26 CFR, Part 173; 10 F. R. 8734) and all amendments and modifications thereof through December 31, 1950.

2. These regulations consist only of previously approved material but the text has been rearranged and renumbered to conform to the Federal Register Regulations (13 F. R. 5929).

3. These regulations shall, on and after April 1, 1951, supersede Regulations 17 (26 CFR, Part 173; 10 F. R. 8734).

4. These regulations shall not affect or limit any act done or any liability incurred under any regulations superseded hereby, or any suit, action, or proceeding had or commenced in any civil, administrative, or criminal cause and proceeding prior to the effective date of these regulations, nor shall these regulations release, acquit, affect, or limit any offense committed in violation of previously existing regulations, or any penalty, liability or forfeiture incurred prior to such date.

5. It is found that compliance with the notice and public rule-making procedure and effective date limitations of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) is unnecessary in connection with the issuance of the regulations in this part for the reason that the changes made are of a technical and clarifying nature and do not adversely affect the legitimate industry.

LAWS OF MORE COMMON APPLICATION PERTAINING TO SUBSTANCES USED IN THE MANUFACTURE OF DISTILLED SPIRITS [1]

26 U. S. C. 2800 TAX [DISTILLED SPIRITS].

(c) Time of attachment. The tax shall attach to distilled spirits, spirits, alcohol or alcoholic spirit, within the meaning of subsection (b) of section 2809 as soon as this substance is in existence as such, whether it be subsequently separated as pure or impure spirits, or be immediately, or at any subsequent time, transferred into any other substance, either in the process of original production or by any subsequent process.

* * * * * * *

26 U. S. C. 2809 DEFINITIONS [DISTILLED SPIRITS].

* * * * * * *

(1) General definition. Distilled spirits, spirits, alcohol, and alcoholic spirits, within the true intent and meaning of this chapter, is that substance known as ethyl alcohol, hydrated oxide of ethyl, or spirit of wine, which is commonly produced by the fermentation of grain, starch, molasses, or sugar, including all dilutions and mixtures of this substance.

(2) Products of rectification. As used in section 2803, the term "distilled spirits" includes products produced in such manner that the person producing them is a rectifier within the meaning of section 3254 (g).

* * * * * * *

26 U. S. C. 2811 RETURN OF MATERIALS USED IN THE MANUFACTURE OF DISTILLED SPIRITS.

Every person disposing of any substance of the character used in the manufacture of distilled spirits shall, when required by the Commissioner, render a correct return in such form and manner as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may by rules and regulations prescribe, showing the names and addresses of the persons to whom such disposition was made, with such details, as to the quantity so disposed of or other information which the Commissioner may require as to each such disposition, as will enable the Commissioner to determine whether all taxes due with respect to any distilled spirits manufactured from such substances have been paid. Any person who wilfully violates any provision hereof, or of any such rules or regulations, and any officer, director, or agent of any such person who knowingly participates in such violation, shall upon conviction be fined not more than $500 or be imprisoned for not more than one year, or both. As used in this section, (a) the term "distilled spirits" has the same meaning as that in which it is used in section 2803; (b) the term "person" includes individuals, corporations, partnerships, associations, trusts, and other incorporated and unincorporated organizations; and (c) the term "substance of the character used in the manufacture of distilled spirits" includes, but not by way of limitation, molasses, corn sugar, cane sugar, and malt sugar.

26 U. S. C. 3170 TRANSFER AND DELEGATION OF POWERS.

The Secretary is authorized to confer and impose upon the Commissioner and any of his assistants, agents, or employees, and upon any other officer, employee, or agent of the Treasury Department, any of the rights, privileges, powers, duties, and protection conferred or imposed upon the Secretary, or any other officer or employee of the Treasury Department, by any law now or hereafter in force relative to the taxation, exportation, transportation, manufacture, possession, or use of, or traffic in, distilled spirits, wine, fermented liquors, or denatured alcohol.

26 U. S. C. 3254 DEFINITIONS.

* * * * * * *

(g) Rectifier. Every person who rectifies, purifies, or refines distilled spirits or wines by any process other than by original and continuous distillation from mash, wort, or wash, through continuous closed vessels and pipes, until the manufacture thereof is complete, and every wholesale or retail liquor dealer who has in his possession any still or leach tub, or who keeps any other apparatus for the purpose of refining in any manner distilled spirits, and every person who, without rectifying, purifying, or refining distilled spirits, shall, by mixing such spirits, wine, or other liquor with any material, manufacture any spurious, imitation, or compound liquors for sale, under the name of whisky, brandy, gin, rum, wine, spirits, cordials, or wine bitters, or any other name, shall be regarded as a rectifier, and as being engaged in the business of rectifying: Provided, That nothing in this subsection or section 3250 (f) (1) shall be held to prohibit the purifying or refining of spirits in the course of original and continuous distillation through any material which will not remain incorporated with such spirits when the manufacture thereof is complete.

* * * * * * *

SUBPART A—SCOPE OF REGULATIONS

§ 173.1 Substances used in the manufacture of distilled spirits. These regulations, "Regulations 17, Disposition of Substances Used in the Manufacture of Distilled Spirits" (26 CFR, Part 173), contain the procedural and substantive requirements relative to the returns and records of dispositions of substances used in the manufacture of distilled spirits.

SUBPART B—DEFINITIONS

§ 173.5 Meaning of terms. As used in this part, unless the context otherwise requires, terms shall have the meanings ascribed in this subpart.

[1] The sections of the United States Code are numbered identically with corresponding sections of the Internal Revenue Code.

§ 173.6 Commissioner. "Commissioner" shall mean the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

§ 173.7 Dispose. "Dispose" and all forms of the word, shall mean and include, but not by way of limitation, consign, sell, transfer, deliver, destroy, and lose, and all forms of those words.

§ 173.8 Distilled spirits. "Distilled spirits" shall have the meaning ascribed to that term by 26 U. S. C. 2811, 2809, (b) (1), (2), 2800 (c); shall have the meaning imputed by 26 U. S. C. 2809 (b) (2) to the use of the term in 26 U. S. C. 2803; and shall include products produced in such manner that the person producing them is a rectifier within the meaning of 26 U. S. C. 3254 (g).

§ 173.9 Filed. "Filed" shall be the delivery of the return or returns to the person designated in the requirement of returns, at the place stated in such requirement.

§ 173.10 Plurals. Words in the singular shall include the plural.

§ 173.11 Substance. "Substance" shall mean and include, but not by way of limitation, any of the following which are used in the manufacture of distilled spirits: Any grade or type of sugar, sirup, or molasses derived from sugar cane, sugar beets, corn, sorghum, or any other source; starch; potatoes; grain, or corn meal, corn chops, cracked corn, rye chops, middlings, shorts, bran, or any other grain derivative; malt; malt sugar, or malt sirup; oak chips, charred or not charred; charred kegs or barrels; yeast; cider; honey; fruits; grapes; berries; fruit, grape or berry juices or concentrates; wine; caramel; burnt sugar; gin flavor; Chinese bean cake or Chinese wine cake; urea; ammonium phosphate, ammonium carbonate, ammonium sulphate, or any other yeast food; or any other fermentable material of the character used in the manufacture of distilled spirits, or any chemical or other material suitable for promoting or accelerating fermentation; or any combination of such materials or chemicals.

DERIVATION: T. D. 5821.

§ 173.12 United States. "United States" shall mean the continental United States and its outlying possessions to which the internal revenue laws apply.

§ 173.13 U. S. C. "U. S. C." shall mean the United States Code.

SUBPART C—REQUIREMENT OF RETURNS

§ 173.15 Returns required. Every person in the United States who disposes of any substance, as defined in § 173.11, shall, when required in writing by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, the Deputy Commissioner in charge of the Alcohol Tax Unit, or a district supervisor, or acting district supervisor of the Alcohol Tax Unit, and until notified to the contrary in writing by such an officer, for the purpose of enabling the determination, in accordance with law, as to whether all taxes due with respect to any distilled spirits manufactured from such substances have been paid, render in writing correct returns showing (a) the date of each disposition of such substances, and in such quantities, as may be specified in the formal notice requiring such returns; (b) the quantity and kind of each substance disposed of; (c) the name and complete address of each purchaser, consignee, and other person actually receiving such substances, and of any other person for, by, or through whom the substances were ordered or disposed of; (d) the date and method of shipment or delivery; and (e) if delivered or shipped by truck or similar conveyance, the State or city registration number of such truck or conveyance, and the name and complete address of the operator of such truck or conveyance as shown by his operator's license, giving the number of such operator's license and the date of its issuance. Where shipment is made by a common carrier, such as a railroad, trucking company, steamboat line, etc., the information required by (e) of this section need not be reported, but in lieu thereof there shall be furnished the complete routing of the shipment, full name and address of first carrier, and railroad car number or name of ship.

§ 173.16 Filing returns. Returns shall be filed with the officer or employee of the Bureau of Internal Revenue designated by the officer requiring returns. The first return shall be filed not later than 10 days after the receipt of the notice requiring the same to be submitted, unless that notice shall specify the date upon which the first return is to be filed.

SUBPART D—RECORDS TO BE MAINTAINED

§ 173.20 Records required. Every person in the United States who disposes of any substance, as defined in § 173.11, and who has been required to render returns under the provisions of § 173.15, shall keep at his place of business such books, records, documents, papers, invoices, bills of lading, etc., relating to or connected with any such disposition, as will enable such person to make the return provided for by § 173.15. Such books, records, documents, papers, invoices, bills of lading, etc., shall be kept readily available for, and open to, inspection by any officer or employee of the Alcohol Tax Unit of the Bureau of Internal Revenue during the hours of business of such person.

DERIVATION: T. D. 5821.

Effect. These regulations shall be effective as of April 1, 1951.

PART 725—PHYSICAL SEPARATION AND RETIREMENT

PHYSICAL EVALUATION BOARDS

Delete § 725.8 (a) and substitute therefor the following:

§ 725.8 Composition. (a) (1) A Physical Evaluation Board, empowered to act in any one case, shall consist of three commissioned officers as members, two of whom shall be non-medical members and one of whom shall be a medical member, and a recorder. Two members shall, whenever practicable, be senior in rank to the individual whose physical fitness is to be evaluated. In the absence of objection by the individual whose physical fitness is to be evaluated, the seniority of the members may be waived.

(2) A Physical Evaluation Board, empowered to act in any one case, which is to evaluate the physical fitness of an individual who is eligible to have his case adjudicated under laws in effect prior to October 1, 1949, shall consist of five commissioned officers as members, three of whom shall be non-medical members and two of whom shall be medical members, and a recorder. Three members shall, whenever practicable, be senior in rank to the individual whose physical fitness is to be evaluated. In the absence of objection by the individual whose physical fitness is to be evaluated, the seniority of the members may be waived.

Effective date. These changes are effective as of March 15, 1951.

TITLE 32A—NATIONAL DEFENSE, APPENDIX

Chapter III—Office of Price Stabilization, Economic Stabilization Agency

[General Ceiling Price Regulation, Interpretation 1]

GCPR, INT. 1—INCREASES IN TRANSPORTATION COSTS

In order to clarify the situation with regard to the general increase in freight rates recently authorized by the ICC, the Office of Price Stabilization has issued the following rules for determinng whether a seller under the General Ceiling Price Regulation may pass on to his buyers increases in transportation costs:

(1) Increases in inbound transportation costs, incurred by the seller in obtaining delivery from his supplier, cannot be added to the seller's ceiling prices. The seller must absorb all such increases.

(2) Increases in outbound transportation costs on shipment by the seller to his customers:

(a) If the seller during the base period quoted a delivered price he must, subject to the exceptions in paragraph (d), below, absorb any increases in transportation costs. Thus a seller who sold to all buyers at the same delivered price, or who had different delivered prices in different zones which do not correspond with the precise difference in transportation costs incurred by the seller for delivery to each such zone, must absorb increases in transportation.

(b) If the seller sold f. o. b. in the base period, adding on only actual transportation costs, increases in outbound transportation costs actually incurred by the seller may properly be passed on to the purchaser.

(c) Where the seller in the base period quoted an f. o. b. price, plus a "transportation charge", but such "transportation charge" did not represent the actual transportation cost incurred by the seller, such sale, for the purpose of this interpretation, is considered as falling within paragraph (a) above and the seller must therefore absorb any increase in transportation costs, as provided in paragraph (a).

(d) If the seller sold at a delivered price during the base period, but such price was computed on the basis of an f. o. b. price, adjusted for the actual cost of making delivery to each individual purchaser, the seller may pass on increases in transportation costs actually incurred. However, this method of computing the base period delivery price must have been objectively established to purchasers, as where the seller offered both a delivered and an f. o. b. price, the difference being the actual transportation costs, or where the seller quoted or billed actual transportation charges separately, or where the delivered price varied in each locality precisely by the difference in actual cost of transportation incurred by the seller for delivery to the several localities.

(e) If the seller sold only at delivered prices in the base period and now desires to shift to f. o. b. prices, the seller must reduce his ceiling prices, as established for sales on a delivered basis in the base period, by the amount of each purchaser's actual freight cost.

GCPR, SR 1—DEFENSE AGENCY PRICING

INTERPRETATION 2—MILITARY FOOTWEAR

Under section 2 (a) of Supplementary Regulation 1, as amended (16 F. R. 1006, 16 F. R. 1234, 16 F. R. 1707, 16 F. R. 1949, 16 F. R. 2185), to the General Ceiling Price Regulation, sales or deliveries of "commodities normally produced and supplied only for military use" entered into under a defense contract prior to April 1, 1951 (May 1, 1951, for subcontractors), are exempt from control under the General Ceiling Price Regulation. The following footwear, which normally have no civilian counterpart, are considered to be such commodities and therefore exempt:

Boots, Combat, Tropical (Army)—Military Spec. ⌀Mil. B-2372.
Boots, Arctic, Felt (Army)—Military Spec. ⌀Mil. B-2289.
Boots, Knee, Wader, M-1945 (Army)—Military Spec. ⌀Mil. B-2290.
Boots, Service, Combat, Russet—Military Spec. ⌀Mil. B-1720.
Shoepac—12"—Compound Outsole—Chrome Retan—Military Spec. ⌀Mil. S-2203.

It is emphasized that the component parts of the exempt footwear are not exempt merely because they are part of such footwear.

Many other items of footwear bought by the military are considered not to be exempt from control under the General Ceiling Price Regulation. Items of footwear bought by the military but which are not exempt include the following:

Shoes, Leather, Oxford, Black—Military Spec. ⌀55543 (Sanda).
Shoes, Leather Low Quarter (USMC)—Military Spec. ⌀Mil. S-15814.
Shoes, Leather, Blucher, Oxford, Brown, Navy—Military Spec. ⌀Mil. S-2425.
Shoes, Service, Black, Oxford, Women's—Military Spec. ⌀Mil. S-3016.
Shoes, Nurses', White (Army)—Military Spec. ⌀Mil. S-1756.
Shoes, Women's, Low Quarter—Military Spec. ⌀Mil. S-837.
Shoes, Low Quarter, Tan (Army)—Military Spec. ⌀Mil. S-2462.
Shoe Safety Toe, Oil Resistant Sole, Black or Russet—Military Spec. ⌀Mil. S-10773.

[General Ceiling Price Regulation, Interpretation 1 to Supplementary Regulation 7]

GCPR, SR 7—PROCESSORS OF MANUFACTURED FEEDS

INTERPRETATION 1—EFFECT OF DECREASE IN VALUE OF INGREDIENTS

A manufacturer of manufactured feed who has increased his ceiling price per ton as permitted by section 1 of SR 7, GCPR, (16 F. R. 1819) when the total value per ton of the ingredients increased, is not required to decrease his ceiling price per ton when in a subsequent period the total value per ton of the ingredients decreases. Section 1 allows increases to be reflected in higher ceiling prices but it does not require lowering previously adjusted ceiling prices when the total value per ton of the ingredients decreases.

GCPR, SR 9—EXEMPTION OF SALES AND DELIVERIES OF EXPORTED COMMODITIES UNDER EXISTING CONTRACTS

INTERPRETATION 1—LIMITATION AS TO APPLICABILITY

Supplementary Regulation 9 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation (16 F. R. 2063), grants authority to merchant exporters to fulfill written contracts for export sales made prior to January 26, 1951, and to fulfill contracts for export sales made between January 26 and February 2, 1951, which were based on firm written offers made prior to January 26.

This exemption is limited to export sales of those commodities which remain under the General Ceiling Price Regulation. It does not apply, for example, to exports of cotton (the export ceiling prices of which are established by Ceiling Price Regulation 8, 16 F. R. 2060) or to exports of other commodities which are covered by "tailored regulations" designed for particular industries. The General Ceiling Price Regulation, to which the exemption provision is supplementary, expressly states that it does not apply to sales of commodities or services the ceiling prices of which are established by other regulations or orders of the Director of Price Stabilization. Moreover, the Statement of Considerations accompanying Supplementary Regulation 9 states that the "Delay in delivery on existing contracts for export sales pending issuance of tailored regulations" was a reason for issuing the exemption.

Chapter VI—National Production Authority, Department of Commerce

[NPA Order M-1, as amended April 6, 1951]

M-1—IRON AND STEEL

This amendment to order M-1 is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to authority granted by section 101 of the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the issuance of this amendment, consultation with industry representatives has been rendered impracticable due to the necessity for immediate action.

This amendment affects NPA Order M-1, as amended March 15, 1951, in the following respects:

It adds a sentence at the conclusion of section 8; redesignates sections 14 to 19, inclusive, as sections 15 to 20, inclusive; adds a new section designated section 14; designates the text of section 17 (as redesignated) as paragraph (a); adds to section 17 (as redesignated) a new paragraph designated paragraph (b); changes the word "Column" wherever it occurs to "Part"; and amends Table I, as set out at the end of the order, in its entirety.

Sec.
1. What this order does.
2. Forms of iron and steel products to which this order applies.
3. Required shipment dates.
4. Rejection of rated orders (lead time).
5. Product limitation for acceptance of rated orders.
6. Conditions for acceptance of rated orders.
7. Changes in lead time.
8. Allotments for further conversion.
9. Extension of ratings for further conversion of steel products.
10. NPA assistance in placing rated orders.
11. Scheduled programs.
12. Minimum orders.
13. Inventories.
14. Ferro-alloys.
15. Application for adjustment or exception.
16. Communications.

19. Audits and inspection.
20. Violations.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 20 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interprets or applies sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong., sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

SECTION 1. What this order does. This order applies particularly to producers of iron and steel and provides rules for placing, accepting, and scheduling rated orders for iron and steel. Its purpose is to provide equitable distribution of rated orders among all iron and steel producers of the particular products in order to make possible maximum production and to reduce to a minimum disruption of normal distribution. It makes provision for required acceptance of rated orders based on a percentage of previous shipments, and provides for allotment and maximum inventories. It supplements NPA Regs. 1 and 2, but only those provisions of Regs. 1 and 2 which are inconsistent with this order are superseded, and all other provisions of those regulations continue to apply to the iron and steel industry.

SEC. 2. Forms of iron and steel products to which this order applies. The iron and steel products to which this order applies are set out in Table I at the end of this order. Table I also sets out the lead time (days) and product limitation for acceptance of rated orders. This order also applies to all second quality materials and shearings and material sorted or salvaged from steel scrap and sold for other than remelting purposes.

SEC. 3. Required shipment dates. A rated order for iron or steel in any of the forms listed in Part A of Table I must specify shipment on a particular date or in a particular month, which, in no case, may be earlier than required by the person placing the order. The producer of iron or steel must schedule the order for shipment within the requested month as close to the requested shipment date as is practicable considering the need for maximum production.

SEC. 4. Rejection of rated orders (lead time). A producer of iron or steel in a form listed in Part A of Table I need not accept a rated order which is received by him less than the number of days (lead time) set forth in Part B of Table I prior to the first day of the month in which shipment is requested, unless specifically directed to accept such order by the National Production Authority.

SEC. 5. Product limitation for acceptance of rated orders. Unless specifically directed by NPA, no iron or steel producer shall be required to accept rated orders for shipment from any one producing unit regardless of location in any one month in excess of the percentages set forth in Part C of Table I, of his average monthly shipments of the products listed in said part, as made by him during the period from January 1, 1950, through August 31, 1950. Where no percentage limitation is set forth as to any product, it is expected that the amount of such product to be called for by rated orders will be relatively small.

SEC. 6. Conditions for acceptance of rated orders. Unless otherwise specifically directed by the National Production Authority, and subject to the provisions of NPA Reg. 2, each iron or steel producer shall be required to accept rated orders calling for shipment in any one month from any one of his producing units regardless of location, of products listed in Part A of Table I up to the amount of the percentages listed in Part C of Table I of his average monthly shipments of such products from that producing unit during the period from January 1, 1950, to August 31, 1950. Where no percentage is listed in Part C, in regard to any iron or steel product, each iron or steel producer shall be required to accept all rated orders served upon him, subject to the provisions of NPA Reg. 2, unless otherwise specifically directed by the National Production Authority.

SEC. 7. Changes in lead time. (a) If an iron or steel producer would have an open space on his production schedule created by the difference between the lead time of forty-five days as established by this order as originally issued or as subsequently amended, and a longer lead time as established by section 4 of this order, he shall continue to accept rated orders to fill such open space on his production schedule, on the basis of a lead time of forty-five days, before he applies the newly established longer lead time. In filling such open space on his production schedule, as above referred to, an iron or steel producer shall be governed by the product limitation percentage appearing in Part C of Table I.

Example: Under the previously established lead time of 45 days, a steel producer would, up to December 17, 1950, accept DO rated orders for shipment in February 1951. Where a lead time has been increased to 120 days, he would, up to January 31, 1951, accept DO rated orders for shipment in June 1951. In the application of this example, the steel producer would continue to accept DO rated orders for shipment in March and April 1951, on a 45-day lead time until he had arrived in any one month at the product limitation percentage of that product as set forth in Part C, of Table I. Thereafter, he would conform to the new lead time of 120 days for shipment in the succeeding months.

(b) In the example in paragraph (a) of this section, if the product limitation percentage under Part C of Table I as to that particular iron or steel product has been increased from 5 percent to 10 percent, the iron or steel producer should accept DO rated orders up to the amount of the new product limitation percentage figure, commencing with shipments for the month of March 1951, and should continue at that new figure thereafter.

SEC. 8. Allotments for further conversion. A steel producer who buys from another steel producer a steel product listed under the heading "Steel Mill Products" in Part A of Table I (herein called "steel mill products"), and by further processing converts, for resale, the purchased steel into another steel mill product is engaged in further conversion. For the purpose of this section, the steel producer who sells a steel mill product for further conversion shall be called a producer supplier and the steel producer engaged in further conversion shall be called a converter. Each producer supplier shall make a monthly allotment of his production of each steel mill product that remains after shipments on DO ratings and NPA directives to each of his converter customers. Such monthly allotment shall be at least equal to that percentage of his available production so remaining, as the producer supplier's shipments to each converter customer bore to his total shipments, during the base period, from January 1, 1950, through September 30, 1950. A producer supplier must accept orders placed by his converter customer up to the limit of his allotment: Provided, however, That such orders are placed in accordance with the lead times in Part B of Table I. Shipments under such allotments shall be made in addition to shipments to the same converter customer pursuant to authorized extension of DO ratings. Orders placed under the provisions hereof must be for substantially the same product as was supplied to each such converter during such period, except for minor variations in size and design. In determining the amount of the monthly allotments, adjustments may be made by a producer supplier, with the consent of the converter involved, to provide for any abnormal situations which affect any steel products. Producer converters in Canada shall be entitled to the benefits of this section, and producer suppliers in the United States shall make monthly allotments to Canadian producer converters in accordance with the provisions of this section.

SEC. 9. Extension of ratings for further conversion of steel products. All DO ratings extended for the purpose of further conversion of steel products shall have the symbol FC added to the two-digit designation following the prefix DO on the order.

SEC. 10. NPA assistance in placing rated orders. Any person who is unable to place a rated order for iron or steel due to the limitations imposed by sections 5 and 6 of this order should apply to the NPA, Iron and Steel Division, Ref.: M-1, specifying the producers who refused to accept the order. The NPA will arrange to assist him in locating other sources of supply.

SEC. 11. Scheduled programs. NPA will from time to time approve scheduled programs calling for the production and delivery of iron and steel products for stated purposes, over specified periods of time. Upon approval of major programs of this type, supplements to this order will be issued describing such programs and specifying the manner in which they are to be carried out by the iron and steel industry. Thereafter, directives will be issued to individual concerns establishing schedules for their participation in such programs. Such directives shall be complied with by the recipients in accordance with the terms thereof, unless otherwise directed by NPA.

SEC. 12. Minimum orders. The minimum orders that may be placed with DO ratings or under NPA directives are set out in Table II at the end of this order. The minimum quantity for each size and grade of any item for shipment at any time to any one destination is listed opposite the appropriate item. If all other requirements of this order have been met, orders for such minimum quantities shall be accepted.

SEC. 13. Inventories. In addition to the provisions of NPA Reg. 1, relating to inventory control, it is considered that a more exact requirement applying to users of iron or steel products is necessary. No person obtaining iron or steel products for use in manufacture, processing, or construction, may receive or accept delivery of a quantity of iron or steel products if his inventory is, or by such receipt would become, in excess of that necessary to meet his deliveries or supply his services on the basis of his scheduled method and rate of operation pursuant to this order during the succeeding 45-day period, for steel products, gray and malleable iron castings, and 30-day period for pig iron, or in excess of a practicable minimum working inventory (as defined in NPA Reg. 1), whichever is less. For the purpose of this section, iron and steel products listed in Table I in which only minor changes or alterations have been effected shall be included in inventory. NPA Reg. 1 will apply to iron and steel products except as modified by this section. Said 45-day limitation does not apply to persons who order structural steel for use in construction (including buildings, bridges and other structures of a like type) and who order it delivered cut to the specifications required for a specific project and who normally keep such steel segregated for the specific project. Instead, no such person may accept delivery of such steel more than 45 days before it is scheduled to be fabricated or, if it is not to be further fabricated, before it is scheduled to be assembled.

SEC. 14. Ferro-alloys. (a) As used in this section and in section 17 of this order, "ferro-alloys" means and includes, in such form or condition that the same may be used in the production of alloy iron, steel, or nonferrous products, the following elements and their compounds, and scrap containing usable quantities of any one or more of such elements or of any compound or compounds of any one or more of such elements: Boron, calcium, chromium, cobalt, columbium, manganese, molybdenum, nickel, silicon, tantalum, titanium, tungsten, vanadium, and zirconium.

(b) Every person shall comply with any direction or directions issued by NPA respecting the use, and restrictions and limitations on the use, of any ferro-alloy or alloys in the production of alloy iron, steel, or non-ferrous products.

(c) No person shall receive or accept delivery of any ferro-alloy to be used for alloying purposes at a time when his inventory thereof exceeds, or by acceptance of such delivery would be made to exceed, 45 days' requirements on the basis of his then scheduled method and rate of operation or a practicable minimum working inventory (as defined in NPA Reg. 1), whichever is less. The provisions of this paragraph shall be construed to supersede the inventory limitation provisions of NPA Orders M-10 (Cobalt), M-14 (Nickel), M-30 (Tungsten), M-33 (Molybdenum), and M-49 (Columbium and Tantalum), so far as the inventory limitation provisions of said orders apply to persons having in inventory any ferro-alloy to be used for alloying purposes.

SEC. 15. Application for adjustment or exception. Any person affected by any provision of this order may file a request for adjustment or exception upon the ground that his business operation was commenced during or after the base period, or because any provision otherwise works an undue or exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry, or its enforcement against him would not be in the interest of the national defense or in the public interest. In considering requests for adjustment claiming that the public interest is prejudiced by the application of any provision of this order, consideration will be given to the requirements of the public health and safety, civilian defense, and dislocation of labor and resulting unemployment that would impair the defense program. Each request shall be in writing, shall set forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought, and shall state the justification therefor.

SEC. 16. Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M-1.

SEC. 17. Reports. (a) Persons subject to this order shall make such records and submit such reports to the NPA as it shall require, subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act (P. L. 831, 77th Cong., 5 U. S. C. 139–139F). In accordance with this section all steel producers are required to report on "NPAF–13—Steel Producers' Report of Orders Accepted for DO Ratings and Programs" the orders accepted bearing DO ratings and orders resulting from programs made effective by NPA directives; and on "NPAF–17—Steel Producers' Monthly Report of Shipments and Past Due Orders" the record of the shipments and past due orders by DO ratings and programs made effective by NPA directives.

(b) Every person shall submit to NPA such reports as it shall require with respect to the receipt, consumption, shipment, and maintenance in inventory of any ferro-alloy as defined in section 14 (a) of this order: Provided, That no person shall be required to file, as to any ferro-alloy, any report in addition to such report with respect thereto as he files pursuant to any order of NPA establishing allocation or inventory control over the use of such ferro-alloy.

SEC. 18. Records. Each person participating in any transaction covered by this order shall retain in his possession for at least 2 years records of receipts, deliveries, inventories, and use, in sufficient detail to permit an audit that determines for each transaction that the provisions of this order have been met. This does not specify any particular accounting method and does not require alteration of the system of records customarily maintained, provided such records supply an adequate basis for audit. Records may be retained in the form of microfilm or other photographic copies instead of the originals.

SEC. 19. Audit and inspection. All records required by this order shall be made available at the usual place of business where maintained for inspection and audit by duly authorized representatives of the NPA.

SEC. 20. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or any other order or regulation of NPA or who wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information in the course of operation under this order is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against any such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This order as amended shall take effect on April 6, 1951.

NATIONAL PRODUCTION AUTHORITY,
[SEAL] MANLY FLEISCHMANN,
Administrator.

[1] No "product limitation" or "lead time," whichever is applicable. Subject to direct negotiation by NPA if necessary.
[2] Of each item.
[3] Applies to special rolled shapes including angles and channels.
[4] In addition all hot-rolled sheet producers are to set aside for plates an amount equal to 8 percent of the average monthly shipments of hot-rolled carbon sheets in the base period Jan. 1, 1950, through Aug. 31, 1950.
[5] Includes bars—rounds for piercing.
[6] If annealed or heat-treated, add an additional 15 days.
[7] For electrical sheets and strip, use this table:

Lead time	Percentage limitation	Definition
Low grade, 45	7	AISI M50, M43, M36.
Medium grade, 45	35	AISI M29, M22, M19.
High grade, 60	60	AISI M17, M15, M14, and oriented.

[8] If cold finished, add an additional 15 days.
[9] If cold drawn or cold finished, 60 days; for welded tubing, 75 days.
[10] Wire drawn: low carbon, 11 percent; high carbon, 16 percent.
[11] Lead times apply to unmachined castings after approval of patterns for production.
[12] Such percentage being the total for any combination of these products.
[13] An amount equal to 35 percent of the tonnage represented by hot-rolled carbon bar set aside. This is in addition to tonnage set aside for hot-rolled bars.
[14] An amount equal to 35 percent of the tonnage represented by hot-rolled alloy bar set aside. This is in addition to tonnage set aside for hot-rolled bars.
[15] An amount equal to 25 percent of the tonnage represented by the carbon blooms, slabs, billets set aside. This is in addition to tonnage set aside for blooms, slabs, billets.

TABLE II—MINIMUM ORDERS THAT MAY BE PLACED ON STEEL MILLS, STEEL AND IRON FOUNDRIES, STEEL FORGE SHOPS AND MERCHANT PIG IRON PRODUCERS FOR THE PRODUCTS SPECIFIED

(Special grades, shapes, specifications, processes, and similar factors must be handled by negotiation)

Name of product	Minimum quantity for each size and grade of any item for shipment at any one time to any one destination
STEEL MILL PRODUCTS
Carbon and low-alloy steel:
Ingots, blooms, billets, slabs, and tube rounds, sheet bars, skelp, etc., rerolling quality	25 net tons.
Blooms, billets, and slabs, forging quality	Product of 1 ingot.
Wire rods, hot-rolled	5 net tons.
Structural shapes	5 net tons.
Plates:
Rolled armor	By negotiation.[1]
Continuous strip mill production	10 net tons.
Sheared, universal, or bar mill production	3 net tons.
Rails	5 net tons.
Track accessories (joint bars, tie plates, track spikes)	5 net tons.
Bars, hot-rolled:
Projectile and shell quality	Product of 1 heat.[2]
Round bars up to and including 3" and squares, hexagons, half rounds, ovals, etc., of approximately equivalent sectional area	5 net tons.
Round and square bars over 3" to but not including 8"	15 net tons.
Bar size shapes (angles, tees, channels and zees under 3")	5 net tons.
Bars, cold finished	3 net tons.
Bars, tool steel	500 pounds.
Pipe, published carload minimum (mixed sizes and grades)
Tubing:
Seamless cold-drawn (O. D. in inches):
Up to ¾" inclusive	1,000 feet.
Over ¾" to 1½" inclusive	800 feet.
Over 1½" to 3" inclusive	600 feet.
Over 3" to 6" inclusive	400 feet.
Over 6"	250 feet.
Seamless hot-rolled	By negotiation.[1]
Welded	By negotiation.[1]
Wire rods. (See above.)
Wire, drawn, for further fabrication and manufacturing:
Low-carbon	1 net ton.
High-carbon (0.40 carbon and higher):
0.0475" and heavier	1 net ton.
Under 0.0475" to 0.021" inclusive	1,000 pounds.
Under 0.021"	500 pounds.
Wire merchant trade products, assorted	5 net tons.
Tin mill products—any 1 gauge	5,000 pounds.
Sheet, hot- and cold-rolled	5 net tons.
Strip, hot- and cold-rolled	3 net tons.
Stainless steel: No minimum on standard grades and sizes. For unusual grades or sizes the minimum order is to be worked out by negotiation.[1]
Full alloy steel:
Ingots	Product of 1 heat.[2]
Billet, projectile and shell quality	By negotiation.[1]

Name of product	Minimum quantity for each size and grade of any item for shipment at any one time to any one destination
Full alloy steel—Continued
Blooms, slabs, billets (except projectile and shell quality) tube rounds, sheet bars, etc.:
7" square (or equivalent cross sectional area) and under	5 net tons.
Larger than 7" square (or equivalent cross sectional area)	10 net tons.
Both of the above may be modified because of a mill's ingot size and/or rolling schedules.
Wire rods	5 net tons.
Structural shapes	By negotiation.[1]
Plates:
Rolled armor	By negotiation.[1]
Other, whether rolled on continuous strip, sheared, universal or bar mill.	10 net tons.
(A steel producer need not accept an order unless the total quantity ordered is sufficient to make a heat of steel or unless ingots or slabs are available in stock or unless similar material is regularly being produced.)
Rails	By negotiation.[1]
Wheels	By negotiation.[1]
Axles	By negotiation.[1]
Bars, hot-rolled, projectile and shell quality	By negotiation.[1]
Bars, hot-rolled, other:
Rounds and squares 3½" and smaller	5 net tons.
Rounds and squares larger than 3½"	By negotiation.[1]
Hexagons and flats	5 net tons.
Bars, cold-finished	3 net tons.
Bars, tool steel	500 pounds.
Oil-country goods	By negotiation.[1]
Mechanical tubing	5 net tons.
Pressure tubing	By negotiation.[1]
Sheet and strip	By negotiation.[1]
STEEL CASTINGS (UNMACHINED)
High alloy and stainless (heat and corrosion resisting)	(3).
Carbon and low-alloy	(3).
STEEL PRODUCTS, FABRICATED
Forgings (rough as forged)	By negotiation.[1]
Wire rope and strand	1,000-foot lengths.
Welded wire mesh	Full rolls of manufacturers' standard stock sizes.
Netting	Full rolls of manufacturers' standard stock sizes.
IRON PRODUCTS
Pig iron	Car load.
Gray iron castings, excluding soil and pressure pipe and fittings (unmachined)	(3).
Malleable castings (unmachined)	(3).

[1] "By negotiation" means negotiation between the mill and its customer. If no acceptable arrangements are worked out, the NPA should be notified.
[2] "1 heat" means one batch of metal made in 1 furnace.
[3] 2,000 pounds or less from any 1 pattern or mold, or a minimum production run by the producing foundry even though the delivery from such minimum run may cause the consumers' inventory to exceed the 45-day minimum stated in section 13.

[F. R. Doc. 51–4274; Filed, Apr. 6, 1951; 4:06 p. m.]

[NPA Order M–2 as Amended April 6, 1951]

M–2—RUBBER

This amendment is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense. It is issued pursuant to both the Defense Production Act of 1950 and the Rubber Act of 1948. In the formulation of this amendment consultation with industry representatives has been impossible because of the need for immediate action.

NPA Order M–2, as amended April 1, 1951, is further amended in the following respects:

1. Section 10 is amended by adding thereto a new paragraph (f) to read as follows:

(f) GR–S plant clean-up and dried latex drainings, coagulum, and preflox materials. Only 50 percent of the quantity of GR–S plant clean-up material purchased from the Office of Rubber Reserve, and only 25 percent of the GR–S dried latex drainings, coagulum, and preflox purchased from the Office of Rubber Reserve, need be considered in computing and reporting the total quantity of synthetic rubber acquired or consumed.

2. Section 12 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 12. Tires or tubes for new passenger automobiles. No person shall deliver any tires or tubes to any manufacturer of new passenger automobiles unless such manufacturer furnishes to him a signed certificate reading substantially as follows:

I hereby certify, subject to the criminal penalties for misrepresentation contained in Title 18, U. S. Code (Crimes), section 1001, That, except in fulfillment of DO-rated orders, after April 1, 1951, I will not install on or use for any new passenger automobile more than four tires or tubes and that no more than four tires and tubes will be delivered by me with any new passenger automobile.

[NPA Order M-3 as Amended April 6, 1951]

M-3—Columbium and Tantalum Bearing Steels—Production and Use

This amendment to Order M-3 is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to authority granted by the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the issuance of this amendment, consultation with industry representatives was impracticable because of the necessity for immediate action.

This amendment affects NPA Order M-3, as amended March 15, 1951, by amending section 2; redesignating sections 5 to 9, inclusive, as sections 6 to 10, inclusive, respectively; and adding a new section designated as section 5.

NPA Order M-3, as amended March 15, 1951, is hereby amended in the following respects:

First: Section 2 is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 2. DO ratings required. Except as may be otherwise ordered by NPA, no columbium- or columbium-tantalum-bearing steels shall be produced, sold, delivered, or purchased except pursuant to DO rated orders or NPA directives: Provided, That with respect to columbium- or columbium-tantalum-bearing steels, the rating DO-01 shall be valid for deliveries on and after July 1, 1951, only when supported by a certification that delivery of the quantity specified as and when ordered has been approved and authorized by the Aircraft Production Resources Agency. Such certification shall be as follows:

"Certified as approved by APRA."

Such certification shall constitute a representation by the purchaser to the supplier and to NPA that the purchaser has been duly authorized by the Aircraft Production Resources Agency to accept delivery of such steel, and is entitled to accept such delivery as permitted in this order.

The certification required by this section shall be in addition to the certification required by NPA Reg. 2.

Second: Sections 5 to 9, inclusive, are hereby redesignated sections 6 to 10, inclusive, respectively.

Third: There is hereby added an additional section to be designated section 5 and to read as follows:

Sec. 5. Conservation of scrap. No person shall dispose of any columbium- or columbium-tantalum-bearing scrap which is fit for remelting except for use in the production of columbium- or columbium-tantalum-bearing steel.

(Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 5 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp., sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61)

This amendment shall take effect on April 6, 1951.

Issued April 5, 1951.

[NPA Order M-7, as Amended Apr. 6, 1951]

M-7—Aluminum for Civilian Use

This order as amended is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this order, there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations.

This amendment affects NPA Order M-7 as amended March 9, 1951, as follows: It amends paragraph (c) of section 2, section 3, paragraph (c) of section 5, section 6, paragraphs (b) and (d) of section 8, and Lists A and B. NPA Order M-7, as so amended, reads as follows:

Sec.
1. Purpose and scope.
2. Definitions.
3. Aluminum forms and products to which this order applies.
4. Application of order.
5. Use of aluminum.
6. Prohibited use of aluminum.
7. Maintenance, repair, and operating supplies.
8. Exemptions.
9. Inventories.
10. Application for adjustment.
11. Records and reports.
12. Communications.
13. Violations.

Authority: Sections 1 to 13 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

Section 1. Purpose and scope. The purpose of this order is to describe how the aluminum remaining after allowing for the requirements of national defense may be distributed and used in the civilian economy. It is the policy of the National Production Authority that aluminum and articles made of aluminum, not required to fill rated orders, shall be distributed equitably through normal channels of distribution, and that due regard shall be given by suppliers to the needs of new and small business.

Sec. 2. Definitions. As used in this order:

(a) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons and includes any agency of the United States or any other government.

(b) "Base period" means the 6-month period ending June 30, 1950.

(c) "Manufacture" means to put into process, machine, fabricate, or otherwise alter materials by physical or chemical means: Provided, however, That as applied to "castings (foundry products as shipped by the producer)" specified in section 3 of this order the word "manufacture" also means the assembly of said items into components or end products, and that as applied to "powder (including atomized, flake, paste, and pigments)," the word "manufacture" also means segregating, weighing, or packaging for sale or resale by persons other than producers.

(d) "Maintenance" means the minimum upkeep necessary to continue a building, machine, piece of equipment or facility in sound working condition, and "repair" means the restoration of a building, machine, piece of equipment, or facility to sound working condition when the same has been rendered unsafe or unfit for service by wear and tear, damage, failure of parts or the like: Provided, however, Neither maintenance nor repair includes the improvement of any such item with material of a better kind, quality, or design.

(e) "Operating supplies" means any aluminum forms or products listed in section 3 of this order which are normally carried by a person as operating supplies according to established accounting practice and are not included in his finished product, except that materials included in such product which are normally chargeable to operating expense may be treated as operating supplies.

Sec. 3. Aluminum forms and products to which this order applies. The word "aluminum" as used in this order means only the following aluminum forms and products obtained from either domestic or foreign sources:

Rod and bar.
Wire (under ⅜ inch).
Cables (electrical transmission only).
Rivets.
Forgings and pressings (before machining).
Impact extrusions.
Castings (foundry products as shipped by the producer).
Rolled structural shapes (angles, channels, zees, tees, etc.).
Extruded shapes.
Sheet (coiled and flat), plate, circles and blanks.
Slugs.
Plain coil foil.
Tubing (extruded, drawn, and roll formed).
Tube blooms.
Powder (including atomized, flake, paste, and pigments).
Ingot, pig, billets, slabs, granulated.
Purchased scrap.

Sec. 4. Application of order. Subject to the exemptions stated in section 8 of this order, this order applies to all persons who use any aluminum for purposes of manufacture or construction, or for maintenance, repair, or operating supplies. It does not apply to persons (a) who produce aluminum in or convert it to the forms and products listed in section 3 of this order; or (b) who use aluminum in the production of other metals (including aluminized steel), or of metal alloys, the chief constituent of which is not aluminum, or of chemical salts of aluminum and compositions of aluminum used as a catalyst.

Sec. 5. Use of aluminum. Subject to the exemptions stated in section 8 of this order, and unless specifically directed by the National Production Authority, no person shall use in manufacture or construction:

(a) During December 1950, a quantity by weight of aluminum in excess of 100 percent of his average monthly use of aluminum during the base period.

(b) During the following months a total quantity by weight of aluminum in excess of the percentages specified with respect to each month of his average monthly use of aluminum during the base period:

	Percent
January, 1951	80
February, 1951	75
March, 1951	65

(c) During the calendar quarter commencing on April 1, 1951, a total quantity by weight of aluminum in excess of 65 percent of his average quarterly use of aluminum during the base period. Any person who was authorized by the National Production Authority to use an adjusted monthly base to determine permitted use of aluminum during January, February, or March 1951, shall not use during the second calendar quarter of 1951 a quantity by weight of aluminum in excess of 65 percent of three times such adjusted monthly base. The National Production Authority reserves the right to review and modify or revoke any such adjustment. An authorization by the National Production Authority to use a specific quantity of aluminum in any specified month or months or in the first quarter of 1951 shall not be considered an adjusted base for the purposes of this paragraph.

Sec. 6. Prohibited uses of aluminum. (a) Commencing on May 1, 1951, no person shall use aluminum, or any component part made therefrom, in the manufacture or assembly of any item included in attached List A, except as permitted therein; and no person shall use in the manufacture or assembly of any item, whether or not included in List A, or any component part therefor, a greater quantity or better grade of aluminum than is necessary for functional or operational purposes, or use aluminum solely for decorative or ornamental purposes. However, these prohibitions shall not apply to the use of: (1) Aluminum, or component parts made therefrom, on and after May 1, 1951, if such materials were contained in such person's inventory on said date and are wholly unsuitable for use in the manufacture or assembly by such person of any item not included in List A; or (2) any such materials covered by an order placed with a producer and included in such producer's schedule for the first calendar quarter of 1951 which is delivered to such person at his plant prior to May 1, 1951, to the extent that such materials are wholly unsuitable for use in the manufacture or assembly by such person of any item not included in List A. Every person who relies on the exceptions contained in the next preceding sentence shall prepare a detailed record showing: (i) the quantities of aluminum, and component parts made therefrom, which were contained in his inventory on the first days of January, February, March, April, and May 1951, and which were wholly unsuitable for use in his manufacture or assembly of any item not included in List A; and (ii) the quantities of such materials wholly unsuitable for such use which were delivered to him on or after April 1, 1951, the names and addresses of the suppliers thereof, and the dates of the orders and acceptances covering such materials together with the applicable mill schedule. Such record shall be retained for at least 2 years and shall be made available at the usual place of business where maintained for inspection and audit by duly authorized representatives of the National Production Authority.

(b) During March and April 1951, no person shall use in the manufacture or assembly of the items included in attached List A a total quantity by weight of aluminum, or of any component parts made therefrom, in excess of 65 percent of his average monthly use of such materials for such purposes during the base period. To the extent that manufacture or assembly of the items in List A is permitted on or after May 1, 1951, under paragraph (a) of this section, the limitations of section 5 of this order shall apply during May and succeeding months.

(c) Commencing on April 30, 1951, no person shall use aluminum in the manufacture or assembly of any item on the attached List B: Provided, however, That ducts and windows of the residential type may be completed if they were in process of manufacture or assembly on or before April 30, 1951, and such completion is effected not later than June 30, 1951: And provided further, That windows of the nonresidential type may be manufactured to fill orders received by the manufacturer prior to February 20, 1951, if such completion is effected not later than June 30, 1951, and the use of aluminum for this purpose shall not be subject to the provisions of section 5 of this order. During each of the months of March, April, May, and June 1951, no person may use in the manufacture or assembly of ducts and of windows of residential type a total quantity by weight of aluminum in excess of 65 percent of his average monthly use of aluminum in the manufacture or assembly of such items during the base period.

(d) No person may use in construction any aluminum for any item included in attached List A after May 31, 1951, or for any item contained in attached List B after June 30, 1951: Provided, however, That this prohibition will not apply to such use of aluminum for any such item if it was manufactured within the time limits specified in this section.

(e) The prohibitions of this section apply notwithstanding the provisions of NPA Reg. 2 with respect to the filling of rated orders, and are not affected by any of the exemptions stated in section 8 of this order: Provided, however, That the provisions of NPA Reg. 2 and paragraph (a) of section 8 of this order apply as to those items in the attached Lists A and B which are specifically designated by means of an asterisk as being permitted to be manufactured from aluminum for the use of the Armed Forces of the United States, including the United States Coast Guard, in the construction, fitting, or furnishing of ships (other than pleasure craft), aircraft, and hospitals, or to supply military specification organizational equipment items.

Sec. 7. Maintenance, repair, and operating supplies. Unless specifically directed by the National Production Authority, during the 6-month period commencing on December 1, 1950, and each 6-month period thereafter, no person shall use for maintenance, repair, and operating supplies a quantity by weight of aluminum in excess of the quantity of aluminum that he used for such purposes during the base period.

Sec. 8. Exemptions. (a) The use of aluminum required by any person to fill an order that is rated under the priorities system established by NPA Reg. 2 (15 F. R. 6911, 7185), or to meet any other mandatory order of the National Production Authority, is permitted in addition to the use of aluminum authorized by the provisions of sections 5 or 7 of this order.

(b) The procurement and use by electric utilities of aluminum conductor and aluminum conductor accessories as those terms are defined in NPA Order M-50, is subject to order M-50 and is accordingly exempt from this order. The use by electric utilities of forms and shapes of aluminum listed in section 3 of this order, other than aluminum conductor and aluminum conductor accessories, remains subject to the restrictions of this order, and in computing permitted use of such other forms and shapes of aluminum, use of aluminum conductor and conductor accessories during the base period shall be excluded.

(c) The provisions of sections 5 and 7 of this order do not apply to persons who use less than 1,000 pounds of aluminum during any period of 12 consecutive months: Provided, however, That persons who by reason of the provisions of section 5 would be permitted to use less than 1,000 pounds during any period of 12 consecutive months may use during such period a quantity up to 1,000 pounds.

(d) The provisions of section 5 of this order will not apply, commencing on February 1, 1951, to the use of aluminum in the manufacture of collapsible tubes as defined in NPA Order M-27, nor, commencing on April 6, 1951, to the use of aluminum in the manufacture of packaging closures as defined in NPA Order M-26.

Sec. 9. Inventories. In addition to the provisions of NPA Reg. 1 (15 F. R. 6253), relating to inventory control, it is considered that a more exact requirement applying to users of aluminum is necessary. No person obtaining aluminum for use in manufacture or construction, or for maintenance, repair, or operating supplies, may receive or accept delivery of a quantity of aluminum if his inventory is, or by such receipt would become, in excess of that necessary to meet his deliveries or supply his services on the basis of his scheduled method and rate of operation pursuant to this order during the succeeding 60-day period, or in excess of a "practicable minimum working inventory" (as defined in NPA Reg. 1), whichever is less. For the purpose of this section, aluminum shapes and forms listed in section 3 of this order in which only minor changes or alterations have been effected shall be included in inventory. NPA Reg. 1 will apply to aluminum except as modified by this section.

SEC. 10. Application for adjustment. Any person affected by any provision of this order may file a request for adjustment or exception upon the ground that his business operation was commenced during or after the base period, or because any provision otherwise works an undue and exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry or that its enforcement against him would not be in the interest of the national defense or in the public interest. Each request shall be in writing and shall set forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought, and shall state the justification therefor.

SEC. 11. Records and reports. (a) Persons subject to this order shall preserve the records which they have maintained and will maintain of inventories, receipts, deliveries, and uses of aluminum forms and products commencing with January 1, 1950.

(b) Persons subject to this order shall make records and submit such reports to the National Production Authority as it shall require, subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act (P. L. 831, 77th Cong., 5 U. S. C. 139–139F).

SEC. 12. Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to the National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: M-7.

SEC. 13. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or any other order or regulation of the National Production Authority or who wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information in the course of operation under this order is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against any such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

NOTE: All reporting requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This order, as amended, shall take effect on April 6, 1951.

Issued April 6, 1951.

NATIONAL PRODUCTION AUTHORITY,
[SEAL] MANLY FLEISCHMANN,
Administrator.

LIST A

(See section 6)

The use of the forms and products of aluminum defined in section 3 of this order and any component parts made therefrom (excluding repair parts) in the items listed below is subject to the prohibitions stated in this order, except as otherwise stated in the order or List A: Provided, however, That those items in List A which are specifically designated by an asterisk are permitted to be manufactured from aluminum for the use of the Armed Forces of the United States, including the United States Coast Guard, in the construction, fitting, or furnishing of ships (other than pleasure craft), aircraft and hospitals, or to supply military specification organizational equipment items:

Airfoil (tubing) for windmills.
Aluminum wool.
Andirons, screens, and fireplace fixtures.
Animal cages.
Animal training equipment.
Animal traps.
Applicators for moistening envelopes.
Arbors and trellises.
Architectural and other building ornamentation.
Ash trays.
Automobile hardware and trim (except functional parts).
Awnings.
Badges.
Balloon molds.
Bar rails, fixtures, and equipment.
Barber chairs.
Batons.
Bathtubs.
Beauty parlor equipment.
Beer equipment: all items.
Bells (except parts where nonmagnetic gong material is required for electrically operated signaling devices used as adjuncts to communication systems).
Beverage mixing and serving equipment, such as bottle coolers, cocktail shakers, ice buckets and pails, ice chippers and shavers.
Bicycles and accessories.
Bird and pet cages, houses, aquariums, accessories and equipment.
Blackboard frames and chalk troughs.
Boards: shampoo, tanning.
Book covers.
Book stacks
*Boxes, including match, cigarette, typewriter ribbon (except instrument cases that require nonmagnetic properties)
*Brackets: light, shelf and wall
*Brooms and brushes (except toothbrushes and industrial)
*Buckles, all types
Buckets, household
*Burglar alarms and protective systems (except where essential to the proper servicing or functioning of the parts)
Burial vaults and urns
*Buttons (except for work clothing where necessary to resist corrosion)
*Cabinets: kitchen, medicine
Calendars, calendar pads and parts
Cameras, amateur box type still picture, fixed focus (except reflex)
Candle molds
Canes
Canopies
*Cans, including ignition coil and motion picture humidor
Caps: chimney and vent flue (except for industrial)
Card tables
Cards, greeting
Carriages: baby, luggage, strollers, scooters (except functional parts)
Cases:
  Cigar
  Film
  Radio, home type
  Soft drink
  Spectacle
  Vanity
Caskets, and accessory devices
Caster cups, wheel casters and glides (except for industrial and materials handling equipment)
Chicken crates
*Chutes: coal, package, and waste
Cigarette lighters
Cleaning accessories, such as carpet sweepers, dust pans and scrubbing sets
Clothespins
Coasters
Combs
*Containers, foil-lined
Coops, brooder, chicken, quail, etc.
*Copings
*Cornices
Crayon molds
*Cups
Curtain, drapery, and carpet hardware
Cutlery handles
Cuspidors
Desk pads
Dispensers, fixed or portable, for soap, lotion, papers, straws, etc. (except where necessary to resist corrosion for hospital, scientific laboratory, and industrial use)
Dolls
Door chimes
*Doors, including, but not limited to:
  Coal
  Door frames
  Dumbwaiter
  Incinerator
  Screen
  Storm
Draperies
Dresser sets
Emblems, medals (except religious), crestings and plates
Fences, wire
Flag poles, stanchions, and sockets.
Flower boxes, stands, and pot holders.
Forms, concrete vault casting, wax Fountains Frames:
  Electric sign
  Picture
*Frames, window screen (including top and bottom bars for tension screens)
Frozen fruit sticks
*Furniture (except medical, dental, and hospital)
*Furniture, hardware (except functional parts)
Games
Garden tools and equipment
Garment hooks, brackets, racks, rods, trees and hangers
Giftware
Gutters, leaders and downspouts.
Hair curlers
Hand-tool handles (except portable electric tools)
Hedge clipping machines
Highway markers, signals, and signs (except electrically operated traffic control signals)
Holders: Brush
  Pen
  Soda fountain cup
*Hollow ware
Horse shoes
Ice cream freezers for home use
Jewelry, all types (except religious goods)
Ladders and step stools (except industrial, fire, and marine)
Laundry accessories, domestic, such as tubs and boilers, washboards, drain board and tub covers, clothes hampers, ironing boards and tables, garment stretchers and dryers, clothes drying frames, and clothes-line hardware
Lawn and garden hose accessories, such as sprinklers, nozzles, couplings, clamps, menders, and reels
Lawn mowers, seeders, rollers, and tampers
Ledger openers
Letter openers
Lightning rods
Luggage, fittings, trim, and hardware
Machines: rowing, voting
Mail boxes
Maps and globes (world)
Marine construction: pleasure craft and fittings of all kinds, including but not limited to:
  Boats
  Canoes
  Rowboats
  Sailboats
Markers:
  Grave
  License plates
  Price
  Tee
  Traffic
  Tree
Memorials and tablets
Mesh bags
Metal lath, and accessories
*Metal letters and numbers (except for industrial or public utility control identification)
Mops
*Mouldings and trim (except functional retaining mouldings, shapes, or forms)
Mud scrapers
Nursing bottles
Oil cloth, foil-covered
Ornaments, Christmas tree Packaging:
  Containers for:
    Bath salts
    Cosmetics, except collapsible tubes
    Gifts
    Powder
    Shoe polish
  Tubes, for cigars
  Jars, beauty cream
  Shakers, talcum powder
  Foil for:
    Capsules (except therapeutical)
    Cartons, liquor
    Florist
    Household
    Labels
    Over wraps (except food)
    Wraps: gift, cosmetic, liquor
    Wine bottles
Paper clips
*Plates: name, scuff, push, kick (except instruction and identification plates on equipment)
Playground equipment
Pleasure boat fastenings, fittings and hardware
Portable bleachers
Roofing, and accessories, residential type (including shingles)
*Rulers (except technical rulers such as slide rules and others used in engineering)
Saddlery, and harness hardware
*Screening (except insect and that used in technical and scientific equipment)
Shoe heels (except orthopedic)
Shovels, scoops, scrapers and pushers, (except as required for handling food, chemical products and grain in processing and distribution)
Siding and accessories (except industrial)
*Signs, including advertising
Smokers' accessories
*Soap dishes and bathroom accessories
Souvenirs and novelties, advertising specialties
Spandrels
Spools such as wire (except magnet), adhesive tape, solder
Sporting goods, all kinds (except commercial fishery goods, life raft equipment, fishing rod offset handles, and firearms components
Spray guns (except paint spraying equipment and agricultural sprays)
Spurs, climbing
Statuary (except religious and artists' originals)
Stencils
Store fronts, (except glass holding members)
Stove pipe and other flue connections
*Tent poles, frames, and pegs.
*Thermostatic containers (except shoulders and cups on vacuum bottles of one quart and under size, and special laboratory and hospital equipment)
Toilet seats and covers
Tokens (except where necessary for electrical operation)
Tombstones
*Tooth brush and tumbler holders
*Towel bars
Toys
Tricycles and other children's vehicles
Umbrellas and parasols
Venetian blinds, fittings, and accessories
Vending machines (except functional parts)
Waste baskets
Wheelbarrows (except as required for handling chemicals)
*Whistles (except safety devices, air raid, and fire alarms)
Windows, storm (except sash slides)

LIST B

(See section 6)

The use of the forms and products of aluminum defined in section 3 and any component parts made therefrom (excluding repair parts) in the items listed below is subject to the prohibitions stated in this order, except as otherwise stated in the order or List B: Provided, however, That those items in List B which are specifically designated by an asterisk are permitted to be manufactured from aluminum for the use of the Armed Forces of the United States, including the United States Coast Guard, in the construction, fitting, or furnishing of ships (other than pleasure craft), aircraft, and hospitals, or to supply military specification organizational equipment items:

*Ducts, air conditioning, warm air, ventilating
*Windows, residential type
*Windows, nonresidential type

[NPA Order M-25 as Amended April 6, 1951]

M-25—CANS

This order as amended is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to authority granted by section 101 of the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this order prior to amendment there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations. However, consultation with representatives of all trades and industries affected by the issuance of the amendment to this order has been rendered impracticable by the fact that the amendment to this order affects a very substantial number of different trades and industries.

This amendment affects NPA Order M-25 as follows: It establishes new quotas of cans which may be accepted and used by packers; it sets up manufacturing and delivery preferences for cans; it further limits products which may be packed in cans manufactured of tin plate or terneplate by amending Schedule I; it deletes Schedule II; and it makes other miscellaneous changes.

As so amended NPA Order M-25 reads as follows:

Sec.
1. What this order does.
2. Definitions.
3. Restrictions on use of cans.
4. Other restrictions.
5. Restrictions on amount of cans that may be accepted.
6. Restrictions on amount of cans that may be used for packing.
7. Standards for adjustments.
8. Manufacturing and delivery preferences.
9. Exceptions.
10. Certification of delivery of cans.
11. Application for adjustment or exception.
12. Records and reports.
13. Communications.
14. Violations.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 14 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

SECTION 1. What this order does. This order places restrictions upon the acceptance of the delivery of, and the uses of cans. Schedule I sets out required plate specifications which vary according to the products packed. Cans made wholly of black plate are not restricted by this order except to the extent set forth in section 8 of this order. NPA Order M-24 permits the use of tin plate and terneplate for cans in accordance with the terms of this order. NPA Order M-8 sets forth specifications for solder that may be used in the manufacture of cans.

SEC. 2. Definitions. As used in this order:

(a) "Can" means any unused container made in whole or in part of tin plate, terneplate, or black plate, which is suitable for packing any product. The term includes any container which has a closure or fitting, made in whole or in part of tin plate, terneplate, or black plate, but does not include a glass container having such a closure or fitting. The term does not include fluid milk shipping containers.

(b) "Tin plate" means steel sheet coated with tin, and includes "primes," "seconds," and all other forms of tin plate, except waste and waste-waste.

(c) "Terneplate" means steel sheets coated with terne metal, and includes "primes" and "seconds." The term does not include terneplate waste-waste, or terneplate waste. "Terne metal" means the lead-tin alloy used as the coating for terneplate, but does not include lead recovered from secondary sources which contains less than 1.5 percent residual tin.

(d) "SCMT" means special coated manufacturers' terneplate.

(e) "Waste" means scrap tin plate and terneplate (including strips and circles) produced in the ordinary course of manufacturing cans, and tin plate and terneplate strips produced in the ordinary course of manufacturing tin plate and terneplate. The term also includes tin plate and terneplate parts recovered from used cans.

(f) "Waste-waste" means hot-dipped or electrolytic tin-coated steel sheets or steel sheets coated with terne metal which have been rejected during processing by the producer because of imperfections which disqualify such sheets from sale as primes or seconds.

(g) "Black plate" means steel sheets (other than tin plate or terneplate) 29 gauge (128 pounds) or lighter. The term includes can manufacturing quality black plate (CMQ), "black plate rejects," chemically treated black plate (CTB), waste-waste, and waste.

(h) "Packer" means any person who uses cans for commercially packing any product.

(i) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons and includes any agency of the United States or any other government.

SEC. 3. Restrictions on use of cans. No packer shall purchase, accept delivery of, or use a can, except a can made wholly of black plate, for any purpose other than for packing products listed in Schedule I as it appears at the end of this order, and in accordance with the specifications set out in said Schedule I. The restrictions contained in this section and in said Schedule I are subject to the exceptions of section 9 of this order.

SEC. 4. Other restrictions. No person shall manufacture, sell, or deliver any cans which he knows or has reason to believe will be accepted or used in violation of the terms of this order or any other order or regulation of the NPA. No person shall sell or deliver any cans which he knows or has reason to believe will be exported outside of the continental limits of the United States, its territories and possessions, and Canada, except as permitted under section 9 (f) of this order.

SEC. 5. Restrictions on amount of cans that may be accepted. No person shall receive or accept delivery of any cans at a time when his inventory thereof exceeds, or by acceptance of such delivery would be made to exceed, a practicable minimum working inventory of such cans required for packing products listed in Schedule I in accordance with the quota and material limitations set forth in Schedule I.

SEC. 6. Restrictions on amount of cans that may be used for packing. (a) Commencing with the second quarter of 1951, a packer in computing the limitations on the amounts of cans which may be used for packing under paragraph (b) of this section, must choose as his base year either the calendar year 1949 or 1950: Provided however, That when he has chosen his base year for computing his permissible quotas for a quarter, all future computations for succeeding quarters must be predicated on the same base year.

(b) During the second quarter of the calendar year 1951 and each quarter thereafter until otherwise ordered by NPA, no packer may use cans (except cans made wholly of black plate) for packing any particular product listed in Schedule I in excess of an amount of cans determined by applying the percentage listed in Column (3) of Schedule I opposite a particular product against the amount of cans which he used for packing that particular product during the corresponding quarter of his selected base year. "The amount of cans," as the phrase is used in the preceding sentence when applied to the corresponding quarter of his base year, means the total area of tin plate, terneplate, and black plate (excluding black plate used in cans made wholly of black plate) used in the manufacture of such cans. Where the word "unlimited" appears in Column (3) of Schedule I opposite a particular product, a packer may use the specified cans in an unlimited quantity, to pack that particular product, subject to the inventory restriction contained in section 5 of this order. If a packer uses less than the amount of cans permitted for packing a particular product during any quarter (including the first quarter of 1951 as provided for in section 5 of NPA Order M-25 as amended March 16, 1951), he may use the unused amount for packing that particular product at any time during the balance of the calendar year 1951.

SEC. 7. Standards for adjustments. In any case where the provisions of section 6 (b) of this order may be inapplicable because of any of the reasons set forth in Direction 1 to NPA Order M-25 as from time to time amended, determinations of adjustments may be made by the packer in accordance with the standards and subject to the conditions stated in said Direction 1.

SEC. 8. Manufacturing and delivery preferences. (a) So far as practicable, every can manufacturer shall schedule his operations (including his ordering of tin plate, terneplate, and black plate) so as to permit delivery of cans in the quantities and at the times he reasonably anticipates will be requested. Where he is unable to schedule all orders for cans for delivery at the times required, he shall schedule his operations and select the orders to be placed in his production schedule according to the following preferences:

(1) All DO rated orders and any other orders under NPA directives;

(2) Requirements for cans to pack products designated with the letter A in Column (2) of Schedule I;

(3) Requirements for cans to pack products designated with the letter B in Column (2) of Schedule I.

(b) A can manufacturer must not fill orders for cans with preference B designations if by doing so he will make himself unable to meet deliveries which he reasonably anticipates will be requested for cans with preference A designation. If, after filling all reasonably anticipated requirements for cans with preference A designations, a can manufacturer is unable to fill all his requirements for cans with preference B designations, he must equally distribute such shortage against (1) all requirements for cans with preference B designations and (2) requirements for cans made wholly of black plate. In cases where the quota under Column (3) of Schedule I is shown as "unlimited" and not designated "A," and also where a product is packed in cans made wholly of black plate which is unlimited, the packer's quota for each such product for the purposes of the preference requirement under this section shall be considered as limited to 100 percent of the corresponding period of either 1949 or 1950, his selected base year.

SEC. 9. Exceptions. (a) The plate specifications set out in Schedule I of this order do not apply to the use of any cans which were in the inventory of a packer or in the inventory of a can manufacturer or in process of manufacture on January 27, 1951, or to tin plate or terneplate which was either in process at a tin mill in the inventory of a tin mill for the account of a can manufacturer, or in the inventory of a can manufacturer on January 27, 1951. It is the intent of this section that any tin plate or terneplate intended for use in the manufacture of cans in inventory or in process on January 27, 1951, as aforesaid, shall be used notwithstanding the plate specifications of this order. However, the restrictions of sections 5 of this order are not excepted by this paragraph.

(b) Cans made wholly of black plate may be used for products not listed in Schedule I. Electrolytic 0.25 pound tin plate or SCMT may be used in place of black plate for soldered parts of black plate cans until May 15, 1951, where facilities for soldering black plate are not available: Provided, however, That the total area of 0.25 pound electrolytic tin plate or SCMT used in such soldered parts is limited to 90 percent of the total area of plate used in such parts for packing the particular product during the corresponding period of 1949 or 1950.

(c) Any person whose total use of cans for packing all products in any calendar year requires less than 250 base boxes of tin plate and terneplate shall be exempt from the use limitations of section 6 of this order but not from the plate specifications of Schedule I.

(d) Cans may be used to pack any product provided such product is not to be sold in the same or different form, but this does not permit the use of cans contrary to the provisions of this order for the purpose of aiding or promoting the sale of a product.

(e) (1) Orders having a DO rating are exempt from the restrictions in section 5 of this order on the amount of cans that may be accepted.

(2) The quantity of any product required to be packed in cans and set aside under a Government order and reserved for purchase by an authorized Government agency is exempt from the use limitations of this order, but not from the plate specifications in Schedule I.

(3) The restrictions in section 3 of this order on the use of cans for packing products and the plate specifications set out in Schedule I for cans for packing products listed in this schedule shall not apply to orders having a DO rating for packing products in accordance with Military Specifications of the Department of Defense for use by the Armed Forces of the United States, including the United States Coast Guard, outside the 48 States of the United States and the District of Columbia. The restrictions in section 3 of this order on the use of cans for packing products and the plate specifications set out in Schedule I for cans for packing products listed in that schedule shall apply, however, to all other orders having a DO rating.

(4) The restrictions of this order shall not apply to military requirements for cans of a special design or style not normally produced or used commercially nor to cans for emergency rations and supplies for lifeboats.

(f) The provisions of this order shall not apply to the sale or delivery of cans where the person selling or delivering the same has received a validated export license therefor from the Office of International Trade, or has received from another person a certificate signed manually. This certificate shall be by letter in substantially the following form, striking therefrom the inapplicable words, and shall be filed with each purchase order with the person selling or delivering to such other person cans for export:

To ----------, Seller:

The undersigned purchaser certifies, subject to criminal penalties for misrepresentation, that (he has received a certification from another person that) the Office of International Trade has issued to (him) (such other person) validated export license No. ---------- for export shipment of all of the items included in the attached purchase order, and that all purchases from you of items included in the said purchase order and the acceptance of the same will be in compliance with the said validated export license.

In cases of export to those countries where the Office of International Trade does not require an export license, no certificate shall be required until such time as an export license is required by the Office of International Trade.

SEC. 10. Certification of delivery of cans. No manufacturer, jobber, or distributor shall sell or deliver cans unless he has received from the purchaser a certificate signed manually. This certificate shall be by letter in substantially the following form and, once filed by a purchaser with a manufacturer, jobber, or distributor, covers all future deliveries of cans from the manufacturer, jobber, or distributor to that purchaser:

To ----------, manufacturer, jobber, or distributor:

The undersigned purchaser certifies, subject to criminal penalties for misrepresentation, that he is familiar with order M-25 of the National Production Authority, and that all purchases from you of items regulated by that order, and the acceptance and use of the same by the undersigned, will be in compliance with said order, and any amendments thereto.

SEC. 11. Application for adjustment or exception. Any person affected by any provision of this order may file a request for adjustment or exception upon the ground that his business operation was commenced during or after the base period, that any provision otherwise works an undue or exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry, or that its enforcement against him would not be in the interest of the national defense or in the public interest. In examining requests for adjustment claiming that the public interest is prejudiced by the application of any provision of this order, consideration will be given to the requirements of the public health and safety, civilian defense, and dislocation of labor and resulting unemployment that would impair the defense program. Each request shall be in writing and shall set forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought, and shall state the justification therefor.

SEC. 12. Records and reports. (a) Each person participating in any transaction covered by this order shall retain in his possession for at least 2 years records of receipts, deliveries, inventories, and use, in sufficient detail to permit an audit that determines for each transaction that the provisions of this order have been met. This does not specify any particular accounting method and does not require alteration of the system of records customarily maintained, provided such records supply an adequate basis for audit. Records may be retained in the form of microfilm or other photographic copies instead of the originals.

(b) All records required by this order shall be made available at the usual place of business where maintained for inspection and audit by duly authorized representatives of the National Production Authority.

(c) Persons subject to this order shall make such records and submit such reports to the National Production Authority as it shall require, subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act (Pub. Law 831, 77th Cong., 5 U. S. C. 139–139F).

SEC. 13. Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to the National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C. Ref.: M-25.

SEC. 14. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provisions of this order or any other order or regulation of the National Production Authority or who wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information in the course of operation under this order is guilty of a crime and, upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against any such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This order as amended shall take effect on April 6, 1951.

NATIONAL PRODUCTION AUTHORITY,
[SEAL] MANLY FLEISCHMANN,
Administrator.

SCHEDULE I—CAN SPECIFICATIONS

Columns (4) and (5) specify the weight of tin-coating per base box of tin plate and terneplate which may be used for the parts of cans for the products listed in Column (1). Any packer may also use for packing a listed product black plate cans or cans with a tin-coating lighter than that specified for that product. Wherever 0.25 pound electrolytic tin plate is specified, SCMT may be used. Tin plate menders arising in the production of electrolytic tin plate may be used only where hot-dipped tin plate is permitted in this schedule. When only a figure is given in Columns (4) and (5), this means that tin plate may be used for the part, and the figure given indicates the maximum weight of tin-coating on each base box of plate. Electrolytic 0.25 pound tin plate may be used in place of black plate in that part of a can which, after filling, is required to be hermetically closed by soldering, or that part of a can to which a nozzle is required to be attached by soldering: Provided, however, That the total area of 0.25 pound electrolytic tin plate used in such parts is limited to not more than the total area of plate used in such parts for packing a particular product during the corresponding period of 1949 or 1950.

[NPA Order M-26 as Amended April 6, 1951]

M-26—Packaging Closures

This order as amended is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the authority granted by section 101 of the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this order as amended, there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations. However, consultation with representatives of all trades and industries affected in advance of the issuance of this order has been rendered impracticable by the fact that the order affects a very substantial number of different trades and industries.

This amendment affects NPA Order M-26 as follows:

It establishes quantity limitations by classes of products for packaging closures made of aluminum. The limitations are set out in Schedule II which is added to the order. It establishes restriction on receipts. It establishes weight limitations in the use of aluminum foil for liners for packaging closures.

It affects §§ 103.1 to 103.7, inclusive, and redesignates Schedule A as Schedule I.

It redesignates §§ 103.1 to 103.3 as sections 1 to 3; inserts a new section 4; and redesignates §§ 103.4 to 103.10 as sections 5 to 11.

As so amended, NPA Order M-26 reads as follows:

Sec.

1. What this order does.
2. Definitions.
3. Restrictions on use of packaging closures.
4. Restriction on receipts.
5. Other restrictions.
6. Exceptions.
7. Certification of delivery of packaging closures.
8. Application for adjustment or exception.
9. Records and reports.
10. Communications.
11. Violations.

Authority: Sections 1 to 11 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

Section 1. What this order does. This order as amended places restrictions upon packaging closures. Schedule I appearing at the end of this order specifies the maximum tin coatings for packaging closures made of tin plate. This maximum varies according to the product packed. Schedule II appearing at the end of this order specifies quantity limitations for packaging closures made of aluminum. These limitations vary according to the product packed. This order does not restrict the use of packaging closures made of any material other than tin plate or aluminum. NPA Order M-24 permits the use of tin plate for packaging closures in accordance with the terms of this order. NPA Order M–7 permits the use of aluminum for packaging closures in accordance with the terms of this order.

SEC. 2. Definitions. As used in this order:

(a) "Packaging closures" means any new sealing or covering device made in whole or in part of tin plate, or in whole or in part of aluminum, and affixed, or to be affixed, to a glass container, and also includes crowns made of tin plate and affixed, or to be affixed, to a glass or metal container, for the purpose of retaining the contents within the container. Where there is reference to "packaging closure(s) made of tin plate," such reference does not include a packaging closure made entirely of aluminum. Where there is reference to "packaging closure(s) made of aluminum," such reference does not include a packaging closure made entirely of tin plate.

(b) "Tin plate" means steel sheet coated with tin, and includes "primes," "seconds," and all other forms of tin plate except waste and waste-waste.

(c) "Waste" means scrap tin plate, and includes strips and circles produced in the ordinary course of manufacturing tin plate or packaging closures.

(d) "Waste-waste" means hot-dipped or electrolytic tin-coated steel sheets which have been rejected during processing by the producer because of imperfections which disqualify such sheets from sale as primes or seconds.

(e) "Quarterly base period" means a period of 3 consecutive months in each of the 4 calendar quarters of the calendar year 1950.

(f) "Base quota" means that numerical quantity of packaging closures made of aluminum which a packer used during the calendar year 1950, determined by either of the following methods:

(1) The monthly average of the numerical quantity of such packaging closures made of aluminum which a packer used during the months of actual use in the calendar year 1950, multiplied three times.

(2) The total numerical quantities of such packaging closures which a packer used during a quarterly base period.

Whichever method is used by a packer to determine his base quota shall thereafter be followed by that packer for succeeding quarterly base periods. Use of such closures shall be spread as equally as possible over each month of the quarterly base period.

(g) "Packer" means any person who uses packaging closures for commercially packing any product.

(h) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, and includes any agency of the United States or any other government.

SEC. 3. Restrictions on use of packaging closures—(a) Packaging closures made of tin plate. No packer shall purchase, accept delivery of, or use packaging closures made of tin plate for the purpose of packing products except as specifically permitted in Schedule I. Packaging closures made of tin plate may be used for packing the classes of products listed in Schedule I if they comply with the tin-plate specifications set out in Schedule I. The tin-plate specifications set out in Schedule I indicate the maximum number of pounds per base box of tin coating permitted for the particular products listed.

(b) Packaging closures made of aluminum. No packer shall purchase, accept delivery of, or use packaging closures made of aluminum for the purpose of packing products except as specifically permitted in Schedule II. During the second quarter of the calendar year 1951 and each quarter thereafter, until otherwise ordered by the National Production Authority (hereinafter referred to as the "NPA") no packer shall use a greater numerical quantity of packaging closures made of aluminum for packing any class of product listed in Schedule II than the numerical quantity found by taking the percentage of his base quota which is specified in that schedule for packing that class of products. Where the percentage of that numerical quantity is specified as "unlimited" in Schedule II, that percentage is applicable only to a packer who used, or commenced conversion to the use of, packaging closures made of aluminum for use in packing fluid milk products (Schedule II, Item 1) prior to November 27, 1950, and for use in packing the products shown in Schedule II, Item 3 prior to April 6, 1951. The restrictions of this paragraph do not apply to aluminum liners for packaging closures.

(c) Exceptions. The restrictions in this section are subject to the exceptions in section 6 of this order.

SEC. 4. Restriction on receipts. No packer shall receive or accept delivery of packaging closures at a time when his inventory thereof exceeds, or by acceptance of such delivery would be made to exceed, a 75-day supply, on the basis of his then scheduled method and rate of operation, taking into account customary seasonal fluctuations. Any packer who, on the effective date of this order as hereby amended, has outstanding orders for packaging closures calling for delivery earlier or in quantities greater than he would be permitted to receive under this section, shall forthwith notify his supplier of the extent to which delivery cannot be accepted as scheduled, and such orders shall be adjusted accordingly.

SEC. 5. Other restrictions. (a) No person shall use tin plate or aluminum in the manufacture of packaging closures, nor shall any person sell or deliver any such packaging closures, which he knows or has reason to believe will be accepted or used in violation of the terms of this order or any other order or regulation of the NPA.

(b) In the manufacture of home canning packaging closures, no person shall use any tin plate with a tin coating in excess of 0.50 pound per base box for the manufacture of top seal lids, or in excess of a 0.25 pound per base box for the manufacture of bands or jelly glass lids.

(c) During the second quarter of the calendar year 1951, and each quarter thereafter, until otherwise ordered by NPA, no person shall use more than 65 percent of that total weight of aluminum foil which he used during the quarterly base period for aluminum liners in the manufacture of packaging and other closures.

SEC. 6. Exceptions. (a) The restrictions in this order shall not apply to military requirements for packaging closures of a special design or style not normally produced or used commercially nor to packaging closures for emergency rations and supplies for lifeboats.

(b) Orders having a DO rating are exempt from the use limitations in Schedule II and from the restrictions in section 3 (b) of this order. Such orders are not exempt however, from the plate specifications in Schedule I.

(c) The provisions of this order do not apply to the use of any packaging closures made of tin plate which were in the inventory of the packer, or in the inventory of the manufacturer of packaging closures made of tin plate, or in process of manufacture, or any tin plate in inventory at a tin mill for the account of the manufacturer of packaging closures made of tin plate on January 27, 1951, the effective date of this order prior to amendment. It is the intent of this order as amended that any tin plate intended for use in the manufacture of packaging closures made of tin plate in inventory or in process on January 27, 1951, shall be used notwithstanding the restrictions of section 3 of this order.

(d) The provisions of this order as amended shall not prevent any person who used less than a total of 10,000 packaging closures made of aluminum during the calendar year 1950, from purchasing, accepting delivery of, or using a total of 10,000 such packaging closures during any subsequent calendar year until otherwise ordered by NPA.

SEC. 7. Certification of delivery of packaging closures. No person shall sell or deliver packaging closures to a packer (except to a retail pharmacist) unless he has received from such packer a certificate signed manually. This certificate shall be by letter in substantially the following form and once filed by a purchaser with a seller covers all future deliveries of packaging closures from that seller to that purchaser:

To ----------, Seller:

The undersigned purchaser certifies, subject to criminal penalties for misrepresentation, that he is familiar with Order M–26 of the National Production Authority, and that all purchases from you of items regulated by that order, and the use and acceptance of the same by the undersigned, will be in compliance with said order, and any amendments thereto.

SEC. 8. Application for adjustment or exception. Any person affected by any provision of this order may file a request for adjustment or exception upon the ground that his business operation was commenced during or after the base period, or that any provision otherwise works an undue or exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry, or that its enforcement against him would not be in the interest of the national defense or in the public interest. In examining requests for adjustment claiming that the public interest is prejudiced by the application of any provision of this order, consideration will be given to the requirements of the public health and safety, civilian defense, and dislocation of labor, and resulting unemployment that would impair the defense program. Such requests shall be made on Form NPAF–50, "Packaging Closures: Application for Adjustment." Copies of this form may be obtained from the nearest Department of Commerce Field Office.

SEC. 9. Records and reports. (a) Each person participating in any transaction covered by this order shall retain in his possession for at least 2 years records of receipts, deliveries, inventories, and use, in sufficient detail to permit an audit that determines for each transaction that the provisions of this order have been met. This does not specify any particular accounting method and does not require alteration of the system of records customarily maintained, provided such records supply an adequate basis for audit. Records may be retained in the form of microfilm or other photographic copies instead of the originals.

(b) All records required by this order shall be made available at the usual place of business where maintained for inspection and audit by duly authorized representatives of the National Production Authority.

(c) Persons subject to this order shall make such records and submit such reports to the National Production Authority as it shall require, subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act (Pub. Law 831, 77th Cong., 5 U. S. C. 139–139F).

SEC. 10. Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to the National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M–26.

SEC. 11. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or any other order or regulation of the National Production Authority, or who wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information in the course of operation under this order is guilty of a crime and, upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against any such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This order shall take effect on April 6, 1951.

NATIONAL PRODUCTION AUTHORITY,
[SEAL] MANLY FLEISCHMANN,
Administrator.

SCHEDULE I—PACKAGING CLOSURES MADE OF TIN PLATE

Product	Tin-plate specifications (maximum pounds of tin coating per base box)

[NPA Order M–45, Schedule 2]

M–45—ALLOCATION OF CHEMICALS AND ALLIED PRODUCTS

SCHED. 2—POLY TETRA-FLUOR ETHYLENE

This schedule is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued under NPA Order M–45 pursuant to the authority of section 101 of the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this schedule there has been consultation with industry representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations.

SECTION 1. Definition. "Poly tetra-fluor ethylene" means only the primary plastic material of this formula and does not include molded or fabricated shapes thereof or scrap or reclaimed material.

SEC. 2. General provisions. Poly tetra-fluor ethylene is hereby made subject to NPA Order M–45 as an Appendix A material. The initial allocation date is May 1, 1951. The allocation period is the calendar month. There is no small order exemption.

SEC. 3. Filing date and unit of measure. The filing date for Form NPAF–45 is the 15th day of the month before the proposed delivery month. The filing date for Form NPAF–46 is the 20th day of the month before the proposed delivery month. The unit of measure is the pound.

SEC. 4. Termination of NPA authorization to use. There shall be no limitation of time on any NPA authorization to use poly tetra-fluor ethylene.

SEC. 5. Limitation on inventory. The provisions of NPA Reg. 1 shall apply to poly tetra-fluor ethylene.

SEC. 6. Purchaser's application on Form NPAF–45. Every person who purchases poly tetra-fluor ethylene from a supplier is required to apply for authorization to accept delivery on Form NPAF–45. General instructions on the preparation of Form NPAF–45 are set forth in Appendix D of NPA Order M–45. Each applicant should specify in Column (1) the physical form of the material as polymer, dispersions, or paste. Each applicant should enter in Column (2) the quantity required for each end-use, and show in Column (3) the product to be made from the poly tetra-fluor ethylene, such as gaskets, connector plugs, etc. In Column (4) he should show the ultimate product end-use, such as aircraft, radar, etc., and DO rating and government contract number, if any.

SEC. 7. Supplier's application on Form NPAF–46. Every supplier of poly tetra-fluor ethylene is required to apply on Form NPAF–46 for authorization to deliver or to use any quantity of poly tetra-fluor ethylene. General instructions on the preparation of Form NPAF–46 are set forth in Appendix D of NPA Order M–45. Each supplier should specify in Column (3) the physical form of the material as polymer, dispersions, or paste.

[NPA Order M-47 as Amended Apr. 4, 1951]

M-47—Use of Iron and Steel

EDITORIAL NOTE: The following is a complete restatement of NPA Order M-47, embodying all changes effected by the amendment to the said Order M-47 as published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, April 5, 1951 (16 F. R. 2968).

This order, as amended, is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this order, there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations. However, in the formulation of this amendment, consultation with representatives of all trades and industries affected has been rendered impracticable due to the necessity for immediate action and because the order affects a large number of different trades and industries.

This amendment affects NPA Order M-47 by substituting a new section 3, by changing the first sentence of section 4, by substituting a new section 5, by substituting a new paragraph (b) of section 6, and by substituting a new List A.

As amended, NPA Order M-47 now reads as follows:

Sec
1. What this order does.
2. Definitions.
3. Iron and steel products to which this order applies.
4. Application of order.
5. Use of iron and steel products in consumer durable goods.
6. Exemptions.
7. Application for adjustment.
8. Records and reports.
9. Communications.
10. Violations.

AUTHORITY: Section 1 to 10 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

SECTION 1. What this order does. The purpose of this order is to limit the use of iron and steel in the manufacture and assembly of certain products.

SEC. 2. Definitions. As used in this order:

(a) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons and includes any agency of the United States or any other government.

(b) "Base period" means the 6-month period ending June 30, 1950.

(c) "Manufacture" means to put into process, machine, fabricate, or otherwise alter materials by physical or chemical means.

(d) "Conversion steel" means steel mill products which have been obtained by the consumer in consequence of the consumer or some other person having furnished, directly or indirectly, to one or more steel producers or converters, steel mill products in a less finished form such as, but not limited to, ingots, blooms, billets, slabs, rods, skelp, and hot rolled sheets in coils, for the express purpose of procuring such steel mill products.

SEC. 3. Iron and steel products to which this order applies. This order applies to the iron and steel products listed in Table I of NPA Order M-1, as amended.

SEC. 4. Application of order. This order applies to persons who use iron and steel products or parts or components made wholly or partly therefrom, for purposes of manufacture or assembly, and limits the use of such materials and parts in the manufacture or assembly of certain items. This order does not apply to the production of iron and steel.

SEC. 5. Use of iron and steel products in consumer durable goods. (a) Subject to the exemptions stated in section 6 of this order, and unless specifically authorized in writing by the National Production Authority, no person shall use during the calendar quarter commencing on April 1, 1951, in the manufacture of any item included in List A at the end of this order, a total quantity by weight of iron and steel products in excess of 80 percent of his average quarterly use of such materials in the manufactured item during the base period: Provided, however, That such use in any one month shall not exceed 40 percent of the permitted quarterly use. However, if such person manufactured one or more units of a part made wholly or partly from iron or steel products during the base period, and uses one or more purchased units of that part during said calendar quarter in any item in List A, he shall include the weight of the iron and steel products used in the manufacture of each such part, whether by himself or another, in computing his use of iron and steel products during the base period and during said calendar quarter. During the calendar quarter commencing on April 1, 1951, any person who does not use any iron and steel product in the manufacture of an item in List A, but who assembles parts made wholly or partly from such material into such item, shall not assemble a total number of units of such item in excess of 40 percent of the number of such units which he assembled during the base period.

(b) Any person who during the 6-month period ending December 31, 1950, used conversion steel in the manufacture of any items included in List A at the end of this order shall, during the calendar quarter commencing on April 1, 1951, use conversion steel in the manufacture of such items to the extent stated in this paragraph. The ratio between nonconversion steel used and the total permitted use of steel shall not exceed the ratio between nonconversion steel and total steel received by him during the 6-month period ending December 31, 1950: Provided, however, That in the alternative and in the event it is not practicable to determine the quantity of conversion steel used in the manufacture of items in List A, the ratio between nonconversion steel and total steel used in his total production, including all items in List A, shall not exceed the ratio between nonconversion steel and total steel received by him during said period. Any person who selects and applies either of the alternatives above stated may not subsequently apply the other alternative without the written approval of the National Production Authority.

SEC. 6. Exemptions. (a) The manufacture or assembly of any item in List A to fill rated orders, or to meet any mandatory order of the National Production Authority, is permitted in addition to the manufacture or assembly permitted by section 5 of this order.

(b) Section 5 shall not apply to any person whose total output of manufactured and assembled items included in List A during the calendar quarter commencing April 1, 1951, has an iron and steel content (including the estimated iron and steel content of parts and semifabricated materials purchased from others) of less than 100 short tons: Provided, however, (1) That no such person shall during said quarter use iron and steel products (not including the estimated iron and steel content of parts and semifabricated materials purchased from others) in the manufacture of items in List A a total quantity by weight of such material in excess of his average quarterly use thereof for such purposes during the base period; and (2) That any such person who does not use any iron and steel product in the manufacture of an item in List A, but who assembles parts made wholly or partly from such material into such item, shall not assemble a total number of units of such item in excess of 50 percent of the number of such units which he assembled during the base period.

SEC. 7. Application for adjustment. Any person affected by any provision of this order may file a request for adjustment or exception upon the ground that his business operation was commenced during or after the base period, or because any provision otherwise works an undue and exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry, or that its enforcement against him would not be in the interest of the national defense or in the public interest. Each request shall be in writing and shall set forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought, and shall state the justification therefor.

SEC. 8. Records and reports. (a) Each person participating in any transaction covered by this order shall retain in his possession for at least 2 years records of receipts, deliveries, inventories, and use, in sufficient detail to permit an audit that determines for each transaction that the provisions of this order have been met. This does not specify any particular accounting method and does not require alteration of the system of records customarily maintained, provided such records supply an adequate basis for audit. Records may be retained in the form of microfilm or other photographic copies instead of the originals.

(b) All records required by this order shall be made available at the usual place of business where maintained for inspection and audit by duly authorized representatives of the National Production Authority.

(c) Persons subject to this order shall make such records and submit such reports to the National Production Authority as it shall require, subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act (Pub. Law 831, 77th Cong., 5 U. S. C. 139–139F).

SEC. 9. Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to the National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M-47.

SEC. 10. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or any other order or regulation of the National Production Authority or who wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information in the course of operation under this order is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against any such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act.

This order as amended shall take effect, except as otherwise specifically stated, on April 4, 1951.

Issued April 3, 1951.

Accessories for any single item in this List A shall constitute a separate item for the purposes of this order, and shall also be an item separate from the item to which it is an accessory.

An "accessory" shall mean any product used with or attachable to an item described in this List A and which is generally known in the trade as an "accessory."

TITLE 33—NAVIGATION AND NAVIGABLE WATERS

Chapter II—Corps of Engineers, Department of the Army

PART 204—DANGER ZONE REGULATIONS

ALBEMARLE SOUND, PAMLICO SOUND, AND ADJACENT WATERS, N. C.

Pursuant to the provisions of section 7 of the River and Harbor Act of August 8, 1917 (40 Stat. 266; 33 U. S. C. 1), and Chapter XIX of the Army Appropriations Act of July 9, 1918 (40 Stat. 892; 33 U. S. C. 3), § 204.54 relating to danger zones for naval operations in Albemarle Sound, Pamlico Sound, and adjacent waters, North Carolina, is hereby amended as follows:

§ 204.54 Albemarle Sound, Pamlico Sound, and adjacent waters, N. C.; danger zones for naval operations—(a) Target areas—(1) Northern part of Currituck Sound. Beginning at a point bearing 65°30', 1,025 yards, from Currituck Sound Light 69; thence 86°, 6,000 yards; thence 193°, 4,425 yards; thence 267°30', 2,775 yards; and thence to the point of beginning. The target is located at latitude 36°27'16", longitude 76°56'30".

NOTE: All bearings in this section are referred to true meridian.

(2) North of Currituck Beach Light. The waters of Currituck Sound and the Atlantic Ocean within a radius of 1,000 yards from a target located at latitude 36°25'24", longitude 75°50'09".

(3) South of Caffey Inlet Coast Guard Station. The waters of Currituck Sound and the Atlantic Ocean within a radius of 1,000 yards from a target located at latitude 36°12'15", longitude 75°45'57".

(4) Southeast of Caffey Inlet Coast Guard Station. The waters of Currituck Sound and the Atlantic Ocean within an area described as follows: Beginning at a point bearing 170°, 5,900 yards, from Caffey Inlet Coast Guard Station; thence 55°30', 7,650 yards; thence 177°, 8,700 yards; and thence to the point of beginning. The target is located at latitude 36°10'28", longitude 75°45'04".

(b) Target and bombing areas—(1) Along north shore of Albemarle Sound. Beginning at a point on the north shore of Albemarle Sound where the eastern highway bridge intersects the shore at Sandy Point; thence southerly along the eastern side of the bridge to the northern end of the draw; thence northeasterly to a point bearing 180°, 4,100 yards, from Perquimans Bluff Flats Buoy; thence due north to Perquimans Bluff Flats Buoy; thence 323°39' to the shore at Harvey Point; and thence southwesterly along the shore and across the mouth of Yeopim River, to the point of beginning.

(2) Along south shore of Albemarle Sound. Beginning at the northernmost point of Laurel Point; thence to Laurel Point Light; thence to latitude 36°02'40", longitude 76°04'26"; thence to Lewis Point; thence westerly along the shore to a point bearing 68°, 2,200 yards, from Scuppernong River Entrance Light; thence 263° to the shore south of Bull Creek entrance; thence northerly along the shore, and across the entrance to Bull Creek, to the point of beginning; excluding from this area a passage 600 yards in width the center line of which extends due north from Scuppernong River Entrance Light.

(c) Naval Aviation Ordnance test area in Pamlico Sound in vicinity of Long Shoal. A circular area with a radius of one and one-half miles having its center at latitude 35°32'16", longitude 75°40'49".

(d) The regulations—(1) Target areas. No person is allowed to fish nor are any boats, except boats attached to and operated by United States Government bases in the vicinity, allowed to operate in the target areas described in paragraph (a) of this section.

(2) Target and bombing areas. The areas described in paragraph (b) of this section will be used as target and bombing areas by naval aircraft. Live and dummy ammunition will be used. All operations will be conducted during daylight hours, and the areas will be open to navigation at night. No vessel shall enter these areas during the hours of daylight without special permission from the enforcing agency. The areas will be patrolled and vessels will be warned not to enter. "Buzzing" by plane will warn vessels that they are in a danger zone, and upon being so warned they shall immediately leave the area.

(3) Navel Aviation Ordnance test area. The area described in paragraph (c) of this section shall be closed to navigation except for such military vessels as may be directed by the enforcing agency to enter on assigned duties.

(4) Enforcing agency. The regulations in this section shall be enforced by the Commander, Naval Air Base, Fifth Naval District, and such agencies as he may designate.

TITLE 38—PENSIONS, BONUSES, AND VETERANS' RELIEF

Chapter I—Veterans' Administration

PART 21—VOCATIONAL REHABILITATION AND EDUCATION

SUBPART A—REGISTRATION AND RESEARCH

1. In § 21.150, paragraph (c) is amended and paragraph (g) is deleted as follows:

§ 21.150 Payment of book, supply, and equipment charges. * * *

(c) The Veterans' Administration will not authorize payment for any books, supplies, and equipment in the absence of satisfactory evidence that they are generally required by the institution concerned of all nonveteran students taking the same course. The mere fact that the institution or the veteran considers an item as "desirable to have" or "necessary for a future profession or job" will not meet Veterans' Administration requirements as to approval for payment. It will be incumbent upon the institution to substantiate and verify the veteran's claim by furnishing the Veterans' Administration with adequate proof that all items for which the veteran is requesting reimbursement were required of all nonveteran students taking the same course.

* * * * *

(g) (Canceled.)

2. New §§ 21.151 and 21.152 are added to read as follows:

§ 21.151 Payment for tuition and other customary instructional fees. (a) Section 21.150 does not apply to tuition fees, registration, laboratory, health and/or infirmary, library, and other similar fees incidental to tuition requirements which are customarily required by the institution of all students in the same course. It will continue to be the responsibility of the approved foreign educational institution to bill the Veterans Administration for such charges in the prescribed manner except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) A veteran whose enrollment in an approved foreign educational institution has been authorized by the Veterans Administration under the provisions of the Servicemen's Readjustment Act may claim reimbursement of tuition and other customary instructional fees paid in advance by him for a period of authorized enrollment only when the institution lacks authority to reimburse the veteran for such payments. A veteran cannot, however, be reimbursed for payments made in advance by him to an institution which has hitherto accepted the principle of payment in arrears of charges made under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act.

§ 21.152 Proration of charges for tuition and for books, supplies, and equipment. Precise information as to the scheduling of instruction in institutions in foreign countries is generally unavailable to the Veterans' Administration, and because of the various systems of instruction in effect in different countries there is no common understanding of the term "instructional days." Consequently, when it is in order, for whatever reason, to prorate the charges for tuition and for books, supplies, and equipment in the case of a veteran enrolled in an approved foreign institution, the term "calendar days" will be substituted for the term "instructional days" in applying the provisions of §§ 21.519 (c) (2) and 21.655 (b).

(Sec. 2, 46 Stat. 1016, sec. 7, 48 Stat. 9, sec. 2, 57 Stat. 43, as amended, sec. 400, 58 Stat. 287, as amended; 38 U. S. C. and Sup. 11a, 701, 707, ch. 12 note. Interprets or applies secs. 3, 4, 57 Stat. 43, as amended, secs. 300, 1500–1504, 1506, 1507, 58 Stat. 286, 300, as amended; 38 U. S. C. Sup. 693g, 697–697d, 697f, g, ch. 12 note)

This regulation effective April 10, 1951.

Deputy Administrator.

TITLE 49—TRANSPORTATION AND RAILROADS

Chapter I—Interstate Commerce Commission

[S. O. 859, Amdt. 3]

PART 95—CAR SERVICE

RAILROAD FREIGHT CARS TO BE STOPPED TO COMPLETE LOADING

At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 3, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 4th day of April A. D. 1951.

Upon further consideration of Service Order No. 859 (15 F. R. 5051, 5797) (16 F. R. 819), and good cause appearing therefor: It is ordered, that:

Section 95.859 Railroad freight cars to be stopped to complete loading, of Service Order No. 859 be, and it is hereby, further amended by substituting the following paragraph (a) for paragraph (a) thereof:

(a) No common carrier by railroad subject to the Interstate Commerce Act shall accept for transportation, or transport or move, any railroad freight car (whether ordered or appropriated without being ordered) which car is loaded with lumber, shingles, plywood, doors, and other lumber or forest products in Oregon or Washington and tendered to be forwarded to another point to be stopped off to complete the loading thereof, unless or until the lumber, shingles, plywood, doors, and other lumber or forest products loaded in the car at the first loading point equals or exceeds fifty percent (50 percent) of the marked capacity of the car used.

Effective date. This amendment shall become effective at 12:01 a. m., April 9, 1951.

It is further ordered, that this amendment shall be served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as agent of the railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement; and that notice of this order be given to the general public by depositing a copy in the office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and by filing it with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

(Sec. 12, 24 Stat. 383, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 12. Interprets or applies sec. 1, 24 Stat. 379, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 1)

By the Commission, Division 3.

[SEAL] W. P. BARTEL,
Secretary.

PART 95—CAR SERVICE

EMBARGO OF LAKE-CARGO COAL; APPOINTMENT OF AGENT

At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 3, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 4th day of April A. D. 1951.

It appearing, that there is a shortage of cars for transporting coal consigned to various ports on Lake Michigan, Lake Ontario, and Lake Erie for transshipment by vessels; and that such cars of coal are delayed at those ports because of insufficient vessel or dumping capacity; the Commission is of the opinion that an emergency exists requiring immediate action at the lake ports and in areas producing lake-cargo coal. It is ordered, that:

§ 95.875 Embargo of Lake-Cargo Coal; appointment of agent—(a) Lake-cargo coal embargoed. No common carrier by railroad, subject to the Interstate Commerce Act, shall move or transport any car loaded with coal consigned to Lake Erie, Lake Ontario, or Lake Michigan ports for transshipment by vessel, unless or until a permit has been issued by the Permit Agent appointed herein authorizing the transportation of such car of coal.

(b) Appointment of Permit Agent. W. J. McGarry, Manager of the Ore & Coal Exchange, Cleveland, Ohio, is hereby designated and appointed Permit Agent of the Interstate Commerce Commission, subject to the direction and supervision of the Director, Bureau of Service, Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D. C.

(c) Outline of Permit Agent's duties. (1) In accordance with the directions and instructions of the Director, Bureau of Service, the Permit Agent shall issue or revoke permits, either special or general, as authorized in paragraph (a) of this section. Permits shall be issued, suspended, revoked or denied for the purpose of preventing an undue accumulation of cars of coal for transshipment at the lake ports.

(2) Execute the directions and instructions of the Director, Bureau of Service, which will be designed to facilitate the flow of cars of coal to and through the ports referred to in this section and to prevent congestion thereat, all for the purpose of better utilizing the available supply of coal cars.

(d) Shipments of bituminous coals consigned the ports of Sandusky and Toledo, Ohio on Lake Erie for dumping to vessels may be diverted en route from one port to another, (either Sandusky or Toledo) or to different piers within the Port of Toledo, Ohio, when in the judgment of Permit Agent appointed herein (subject to the provisions of paragraph (e) of this section) such action is necessary to avoid excess accumulations at either Sandusky or Toledo, Ohio, Lake Erie docks which delay the release of cars.

(e) The Permit Agent shall advise the Director, Bureau of Service, before diverting cars of coal and any diversion order may be modified or vacated at the discretion of the Director, Bureau of Service.

(f) Rates to be applied. When coal is diverted or rerouted pursuant to this section, it is deemed to be due to carrier's disability; rates applicable to traffic so forwarded shall be those which would have applied to the shipments if such shipments had moved as originally routed to the original port or ports.

(g) Division of rates. In executing the orders and directions of the Commission provided for in this section the common carriers involved shall proceed without reference to contracts, agreements, or arrangements now existing between them with reference to the divisions of the rates of transportation applicable to said traffic; such divisions shall be, during the time this order remains in force, voluntarily agreed upon by and between said carriers; or upon failure of the carriers to so agree, said divisions shall be hereafter fixed by the Commission in accordance with pertinent authority conferred upon it by the Interstate Commerce Act.

(h) Regulations suspended, announcement required. The operation of all rules, regulations and practices, insofar as they conflict with the provisions of this section, is hereby suspended and each railroad subject to this section, or its Agent, shall publish, file, and post a supplement to each of its tariffs affected hereby, in substantial accordance with the provisions of Rule 9 (k) of the Commission's Tariff Circular No. 20 (§ 141.9 (k) of this chapter), announcing such suspension.

(i) Application. This section shall apply to interstate and foreign commerce.

(j) Effective date. This section shall become effective at 12:01 a. m., April 9, 1951.

(k) Expiration date. This section shall expire at 11:59 p. m., October 9, 1951, unless otherwise modified, changed, suspended or annulled by order of this Commission.

It is further ordered, that a copy of this order and direction shall be served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as agent of the railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement; and that notice of this order be given to the general public by depositing a copy in the office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and by filing it with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

(Sec. 12, 24 Stat. 383, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 12. Interprets or applies sec. 1, 24 Stat. 379, as amended; 49 U. S. C 1)

By the Commission, Division 3.

PART 95—CAR SERVICE

REQUIREMENTS FOR LOADING OF GRAIN PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS

At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 3, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 3d day of April A. D. 1951.

Upon representations of the Defense Transport Administration that there is urgent need in the interest of National Defense for more efficient utilization of freight cars in the transportation of grain products and by-products.

It appearing, that there is a shortage of freight cars suitable for the transportation of grain products and by-products; that by reason thereof it is necessary to regulate and control the use of such cars to assure the maximum utilization; in the opinion of the Commission an emergency exists in all sections of the country requiring immediate action to promote car service in the interest of the public and the commerce of the people. It is ordered, that:

§ 95.874 Requirements for loading grain products and by-products. (a) Except as hereinafter provided, no carrier shall accept for transportation at point of origin, forward from point of origin, or load and forward from point of origin, or transport within any terminal area except to complete loading, any carload shipment of grain products or by-products in a freight car, unless such car when forwarded from point of origin or so transported within any terminal area, is loaded in accordance with one of the following requirements.

(1) The quantity shall equal or exceed in weight the marked capacity in pounds as stenciled on such car, or as shown under the caption "Capacity" (not "Load Limit") in the Official Railroad Equipment Register, Agent M. A. Zenobia's ICC R. E. R. No. 298, supplements thereto or reissues thereof; or

(2) Grain products or by-products in bulk shall be loaded to an elevation not lower than 24 inches from the ceiling of the car at its side walls, or if the interior walls of such car are partially sheathed or lined, to the utmost elevation without over-running the sheathing or lining; or

(3) Grain products or by-products in packages, in straight or mixed carloads, or in mixed carloads with other commodities, shall be loaded to a weight of not less than 60,000 pounds; or

(4) When such car is loaded to full visible capacity.

(b) Exemptions. The provisions of this section shall not apply to grain products or by-products moving under and in accordance with "clean-out" or "remnant" rules published in applicable freight tariffs lawfully on file with this Commission or state railroad regulatory bodies.

(c) Definition. As used in this section the term:

(1) Carrier means any common carrier by railroad subject to the Interstate Commerce Act.

(2) Grain products or by-products means any commodity listed in Appendix A.

(d) Special and general permits; appointment of agent. (1) Paragraph (a) of this section shall be subject to any special or general permits issued by the Permit Agent named below, on application of the shipper (or the carrier when carrier loads the car).

(2) Howard S. Kline, Chief, Car Utilization Section, Bureau of Service, Interstate Commerce Commission, Room 5135, I. C. C. Building, Washington 25, D. C., is hereby designated and appointed as Permit Agent of the Interstate Commerce Commission with authority to issue special or general permits to meet exceptional circumstances or withhold the issuance of permits under paragraph (d) (1) of this section, subject to the direction and supervision of the Director of the Bureau of Service.

(3) This section reappoints Howard S. Kline, Chief, Car Utilization Section, Bureau of Service, Interstate Commerce Commission, Room 5135 I. C. C. Building, Washington 25, D. C., with the same duties and instructions heretofore invoked and carried out under Service Order No. 874. Therefore, all permits, special or general, issued under Service Order No. 874, are hereby adopted and will remain in effect as permits, special and general, issued under Revised Service Order No. 874.

(e) Application. (1) The provisions of this section shall apply to intrastate, interstate and foreign commerce, including commerce with insular possessions and the territories of Alaska and Hawaii.

(2) The provisions of this section shall apply to all shipments from points of origin as well as transit points on and after the effective date of this section.

(f) Regulations suspended; announcement required. The operation of all rules, regulations and practices, insofar as they conflict with the provisions of this section, is hereby suspended and each railroad subject to this section, or its Agent, shall publish, file, and post a supplement to each of its tariffs, affected hereby, in substantial accordance with the provisions of Rule 9 (k) of the Commission's Tariff Circular No. 20 (§ 141.9 (k) of this chapter), announcing such suspension.

(g) Effective date. This section shall become effective at 12:01 a. m., April 9, 1951.

(h) Expiration date. This section shall expire at 11:59 p. m., September 15, 1951, unless otherwise modified, changed, suspended or annulled by order of this Commission.

It is further ordered, that this order vacates and supersedes Service Order No. 874, and that a copy of this order and direction be served upon the State railroad regulatory bodies of each State and upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as agent of the railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement; and that notice of this order be given to the general public by depositing a copy in the office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and by filing it with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

(Sec. 12, 24 Stat. 383, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 12. Interprets or applies sec. 1, 24 Stat. 379, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 1)

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Production and Marketing Administration

[7 CFR, Parts 904, 934, 947, 996, and 999]

[Docket Nos. AO–14–A19; AO–83–A15; AO–203–A1; AO–204–A1; AO–113–A12]

HANDLING OF MILK IN GREATER BOSTON, LOWELL-LAWRENCE, SPRINGFIELD, WORCESTER, AND FALL RIVER, MASS., MARKETING AREAS

DECISION WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED MARKETING AGREEMENTS AND PROPOSED ORDERS AMENDING THE ORDERS, AS NOW IN EFFECT

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was conducted at Boston, Massachusetts, on March 12, 1951 (16 F. R. 2160), upon proposed marketing agreements and proposed amendments to the orders, as now in effect, regulating the handling of milk in the Greater Boston, Lowell-Lawrence, Springfield, Worcester, and Fall River, Massachusetts, marketing areas.

Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, the Assistant Administrator, Production and Marketing Administration, on March 22, 1951, filed with the Hearing Clerk, United States Department of Agriculture, his recommended decision in this proceeding. The notice of the filing of such recommended decision and opportunity to file written exceptions thereto was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER March 24, 1951 (16 F. R. 2658). No exceptions were filed on behalf of interested parties.

The material issues presented on the record of the hearings were whether:

(1) The present classification provisions of the respective orders, as now in effect, should be amended to provide for the classification of fresh concentrated milk as Class I.

(2) An emergency exists which warrants immediate effectuation of the proposed amendments.

Findings and conclusions. Upon the basis of evidence introduced at the hearing and on the record thereof with respect to the aforementioned issues it is hereby found and concluded that:

(1) The present classification provisions of the respective orders, as now in effect, should be amended to provide for the classification of milk used to produce fresh concentrated milk for fluid consumption as Class I.

The orders presently list certain fluid milk products such as milk, skim milk, flavored milk, and buttermilk which are designated as Class I milk. The list does not include milk used to produce concentrated milk and accordingly under the present order provisions of all five Massachusetts orders such utilization would be classified as Class II.

Concentrated milk for fluid consumption is a new product which has in recent months appeared in several Eastern fluid milk markets and which on March 1 was introduced in the Boston market. The product is still in an experimental stage of development and to date there is no quantitative information to indicate the extent of consumer acceptance and the extent to which it is replacing regular fluid milk sales. However, there can be no question but that promoters of the product foresee it as a direct and acceptable substitute for fresh whole milk. Promotional advertising emphasizes that it is pure, fresh milk with nothing but water removed. Further, it is contended that when water is added the resulting product has all of the properties of fresh whole milk and is indistinguishable from regular fluid milk.

The health officer for the city of Boston emphasized the necessity of making concentrated milk for fluid use from quality milk, indicating that it is a non-sterile fluid product which must for proper health protection be handled with the same care and through the same facilities as regular fluid milk. The record indicates that concentrated milk for fluid distribution in the Massachusetts Federal order markets is currently being produced from Boston approved milk or milk of equivalent quality. Accordingly, concentrated milk competes directly with items presently classified as Class I for available supplies of local producer milk. It is, therefore, concluded that milk used to produce concentrated milk for fluid consumption should be classified and priced at the same level as milk used for other fluid products presently classified as Class I in each of the five Massachusetts orders.

Under the present provisions of the several orders the inclusion of all concentrated milk as a Class I item would result in such a classification for all condensed milk disposed of to bakeries, candy makers, etc., for manufacturing uses. These orders presently provide for a Class II classification of skim milk disposed of to such outlets. Since condensed milk is an alternative to fluid skim milk and other manufactured dairy products for uses in bread making, candy making, etc., condensed milk going into such manufacturing uses should continue to be Class II. Accordingly, it is concluded that concentrated milk classified as Class I should be limited to the volume of such milk which is disposed of for fluid consumption.

In order to facilitate the administration of the order and to make the other order provisions consistent with the amended classification herein proposed, the definition of fluid milk products as set forth in the respective orders should be revised to include concentrated milk and a definition of concentrated milk should be provided. Concentrated milk should be defined as the unsterilized liquid milk product obtained by the evaporation of water from milk and milk to which any other milk product may be added in the process of manufacture. The products known as evaporated milk and sweetened condensed milk should be excluded specifically in the definition. For accounting purposes under the orders the weight of the fluid milk product used to produce the concentrated milk should be used rather than the weight of the concentrated milk. In the absence of proof as to the weight of fluid milk products used to produce concentrated milk, such weight should be determined by multiplying by 6.45 the number of quarts of concentrated milk. The 6.45 is three times 2.15, the presently accepted weight of a quart of unconcentrated whole milk.

As indicated in the recommended decision, the hearing record did not establish sufficient urgency for immediate action with reference to the proposed amendments to warrant the omission of a recommended decision by the Assistant Administrator, Production and Marketing Administration, and the opportunity for exceptions thereto.

General findings. (a) The proposed marketing agreements and the orders, now in effect, and as hereby proposed to be amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(b) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the said marketing areas, respectively, and the minimum prices specified in the proposed marketing agreements and in the orders, now in effect and as hereby proposed to be amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk in each of said marketing areas, respectively, and be in the public interest; and

(c) The proposed marketing agreements and the orders, now in effect, and as hereby proposed to be amended, regulate the handling of milk in the same manner as, and are applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in marketing agreements upon which a hearing has been held.

Determination of representative period. The month of February 1951 is hereby determined to be the representative period for the purpose of ascertaining whether the issuance of each of the orders amending respectively the orders, now in effect, regulating the handling of milk in the Greater Boston, Lowell-Lawrence, Springfield, Worcester, and Fall River, Massachusetts, marketing areas in the manner set forth in the attached amending orders is approved or favored, respectively, by producers who, during such period, were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the marketing area specified in such marketing order.

Annexed hereto and made a part hereof are marketing agreements regulating the handling of milk in the Greater Boston, Lowell-Lawrence, Springfield, Worcester, and Fall River, Massachusetts, marketing areas and orders amending the orders, now in effect, regulating the handling of milk in the Greater Boston, Lowell-Lawrence, Springfield, Worcester, and Fall River, Massachusetts, marketing areas, which have been decided upon as the detailed and appropriate means of effectuating the foregoing conclusions. These documents shall not become effective unless and until the requirements of § 900.14 of the rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and orders have been met.

It is hereby ordered that all of this decision, except the attached marketing agreements, be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The regulatory provisions of said marketing agreements are identical with those contained in the respective orders, now in effect, and as hereby proposed to be amended respectively by the attached orders which will be published with this decision.

This decision filed at Washington, D. C. this 5th day of April 1951.

[SEAL] CHARLES F. BRANNAN,
Secretary of Agriculture.

Order[1] Amending the Order, as Amended, Regulating the Handling of Milk in the Greater Boston, Massachusetts, Marketing Area

§ 904.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and of each of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C., 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Greater Boston, Massachusetts, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the said marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered that on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Greater Boston, Massachusetts, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and the aforesaid order, as amended, is hereby further amended as follows:

1. Amend § 904.1 (d) (4) by deleting the present language and substituting therefor the following:

(4) "Fluid milk products" means milk, flavored milk, cream, skim milk, flavored skim milk, cultured skim milk, buttermilk, and concentrated milk, either individually or collectively.

2. Amend § 904.1 (d) by adding a new subparagraph (8) as follows:

(8) "Concentrated milk" means any unsterilized liquid milk product, other than those products commonly known as evaporated milk and sweetened condensed milk, which is obtained by the evaporation of water from milk and milk to which any other milk product may be added in the process of manufacture. For purposes of this order the weight of the fluid milk products used to produce the concentrated milk shall be used rather than the actual weight of the concentrated milk.

3. Amend § 904.3 (a) (2) (i) by deleting the present language and substituting therefor the following:

(i) As being sold, distributed, or disposed of other than as or in milk, and other than as or in concentrated milk for fluid consumption, flavored milk or flavored skim milk, buttermilk, or cultured skim milk, for human consumption; and

4. Amend § 904.3 (c) by deleting the introductory language "Milk, flavored milk, skim milk, cultured or flavored skim milk or buttermilk" and substituting therefor the following: "Any fluid milk product, except cream."

Order[1] Amending the Order, as Amended, Regulating the Handling of Milk in the Lowell-Lawrence, Massachusetts, Marketing Area

§ 934.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and of each of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Lowell-Lawrence, Massachusetts, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the said marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered that on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Lowell-Lawrence, Massachusetts, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and the aforesaid order, as amended, is hereby further amended as follows:

1. Amend § 934.4 (d) by deleting the present language and substituting therefor the following:

(d) "Fluid milk products" means milk, flavored milk, cream, skim milk, flavored skim milk, cultured skim milk, buttermilk, and concentrated milk, either individually or collectively.

2. Amend § 934.4 by adding a new paragraph (h) as follows:

(h) "Concentated milk" means any unsterilized liquid milk product, other than those products commonly known as evaporated milk and sweetened condensed milk, which is obtained by the evaporation of water from milk and milk to which any other milk product may be added in the process of manufacture. For purposes of this order the weight of the fluid milk products used to produce the concentrated milk shall be used rather than the actual weight of the concentrated milk.

3. Amend § 934.15 (b) (1) by deleting the present language and substituting therefor the following:

(1) As being sold, distributed, or disposed of other than as or in milk, and other than as or in concentrated milk for fluid consumption, flavored milk or flavored skim milk, buttermilk, or cultured skim milk, for human consumption; and

Order[1] Amending the Order, as Amended, Regulating the Handling of Milk in the Fall River, Massachusetts, Marketing Area

§ 947.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and of each of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Fall River, Massachusetts, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

[1] This order shall not become effective unless and until the requirements of § 900.14 of the rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and orders have been met.

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the said marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered that on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Fall River, Massachusetts, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and the aforesaid order, as amended, is hereby further amended as follows:

1. Amend § 947.1 (r) by deleting the present language and substituting therefor the following:

(r) "Fluid milk products" means milk, flavored milk, cream, skim milk, flavored skim milk, cultured skim milk, buttermilk, and concentrated milk, either individually or collectively.

2. Amend § 947.1 by adding a new paragraph (s) as follows:

(s) "Concentrated milk" means any unsterilized liquid milk product, other than those products commonly known as evaporated milk and sweetened condensed milk, which is obtained by the evaporation of water from milk and milk to which any other milk product may be added in the process of manufacture. For purposes of this order the weight of the fluid milk products used to produce the concentrated milk shall be used rather than the actual weight of the concentrated milk.

3. Amend § 947.5 (b) (2) (i) by deleting the present language and substituting therefor the following:

(i) Sold, distributed, or disposed of other than as milk which contains one-half of 1 percent or more but less than 16 percent of butterfat, and other than as concentrated milk for fluid consumption, chocolate or flavored whole or skim milk, buttermilk, or cultured skim milk, for human consumption; and

Order[1] Amending the Order Regulating the Handling of Milk in the Springfield, Massachusetts, Marketing Area

§ 996.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order regulating the handling of milk in the Springfield, Massachusetts, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, as hereby amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the said marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order as hereby amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order as hereby amended regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered that on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Springfield, Massachusetts, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order as hereby amended, and the aforesaid order is hereby amended as follows:

1. Amend § 996.1 (d) (4) by deleting the present language and substituting therefor the following:

(4) "Fluid milk products" means milk, flavored milk, cream, skim milk, flavored skim milk, cultured skim milk, buttermilk, and concentrated milk, either individually or collectively.

2. Amend § 996.1 (d) by adding a new subparagraph (7) as follows:

(7) "Concentrated milk" means any unsterilized liquid milk product, other than those products commonly known as evaporated milk and sweetened condensed milk, which is obtained by the evaporation of water from milk and milk to which any other milk product may be added in the process of manufacture. For purposes of this order the weight of the fluid milk products used to produce the concentrated milk shall be used rather than the actual weight of the concentrated milk.

Amend § 996.3 (a) (2) (i) by deleting the present language and substituting therefor the following:

(i) As being sold, distributed, or disposed of other than as or in milk, and other than as or in concentrated milk for fluid consumption, flavored milk or flavored skim milk, buttermilk, or cultured skim milk, for human consumption; and

Order[1] Amending the Order Regulating the Handling of Milk in the Worcester, Massachusetts, Marketing Area

§ 999.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practices and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order regulating the handling of milk in the Worcester, Massachusetts, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, as hereby amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the said marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order as hereby amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order as hereby amended regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered that on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Worcester, Massachusetts, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order as hereby amended, and the aforesaid order is hereby amended as follows:

1. Amend § 999.1 (d) (4) by deleting the present language and substituting therefor the following:

(4) "Fluid milk products" means milk, flavored milk, cream, skim milk, flavored skim milk, cultured skim milk, buttermilk, and concentrated milk, either individually or collectively.

2. Amend § 999.1 (d) by adding a new subparagraph (7) as follows:

(7) "Concentrated milk" means any unsterilized liquid milk product, other than those products commonly known as evaporated milk and sweetened condensed milk, which is obtained by the evaporation of water from milk and milk to which any other milk product may be added in the process of manufacture. For purposes of this order the weight of the fluid milk products used to produce the concentrated milk shall be used rather than the actual weight of the concentrated milk.

3. Amend § 999.3 (a) (2) (i) by deleting the present language and substituting therefor the following:

CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD

[Docket No. 3945]

AERO FINANCE CORP.; EXEMPTION APPLICATION

NOTICE OF HEARING

In the matter of the application of Aero Finance Corporation for an exemption filed pursuant to § 291.16 of the Board's Economic Regulations and section 416 (b) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended.

Notice is hereby given pursuant to the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, particularly sections 205 (a) and 1001 of said act that a hearing in the above entitled proceeding is assigned to be held on April 17, 1951, at 10 a. m., in Room E-210, Temporary Building No. 5, Sixteenth Street and Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, D. C., before Examiner William J. Madden.

Without limiting the scope of the issues presented by the application, particular attention will be directed to the following matters and questions:

1. Is the present enforcement of the requirements of Title IV of the Civil Aeronautics Act, as amended, or any provision thereof, or any rule, regulation, term, condition or limitation prescribed thereunder, as it affects Aero Finance Corporation, an undue burden on that air carrier by reason of the limited extent of, or unusual circumstances affecting the operation of such carrier and not in the public interest?

2. Subsidiary issues to a determination of whether the enforcement of the requirements of Title IV of the act and the rules and regulations of the Board prescribed thereunder is not in the public interest are:

(a) Will the operation of the air service proposed by Aero meet the statutory standards of section 416 (b) of the act and the tests in this respect set forth in an opinion of the Board issued on May 25, 1950, accompanying Orders, Serial Nos. E-4240 through E-4252?

(b) Is there a need for irregular air transportation by Aero?

(c) Do the past operations of Aero indicate that it can be trusted with the exemption authority sought, and operate within such authority?

3. If the foregoing issues are determined in the affirmative, what is the proper scope of exemption of Aero from the requirements of Title IV of the act, and what terms, conditions and limitations should be imposed on such exemption?

Notice is further given that any person desiring to be heard in opposition to the application, other than parties of record, must file with the Board on or before April 17, 1951, a statement setting forth the issues of fact or law which he desires to controvert and such person may appear and participate at the hearing in accordance with § 285.6 (a) of the rules of practice under Title IV of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended.

For further details of the service proposed and the relief requested, interested parties are referred to the application on file with the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Dated at Washington, D. C., April 4, 1951.

By the Civil Aeronautics Board.

TENNESSEE GAS TRANSMISSION CO. AND UNITED NATURAL GAS CO.

ORDER CONSOLIDATING PROCEEDINGS AND FIXING DATE OF HEARING

APRIL 3, 1951.

In the matters of Tennessee Gas Transmission Company, Docket Nos. G-1573, G-1577 and G-1582, Tennessee Gas Transmission Company, and United Natural Gas Company, Docket No. G-1614.

On December 27, 1950, Tennessee Gas Transmission Company (Tennessee) a Delaware corporation having its principal place of business in the Commerce Building, Houston, Texas, filed an application in Docket No. G-1573 for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act authorizing the construction and operation of certain facilities as described in the notice of application which was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on January 12, 1951 (16 F. R. 324) and as more fully described in the application.

On January 2, 1951, Tennessee filed an application in Docket No. G-1577 for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act authorizing the construction and operation of certain natural-gas transmission facilities as described in the notice of application which was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on January 12, 1951 (16 F. R. 324), and as more fully described in the application.

On January 8, 1951, Tennessee filed an application in Docket No. G-1582 for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act authorizing construction and operation of certain natural-gas transmission facilities as described in the notice of application which was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on January 27, 1951 (16 F. R. 779), and as more fully described in the application.

On February 5, 1951, Tennessee filed an amendment to the foregoing applications requesting that they be consolidated and considered as one application. Notice of the amended application was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on February 16, 1951 (16 F. R. 1643).

On February 16, 1951, Tennessee and United Natural Gas Company, a Pennsylvania corporation with its principal office at 308 Seneca Street, Oil City, Pennsylvania, filed a joint application in Docket No. G-1614 for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act for authorization to develop a storage pool in Potter County, Pennsylvania, as described in the notice of application which was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on March 10, 1951 (16 F. R. 2236), and as more fully described in the application. The proposed storage pool is to be operated in connection with the facilities proposed in Docket Nos. G-1573, G-1577 and G-1582.

The Commission finds:

(1) The applications in Docket Nos. G-1573, G-1577 and G-1582 are interrelated and orderly procedure requires that they be consolidated and considered as one application.

(2) Docket Nos. G-1577 and G-1582 together with all matters of record therein should be transferred to Docket No. G-1573.

(3) Docket Nos. G-1577 and G-1582 should be discontinued.

(4) Parties heretofore permitted to intervene in Docket Nos. G-1577 and G-1582 by orders of the Commission should be permitted to intervene in Docket No. G-1573.

(5) Docket No. G-1573, as amended, should be consolidated for the purpose of hearing with Docket No. G-1614.

The Commission orders:

(A) Docket Nos. G-1577 and G-1582 together with all matters of record therein are hereby transferred to Docket No. G-1573.

(B) Docket Nos. G-1577 and G-1582 are discontinued as separate dockets.

(C) Parties who have been permitted to intervene, by orders of the Commission, in Docket Nos. G-1577 and G-1582 are hereby permitted to intervene in Docket No. G-1573.

(D) Docket No. G-1573 as amended is hereby consolidated for purpose of hearing with Docket No. G-1614.

(E) Pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a public hearing be held commencing on April 18, 1951, at 10:00 a. m., in the Hearing Room of the Federal Power Commission, 1800 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the matters involved and the issues presented by the amended application.

(F) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure.

Date of issuance: April 4, 1951.

[Docket No. E-6348]

IDAHO POWER CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

APRIL 3, 1951.

Take notice that on April 2, 1951, an application was filed with the Federal Power Commission, pursuant to section 204 of the Federal Power Act, by Idaho Power Company, a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Maine and doing business in the States of Oregon, Idaho, and Nevada, with its principal business office at Boise, Idaho, seeking an order authorizing it to issue unsecured notes up to an aggregate amount of $9,000,000 covering borrowings from banks. The notes will be made at the current rate applicable in New York, New York, and/or Boise, Idaho, for commercial bank loans of said form and character, which interest rate Applicant does not believe will exceed 3 percent. The bank loans will be made during the period April to July, inclusive, 1951, and the notes will be issued therefor, and will probably mature within 6 months after date of issue, and not to exceed 1 year after date of issue; all as more fully appears in the application on file with the Commission.

Any person desiring to be heard, or to make any protest with reference to said application should, on or before the 20th day of April 1951, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., a petition or protest in accordance with the Commission's rules of practice and procedure. The application is on file with the Commission for public inspection.

[Project No. 2067]

OAKDALE IRRIGATION DISTRICT AND SOUTH SAN JOAQUIN IRRIGATION DISTRICT

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR LICENSE (MAJOR)

APRIL 3, 1951.

Public notice is hereby given that Oakdale Irrigation District and South San Joaquin Irrigation District of Oakdale and Manteca, California, respectively, have made application under the Federal Power Act (16 U. S. C. 791a–825r) for a license for proposed major Project No. 2067 (Tulloch project) to be located on Stanislaus River in Calaveras and Tuolumne Counties, California, about 15 miles northeast of Oakdale. The proposed project would affect public lands of the United States, and would consist of a dam about 170 feet in height creating a reservoir with maximum storage level at elevation 510 feet and usable storage capacity of about 56,000 acre-feet; a powerhouse containing two generating units with capacity of 8,500 kilowatts each; a substation; and appurtenant facilities.

Any protest against the approval of this application or request for hearing thereon, with the reasons for such protest or request, and the name and address of the party or parties so protesting or requesting, should be submitted on or before May 20, 1951, to the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

[S. O. 874, General Permit 13]

LONG ISLAND RAIL ROAD CO. AND STEIN HALL & CO., INC.

LOADING REQUIREMENTS

Pursuant to the authority vested in me in paragraph (d) of Service Order No. 874 (16 F. R. 2040), permission is granted for The Long Island Rail Road Company (W. H. Draper, Jr., Trustee) serving Stein, Hall & Company, Inc., at Long Island City to disregard the provisions of Service Order No. 874 insofar as it applies to any car loaded with Liquid Dextrine in Drums by Stein, Hall & Company, Inc., when Stein, Hall & Company, Inc., advise that service would be denied because of its inability to meet the minimum requirements because meeting such minimum requirements would constitute hazardous loading.

The waybills shall show reference to this general permit and the Stein, Hall & Company, Inc., shall furnish the Permit Agent the car numbers, initials, and destinations of the cars shipped under this permit.

This general permit shall become effective at 12:01 a. m., April 3, 1951, and shall expire at 11:59 p. m., September 15, 1951, unless otherwise modified, changed, suspended or revoked.

A copy of this general permit has been served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as Agent of the railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement, and notice of this permit shall be given to the general public by depositing a copy in the Office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and by filing it with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 3d day of April 1951.

HOWARD S. KLINE, Permit Agent.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 54–130]

INTERSTATE POWER CO. AND OGDEN CORP.

ORDER RELEASING JURISDICTION OVER CERTAIN FEES AND EXPENSES

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 3d day of April A. D. 1951.

The Commission having on December 24, 1947, approved an amended plan of reorganization (the "Alternate Plan") of Interstate Power Company ("Interstate"), a registered holding company and a subsidiary of Ogden Corporation, at the time a registered holding company, pursuant to the provisions of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 but having reserved jurisdiction with respect to the reasonableness, and appropriate allocation, of all fees, expenses, and other remuneration incurred or to be incurred in connection with said plan and transactions incident thereto; and

Interstate having filed an application and an amendment thereto requesting an order releasing jurisdiction with respect to fees and expenses in connection with the plan of reorganization of Interstate; and

The Commission having considered the record and it appearing that the fees and expenses indicated in Interstate's amended application are not unreasonable;

It is ordered, That the application, as amended, of Interstate Power Company is hereby approved and that jurisdiction is hereby released with respect to payment by Interstate of the specific fees and expenses set forth below:

SOUTHERN CO. ET AL.

SUPPLEMENTAL ORDER RELEASING JURISDICTION AND GRANTING AND PERMITTING APPLICATION-DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 3d day of April A. D. 1951.

In the matter of the Southern Company, Alabama Power Company, Georgia Power Company, Gulf Power Company, Mississippi Power Company; File No. 70–2574.

The Southern Company ("Southern"), a registered holding company and its four public utility subsidiaries, Alabama Power Company, Georgia Power Company, Gulf Power Company, and Mississippi Power Company, having filed with this Commission a joint application-declaration, and amendments thereto, pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 (the "act") and certain rules and regulations promulgated thereunder regarding, among other things, the issuance and sale by Southern, pursuant to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50, of 1,000,000 additional shares of $5 par value common stock and the investment of the proceeds, together with treasury funds, in the purchase of additional shares of the common stocks of Southern's subsidiary operating companies; and

The Commission by order dated March 21, 1951, having granted the application and permitted the declaration to become effective, as amended, subject to the condition, among others, that the proposed issuance and sale of additional common stock by Southern should not be consummated until the results of the competitive bidding, pursuant to Rule U-50, had been made a matter of record in this proceeding and a further order entered with respect thereto, and jurisdiction having been reserved therein with respect to all fees and expenses to be paid in connection with the proposed transactions; and

Southern having filed a further amendment to said joint application-declaration stating that, pursuant to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50, the following bids for its common stock have been received:

Bidding group headed by—	Price per share
Lehman Bros.	$10.9851
Morgan Stanley & Co., Kidder Peabody & Co., and Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Beane	10.8589
Harriman Ripley & Co., Inc.	10.851
Union Securities Corp. and Equitable Securities Corp.	10.82
Blyth & Co., Inc.	10.804

The amendment having further stated that Southern has accepted the bid of Lehman Brothers for the common stock, as set forth above, and that such common stock will be offered for sale to the public at $11.375 per share, resulting in an underwriting spread of $.3899 per share;

And said application-declaration, as amended, further stating that the estimated fees and expenses to be incurred and paid by Southern in connection with the proposed sale of common stock amount to $94,200, including a payment of not more than $6,000 to Southern Services, Inc., the mutual service company in the Southern Company system, accountant's fees of $11,500 payable to Arthur Andersen & Co., legal fees in the amount of $10,000 payable to Winthrop, Stimson, Putnam & Roberts, counsel for the company; and said application-declaration, as amended, also stating that a fee of $6,500 is to be paid by the purchasers of the common stock to Reid & Priest, their counsel; and it appearing that further data may be required with respect to the fees and expenses of counsel for Southern and that the other fees and expenses are not unreasonable;

And the Commission having examined said amendment and having considered the record herein and observing no basis for imposing terms and conditions with respect to the price to be paid for the common stock of Southern and the proposed underwriters' spread in connection therewith:

It is ordered, That the jurisdiction heretofore reserved with respect to the matters to be determined as a result of the competitive bidding in connection with the sale of the common stock of Southern under Rule U-50 be, and the same hereby is, released, and that the said amended application-declaration be, and the same hereby is, granted and permitted to become effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24, and subject further to the continuance of the jurisdiction heretofore reserved over the payment of legal fees and expenses of counsel for Southern, jurisdiction as to the payment of other fees and expenses being hereby released.

By the Commission.

NEW ENGLAND GAS AND ELECTRIC ASSN.

ORDER PERMITTING DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 29th day of March A. D. 1951.

New England Gas and Electric Association ("Negea"), a registered holding company, having filed a declaration pursuant to the provisions of sections 6 (a), 7 and 12 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and Rule U-62 promulgated thereunder with respect to a proposal to amend section 22 of its Declaration of Trust so as to enlarge its scope to permit the Trustees of Negea to issue presently authorized but unissued common shares (1,405,125 shares) to provide funds to acquire under preemptive right additional stock of any natural gas pipeline company operating in Massachusetts, or to acquire 51 percent or more of the outstanding common stock of a Massachusetts gas or electric company, and with respect to the solicitation of proxies from the shareholders of Negea for the purpose of obtaining the necessary consent of the holders of a majority of the outstanding common shares and of the holders of a majority of the outstanding preferred shares in order to amend the Declaration of Trust, and for the election of Trustees; and

Said declaration having been filed on March 19, 1951, and notice of said filing having been duly given in the form and manner prescribed by Rule U-23 promulgated pursuant to said act, and the Commission not having received a request for hearing with respect to said declaration within the period specified in said notice, or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission finding with respect to said declaration that the requirements of the applicable provisions of the act and rules thereunder are satisfied, and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that the said declaration be permitted to become effective:

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of said act, that the said declaration be, and hereby is, permitted to become effective forthwith subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24.

By the Commission.

FORREST WALKER

ORDER FOR PROCEEDINGS AND NOTICE OF HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 4th day of April 1951.

In the matter of Forrest Walker, 1112 Canterbury Court, Dallas, Texas.

I. The Commission's public official files disclose that Forrest Walker, hereinafter referred to as registrant, is registered as a broker-dealer pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

II. The Records Officer of the Commission has filed with the Commission a statement, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part hereof,[1] stating that registrant did not file with the Commission reports of his financial condition during the calendar years 1943, 1944, 1945, 1946, 1947, 1948, 1949, or 1950 as required by section 17 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X-17A-5 adopted thereunder.

III. The information reported to the Commission by its Records Officer as set forth in paragraph II hereof tends, if true, to show that registrant violated section 17 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X-17A-5 adopted under said section.

IV. The Commission, having considered the aforesaid information, deems it necessary and appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors that proceedings be instituted to determine:

(a) Whether the statements set forth in paragraph II hereof are true;

(b) Whether registrant has wilfully violated section 17 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X-17A-5 adopted under said section;

(c) Whether, pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, it is in the public interest to revoke registration of registrant; and

(d) Whether, pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, pending final determination, it is necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors to suspend the registration of registrant.

V. It is ordered, That registrant be given an opportunity for hearing as set forth in paragraph IV hereof on the 7th day of May 1951, at the main office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, located at 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C., before a Hearing Examiner to be designated by the Commission. On such date the Hearing Room Clerk in Room 101, North Building, will advise the parties and the Hearing Examiner as to the room in which such hearing will be held. The Commission will consider any motion with respect to a change of place of said hearing if said motion is filed with the Secretary of the Commission on or before April 30, 1951. Upon completion of any such hearing in this matter the Hearing Examiner shall prepare a recommended decision pursuant to Rule IX of the rules of practice unless such decision is waived.

It is further ordered, That in the event registrant does not appear personally or through a representative at the time and place herein set or as otherwise ordered, the Hearing Room Clerk shall file with the Records Officer of the Commission a written statement to that effect and thereupon the Commission will take the record under advisement for decision.

This order and notice shall be served on registrant personally or by registered mail forthwith, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER not later than fifteen (15) days prior to May 7th, 1951.

In the absence of an appropriate waiver, no officer or employee of the Commission engaged in the performance of investigative or prosecuting functions in this or any factually related proceeding will be permitted to participate or advise in the decision upon the matter except as witness or counsel in proceedings held pursuant to notice. Since this proceeding is not "rule making" within the meaning of section 4 (c) of the Administrative Procedure Act, it is not deemed to be subject to the provisions of the section delaying the effective date of any final Commission action.

By the Commission.

MARVON CORP.

ORDER FOR PROCEEDINGS AND NOTICE OF HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 4th day of April 1951.

In the matter of the Marvon Corporation, International Bldg., Rockefeller Center, New York, N. Y.

I. The Commission's public official files disclose that the Marvon Corporation, hereinafter referred to as registrant, is registered as a broker-dealer pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

II. The Records Officer of the Commission has filed with the Commission a statement, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part hereof,[1] stating that registrant did not file with the Commission reports of his financial condition during the calendar years 1947, 1948, 1949 or 1950 as required by section 17 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X-17A-5 adopted thereunder.

III. The information reported to the Commission by its Records Officer as set forth in Paragraph II hereof tends, if true, to show that registrant violated section 17 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X-17A-5 adopted under said section.

IV. The Commission, having considered the aforesaid information, deems it necessary and appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors that proceedings be instituted to determine:

(a) Whether the statements set forth in paragraph II hereof are true;

(b) Whether registrant has wilfully violated section 17 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X-17A-5 adopted under said section;

(c) Whether, pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, it is in the public interest to revoke registration of registrant; and

(d) Whether, pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, pending final determination, it is necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors to suspend the registration of registrant.

V. It is ordered, That registrant be given an opportunity for hearing as set forth in paragraph IV hereof on the 7th day of May 1951, at the main office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, located at 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C., before a hearing Examiner to be designated by the Commission. On such date the Hearing Room Clerk in Room 101, North Building, will advise the parties and the Hearing Examiner as to the room in which such hearing will be held. The Commission will consider any motion with respect to a change of place of said hearing if said motion is filed with the Secretary of the Commission on or before April 30, 1951. Upon completion of any such hearing in this matter the Hearing Examiner shall prepare a recommended decision pursuant to Rule IX of the rules of practice unless such decision is waived.

It is further ordered, That in the event registrant does not appear personally or through a representative at the time and place herein set or as otherwise ordered, the Hearing Room Clerk shall file with the Records Officer of the Commission a written statement to that effect and thereupon the Commission will take the record under advisement for decision.

This order and notice shall be served on registrant personally or by registered mail forthwith, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER not later than fifteen (15) days prior to May 7th, 1951.

In the absence of an appropriate waiver, no officer or employee of the Commission engaged in the performance of investigative or prosecuting functions in this or any factually related proceeding will be permitted to participate or advise in the decision upon the matter except as witness or counsel in proceedings held pursuant to notice. Since this proceeding is not "rule making" within the meaning of section 4 (c) of the Administrative Procedure Act, it is not deemed to be subject to the provisions of the section delaying the effective date of any final Commission action.

By the Commission.

COPYRIGHTS OF CERTAIN GERMAN NATIONALS

Under the authority of the Trading With the Enemy Act, as amended, Executive Order 9193, as amended, and Executive Order 9788, and pursuant to law, after investigation, it is hereby found:

1. That the persons (including individuals, partnerships, associations, corporations or other business organizations) referred to or named in Column 5 of Exhibit A attached hereto and made a part hereof and whose last known addresses are listed in said Exhibit A as being in a foreign country (the names of which persons are listed (a) in Column 3 of said Exhibit A as the authors of the works, the titles of which are listed in Column 2, and the copyright numbers, if any, of which are listed in Column 1, respectively, of said Exhibit A, and/or (b) in Column 4 of said Exhibit A as the owners of the copyrights, the numbers, if any, of which are listed in Column 1, and covering works the titles of which are listed in Column 2, respectively, of said Exhibit A, and/or (c) in Column 5 of said Exhibit A as others owning or claiming interests in such copyrights) are residents of, or are organized under the laws of, or have their principal places of business in, such foreign country and are nationals thereof;

2. That all right, title, interest and claim of whatsoever kind or nature, under the statutory and common law of the United States and of the several States thereof, of the persons referred to in Column 5 of said Exhibit A, and also of all other persons (including individuals, partnerships, associations, corporations or other business organizations), whether or not named elsewhere in this Order including said Exhibit A, who are residents of, or which are organized under the laws of or have their principal places of business in, Germany or Japan, and are nationals of such foreign countries, in, to and under the following:

a. The copyrights, if any, described in said Exhibit A.

b. Every copyright, claim of copyright and right to copyright in the works described in said Exhibit A and in every issue, edition, publication, republication, translation, arrangement, dramatization and revision thereof, in whole or in part, of whatsoever kind or nature, and of all other works designated by the titles therein set forth, whether or not filed with the Register of Copyrights or otherwise asserted, and whether or not specifically designated by copyright number.

c. Every license, agreement, privilege, power and right of whatsoever nature arising under or with respect to the foregoing,

d. All monies and amounts, and all rights to receive monies and amounts, by way of royalty, share of profits or other emolument, accrued or to accrue, whether arising pursuant to law, contract or otherwise, with respect to the foregoing,

e. All rights of renewal, reversion or revesting, if any, in the foregoing, and

f. All causes of action accrued or to accrue at law or in equity with respect to the foregoing, including but not limited to the rights to sue for and recover all damages and profits and to request and receive the benefits of all remedies provided by common law or statute for the infringement of any copyright or the violation of any right or the breach of any obligation described in or affecting the foregoing, is property of, and is property payable or held with respect to copyrights or rights related thereto in which interests are held by, and such property itself constitutes interests held therein by, the aforesaid nationals of foreign countries.

All determinations and all action required by law, including appropriate consultation and certification, having been made and taken, and, it being deemed necessary in the national interest,

There is hereby vested in the Attorney General of the United States the property described in subparagraph 2 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

The term "national" as used herein shall have the meaning prescribed in section 10 of Executive Order 9193, as amended.

Under this program, 1950-crop farm-storage loans will be extended and farm-storage loans will be made on 1950-crop hay and pasture seed covered by purchase agreements. Neither warehouse-storage loans nor purchase agreements will be available to producers during the extended availability period.

(b) Time. The producer who desires to participate in the reseal program must file an application for a farm-storage reseal loan with the county committee. In the case of a farm-storage loan, the producer will be required to reseal his loan before the final date for delivery specified in the delivery instructions issued to him by the county committee. The producer who has signed a purchase agreement on farm-stored seed shall, not later than April 30, 1951, notify the county committee if he intends to deliver the seed to CCC or convert his purchase agreement into a farm-storage loan. The producer who has notified the county committee of his intentions to deliver his farm-stored seed under a purchase agreement may obtain a farm-storage loan thereon by making application to the county committee at any time prior to the final date for delivery specified in the delivery instructions issued by the county committee.

(c) Source. A producer desiring to participate in the reseal program should make application to the county committee which approved his loan or purchase agreement. Disbursements of loans completed on seed covered by purchase agreements shall be made to producers by PMA State offices by means of sight drafts drawn on CCC or by approved lending agencies under agreements with CCC.

§ 601.237 Eligible producer. An eligible producer shall be any individual, partnership, association, corporation, or other legal entity as defined in § 601.222 (e) of the 1950 Hay and Pasture Seed Price Support Program who produced the seed in 1950 as landowner, landlord, tenant, or sharecropper and who either completed a farm-storage loan or signed a purchase agreement on farm-storage hay and pasture seed of the 1950 crop.

§ 601.238 Eligible seed. To be eligible, the seed must have been produced in 1950, must be in farm storage, must never have been commingled with seed produced by others, must be under loan or covered by a purchase agreement, and must on the basis of official purity analysis reports and germination test certificates dated not more than five calendar months prior to the first day of the month in which the seed is tendered for reseal loan meet the conditions and specifications contained in §§ 601.226 and 601.230 of the 1950 Hay and Pasture Seed Price Support Program.

(a) Extended farm-storage loans. If a producer makes application to extend his farm-storage loan, the commodity loan inspector shall, with the producer, reinspect the farm-storage structure in which the seed is stored. If the structure is found to be acceptable, arrangements shall be made to have the seed re-sampled and re-tested and proceed in the usual manner to determine the eligibility and quality of the seed prior to completion of the loan: Provided, however, That a new test need not be made if the quality of the seed tendered for a reseal loan is evidenced by official purity analyses and germination test certificates, dated not more than five calendar months prior to the first day of the month in which the seed is tendered for reseal loan, which indicate that the seed meets the eligibility requirements.

(b) Farm-storage seed covered by purchase agreement. If a producer makes application for a farm-storage loan on seed covered by a purchase agreement, the county committee shall request the loan supervisor to check the condition of the storage structure in which the seed is stored. Where the structure is found to be acceptable, an official purity analysis and germination test certificate dated not more than five calendar months prior to the first day of the month in which the seed is tendered for loan evidencing the quality of the seed to be placed under loan must be presented to the county committee prior to the completion of the reseal loan.

§ 601.239 Approved storage. Seed covered by any loans extended and any new loans completed must be stored in structures which meet the requirements for farm-storage loans as provided in the 1950 Hay and Pasture Seed Price Support Program. Consent for storage for any loans extended or new loans completed must be obtained by the producer for the period ending June 30, 1952 (November 30, 1952, in the case of Buffalo grass seed), if the structure is owned or controlled by someone other than the producer, or if the lease expires prior to June 30, 1952 (November 20, 1952, in the case of Buffalo grass seed).

§ 601.240 Approved forms. The approved forms, which together with the provisions of the bulletin govern the rights and responsibilities of the producer, shall be a producer's note, Commodity Loan Form A, secured by a chattel mortgage on Commodity Loan Form AA, an application form, and such other forms as may be prescribed by CCC. Notes and chattel mortgages must have State and documentary revenue stamps affixed thereto where required by law.

§ 601.241 Quantity eligible for reselling. The quantity of seed eligible for reseal on an extended farm-storage loan, will be the quantity shown on the original note and chattel mortgage, less any quantity delivered or redeemed.

A producer may obtain a loan on not in excess of the quantity of seed specified in the purchase agreement, minus any quantity of the seed under such purchase agreement (a) which has been previously converted to a loan or (b) on which he exercises his option to sell to CCC.

§ 601.242 Additional service charges. When a farm-storage loan is extended, the producer will not be required to pay any additional service charge.

At the time a farm-storage loan is made to the producer on seed covered by a purchase agreement, the producer shall pay an additional service charge of one cent per hundred pounds or fraction thereof on the number of hundred pounds placed under loan, or $1.50, whichever is greater. No refund of service charges will be made.

§ 601.243 Transfer of producer's equity. The right of the producer to transfer either his right to redeem the seed under loan or his remaining interest may be restricted by CCC.

§ 601.244 Storage. A producer who participates in the reseal program and in accordance with instructions of the county committee, delivers the seed to CCC on or after April 30, 1952 (September 30, 1952, in the case of Buffalo grass seed) or prior to April 30, 1952 (September 30, 1952, in the case of Buffalo grass seed) pursuant to the demand by the President, CCC, for repayment of the loan, provided such demand for repayment is not due to any fraudulent representations on the part of the producer or the fact that the seed was damaged, abandoned, or otherwise impaired due to negligence on the part of the producer, will receive a storage payment, computed in accordance with section 14 and the applicable schedule of storage rates (not including the labeling and loading out charge) specified in the Seed Storage Agreement (CCC Form 22) for the period beginning July 1, 1951 (December 1, 1951, in the case of Buffalo grass seed) and ending on the date delivery is accomplished or the final date for delivery as specified in the delivery instructions issued to the producer by the county committee, whichever is earlier, on the quantity delivered under the reseal program.

Such storage payment will also be made in cases where the seed is delivered to CCC prior to April 30, 1952 (September 30, 1952, in the case of Buffalo grass seed) upon request by the producer and with the approval of CCC, and in the case of loss assumed by CCC under the reseal loan program.

§ 601.245 Maturity and satisfaction. Loans will mature on demand but not later than April 30, 1952 (September 30, 1952, in the case of Buffalo grass seed). The producer must pay off his loan, plus interest, on or before maturity or deliver the mortgaged seed in accordance with the instructions of the county committee. Credit will be given at the applicable settlement value for the total quantity delivered. The provisions in § 601.232 of 1950 CCC Grain Price Support Program Bulletin 1, Supplement 1, Hay and Pasture Seed, will be applicable in determining the settlement value of seed delivered to CCC under a reseal loan.

If the settlement value of the seed delivered exceeds the amount due on the loan, the amount of the excess shall be paid to the producer by a sight draft drawn on CCC by the PMA State office.

If the settlement value of the seed delivered is less than the amount due on the loan, the amount of the deficiency plus interest thereon shall be paid by the producer to CCC or may be set off against any payment which would otherwise be paid to the producer under any agricultural programs administered by the Secretary of Agriculture, or any other payments which are due or may become due to the producer from CCC or any other agency of the United States.

In the event the farm is sold or there is a change of tenancy, the seed may be delivered before the maturity date of the loan upon prior approval by the county committee.

§ 601.246 Support rates. The support rate for an extended farm-storage loan shall remain the same as for the original loan. The support rate for seed covered by a purchase agreement placed under a farm-storage loan shall be the same as the support rate established for the seed in § 601.230 of 1950 CCC Grain Price Support Program Bulletin 1, Supplement 1, Hay and Pasture Seed, and any amendments thereto.

Any discounts established for variation in quality as shown in the 1950 Hay and Pasture Seed Price Support Program Bulletin shall apply.

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter V—Department of the Army

Subchapter B—Claims and Accounts

PART 532—PAYMENTS ON BEHALF OF MENTALLY INCOMPETENT PERSONNEL

ACTIVE DUTY PAY AND ALLOWANCE AND RETIREMENT PAY

A new Part 532 is added to Subchapter B, as set forth above, to include §§ 532.1 and 532.2 as follows:

Sec.
532.1 Active duty pay and allowances.
532.2 Retired and retirement pay.

AUTHORITY: §§ 532.1 and 532.2 issued under sec. 3, Pub. Law 569, 81st Cong.

SOURCE: § 532.1 contained in SR 35-1315-1, Mar. 9, 1951, and § 532.2 contained in AR 35-1360, Mar. 7, 1951, and SR 35-1360-1, Mar. 9, 1951.

§ 532.1 Active duty pay and allowances—(a) General. This section sets forth the operating procedures for making payment of active duty pay and allowances, or any amounts otherwise payable (including mustering-out payments, travel pay, clothing allowance, deposits, etc.), except retired pay, for the use and benefit of any member of the Army who is mentally incompetent.

(b) Authority to designate person to receive payments as trustee. The Commanding General, Army Finance Center, is authorized to designate a person or persons to receive funds due mentally incompetent members of the Army, without the necessity for appointment in judicial proceedings of a committee, guardian, or other legal representative. Any payments to the person or persons so designated trustee shall constitute a complete discharge of the obligation of the United States as to amounts so paid. Where a legal committee, guardian, or other representative has been appointed by a court of competent jurisdiction, no other fiduciary or representative to receive payment shall be designated.

(c) Persons who may be designated trustee. The Commanding General, Army Finance Center, may designate any of the following in the order of preference indicated in the following subparagraphs:

(1) The lawful wife or husband, as appropriate.

(2) If there is no wife or husband, a legitimate son or daughter or legally adopted son or daughter, provided such person is 21 years or more of age.

(3) If there is no son, daughter, or legally adopted son or daughter, a parent of the member.

(4) If there is no parent, the head of an institution, or person designated by him, if the member is committed to the care of an institution.

(5) Any person or persons may be designated without regard to those listed above if deemed to be in the best interests of the mentally incompetent member.

(d) Application for payment. A written application to the Commanding General, Army Finance Center, requesting payment of amounts due a member who is mentally incompetent will be made by the individual who believes he should be designated to receive payments on behalf of the member who is mentally incompetent. Such application will be signed by the requesting individual and will contain the following information:

(1) Name, grade, service number, service assignment, and present address of member declared mentally incompetent.

(2) Name, address, and relationship to member declared mentally incompetent, if any relationship, of person who believes he should be designated to receive payments on behalf of the person who is mentally incompetent. (Evidence of relationship may be submitted with application, if desired, but is not necessary as the Commanding General, Army Finance Center, will request any specific evidence required.)

(3) Statement as to whether or not a legal guardian has been or is to be appointed in the near future.

(4) Statement as to past and anticipated future financial relationship with the member who is mentally incompetent.

(e) Bond required for trustee. In cases where the payments may be reasonably expected to exceed $1,000, the person designated to receive amounts due a member who is mentally incompetent will be required to furnish a bond in the amount of $1,000; the premium of which may be paid from the amount due the incompetent. The bond will be in the form designated by the Chief of Finance and will be submitted in original only. Bonds will be obtained and processed by the Commanding General, Army Finance Center.

(f) Fee, commission, or charge. No person serving in a legal, medical, or fiduciary capacity, or in any other capacity, shall demand or accept any fee, commission, or charge for any services rendered in the administration of the act of June 21, 1950 (64 Stat. 249; 37 U. S. C. 351-354), or of this section, except for the bonding fee mentioned in paragraph (e) of this section.

(g) Trustee's report of expenditures. Any person or persons designated by the Commanding General, Army Finance Center, to receive amounts due a member who is mentally incompetent must furnish reasonable assurances to the Commanding General, Army Finance Center, that the amounts received have been and will be applied to the use and benefit of the mental incompetent. This assurance will take the form of an affidavit by the designated trustee, which affidavit will include a listing of the expenditures made and expenditures to be made from the amounts received. Such reports will be submitted periodically as required by the Commanding General, Army Finance Center. The final report will be submitted upon termination of trusteeship or upon expenditure of all amounts received. No trustee will be released from his trust, and no bond, if required by paragraph (e) of this section will be terminated until such final report is received and approved as correct. The propriety of all expenditures will be determined by the Commanding General, Army Finance Center.

(h) Termination of payments to trustee. Payments of amounts due mentally incompetent members to trustees shall cease upon the occurrence of any of the following:

(1) Completion of payment of all amounts due.

(2) Death of incompetent.

(3) Death or disability of the trustee.

(4) Receipt of notice that a committee, guardian, or other legal representative has been appointed for the mental incompetent by a court of competent jurisdiction.

(5) Failure of the trustee to render the reports required by paragraph (g) of this section.

(6) Whenever there is probable cause to believe that there is improper use of the moneys received on behalf of the mental incompetent.

(7) A finding by a board of medical officers that the heretofore mental incompetent is mentally capable of managing his own affairs.

(8) Whenever the Commanding General, Army Finance Center, deems it advisable.

(i) Initiation or modification of allotments. During the period preceding a determination of mental incompetence and before payment may be made to a legal representative or to a person designated in accordance with this section, financial circumstances of qualified dependents will be considered. In order to alleviate financial hardship, allotments may be initiated or modified under pertinent special regulations.

(j) Comfort items while in hospital. When it has been determined by the commanding officer of any service hospital that a member has been or is in process of being declared mentally incompetent, such commanding officer may designate an officer under his command to receive and receipt for a sum of money not to exceed $10 per month for the purchase of comfort items from the local Army exchange for the use and benefit of the alleged mental incompetent. The alleged mental incompetent must have no other funds available for such use. His condition must be such that he is able to utilize the items purchased, desires such items, and they are beneficial to his comfort and well being.

(k) Payments. Amounts known to be due a mentally incompetent member prior to or at date of separation or retirement, on account of active duty pay and allowances (including mustering-out pay, travel pay, clothing allowance, deposits, etc.), or any amounts due for accumulated or accrued leave, will be paid to the designated payee by the Commanding General, Army Finance Center. Amounts due mentally incompetent former members for active duty pay and allowances found to be due after separation will be processed by the General Accounting Office for settlement.

§ 532.2 Retired and retirement pay—(a) General. This section sets forth the operating procedures under which payment of retired pay may be made to designated trustees on behalf of mentally incompetent retired members.

(b) Designation of person or persons to receive payments as trustee. The Finance Officer, Washington Finance Office, U. S. Army, is authorized to designate a person or persons to receive funds due mentally incompetent retired members without the necessity for appointment in judicial proceedings of a committee, guardian, or other legal representative. Any payments to the person or persons so designated trustee shall constitute a complete discharge of the obligation of the United States as to amounts so paid. Where a legal committee, guardian, or other representative has been appointed by a court of competent jurisdiction, no other fiduciary or representative to receive payment shall be designated.

(c) Persons who may be designated trustees. The Finance Officer, Washington Finance Office, U. S. Army, may designate as trustee any of the following in the order of preference indicated in the following subparagraphs:

(1) The lawful wife or husband, as appropriate.

(2) If there is no wife or husband, a legitimate son or daughter or legally adopted son or daughter, provided such person is 21 years or more of age.

(3) If there is no son, daughter, legally adopted son or daughter, a parent of the member.

(4) If there is no parent, the head of an institution, or person designated by him, if the member is committed to the care of an institution.

(5) Any person or persons other than listed in subparagraphs (1) through (4) of this paragraph may be designated if deemed to be in the best interests of the mentally incompetent member.

(d) Application for designation as trustee. A written application requesting payment of amounts due a member who is mentally incompetent will be made by the individual who believes he should be designated to receive payments as trustee on behalf of the alleged mental incompetent. Such application will be in letter form addressed to the Finance Officer, Washington Finance Office, U. S. Army, Washington 25, D. C.; will be signed by the requesting individual; and will contain the following information:

(1) Name, grade, service number, service assignment, and present address of member declared mentally incompetent.

(2) Name, address, and relationship to member declared mentally incompetent, if any relationship, of person who believes he should be designated as trustee to receive payments on behalf of the person who is mentally incompetent. (Evidence of relationship may be submitted with application, if desired, but is not necessary as the Finance Officer, Washington Finance Office, U. S. Army, will request any specific evidence required.)

(3) A statement as to whether or not a legal guardian has been or is to be appointed in the near future.

(4) A statement as to past and anticipated future financial relationship with the member who is mentally incompetent.

(e) Bond required for trustee. In any case wherein the payments may be reasonably expected to exceed $1,000, as determined by the Finance Officer, Washington Finance Office, U. S. Army, a suitable bond as prescribed by the Chief of Finance, shall be provided by the designated trustee. The cost of such bond shall be paid for out of sums due the mental incompetent.

(f) Fee, commission or charge. No person serving in a legal, medical, or fiduciary capacity, or in any other capacity, shall demand or accept any fee, commission, or charge for any services rendered in the administration of the act of June 21, 1950 (64 Stat. 249; 37 U. S. C. 351-354), or of this section, except for the bonding fee mentioned in paragraph (e) of this section.

(g) Assurance that payments are for benefit of mental incompetent. The designated trustee will be required to furnish the Finance Officer, Washington Finance Office, U. S. Army, a satisfactory assurance, at least once a year, that amounts received have been and will be applied to the use and benefit of the mental incompetent. If the Finance Officer, Washington Finance Office, U. S. Army, deems it necessary to request more frequent accounting he may do so; or if he should deem it necessary to require field investigations, he may request such investigation from the Veterans Administration or any other public or private social agency which is willing and able to provide such investigation without cost. The Finance Officer, Washington Finance Office, U. S. Army, will prescribe the procedures and methods necessary to provide that satisfactory assurances are made by the designated trustee that amounts received have been and will be applied to the use and benefit of the mental incompetent. Should an examination of the reports submitted by the trustee indicate that such amounts have not been properly applied to the use and benefit of the mental incompetent, the Finance Officer, Washington Finance Office, U. S. Army, will submit the complete reports to the Judge Advocate General, Washington 25, D. C., for any action that may be necessary. The Judge Advocate General will examine the reports and take such actions as may be required in the event of fraud or misappropriation.

(h) Termination of payments to trustee. Payments of amounts due mentally incompetent members to trustees shall cease upon the occurrence of any of the following:

(1) Death of the incompetent.

(2) Death or disability of the trustee.

(3) Receipt of notice that a committee, guardian, or other legal representative has been appointed for the mental incompetent by a court of competent jurisdiction.

(4) Failure of the trustee to render the reports required by paragraph (g) of this section.

(5) Whenever there is probable cause to believe that there is improper use of the moneys received on behalf of the mental incompetent.

(6) A finding by a board of medical officers that the heretofore mental incompetent is mentally capable of managing his own affairs.

(7) Whenever the Finance Officer, Washington Finance Office, U. S. Army, deems it to be advisable.

(i) Payments. Payment of retired pay to mentally incompetent Army members receiving retired pay when located in the continental United States, or in any place other than Panama, Puerto Rico, Hawaii, and the Philippine Islands, will be made by the Finance Officer, Washington Finance Office, U. S. Army, Washington 25, D. C. Where mentally incompetent members reside in Panama, Puerto Rico, Hawaii, and the Philippine Islands, payment will be made by the disbursing officer designated to make payments of retired pay in the area. No designation of person or persons to receive payments under this section will be made for or on behalf of mentally incompetent retired members residing outside the continental limits of the United States; payments to such members will be made only to a legal committee, guardian, or other legal representative appointed by a court of competent jurisdiction.

[SEAL] EDWARD F. WITSELL,
Major General, U. S. Army,
The Adjutant General.

Chapter XVI—Selective Service System

[Amdt. 19]

PART 1622—CLASSIFICATION RULES AND PRINCIPLES

CATEGORIES AND QUALIFICATIONS OF STUDENTS

The Selective Service Regulations are hereby amended by adding the following new section to Part 1622, Classification Rules and Principles, immediately following § 1622.10:

§ 1622.10a Categories and qualifications of students under § 1622.10 (b) (3). A registrant's activity in study may be considered to be necessary to the maintenance of the national health, safety, or interest under the provisions of subparagraph (3) of paragraph (b) of § 1622.10 when any of the following conditions exist:

(a) The registrant has been accepted for admission to a graduate school for the class next commencing as a candidate for a graduate degree and in his last full-time undergraduate academic year at a college, university, or similar institution of learning had a scholastic standing which placed him in the upper one-half of the male members of that class or has attained a score of 75 or more on the qualification test prescribed by the Director of Selective Service pursuant to paragraph (c) of § 1622.10.

(b) The registrant has been pursuing a course of instruction which requires the completion of either five or six years of full-time undergraduate study to qualify him for the first academic degree and has successfully completed his fourth year or his fifth year, as the case may be, at a college, university, or similar institution of learning and had a scholastic standing in his last completed undergraduate year which placed him in the upper three-fourths of the male members of that class or has attained a score of 70 or more on the qualification test referred to in paragraph (a) of this section, and has been accepted for admission by a college, university, or similar institution of learning to the fifth-year or sixth-year class next commencing for a full-time course of instruction or has entered upon and is satisfactorily pursuing such course.

(c) The registrant has successfully completed his third year at a college, university, or similar institution of learning and had a scholastic standing in his third-year class which placed him in the upper three-fourths of the male members of that class or has attained a score of 70 or more on the qualification test referred to in paragraph (a) of this section, and has been accepted for admission by a college, university, or similar institution of learning to the fourth-year class next commencing for a full-time course of instruction or has entered upon and is satisfactorily pursuing such course.

(d) The registrant has successfully completed his second year at a college, university, or similar institution of learning and had a scholastic standing in his second-year class which placed him in the upper two-thirds of the male members of that class or has attained a score of 70 or more on the qualification test referred to in paragraph (a) of this section, and has been accepted for admission by a college, university, or similar institution of learning to the third-year class next commencing for a full-time course of instruction or has entered upon and is satisfactorily pursuing such course.

(e) The registrant has successfully completed his first year in a college, university, or similar institution of learning and had a scholastic standing in his first-year class which placed him in the upper one-half of the male members of that class or has attained a score of 70 or more on the qualification test referred to in paragraph (a) of this section, and has been accepted for admission by a college, university, or similar institution of learning to the second-year class next commencing for a full-time course of instruction or has entered upon and is satisfactorily pursuing such course.

TITLE 32A—NATIONAL DEFENSE, APPENDIX

Chapter III—Office of Price Stabilization, Economic Stabilization Agency

[Ceiling Price Regulation 2, Amendment 1 to Revision 1]

CPR 2—CATTLEHIDES, KIPS AND CALFSKINS

CLARIFICATIONS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Amendment 1 to Ceiling Price Regulation 2, Revision 1 (16 F. R. 2492) is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

The accompanying amendment to Ceiling Price Regulation 2, Revision 1, makes certain corrections and clarifications of a minor nature in the text and in a note to one of the tables. Six clarifying words are added to the parenthetical statement at the end of section 6 (c) of the regulation. Section 7 (b) is divided into two subsections, and one word is changed for purposes of clarification. Note 4 to Table 1—Basic Prices Hides, is amended to describe more particularly the kind of hide referred to, and two inadvertent errors are corrected.

While these clarifications are minor, it is believed that they will serve to resolve any confusion that has arisen in regard to the meaning of certain portions of the revised regulation.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Ceiling Price Regulation 2, Revision 1 is amended in the following respect:

1. The parenthetical statement at the end of section 6 (c) is amended to read as follows: "(If, however, the total weight of bullhides or skins in a lot is less than the minimum required for top ceiling prices they must, of course, be invoiced at the appropriate discounts. For example, bullhide lots of less than 20,000 pounds must be sold at 2 cents per pound less than the otherwise applicable ceiling price.)"

2. Section 7 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Reports. (1) Every person making sales of hides, kips, calfskins or cut parts to a tanner, or through a tanner's agent or broker, must mail, simultaneously with the commencement of the shipment, to the regional office of the Office of Price Stabilization nearest the consignee tanner, a copy of each invoice or similar document delivered in connection with any such sale. This invoice or document must contain all relevant details of the transaction, including (i) the quantity and price of each type, classification and grade of hides, skins or parts sold, the number of pieces and the gross weight, and (ii) the tare and other allowances given or received, except that the number of pieces need not be reported on cut parts other than croupons, and the weight need not be reported on trimmed skins sold by the piece.

(2) If hides, skins or cut parts received by a tanner or by an agent or broker acting on his behalf differ in any material respect from the description thereof contained in the invoice or similar document delivered in connection with the purchase, the tanner, agent or broker must within 48 hours after inspection transmit to the nearest regional office of the Office of Price Stabilization a statement identifying the seller and the shipment, and setting forth such differences. Such hides, skins or cut parts must be held segregated from other inventory, for a period of at least 8 days from inspection, to permit inspection by the Office of Price Stabilization.

3. Note 4 to Table 1—Basic Prices (Hides) is amended to read as follows:

NOTE 4: Pacific Coast hides. Subtract 1½¢ per pound for hides weighing less than 68 pounds and for all bullhides. When Pacific Coast hides other than bullhides weigh 68 pounds or more the Pacific Coast hide price is 27½¢.

Effective date. This amendment shall become effective April 14, 1951.

MICHAEL V. DISALLE,
Director of Price Stabilization.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 6, Amdt. 4]

CPR 6—FATS AND OILS

TALLOW COLOR PREMIUM

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Amendment 4 to Ceiling Price Regulation 6 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This amendment amplifies the specific ceilings for tallow established by section 12 of CPR 6 by permitting the premium to be paid by the buyer for prime and choice tallows when that tallow responds to refining and bleaching by taking on a more desirable color. The payment of a premium has been a normal practice in the soap industry and has encouraged the production and sale of tallows which will bleach to a color desirable to the buyer, irrespective of the original color of the grade purchased.

Although tallows may conform to the specifications shown in the table of section 12, especially with respect to the FAC (Fat Analysis Committee) color, i. e., standard and approved color, which is determined on the untreated and unbleached material when tested at the soaper's plant, they may not necessarily respond to the usual refining and bleaching operations of the soaper. If the tallows do not bleach up, no premium can be paid.

By permitting the payment of a premium only after the tallow has proved to respond to test, the danger of upgrading tallow, prior to test, is avoided.

This amendment also provides for two minor adjustments allowing the usual or normal premiums to apply when tallows and greases are shipped in less than carload quantity and allowing customary differentials to apply when edible tallow is sold in small size containers.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Ceiling Price Regulation 6 is amended in the following respects:

1. In section 12 paragraphs (b), (c), and (d) are redesignated as (c), (d), and (e) respectively, and a new paragraph (b) is added to read as follows:

(b) When prime and choice tallows are sold as "bleachable" the ceiling prices specified for those grades shall apply: Provided, That premiums may be paid if the tallow, on the basis of a refining and bleaching test in accordance with the official American Oil Chemists' Society methods, performed by the buyer after receipt meets specifications as follows:

Grade	Lovibond color through a 5¼ inch column	Allowable premium cents per pound
Choice	2.0 Red	¼
Prime	2.0 Red	¾
Prime	2.5 Red	¾

2. In section 12, a new paragraph (f) is added to read as follows:

(f) When tallows and greases are shipped in less than carload lots, the usual or normal premium shall continue to apply.

3. In section 12 a new paragraph (g) is added to read as follows:

(g) When edible tallow shown in the table of this section is sold in smaller size containers than drums, barrels and tierces, your customary differentials shall apply.

(Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interprets or applies Title IV, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.)

Effective date. This amendment shall be effective April 12, 1951.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 21]

CPR 21—COAL SOLD FOR DIRECT USE AS BUNKER FUEL

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Public Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Ceiling Price Regulation 21 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

The supplying of coal for use as bunker fuel is a specialized problem from the standpoint of coal marketing. While bunkering takes place at tidewater ports throughout the year, in the case of coal supplied to vessels on the Great Lakes, it is a seasonal occupation, being limited to the period of navigation on those lakes, generally being confined to the period beginning the middle of March and extending to the middle of December. Coal is supplied to the vessels from railroad car dumps, from lightering vessels and from docks.

Prices of bunker fuel represent the mine price plus transportation costs and handling charges. Because of the close relationship with mine prices, it is fair and reasonable to base ceiling prices for bunker fuel on the same twelve months period prior to the Korean outbreak as was found representative insofar as f. o. b. mine prices for the bituminous coal industry are concerned. Ceiling prices at the mine, one of the principal components of the bunker fuel price, have advanced pursuant to the authority of Ceiling Price Regulation No. 3 made effective on February 1, 1951. The effect of these prices is to shrink the gross margin of the supplier of bunker fuel because his prices heretofore have been subject to the general price freeze. Similarly, freight rates represent another principal component in the bunker fuel price. Increases in these transportation costs have to be absorbed by the supplier unless provision is made for them in addition to the bunker price. Since suppliers are not in a position to absorb such costs they are authorized to include increases in transportation costs that have taken place since the end of the base period to the effective date of this regulation, including freight rate additions of April 4, 1951.

In the case of bunker fuel supplies at tidewater ports, it is imperative that there must be no delay or interruption in servicing vessels carrying arms and supplies to our armed forces overseas or to vessels carrying supplies to those countries receiving economic and military aid from the United States. In the case of bunker fuel supplies for vessels on the Great Lakes, it is vitally necessary that such fuel in ample quantity be available at the time of the opening of navigation so that there will be no delay in the movement of vessels to the head of the lakes for the transportation of iron ore to our steel plants and it is equally imperative that supplies be uninterrupted throughout the season of navigation in order that the requisite amounts of iron ore and other commodities may be transported over the Great Lakes system.

The establishment of ceiling prices on bunker fuel based on the highest price received by the supplier of bunker fuel during the base period (July 1, 1948, through June 30, 1949), generally places the bunker fuel supplier in the same relation to his suppliers as existed during that period because f. o. b. mine prices are frozen at the highest levels existing during the same base period. In keeping with the provisions of Ceiling Price Regulation No. 3, it is reasonable to permit the supplier of bunker fuel to increase his prices by the increase in costs incurred by his supplier as a result of the wage advance of February 1, 1951, and it is also reasonable to permit him to increase his price by the increase in transportation charges over those which existed in the base period of July 1, 1948, to June 30, 1949. Such a basis for ceiling prices for suppliers of bunker fuel will promote stability and efficiency in that branch of the coal industry. Like Ceiling Price Regulation No. 3 in respect to bituminous coal producers, this regulation establishes for bunker fuel suppliers a ceiling weighted average realization for each size, grade, grouping or classification of coal at each facility or group of facilities. This realization is the same as that obtained in the period July 1, 1948 to June 30, 1949, and may be adjusted to reflect the increases permitted by the regulation, and may not be exceeded in any 12-month period beginning April 1, 1951. This control in price levels provides an effective means of price stabilization.

FINDINGS OF THE DIRECTOR OF PRICE STABILIZATION

In the judgment of the Director of Price Stabilization the provisions of Ceiling Price Regulation No. 21 are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to effectuate the purpose of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

So far as practicable the Director of Price Stabilization gave due consideration to the national effort to achieve maximum production in furtherance of the objectives of the Defense Production Act of 1950 to prices prevailing during the period from May 24, 1950, to June 24, 1950, inclusive; and to relevant factors of general applicability.

In formulating this regulation the Director has consulted with representatives of the industry to the extent practicable under the circumstances, and has given consideration to their recommendations.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 11 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply Title IV, Public Law 774, 81st Cong., E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.

SECTION 1. Applicability of regulation. This regulation establishes ceiling prices and ceiling weighted average realization for coal sold as bunker fuel both at points on the Great Lakes and their connecting or tributary waters and at points at tidewater.

SEC. 2. Definitions. When used in this regulation, the term:

(a) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association or any other organized group of persons or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of any of the foregoing;

(b) "Coal" means (1) Bituminous coal, including all bituminous, semi-bituminous and sub-bituminous coal; (2) lignite; (3) Virginia anthracite coal; and (4) Pennsylvania anthracite.

(c) "Bunker Fuel" means coal used aboard a vessel for consumption thereon.

(d) "Supplier of bunker fuel" means any producer, distributor, retailer, bunker agent or other person (and an agent of any of them) who sells or disposes of bunker fuel and delivers or procures the delivery of the same to vessels at points on the Great Lakes and their connecting or tributary waters or at tidewater for immediate use as bunker fuel, and who incurs the duties and risks attributable to the handling of bunker fuel. It does not include persons who sell coal to another person for general use or for delivery by such other person as bunker fuel. Delivery may be from a mine or a preparation plant operated as an adjunct of a mine or mines, or from a yard, dock, pier, elevator, bin, or other terminal facility or from a transportation vehicle or vessel.

(e) "Points on the Great Lakes and their connecting or tributary waters" means any port, point or place on Lake Superior, Michigan, Huron, Erie, and Ontario, the waters connecting those lakes, the St. Lawrence River, and those tributaries of the enumerated lakes which are not included in the inland waterways system.

(f) "Points at tidewater" means any tidewater port, point, or place on the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts of continental United States, and the coast of continental United States on the Gulf of Mexico.

(g) "Ton" means a short or net ton of 2,000 pounds.

(h) "Base Period" means (1) for all coal produced east of the Mississippi River, the period from July 1, 1948, to June 30, 1949, inclusive; (2) for all coal produced west of the Mississippi River, the period March 1, 1950, to December 31, 1950, inclusive.

(i) "Ceiling price" means the highest price applicable to a particular size, grade, grouping or classification of coal determined in accordance with the provisions of this regulation.

(j) "Realization" is the gross amount of money or value received or debited to the account of the supplier in the sale of bunker fuel (including commissions and discounts).

SEC. 3. Prohibition against selling, delivering or otherwise disposing of bunker fuel at prices above the ceiling. On or after the 10th day of April, 1951, regardless of any contract, agreement, lease or other obligations:

(a) No person who is a supplier of bunker fuel shall sell, deliver or otherwise dispose of bunker fuel to any person at prices higher than the ceiling prices determined in accordance with the provisions of this regulation.

(b) No person shall, in the course of trade or business, buy or receive such bunker fuel at prices higher than the ceiling prices determined in accordance with the provisions of this regulation.

(c) No person shall agree, offer, solicit, or attempt to do anything prohibited in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section.

SEC. 4. Ceiling prices and ceiling weighted average realization. (a) The ceiling prices for each supplier of bunker fuel for each size, grade, grouping or classification of coal at each place or facility, as established by previous marketing practices, shall be the highest price charged by such supplier of bunker fuel for each size, grade, grouping or classification of coal sold for bunker fuel use at each place or facility during the base period.

(b) The prices charged for each size, grade, grouping or classification of coal at each place or facility where such coal is delivered shall be such that the weighted average realization per ton obtained by the supplier of bunker fuel for the 12-month period commencing April 1, 1951, and ending March 31, 1952, and for each 12-month period beginning on the first day of each succeeding month, commencing May 1, 1951, for each such size, grade, grouping or classification at each such place or facility shall not exceed the weighted average realization obtained by the supplier of bunker fuel from the sale, delivery or other disposal of each such size, grade, grouping or classification at each place or facility during the base period.

(c) The supplier of bunker fuel shall determine his ceiling weighted average realization for the base period for each size, grade, grouping or classification of coal at each place or facility where such coal is delivered by dividing the realization received from sales of bunker fuel by the number of tons so sold.

(d) The ceiling prices and ceiling weighted average realization determined in accordance with the provisions of this regulation for each size, grade, grouping or classification at each place or facility may be increased by an amount not exceeding the actual dollar-and-cents per ton increase in (1) transportation costs, rail and/or water from the mine to the point of delivery, that have become effective since the base period and not later than the effective date of this regulation; (2) the cost of coal, f. o. b. the mine, charged by the principal supplier who furnished the principal supply of each size, grade, grouping or classification at each place or facility during a prior representative period, provided such increased cost of coal resulted from any wage and salary advances and other items related to the payroll which became effective on or after January 1, 1951, and prior to July 1, 1951, under the authority of Ceiling Price Regulation No. 3 (Coal, except Pennsylvania Anthracite, Delivered from Mine or Preparation Plant) and Ceiling Price Regulation No. 4 (Anthracite Delivered from Mine or Preparation Plant), both issued by the Director on February 1, 1951.

(e) The ceiling prices and ceiling weighted average realization determined pursuant to the provisions of this section may, at the option of the supplier of bunker fuel, be determined and established for a group of places or facilities where the selling prices for each size, grade, grouping or classification of coal have been uniform at each place or facility in the group by prior custom and practice in the marketing of bunker fuel.

SEC. 5. Procedure for establishing ceiling prices and ceiling weighted average realization for new suppliers of bunker fuel. (a) In the event a supplier of bunker fuel was not in business, did not sell a particular size, grade, grouping or classification of coal, or did not act as a supplier of bunker fuel at a specific place or facility during the base period, he may file an application, in duplicate, seeking the establishment of ceiling prices and ceiling weighted average realization that are fair and equitable. Such application shall set forth, among other things, the name and principal address of the applicant, the port or ports at points on the Great Lakes and their connecting or tributary waters and points at tidewater at which he intends to sell, deliver, or otherwise dispose of bunker fuel, the particular size, grade, grouping or classification for which ceiling prices or ceiling weighted average realization are requested, and the price or realization amount which the applicant proposes therefor; and the applicant shall furnish the same information, including the ceiling prices and ceiling weighted average realization, for another supplier of bunker fuel performing the same services and operating the same or similar places or facilities.

(b) The Director may request any other information deemed necessary by him to a fair and reasonable determination of the issues raised in the application.

(c) For 60 days after filing the application the applicant may sell bunker fuel at temporary ceiling prices no higher than the ceiling prices established under this regulation for the bunker fuel sold by another supplier of bunker fuel performing the same services and operating in the same or similar places or facilities. After 60 days from the filing of the application, if no action has been taken by the Director, the prices as requested in the application shall be the ceiling prices for such bunker fuel. The filing date herein shall be the date on which the application is received by the Director in the principal office of the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington, D. C.

(d) The Director may at any time review and revise ceiling prices or ceiling weighted average realizations proposed or established under this section if they appear to be inconsistent with the provisions of this regulation.

SEC. 6. Less than ceiling prices. Lower prices than those established under this regulation may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

SEC. 7. Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of or relating to bunker fuel alone or in conjunction with any other commodity or by way of commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tie-in agreement or other trade understanding, or by the making of excessive charges for trucking or otherwise. Persons subject to the regulation shall continue to observe their customary and standard cash discount practices.

SEC. 8. Reporting, invoicing and record-keeping requirements. (a) Each person subject to this regulation shall keep on file invoices, sales data and any other records necessary to substantiate the ceiling prices and ceiling weighted average realization, and shall preserve and keep said invoices, sales data and records available for inspection by the Director for a period of two years.

(b) Each supplier of bunker fuel shall report to the Director, by letter, within 30 days after the effective date of this regulation, his (1) ceiling prices and ceiling weighted average realization for the base period computed under the provisions of sections 4 (a), (c) and (e) of this regulation; (2) each adjustment authorized under section 4 (d) of this regulation; and (3) the sum of (1) and (2), being the adjusted ceiling prices and ceiling weighted average realization.

(c) Each supplier of bunker fuel shall file a certified statement, by letter, of his ceiling prices, including adjustments, if any, determined in accordance with the provisions of this regulation with the Director and with the regional office or offices of the Office of Price Stabilization in the region or regions where the coal is delivered, within 30 days after the effective date of this regulation.

(d) Each person subject to this regulation shall furnish to each person to whom he sells bunker fuel an invoice stating the ceiling price established by this regulation separately from any other charge or a certified statement that the prices charged do not exceed the ceiling prices established under this regulation.

SEC. 9. Petitions for amendment. (a) Any person seeking an amendment to any provision of this regulation may file a petition in accordance with the provisions of Price Procedural Regulation No. 1 issued by the Economic Stabilization Agency and with the provisions of this regulation.

SEC. 10. Taxes. There may be added to the applicable ceiling price the amount of any transportation tax or sales, gross receipts, gross proceeds or use tax levied by any statute or ordinance, under which the tax is measured by gross proceeds or units of sale, only if the statute or ordinance permits or requires the seller to state the tax separately and the seller does state it separately on his invoice or other memorandum of sale, and only if the seller customarily added the amount of such tax to the ceiling price and separately stated the tax on his invoice prior to the effective date of this regulation.

SEC. 11. Enforcement. Persons violating any provision of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, and enforcement actions, and suits for damage provided for by the Defense Production Act of 1950.

Effective date. This regulation shall become effective on April 10, 1951.

NOTE. The record-keeping and reporting requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

EDWARD F. PHELPS, Jr.,
Acting Director of Price Stabilization.

[General Ceiling Price Regulation, Supplementary Regulation 17]

GCPR, SR 17—EXEMPTION OF SALES OF TIMBER (STUMPAGE)

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Public Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Supplementary Regulation No. 17 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This supplementary regulation exempts sales of timber (stumpage) from the provisions of the General Ceiling Price Regulation. Standing timber, or down timber, commonly referred to as stumpage, is the raw material of the forest products industries. There are approximately 622 million acres of forest land in the United States. Of this area nearly three-fourths, or 460 million acres, is capable of producing timber of commercial quantity and quality and is available now, or prospectively, for commercial use. This is classed as commercial forest land. About 12.5 million acres, including some otherwise commercially valuable land, is reserved for parks and preserves and is not available for timber production. About 150 million acres of forest land, classed as noncommercial, is used for watershed protection, wildlife habitat, and in general is held for purposes other than the commercial production of timber.

The 460 million acres of commercial forest land is owned about 20 percent by Federal agencies, 6 percent by states, counties and municipalities and 74 percent by private persons. Only 44 million acres, or about 10 percent of the commercial forest land area, is classed as old-growth saw-timber. Second growth saw-timber comprises roughly 155 million acres, or 34 percent of the total forest area. These saw-timber areas are characterized by timber large enough, and in sufficient volume per acre, for economic saw log and pulpwood operations.

Of the old growth and second growth saw-timber on commercial forest lands, approximately 45 percent is owned by Federal agencies. The remainder, in private hands, consists of a large number of small tracts, widely spaced geographically. Periodically, the Federal agencies offer stumpage for sale to the highest bidder and so act as a major source of raw material supply for the forest products industries. Scheduling of certain Federal agencies sales is, at present, being held in abeyance due to existing distorted price relationships.

During World War II, stumpage was exempted from the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation, and remained decontrolled throughout the OPA days except for stumpage west of the 100th meridian.

From the standpoint of price control, major pricing problems appear in connection with stumpage because no two tracts of timber have identical physical characteristics and because of the wide geographical dispersal of the timber. Uniform, equitable valuations are extremely difficult under these circumstances and the determination of prices and the surveyance impose an impracticable administrative burden at this time.

In view of the unique and complex character of the commodity in question, the number and differences in the stands of timber, and the administrative difficulties in instituting controls, it has been determined that the sale of stumpage should be exempted from the provisions of the General Ceiling Price Regulation: Provided however, That records of such transaction must be maintained.

FINDINGS OF THE DIRECTOR OF PRICE STABILIZATION

In the judgment of the Director of the Office of Price Stabilization, the exemption contained in this supplementary regulation is generally fair and equitable and is necessary to effectuate the purpose of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

So far as practicable the Director of Price Stabilization gave due consideration to the national defense effort to achieve maximum production in furtherance of the objectives of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

In formulating this supplementary regulation the Director has consulted with representatives of the industries, so far as practicable under the circumstances, and has given full consideration to their recommendations.

REGULATORY PROVISIONS

Sec.
1. What this supplementary regulation does.
2. Applicability.
3. Exemption.
4. Definitions.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 4 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply Title IV, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong., E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.

SECTION 1. What this supplementary regulation does. The purpose of this supplementary regulation is to exempt sales of timber (stumpage) from the provisions of the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

SEC. 2. Applicability. The provisions of this supplementary regulation are applicable to the United States, its Territories and Possessions, and the District of Columbia.

SEC. 3. Exemption. On and after the effective date of this supplementary regulation, the provisions of the General Ceiling Price Regulation shall not apply to sales, leases, licenses or other contractual obligations pertaining to the right of a person to sever timber (stumpage) from the stump on the land of another person: Provided, however, That the records of such transactions be maintained pursuant to section 16 of the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

SEC. 4. Definitions. When used in this supplementary regulation, the terms:

(a) "Timber" (stumpage) means a tree whether green or dead, standing or down, of all species, classes and sizes where the tree has not been severed from the stump.

(b) "Person" means an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor, or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of the foregoing.

Effective date. This Supplementary Regulation No. 17 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation shall become effective on the 12th day of April, 1951.

[General Ceiling Price Regulation, Supplementary Regulation 18]

GCPR, SR 18—CEILING PRICES FOR SALES BY MILLERS AND PROCESSORS OF FLOUR, MEAL, AND MILL FEED OR OTHER FEED INGREDIENTS PROCESSED FROM LISTED GRAINS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Supplementary Regulation 18 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation (16 F. R. 808) is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This Supplementary Regulation to the General Ceiling Price Regulation is issued to resolve certain problems involving the pricing of grain flour, meal, and mill feed or other feed ingredients when sold by millers and processors.

Grain flour, meal, and mill feed or other feed ingredients are customarily sold by millers and processors on the basis of contracts for deferred deliveries, although in some instances these commodities are also sold for immediate or current delivery. The prices agreed upon in the contracts for deferred delivery are usually the same as those for current delivery and are predicated upon grain costs prevailing at the time of negotiation. During the period December 19, 1950, to January 25, 1951, many flour millers and processors made all of their deliveries pursuant to contracts negotiated prior to the base period, some as early as September and October 1950. The effect of the General Ceiling Price Regulation was to fix the ceilings of these millers and processors at levels which were predicated upon their grain costs during the autumn months of 1950 rather than the cost which they actually sustained during the base period. Moreover, the ceiling prices of these millers and processors were substantially lower than those who made some deliveries during the base period on the basis of current contracts. Grain costs sustained by millers and processors advanced sharply during the late months of 1950 and in January 1951. Thus, the price of #1 Northern Spring ordinary wheat in Minneapolis, which had ranged from $2.15⅞ to $2.23⅝ per bushel during the period from September 30 to December 1, 1950, rose to a high of $2.42¼ during the base period. Cash corn prices in Minneapolis, which had ranged from approximately $1.40 to $1.53 per bushel during the months of October and November 1950, advanced to a high of $1.71 per bushel during the base period.

The wheat, rye, corn and other grain milling industries customarily operate on comparatively short gross margins over material costs. Industry representatives have advised the Director of Price Stabilization that the margins of processors who delivered during the base period solely on the basis of long term contracts are not sufficiently broad to enable them to absorb their increased grain costs, and that immediate action is necessary to enable them to establish ceiling prices bearing a normal relation to their base period raw material costs. These prices, they point out, are those used by them in contracts negotiated during the base period for deferred deliveries of their commodities within 120 days after date of contract, or those quoted by them during the base period for immediate deliveries of such commodities.

It is the finding of the Director of Price Stabilization that the invalidation of the contracts negotiated by these millers and processors during the base period would subject the greater number of them to substantial hardship in that it would compel them to sell their products at prices which do not reflect the higher grain costs which they were compelled to sustain. An individual adjustment provision is administratively impracticable at this time. Accordingly, therefore, this supplementary regulation is issued to provide a new method for establishing ceiling prices for sales by grain millers and processors of flour, meal, and mill feed or other feed ingredients processed from corn, flaxseed, oats, rye, grain sorghums and wheat. It will permit all processors to change ceiling prices which reflect current grain costs. Under this new method if a miller or processor entered into a contract during the base period, his ceiling price for that product shall be the highest price at which he contracted in writing during the base period to sell the product for delivery within 120 days after the date of the contract, or if he made no such contract during the base period, then the highest price at which his most closely competitive seller in his normal market contracted for the sale of the product during the base period for delivery of the product to a purchaser of the same class within 120 days from the date of the contract.

In the judgment of the Director of Price Stabilization the ceiling prices established by this supplementary regulation are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to effectuate the purposes of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

Although special circumstances have rendered impracticable consultation with formal industry advisory committees, including trade association representatives, the provisions of this supplementary regulation incorporate the recommendations of persons representing substantial segments of the grain milling and processing industries affected.

REGULATORY PROVISIONS

Sec.
1. Applicability.
2. Ceiling prices for sales by grain millers and processors of flour, meal, and mill feed or other feed ingredients processed from listed grains.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 and 2 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply Title IV, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong., E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.

SECTION 1. Applicability. (a) This supplementary regulation provides a new method for establishing ceiling prices for sales by certain grain millers and processors of flour, meal, and mill feed or other feed ingredients processed from the following grains: grain sorghums, corn, flaxseed, oats, rye, and wheat. This new method supersedes that set forth in the General Ceiling Price Regulation, as amended, with respect to calculating ceiling prices for these commodities when sold by these grain millers and processors. In all other respects not inconsistent with the provisions of this supplementary regulation, the General Ceiling Price Regulation continues to apply to the sales of the above commodities. This regulation does not supersede Supplementary Regulation 7 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

(b) The provisions of this regulation are applicable to the United States, its Territories and possessions, and the District of Columbia.

SEC. 2. Ceiling prices for sales by grain millers and processors of flour, meal, and mill feed or other feed ingredients processed from listed grains. If you mill and process flour, meal, and mill feed or other feed ingredients from one or more of the grains listed in section 1 of this regulation, your ceiling price for that product shall be the highest price at which you contracted in writing during the base period to sell the product for delivery within 120 days after the date of the contract, or if you made no such contract during the base period, then the highest price at which, during the base period, your most closely competitive seller in your normal market contracted in writing to sell the product for delivery within 120 days after the date of the contract to a purchaser of the same class. Provided, That for the purpose of computing parity adjustments pursuant to section 11 of the General Ceiling Price Regulation, you shall use as "the highest price you received or paid during the base period" the highest market price of the grain as of the execution date of the contract which determines your ceiling price.

Effective date. This Supplementary Regulation No. 18 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation shall become effective April 12, 1951.

EDWARD F. PHELPS, Jr.,
Acting Director of Price Stabilization.

Chapter VI—National Production Authority, Department of Commerce

[NPA Order M-2 as Amended April 6, 1951]

M-2—RUBBER

EDITORIAL NOTE: The following is a complete restatement of NPA Order M-2, embodying all changes effected by the amendment to said Order M-2 as published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, April 10, 1951, 16 F. R. 3117.

This order, as amended, is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense. It is issued pursuant to both the Defense Production Act of 1950 and the Rubber Act of 1948. In the formulation of this order there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations. In the formulation of this amendment, however, consultation with industry representatives has been impossible because of the need for immediate action.

This amendment affects NPA Order M-2, as amended April 1, 1951, as follows: It adds a new paragraph (f) to section 10, and it makes an addition to the certification in section 12. As so amended, NPA Order M-2 reads as follows:

Law 744, 81st Cong., and sec. 3, 62 Stat. 102, 50 U. S. C. App. Sup. 1922; E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61; E. O. 9942, April 1, 1948, 13 F. R. 1823.

EXPLANATORY PROVISIONS

SECTION 1. Purpose and effect. The purpose of this order is to conserve the supply of rubber for the needs of national defense and to provide for its equitable distribution. It places over-all limits on the consumption of new rubber (including both natural and synthetic). It prohibits private importation of natural rubber and provides for allocation of Government-produced synthetic rubber. Provisions are also made for increasing production of camelback, for directing production of rubber products into standard lines, and for restricting the use of natural rubber in certain listed products, for limiting inventories of tires and tubes and for restricting their delivery for installation on new passenger automobiles.

SEC. 2. Definitions. As used in this order:

(a) "Natural rubber" means all new RHC (rubber hydrocarbon) forms and types of tree, vine, or shrub rubber, both dry and latex, including the following grades of wild rubber (cut, uncut, washed or dried): upriver fine, acre fine, Bolivian fine, beni fine, island fine, and all other types of fine pará, which are of equivalent quality regardless of name or origin; but excluding all other South or Central American grades of wild rubber and all rubber from guayule, balata or gutta percha, as well as reclaimed natural rubber.

(b) "Dry natural rubber" means all natural rubber in solid form.

(c) "Natural rubber latex" means the dry latex solids contained in natural rubber liquid latex.

(d) "Synthetic rubber" means all new RHC products of chemical synthesis similar in general properties and applications to natural rubber and specifically capable of vulcanization, including synthetic rubber latex but excluding reclaimed synthetic rubber.

(e) "GR–S" means a general-purpose synthetic rubber of the butadiene styrene type produced in the United States generally suitable for use in the manufacture of transportation items such as tires or camelback, as well as any other type of synthetic rubber equally or better suited for use in the manufacture of transportation items such as tires or camelback, as determined from time to time by the NPA, but excluding reclaimed general-purpose synthetic rubber.

(f) "Butyl" or "GR–I" means a special-purpose synthetic rubber produced in the United States, suitable for use in the manufacture of transportation items such as pneumatic inner tubes, but excluding reclaimed special-purpose synthetic rubber.

(g) "New RHC" means total new rubber hydrocarbon. This is the total RHC content of dry natural rubber, natural rubber latex, synthetic rubber, uncured scrap rubber, and uncured in-process materials.

(h) "Consume" means, in the case of dry natural rubber, natural rubber latex or synthetic rubber, to compound, expend, formulate, or in any manner make any substantial change in the form, shape, or chemical composition.

(i) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons and includes any agency of the United States or any other government.

(j) "Reclaimed rubber" means any rubber derived from the processing or treatment of vulcanized rubber or cured scrap rubber.

(k) "NPA" means the National Production Authority in the Department of Commerce.

RESTRICTIONS ON IMPORTATION AND CONSUMPTION

SEC. 3. Private importation of natural rubber prohibited. (a) On and after December 29, 1950, no person other than the Administrator of General Services shall import into the United States (including its territories and possessions) any natural rubber as defined in section 2 (a) of this order, except as specifically authorized in writing by the Administrator of General Services: Provided, however, That this prohibition shall not apply to any private importation required by a contract which was made prior to December 29, 1950, and which is registered with the General Services Administration on or before January 5, 1951, except as any such private importation may be disapproved by said Administrator. For purposes of this section, the term "import" includes any physical movement of rubber into the United States, whether placed in general order or in a foreign-trade zone, or whether entered for consumption, bonded customs custody or otherwise, except where the rubber moves through the United States in transit, under bond, from a consignor in one foreign country to a consignee in another foreign country.

(b) The prohibition in paragraph (a) of this section does not apply to the types and grades of natural rubber excluded from the definition in section 2 (a) but all such excluded types and grades shall be inspected by, and a certificate of import secured from, the Administrator of General Services prior to their importation.

SEC. 4. Limit on total new rubber consumption (except natural rubber latex). (a) No person shall (except on prior written authorization of the NPA) consume in any calendar month a total amount of new rubber (including all synthetic both dry and latex and all natural except latex) in excess of 90 percent of his base monthly new rubber consumption as computed under paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Each person's base monthly new rubber consumption shall be one-twelfth of his actual new rubber consumption (including all synthetic both dry and latex and all natural except latex) during the year ending June 30, 1950, as adjusted by the NPA.

(c) The limitation provided in this section shall not apply to any person during any calendar quarter in which his total consumption of new rubber (including all synthetic both dry and latex and all natural except latex) does not exceed 25,000 pounds.

SEC. 5. Limit on natural rubber latex consumption. (a) No person shall (except on prior written authorization of the NPA) consume during any calendar quarter, a total quantity of natural rubber latex in excess of one-fourth of his consumption during the year ending June 30, 1950, as adjusted by the NPA.

(b) Any person who imports any natural rubber latex into the United States after October 1, 1950, shall offer at least 10 percent of his imports to the General Services Administration at his regularly established price.

(c) In the event that imports of natural rubber latex are of such volume that an excess remains available for consumption (including any amounts not accepted by General Services Administration), after deducting from total imports (1) the base-period consumption allowed by paragraph (a) of this section, (2) the stockpile requirements of the Government, and (3) a reasonable reserve for adjustments under section 19 of this order. Such excess will be allocated quarterly to consumers by the NPA on the basis of their pro rata allocation of natural rubber latex during the fourth calendar quarter of 1950. Any allocations made under this paragraph may be consumed in addition to the amounts permitted by paragraph (a) of this section.

SEC. 6. Rubber to fill rated orders (other than "DO–97"). (a) Such quantities of new rubber as are used in making products to fill DO rated orders (other than those rated "DO–97") are hereby exempted from the limitations on consumption contained in sections 4 and 5 of this order. All such quantities shall accordingly be excluded in computing consumption under those sections. Allocations of synthetic rubber will be made for such purposes, upon application in writing to the NPA, in addition to the allocations for which provision is made in sections 8, 9, and 10 of this order.

(b) Any person filing an application for an allocation of rubber to fill DO rated orders (other than those rated "DO–97") must show (1) the DO rating number or symbol applied to the order, (2) the Government contract and purchase numbers, (3) the identity and quantity of the product ordered, (4) the Government specifications for the product insofar as concerns the rubber content, (5) the name and address of the customer and the shipping destination, and (6) the types and quantities of rubber required, by month, to fill the order.

SEC. 7. Orders rated "DO–97". (a) Notwithstanding the provisions of NPA Reg. 4, no person shall apply or extend the rating "DO–97" to any order for any pneumatic or solid tires or tire tubes or other transportation products as listed under codes 1 through 8 in appendix A, and no such rating applied or extended to such orders shall be deemed a valid rating.

(b) Insofar as necessary and practicable, new rubber will be made available once a month, in addition to the quantities otherwise permitted by this order, to manufacturers of those products listed under Codes 9–24 in appendix A, to replace rubber used to fill orders for such products rated "DO–97." No additional rubber will be authorized for such purpose, however, except to the extent that the applicant demonstrates that he has filled "DO–97" rated orders for the product in the previous month requiring a greater proportion of his then permitted new rubber consumption than he devoted to the manufacture of that product out of his total new rubber consumption in the year ending June 30, 1950 (exclusive of such units as were manufactured and sold as parts of new equipment or for incorporation in new equipment). Application for such additional new rubber shall be made before the 10th day of each month. The quantities approved under this section will be authorized and allocated for use during the remainder of that month. (For example: If a company used rubber in March for orders rated "DO–97" in excess of the above-described proportion, it may report such excess use before the 10th of April, and additional rubber will be authorized or allocated in April). The applicant must state (if he has not previously submitted the same information) his consumption of new rubber during the year ending June 30, 1950, in making the product involved (broken down to show what proportion went into new equipment), the volume of orders filled for the product during the previous month (broken down to show those rated "DO–97"), the types and quantities of rubber used or required therefor, the new rubber authorization requested, and any other data necessary to demonstrate that the applicant has satisfied the above requirements entitling him to additional rubber.

ALLOCATION OF SYNTHETIC RUBBER

SEC. 8. Limitation on acquisition of synthetic rubber. No person shall acquire more Government-produced GR–S or butyl (GR–I) than is allocated to him by the NPA. No person shall sell or transfer any synthetic rubber acquired from the Government to any person other than the Office of Rubber Reserve, Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

SEC. 9. Allocation procedure. The NPA will allocate quarterly, to each consumer of GR–S or butyl, the amounts of Government-produced GR–S and butyl that he may purchase during a specified calendar quarter. The NPA will notify the Office of Rubber Reserve, Reconstruction Finance Corporation, of such allocations and the Office of Rubber Reserve will not issue purchase permits to anyone for more GR–S or butyl than is allocated to him. Persons desiring to purchase GR–S or butyl will submit purchase requests to the Office of Rubber Reserve in accordance with its established procedure.

SEC. 10. Basis of allocation. GR–S and butyl for non-defense purposes will be separately allocated by the NPA for each calendar quarter on the following basis:

(a) GR–S. Subject to the provisions of paragraphs (d) and (e) of this section, each consumer of GR–S will be allocated a fair and proportionate share of the total available Government-produced GR–S (after a reasonable amount has been reserved for DO rated orders, for such other programs as may be approved by the NPA, and for adjustments under section 19 of this order). The share of GR–S so allocated to each consumer will be calculated so that such share, when added to the quantities of other new rubber which are permitted or allocated to him and which enter into the computation of total new rubber under section 4 of this order, will equal his total new rubber consumption as permitted by section 4.

(b) Butyl for tire tubes. Subject to the provisions of paragraphs (d) and (e) of this section, each manufacturer of tire tubes will be allocated his pro rata share of total available Government-produced butyl (after a reasonable amount has been reserved for DO rated orders, for such other programs as may be approved by the NPA, and for adjustments under section 19 of this order), based on the proportion which his total new rubber consumption for tire tubes during the year ending June 30, 1950, bears to the total new rubber consumption of the industry for tire tubes during that period as determined by the NPA.

(c) Butyl for other uses. Subject to the provisions of paragraphs (d) and (e) of this section, each consumer of butyl for purposes other than the manufacture of tire tubes will be allocated for each calendar quarter, his average quarterly consumption of butyl for such other purposes during the year ending June 30, 1950, as determined by the NPA.

(d) Imports to be considered. In making allocations described in paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of this section, the NPA will ascertain the quantities of imported GR–S and butyl acquired by each consumer, and will reduce by the amounts of such imported rubber the allocations which would otherwise be made.

(e) Inventories to be considered. In making the allocations described in paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of this section, the NPA will ascertain and take into account each consumer's inventory of GR–S and butyl, and will adjust the allocations insofar as practicable so that inventories (including rubber in warehouse and in transit) will not be increased beyond a 20-working-day supply.

(f) GR–S plant clean-up and dried latex drainings, coagulum, and preflox materials. Only 50 percent of the quantity of GR–S plant clean-up material purchased from the Office of Rubber Reserve, and only 25 percent of the GR–S dried latex drainings, coagulum, and preflox purchased from the Office of Rubber Reserve, need be considered in computing and reporting the total quantity of synthetic rubber acquired or consumed.

RUBBER PRODUCT REQUIREMENTS AND LIMITATIONS

SEC. 11. Camelback production required. Every person who produced camelback during the year ending June 30, 1950, shall produce in each month of 1951, an amount of camelback which by RHC weight is at least one and a half times as great in proportion to his total new rubber consumption in the manufacture of transportation products during such months, respectively, as the proportion which his production of camelback during the year ending June 30, 1950, bore by weight on RHC basis to his total new rubber consumption in transportation products during that year. For example, if a person's production of camelback on RHC basis accounted for 5 percent of his new rubber RHC consumption in transportation products during the year specified, his production of camelback in each month must account for at least 7.5 percent of his new rubber RHC consumption in transportation products during each month of 1951. This means that consumers who produce transportation products other than camelback must sacrifice sufficient RHC from other transportation products to achieve the above result, since no extra allocation of RHC will be made to compensate for increased camelback production. Those who produce camelback only are not subject to this section.

SEC. 12. Tires or tubes for new passenger automobiles. No person shall deliver any tires or tubes to any manufacturer of new passenger automobiles unless such manufacturer furnishes to him a signed certificate reading substantially as follows:

I hereby certify, subject to the criminal penalties for misrepresentation contained in Title 18, U. S. Code (Crimes), section 1001, That, except in fulfillment of DO-rated orders, after April 1, 1951, I will not install on or use for any new passenger automobile more than four tires or tubes and that no more than four tires and tubes will be delivered by me with any new passenger automobile.

(Date) (Signed)

SEC. 13. Required production of certain tires or tubes. (a) No person, who, during the first calendar quarter of 1951, manufactured any tires or tubes for use on trucks, buses, and truck trailers, in sizes 8.25 and up, or on tractors or farm equipment, shall, during any month, devote less than the same proportion of his total new rubber consumption as limited by section 4 of this order to the manufacture of these items than he did in the first calendar quarter of 1951.

(b) In addition, the saving in new RHC resulting from the reduction in original passenger car tire and tube deliveries in April 1951, as compared with such deliveries in March 1951, shall be used by each tire manufacturer in the production of truck and bus tires and tubes, in sizes 8.25 and up, and for farm tires and tubes. Insofar as natural rubber may be used in producing such tires and tubes in accordance with the specifications in appendix A, such use in lieu of synthetic rubber is permitted, subject to the limitation on total new rubber consumption in section 4 of this order.

SEC. 14. Rubber product simplification and manufacturing specifications—(a) Manufacture except in accordance with appendix A prohibited. No person shall manufacture any rubber product except in accordance with the specifications and other terms and conditions prescribed in the attached appendix A. More specifically, (1) no person shall consume any natural rubber (dry or latex) in the manufacture of any product not listed in column II of appendix A; (2) no person shall consume more natural rubber (dry or latex) in the manufacture of any listed product than prescribed in column III (as qualified by column IV) of appendix A, and (3) no person shall consume any new RHC (natural or synthetic) in the manufacture of any listed product in more or different lines, types, qualities, styles or colors than those prescribed in column IV of appendix A.

(b) Exceptions to limitations of appendix A—(1) Defense orders. Notwithstanding the provisions of appendix A, any product manufactured to fill a DO rated order (other than one rated "DO–97") may be manufactured to the specifications of the order if and to the extent that such specifications are required by the Government. Efforts will be made, however, to obtain maximum standardization of rubber products for Government defense requirements as well as between defense and non-defense requirements.

(2) Tire experimentation. Notwithstanding the provisions of appendix A, any person may use up to a total of 2,000 pounds of dry natural rubber during any calendar quarter for experimentation in the manufacture of those sizes and types of tires for which specifications are provided in appendix A.

(3) Use of natural rubber instead of synthetic rubber. Notwithstanding the provisions of appendix A, any person who has received an allocation of synthetic rubber, for a given period, which is of a lesser proportion of his total new rubber consumption, as limited by section 4 of this order, than he is required by the specifications contained in appendix A to use in the manufacture of his usual line of products, may (within the limits of section 4) use such additional natural rubber as is necessary to make up the difference: Provided however, That any person who uses additional natural rubber in accordance with this section shall prepare a statement setting forth all of the facts and statistics upon which such additional use was based. This statement, signed by an officer of the company, shall be retained in the files of the company and made available to the NPA upon request.

(c) Import restrictions—(1) Certification required. No product for which specifications are established in Appendix A may be entered for consumption in the United States or its territories or possessions unless the entry thereof is accompanied by a certificate from the exporter or other qualified person to the appropriate Collector of Customs reading substantially as follows:

The undersigned hereby certifies, subject to the criminal penalties for misrepresentation contained in Title 18, U. S. Code (Crimes), section 1001, that the products covered by the invoice to which this certificate is attached contain no more natural rubber (of any type and wherever produced) than permitted by NPA Order M-2 for similar products.

(2) Exceptions. No such certificate shall, however, be required for the incorporation (i) of any products by a diplomatic representative of a foreign government for his personal use or for the use of members of his staff or by a commercial representative of a foreign government for use in his official business and not for sale or, (ii) of any products for experimental and testing purposes and not for sale.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

SEC. 15. Monthly reports of rubber consumption and stocks. Every person who consumes or owns, at any time during any month, any type of rubber listed below shall file a monthly report on Form NPAF-3 with the NPA in accordance with the instructions accompanying the form. This report form covers consumption, stocks, receipts, production, and shipments.

Types to be reported

Dry natural rubber.
Natural rubber latex.
Reclaimed rubber.
GR-S Types, excluding latex.[1]
GR-S Type latex.[1]
Butyl types.[1]
Neoprene, including latex.
Butadiene-Acrylonitrile types (N-Type).[1]
Other special-purpose synthetic types.[1]
Scrap rubber, uncured.

SEC. 16. Reports by tire, tube, and camelback manufacturers—(a) Monthly reports. Each manufacturer of tires, tubes, and camelback shall file a report of his production, shipments, and inventory for each calendar month on Form NPAF-5 with the NPA in accordance with the instructions accompanying the form. Such report shall be filed by the 10th of the month following the month to which it relates.

(b) Weekly reports of cured tires. Each manufacturer of tires shall file a report of his production of cured tires for each week on Form NPAF-6 with the NPA in accordance with the instructions accompanying the form.

SEC. 17. Reports by latex importer. Every importer of natural rubber latex shall report by letter to the NPA by the 15th of each month in long tons of dry latex solids (a) his imports for the current month (actual receipts plus material due to arrive), (b) his scheduled imports for the next succeeding month, and (c) his estimate of his imports for the second and third succeeding months.

SEC. 18. Records and reports. Each person participating in any transaction covered by this order shall retain in his possession for at least 2 years records of receipts, deliveries and inventories, production, and use, in sufficient detail to permit an audit that determines that the provisions of this order have been met. This order does not specify any particular accounting method and does not require alteration of the system of records customarily used, provided such records supply an adequate basis for audit. Records may be retained in the form of microfilm or other photographic copies instead of the originals by those persons who have or who may maintain such microfilm or other photographic records in the regular and usual course of business. All records required by this order shall be made available at the usual place of business where maintained for inspection and audit by duly authorized representatives of the National Production Authority. All persons subject to this order shall keep such records and file such other reports as may be required subject to approval by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942 (Pub. Law 831, 77th Cong., 5 U. S. C. 139–139F).

SEC. 19. Inventory limitations. (a) No person shall in the course of trade or business receive delivery of any new tires or tubes if his inventory of such items exceeds, or by such receipt would be made to exceed, his minimum requirements for the operation of his business during the succeeding 30 days (or, in the case of passenger car manufacturers, 15 days). No person shall deliver tires or tubes (1) if he has reason to believe that his customer is not permitted to receive delivery under this section, nor (2) unless his customer furnishes to him a signed certificate reading substantially as follows:

I hereby certify, subject to the criminal penalties for misrepresentation contained in Title 18, U. S. Code (Crimes), section 1001, that after receipt of the tires or tubes covered by this order my inventory will not exceed the quantity permitted by NPA Order M-2.

---------- ----------

(b) All of the materials subject to this order are also subject to NPA Reg. 1 which prohibits the accumulation of materials in excess of a practicable minimum working inventory.

SEC. 20. Adjustments and exceptions. Any person affected by any provision of this order may file a request for adjustment or exception upon the ground that such provision works an undue or exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry, or that its enforcement against him would not be in the interest of the national defense or in the public interest. In considering requests for adjustment claiming that the public interest is prejudiced by the application of any provision of this order, consideration will be given to the requirements of the public health and safety, civilian defense, and dislocation of labor and resulting unemployment that would impair the defense program. Each request shall be in writing, in duplicate, and shall set forth all pertinent facts, the nature of relief sought, and the justification therefor.

SEC. 21. Communications. All applications, reports, and other communications relating to this order should be addressed to the National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: Order M-2.

SEC. 22. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or furnishes false information or conceals any material fact in the course of operation under it, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against any such person to compel necessary adjustment of his inventories or consumption or to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of, or from processing or using, materials subject to this order.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This order as amended shall take effect on April 1, 1951.

Issued: April 5, 1951.

NATIONAL PRODUCTION AUTHORITY,
[SEAL] MANLY FLEISCHMANN,
Administrator.

[1] Includes all types whether obtained from Government or other sources, including imports.

APPENDIX A—RUBBER PRODUCTS SUBJECT TO SIMPLIFICATION AND MANUFACTURING SPECIFICATIONS AS PROVIDED IN SECTION 13 OF NPA ORDER M-2

EXPLANATION OF COLUMNS AND SYMBOLS

Column 1: The code number indicated in Column 1 is the numerical identification of a similar class of products.

Column 2: The product or product class to which the restrictions apply is described in Column 2.

Column 3: The figures and symbols in Column 3 specify the amount of natural rubber, if any, that may be used in the listed products.

For product codes 1 through 8 and 14, 15, 16, 17, 23 and 24, the figures in Column 3 represent maximum percent of dry natural rubber and/or natural rubber latex to the total weight of new RHC. For product codes 9 through 13 and 18 through 22, such figures represent maximum percent of dry natural rubber and/or natural rubber latex to the total volume of the compound except where provided in Column 4 that the percent is expressed in terms of total weight of new RHC.

The figure "0" in Column 3 means that the use of dry natural rubber or natural rubber latex is prohibited except as may be provided in Column 4.

The symbol "X" in Column 3 means that dry natural rubber or natural rubber latex may be used in the minimum amount required except as may be provided in Column 4.

Column 4: The provisions in Column 4 are in some instances qualifications on the use of dry natural rubber or natural rubber latex as otherwise permitted by Column 3. These qualifications take precedence over Column 3 where there is any apparent inconsistency. Column 4 also contains the simplification and standardization provisions governing the manufacture of the product or product class. These latter provisions do not relate merely to the use of natural rubber but limit the lines, types, qualities, styles and colors in which the listed products may be manufactured with the use of any kind of rubber. There are no such limitations on the manufacture of listed products except as indicated in Column 4.

Code No. (1)	Product (2)	Percent natural rubber to total new RHC (3)	Special restrictions or provisions (4)
1	Pneumatic tires	(1)	The group average of any product in Code 1 may be exceeded, provided the aggregate natural rubber consumed in all products in this code does not exceed the total amount of natural rubber which would have been consumed if calculated on the maximum group averages for Code 1.
	Airplane tires	100	Max. individual tire—100%.
	Bicycle tires	13	Black side-wall construction only. Maximum individual tire—90%.
	Motorcycle tires	15	Black side-wall construction only. Maximum individual tire—90%.
	Passenger: Highway, mud-snow, taxi	----------	Passenger car tire production is restricted as follows: All types—black side-walls only. Standard tread depth highway tires—one line and one quality only. Extra tread depth highway tires—one line only; and no greater quantity may be produced by any manufacturer in any calendar quarter, in proportion to his total production of passenger car tires in that quarter, than the proportion of his extra depth highway passenger car tire production to his total passenger car tire production in the last 6 months of 1950. Special purpose tires—no more or different lines may be produced by any manufacturer than he was producing on Feb. 19, 1951.
	Thru 7.10 and 6.50	15	Max. individual tire—95%.
	Over 7.10 and 6.50	22	Max. individual tire—95%.
	Industrial pneumatic	13	Max. individual tire—95%.
	Tractor implement	13	Max. individual tire—95%. Restricted to one line of tires.
	Truck: Highway, heavy highway, traction, off-the-road trailer, flotation type, trailer type.		Truck tire production is restricted as follows: Standard tread depth highway tires—one line only. Extra tread depth highway tires—one line only. Special purpose tires—no more or different lines may be produced by any manufacturer than he was producing on Feb. 19, 1951.
	7.50 and under	38	Max. individual tire—95%.
	8.25 thru 9.00	75	Max. individual tire—99%.
	10.00 thru 12.00	90	Max. individual tire—99%.
	Over 12.00	92	Max. individual tire—99%.
2	Solid tires
	Airplane tires	XX
	Bogie, idler and support rollers	XX
	Pressed on	50
	Cured on, 4 x 1½ and up	50
3	Tire tubes:		Any color, but one color only, except that every tube containing butyl must be marked with one or more circumferential light blue stripes, applied on the base section of the tubes, any one of which stripes must be 3/16" minimum width. No other tube shall be so marked.
	Airplane	100
	Bicycle	5	Including valves.
	Industrial pneumatic	50
	Passenger	0
	Puncture seal	XX
	Safety tubes	XX
	Tractor implement	0
	Truck, 8.25 cross-section and under	0
	Above 8.25 and up to 14.00	5
	14.00 cross-section and over	80
4	Tire tube valves and curing bags:
	Tire tube valves (including repair valves)	X
	Tire tube valve inside washers	X
	Curing bags	50	May be averaged with groups in Code 1.
5	Tire flaps	----------	May be averaged with groups in Code 1.
	10.00 and up	100
	All others	50
6	Tire retreading materials:
	Air bags, full circle for retreading	X
	Camelback for airplane tires	100
	Camelback for 9.00 cross-sections and larger, in die sizes 6½" crown width and 15/32" ga. and up.	X
	Camelback, die sizes under 6½" crown width and under 15/32" ga.	0
	Camelback cushion gum	100	1/32" ga. max. for synthetic camelback.
	Padding stock	XX
	Stripping stock	XX
	Filler stock	XX
	Cushion repair gum	100
	Tread repair gum	XX
	Tire vulcanizing cement	XX
7	Tire and tube repair materials:
	Air bags, sectional	XX
	Bulk tire repair materials	XX
	Tire patches	XX
	Tube patches	XX
	Patching cement	XX
8	Tank blocks, treads and band tracks	XX

[1] Maximum group average.

Code No. (1)	Product (2)	Percent natural rubber by volume (3)	Special restrictions or provisions (4)
9	Belting: Belting must be manufactured in accordance with the following regulations: Rubber belting utilizing a solid woven carcass is permitted, provided such construction uses no more natural rubber than is permitted in laminated belting of equivalent size and thickness. Constructions using combinations of fabric and other reinforcing materials such as cord or wire are permitted provided total natural rubber does not exceed that which is used in an equivalent grade, cotton fabric ply construction belt.		Color black throughout, except where otherwise specified. No manufacturer shall produce by any single manufacturing process more than one line, type, quality or style for any one purpose. For interpretation of purpose in this Order the commonly accepted service classifications used by industry shall apply.
9-A	Conveyor and elevator belting:
	For severe service only	25
	For moderate service	15
	For hot material	X	Operating temp. 200° F. and over.
	For conveying unpackaged food materials and materials that would be discolored with black belts.	25	Black friction, amber or tan cover.
9-B	Misc. belt and related products:
	Hay baler	X
	Other agricultural implement	15
	Belt splicing and repair material	X
	Chute lining	25
	Conveyor skirting or skirt board	25
	Cigar machine aprons		Same restrictions as first grade flat transmission belt (Code 9-C).
	Concentrator belts	25
	Escalator hand rails	30
	Hatter belts	X
	Hog beater belts	40
	Last puller	20
	Package	25
	Paper machine aprons	25
	Paper making screen diaphragms	15
	Postal meter and letter opening feed belts	X
	Powder explosives	15
	Pulley lagging	25
	Rubber scrapers for conveyor belts	25
	Safety belts, linemen's	0	Color optional.
	Sling or lifting	25
	Special molded conveyor belts	X
	Street sweeper belts	25
	Tube winding	X	Tan or amber.
	Tobacco stemmer belts	X	Natural rubber color permitted.
	Molded discs for conveyor belt idlers	25
	Ozalid seals	X	Color optional.
9-C	Flat transmission belting		Natural rubber lb. maximum per 1,200 sq. in. per ply. Color of seaming strip optional.
	For severe service, or high speed or to operate over small pulleys		0.65 lbs.
	For moderate service		0.30 lbs.
	Hammermill belt		0.65 lbs.
	Axle generator belt		0.65 lbs.
	Rubber covers for above, maximum thickness 3/64"	10
	Sheeting type, slab belting		Color optional, one color only.
	Using fabric weighing between 10 and 16.50 oz. per sq. yd		0.65 lbs.
	Using fabric weighing less than 10 oz. per sq. yd		0.30 lbs.
9-D	"V" Belts		Percent based on total volume of belt. In determining belt volume, the published nominal cross-sectional dimensions shall be used where these exist and mold cross-sectional dimensions shall be used in all other cases. All belts black, except as otherwise specified. Buff color permitted for non-making and food handling.
	Fractional H. P.	20
	Household equipment	20
	Automotive:
	Passenger cars for pulley groove top width more than .500"	20
	Trucks under 1½ ton for pulley groove top width more than .500"	20
	Passenger and truck for pulley groove top width .500" or less	25
	Trucks 1½ tons and over	25
	Busses	25
	Police cars and taxis	25
	Airplane	25
	Stationery gas and diesel engines	25
	Industrial, including agricultural:
	Heavy duty	30
	Standard	30
	Speed changers	35
	Double "V"	5
	Open end	20
	Round belts	25
	Railroad axle-drive	50
10	Hose		All hose to be black throughout, except where specified. Color permitted in frictions, liners and cements to identify and differentiate between oil resisting and non-oil resisting rubbers. No manufacturer shall produce by any single manufacturing process more than one line, type, quality or style for any one purpose. For interpretation of purpose the commonly accepted service classifications used by industry shall apply.
10-A	Aircraft hose:
	Crash truck AAF 26511 (−65° F.)	X	Govt. or commercial plane use only.
	Ducts	X	Govt. or commercial plane use only.
	Oxygen hose	X	Govt. or commercial plane use only.
	Airbrake (20-147) (a)	5
	Aircraft hose not elsewhere listed	0
10-B	Automotive hose:
	Air brake	5
	Air cleaner	5
	Hydraulic actuating boot	X
	Car heater	0
	Coolant (radiator):
	Curved	15
	All other radiator	5
	Defroster	15
	Hydraulic brake, S. A. E. R-11	0
	Windshield wiper	5
	Vacuum brake	5
	Automotive hose not elsewhere listed	0
10-C	General industrial hose	X	All hose to be black throughout, except where specified.
	Acid	30
	Air and air tool: Air drill for mining and quarrying and heavy duty industrial	0	Red and green cover permitted on ¾" and under for identification purposes.
	Gas mask air hose	5	Buff colored tube and cover permitted.
	All other air hose not elsewhere listed	40
	Alcohol, beverage, brewers wine, vinegar, food and milk conveying	20
	Ammonia

Code No. (1)	Product (2)	Percent natural rubber by volume (3)	Special restrictions or provisions (4)
10-C	General industrial hose—Continued
	Arbor pipe forming	25
	Booster and chemical engine	10
	Braided cover tubing	0
	Cable covering, electric	30
	Cloth inserted tubing	5
	Coupling, flexible	5
	Creamery	20	Buff color cover permitted.
	Divers':
	Floating	X	Natural rubber color permitted.
	Sinking	5
	Dredging sleeves	40
	Expansion joints	40
	Fire:
	Cotton rubber lined and R. C	25
	Wrapped duck	25
	Fire engine suction:
	Hard	10
	Soft	25
	Fire extinguisher tubing	5
	Flanged flexible pipe	40
	Garden and lawn	0	Red and green cover permitted.
	Jetting	10
	Marine exhaust	0
	Material handling—including grain	40
	Cement and concrete	40
	Phosphate flexibles	40
	Rock dusting	40
	Insulation blowing	5
	Paint spray, fluid line	0	5% natural rubber by volume permitted when Thiokol is used.
	Paper mill hose	10
	Petroleum products:
	Gasoline service station	0
	Oil suction and discharge	15	Both rough and smooth bore permitted.
	Butane and propane	5
	Tank wagon	0
	All other not elsewhere listed	0
	Pinch valve	X
	Rotary drilling:
	Vibrator	15	Color stripe or band permitted.
	Mud suction	15
	Sand blast	X
	Sand placing and sand suction	40	20" and over I. D. X. natural rubber permitted.
	Shaft covering, flexible	5
	Spray, horticultural and car washing		For car washing service where pressure exceeds 250 P. S. I.
	Over 400 lbs. working pressure	5
	Under 400 lbs. working pressure	5
	Steam:
	Over 50 lbs. working pressure	X
	50 lbs. and under working pressure	20
	Steam ironing	X
	Suction, water:
	Hard rubber and rough bore	5
	Smooth bore up to 6"	10
	Smooth bore 6" and over	20
	Vacuum:
	Household, including hotels, office buildings, etc	25
	Industrial dust collector and blower exhaust	X
	Washing machine	0
	Water:
	Radiator filling	0
	Industrial:
	Severe service	10
	Moderate service	5
	Welding	5	Hose may be black, red, and/or green as required for safety identification.
	Hose not elsewhere listed	0
10-D	Railroad hose:
	Air brake and signal, M-601	20
	Air pneumatic tool, M-608	5
	Paint spray, M-610	5
	Pantograph	10
	Sand, M-615 and M-616	X
	Sand pipe nozzles	X
	Steam, hot water and car heat, M-605	X
	Tender tank, M-606	10
	Water, cold, M-604	5
	Welding, M-603	5	Hose cover may be black, red, and/or green as required for safety identification.
	Railroad hose not elsewhere listed	0
11	Packing and gaskets not elsewhere listed		Color optional. Restriction on one line, type, quality, and style do not apply
11-A	Packings without fabric or high percent of fiber, including sheet and also strip, discs, gaskets, rings, cups, U packings, V rings, O rings nonfabric diaphragms, etc., made by extruding, cutting, or molding:
	Below 45 durometer	0
	45 durometer and above	0
	Fire coupling gaskets	0
	Molded and extruded gaskets spliced endless after initial vulcanization.	0
	Electrical transformer sheet rubber for packing seals	40
	O rings for sliding contact against steam and chemicals	X
	Air brake gaskets	X
	Vulcanizer door gaskets	X
	All others not elsewhere listed	0
11-B	Packings with high fiber content sheet (generally known as "compressed asbestos sheet") and gaskets cut from same.	5	By weight.
	Molded gaskets, discs, rings, etc	5	By weight.
	Rod packing coil, spiral ring form (generally known as "rubber-bonded plastic packing").	5	By weight.
11-C	Packing with fabric or wire insertion sheet gasketing (generally known as "C. I. or B. W. I. Sheet") and gaskets cut from same:
	Cotton insert	5
	Wire insert	10
	Asbestos insert	25
	Rolled or molded gaskets:
	Cotton insert	25
	Asbestos insert	25
	Diaphragm sheet including diaphragms cut from same or molded:
	Supersensitive gas regulation	X
	Molded other than above	25
	Cut other than above	15

Code No. (1)	Product (2)	Percent natural rubber by volume (3)	Special restrictions or provisions (4)
11-C	Rectangular piston packing	70
	Rod packing including molded cups, U packings, and V rings:
	Cotton insert	25
	Asbestos insert	25
11-D	Valve and valve parts:
	Valve and valve discs—45 durometer and under	X
	Leaded ball valves	X
	All other valves and valve parts	0
11-E	Sealing compounds for food containers:
	Beverage container gaskets (molded, extruded or lathe-cut)	0
	Food container gaskets (extruded and lathe-cut)		15% natural rubber by weight of compound permitted.
	Gasket-lined home canning lids		5% natural rubber by weight of compound permitted.
	Jar rings, cut rings	25
	Molded stoppers for food and beverage containers	0
	Food closure gasket		30% natural rubber by weight of compound permitted for food gaskets formed and vulcanized in the closure.
	Sealing compounds, food closures and can ends ("flowed-in" type for glass and metal containers).	X	Natural rubber latex permitted.
12	Other mechanicals		All products in Code 12, color optional, unless otherwise specified. Restrictions on line, type, quality, and style do not apply.
12-A	Aircraft equipment:
	Boots, de-icer and integral parts including hose	X
	Bumpers	0
	Cords, alighting gear	X
	Conductive rubber parts	X
	Flexible couplings, functional	X
	Engine instrument mountings and vibration insulators	X
	Oxygen mask, pilot	0
	All parts 45 durometer or less	0
	All other parts not elsewhere listed
12-B	Automotive equipment:
	Windshield wiper blade	X
	Bumper—retaining and check (molded)	25
	Bumpers—functional:
	Suspension	25
	Crash	10
	Bushing:
	Suspension	X
	Torque rod	X
	Coupling—flexible	0
	Weatherstrips and body seals, extruded, under 50 durometer	X
	Weatherstrip, injection compound for splicing and forming	25
	Molded ventilator strips	10
	Glass run	X
	Crankshaft torsion dampers	40
	Transmission and engine mountings:
	50 durometer and over	X
	Under 50 durometer	0
	Body and chassis mountings:	0
	50 durometer and over	X
	Under 50 durometer	X
	Tail pipe insulator—under 50 durometer	25
	Torsion springs	25
	Grommet, core-molded-retaining, for dashboard insulation
	Fuel tank—filler neck seal	10	A color spray containing no natural rubber may be applied to one side. New rubber other than natural may be used in the spray.
	Mats:	15
	Contour, rear compartment only	0
	Sill with retaining buttons	0	A color spray containing no natural rubber may be applied to one side. New rubber other than natural may be used in the spray.
	All other automotive mats	X
	Cowl and dash liners	15
	Seal beam headlights	0
	Pads—N. I. with retaining buttons	0
	Fender flaps or splash guards	X
	Silencers—coil spring
	Rear spring seat insulator	X
	Tubing:

[NPA Order M-3, as Amended April 6, 1951]

M-3—Columbium- and Tantalum-Bearing Steels—Production and Use

Editorial Note: The following is a complete restatement of NPA Order M-3, embodying all changes effected by the amendment to said Order M-3 as published in the Federal Register, April 10, 1951, 16 F. R. 3118.

This order as amended is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the authority granted by section 101 of the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this order as amended there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations.

This amendment affects NPA Order M-3, as amended March 15, 1951, by amending section 2; redesignating sections 5 to 9, inclusive, as sections 6 to 10, inclusive, respectively; and adding a new section designated as section 5. As so amended this order reads as follows:

Sec.
1. What this order does.
2. DO ratings required.
3. Use of substitutes.
4. Restrictions.
5. Conservation of scrap.
6. Exceptions.
7. Application for adjustment or exception.
8. Communications.
9. Records and reports.
10. Violations.

Authority: Sections 1 to 10 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

Section 1. What this order does. This order applies to columbium- and tantalum-bearing steels and to the producers, dealers and users thereof. In view of the fact that columbium, ferro-columbium and ferro-columbium-tantalum are in short supply, it is essential that the production, distribution and use of columbium- and tantalum-bearing steels be limited to DO rated orders and NPA directives. This order, in addition, prohibits the use of columbium-bearing steels in any application or process where columbium - tantalum - bearing steels may be used as a substitute for columbium-bearing steels; forbids the use of either if the use of any other substitute will meet the requirements of the use to be made of the material; and restricts the use of columbium and tantalum in the production of steel.

Sec. 2. DO ratings required. Except as may be otherwise ordered by NPA, no columbium- or columbium-tantalum-bearing steels shall be produced, sold, delivered, or purchased except pursuant to DO rated orders or NPA directives: Provided, That with respect to columbium- or columbium-tantalum-bearing steels, the rating DO-01 shall be valid for deliveries on and after July 1, 1951, only when supported by a certification that delivery of the quantity specified as and when ordered has been approved and authorized by the Aircraft Production Resources Agency. Such certification shall be as follows:

Certified as approved by APRA.

Such certification shall constitute a representation by the purchaser to the supplier and to NPA that the purchaser has been duly authorized by the Aircraft Production Resources Agency to accept delivery of such steel, and is entitled to accept such delivery as permitted in this order.

The certification required by this section shall be in addition to the certification required by NPA Reg. 2.

Sec. 3. Use of substitutes. No columbium-bearing steel shall be used or incorporated in any product or material if columbium-tantalum-bearing steel will meet the requirements for the use to be made of the product or material. In no case shall any columbium- or columbium-tantalum-bearing steel be used or incorporated in any product or material if any substitute therefor will meet the requirements for the use to be made of the product or material.

Sec. 4. Restrictions. No person shall produce any columbium- or columbium-tantalum-bearing steel if the material specifications for the same require the ratio between columbium (or columbium-tantalum) and carbon to be greater than eight to one as a minimum.

Sec. 5. Conservation of scrap. No person shall dispose of any columbium- or columbium-tantalum-bearing scrap which is fit for remelting except for use in the production of columbium- or columbium-tantalum-bearing steel.

Sec. 6. Exceptions. This order shall not prohibit the completion of the production and the delivery of materials or products containing columbium or tantalum in any form previously ordered and accepted, which by reason of the condition or nature of the materials or products cannot, without excessive loss of yield, be used in connection with DO rated orders, nor shall it prohibit the use, in filling DO rated orders, of columbium-bearing steel or columbium-tantalum-bearing steel held at the effective date of this order, as amended, in the inventory of a producer or fabricator of steel products.

Sec. 7. Application for adjustment or exception. Any person affected by any provision of this order may file an application for an adjustment or exception upon the ground that such provision works an exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others, or that its enforcement against him would not be in the interest of the national defense program. All such applications should be addressed to National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M-3.

Sec. 8. Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M-3.

Sec. 9. Records and reports. (a) Each person participating in any transaction covered by this order shall retain in his possession for at least 2 years records of receipts, deliveries, inventories, and use, in sufficient detail to permit an audit that determines for each transaction that the provisions of this order have been met. This does not specify any particular accounting method and does not require alteration of the system of records customarily maintained, provided such records supply an adequate basis for audit. Records may be retained in the form of microfilm or other photographic copies instead of the originals.

(b) All records required by this order shall be made available at the usual place of business where maintained for inspection and audit by duly authorized representatives of the National Production Authority.

(c) Persons subject to this order shall make such records and submit such reports to the National Production Authority as it shall require, subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act. (Pub. Law 831, 77th Cong., 5 U. S. C. 139–139F).

Sec. 10. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or any other order or regulation of NPA or wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information in the course of operation under this order is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against such person to suspend his privileges of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

This order as amended shall take effect on April 6, 1951.

Issued: April 5, 1951.

National Production Authority,
[SEAL] Manly Fleischmann,
Administrator.

[NPA Order M-12 as amended April 9, 1951]

M-12—Use of Copper and Copper-Base Alloys

This order, as amended, is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this order, there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations.

This amendment affects NPA Order M-12 by adding a new paragraph (d) to section 9. As so amended, NPA Order M-12 reads as follows:

Sec.
1. What this order does.
2. Definitions.
3. Copper forms and products to which this order applies.
4. Application of order.
5. Production of brass mill products, copper wire mill products, and foundry products.
6. Use of copper forms and products.
7. Prohibited uses of copper.
8. Maintenance, repair, and operating supplies.
9. Exemptions.
10. Inventories.
11. Restrictions on delivery.
12. Applications for adjustment.
13. Records and reports.
14. Communications.
15. Violations.

Authority: Sections 1 to 15 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

Section 1. What this order does. The purpose of this order is to describe how the copper remaining after allowing for the requirements of national defense may be distributed and used in the civilian economy. It is the policy of the National Production Authority that copper and articles made of copper, not required to fill rated orders, shall be distributed equitably through normal channels of distribution, and that due regard shall be given by suppliers to the needs of new and small business. It is the intent of this order that other materials which are not in short supply shall be substituted for copper and copper-base alloy wherever possible.

Sec. 2. Definitions. As used in this order:

(a) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons and includes any agency of the United States or any other government.

(b) "Base period" means the 6-month period ending June 30, 1950.

(c) "Manufacture" means to put into process, machine, incorporate into products, fabricate, or otherwise alter the forms and products of copper defined in section 3 by physical or chemical means, and includes the use of copper in plating.

(d) "Maintenance" means the minimum upkeep necessary to continue a building, machine, piece of equipment, or facility in sound working condition, and "repair" means the restoration of a building, machine, piece of equipment, or facility to sound working condition when the same has been rendered unsafe or unfit for service by wear and tear, damage, failure of parts, or the like: Provided, however, That neither maintenance nor repair includes the improvement of any such item with materials of a better kind, quality, or design.

(e) "Operating supplies" means any copper or copper-base alloy forms or products listed in section 3 of this order which are normally carried by a person as operating supplies according to established accounting practice and are not included in his finished product, except that materials included in such product which are normally chargeable to operating expense may be treated as operating supplies.

Sec. 3. Copper forms and products to which this order applies. This order applies to the following forms and products of copper: Copper, copper-base alloy, brass mill products, copper wire mill products, and foundry copper products and copper-base alloy products. For the purpose of this order, these items are defined as follows:

(a) "Copper" means unalloyed copper. (It includes electrolytic copper, fire refined copper, and all unalloyed copper in any form including scrap.)

(b) "Copper-base alloy" means any alloy in the composition of which the percentage of copper metal by weight equals or exceeds 40 percent of the total weight of the alloy. (It shall include fired and demilitarized cartridge and artillery cases, and all copper-base alloy, as specified above, in any form including scrap.) It does not include alloyed gold produced in accordance with U. S. Commercial standard CS67-38.

(c) "Brass mill product" means sheet, including strip and plate; rod, including bars, forgings (rough as forged), and extruded shapes; wire; or tube, including pipe; made from copper or copper-base alloy. This does not include copper wire mill products.

(d) "Copper wire mill product" means bare wire, insulated wire and cable whatever the outer protective coverings may be, and uninsulated wire and cable, where the conductors are made from copper, copper-base alloy, or copper-clad steel containing over 20 percent copper by weight. All copper wire mill products should be measured in terms of pounds of copper content.

(e) "Foundry products" means cast copper and copper-base alloy shapes or forms suitable for ultimate use without remelting, rolling, drawing, extruding, or forging. (Includes the removal of gates, risers, and sprues, and sandblasting, tumbling, or dipping, but excludes any further machining or processing.)

Sec. 4. Application of order. Subject to the exemptions stated in section 9, this order applies to all persons who produce brass mill products, copper wire mill products, or foundry products as listed in section 3 of this order, or who use any of the forms and products of copper defined in paragraphs (a), (b), (c), (d), and (e) of section 3 for the purpose of manufacture, use in installation or construction, or for maintenance, repair, or operating supplies. This order also contains limitations on the use of such copper forms and products in the manufacture or assembly of certain items. This order does not apply to persons who use copper or copper-base alloy in the production of other metals or metal alloys.

SEC. 5. Production of brass mill products, copper wire mill products, and foundry products. Subject to the exemptions stated in section 9 of this order or unless specifically directed by the National Production Authority:

	Percent
January 1951	85
February 1951	85
March 1951	80

During the calendar quarter commencing on April 1, 1951, no person shall produce a total quantity by weight of brass mill products and copper wire mill products in excess of 80 percent of his average quarterly production of such products during the base period: Provided, however, That such production in any 1 month shall not exceed 40 percent of the permitted quarterly production. The production of brass mill products and copper wire mill products, pursuant to a valid toll or conversion agreement or other arrangement whereby title to the material to be processed remains vested in the person who delivers it, is permitted in addition to the production permitted by this paragraph. In determining average monthly production during the base period, the brass mill products and copper wire mill products so produced shall not be included in the base period production of the brass mill or wire mill. Nothing contained in this paragraph shall affect the restrictions on toll and other similar agreements contained in NPA Order M-16.

(b) During each of the calendar quarters commencing on January 1, 1951, and April 1, 1951, no person shall produce a total quantity by weight of foundry products in excess of 100 percent of his average quarterly production of foundry products during the base period.

SEC. 6. Use of copper forms and products. Subject to the exemptions stated in section 9 of this order, or unless specifically directed by the National Production Authority, no person shall use in manufacture, installation or construction:

(a) During December 1950, a total quantity by weight of the forms and products of copper defined in paragraphs (a), (b), (c), (d) and (e) of section 3 of this order in excess of 100 percent of his average monthly use of such material in October and November 1950.

(b) During the following months a total quantity by weight of the forms and products of copper defined in paragraphs (a), (b), (c), and (d) of section 3 (including copper forms and products produced under toll and conversion agreements or other similar arrangements) in excess of the percentages specified with respect to each month of his average monthly use of such material during the base period:

	Percent
January 1951	85
February 1951	85
March 1951	80

(c) During the calendar quarter commencing on April 1, 1951, a total quantity by weight of the forms and products of copper defined in paragraphs (a), (b), (c), and (d) of section 3 (including copper forms and products produced under toll and conversion agreements or other similar arrangements) in excess of 75 percent of his average quarterly use of such copper during the base period: Provided, however, That such use in any 1 month shall not exceed 40 percent of the permitted use.

(d) During each of the calendar quarters commencing on January 1, 1951, and April 1, 1951, a total quantity by weight of foundry products in excess of 100 percent of his average quarterly use of such products during the base period: Provided, however, That in cases where a foundry product in the form of a casting is owned by one person and machined pursuant to a contractual agreement by another person, it shall be considered that the owner used the casting in manufacture.

SEC. 7. Prohibited uses of copper. (a) Commencing on March 1, 1951, no person shall use copper in the forms and products defined in section 3 of this order, or any component part made therefrom, in the manufacture or assembly of any item included in attached List A, except as permitted therein; and no person shall use in the manufacture or assembly of any item, whether or not included in List A, a greater quantity or better grade of such materials than is necessary for functional or operational purposes, or use such materials solely for decorative or ornamental purposes. However, these prohibitions shall not apply to such use of: (1) Any such copper forms and products, or component parts made therefrom, on or after March 1, 1951, if such materials were contained in such person's inventory on said date and are wholly unsuitable for use in the manufacture or assembly by such person of any item not included in List A; or (2) any such materials covered by an order placed with a producer and included in the producer's schedule for February 1951, which are delivered to such person at his plant prior to April 1, 1951, to the extent that such materials are wholly unsuitable for use in manufacture or assembly by such person of any item not included in List A. Every person who relies on the provisions of the next preceding sentence shall prepare a detailed record showing: (A) The quantities of such copper forms and products, and component parts made therefrom, which were contained in his inventory on the first days of December 1950, and of January, February and March 1951, and which were wholly unsuitable for use in his manufacture or assembly of any item not included in List A; and (B) the quantities of such materials wholly unsuitable for such use which were delivered to him on or after March 1, 1951, the names and addresses of the suppliers thereof, and the dates of the orders and acceptances covering such materials together with the applicable mill schedule. Such record shall be retained for at least 2 years and shall be made available at the usual place of business where maintained for inspection and audit by duly authorized representatives of the National Production Authority.

(b) Commencing on April 1, 1951, no person shall use copper in the forms and products defined in section 3, or any component part made therefrom, in the manufacture or assembly of any item included in attached List B, except as permitted therein. However, this prohibition shall not apply to such use of: (1) Any such copper forms and products, or component parts made therefrom, on or after April 1, 1951, if such materials were contained in such person's inventory on said date and are wholly unsuitable for use in the manufacture or assembly by such person of any item not included in List A or List B; or (2) any such materials that have been covered by any order placed with a producer which were included in the producer's schedule for March 1951, and are delivered to such person at his plant prior to May 1, 1951, to the extent that such materials are wholly unsuitable for use in manufacture or assembly by such person of any item not included in List A or List B. Every person who relies on the provisions of the next preceding sentence shall prepare a detailed record showing: (A) The quantities of such copper forms and products, and component parts made therefrom, which were contained in his inventory on the first days of January, February, March and April 1951, and which were wholly unsuitable for use in his manufacture or assembly of any item not included in List B; and (B) the quantities of such materials wholly unsuitable for such use which were delivered to him on or after April 1, 1951, the names and addresses of the suppliers thereof, and the dates of the orders and acceptances covering such materials, together with the applicable mill schedule. Such record shall be retained for at least 2 years and shall be made available at the usual place of business where maintained for inspection and audit by duly authorized representatives of the National Production Authority.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, copper or copper-base alloy may be used: (1) For plating any item included in List A or List B, or any component part thereof, where such plating is an undercoat for chromium, nickel, gold or silver; or (2) for brazing any item, or component part thereof, included in List A or List B.

(d) During February 1951, no person shall use in the manufacture or assembly of the items included in attached List A a total quantity by weight of the copper forms or products defined in paragraphs (a), (b), (c) and (d) of section 3, or any component part made therefrom, in excess of 85 percent, or of the foundry products defined in paragraph (e) of said section, or any component part made therefrom, in excess of 100 percent of his average monthly use of such materials for such purposes during the base period. During March 1951, the same limitations shall apply to the manufacture or assembly of the items included in attached List B, except that the percentage limitation as to the copper forms and products defined in paragraphs (a), (b), (c) and (d) of section 3 shall be 80 percent instead of 85 percent. To the extent that manufacture or assembly of the items on attached List A or List B is permitted under paragraphs (a) or (b) of this section, the limitations of section 6 of this order, shall also apply during March 1951 and each succeeding month.

(e) Commencing on April 1, 1951, no person shall use in construction any brass mill product as such for any item included in List A or List B except as permitted therein.

(f) The following items included in List A or List B shall be exempt from the application of this section if they are used on vessels other than pleasure craft: (1) Furnishings, fittings, and fixtures when located within the sphere of magnetic compasses; and (2) builders' hardware, building materials and snap hooks where the properties supplied by copper are essential and satisfactory substitutes not available.

(g) The prohibitions of this section apply notwithstanding the provisions of NPA Reg. 2 with respect to the filling of rated orders and are not affected by any of the exemptions stated in section 9 of this order: Provided, however, That such provisions of NPA Reg. 2 and paragraphs (a) and (b) of section 9 apply to such items included in attached List A or List B as are specifically designated as being permitted for the use of the Armed Forces of the United States, including the United States Coast Guard.

(h) Any component parts of items included in List A or List B which are manufactured or assembled within the limitations of paragraphs (a) or (b) of this section may be sold at any time and the purchaser thereof may assemble these component parts into items included in List A or List B at any time provided these component parts are wholly unsuitable for use in the production, manufacture, or assembly of any item not prohibited by this section.

SEC. 8. Maintenance, repair, and operating supplies. Unless specifically directed by the National Production Authority, during the calendar quarter commencing on January 1, 1951, and each calendar quarter thereafter, no person shall use for maintenance, repair, and operating supplies a quantity by weight of the forms and products of copper defined in paragraphs (a), (b), (c), (d), and (e) of section 3 of this order, in excess of 100 percent of his average quarterly use for such purposes during the base period.

SEC. 9. Exemptions. (a) The production of brass mill, copper wire mill, and foundry products and the use of such products is permitted to fill rated orders, or to meet any mandatory order of the National Production Authority, in addition to the production and use permitted by the provisions of sections 5, 6, and 8 of this order.

(b) Copper forms and products defined in section 3 acquired with ratings, or to meet a National Production Authority scheduled program may be used in addition to the quantities permitted by the provisions of sections 6 and 8.

(c) The provisions of sections 6 and 8 do not apply to persons who use less than 1,000 lbs. of the copper forms and products defined in section 3 during any calendar quarter: Provided, however, That persons who by reason of the provisions of sections 6 and 8 would be permitted to use less than 1,000 lbs. during any calendar quarter, may use, during such period, a quantity up to 1,000 lbs.

(d) Procurement and use by electric utilities of copper wire mill products, brass mill products, and foundry products are subject to NPA Order M-50 and are accordingly exempt from this order.

SEC. 10. Inventories. (a) In addition to the provisions of NPA Reg. 1 relating to inventory controls, it is considered that a more exact requirement applying to producers of brass mill products, copper wire mill products, and foundry products, and to users of the copper forms and products defined in section 3 of this order is necessary.

(b) No person producing brass mill products, copper wire mill products, or foundry products may receive or accept delivery of copper or copper-base alloy if his inventory is, or by such receipt would become, in excess of that necessary to meet his deliveries or supply his services on the basis of his scheduled method and rate of operation pursuant to this order during the succeeding 45-day period, or in excess of a "practicable minimum working inventory" (as defined in NPA Reg. 1), whichever is less.

(b) No person obtaining copper forms or products defined in section 3 for use in manufacture, installation, or construction, or for maintenance, repair, or operating supplies, may receive or accept delivery of a quantity of such forms and products if his inventory is, or by such receipt would become, in excess of that necessary to meet his deliveries or supply his services on the basis of his scheduled method and rate of operation pursuant to this order during the succeeding 60-day period, or in excess of a "practicable minimum working inventory" (as defined in NPA Reg. 1), whichever is less.

(d) For the purpose of this section, any copper forms and products defined in section 3, in which minor changes or alterations have been effected, shall be included in inventory. NPA Reg. 1 will apply to all such forms and products except as modified by this section.

SEC. 11. Restrictions on delivery. (a) No person shall deliver any of the forms and products of copper defined in section 3 of this order, if he knows or has reason to believe that his customer may not accept delivery of such materials under this order or will use such materials in violation of this order.

(b) No person shall deliver any copper forms or products defined in section 3 unless the purchaser shall have furnished to the seller a signed certification as follows:

> The undersigned, subject to statutory penalties, certifies that acceptance of delivery and use by the undersigned of the copper forms or products herein ordered will not be in violation of NPA Order M-12.

This certification constitutes a representation by the purchaser to the seller and to the National Production Authority that delivery of such copper forms or products may be accepted by the purchaser under this order, and that such materials will not be used by the purchaser in violation of this order.

(c) The certification required by paragraph (b) of this section shall not be required in connection with the delivery of copper forms and products (1) to the General Services Administration for the stockpile of strategic materials; (2) to purchasers where delivery is made prior to April 1, 1951, pursuant to an order received prior to February 19, 1951; (3) to purchasers of quantities weighing 25 pounds or less; (4) to purchasers in foreign countries; or (5) in connection with the delivery of scrap.

SEC. 12. Applications for adjustment. Any person affected by any provision of this order may file a request for adjustment or exception upon the ground that his business operation was commenced during or after the base period, or because any provision otherwise works an undue or exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry, or its enforcement against him would not be in the interest of the national defense or in the public interest. In considering requests for adjustment claiming that the public interest is prejudiced by the application of any provision of this order, consideration will be given to the requirements of the public health and safety, civilian defense, and dislocation of labor and resulting unemployment that would impair the defense program. Producers shall make such application on Form NPAF-11, "Copper and Copper-Base Alloys: Producer's Application for Adjustment or Exception." Users shall make application on Form NPAF-12, "Copper Forms and Products: User's Application for Adjustment or Exception." Copies of these forms may be obtained from the nearest Department of Commerce Field Office.

SEC. 13. Records and reports. (a) Persons subject to this order shall preserve the records which they have maintained of production, inventories, receipts, deliveries, and uses of copper forms and products defined in section 3 of this order commencing with January 1, 1950.

(b) Persons subject to this order shall make records and submit such reports to the National Production Authority as it shall require subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act (Pub. Law 831, 77th Cong., 5 U. S. C. 139-139F).

SEC. 14. Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to the National Production

Authority, Washington 25, D. C. Ref: M–12.

SEC. 15. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provisions of this order or any other order or regulation of the National Production Authority or who wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information in the course of operation under this order is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against any such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

This order as amended, including Lists A and B, shall take effect, except as otherwise specifically stated, on April 9, 1951.

NATIONAL PRODUCTION AUTHORITY,
[SEAL] MANLY FLEISCHMANN,
Administrator.

LIST A

(See section 7)

The use of the forms and products of copper defined in section 3 and of any component parts made therefrom in the items listed below (excluding repair parts) is prohibited except to the extent permitted in the order or the list: Provided, however, That such material may be used in such items included in the list as are marked with an asterisk in cases where such items are to be used by the Armed Forces of the United States, including the United States Coast Guard.

BUILDERS' HARDWARE

Protective brass plating of all listed items of builders' hardware is permitted where other types of finishes are not practicable.
Butts, hinges and related items.
Checking floor closers, overhead concealed, semi-concealed and surface door closers (except gland nuts, regulating screw assemblies, and fusible links).
Closers, hanging brackets for.
Closers, screen door.
Cabinet hardware, including cabinet hinges.
Hangers, track and related items including:
Sliding door hardware.
Folding door hardware.
Sliding-folding door hardware.
Folding partition hardware.
Upward acting door hardware.
Fire door hardware (except bearings and fusible links).
Hardware for sash, screen, transom and casement and other shelf hardware items.
Locks, lock trim (except for cylinder assemblies and keys, for essential working parts of locks and latches, for faces of locks and latches and for trim of cylinder lock sets).
Spring hinges.
Sash balances.
Door holding devices.
Kick plates.
Push plates.
Door pulls.
Push bars.
House numbers.
Door knockers.
Letter boxes.
Nameplates.

BUILDING MATERIALS

Anchors and dowels (except window cleaner's safety anchors).
Bands on pipe insulation.
Bathtub enclosures and shower enclosures.
Blinds, including fixtures and fittings (except where essential for operating parts).
Caulking anchors.
Cement flooring and composition flooring (except that crude arsenical copper precipitate may be used for flooring in hospital operating and anesthesia rooms, for places where explosives are handled or stored and for places where explosive vapors may be present).
Chimneys and flues.
Conduits (except instrument assemblies).
Cornices.
Door sills.
Door frames.
Doors.
Downspouts and accessories thereto.
Drains (except strainer grids for showers and urinals).
Drip pans.
Elevators and escalators (except for worm gears and parts for conducting electricity).
Escutcheons and plates for floor, ceiling and wall use.
Fences and gates.
Food waste disposal units (except current-carrying parts, bearings, controls, impellers and sink strainers).
Gratings.
Grids (except for flooring in hospital operating rooms and anesthesia rooms, and for places where explosives are handled or stored and for places where explosive vapors may be present).
Grilles and shields, including fresh air inlet boxes and radiator and convector enclosures.
Gutters and accessories thereto.
Holdback hooks for curtains.
I. P. S. waste nipples.
Lavatory legs (except for hospital use).
Leaders and accessories thereto.
Linoleum stripping.
Louvres.
Marquees.
Metal siding.
Mouldings for joining cabinet sinks.
Ornamental metal work; including grille work, railings, and fittings.
Pipe, iron pipe sizes and fittings (except for industrial process piping and chemical and gas equipment and except for solder nipples, solder bushing and ferrules).
Radiator covers and shields.
Railings and fittings.
Reglets, moulding and trim.
Rim protectors for fixtures.
Robe hooks.
Roofing.
Roofing nails (except staples, clips and similar devices designed for the purpose of protecting shingles, flashings and siding against wind damage).
Shower curtain rods and bars (except for hospitals).
Shower door frames.
Shower goosenecks.
Skylights.
Stair and threshold treads, nosing and edgings.
Store fronts.
Straps and hangers for pipe supports.
Supply pipes, iron pipe sizes.
Switch plates.
Tanks for automatic storage water heaters.
Traps (except tube traps in 20 gauge without cleanouts and except traps cast from secondary metal).
Thresholds and saddles.
Towel bars and brackets.
Tube, tubing and fittings for piping systems in construction (except for Type K for underground water service connections; Types B, L, and M for domestic hot and cold water supply pipes, tank to oil burner hook-ups, and oxygen lines; Types B, K, L, and M for industrial process, food, chemical and gas equipment piping; and seamless tube for air temperature control apparatus).
Unit heaters, unit ventilators, unit ventilator inlet wall boxes and convectors, and blast heating coils, or any apparatus using such coils as part of its construction (except for valves, controls, fins, bearings or parts necessary for conducting electricity, and for water or steam courses and headers).
Ventilators.
Vents.
Weatherstripping.
Window frames.
Window sills.
Windows.

BURIAL EQUIPMENT

Burial urns.
Burial vaults.
Caskets and casket hardware (except copper or brass flash plate treatment necessary to prevent corrosion during period of manufacture and warehousing).
Memorial tablets.

CLOTHING AND DRESS ACCESSORIES, NOT INCLUDING SAFETY EQUIPMENT

Artificial flowers.
*Buckles and shoe buckles (except for foundation garments where strength, launderability and non-corrosiveness are essential).
*Buttons (except front shells of uniform buttons for police, firemen, guards, railroad and other transportation employees and similar uniforms, the backs to be made of steel with rust resistant plating; and work clothing and other utility (closure) purposes where launderability and non-corrosiveness are essential, provided that all strictly decorative and out-size buttons are eliminated).
Dress ornaments and trimmings.
*Fittings: belt, corset, garter, glove, hand bag, purse, suspender, luggage and supporter (except for foundation garments and sanitary belts where launderability and non-corrosiveness are essential).
*Insignia and decorations (awards).
*Metal clothes, laces, tassels, braids, embroidery, ribbons.
Millinery accessories and frames.
*Snaps, snap buttons, and hooks and eyes (except (1) irrespective of weight, in industrial safety clothing, work clothing and foundation garments; (2) for complete fasteners weighing 5 pounds or less per thousand units, on other wearing apparel exclusive of belts, suspenders, gloves, footwear, and other dress accessories, and billfolds, luggage, wallets and key cases; and (3) except for wire springs contained in snaps and snap buttons weighing in excess of 5 pounds per thousand complete units).

FURNISHINGS AND EQUIPMENT

Andirons, fireplace screens and fittings.
Candlesticks.
Curtain fasteners, rods and rings.
Cuspidors.
Gas heater and stove installation connections (except for high pressure LPG connections from tank to fixture).
Lamp shades.
Mops.
Mud scrapers.
Scrubbing boards.
Space heaters, flue connected and non-flue connected (except valves, controls and parts necessary for proper operation or for conducting electricity).
Stoves and ranges of all fuels for household cooking use (except valves, compression fittings, controls including timers, thermostats and parts for conducting electricity or necessary for safe operation).
Trays.
Upholsterers' supplies, including nails and tacks.
Vases, pitchers, bowls, and artcraft (except scientific laboratory).
Washing tubs and washing boilers.
Waste baskets, humidors and similar items.

FURNITURE AND FIXTURES

Barber shop and beauty parlor furniture.
Household furniture.
Mattresses and bedsprings (except hospital).
Partitions and shelving (except hospital and laboratory).
Public building and office furniture.
Reed and rattan furniture.
Restaurant furniture.
Venetian blinds (except where essential for operating parts).

HARDWARE, MISCELLANEOUS

Collars and other harness for pets.
Cutlery, table, kitchen, butcher and meat packing (except rivets and knife assemblies in matching silver-plated flatwear sets).
Fireplace fixtures and equipment.
Furniture (except in cylinder assemblies and keys and for essential working parts of locks).
Hand saw screws, nuts and washers for attaching saw blades to the handles.
Hand service tools, including hammers, pliers, wrenches, screw drivers, etc. (except essential parts of spiral ratchet and ratchet screw drivers and drills; hand and breast drills and bit braces; soldering irons; and blow-torches; except nonsparking tools necessary to prevent explosion hazards; and except portable spot welders).
Passenger transportation equipment, decorative hardware and ornamental metal work and trim and general hardware (except for locks).
Pleasure boat decorative hardware.
Pocket knives (except rivets and lining assemblies).
Puttying and scraping knives (except rivets).
*Saddlery and harness hardware (except for brass protective plating).
Scissors, shears, hedge and other trimmers, tinners and other snips.
Stairs and threshold treads and edgings.
Trunk and luggage hardware (except for brass protective plating and except in cylinder assemblies and keys and for essential working parts of locks).

HOUSEHOLD ELECTRICAL APPLIANCES

(Except for operational parts where the properties supplied by the copper are essential or where necessary for electrical conductivity)

Household electrical appliances including but not limited to:

Laundry equipment.
Vacuum cleaners.
Refrigerators.
Floor and furniture polishers.
Food mixers.
Electric irons.
Hair driers.
Toasters.

JEWELRY, GIFTS, AND NOVELTIES

All jewelry (except operational attachments such as screw and snap posts; cam assemblies; wire pegs; screws and/or rivets; spring pins for wrist watches; catches and pin stems; and copper seal interlinings to prevent "bleeding" of silver through gold); gifts and novelties, including but not limited to:

Book ends.
Jewelry and instrument cases, including cosmetic.
Lighters (except necessary operational parts).
*Medals and emblems, including decorations (except religious goods).
Mirror and picture frames.
Napkin rings.
Smokers' accessories, including ash trays and humidors.
Souvenirs.

CIVILIAN TYPE MOTOR VEHICLE: PASSENGER AUTOMOBILES INCLUDING TAXICABS, STATION WAGONS, AMBULANCES, HEARSES, TRUCKS, TRUCK TRACTORS, TRUCK TRAILERS, MOTORCYCLES AND BUSSES

Decorative mouldings, both internal and external (except for glass run channels, window-glass frames, external windshield and rear window external mouldings where such mouldings are produced from strip 6 inches or narrower).
Defrosters and heaters (except (1) for conducting electricity and (2) radiators (heat exchangers) and supply and return hot water lines and (3) parts used in the operating controls of the heating and defrosting systems).
Gas tank caps (except valves and springs).
Horns (except parts for diaphragms, vibrators and conducting electricity).
Lighters (except parts for conducting electricity).
Lights, lamps, headlamps, and lighting accessories (except for doors, bezels, adjusting and attaching screws, retaining rings, copper flash plating on reflectors and parts for conducting electricity including light bulbs).
Motor vehicle hardware (except door handles, ventilator and regulator handles for windows and doors, working parts for locks, ventilator window latches, external lock cylinder caps and covers, external windshield wiper arm and blade assemblies and screw).
Rear-view mirrors and brackets (except copper flash plating on mirrors).
Smokers' accessories, including ash trays.
Wheel discs and wheel trim rings.

PASSENGER TRANSPORTATION EQUIPMENT

(Including railroad cars, street and interurban cars, busses, and trailers, but excluding locomotives)

All items under the heading "Furnishings and Equipment".
Bands on pipe coverings.
Door knockers, checks, pulls and stops.
Doors and windows, door and window frames and window sills.
Drinking water reservoirs.
Shower rods and pans.
Sinks and drainboards.
Towel and luggage racks.
Water containers for humidification.
Weatherstripping and insulation.

MISCELLANEOUS

Alarm and protective systems (except parts for conducting electricity or where essential to the proper service or functioning of the parts).
Antique reproductions.
Arch supports.
Atomizers (except for medicinal purposes and for use in the preparation of dried milk and dried eggs).
Barrels, boxes, cans, jars, and other containers.
*Badges (except for use by personnel where badges are required for protection and security by Government agencies or by industrial plants).
Bar and counter equipment and fittings.
Barber shop equipment and supplies (except for current-carrying parts).
Barrel hooks.
Bathroom accessories (including grab bars, tumbler holders, tooth brush holders, paper holders, and shelf brackets).
Beauty parlor equipment and supplies (except for replacement parts of commercial permanent wave equipment and commercial hair driers and for current-carrying parts).
Bicycles, and similar vehicles and equipment therefor (except valves for bicycle tires and tubes and except plating of operational parts).
Binoculars (except precision types) and opera glasses.
Bird and pet cages and stands.
Branding, marking, and labeling devices and stock for same (except engraved burning branding dies, and except where the devices and the stock are for affixing governmental, notarial and corporate seals).
Bronze ink (except use in the graphic arts industry where bronze ink and powder are an integral part of product identification and whose normal replating is less frequent than one year).
Brushes (except for the types used in electric motors and generators; and except for industrial brushes and tooth brushes).
Carpet rods.
Chimes and bells (except parts for conducting electricity or where non-magnetic gong material is required for electrically operated signaling devices used as adjuncts to communication systems and except bells for use on board ship where essential to the proper functioning of the parts).
Clips, paper.
Cleaning and polishing accessories, such as brooms, carpet sweepers, crumbing sets, dust pans, mops, pot scourers, whisk brooms and floor and furniture polishers.
Clock cases (except for marine use).
Clothes line pulleys and reels.
Cocktail shakers.
Coin-operated game and gambling machines (except tumblers for locks and current-carrying parts).
Coin-operated vending machines (except necessary operational parts and current-carrying parts).
Cooking utensils (except gauges and protective devices and plating of bottoms).
Daubers for shoe polish.
Dispensers, hand, for hand lotions, paper products, soap and straws (except for hospitals).
Flower pots, boxes and holders for same.
Fountain pens (except necessary operational parts).
Furniture grommets.
Garden tools and equipment (except for functional parts).
Hair curlers, hair brushes and combs (except for heat-carrying parts and for electrical conductivity).
Ice cream freezers for use in the home (except electric).
Juke boxes (except for current-carrying parts).
Kitchen utensils, devices and machines (except electrical appliances).
Lace tips.
Lamps, portable electric (except for current-carrying parts).
Lamps and lanterns, other than electric (except for generators, valves, controls, burners, wicks and founts).
Letter boxes and mail chutes.
Lighting fixtures (except (1) current-carrying parts, plating, rivets, eyelets, screws, small fasteners; (2) the threaded parts, clamping, sealing or attachment devices of exterior, explosion-proof, dust-tight and vapor-tight fixtures; (3) Marine and airport).
Loose-leaf binders.
Manicure implements.
Match and pattern plates, matrices, and flasks.
Mattress buttons and furniture glides.
Name plates (except instruction and data plates and identification plates for use on machinery or equipment without display or ornamentation).
Nonoperating or decorative uses of copper or copper-base alloy, or the use of the same in such parts of installations and equipment (mechanical or otherwise) as bases, frames, guards, standards and supports.
Package handles and holders.
Pari-mutuel gambling and gaming machines, devices and accessories.

Pencils, mechanical (except functional parts and plating).
Pins (except safety pins, common pins, laundry net and laundry identification pins, or safety catches on products otherwise permitted under this order).
Pleasure boat fastenings and fittings.
Razors operated by electricity (except functional parts and parts for conducting electricity).
Razors not operated by electricity (except (1) in making safety razors: heads, functional parts for heads, and plating; and (2) in making straight razors: rivets, pins and washers).
Razor blade magazines.
Reflectors (except photographic and except as an undercoating or an overcoating in electroplating with silver or chromium).
Signs and advertising displays (except current-carrying parts).
Sporting goods and equipment (except fishing equipment and supplies for commercial fishing use, firearms, ammunition, and except reel gears, bearings and spools, swivels and snaps, rod mountings and copper for plating of baits and lures for sport fishing use).
Staplers and stapler machines (not including foot-operated or power-driven stitching machines).
Stationery supplies including but not limited to:
  Desk accessories.
  Office supplies.
  Pencils (except for ferrules).
  Pens and penholders.
Statues and statuettes (except religious and artists' originals).
Sundials.
*Tent poles and parts.
Tobacco pipes.
Toys (except in motors and essential operating parts).
Unions and union fittings (except seats, and except for other parts of unions and union fittings (1) where and to the extent that the physical and chemical properties of the liquid or gas passing through the union or union fittings make the use of any other material dangerous or impractical, or (2) where the valve is of a type designed for use in an air conditioning or refrigeration "system", or (3) where use of copper and tubing and/or brass pipe is permitted).
Umbrellas and parasols.
Vacuum bottles and jugs.
Valve handles (except plumbing fixture trim).
Walking sticks and canes.
Weather vanes.
Weight reducing and exercising machines (except for current-carrying parts).
Wool (except metal sponges intended for use in dairy products processing plants and by the canning industry and for filtering purposes).

LIST B

(See section 7)

The use of the forms and products of copper defined in section 3 and of any component parts made therefrom in the items listed below (excluding repair parts) is prohibited except to the extent permitted in the order or the list: Provided, however, That such material may be used in such items included in the list as are marked with as asterisk in cases where such items are to be used by the armed forces of the United States, including the United States Coast Guard.

BUILDERS' HARDWARE

Protective brass plating of all listed items of builders' hardware is permitted where other types of finishes are not practicable.
Door knobs.
Letter slots.

BUILDING MATERIALS

Facias: Fittings for underfloor raceway systems.
Flashings (except (1) cap and base flashing for built-up roofing, (2) through-wall flashing in parapet walls, (3) flashing for chimneys, vent stacks and all other vertical surfaces rising through roof levels, (4) roof-to-side wall flashing, (5) valley flashing for slate, tile and cement shingle roofs, (6) door and window head flashing, (7) expansion joint flashing).
Gravel stops.
Shower pans.
Terrazzo strips.

CIVILIAN-TYPE MOTOR VEHICLE: PASSENGER AUTOMOBILES INCLUDING TAXICABS, STATION WAGONS, AMBULANCES, HEARSES, TRUCKS, TRUCK TRACTORS, TRUCK TRAILERS, MOTORCYCLES AND BUSSES.

Hubcaps (except for plating).
Radio antennae for vehicles.
Sidewalk or curbstone warning devices for automobiles.

CLOTHING AND DRESS ACCESSORIES, NOT INCLUDING SAFETY EQUIPMENT

*Slide fasteners (zippers) (except (1) for the following functional components: slider bodies, separating end-components and top and bottom stops; and (2) except for applications in safety garments, work clothing, rubber footwear, foundation and surgical garments were necessary for reasons of strength, launderability and anticorrosion).

FURNISHINGS AND EQUIPMENT

Refrigerator and water heater installation connections (except for high pressure LPG connections from tank to fixture).

FURNITURE AND FIXTURES

Fittings (except hospital and laboratory).

HARDWARE, MISCELLANEOUS

Tags for pets.

HOUSEHOLD ELECTRICAL APPLIANCES

(Except for operational parts where the properties supplied by the copper are essential or where necessary for electrical conductivity)

Coffee makers.
Home and farm freezers.
Ice cream freezers.
Waffle irons.

REFRIGERATION AND AIR CONDITIONING MACHINERY AND EQUIPMENT

(Commercial and Industrial)

(Except where copper products or copper-base alloy products are essential for the following: carbonators, complete condensing units less condensers, dehydrators, draft arms for soda fountain equipment, electrical controls and wiring, fittings, protective coatings, refrigerant circuits, refrigerant connections between compressor and cooling coils, refrigerant flow control valves, sight glasses, soldering and brazing materials, strainers, suction line heat exchangers, tube sheets, valves, water cooler low sides and pre-coolers, water flow control valves and water spray nozzles for evaporative condensers, evaporative coolers and air washers)

Commercial and industrial refrigeration and air conditioning machinery and equipment including but not limited to:

Air conditioning systems, self-contained or remote.
Air washers.
Blast coolers.
Blast freezers.
Bottled beverage coolers.
Carbonated beverage dispensing systems (except coin operated).
Compressor stop valves (except valve seats, gaskets, bonnets, discs, disc screens, and protective coverings for valve stems).
Evaporative condensers.
Evaporative coolers (desert type).
Finned air-cooled condensers except those used for hermetic systems where the condenser is exposed to the outside air or for transportation systems.
Finned coils or evaporators.
Florist refrigerators.
Fountainettes.
Frozen food cabinets.
Ice cream cabinets.
Ice cube makers.
Malt beverage dispensing systems.
Mortuary refrigerators.
Non-carbonated beverage dispensing systems (except coin operated).
Packaged air conditioners (room, window, and store coolers).
Reach-in refrigerators.
Refrigerated display cases.
Refrigeration systems, self-contained or remote.
Reverse cycle heating and air conditioning systems (heat pumps).
Sandwich units.
Shell and tube or shell and coil condensers (except water courses, either straight or finned tube, where the refrigerant is in contact with the tube).
Shell and tube or shell and coil water chillers (except water courses, either straight or finned tube, where the refrigerant is in contact with the tube).
Soda fountains.
Space coolers.
Unit coolers.
Walk-in refrigerators.
Water coolers (except bubblers, bubbler connections, faucets and faucet connections).

MISCELLANEOUS

Ball point pens (except necessary operational parts).
Dehumidifiers for home and office use (except operational parts where the properties supplied by the copper are essential or where necessary for electrical conductivity).
Flashlight cases (except contact points for carrying current).
Garment hangers.
Hollow ware (except for hotels, restaurants, institutions and ecclesiastical use).
Identification and directional signs (except current-carrying parts).
Key chains and catches and fasteners therefor.
Lawn sprinklers (except working parts and propellers).
Outboard motors (except for operational parts).
Portable electric lanterns, such as railroad, miners' and industrial (except parts for conducting electricity and for plating).
*Shells and caps for sockets.
Ties (except for explosives and other products where the properties supplied by copper are essential).

[NPA Order M-50 as Amended April 9, 1951]

M-50—ELECTRIC UTILITIES

This order as amended is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the authority of section 101 of the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this order, there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations.

This amendment affects NPA Order M-50 by adding Appendix C. As so amended this order reads as follows:

ARTICLE I—GENERAL PROVISIONS

Sec.
1. What this order does.
2. Definitions.
3. Applications for adjustment.
4. Records and reports.
5. Communications.
6. Violations.

ARTICLE II—MAINTENANCE, REPAIR, AND OPERATING SUPPLIES AND MINOR CAPITAL ADDITIONS

21. Modification of NPA Reg. 4 (MRO).
22. Quarterly MRO quotas.
23. Quantity restrictions.
24. Applications for increased MRO quotas.

ARTICLE III—PROGRAM MATERIALS

31. Procurement of program materials generally.
32. Major plant additions.
33. Minor requirements.
34. Form of certification.
35. Quarterly program material quotas for minor requirements.
36. Inventory restrictions.
37. Filing of forms.
38. Applications for increased program material quotas.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 38 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

ARTICLE I—GENERAL PROVISIONS

SECTION 1. What this order does. (a) This order provides rules of special application to the procurement and use of materials by electric utilities.

(b) Article II modifies the application of NPA Reg. 4 to electric utilities and supersedes any conflicting provisions in NPA Reg. 4. All the provisions of NPA Reg. 4 apply to electric utilities except as modified by this order.

(c) Article III authorizes electric utilities to apply DO-48 ratings to orders for program materials to be used in major plant additions upon DEPA approval. In addition, it provides that electric utilities may not use any program materials in major plant additions after May 1, 1951, unless authorized by DEPA. The procurement of program materials for minor requirements, that is, requirements for all purposes except use in major plant additions, is governed by a self-rating procedure. Subject to certain inventory controls and quota limitations, each electric utility is authorized to apply DO-48 (Minor) ratings to certain orders for program materials for minor requirements.

SEC. 2. Definitions. (a) "Electric utility" means any individual, partnership, association, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not, located in the United States, its territories or possessions, supplying, or having facilities built for supplying electric power, directly or indirectly, for general use by the public or for use by its members. In the case of an electric utility engaged in the supply of electric power and in other activities, this order shall apply only to the procurement and use of materials required directly or indirectly for the supply of electric power.

(b) "DEPA" means the Defense Electric Power Administration.

(c) "Maintenance" means maintenance as defined in NPA Reg. 4 and "repair" means repair as defined in NPA Reg. 4. However, "maintenance" and "repair" include the replacement of any equipment regardless of its accounting classification, but neither "maintenance" nor "repair" includes the improvement of any plant, facility, or equipment or the replacement of material which is in sound working condition with material of a better kind, quality, design, or greater capacity.

(d) "Operating supplies" means material, other than fuel, which is consumed in the course of an electric utility's operations, except in maintenance, repair, and plant additions.

(e) "Plant addition" means the construction or installation of new facilities or the replacement of existing facilities with facilities of greater capacity. Single plant additions may not be combined or subdivided for purposes of affecting their classification as "major plant additions," as defined in this section. To assist in determining whether particular construction constitutes one, or more than one, plant addition, it shall be considered that a single plant addition consists of:

(1) Any construction of related facilities, excluding maintenance and repair work, which is completed during a continuous period of construction, not interrupted by periods of time such as months or years, except where such interruption is caused by uncontrollable forces, such as adverse weather conditions.

(2) In the case of line construction, a single continuous integrated system of lines, with necessary connected substations. (Thus, several sections of line emanating from different points on a utility's system would be several plant additions, not one plant addition.)

(f) "Major plant addition" means any plant addition constructed by an electric utility which involves one or more of the following:

(1) Line construction designed for operation at more than 15 kv where the plant addition requires more than 10,000 pounds gross weight of conductor, or

(2) Line construction designed for operation at 15 kv or less where the plant addition has a net material cost exceeding $50,000, or

(3) Non-line construction, including but not limited to construction or of additions to generating plant, sub-stations, or buildings, where the plant addition has a net material cost over $50,000, except that non-line construction shall not include construction for which specific NPA authorization is required under NPA Order M-4.

(g) "Minor requirements" means electric utility requirements of program materials for all purposes (including MRO) except use in major plant additions, and except use in construction for which specific NPA authorization is required under NPA Order M-4.

(h) "Gross weight of conductor" means, in the case of overhead lines, the weight of conductor as installed, including steel content in the case of conductor containing steel, without deduction for material salvaged; and in the case of underground lines the copper and aluminum content only, without deduction for material salvaged.

(i) "Line construction" means construction of both overhead and underground lines.

(j) "Net material cost" means the cost of all material, including any commodity, equipment, accessory, part, assembly, or product of any kind, incorporated in plant, less the cost of all material removed from plant, priced in accordance with the electric utility's regular accounting practice.

(k) "Inventory of program material" means all new or salvaged program material in the possession of an electric utility, unless physically incorporated in plant, without regard to its accounting classification, excluding, however:

(1) Program material specifically set aside on the effective date of this order for use in time of emergency and replacement thereof, and

(2) Program material set aside for use in any major plant addition. Program material set aside for use in such major plant addition which will not be used in such major plant addition shall be included in inventory.

(l) "Program material" means any material which is the subject of an appendix to this order.

SEC. 3. Applications for adjustment. (a) Any electric utility affected by any provision of this order may file a request for adjustment or exception on the ground that such provision works an undue or exceptional hardship upon such utility not suffered generally by other electric utilities, or that its enforcement against such utility would not be in the interest of national defense or in the public interest. Each request shall be in writing, shall set forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought, and shall state the justification therefor.

(b) Each such request shall be addressed to DEPA and, if approved, DEPA will grant an appropriate adjustment or exception.

SEC. 4. Records and reports. (a) Each electric utility participating in any transaction covered by this order shall retain in its possession for at least 2 years records of receipts, deliveries, inventories, and use, in sufficient detail to permit an audit that determines for each transaction that the provisions of this order have been met, including the amounts of quarterly quotas, the method of computation, factual justification, methods of figuring quotas and charges against them. This does not specify any particular accounting method and does not require alteration of the system of records customarily maintained, provided such records supply an adequate basis for audit. Records may be retained in the form of microfilm or other photographic copies instead of the originals.

(b) Each electric utility shall make such further records and submit such further reports to DEPA as it shall require, subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act of 1942 (Pub. Law 831, 77th Cong., 5 U. S. C. 139–139F).

SEC. 5. Communications. All communications concerning this order and NPA Reg. 4, as modified by this order, and all requests for forms shall be addressed to the Defense Electric Power Administration, Department of the Interior, Washington 25, D. C.

SEC. 6. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or any other order or regulation of NPA or who wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information in the course of operation under this order is guilty of a crime and, upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against any such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

ARTICLE II—MAINTENANCE, REPAIR, AND OPERATING SUPPLIES AND MINOR CAPITAL ADDITIONS

SEC. 21. Modification of NPA Reg. 4 (MRO). This article modifies the application of NPA Reg. 4 (MR) to electric utilities and supersedes any conflicting provisions in NPA Reg. 4. All the provisions of NPA Reg. 4 and all other applicable orders and regulations of NPA apply to electric utilities except as modified by this order.

SEC. 22. Quarterly MRO quotas—(a) Computation of quota. Subject to the exclusions provided in paragraph (b) of this section, an electric utility, in computing its quarterly MRO quotas, may include all expenditures for operating supplies and for materials used for maintenance and repair, as those terms are defined in this order.

(b) Exclusions from quota. In computing its quarterly MRO quota, no electric utility shall include any expenditure for:

(1) Any electric utility program material subject to Article III of this order.

(2) Any item included in Schedule A of NPA Order N–44.

(3) Any other item costing more than $10,000.

SEC. 23. Quantity restrictions—(a) Charges against quota. No electric utility shall obtain by use of the DO–97 rating any material herein excluded from its quarterly MRO quota, nor shall any utility charge against its quarterly MRO quota any order or receipt of such material.

(b) Emergency excess of quota. Subject to the restrictions of paragraph (a) of this section, if an electric utility has so far exhausted its MRO quota that an insufficient quota remains in any quarter to procure necessary material for maintenance or repair of its equipment or property, other than buildings, which is damaged or destroyed by extraordinary cause such as explosion, fire, sabotage, act of the public enemy, flood, storm or similar catastrophe, the utility may exceed its quota for that quarter to the extent necessary to procure such emergency materials: Provided however, That any such excess of quota must be immediately reported, together with the reasons therefor, to DEPA.

SEC. 24. Applications for increased MRO quotas. An electric utility's application for an increased MRO quota, to be submitted as provided in section 3 of this order, shall show such utility's existing MRO quota, any prior adjustments thereof, the amount of increase requested, the necessity for such increase, such utility's output per quarter in kilowatt hours commencing with the first quarter of 1950, and any other information pertinent to proper evaluation of such application.

ARTICLE III—PROGRAM MATERIALS

SEC. 31. Procurement of program materials generally. Subject to the quantity restrictions provided by this article, the ratings authorized by this article shall be applied to all orders for any program material including outstanding unrated orders, scheduled for delivery in or prior to a quarter for which a program material quota or authorization is effective, and no utility shall place unrated orders for any program material scheduled for delivery in such a quarter. Accordingly, all outstanding orders for any program material, except those calling for delivery in a subsequent quarter, shall be either rated or canceled within 15 days after such material becomes subject to the provisions of this order.

SEC. 32. Major plant additions. No electric utility may order any program material for use in any major plant addition unless specifically authorized by DEPA. For each program material approved by DEPA for use in a major plant addition, an electric utility is hereby authorized to apply the DO–48 rating to orders for the quantity of such program material specified by DEPA. After May 1, 1951, no electric utility may use any program material in a major plant addition unless such use is authorized by DEPA.

SEC. 33. Minor requirements. Subject to the restrictions contained in sections 36 and 37 of this order, each electric utility is hereby authorized to apply DO–48 (Minor) ratings to order any program material for its minor requirements: Provided, That no electric utility may exceed its quota for such program material.

SEC. 34. Form of certificate. The DO–48 or DO–48 (Minor) rating shall be applied by placing on the orders for any program material, or on a separate piece of paper attached thereto, the symbol "DO–48" or "DO–48 (Minor)" together with the words "Certified under NPA Order M–50". Such certification shall be signed as prescribed in section 8 of NPA Reg. 2.

SEC. 35. Quarterly program material quotas for minor requirements. An electric utility may elect to use either a standard quota or an alternative quota but may not thereafter change from one quota to the other without the express approval of DEPA.

(a) Standard quota. An electric utility's standard quota for any program material for any calendar quarter is the percentage specified in the applicable appendix to this order of the quantity of such material which it used for minor requirements in the calendar year 1950 (or, if it operated on a fiscal year basis, in its fiscal year ending nearest to December 31, 1950).

(b) Alternative quota. An electric utility's alternative quota for any program material for any calendar quarter is the percentage specified in the applicable appendix to this order of the quantity of such material which it used in the corresponding calendar quarter of 1950 (or, if it operated on a fiscal year basis, in the corresponding quarter of its fiscal year ending nearest to December 31, 1950).

(c) Quota where 1950 base inapplicable. An electric utility not in operation throughout the year 1950 (calendar or fiscal) shall establish its standard or alternative program material quota in accordance with this section by adjusting, in direct proportion, its actual use of such program material for part of the year to an annual basis. To determine an alternative quota in such cases, the adjusted annual use may be unequally distributed among 4 quarters to reflect seasonal variations. An electric utility not in operation throughout 1950 shall report to DEPA the program material quota which it establishes in accordance with this section. If an electric utility was not in operation during any part of the year 1950 (calendar or fiscal) it may apply to DEPA for a program material quota, supplying in detail information pertinent to a proper evaluation of its application.

SEC. 36. Inventory restrictions. No electric utility shall order any program material if, after the receipt of such program material, its inventory of such program material would be or become in excess of 25 percent of the gross weight of such program material which it used for its minor requirements during the year 1950 (calendar or fiscal), except that an electric utility may order for delivery in any quarter a quantity of any particular item of such program material equal to the amount by which its required use of such item in such quarter exceeds the quantity of such items which it has or will have on hand at the beginning of such quarter. This provision shall not authorize any electric utility to exceed its quota for minor requirements.

SEC. 37. Filing of forms. Prior to its first application of the DO–48 (Minor) rating to an order for delivery of any program material in the second quarter of 1951 for use for minor requirements, each electric utility must file with DEPA the applicable form in the DEPA–4 series. Forms in the DEPA–4 series shall be deemed to be filed when addressed to DEPA and deposited for mailing in any United States post office.

SEC. 38. Applications for increased program material quotas. Each application for an increased program material quota shall contain the following information:

(a) Statement of the amount of any special authorization which the utility has received.

(b) Statement of the total amount of each program material requested to be authorized for use in minor requirements during each quarter, including the base period quota permitted by the applicable appendix to this order.

(c) Detailed statement of necessity for larger quota.

(d) Any additional information which may be pertinent to proper evaluation of the application.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This order as amended shall take effect on April 9, 1951. Issued April 5, 1951.

NATIONAL PRODUCTION AUTHORITY,
[SEAL] MANLY FLEISCHMANN,
Administrator.

APPENDIX A—ALUMINUM CONDUCTOR

1. Definition. "Aluminum conductor" means any wire, cable, or bus bar which contains aluminum.

2. Standard aluminum conductor quota for minor requirements: 20 percent.

3. Alternative aluminum conductor quota for minor requirements: 80 percent.

4. Exemption from quantity restrictions. The quantity restrictions applicable to aluminum conductor shall not apply to any electric utility which orders for delivery in any calendar quarter a gross weight of aluminum conductor which does ont exceed 5,000 pounds.

5. Applicable forms. The form which an electric utility is required to file prior to its first application of the DO–48 (Minor) rating to an order for aluminum conductor as provided in section 37 of this order is Form DEPA–4A.

6. Effect on NPA Order M–7. The provisions of this order supersede NPA M-7 with respect to the procurement and use of aluminum conductor by electric utilities. The use by electric utilities of forms and shapes of aluminum listed in section 3 of NPA Order M–7, other than aluminum conductor and aluminum conductor accessories, remains subject to the restrictions of NPA Order M–7.

APPENDIX B—ALUMINUM CONDUCTOR ACCESSORIES

1. Definition. "Aluminum conductor accessories" means any accessories containing aluminum or steel, such as clamps, twisting sleeves, and armor rods, which are used for the installation of aluminum conductor.

2. Aluminum conductor accessories quota. There are no quotas applicable to the procurement of aluminum conductor accessories.

3. Quantity restrictions. No electric utility may order for delivery in any quarter a larger quantity of aluminum conductor accessories than necessary for use in connection with aluminum conductor which such utility is authorized to use or order for delivery in such quarter, and for such additional quantity of aluminum conductor accessories which it requires for use in such quarter in maintenance and repair.

4. Effect on NPA Order M–7. The provisions of this order supersede NPA Order M–7 with respect to the procurement and use of aluminum conductor accessories by electric utilities. The use by electric utilities of forms and shapes of aluminum listed in section 3 of NPA Order M–7, other than aluminum conductor and aluminum conductor accessories, remains subject to the restrictions of NPA Order M–7.

5. Filing of forms not required. No forms are required to be filed prior to application of the DO–48 (Minor) rating to orders for aluminum conductor accessories.

APPENDIX C—COPPER

COPPER WIRE MILL PRODUCTS, BRASS MILL PRODUCTS, AND FOUNDRY PRODUCTS

1. Definitions. (a) "Copper wire mill product" means bare wire, insulated wire and cable whatever the outer protective coverings may be, and uninsulated wire and cables, where the conductors are made from copper, copper-base alloy, or copper-clad steel containing over 20 percent copper by weight. All copper wire mill products should be measured in terms of pounds of copper content. Accordingly, minor requirements quotas and charges against such quotas must be computed on the basis of net weight of copper in copper wire mill products.

(b) "Brass mill product" means sheet, including strip and plate; rod, including bars, and extruded shapes; wire; or tube, including pipe, made from copper or copper-base alloy. This does not include copper wire mill products.

(c) "Foundry products" means cast copper and copper-base alloy shapes or forms suitable for ultimate use without remelting, rolling, drawing, extruding, or forging. (Includes the removal of gates, risers and sprues, and sandblasting, tumbling, or dipping, but excludes any further machining or processing.)

2. Standard copper wire mill products, brass mill products, and foundry products quota for minor requirements: 18¾ percent.

3. Alternative copper wire mill products, brass mill products, and foundry products quota for minor requirements: 75 percent.

4. Exemption from quantity restrictions. The quantity restrictions applicable to copper wire mill products, brass mill products, and foundry products shall not apply to any electric utility which orders for delivery in any calendar quarter a quantity of copper wire mill products, brass mill products, and foundry products which does not exceed 5,000 pounds in the aggregate.

5. Applicable forms. The form which an electric utility is required to file prior to its first application of the DO–48 (Minor) rating to an order for copper wire mill products, brass mill products, and foundry products, as provided in section 37 of this order, is Form DEPA–4C.

6. Rating or cancellation of outstanding orders. Notwithstanding the requirement in section 31 of this order with reference to rating or cancellation of outstanding orders within 15 days, it shall be sufficient if outstanding orders for copper wire mill products, brass mill products, and foundry products be rated or cancelled by May 1, 1951.

7. Effect on NPA Order M–12. This order supersedes NPA Order M–12 with respect to procurement and use by electric utilities of copper wire mill products, brass mill products, and foundry products.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 14 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 303, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

EXPLANATORY PROVISIONS

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. This regulation sets forth procedures under which Government aid may be obtained in financing the cost of projects for exploration for unknown or undeveloped sources of strategic or critical metals and minerals.

SEC. 2. Government aid. The Government, in suitable cases, will aid in an exploration project for strategic or critical metals and minerals by providing some part of the costs of the project, the Government's contribution to be repayable from the net returns from any ore, concentrates, or metal produced as a result of the exploration project.

APPLICATIONS AND CONTRACTS

SEC. 3. Forms and filing. Application for Government aid in any specified exploration project shall be submitted in quadruplicate on Form No. MF–103, either to

The Defense Minerals Administration,
Department of the Interior,
Washington 25, D. C.

or to the nearest Defense Minerals Administration field executive officer as indicated by the following addresses:

Region	Area served	Address
I.....	Alaska.....	Federal Bldg., P. O. Box 2960, Juneau, Alaska.
II.....	Washington, Oregon, Idaho, and Montana.	South 157 Howard St., Spokane, Wash.
III.....	California and Nevada..	1415 Appraisers Bldg., San Francisco, Calif.

Applications filed prior to the effective date of this regulation, if sufficient, will be treated as though filed on the prescribed form. Applications must be filed at least 30 days prior to the expiration of the authority granted by the Defense Production Act of 1950, which at the time of issuing these regulations, is June 30, 1951.

SEC. 4. Scope of application. Each application shall relate to a single exploration project which shall be fully described and justified by detailed substantiating data as called for by the application form. The Administrator may require the filing of additional information, reports, and exhibits, in connection with the application, and may, at his discretion, require such physical examination of the project as he deems necessary.

SEC. 5. Action on applications. The Administrator, after considering the application and all matters relating thereto, shall either approve or disapprove the application. If the Administrator approves the application, he shall certify it as presenting a suitable project for an exploration project contract.

SEC. 6. Form and term of contracts. If the application is approved and certified for a contract, the Government, acting through the Administrator, will enter into an exploration project contract with the applicant on Form MF-209. No exploration project that will take more than two years to perform shall be approved for an exploration project contract.

SEC. 7. Criteria. The following factors will be considered and weighed in passing upon applications:

(a) Strategic importance of the mineral involved.

(b) The geologic probability of making a significant discovery.

(c) The availability of manpower.

(d) The availability of equipment and supplies.

(e) The accessibility of the project.

(f) The availability of water and power.

(g) The operating experience and background of the applicant.

SEC. 8. Definitions. As used in these regulations:

(a) "Exploration project" means the search for unknown or undeveloped sources of strategic or critical metals or minerals within a specified area or parcel of ground in the United States, its territories or possessions, whether conducted from the surface or underground, including recognized and sound procedures for obtaining pertinent geological, geophysical, and geochemical information. The work shall not go beyond a reasonable delineation and sampling of the ore, and shall not include work prosecuted primarily for mining or preparation for mining.

(b) "Operator" means a person, firm, partnership, corporation, association, or other legal entity by whom or for whose account and interest an exploration project is to be carried out.

(c) "Administrator" means the Administrator of Defense Minerals Administration or his representative authorized in writing.

(d) "Government" means The United States of America.

GOVERNMENT PARTICIPATION

SEC. 9. Ratio of contributions. The Government will contribute to the exploration project, upon the terms specified in the contract, a certain percentage of the total cost of the project, depending upon the mineral which is the subject of exploration, as follows:

(a) In the case of chromium, copper, fluorspar, graphite (crucible flake), iron ore, lead, molybdenum, sulfur, and zinc (and cadmium)—50 percent.

(b) In the case of antimony, manganese, mercury, tungsten—75 percent.

(c) In the case of asbestos (spinning grade), beryl, cobalt, columbium-tantalum, corundum, cryolite, industrial diamonds, kyanite (strategic), mica (strategic), monazite, uranium, and rare earth ores, nickel, platinum group metals, quartz crystals (piezo-electric), talc (steatite), and tin—90 percent.

SEC. 10. Fixtures and improvements. The Operator shall devote the land and all existing improvements, facilities, buildings, installations, and appurtenances to the purposes of the exploration project without any allowance for the use, rental value, depreciation, depletion, or other cost of acquiring, owning, or holding possession thereof. With the written approval in advance by the Administrator, necessary additional facilities, buildings, and fixtures may be purchased, installed and erected by the Operator, and the Government will contribute its agreed pro-rata share of the cost thereof. The difference between the cost of such additional facilities, buildings, or fixtures, and the salvage value thereof at the conclusion of the work, shall be charged as a cost of the project to which the Government has contributed its pro-rata share.

SEC. 11. Operating equipment. With the written approval in advance by the Administrator, necessary operating equipment may be rented, purchased, or otherwise furnished by the Operator. Rentals paid for equipment rented and the rental value of equipment owned and furnished by the Operator shall be allowed as costs of the project. As to equipment purchased for the project, the Government will contribute its agreed pro-rata share of the cost thereof, and the difference between the cost and the salvage value at the conclusion of the work shall be charged as a cost of the project to which the Government has contributed its pro-rata share.

SEC. 12. Title to and disposition of property. All facilities, buildings, fixtures, equipment, or other items costing more than $50 each, paid for or purchased with funds contributed jointly by the Operator and the Government, shall belong to the Operator and the Government jointly, in proportion to their respective contributions, and upon the termination of the contract, if they have any salvage value, shall be disposed of for their joint account unless the Government, in writing, waives its interest in any such items. The Government may require the dismantling, severance from land, and removal of any such items in order to realize its interest in the salvage value thereof, and the cost of any such removal and of the disposal of the items shall be for the joint account of the parties in proportion to their respective interests.

SEC. 13. Allowable costs of the project. The allowable costs of the project in which the Government will participate shall include the following:

(a) The necessary, reasonable, direct costs of performing the exploration work, including the costs of materials, supplies, labor, direct supervision, engineering, power, water, and utilities.

(b) The reasonable, necessary cost of rehabilitating and putting into useful and operable condition existing facilities, buildings, installations, and fixtures, and of maintaining them in that condition.

(c) If the purchase, installation, or erection was approved in advance by the Administrator, as provided in section 10 of this regulation, the depreciation on fixtures and improvements computed as provided in section 10 of this regulation.

(d) If the rental or purchase of operating equipment was approved in advance by the Administrator, as provided in section 11, of this regulation, the rental, rental value, or depreciation, on operating equipment, computed as provided in section 11 of this regulation.

No items of general overhead, corporate management, interest, or any other indirect costs not expressly allowed by these regulations, or work performed or costs incurred before the date of the contract, shall be allowed as costs of the project in which the Government will participate.

SEC. 14. Repayment by Operator. If, upon the completion of the exploration project or termination of the contract, the Administrator considers that a discovery or development has resulted from the work from which commercial production of ore may be made, the Administrator, within six months thereafter shall so certify to the Operator, particularly describing and delimiting his estimate of the discovery of the development. Thereafter, if and when ore is produced as a result of such discovery or development, the Operator and his successor in interest shall be and become obligated to pay to the Government a percentage royalty on the net smelter returns or other net proceeds realized from such ore, concentrates, or metal produced within ten (10) years from the date of this contract, until the total amount contributed by the Government, without interest, is fully repaid or said ten years have elapsed, whichever occurs first, as follows:

Of net smelter returns or other net proceeds not in excess of eight dollars ($8.00) per ton of ore: one and one-half (1½) percent.

Of net smelter returns or other net proceeds in excess of eight dollars ($8.00) per ton of ore: one and one-half (1½) percent, plus one-half (½) percent additional for each full fifty cents ($.50) in excess of eight dollars ($8.00) per ton of ore, but not in excess of a maximum of five (5) percent.

This obligation to repay from net returns or proceeds shall be and remain a claim and lien upon the property which is the subject of the exploration project and upon any production resulting from such discovery or development, in favor of the Government, until fully paid, or until said ten-year period has elapsed; and this claim and lien and the Government's right to repayment shall survive any termination of the contract, whether by completion of the exploration project or otherwise. This section is not to be construed as imposing any obligation on the Operator or his successor in interest to produce ore from any such discovery or development.

This regulation shall become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

JAMES BOYD,
Administrator,
Defense Minerals Administration.

TITLE 16—COMMERCIAL PRACTICES

Chapter I—Federal Trade Commission

PART 2—RULES OF PRACTICE

COMPLAINTS AND ANSWERS

The Commission on April 2, 1951, amended §§ 2.5 and 2.8 of its rules of practice (§§ 2.1 to 2.31), so as to make said sections read as follows, effective thirty days from date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

NOTE: In said sections, the numbers to the right of the decimal point correspond with the Roman numbers in the Commission's rules of practice, as included in its publication, Rules, Policy, Organization, and Acts.

§ 2.5 Complaints. (a) Whenever the Commission shall have reason to believe that there is a violation of law over which the Commission has jurisdiction, and in case of violation of the Federal Trade Commission Act, if it shall appear to the Commission that a proceeding by it in respect thereof would be to the interest of the public, the Commission shall issue and serve upon the proper parties a complaint stating its charges and containing a notice of a hearing upon a day and at the place therein fixed, at least thirty (30) days after the service of said complaint.

Upon request made within 15 days after service of the complaint, any party shall be afforded opportunity for the submission of facts, arguments, offers of settlement or proposals of adjustment where time, the nature of the proceeding, and the public interest permit, and due consideration shall be given to the same. Such submission shall be in writing. The filing of such request shall not operate to delay the filing of the answer.

(b) In the "Notice" portion of the complaint there may be set forth a statement of the provisions which may appear in the order to cease and desist which the Commission shall have reason to believe should issue if the facts in the record shall be found to be as alleged in the complaint. If the complaint contains such provisionary order to cease and desist, it shall also state that such order shall issue, unless the repondent shall file an anwer within the time designated in the complaint; shall appear at the time and place so fixed; and shall show cause why the said order to cease and desist should not be entered by the Commission, in which event such provisionary order to cease and desist shall be without effect.

§ 2.8 Answers. (a) In case of desire to contest the proceeding the respondent shall, within twenty (20) days from the service of the complaint, file with the Commission an answer to the complaint. Such answer shall contain a concise statement of the facts which constitute the ground of defense. Respondent shall specifically admit or deny or explain each of the facts alleged in the complaint, unless respondent is without knowledge, in which case respondent shall so state.

Ten (10) copies of answers shall be furnished. The original of all answers shall be signed in ink, by the respondent or by his attorney at law. Corporations or associations shall file answers through a bona fide officer or by an attorney at law. Answers shall show the office and post office address of the signer.

If respondent desires to waive hearing on the allegations of fact set forth in the complaint and not to contest the facts, the answer may consist of a statement that respondent admits all the material allegations of fact charged in the complaint to be true. Such answer will constitute a waiver of any hearing as to the facts alleged in the complaint and findings as to the facts and conclusions based upon such answer shall be made and order entered disposing of the matter without any intervening procedure. The respondent may, however, reserve in such answer the right to submit proposed findings and conclusions of fact or of law under § 2.21, and the right to appeal under § 2.23.

The trial examiner may, at any time the case is pending before him, at the request or with the consent of the parties, hold a conference or conferences for the settlement or simplification of the issues in the proceeding.

(b) Failure to file an answer or plead specifically to any allegation of the complaint shall constitute an admission of such allegation.

(c) Admission in the answer, or admission by failure to file an answer, of all the material allegations of fact contained in the complaint shall constitute a waiver of hearing. Upon such admission, the trial examiner and the Commission shall be deemed authorized, without further notice to respondent, to find the facts, to draw conclusions therefrom, and to enter an appropriate order.

Promulgated as of this date in pursuance of the action of the Federal Trade Commission under date of April 2, 1951, effective thirty days from date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

(Sec. 6, 38 Stat. 722; 15 U. S. C. 46)

By direction of the Commission.

TITLE 41—PUBLIC CONTRACTS

Chapter II—Division of Public Contracts, Department of Labor

PART 202—MINIMUM WAGE DETERMINATIONS

DENTAL GOODS AND EQUIPMENT MANUFACTURING INDUSTRY

This matter is before the Department pursuant to the act of June 30, 1936 (49 Stat. 2036; 41 U. S. C. 35) entitled "An act to provide conditions for the purchase of supplies and the making of contracts by the United States, and for other purposes," otherwise known as the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act. The currently effective wage determination (15 F. R. 382) was based upon information indicating that substantially all employees in the dental goods and equipment manufacturing industry (hereinafter referred to as the Industry) are engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce, as defined in the Fair Labor Standards Act, as amended, and thus come under the minimum wage provisions of that act which require payment of a wage rate of not less than 75 cents per hour on and after January 25, 1950. The survey of selected dental goods and equipment manufacturing establishments made by the Bureau of Labor Statistics as of March 1950 (hereinafter referred to as the BLS survey) indicated that the 75 cent rate now in effect might not reflect the prevailing minimum wage in the industry. This proceeding was, therefore, initiated for the purpose of considering an amendment to the determination for the industry which will reflect the minimum wages now prevailing.

General. Notice of a hearing in this matter was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (15 F. R. 4751). Copies of the notice and a press release announcing the hearing were mailed to trade associations, unions, and to individual companies in the industry. In addition, the press release was distributed to newspapers and trade publications.

This notice and release advised interested persons of the time and place at which they could appear and offer testimony: (1) As to what are the prevailing minimum wages in the industry; (2) as to whether there should be included in any amended determination for this industry provision for employment of learners and/or apprentices at subminimum rates, and if so, in what occupations, at what subminimum rates, and with what limitations, if any, as to length of period and number or proportion of such subminimum rate employees; and (3) as to whether the definition of the industry should be amended to read as follows:

The durable goods branch of the dental goods and equipment manufacturing industry is defined as that industry which manufactures or furnishes any of the following products: Durable dental equipment, including but not by way of limitation, dental hand pieces, hand instruments, including forceps and pliers, broaches and cutting instruments, for dental use; dental chairs; dental cabinets; dental equipment units; dental sterilizers; dental gas apparatus; dental X-ray equipment; dental compressors, engines and lathes; dental lights; dental laboratory equipment, other than laboratory furniture; and other durable dental goods.

The consumable goods branch of the dental goods and equipment manufacturing industry is defined as that industry which manufactures or furnishes any of the following products: consumable dental goods and supplies, including but not by way of limitation, dental anesthetics; dental gold and other precious metals; dental non-precious metals; dental alloy for amalgams; dental cement and filling materials; teeth, porcelain and gold; orthodontic appliances; waxes, compounds and investments; rubber dental materials; denture materials other than rubber; burrs, drills, and similar tools for use with dental handpieces; abrasive points, wheels and disks; and other consumable dental goods.

Copies of tables prepared from the BLS survey were made available to interested persons upon request.

The hearing was held on August 14, 1950, pursuant to the notice. Representatives of employees and employers appeared at the hearing to present evidence and testimony, and the record was kept open for a specified period beyond the close of the hearing for receipt of additional data and briefs.

Among others present at the hearing were representatives of the following: The American Federation of Labor; the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America; the Dental Manufacturers of America; the American Dental Trade Association; and Johnson & Johnson. In addition to the evidence and testimony presented at the hearing in support of their recommendations, the above parties submitted briefs for the record after the close of the hearing.

Definition of industry. In formulating the proposed definition of the industry the Department's staff consulted with representatives of the principal parties. The scope of the proposed definition differs only slightly from the scope of the currently effective definition, and the proposed changes are designed primarily to clarify the present definition of the industry. The only substantive change is the addition of dental anesthetics, which, according to the evidence available, are produced almost entirely by firms primarily in the dental goods and equipment manufacturing industry.

Johnson & Johnson urged that such of their products as dental sutures, dental floss, gauze and cotton, be expressly excluded from the definition. Although these products have never been considered to be within the scope of the proposed definition, to avoid possible misinterpretation, this definition is amended to exclude them specifically.

No opposition, other than the request of Johnson & Johnson, was directed toward the definition. The definition adopted for this amended determination is essentially the same as that contained in the notice of hearing, with the addition of a clause excluding dental sutures, dental floss, gauze and cotton from the scope of the definition.

3. Minimum wage. The basic data on minimum wages in the industry are contained in the BLS survey which was received as evidence at the hearing and was discussed by the various witnesses who testified. Neither the unions nor the employers questioned the adequacy of the coverage or the accuracy of the survey. The survey was limited to establishments employing 8 or more workers, and covered an estimated 83 percent of such establishments in the industry. The establishments covered employ approximately 95 percent of all plant workers in establishments with 8 or more employees in the industry. The data were tabulated for the United States as a whole, by regions, and for the durable goods branch and consumable goods branch separately. The most significant data are those showing the percentage distribution of straight-time earnings, plant minima, and distributions of plants (and of plant workers) according to the proportion of plant workers in each establishment earning less than specified amounts per hour.

Both the American Dental Trade Association and the Dental Manufacturers of America presented wage data based on surveys of their respective memberships. Although the surveys of the associations were not as extensive as the BLS survey, their wage data tend to corroborate the BLS data.

The American Federation of Labor urged that a minimum wage of $1.00 an hour be determined for the durable goods branch on the grounds that (1) only 11 percent of the workers receive wages below $1.00, (2) the first substantial cluster (4.5 percent) of rates occurs in the $1.00–1.049 wage interval, and (3) more than a third of the establishments employing approximately one-half of the workers pay no employee less than $1.00. The American Federation of Labor made no recommendation for the consumable goods branch. The United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers (UE) urged a minimum of $1.05 (apparently for the entire industry) because two-thirds of all workers in the Industry received $1.05 or more.

The American Dental Trade Association and the Dental Manufacturers of America urged that a minimum of 75 cents an hour be determined for both the durable goods branch and consumable goods branch on the grounds that they believe the BLS survey shows 75 cents to be the prevailing minimum wage for both branches, and partly also because a number of establishments make products in both branches.

It is clear that a wide divergence exists between wage levels in the two branches of the industry. Wages paid by durable goods plants are considerably higher than those paid by consumable goods plants, the median rate being $1.46 for the former and $1.07 for the latter. These differences are conspicuous throughout the wage structure; for example, nearly 14 percent of the workers in the consumable goods branch receive less than 80 cents an hour as contrasted with 2.5 percent of the workers in the durable goods branch.

The associations urged that one minimum rate should be determined for the industry as a whole because a dual minimum rate would work a serious hardship on those firms producing both durable and consumable goods. The AFL, on the other hand, urged that separate rates be determined for the two branches. At the hearing the parties were requested to furnish information concerning the extent of overlap between the two branches. After the hearing the associations supplied a list of 12 plants that produce products of both branches. These plants represent only about one-eighth of the total number of plants and employ only about a fifth of the workers. Those of the 12 plants whose primary products are consumable goods employ a total of only 250 workers. In view of this relatively small amount of overlap and considering the sharply different wage levels prevailing in the two branches, I have concluded that the determination of the separate minimum wages is fully warranted. Not to do so would result in a failure to give proper weight to the wages in fact paid by the large majority of durable goods plants.

Considering first the durable goods branch, Table 8 (Exhibit L) of the BLS surveys shows that in this branch only 10 of the 29 plants (34.5 percent) pay $1.00 an hour or more to all plant workers (exclusive of learners and apprentices) and these plants employ less than half of the workers. On the basis of these figures it appears that 65.5 percent of the durable goods plants employing the majority of the workers would have to raise wages to meet even a $1.00 minimum, the lowest rate proposed by the unions. The record, accordingly, shows that the prevailing minimum wage is not as high as $1.00. However, the record also clearly shows that in this branch the prevailing minimum is above 75 cents an hour. According to the statistical data in Table 8 considerably more than half (55.3 percent) of the durable goods plants employing more than half the workers (57.5 percent) have no experienced workers receiving less than 85 cents an hour. Roughly half the plants (48.3 percent) with 56.6 percent of the workers employ no experienced workers at hourly rates below 90 cents. A somewhat lesser proportion of the plants (44.9 percent) employ no experienced workers below 95 cents per hour. A rate of 90 cents an hour thus comes closest to representing the minimum rate paid by half of the plants in the branch, and these plants employ somewhat more than half of the total number of workers in the branch. Only 6.1 percent of the workers actually receive hourly wages of less than 90 cents, and the interval containing that rate includes a larger proportion of workers (2.5 percent) than any of the preceding intervals. After consideration of the entire record, I have concluded that the record supports a finding that 90 cents an hour is the prevailing minimum wage in the durable goods branch.

In the consumable goods branch, BLS Table 7 (Exhibit K) shows that 50.1 percent of the establishments employing 69 percent of the workers would have to raise some wages to meet an 80 cent minimum. Table 1 (Exhibit D) shows that more experienced workers (13.8 percent) received wages in the 75–79.9 cents interval than in any other 5 cent interval. After the hearing, the BLS furnished information that most of these workers received exactly 75 cents an hour and that 45 percent of the establishments employing 59.8 percent of the workers have a plant minimum of 75 cents or less. After consideration of the entire record, I have concluded that the record supports a finding that 75 cents per hour is the prevailing minimum wage in the consumable goods branch.

The BLS survey included separate data for only two regions, Middle Atlantic and Great Lakes. The survey shows that wages are slightly higher in the Great Lakes area than in the rest of the country. However, both the employers and employees urged that there be no regional wage differential. In view of the nation-wide scope of the market for products of the industry and the recommendation of all interested persons at the hearing, I find there is no need for a regional wage differential.

Table 4 (Exhibit H) shows that 11 establishments employ a total of 37 learners and only 12 of these employees receive wages below the proposed minima. Under these circumstances, there does not appear to be any common practice of employing learners at subminimum rates. The number of establishments which employ learners is so small and the number of learners which they employ below the proposed minima is so insignificant that provision for a subminimum rate for learners does not appear to be needed.

There is no evidence of abuse of the apprenticeship tolerance which has been in effect for the durable goods branch of the industry since the initial determination effective September 1941. In view of this, and the Department's established policy to encourage the development of the apprentice program, I find that it is reasonable to allow apprentices to be employed in the durable goods branch at wages below 90 cents an hour but not below 75 cents an hour: Provided, The employment conforms with standards of the Federal Committee on Apprenticeship.

The regulations (41 CFR 201.1102) permit employment of handicapped workers at subminimum rates on contract work under the act and this authorization was not an issue in the proceeding. It seems advisable to include in the determination, however, specific authorization for such employment.

Amendment of determination. After consideration of the entire record of this proceeding, the prevailing minimum wage determination for the dental goods and equipment manufacturing industry is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 202.39 Dental goods and equipment manufacturing industry—(a) Definition. (1) The durable goods branch of the dental goods and equipment manufacturing industry is defined as that industry which manufactures or furnishes any of the following products:

Durable dental equipment, including but not by way of limitation, dental hand pieces, hand instruments, including forceps and pliers, broaches and cutting instruments for dental use; dental chairs; dental cabinets; dental equipment units; dental sterilizers; dental gas apparatus; dental X-ray equipment; dental compressors, engines and lathes; dental lights; dental laboratory equipment, other than laboratory furniture; and other durable dental goods.

(2) The consumable goods branch of the dental goods and equipment manufacturing industry is defined as that industry which manufactures or furnishes any of the following products:

Consumable dental goods and supplies, including but not by way of limitation, dental anesthetics; dental gold and other precious metals; dental nonprecious metals; dental alloy for amalgams; dental cement and filling materials; teeth, porcelain and gold; orthodontic appliances; dental waxes, compounds and investments; rubber dental materials; denture materials other than rubber; burrs, drills, and similar tools for use with dental handpieces; abrasive points, wheels and disks for dental use; and other consumable dental goods: Provided however, That the definition shall not include such products as: Dental sutures, dental floss, mouth wipes, cotton tips, cotton rolls, and gauze.

(b) Minimum wages. (1) The minimum wage for persons employed in the manufacture or furnishing of products of the durable goods branch of the dental goods and equipment manufacturing industry under contracts subject to the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act shall be 90 cents an hour arrived at either on a time or piece-rate basis.

(2) The minimum wage for persons employed in the manufacture or furnishing of products of the consumable goods branch of the dental goods and equipment manufacturing industry under contracts subject to the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act shall be 75 cents an hour arrived at either on a time or piece-rate basis.

(c) Subminimum wages authorized. (1) Apprentices may be employed in the durable goods branch at wages below 90 cents an hour if their employment conforms to the standards of the Federal Committee on Apprenticeship; except that no apprentice may be employed at a rate lower than 75 cents an hour.

(2) Handicapped workers may be employed at wages below the minimum rates upon the same terms and conditions as are prescribed for the employment of handicapped workers by the regulations of the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division of the Department of Labor (29 CFR Parts 524 and 525), under section 14 of the Fair Labor Standards Act, as amended.

The Administrator of the Public Contracts Division is authorized to issue certificates under the Public Contracts Act for the employment of handicapped workers not subject to the Fair Labor Standards Act or subject to different minimum rates of pay under the two acts, at appropriate rates of compensation and in accordance with the standards and procedures prescribed by the applicable regulations issued under the Fair Labor Standards Act.

(d) Effect on other obligations. Nothing in this section shall affect any obligations for the payment of minimum wages that an employer may have under any law or agreement more favorable to employees than the requirements of this section.

(e) Effective date. This section shall be effective and the minimum wages hereby established shall apply to all contracts subject to the Public Contracts Act, bids for which are solicited or negotiations commenced on or after May 11, 1951.

TITLE 47—TELECOMMUNICATION

Chapter I—Federal Communications Commission

[Docket No. 9572]

APPENDIX TO PART 3—ESTABLISHMENT OF A UNIFORM POLICY TO BE FOLLOWED IN LICENSING OF RADIO BROADCAST STATIONS CASES IN CONNECTION WITH CERTAIN VIOLATIONS

REPORT OF THE COMMISSION

In the matter of establishment of a uniform policy to be followed in licensing of radio broadcast stations cases in connection with violation by an applicant of laws of the United States other than the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

1. This report is issued by the Commission in connection with oral argument on the above-entitled matter presented to the Commission on April 24, 1950. The argument had been ordered on the Commission's own motion on January 25, 1950, and was originally scheduled to be heard on February 13, 1950, but was continued to April 24, 1950, upon petition of certain parties who requested additional time to prepare.

2. As pointed out in its notice of oral argument, the Commission had placed in its pending files certain broadcast applications on the grounds that the applicants and licensees had been found by a federal court to have violated laws of the United States relating to monopoly, restraint of trade, unfair competition and other matters. It was further pointed out in the notice that the Commission had not enunciated a policy to be followed in acting on broadcast applications where applicants were so involved. Accordingly, all interested parties were invited to file appearances accompanied by briefs or memoranda and present oral arguments thereon before the Commission en banc with particular reference to the following points:

1. The authority of the Commission to consider in its licensing of broadcast stations the fact that an applicant has violated a law of the United States, other than the Communications Act of 1934, as amended. If the Commission has such authority, is there any basis in policy for not considering such violation.[1]

2. If the Commission has such authority, should there be a difference in procedure or result in any of the following types of situations? In this connection consideration should be given to the situations involving both comparative hearings and non-comparative hearings:

(a) Whether the finding of the violation is in a civil or criminal case.

(b) Whether the finding of violation is by the United States Supreme Court or by a lower federal court.

(c) Where, after the finding of violation, a decree is entered by an appropriate court which results in the elimination of the practice which was a violation of federal law.

(d) Where there has been no finding of violation but a suit has been filed alleging a violation.

(e) Where there has been no finding of violation or no filing of suit, but the Commission is in possession of information which shows that there has been a violation of federal law.

3. Written briefs and statements were filed by the U. S. Department of Justice, 16 representatives of the broadcasting industry and other members of the public. The parties presented in their written statements much argument and information which have been helpful to the Commission in making a determination of the issues in this proceeding.

4. In approaching these issues, we are concerned with two basic considerations:

(1) Under the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, licensees are required by law to operate radio stations in the public interest.

(2) The Commission, in its licensing functions, is obligated to see that this legislative mandate is carried out and to encourage the larger and more effective use of radio in the public interest. It is in the light of these requirements that the problems presented here must be considered.

5. Sections 307 (a), 309 (a) and 310 (b) of the Communications Act provide that the Commission may grant applications only if the public interest, convenience or necessity will be served. No intelligent appraisal of applicants in terms of this standard can be made without an examination of the basic character qualifications of these applicants, and Congress, in section 303 (b) of the act, specifically gave the Commission authority and imposed upon it the duty to make such examination in evaluating applicants for radio facilities.

6. An important aspect of this examination is the conduct of the applicant. KFKB Broadcasting Association, Inc. v. Federal Radio Commission, 44 F. 2d 670. Obviously this does not include every phase of an applicant's behavior, but only that part which has some reasonable relationship to ability to operate a broadcast station in the public interest. As pointed out in Mansfield Journal Co. v. Federal Communications Commission, 180 F. 2d 28, 33, ". . . in determining whether a particular applicant should be permitted to operate so important and restricted a facility as a radio station . . . it is appropriate that the Commission examine pertinent aspects of the past history of the applicant."

7. We believe a pertinent part of this history would clearly include any violation of Federal law. We have in the past considered various types of unlawful conduct including violations of Internal Revenue laws, conspiracy to violate antitrust laws, false advertising and other deceptive practices, in passing upon qualifications of applicants. In this respect we have been sustained by the Courts. In Mester et al. v. United States, et al., 70 F. Supp. 118, affirmed per curiam 332 U. S. 820, the U. S. District Court for the Eastern District of New York stated that the Commission might consider as one element of evaluation the applicant's flagrant disregard and violation of various U. S. Government regulations designed for public protection. In National Broadcasting Company v. United States, 319 U. S. 190, 222, the Supreme Court stated that the Commission is permitted to exercise its judgment as to whether violation of the antitrust laws disqualify an applicant from operating a station in the public interest; and "might infer from the fact that the applicant had in the past tried to monopolize radio, or had engaged in unfair methods of competition, that the disposition so manifested would continue and that if it did it would make him an unfit licensee." It must be concluded, therefore, that the Commission's authority to consider violation of Federal laws, other than the Communications Act of 1934, in evaluating applicants for radio facilities is well established and that a positive duty is imposed upon us to exercise this authority.

8. As the courts have held, by exercising such authority we are not encroaching upon the administrative and enforcement jurisdictions of other governmental agencies or the courts. Thus, in the above-mentioned National Broadcasting Company case we pointed out to the Court that in adopting the network regulations we were not attempting to apply the anti-trust laws as such, but were concerned only with practices violative of the anti-trust laws to the extent that they "had a bearing upon the matters which were entrusted to the Commission." The Supreme Court expressed its approval of this interpretation. In the Mester case, we were not attempting to impose penalties for violations of laws administered by the Federal Trade Commission and the Office of Price Administration, but rather considered such violations along with other conduct pertinent to a determination whether the applicant had the qualifications to operate a broadcast station as required by the Communications Act.

9. The contention has been made by parties in the proceeding that no blanket policy should be adopted by the FCC which would absolutely disqualify applicants for radio facilities where they are found to have violated a Federal law or which would attempt to specify the exact weight or significance to be given by the Commission to such violations. Such evaluations, it was argued, should be made only on a case-to-case basis in the light of the specific facts involved in and related to the violation. We are in general agreement with this contention. As mentioned above, the Commission must be satisfied that an applicant has the requisite qualifications to assure that public interest will be served by a grant of his application. This determination cannot be made on the basis of isolated facts but should include a careful, critical analysis of all pertinent conduct of the applicant. We believe that if an applicant is or has been involved in unlawful practices, an analysis of the substance of these practices must be made to determine their relevance and weight as regards the ability of the applicant to use the requested radio authorization in the public interest. We do not believe that the outcome of this determination should be prejudged by the adoption of any general rule forbidding any grant in all cases where unlawful conduct of any kind or degree can be shown. Nor do we believe that any rule could adequately prescribe what type of conduct may be considered of such a nature that in all cases it would be contrary to the public interest to grant a license.

10. While we have determined that no blanket policy should be enunciated, in view of the apparent confusion which has existed with respect to the subject of this proceeding, and the concern expressed by those whose interests have been or may be affected in the future, we believe it will be helpful to set forth what we think is the correct approach for properly determining on a case-to-case basis the weight to be given violations of Federal law other than the Communications Act. By so doing, we are not attempting to set up a "trick substitute" for the exercise of administrative discretion. With respect to the particular matter which is the subject of this Report, there is no easy formula or slide rule which can be used to give the answer to every such case that comes before us. We must and will decide each case on its individual merits. But in the interest of clarity, we are simply stating some of the factors which we believe should and must be considered before sound judgments can be made.

11. It has been urged upon us that the violation of a U. S. law per se raises no presumption adverse to an applicant. With this point of view we do not agree. Violations of Federal laws, whether deliberate or inadvertent, raise sufficient question regarding character to merit further examination. While this question as to character may be overcome by countervailing circumstances, nevertheless, in every case, the Commission must view with concern the unlawful conduct of any applicant who is seeking authority to operate radio facilities as a trustee for the public. This is not to say that a single violation of a Federal law or even a number of them necessarily makes the offender ineligible for a radio grant. There may be facts which are in extenuation of the violation of law. Or, there may be other favorable facts and considerations that outweigh the record of unlawful conduct and qualify the applicant to operate a station in the public interest. In all such cases, a matter of prime concern is whether the violation was committed inadvertently or wilfully. Innocent violations are not as serious as deliberate ones.

12. As has been suggested by parties in this proceeding, another matter of importance is whether the infraction of law is an isolated instance or whether there have been recurring offenses which establish a definite pattern of misbehavior. A single transgression of law, particularly if inadvertently committed, might raise little question with respect to qualifications, whereas a continuing and callous disregard for laws may justify the conclusion that the applicant cannot be expected in the future to demonstrate a responsible attitude toward his obligations as a broadcast licensee. In this connection, the matter of time is important. There necessarily must be more concern with recent violations than with those which occurred in the remote past and have been followed by a long period of consistent adherence to law and exemplary conduct on the part of the applicant. Cases which must be viewed with most critical scrutiny are those where the applicant has been involved in violations over a long period of time or is presently engaged in illegal practices. In all such cases a strong presumption of ineligibility is raised and a heavy burden of proof is imposed on the applicant to show he is qualified to operate a broadcast station in the public interest.

13. It is irrelevant to a determination of qualifications whether the finding of violation is in a civil or criminal case. In either case it is the conduct of the applicant and not the type of suit brought that is important. For as pointed out by the Department of Justice in its Memorandum, "while the bringing of a criminal case may sometime indicate a more flagrant and wilful disregard of the antitrust laws than does the filing of a civil complaint, so many factors enter into determination of the type of action to be brought that whether the suit was civil or criminal has little relationship to the question whether the defendant's acts were in deliberate disregard of the anti-trust laws or whether his violation was flagrant or persistent."

14. Furthermore, it is not the particular tribunal which makes the finding, but the finality of the decree which is significant. We see no logical basis for giving greater evidentiary weight in character determination to a final decree of the higher court than to that of a lower court from which no appeal was taken.

15. The question is presented as to what significance should be given to the fact that a suit alleging a violation of law has been filed against an applicant or where the Commission is in possession of facts showing that the applicant has violated the law but where there has been no final adjudication by an appropriate authority. The fact that suit has been instituted is not the important consideration. The questions raised and facts involved, however, may be of concern to the Commission. As hereinabove pointed out, the Commission has the authority to examine pertinent aspects of the past history of an applicant and this history, of course, includes any violation of Federal law. Even though no suit alleging illegal conduct has been filed, or if one has been filed but has not been heard or finally adjudicated, the Commission may consider and evaluate the conduct of an applicant in so far as it may relate to matters entrusted to the Commission. (See National Broadcasting Company v. United States, and Mansfield Journal Company v. Federal Communications Commission.

16. Thus far we have been discussing violations of Federal law in general. However, as indicated in the Notice of Oral Argument in this proceeding, violations of anti-trust laws have been the principal basis for the Commission's concern in this matter. Most of the parties who presented argument have at one time or another been the subject of prosecution or conviction under the Sherman Anti-trust laws and have filed applications for new or changed radio facilities upon which action has been postponed by the Commission pending a determination of this matter. We believe, therefore, that such violations deserve special treatment in this report.

17. Congressional concern with free competition in the broadcasting field is evident in the very explicit and specific provisions of sections 311 and 313 making the anti-trust laws applicable to broadcasting. This concern is amplified in the legislative history of these provisions. As the Supreme Court pointed out in Federal Communications Commission v. Pottsville Broadcasting Co., 309 U. S. 134, 137, Congress in setting up the Communications Act of 1934 "moved under the spur of a widespread fear that in the absence of governmental control the public interest might be subordinated to monopolistic domination in the broadcasting field." As the Supreme Court further pointed out in Federal Communications Commission v. Sanders Brothers Radio Station, 309 U. S. 470, 478 (1940) "the act recognizes that the field of broadcasting is one of free competition." In that case the Court held that the act "expressly negatives" the idea of monopoly in the broadcasting field. It is clear from the legislative history of the Act and from various provisions therein that Congress conceived as one of the Commission's major functions the preservation of competition in the radio field and the protection of the public as against the private interest.

18. It has been argued that there is no need or basis for the Commission to disqualify applicants because they have been involved in violations of the antitrust laws since the Commission has the means of preventing the growth of monopolistic practices in radio. Thus, it is contended that if we effectively enforce the duopoly and multiple ownership rules there can be no real danger of a monopoly developing in the broadcasting field. This argument misses the point of the discussion in this report. While it is true that enforcement of the Commission's multiple ownership rules can prevent any applicant from acquiring an excessive number of stations, there are many other monopolistic practices against which there are no rules. And while in the course of time, where such practices are discovered the Commission can adopt rules which might prevent recurrence of these monopolistic practices, the fact remains that such monopolistic practices might exist for a long period of time before they are discovered or corrected. During this period the existence of these restrictive practices can prevent the maximum development of broadcasting not only for that period but also for the future. It is well known that once certain practices develop, it is exceedingly difficult in applying corrective measures to restore the situation to the same healthy conditions that would have prevailed had not the restrictive conditions been permitted to arise at all. Thus, it is important that only those persons should be licensed who can be relied upon to operate in the public interest, and not engage in monopolistic practices. When passing upon applications of persons who have engaged in monopolistic practices in other industries, the Commission must be concerned as to whether such persons would also engage in monopolistic practices in radio if they were given a license. Their conduct in other fields is obviously a matter which the Commission must consider in determining whether they possess the requisite qualifications of a licensee.

[1] While the notice of oral argument refers to laws of the United States only, the principles hereinafter set forth in this report also apply to other violations of law. Arguments of some parties to the proceeding related to the authority of the Commission with respect to violations of state and local laws as well as federal laws.

19. Much of the argument in this proceeding related to the major motion picture companies who have violated the anti-trust laws over a period of years in the motion picture field. It is obvious from what we have already said that violation of the anti-trust laws by the motion picture companies is a matter that the Commission must consider carefully in determining the qualifications of these companies to operate in the public interest.

20. A somewhat related matter in so far as motion picture companies are concerned merits some discussion. It has come to the Commission's attention that many motion picture companies refuse to make copies of their films available for use by television stations. Similarly, restrictions are imposed by these companies as to the appearance of actors under contract to the studio on television programs and to the use on television of stories or plays whose rights have been acquired by the studio. We express no opinion at this time as to whether such practices are or are not in violation of the anti-trust laws. We do desire, however, to point out that whether or not these practices are a violation of any law they are considered by the Commission to be relevant in determining the qualifications of applicants utilizing such practices. It is obvious that the success of television will depend to a large measure on the ability of television stations to acquire the best available films and to utilize the best available talent and stories in their programs. Motion picture companies, of course, have the same interest. When a television station is owned by a licensee other than a motion picture company, it will compete vigorously with the motion picture companies to secure the best available films, talent and stories for use over his station. Where a television station is owned by a motion picture company which imposes restrictions on the use of films, talent or stories on television stations, obviously a conflict of interest is created and the conflict is likely to be resolved against the television station where the investment in the motion picture part of the enterprise is greater than in the television properties. In such a case, a serious policy question is presented as to whether the Commission fulfills its obligation to encourage the largest and most effective utilization of television in the public interest when it licenses the station to a person with an obvious conflict of interest which can prevent him from utilizing television to its utmost.

21. In this report we have attempted to discuss as clearly as possible what we consider to be basic matters of concern in this proceeding. For the benefit of the general public and in fairness to the parties in this proceeding as well as others who have applications pending and who may be making plans for further expansion in the broadcasting field we have set forth what we consider the primary principles which should guide us in making a case-to-case determination of these applications.

PART 9—AERONAUTICAL SERVICES

POSTING STATION LICENSES AND TRANSMITTER IDENTIFICATION CARDS

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission, held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 28th day of March 1951;

The Commission having under consideration the matter of amending § 9.118 of its rules governing aeronautical services in order to provide for the use of the FCC Form 452–C as a means of identifying aeronautical mobile stations;

It appearing, that a notice of proposed rule making under section 4 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act is not required since the amendment herein ordered is not substantive in nature;

It is ordered, Under the authority contained in sections 4 (i), 301, 303 (r) and 309 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, that effective June 1, 1951, § 9.118 of the Commission's rules and regulations governing Aeronautical Services is amended as set forth below.

(Sec. 4, 48 Stat. 066, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 154. Interprets or applies secs. 301, 309, 48 Stat. 1081, 1085; 47 U. S. C. 301, 309)

Adopted: March 28, 1951.

Released: March 28, 1951.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
[SEAL] T. J. SLOWIE,
Secretary.

§ 9.118 Posting station licenses and transmitter identification cards. (a) The current authorization for stations at fixed locations in the aeronautical services shall be conspicuously posted at the place where the transmitter is located. In the event an authorization covers transmitters at several locations, the authorization shall be posted at one transmitter location and a photographic copy thereof shall be posted at all other transmitter locations. The photographic copy shall bear a notation of the location of the original authorization.

(b) The current authorization for aircraft radio stations may be posted or kept at a convenient easily accessible location in the aircraft.

(c) The current authorization for each land mobile station shall be retained as a permanent part of the station record, but need not be posted. An executive Transmitter Identification Card (FCC Form 452–C) shall be affixed to each land mobile transmitter or associated control equipment. When the transmitter is not in view of and readily accessible to the operator, it is preferred that the identification card be affixed to the control equipment at the transmitter operating position. The following information shall be entered on the card by the permittee or licensee:

(1) Name of permittee or licensee.

(2) Station call signal assigned by the Commission.

(3) Exact location or locations of the transmitter records.

(4) Frequency or frequencies on which the transmitter to which attached is adjusted to operate; and

(5) Signature of the permittee or licensee, or a designated official thereof.

PART 17—CONSTRUCTION, MARKING AND LIGHTING OF ANTENNA TOWERS AND/OR THEIR SUPPORTING STRUCTURES

FORM TO BE USED TO DESCRIBE PROPOSED ANTENNA STRUCTURES

In the matter of amendment of § 17.3 of the Commission's rules for the purpose of clarification and removing certain inconsistencies.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 28th day of March 1951;

The Commission having under consideration § 17.3 of the Commission's rules concerning the construction, marking and lighting of antenna towers and/or their supporting structures which section specifies the form to be used to describe proposed antenna structures.

It appearing, that in its present form § 17.3 requires the filing of Form 401-A (revised) in many cases where the antenna would not exceed 20 feet in height. This requirement is inconsistent with the apparent intent of § 17.14 which exempts such antenna from special aeronautical study;

It further appearing, that the standard set forth in § 17.3 (a) (2) with respect to "height above ground for each 200 feet of distance from the boundary of any landing area" is inconsistent with other sections of Part 17 which indicate the correct standard should be "above the established airport elevation;"

It further appearing, that since it is not only desirable but in the public interest that these inconsistencies be eliminated and that since an amendment necessary to effectuate this end would be editorial rather than substantive in nature, the provisions with respect to notice of proposed rule making as set forth in section 4 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act are not applicable;

It further appearing, that since the amendment serves to grant an exemption, it is not necessary to give 30-day notice prior to the effective date of the amendment;

It further appearing, that authority for the amendment is contained in sections 4 (i), 301, 303 (q), and 309 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended;

It is ordered, That effective immediately § 17.3 of the Commission's rules concerning the construction, marking and lighting of antenna towers and/or their supporting structures is amended to read as follows:

§ 17.3 Form to be used to describe proposed antenna structures. Applications for radio facilities shall be accompanied by FCC Form 401–A (revised) for services other than broadcast [1] when:

(1) The antenna structures proposed to be erected will exceed an over-all height of 170 feet above ground level, except that where the antenna is mounted on top of an existing man-made structure and does not increase the over-all height of such man-made structure by more than 20 feet, no Form 401–A need be filed, or

(2) The antenna structures proposed to be erected will exceed an over-all height of 1 foot above the established airport (landing area) elevation for each 200 feet of distance, or fraction thereof, from the nearest boundary of such landing area, except that where the antenna does not exceed 20 feet above the ground or if the antenna is mounted on top of an existing man-made structure or natural formation and does not increase the over-all height of such man-made structure or natural formation by more than 20 feet, no Form 401–A need be filed.

(Sec. 4, 48 Stat. 1066, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 154. Interprets or applies secs. 301, 303, 309, 48 Stat. 1081, 1082, 1085; 47 U. S. C. 301, 303, 309)

Adopted: March 28, 1951.

Released: March 29, 1951.

NEEDLEWORK AND FABRICATED TEXTILE PRODUCTS INDUSTRY IN PUERTO RICO

MINIMUM WAGE RATES

On June 15, 1950, pursuant to section 5 (a) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, hereinafter called the act, the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, by Administrative Order No. 399, appointed Special Industry Committee No. 8 for Puerto Rico (hereinafter called the "Committee") and directed the Committee to investigate conditions in a number of industries in Puerto Rico specified and defined in the order, including the needlework and fabricated textile products industry in Puerto Rico (hereinafter called the "industry"), and to recommend minimum wage rates for employees engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce in such industries.

For purposes of investigating conditions in and recommending minimum wage rates for the needlework and fabricated textile products industry, the Committee included three disinterested persons representing the public, a like number representing employers, and a like number representing employees in the industry, and was composed of residents of Puerto Rico and of the United States outside of Puerto Rico.

After investigating economic and competitive conditions in the industry in Puerto Rico, the Committee filed with the Administrator a report containing (a) its recommendation that the industry be divided into separable divisions for the purpose of fixing minimum wage rates; (b) the titles and definitions recommended by the Committee for such separable divisions of the industry; and (c) its recommendation for minimum wage rates to be paid employees engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce in such divisions of the industry.

Pursuant to notice published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on October 20, 1950, and circulated to all interested persons, a public hearing upon the Committee's recommendations was held before Hearing Examiner Clifford P. Grant, as presiding officer, in Washington, D. C. on November 15 and 16, 1950, at which all interested parties were given an opportunity to be heard. After the hearing was closed the record of the hearing was certified to the Administrator by the presiding officer.

Upon reviewing all the evidence in this proceeding and after giving consideration to the provisions of the act, particularly sections 5 and 8 thereof, I, as Administrator, have concluded that the recommendations of the Committee for minimum wage rates in the needlework and fabricated textile products industry and its divisions, as defined, were made in accordance with law, are supported by the evidence adduced at the hearing and, taking into consideration the same factors as are required to be considered by the Committee, will carry out the purposes of sections 5 and 8 of the act.

I have set forth my decision in a document entitled "Findings and Opinion of the Administrator in the Matter of the Recommendations of Special Industry Committee No. 8 for Puerto Rico for Minimum Wage Rates in the Needlework and Fabricated Textile Products Industry in Puerto Rico," a copy of which may be had upon request addressed to the Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, Washington 25, D. C.

Accordingly, notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001) and the rules of practice governing this proceeding (15 F. R. 7029), that I propose to approve the recommendations of the Committee for the industry and to revise the regulations contained in this part to read as set forth below in order to carry such recommendations into effect. Interested parties may submit written exceptions within 15 days from publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Exceptions should be addressed to the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, Washington 25, D. C. They should be submitted in quadruplicate, and should include supporting reasons for any exceptions.

HOUSING AND HOME FINANCE AGENCY

Home Loan Bank Board

[24 CFR, Part 122]

ORGANIZATION OF BANKS

ELECTION OF DIRECTORS OF FEDERAL HOME LOAN BANKS

APRIL 5, 1951.

Resolved that, pursuant to Part 108 of the General Regulations of the Home Loan Bank Board (24 CFR Part 108), it is proposed to amend the provisions contained in Part 122 of the Regulations for the Federal Home Loan Bank System (24 CFR Part 122) under the subheading "Directors", in the particulars as hereinafter set forth.

Resolved further that a hearing will be held on May 15, 1951 at 10 o'clock in the forenoon in Room 827, Federal Home Loan Bank Board Building, 101 Indiana Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C., before the Home Loan Bank Board, a member thereof, or a hearing officer designated by the Board, for the purpose of receiving evidence, oral views and arguments on said proposed amendments of the Regulations for the Federal Home Loan Bank System, if written notice of intention to appear at said hearing is received by the Secretary to the Home Loan Bank Board at least five days before said date. If no such written notice of intention to appear has been received by the Secretary to the Board at least five days before the date set for the hearing, the hearing will be dispensed with. Whether or not a hearing is held, written data, views or arguments on said proposed amendments which are received by the Secretary to the Home Loan Bank Board on or before May 10, 1951, or prior to the conclusion of the hearing, if held, will be considered by the Home Loan Bank Board in connection with its consideration of the proposed amendments of the said regulations.

a. Section 122.21 to be amended to read as follows:

§ 122.21 Election. Eight directors of each Bank will be elected in accordance with the provisions of §§ 122.21 to 122.45.

b. Section 122.26 to be amended to read as follows:

§ 122.26 Notification of nomination and classification. The Board will adjust the lines of class demarcation of members every four years or more often if it deems such action desirable. Before August 1 of each year, the Board will divide the member institutions into groups A, B, and C on the basis of the size of the members as determined, as of the May 31 immediately preceding said August 1, from the aggregate unpaid principal of each member's home mortgage loans appearing on the most recent annual report of the member in the possession of its Bank or on the most recent financial statement of a member in the possession of its Bank in the event such Bank holds no annual report of such member. The Board will then notify each member not later than August 1 of each year of its right to nominate and of its classification and will furnish each member with a list of the members in its class and a list of those holding directorships at that time in the Bank of which it is a member, reflecting each class directorship and each directorship-at-large and containing the name of each director, the date of expiration of the term of each director, the name and address of the member institution of which each class director is an officer or director and his title, the name and address of the institution with which each director-at-large is affiliated and his title, or, if not affiliated with an institution, his present or former occupation and the city and State of which he is a bona fide resident. At the same time each member will be furnished with a copy of these Regulations governing the nomination and election of Bank directors and the necessary nominating certificate and will be notified of each directorship to be filled from the membership-at-large and of each directorship to be filled in its class.

c. Section 122.27 to be amended to read as follows:

§ 122.27 Nominating certificates. Upon receipt of the nominating certificate each member, by resolution of its governing body, may nominate, or authorize one of its directors and one of its officers to nominate, a suitably qualified person for each directorship to be filled in its class and each directorship to be filled from the membership-at-large. The certificate shall then be duly executed and mailed to the Secretary to the Board, so as to be delivered to his office in Washington, D. C., not later than August 31.

d. Section 122.28 to be amended to read as follows:

§ 122.28 Notification to nominees. A letter will be forwarded to each nominee under registered mail so as to reach his address, as shown by the Board's records, before September 9, informing him of his nomination: Provided, however, No such letter shall be forwarded to any nominee holding a class directorship or a directorship-at-large whose term does not expire until after the close of the calendar year during which the election is being held or to any nominee holding a public interest directorship, unless the Secretary to the Board has received from him before September 1 notice of his intention to be a candidate for a class directorship or directorship-at-large. With such letter each such nominee will be forwarded a list of nominees reflecting the directorship or directorships for which each was nominated, a copy of these Regulations governing the nomination and election of Bank directors and a questionnaire which will contain, among other things, a request for a brief biography and questions to ascertain whether the nominee is eligible for the directorship for which he has been nominated and whether he is willing to serve if elected. Such questionnaire must be completely filled in and mailed so as to be delivered to the office of the Secretary to the Board not later than September 15 in order for the nominee to have his name placed on an election ballot. No candidate shall be eligible for election to a directorship unless he is nominated and his name placed on an election ballot pursuant to the provisions of this section and § 122.29.

e. Section 122.30 to be amended to read as follows:

§ 122.30 First election ballots. On or before October 1, the Board will mail to each member the first election ballots which will contain in alphabetical order the name of each candidate for each directorship to be filled in its class and from the membership-at-large who has complied with the provisions of §§ 122.28 and 122.29. Each ballot for a class directorship will also reflect the title of each candidate and the name and address of the member institution of which he is an officer or director. Each ballot for a directorship-at-large will also reflect the title of each candidate and the name and address of the institution with which he is affiliated or, if not affiliated with an institution, his present or former occupation and the city and state of which he is a bona fide resident. In the event a candidate for a directorship-at-large is affiliated with an institution which is not a member of the Bank such fact will be recorded on the ballot.

f. Section 122.35 to be amended to read as follows:

§ 122.35 Declaration and notification of first election results. Upon determining the results of the first election ballots, the Board will declare elected the candidates who should be declared elected in accordance with the provisions of §§ 122.21 to 122.45. The Board will thereupon spread said results upon its minutes and notify the directors elected of their election. The Board will also furnish each Bank member the results of the first election ballots and advice as to any directorship or directorships which are to be subject to a final election. The results of the first election ballots shall reflect the name of each candidate, the name and address of the institution with which he is affiliated, the number of votes he received, the number of members eligible to vote for the directorship for which he was a candidate and the candidate declared elected. Upon the request of a candidate the Board will furnish him with the number of votes each candidate received for the directorship for which he was a candidate and the number of members eligible to vote for the directorship for which he was a candidate.

g. Section 122.36 to be amended to read as follows:

§ 122.36 Final election ballots. On or before November 15, the names of the two highest candidates for each directorship not filled will be placed on final election ballots and such ballots forwarded to the members entitled to vote for such directorships: Provided, however, That in the event more than two candidates receive the same number of votes for a directorship and such number is greater than the votes of any of the other candidates for such directorship, the names of all said candidates receiving an equal number of votes shall be placed on the final election ballot: Provided further, That in the event one candidate receives more votes than any other candidate for the directorship and the next highest number of votes for the directorship is held by two or more candidates, the names of all said candidates receiving the two highest number of votes for the directorship shall be placed on the final election ballot. There will be shown on each final election ballot the same information with respect to each candidate which will be shown on each first election ballot with respect to each candidate as set forth in § 122.30.

h. Section 122.38 to be amended to read as follows:

§ 122.38 Declaration and notification of final election results. Upon determining the results of the final election ballots, the Board will declare elected the candidates receiving the highest number of votes. The Board will thereupon spread said results upon its minutes and notify the directors elected of their election. The Board will furnish each Bank member with the results of the election of directors for that Bank. The results of the final election ballots shall reflect the name of each candidate, the name and address of the institution with which he is affiliated, the number of votes he received, the number of members eligible to vote for the directorship for which he was a candidate and the candidate declared elected. Upon the request of a candidate the Board will furnish him with the number of votes each candidate received for the directorship for which he was a candidate and the number of members eligible to vote for the directorship for which he was a candidate.

i. Section 122.40 to be amended to read as follows:

§ 122.40 Mailing of nominating certificates and balloting material. All nominating and balloting material sent to members shall be forwarded by regular mail, except that such material sent to members in Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Alaska, and Hawaii shall be forwarded by airmail. Each Bank will be furnished with copies of all nominating certificates, ballots and other election material which has been forwarded to its members.

UNSECURED LOANS

PERMITTING LARGER LOANS GUARANTEED OR INSURED BY FEDERAL HOUSING ADMINISTRATION OR VETERANS' ADMINISTRATION

APRIL 5, 1951.

Resolved, that pursuant to Part 108 of the General Regulations of the Home Loan Bank Board (24 CFR Part 108), an amendment to § 145.8 of the rules and regulations for the Federal Savings and Loan System (24 CFR 145.8), as hereinafter set forth, is hereby proposed.

Resolved further, that a hearing will be held on May 15, 1951, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon in Room 827, Federal Home Loan Bank Board Building, 101 Indiana Avenue NW., Washington, D. C., before the Home Loan Bank Board, a member thereof, or a hearing officer designated by the Board, for the purpose of receiving evidence, oral views and arguments on said proposed amendment of the rules and regulations for the Federal Savings and Loan System, if written notice of intention to appear at said hearing is received by the Secretary to the Home Loan Bank Board at least five days before said date. If no such written notice of intention to appear has been received by the Secretary to the Board at least five days before the date set for the hearing, the hearing will be dispensed with. Whether or not a hearing is held, written data, views or arguments on said proposed amendment which are received by the Secretary to the Home Loan Bank Board on or before May 10, 1951, or prior to the conclusion of the hearing, if held, will be considered by the Home Loan Bank Board in connection with its consideration of the proposed amendment of the said rules and regulations.

Paragraph (b) of said § 145.8 Unsecured loans, shall be amended to read as follows:

(b) Simple-interest, discount, or gross-charge loans for property alteration, repair, or improvement (except business loans provided by section 503 of the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944, as now or hereafter amended, and not secured by lien on real estate) without the security of a lien upon such property: Provided, That:

(1) The net proceeds of any such loan do not exceed $1,500;

(2) The property is located in such association's regular lending area as defined in § 145.6–6;

(3) Each such loan is evidenced by one or more negotiable notes, bonds, or other written evidences of debt;

(4) The resulting aggregate amount of all such loans does not exceed an amount equal to 15 percent of such association's assets;

(5) Each such loan is repayable in regular monthly installments within a period of 5 years;

And provided further, That any such loan for property alteration, repair, or improvement that is accepted for insurance under the provisions of the National Housing Act, as now or hereafter amended, or for insurance or guarantee under the provisions of the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944, as now or hereafter amended, may be made for such amount and repayable upon such terms and within such period as are acceptable to the insuring or guaranteeing agency: Provided, That no Federal association may make any unsecured loan to a director, officer, or employee of the association, or to any person or firm regularly serving the association in the capacity of attorney-at-law, except for the alteration, repair, or improvement of the home or combination of home and business property owned and occupied by such borrowing director, officer, employee, attorney or firm.

(Sec. 5 (a), 48 Stat. 132, Reorg. Plan No. 3 of 1947, 12 F. R. 4981, 3 CFR 1947 Supp., 61 Stat. 954; 12 U. S. C. 1464 (a), 5 U. S. C. 133y–16)

By the Home Loan Bank Board.

NOTICES

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

Bureau of Land Management

CALIFORNIA

CLASSIFICATION ORDER

MARCH 23, 1951.

1. Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Director, Bureau of Land Management, by Order No. 427 dated August 16, 1950, I hereby classify under the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938 (52 Stat. 609), as amended July 14, 1945 (59 Stat. 467, 43 U. S. C. 682a), as hereinafter indicated, the following described lands in the Sacramento, California, land district, embracing approximately 2,247.5 acres,

CALIFORNIA SMALL TRACT CLASSIFICATION No. 268

For lease and sale for homesites only:

T. 27 S., R. 39 E., M. D. M.,
Sec. 22, E½NE¼, SW¼NE¼, SE¼NW¼ NE¼, S½SW¼NW¼NE¼, W½NW¼, NW¼NE¼NW¼, N½SW¼NE¼NW¼, S½SE¼NW¼ and S½.
T. 27 S., R. 40 E., M. D. M.,
Sec. 6, S½NE¼, SE¼NW¼, E½SW¼ NW¼, SE¼, E½SW¼, E½NW¼SW¼, E½SW¼SW¼, SW¼NW¼SW¼SW¼, W½SW¼ of SW¼SW¼.
Sec. 7, S½N½, SW¼.
Sec. 14, E½W½.
Sec. 18, N½NE¼, NW¼, S½SW¼, N½ SW¼SE¼, SW¼SW¼SE¼.
Sec. 19, W½.

Leases for tracts in irregular subdivisions will not be issued until supplemental plats have been prepared dividing these irregular areas into tracts.

The lands are situated in eastern Kern County, California, near the Naval Testing Station known as the Inyokern Base. They are easily accessible from paved roads. They are in an area known as Indian Wells Valley and the nearest town is Ridgecrest, California. They are in an area where homesites are in demand because of the expanding activities at the large Naval Testing Station nearby.

2. As to applications regularly filed prior to 9:00 a. m., March 12, 1951, and are for the type of site for which the lands are classified, this order shall become effective upon the date it is signed.

3. As to the lands not covered by applications referred to in paragraph 2, this order shall not become effective to permit leasing under the Small Tract Act until 10:00 a. m., May 25, 1951. At that time such lands shall, subject to valid existing rights, become subject to application as follows:

(a) Ninety-day preference period for qualified veterans of World War II from 10:00 a. m., May 25, 1951, to close of business on August 23, 1951.

(b) Advance period for veterans' simultaneous filings from 9:00 a. m., March 12, 1951, to 10:00 a. m., May 25, 1951.

4. Any of the land remaining unappropriated shall become subject to application under the Small Tract Act by the public generally, commencing at 10:00 a. m., August 24, 1951.

(a) Advance period for simultaneous nonpreference filings from 9:00 a. m., March 12, 1951, to 10:00 a. m., August 24, 1951.

5. Applications filed within the periods mentioned in paragraphs 3 (b) and 4 (a) will be treated as simultaneously filed.

A veteran shall accompany his application with a complete photostatic, or other copy (both sides), of his certificate of honorable discharge, or of an official document of his branch of the service which shows clearly his honorable discharge as defined in § 181.36 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, or constitutes evidence of other facts upon which the claim for preference is based and which shows clearly the period of service. Other persons claiming credit for service of veterans must furnish like proof in support of their claims. Persons asserting preference rights, through settlement or otherwise, and those having equitable claims, shall accompany their application by duly corroborated statements in support thereof, setting forth in detail all facts relevant to their claims.

6. All of the lands will be leased in tracts of approximately 5 acres, each being approximately 330 by 660 feet, the longer dimensions to extend east and west.

7. Preference right leases referred to in paragraph 2 will be issued for the land described in the application irrespective of the direction of the tract, provided the tract conforms to or is made to conform to the area and the dimension specified in paragraph 6.

8. Where only one 5-acre tract in a 10-acre subdivision is embraced in a preference right application, an application for the remaining 5-acre tract extending in the same direction will be accepted in order to fill out the subdivision notwithstanding the direction specified in paragraph 6.

9. Leases will be for a period of three years at an annual rental of $5.00 payable for the entire lease period in advance of the issuance of the lease. Leases will contain an option to purchase clause at the appraised value of $50.00 per tract, application for which may be filed at or after the expiration of one year from date the lease is issued.

10. Tracts will be subject to all existing range improvements, such as fences, and to all existing rights-of-way. They will also be subject to rights-of-way not exceeding 33 feet in width along or near the edges thereof for road purposes and public utilities. Such rights-of-way may be utilized by the Federal Government, or the State, county or municipality in which the tract is situated, or by any agency thereof. The rights-of-way may, in the discretion of the authorized officer of the Bureau of Land Management, be definitely located prior to the issuance of the patent. If not so located, they may be subject to location after patent is issued.

11. All inquiries relating to these lands should be addressed to the Manager, Land Office, Sacramento, California.

L. T. HOFFMAN,
Regional Administrator.

[Docket No. 9514]

CROSLEY BROADCASTING CORP. (WINS)

ORDER CONTINUING HEARING

In re application of the Crosley Broadcasting Corporation (WINS), New York, New York, Docket No. 9514, File No. BMP–4758; for extension of completion date.

It appearing that it would be to the mutual advantage of the applicant, the Hearing Examiner and the Commission Counsel to continue the hearing in the above-entitled proceeding, presently scheduled to commence on April 16, 1951, in Washington, D. C., to April 30, 1951; and

It further appearing that the other parties to the proceeding have consented to this continuance;

It is therefore ordered, This 30th day of March 1951 that the hearing on the application of The Crosley Broadcasting Corporation (WINS), New York, New York, for extension of completion date, is hereby continued to April 30, 1951, and shall commence on that date at 10:00 a. m., in Washington, D. C.

VALLEY BROADCASTING CO. (KLOK) AND CHARLES E. SALIK (KCBQ)

ORDER ADVANCING HEARING

In re applications of E. L. Barker, Claribel Barker, T. H. Canfield and Opal A. Canfield, d/b as Valley Broadcasting Company (KLOK), San Jose, California, Docket No. 9615, File No. BP–7400; for construction permit; Charles E. Salik (KCBQ), San Diego, California, Docket No. 9616, File No. BML–1392; for modification of license.

The Commission having under consideration a petition filed March 16, 1951 by the Valley Broadcasting Company (KLOK), San Jose, California, requesting that the hearing on the above-entitled applications be advanced from April 30 to April 23, 1951, in order that the general manager of Station KLOK, Mr. E. L. Barker, who will be in Chicago to attend the NAB Convention (April 15–19, 1951) may continue on to Washington, D. C. to testify, thus avoiding additional traveling expense and also thereby allowing him time to attend a Food and Appliance Show which KLOK is sponsoring in San Jose during the period April 26–29, 1951; and

It appearing that the time for filing opposition to this petition has elapsed and none has been received, and that Commission Counsel and Counsel for the other applicant (KCBQ) have agreed to advancing the date of the hearing;

It is therefore ordered, This 30th day of March 1951, that the petition of the Valley Broadcasting Company (KLOK) be and it is hereby granted and the hearing herein is hereby advanced and shall commence at 10:00 a. m., on April 23, 1951, in Washington, D. C.

CHARLES H. CHAMBERLAIN

ORDER SCHEDULING HEARING

In re application of Charles H. Chamberlain, Bellefontaine, Ohio, Docket No. 9801, File No. BP–7675; for construction permit.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 28th day of March 1951;

The Commission having under consideration a petition filed by Charles H. Chamberlain requesting leave to amend, and requesting reconsideration and grant of his above-entitled application for a new standard broadcast station in Bellefontaine, Ohio;

It appearing, that Examiner Jack Blume, who has been duly designated to preside at the hearing on the said application, has granted so much of the petition as requests leave to amend, referring the remainder to the Commission en banc; and

It further appearing, that the Commission is not satisfied on the basis of the showing made by the petitioner that there will not be mutually objectionable interference involved between the proposal of Charles H. Chamberlain and stations WKJG, Ft. Wayne, Indiana, and WING, Dayton, Ohio;

It is ordered, That the petition is hereby denied insofar as it requests a grant and that the above-entitled proceeding is scheduled for hearing at the Commission's offices in Washington, D. C., commencing at 10:00 a. m. on May 25, 1951.

CIRCLE BROADCASTING CORP.

ORDER CONTINUING HEARING

In re application of Circle Broadcasting Corporation, Hollywood, Florida, Docket No. 9884, File No. BP–7750; for construction permit.

The Commission having under consideration a petition, filed by the applicant herein on March 23, 1951, requesting a 45-day continuance of the hearing now scheduled for April 3, 1951; and

It appearing from the petition that the issues specified by the Commission order of January 17, 1951, apprised the applicant of possible objectionable interference to Cuban Station CMCI under the proposed North American Regional Broadcasting Agreement and that the applicant hence desires to seek a different frequency and needs additional time in which to complete the engineering data so as to file a petition for leave to amend the application and for removal of the application as amended from the hearing docket; and

It further appearing, that there are no other parties to this proceeding and that Commission Counsel has not objected to a postponement of the hearing as herein ordered, and that a grant of the instant petition will conduce to the orderly dispatch of the Commission's business:

Now therefore, it is ordered, This 30th day of March 1951, that the petition for postponement of the hearing is granted, and the hearing now scheduled for April 3, 1951, is continued to 10:00 a. m. on Wednesday, May 23, 1951, at Washington, D. C.

CAPITOL RADIO ENTERPRISES AND RADIO CALIFORNIA

ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATIONS FOR CONSOLIDATED HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In re applications of Irving James Schwartz, William Stephen George, John Matranga and Samuel A. Melincoe, d/b as Capitol Radio Enterprises, Sacramento, California, Docket No. 9936, File No. BP-7998 and Knox LaRue and Arnold C. Werner, d/b as Radio California, Sacramento, California, Docket No. 9900, File No. BP-7736; for construction permits.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 28th day of March 1951;

The Commission having under consideration the above-entitled application of Capitol Radio Enterprises requesting a construction permit for a new standard broadcast station to be operated on the frequency 1380 kilocycles, with a power of 1 kilowatt, using a directional antenna, daytime only, at Sacramento, California;

It appearing, that the above-entitled application of Radio California for a permit to construct a new standard broadcast station to be operated on the frequency 1380 kilocycles, with a power of 500 watts, daytime only, in Sacramento, California, was designated for hearing February 7, 1951, primarily because of interference with existing stations and because it might not comply with the standards of Good Engineering Practice, said hearing being scheduled to commence at 10:00 a. m. on May 2, 1951, at Washington, D. C.;

It is ordered, That, pursuant to section 309 (a) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the said applications are designated for hearing in a consolidated proceeding upon the following issues:

1. To determine the legal, technical, financial and other qualifications of the applicant partnerships and their partners to operate the proposed facilities.

2. To determine the areas and populations which may be expected to gain or lose primary service from the operation of the proposed station, and the character of other broadcast service available to such areas and populations.

3. To determine the type and character of program service proposed to be rendered and whether it would meet the requirements of the populations and areas proposed to be served.

4. To determine whether the operation of the proposed station would involve objectionable interference with any other existing broadcast stations, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other broadcast service to such areas and populations.

5. To determine whether the operation of the proposed stations would involve objectionable interference, each with the other, or with the services proposed in any other pending applications for broadcast facilities, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other broadcast service to such areas and populations.

6. To determine whether the installation and operation of the proposed station would be in compliance with the Commission's rules and Standards of Good Engineering Practice Concerning Standard Broadcast Stations.

7. To determine on a comparative basis which, if either, of the applications in this consolidated proceeding should be granted.

It is further ordered, That the Commission's order of February 7, 1951, designating for hearing the application of Radio California is amended to include Issues 1, 3, 5 and 7 set forth above and to include the application of Capitol Radio Enterprises.

AMENDMENT TO ORDER ESTABLISHING SAFETY AND SPECIAL RADIO SERVICES BUREAU

ENFORCEMENT FUNCTIONS

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 28th day of March 1951;

It appearing, that the Commission heretofore on the 29th day of June 1950, issued an order establishing safety and special radio services bureau, effective July 31, 1950; and

It further appearing, that under the terms of paragraph C of that order, various functions are designated to be performed within the immediate Office of the Chief of the Bureau; and that under the terms of paragraph D of that order an "Enforcement Unit" is established within the immediate Office of the Chief of the Bureau "to carry on the following enforcement functions * * *"; and

It further appearing, that uncertainty has arisen as to the availability of the "Enforcement Unit" as a part of the immediate Office of the Chief to carry on certain aspects of the functions of that Office other than the specified "enforcement functions":

It is ordered, That paragraph D of the aforesaid order shall be amended to read as follows:

D. The immediate office of the Chief of the Bureau shall include a unit to carry on the following enforcement functions:

1. To plan in cooperation with the divisions comprising the Bureau the enforcement program for the Safety and Special Radio Services.

2. To evaluate citations to determine whether a recommendation should be made to suspend or revoke licenses or to impose other sanctions.

3. To represent the Bureau and to coordinate with the Office of the General Counsel in those cases where prosecution is deemed necessary.

In addition, such unit shall be available, as required by the Chief of the Bureau, to assist in the performance of legal aspects of the functions set forth in paragraph C above, insofar as such functions affect more than one Division of the Bureau, or are concerned with matters affecting the Bureau generally. The unit shall be available on request of the Bureau Chief or the Division Chiefs to assist, confer with or advise such Division Chiefs or their designated representatives with respect to their general legal and regulatory problems. The unit shall also be available to execute special assignments related to more than one Division.

VIRGINIA INTRASTATE COAL RATES

At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 1, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 3d day of April A. D. 1951.

It appearing, that in Ex Parte No. 115, Emergency Freight Charges, 1935, 208 I. C. C. 4, 223 I. C. C. 657, and 229 I. C. C. 435; Ex Parte No. 166, Increased Freight Rates, 1947, 269 I. C. C. 33, 270 I. C. C. 81, 93, and 403; and Ex Parte No. 168, Increased Freight Rates, 1948, 272 I. C. C. 695, and 276 I. C. C. 9, the Commission authorized carriers subject to the Interstate Commerce Act parties thereto to make certain increases in their freight rates and charges for interstate application throughout the United States, and that increases under such authorizations have been made:

It further appearing, that a petition dated February 28, 1951, has been filed on behalf of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company and other common carriers by railroad operating to, from, and between points in the State of Virginia, averring that the State Corporation Commission of Virginia by various orders, has refused to authorize or permit petitioners to establish for the intrastate transportation of coal upon their railroads in Virginia increases in freight rates and charges corresponding to those authorized by this Commission and made by petitioners for application on interstate traffic in the proceedings cited; such refusals being alleged in the manner and to the extent as stated in the said petition dated February 28, 1951, which petition so filed is referred to for greater certainty;

It further appearing, that petitioners allege that the refusal of the said State Corporation Commission of Virginia to permit the increases on intrastate traffic referred to in the preceding paragraph causes and results in undue and unreasonable advantage, preference, and prejudice as between persons and localities in intrastate commerce on the one hand and interstate commerce on the other hand, and undue, unreasonable and unjust discrimination against interstate commerce, in violation of sections 13 and 15a of the Interstate Commerce Act:

It further appearing, that there have been brought in issue by the said petition rates and charges made or imposed by authority of the State of Virginia;

And it further appearing, that the State Corporation Commission of Virginia on March 26, 1951, filed a reply to said petition, and that the investigation hereinafter instituted responsive to the requirements of section 13 is without prejudice to subsequent appropriate consideration on their merits of the arguments made in said reply:

It is ordered, That in response to the said petition, an investigation be, and it is hereby, instituted, and that a hearing be held therein for the purpose of receiving evidence from the respondents hereinafter designated and any other persons interested, to determine whether the rates and charges of the common carriers by railroad, or any of them, operating in the State of Virginia for the intrastate transportation of coal, made or imposed by authority of the State of Virginia, cause by reason of the failure of such rates and charges to include increases corresponding to those permitted by this Commission for interstate traffic in the proceedings cited, any undue or unreasonable advantage, preference, or prejudice as between persons or localities in intrastate commerce, on the one hand, and interstate or foreign commerce, on the other hand, or any undue, unreasonable, or unjust discrimination against interstate or foreign commerce; and to determine what rates and charges, if any, or what maximum, or minimum, or maximum and minimum rates and charges, shall be prescribed to remove the unlawful advantage, preference, prejudice, or discrimination, if any, that may be found to exist;

It is further ordered, That all common carriers by railroad operating within the State of Virginia subject to the jurisdiction of this Commission be, and they are hereby, made respondents to this proceeding; that a copy of this order be served upon each of the said respondents; and that the State of Virginia be notified of this proceeding by sending copies of this order and of said petition by registered mail to the Governor of the said State and to the State Corporation Commission of Virginia at Richmond, Va.;

It is further ordered, That notice of this proceeding be given to the public by depositing a copy of this order in the office of the Secretary of the Commission, at Washington, D. C., for public inspection, and by filing a copy with the Director, Division of the Federal Register, Washington, D. C.;

And it is further ordered, That this proceeding be assigned for hearing at such times and places as the Commission may hereafter direct.

By the Commission, Division 1.

[SEAL] W. P. BARTEL,
Secretary.

NIAGARA HUDSON POWER CORP.

NOTICE REGARDING FILING OF APPLICATION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 2d day of April A. D. 1951.

Notice is hereby given that Niagara Hudson Power Corporation ("Niagara Hudson"), a registered holding company, has filed an application pursuant to section 5 (d) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 requesting the Commission to enter an order declaring that Niagara Hudson has ceased to be a holding company under said act.

The application states that pursuant to the Commission's order dated August 25, 1949, as supplemented by its order dated September 7, 1950, approving the Dissolution Plan of Niagara Hudson pursuant to section 11 (e) of the act, and the order of the United States District Court for the Northern District of New York dated November 4, 1949, and the supplemental order of said court dated September 28, 1950, approving said plan, Niagara Hudson has made distribution of its assets and was dissolved on December 21, 1950.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than April 13, 1951, at 5:30 p. m., e. s. t., request the Commission in writing, that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reason for such request, and the issues, if any, of fact or law proposed to be controverted; or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time after April 13, 1951, said application may be granted without hearing unless good cause therefor shall be shown.

By the Commission.

PENNSYLVANIA GAS & ELECTRIC CORP. ET AL.

NOTICE OF FILING OF AMENDMENT TO PLAN AND NOTICE OF AND ORDER RECONVENING HEARINGS IN CONSOLIDATED PROCEEDINGS

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 4th day of April A. D. 1951.

In the matter of Pennsylvania Gas & Electric Corporation, North Penn Gas Company, Allegany Gas Company, Dempseytown Gas Company, Alum Rock Gas Company, Penn-Western Service Corporation (applicants), File No. 54-177; Pennsylvania Gas & Electric Corporation and its subsidiary companies (respondents), File No. 59-91.

Pennsylvania Gas & Electric Corporation ("Penn Corp"), a registered holding company, having heretofore filed with the Commission a plan of liquidation and dissolution and amendments thereto pursuant to section 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 (the "act"), and the Commission in its notices of filing and orders for hearing issued July 27, 1949 (Holding Company Act No. 9253) and November 10, 1950 (Holding Company Act Release No. 10214), having summarized the terms of the said plan, and having ordered hearings thereon; and hearings having been held from time to time and having been continued subject to the call of the Hearing Officer or the Commission;

Notice is hereby given that Penn Corp and certain of its subsidiary companies have filed, pursuant to section 11 (e) of the act, a further amendment to Penn Corp's plan providing, generally, for a change in the proposed allocation of Penn Corp's assets among its various classes of preferred and common stocks.

Summarized below are the proposals contained in the amendment insofar as they differ from those summarized in the Commission's notice of filing and order for hearing issued November 10, 1950:

Penn Corp will make distributions of its assets to its security holders as follows:

(a) To the holders of Penn Corp's $7.00 and 7 percent cumulative preferred stocks, 420,000 shares of the proposed new $5 par value capital stock of North Penn Gas Company ("North Penn"), a registered holding company and a public utility subsidiary of Penn Corp. on the basis of 14 shares thereof for each share of preferred stock of Penn Corp, together with a cash payment per share determined at the rate of $7 annually from December 31, 1950 to the date of consummation of the plan.

(b) To the holders of Penn Corp's Class A common stock, for each share thereof, one-fourth share of the proposed new capital stock of North Penn, or a total of approximately 28,056 shares.

(c) To the holders of Penn Corp's Class B common stock, cash in the amount of ten cents per share of such stock or a total of $22,406.70. The shares of such Class B common stock held in the treasury of Penn Corp will not participate and will be cancelled.

The proposed allocation would result in the distribution of approximately 93.7 percent of the new capital stock of North Penn to the preferred stockholders of Penn Corp, and approximately 6.3 percent thereof to the Class A common stockholders of Penn Corp.

No fractional shares of North Penn capital stock will be issued. Each holder of more than 20 shares of Penn Corp's Class A common stock, if entitled to a fractional share, will be paid for such fraction in cash or may purchase an additional fraction entitling him to receive an additional full share of North Penn stock. Each holder of less than 20 shares of Penn Corp's Class A common stock may purchase an additional amount of North Penn stock sufficient to entitle him to receive five full shares, or will be paid in cash for all of the North Penn stock to which he is entitled under the plan. Purchases and sales of North Penn stock and fractions thereof, as aforesaid, will be made on the basis of a settlement price to be specified in the order of the District Court of the United States to which application will be made to enforce and carry out a plan approved by the Commission.

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest that notice should be given and a hearing held with respect to said amended plan:

It is ordered, That the hearings in these consolidated proceedings be reconvened on April 24, 1951 at 10:00 a. m., e. s. t., at the offices of the Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. On such date, the Hearing Room Clerk in Room 193 will advise as to the room in which such hearing will be held. In the event that amendments to the plan are filed during the course of such proceedings, no notice of such amendments will be given unless specifically ordered by the Commission. Any person desiring to be heard or otherwise wishing to participate in the proceedings, who has not heretofore entered an appearance herein, is directed to file with the Secretary of the Commission on or before April 20, 1951 a written request relative thereto as provided by Rule XVII of the Commission's rules of practice.

It is further ordered, That William W. Swift or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearing in such matter. The officer so designated is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said act and to a hearing officer under the Commission's rules of practice.

It is further ordered, That the Secretary of the Commission shall serve notice of the aforesaid hearing by mailing copies of this order by registered mail to Penn Corp, North Penn, to the Federal Power Commission, the New York Public Service Commission, and the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission, and to all persons who have heretofore entered an appearance herein; that notice shall be given to all other persons by general release of this Commission which shall be distributed to the press and mailed to the persons on the mailing list of this Commission for releases under the act, and that further notice be given to all persons by publication of this order in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

It is further ordered, That Penn Corp shall give further notice of this hearing to all of its security holders (insofar as the identity of such security holders is known or available to Penn Corp) by mailing to each of said persons at his last known address, at least 10 days before the date set for hearing, a statement setting forth in brief the amended proposals and a statement of the time, date and place of the public hearing. Such statement shall be submitted to the Commission for review prior to the mailing.

By the Commission.

POTOMAC EDISON CO. AND WEST PENN ELECTRIC CO.

SUPPLEMENTAL ORDER GRANTING AND PERMITTING JOINT APPLICATION-DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 4th day of April A. D. 1951.

The West Penn Electric Company ("West Penn Electric"), a registered holding company, and its direct subsidiary, the Potomac Edison Company ("Potomac"), a registered holding company and a public utility company, having filed with this Commission a joint application-declaration pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 (the "act") and certain rules and regulations promulgated thereunder proposing, among other things, the issuance and sale by Potomac, pursuant to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50, of $10,000,000 principal amount of First Mortgage and Collateral Trust Bonds __ percent series due 1981;

The Commission by order dated March 26, 1951, having granted the application and permitted the declaration to become effective subject to the condition, among others, that the proposed issuance and sale of bonds by Potomac should not be consummated until the results of competitive bidding, pursuant to Rule U-50, had been made a matter of record in this proceeding and a further order entered with respect thereto, and jurisdiction having been reserved in that order over the payment of fees and expenses to be incurred in connection with the proposed transactions; and

Potomac on April 4, 1951, having filed an amendment to said joint application-declaration in which it is stated that Potomac, pursuant to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50, has received the following bids with respect to the proposed issue of its new bonds:

Bidding group headed by—	Annual interest rate (percent)	Price to company (percent of principal) [1]	Annual cost to company (percent)
Equitable Securities Corp.	3⅜	100.559	3.34534
Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc.	3⅜	100.45991	3.35058
Kuhn, Loeb & Co. and Blyth & Co., Inc.	3⅜	100.10	3.36668

[1] Exclusive of accrued interest from Apr. 1, 1951.

The amendment having further indicated that Potomac has accepted the bid of Equitable Securities Corporation, as set out above, and that said bonds will be offered for sale to the public at a price of 101.421 percent of their principal amount, plus accrued interest from April 1, 1951, resulting in an underwriting spread of 0.862 percent of the principal amount of the bonds or an aggregate of $86,200; and

Said joint application-declaration as amended further stating that the estimated fees and expenses to be incurred and paid by applicants-declarants in connection with the proposed transactions amount to approximately $85,000, including fees of $1,850 and out-of-pocket expenses of $270 to Price, Waterhouse & Co., New York, N. Y., for accounting services; fees of $6,000 (of which $5,850 is to be borne by Potomac and $150 by West Penn Electric), and out-of-pocket expenses of $100 to Sullivan & Cromwell, New York, N. Y., counsel for applicants-declarants; and said application-declaration as amended also stating that a fee of $5,000 is to be paid by the purchasers of the bonds to Cahill, Gordon, Zachary & Reindel, their counsel; and it appearing that such fees and expenses are not unreasonable; and

The Commission having examined said amendment and having considered the record herein and observing no basis for imposing terms and conditions with respect to the price to be paid for said bonds and the proposed underwriters' spread in connection therewith;

It is ordered, That the jurisdiction heretofore reserved, with respect to the matters to be determined as a result of competitive bidding in connection with the sale of the new bonds under Rule U-50 and with respect to fees and expenses, be, and the same hereby is, released, and that the said joint application-declaration of Potomac, as amended, be, and the same hereby is, granted and permitted to become effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24.

By the Commission.

WORCESTER COUNTY ELECTRIC CO.

SUPPLEMENTAL ORDER GRANTING AND PERMITTING APPLICATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 4th day of April A. D. 1951.

Worcester County Electric Company ("Worcester County"), a subsidiary of New England Electric System, a registered holding company, having filed an application and amendments thereto pursuant to the third sentence of section 6 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and Rule U-50 thereunder with respect to the issue and sale by Worcester County at competitive bidding of $12,000,000 principal amount of its First Mortgage Bonds, Series B, dated March 1, 1951, and maturing March 1, 1981;

The Commission, by order dated March 26, 1951, having granted said application, including the request of the applicant that for the purposes of this proceeding the ten-day period for the invitation of bids as prescribed by Rule U-50 be shortened to a period of not less than six days, all subject to the condition that the proposed issue and sale should not be consummated until the results of competitive bidding with respect thereto had been made a matter of record and a further order entered on the basis thereof, and subject to a reservation of jurisdiction with respect to legal, engineering, accounting and auditing fees and expenses;

Worcester County having filed an amendment setting forth the action taken in offering said bonds at competitive bidding and stating that on April 3, 1951, the following bids were received:

Bidder	Annual interest rate (percent)	Price to company (percent of principal) [1]	Annual cost to company (percent)
Halsey, Stuart & Co. Inc.	3¼	100.633	3.21695
Kuhn, Loeb & Co.	3¼	100.35	3.23109
The First Boston Corp.	3¼	100.1599	3.24102
Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Beane	3¼	100.111	3.24418

[1] Exclusive of accrued interest from Mar. 1, 1951.

Said amendment further stating that Worcester County has accepted the bid of Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc. and that the bonds will be issued to the public at an initial price of 101.54 percent of their principal amount, plus accrued interest, resulting in an underwriting spread of .907 percent of the principal amount of the bonds or an aggregate of $108,840;

Said amendment further setting forth the legal, engineering, accounting, and auditing services rendered and disbursements made, for which requests for compensation or reimbursement in the following amounts have been received by Worcester County:

Choate, Hall & Stewart:
Counsel for the underwriters, payable by the underwriters:
Fee	$6,000.00
Disbursements	500.00
Lybrand, Ross Bros. & Montgomery, independent public accountants, payable by Worcester County:
Fee	5,700.00
Jackson & Moreland, engineers, payable by Worcester County:
Fee	9,323.25
Expenses	596.90

The Commission having considered the record as supplemented and finding no reason for imposing terms and conditions with respect to the price to be received for said bonds and the interest rate thereon, the redemption prices thereof, or the underwriter's spread, and finding that the fees and expenses over which jurisdiction was reserved are not unreasonable; and it appearing appropriate to the Commission to release the jurisdiction heretofore reserved herein and to grant applicant's request that the order herein become effective upon issuance:

It is ordered, That the jurisdiction reserved in our order of March 26, 1951, herein, be and hereby is released, and that said application, as amended, be and hereby is granted, effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions of Rule U-24.

By the Commission.

OKLAHOMA GAS AND ELECTRIC CO. AND STANDARD GAS AND ELECTRIC CO.

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION AND PERMITTING DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 4th day of April 1951.

Standard Gas and Electric Company ("Standard"), a registered holding company and a subsidiary of Standard Power and Light Corporation, also a registered holding company, and Standard's subsidiary, Oklahoma Gas and Electric ("Oklahoma"), have filed applications-declarations and amendments thereto, pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act"). Oklahoma designates section 6 (b) of the act and Rule U-43 promulgated thereunder and Standard designates sections 9 (a) and (c) of the act as applicable to the following transactions proposed by said companies:

Oklahoma proposes to issue and sell for cash 215,380 shares of its authorized and unissued Common Stock, par value $10 per share, through the issuance to the holders of its outstanding Common Stock of record at the close of business on April 5, 1951, full share Subscription Warrants carrying the right to subscribe for shares of such Common Stock on the basis of one share for each ten shares of Common Stock held at a price of $19.75 per share ("subscription price"). The Subscription Warrants will expire at 2:00 p. m., c. s. t., on April 24, 1951.

In lieu of the issuance of Subscription Warrants for fractional shares, Oklahoma will mail, as soon as practicable, to each shareholder whose record ownership of Common Stock on the record date is not divisible by ten, a check in an amount equal to one tenth of the difference between the subscription price and the average of the closing prices on the New York Stock Exchange of the Common Stock during the subscription period for each share of Common Stock owned of record on the record rate by such shareholder which was not part of a ten share unit for which a Subscription Warrant was issued.

In addition, each shareholder entitled to receive full share Subscription Warrants will be given the privilege of subscribing at the same subscription price per share for any additional number of shares not subscribed for through the exercise of the aforesaid Subscription Warrants, subject to pro rata allotment of such additionally subscribed shares. The over-subscription privilege will not be extended to Standard but any shares which remain unsubscribed upon the expiration of the subscription and over-subscription privileges may be subscribed for by Standard at the same subscription price.

The shares of the Common Stock being offered will not be entitled to the dividend on Common Stock which the Board of Directors of Oklahoma is expected to declare payable April 30, 1951, to holders of record at the close of business April 5, 1951.

Oklahoma proposes to pay 12½ cents per share to any security dealer, who is a member of the National Association of Security Dealers, Inc. and who assists a stockholder of record in exercising his Subscription Warrant. However, no compensation will be paid for obtaining the exercise of the privilege to subscribe for additional shares and the amount payable on account of the subscription of any one stockholder is to be limited to $25 irrespective of the number of shares subscribed. The maximum amount of fees payable to dealers is $10,100.

Of the 2,153,800 outstanding shares of Common Stock of Oklahoma, Standard owns 1,210,090 shares, which represent 34.54 percent of the voting control of Oklahoma. Under the terms of the proposed offering, Standard will receive and proposes to exercise Subscription Warrants for 121,009 full shares of additional Common Stock of Oklahoma. Standard further proposes to subscribe for those shares, if any, of the proposed offering which remain unsubscribed upon the expiration of the aforesaid Subscription Warrants and over-subscription privilege.

Standard, in connection with the proposed transactions, has agreed that the shares of Common Stock of Oklahoma to be acquired will be held subject to the provisions of the Commission's order of August 8, 1941, issued pursuant to section 11 (b) (1) of the act directing, among other things, that Standard divest itself of its holdings in Oklahoma, as if such shares were specifically included in such order.

Oklahoma estimates that the total fees and expenses to be incurred by it in connection with the proposed transactions will not exceed $27,500 (exclusive of any fees paid to security dealers), including counsel fees of $6,000 to the firm of Flynn, Clerkin & Hansen and $3,000 to the firm of Rainey, Flynn, Green & Anderson. Standard estimates that its fees will not exceed $1,250, of which $1,000 is payable to the firm of Flynn, Clerkin & Hansen, as counsel fees.

The Corporation Commission of the State of Oklahoma and the Arkansas Public Service Commission have each issued an order authorizing the proposed issuance and sale of common stock by Oklahoma.

Said applications-declarations having been filed on March 5, 1951, and said amendments thereto having been filed on March 14 and April 4, 1951, and notice of the filing of the applications-declarations having been duly given in the form and manner prescribed by Rule U-23 promulgated under the act, and the Commission not having received a request for hearing with respect to the said applications-declarations within the period specified in said notice, or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission finding with respect to said applications-declarations, as amended, that the requirements of the applicable provisions of the act and the rules promulgated thereunder are satisfied, that the estimated fees and expenses are not unreasonable, and that it is not necessary to impose any terms and conditions other than those set forth below, and the Commission deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that the applications, as amended, be granted and that the declarations, as amended, be permitted to become effective, and that the Commission's order herein become effective forthwith:

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the act, and subject to the terms and conditions prescribed by Rule U-24, that said applications-declarations, as amended, be, and the same hereby are, granted and permitted to become effective forthwith.

It is further ordered, That the Commission's order of August 8, 1941, the effect of which is to require Standard to sever its relationship with Oklahoma by disposing or causing the disposition, in any appropriate manner not in contravention of the applicable provisions of the act or of the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, of its direct and indirect ownership, control and holding of securities issued by Oklahoma, shall be deemed to require the disposition of any shares of Common Stock, par value $10 per share, of Oklahoma acquired by Standard hereunder, with the same force and effect as if said shares had been held by Standard as of the date of the said order.

By the Commission.

Assistant Secretary.

NEWMONT MINING CORP.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its offices in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 5th day of April A. D. 1951.

Notice is hereby given that Newmont Mining Corporation (Applicant) of 14 Wall Street, New York, N. Y., a closed-end non-diversified management company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, has filed an application pursuant to Rule N-17D-1 of the general rules and regulations under the act regarding proposed amendments to Applicant's pension plan to be adopted upon approval by Applicant's stockholders. The proposed transaction would involve participation by affiliated persons of a registered investment company (Applicant) in a pension plan in which such registered investment company (Applicant) is a participant, and the participation of such affiliated persons in said plan of said registered investment company (Applicant) would be prohibited by Rule N-17D-1 (the amount set aside annually by Applicant pursuant to such plan not being computed upon the basis of a percentage of its payroll) unless an application regarding such plan has been filed with the Commission and has been granted by order entered prior to the submission of such plan to security holders for approval, or prior to the adoption thereof, if not so submitted.

It appears from the application that the proposed amendments involve: (a) The inclusion in the plan of Newmont Exploration Limited, a wholly owned subsidiary of Applicant; (b) the substitution of the date January 1, 1951 for the date January 1, 1946 for determining the amounts of pensions; (c) an increase in the maximum pension payable to any employee from $6000 per year to $12,000; and (d) a change in the named contingent beneficiary provisions to give each participant the right to convert the pension otherwise payable to such participant to a joint and survivor pension of equal actuarial value, in which either the said joint and survivor pension, or, at the participant's prior election, two-thirds of the said joint and survivor pension will be payable to the survivor. It appears that the single lump sum increase to provide additional past service benefits due to the amendments will aggregate $481,500 of which $312,000 will relate to the additional past service benefits for officers and directors of the Applicant. It also appears that the normal annual cost of the plan for the year 1951 will by reason of the proposed amendments be $41,800, an increase of $4,200, and that all of said increase will relate to benefits for officers and directors of the Applicant. It further appears that the plan is, and as proposed to be amended will be, qualified under section 165 of the Internal Revenue Code as nondiscriminatory.

For a more detailed statement of the matters of fact and law asserted, all interested persons are referred to said application which is on file in the offices of the Commission in Washington, D. C.

Notice is further given that an order granting the application may be issued by the Commission at any time on or after April 16, 1951, unless prior thereto a hearing upon the application is ordered by the Commission as provided in Rule N-5 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act. Any interested person may, not later than April 13, 1951, at 5:30 p. m., submit to the Commission in writing his views or any additional facts bearing upon this application or the desirability of a hearing thereon, or request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held thereon. Any such communication or request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C., and should state briefly the nature of the interest of the person submitting such information or requesting a hearing, the reasons for such request, and the issues of fact or law raised by the application which he desires to controvert.

EDWIN HAWLEY CO.

ORDER FOR PROCEEDINGS AND NOTICE OF HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 5th day of April 1951.

In the matter of Edwiin Hawley, Edwin Riley Hawley, or E. R. Hawley, doing business as Edwiin Hawley Co., Hotel Adams, Central Avenue and Adams Street, Phoenix, Arizona.

I. The Commission's public official files disclose that:

A. Edwiin Hawley, also known as Edwin Riley Hawley and E. R. Hawley, doing business as Edwiin Hawley Co., a sole proprietorship, hereinafter referred to as Hawley, filed an application for registration as a broker and dealer, pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, on September 25, 1945. Registration became effective on October 12, 1945 and is still in effect pursuant to the said application.

B. Hawley filed an application for registration as an investment adviser, pursuant to section 203 (c)[1] of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, on March 27, 1946. Registration became effective on April 26, 1946, and is still in effect pursuant to the said application.

C. Hawley represents in each of the said applications, as amended, that his principal office is located at the Hotel Adams, Central Avenue and Adams Street, Phoenix, Arizona, and that his residence is located at 645 North Fourth Avenue, Phoenix, Arizona.

II. A. A member of its staff has filed with the Commission a statement, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part hereof,[1] stating that Hawley no longer maintains any office at the Hotel Adams, Central Avenue and Adams Street, Phoenix, Arizona, and no longer maintains a residence at 645 North Fourth Avenue, Phoenix, Arizona.

B. The Records Officer of the Commission has filed with the Commission a statement, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part hereof, stating that Hawley did not file a report of his financial condition during the calendar year 1950 pursuant to Rule X-17A-5 prescribed under section 17 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

III. The information reported to the Commission as set forth in section II hereof, if true, tends to show:

A. That Hawley violated section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X-15B-2 prescribed by the Commission under said section, in that the representations in his application for registration as a broker and dealer with respect to the location of his principal office and his residence address are not now accurate and in that Hawley has not amended such application to correct such representations.

B. That Hawley violated section 17 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, in that he failed to file a report of his financial condition for the calendar year 1950 as required by Rule X-17A-5 prescribed by the Commission under said section.

C. That Hawley violated section 207 of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 in that the representations in his application for registration as an investment adviser with respect to the location of his principal office and his residence address are not now true and in that Hawley has not amended such application to correct such representations.

IV. The Commission, having considered the aforesaid information, deems it necessary and appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors that proceedings be instituted to determine:

(a) Whether the statements referred to in section II hereof are true;

(b) Whether Hawley has wilfully violated section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X-15B-2 prescribed by the Commission under the said section;

(c) Whether Hawley has wilfully violated 17 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X-17A-5 prescribed by the Commission under said section;

[1] Filed as a part of the original document.

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN LIBRARIES

(d) Whether Hawley has violated section 207 of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, in that he wilfully made untrue statements of material facts in his application for registration as an investment adviser and wilfully omitted to state in such application material facts required to be stated therein;

(e) Whether, pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, it is in the public interest to revoke the registration of Hawley as a broker and dealer;

(f) Whether, pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, pending final determination, it is necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors to suspend registration of Hawley as a broker and dealer;

(g) Whether, pursuant to section 203 (d) of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, it is in the public interest to suspend the registration of Hawley as an investment adviser, and

(h) Whether, pursuant to section 203 (d) of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, it is in the public interest to revoke the registration of Hawley as an investment adviser.

V. It is hereby ordered, That Hawley be given an opportunity for hearing as set forth in section IV hereof on the 14th day of May 1951, at the main office of the Securities and Exchange Commission located at 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C., before a Hearing Examiner to be designated by the Commission. On such date the Hearing Room Clerk in Room 193, North Building, will advise the parties and the Hearing Examiner as to the room in which such hearing will be held. The Commission will consider any motion with respect to a change of place of said hearing if said motion is filed with the Secretary of the Commission on or before May 7, 1951. Upon completion of any such hearing in this matter, the Hearing Examiner shall prepare a recommended decision pursuant to Rule IX of the rules of practice unless such decision is waived.

It is further ordered, That in the event that Hawley does not appear personally or through a representative at the time and place herein set or as otherwise ordered, the Hearing Room Clerk shall file with the Records Officer of the Commission a written statement to that effect and thereupon the Commission will take the record under advisement for decision.

This order and notice shall be served on Hawley personally or by registered mail forthwith, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER not later than fifteen (15) days prior to May 14, 1951.

In the absence of an appropriate waiver, no officer or employee of the Commission engaged in the performance of investigative or prosecuting functions in this or any factually related proceeding will be permitted to participate or advise in the decision upon the matter except as witness or counsel in proceedings held pursuant to notice. Since this proceeding is not "rule making" within the meaning of section 4 (c) of the Administrative Procedure Act, it is not deemed to be subject to the provisions of the section delaying the effective date of any final commission action.

By the Commission.

§ 607.204 Eligible cotton. Eligible American-Egyptian cotton shall be of the Amsak or Pima 32 varieties and shall meet the following requirements:

(a) Such cotton must have been produced in continental United States in 1951.

(b) Such cotton must have been produced from Amsak or Pima 32 varieties of American-Egyptian cottonseed and such cottonseed (1) must have been "registered" or "certified" by a crop improvement association or a recognized State agency or (2) must be covered by a certificate issued prior to planting by such association or agency indicating the cottonseed are of the Amsak or Pima 32 varieties and have been recleaned and sampled, that the samples have been examined by a laboratory designated in § 607.209 and that such laboratory has certified that such cottonseed contained not in excess of 2.5 percent of fuzzy seed of upland or hybrid character. In order to establish that the cotton was produced from such cottonseed, the producer must submit to the county committee tags from bags of registered or certified cottonseed, the certificate issued by the association or state agency, or other evidence satisfactory to the county committee.

(c) Such cotton must be of a grade and staple length specified in § 607.205.

houses will be available at offices of county committees.

§ 607.207 Classification of cotton. All cotton must be classed by a Board of Cotton Examiners of the United States Department of Agriculture (hereinafter referred to as the "Board"). A Cotton Classification Memorandum Form 1 of the United States Department of Agriculture will be accepted, provided the sample is a representative cut sample drawn in accordance with instructions to organized cotton improvement groups for sampling cotton under the 1951 Smith-Doxey Program. If a sample has been drawn and submitted for a Form 1 classification, another sample may not be drawn and forwarded to a Board except for review. If the producer's cotton has not been sampled for a Form 1 classification, the warehouseman should sample such cotton and forward the samples to the Board serving the district in which the cotton is located. A Cotton Classification Memorandum Form A3 must be inserted in each sample. A Tag List and Record Sheet (CCC Cotton Form L, hereinafter referred to as "Form L"), must be prepared by the warehouseman, listing each sample included in a shipment to the Board. A copy of such Form L shall be included with the samples and two copies must be mailed separately to the Board. The Board will enter the classification of each bale on the Form L and return a copy of such form to the warehouse. The Cotton Classification Memorandum Form A3 will be returned to the producer by the Board.

An amount equal to the classification charge under the 1951 Upland Cotton Loan Program shall be collected from the producer by the warehouseman for all cotton for which samples are submitted to a Board for classification, except that no charge shall be collected for samples submitted for Form 1 classification. The Boards will submit billings for classing charges to the warehousemen at the end of each month. Payments of these charges shall be made payable to Commodity Credit Corporation and shall be sent to the applicable PMA commodity office.

§ 607.208 Payment for cotton. Producers will be paid the purchase price of the cotton by means of sight drafts drawn on CCC by State PMA or county committees.

§ 607.209 Designated laboratories. The laboratories designated to examine and certify seed as provided in § 607.204 and area served by each are as follows:

U. S. Department of Agriculture Field Station, Sacaton, Arizona. Attention: Mr. R. H. Peebles (all seed samples originating in Arizona should be sent to this laboratory).

U. S. Department of Agriculture Cotton Field Station, P. O. Box No. 145, State College, New Mexico. Attention: Mr. A. R. Leding.

Texas Experiment Substation No. 17, Ysleta, Texas. Attention: Mr. P. J. Lyerly (Seed samples originating in Texas or New Mexico may be sent to either of the above two laboratories).

All cost of laboratory test shall be paid by the person or firm submitting the samples. All lots of seed which contain fuzzy seed of upland or hybrid character shall be recleaned before samples are submitted to a designated laboratory. Cottonseed submitted to a designated laboratory must be a representative sample of the seed which are proposed to be planted and must not have been delinted prior to the samples being sent to such laboratory. Each sample shall contain at least ½ pound of cottonseed and shall be forwarded to a designated laboratory in a suitable container. Quarantine requirements shall be complied with in shipping samples of seed.

335 Fell Street, San Francisco 3, California: Arizona and California.

Masonic Temple Building, New Orleans 12, Louisiana: New Mexico and Texas.

SUBPART B—UNITED STATES STANDARDS FOR GRADES OF PROCESSED FRUITS, VEGETABLES, AND OTHER PRODUCTS [1]

U. S. STANDARDS FOR GRADES OF CANNED GRAPE JUICE

On August 1, 1950, a notice of proposed rule making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (15 F. R. 4917) regarding the proposed revision of the United States Standards for Grades of Canned (or Bottled) Grape Juice. After consideration of all relevant matters presented, including the proposals set forth in the aforesaid notice, the following revised United States Standards for Grades of Canned Grape Juice are hereby promulgated under the authority contained in the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 (60 Stat. 1087; 7 U. S. C. et seq.) and the Department of Agriculture Appropriation Act, 1951 (Pub. Law 759, 81st Cong., approved September 6, 1950):

§ 52.378 Canned grape juice. Canned grape juice is the unfermented liquid obtained from properly matured fresh grapes. Such grape juice is prepared without concentration, without dilution, is packed with or without the addition of sweetening ingredients, and is sufficiently processed by heat to assure preservation of the product in hermetically sealed containers (either metal or glass).

(a) Types of canned grape juice. (1) Type I: Concord type (prepared from grapes of the slip-skin varieties of the Concord type of the Labrusca species).

(2) Type II: Any type other than Concord type (prepared from a single variety of grapes other than Concord type).

(3) Type III: Blended type (prepared from two or more varieties of grapes).

(b) Styles of canned grape juice. Unless specifically designated as "sweetened", canned grape juice is considered as "unsweetened."

(1) Style I. Unsweetened (without added sweetening ingredient or ingredients).

(2) Style II. Sweetened (with added sweetening ingredient or ingredients).

(c) Grades of canned grape juice. (1) "U. S. Grade A" or "U. S. Fancy" is the quality of canned grape juice from which tartrate crystals have been removed; that possesses a good color; that is practically free from defects; that possesses a good flavor; and that scores not less than 85 points when scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this section.

(2) "U. S. Grade B" or "U. S. Choice" is the quality of canned grape juice from which tartrate crystals have been removed; that possesses a reasonably good color; that is reasonably free from defects; that possesses a reasonably good flavor; and that scores not less than 70 points when scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this section.

(3) "U. S. Grade D" or "Substandard" is the quality of canned grape juice that fails to meet the requirements of U. S. Grade B or U. S. Choice.

(d) Recommended fill of container. The recommended fill of container is not incorporated in the grades of the finished product since fill of container, as such, is not a factor of quality for the purposes of these grades. It is recommended that each container be filled as full as practicable with grape juice and that the product occupy not less than 90 percent of the volume of the container.

(e) Ascertaining the grade. (1) The grade of canned grape juice is ascertained by considering, in conjunction with the requirements of the respective grade, the respective ratings for the factors of color, absence of defects, and flavor.

(2) The relative importance of each factor which is scored is expressed numerically on the scale of 100. The maximum number of points that may be given such factors are:

Factors	Points
(i) Color	40
(ii) Absence of defects	20
(iii) Flavor	40
Total score	100

(f) Ascertaining the rating for the factors which are scored. The essential variations within each factor which is scored are so described that the value may be ascertained for each factor and expressed numerically. The numerical range within each factor which is scored is inclusive (for example, "17 to 20 points" means 17, 18, 19, or 20 points).

(1) Color. (i) Canned grape juice that possesses a good color may be given a score of 34 to 40 points. "Good color" has the following meanings with respect to the types of canned grape juice:

Type I. A bright purple or bright reddish-purple color typical of properly prepared and properly processed juice from Concord type grapes.

Types II and III. A bright color typical of properly prepared and properly processed juice characteristic of the varietal type or varietal types from which prepared.

(ii) If the canned grape juice possesses a reasonably good color, a score of 28 to 33 points may be given. Canned grape juice that falls into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Choice, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Reasonably good color" has the following meanings with respect to the types of canned grape juice:

Type I: A purple or reddish-purple color typical of canned grape juice prepared from Concord type grapes and which color may be slightly dull purple, slightly dull bluish-purple, or slightly dull reddish-purple but which is not off-color for any reason.

Types II and III: A color typical of canned grape juice characteristic of the varietal type or varietal types from which prepared and which color may be slightly dull but which is not off-color for any reason.

(iii) Canned grape juice that fails to meet the requirements of subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph may be given a score of 0 to 27 points and shall not be graded above U. S. Grade D or Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(2) Absence of defects. The factor of absence of defects refers to the degree of freedom from sediment and other residue, from tartrate crystals, from particles of skin, from particles of pulp, from particles of seed, and from any other defects.

(i) Canned grape juice that is practically free from defects may be given a score of 17 to 20 points. "Practically free from defects" means that the canned grape juice may possess a slight amount of sediment and residue of an amorphous nature; may possess not more than a trace of sediment and residue of a non-amorphous nature; is practically free from tartrate crystals; and is free from particles of skin, particles of pulp, particles of seed, and from any other defects.

(ii) If the canned grape juice is reasonably free from defects, a score of 14 to 16 points may be given. Canned grape juice that falls into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Choice, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Reasonably free from defects" means that the canned grape juice may possess a slight amount of sediment and residue of an amorphous or non-amorphous nature; may possess a slight amount of tartrate crystals; may possess not more than a trace of particles of skin, particles of pulp, particles of seed, and other defects.

(iii) Canned grape juice that fails to meet the requirements of subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph may be given a score of 0 to 13 points and shall not be graded above U. S. Grade D or Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(3) Flavor. (i) Canned grape juice that possesses a good flavor may be given a score of 34 to 40 points. "Good flavor" means that the flavor is a distinct and normal flavor, typical of well-matured grapes and that the canned grape juice is free from any trace of scorching, caramelization, and objectionable flavors and objectionable odors of any kind. To score in this classification, canned grape juice shall meet the following additional requirements:

Brix: Style I, unsweetened—not less than 15.0 degrees.

Brix: Style II, sweetened—not less than 17.0 degrees.

Acid: Not less than 0.60 grams per 100 ml. nor more than 1.20 grams per 100 ml., calculated as tartaric acid.

Brix-acid ratio: For both Style I, unsweetened, and Style II, sweetened, not less than 14 to 1 nor more than 28 to 1.

(ii) If the canned grape juice possesses a reasonably good flavor, a score of 28 to 33 points may be given. Canned grape juice that falls into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Choice, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Reasonably good flavor" means that the flavor is normal and typical of reasonably well-matured grapes and that the canned grape juice may be slightly astringent but is free from any trace of scorching, caramelization, and objectionable flavors and objectionable odors of any kind. To score in this classification, canned grape juice shall meet the following additional requirements:

Brix: Style I, unsweetened—not less than 14.0 degrees.

Brix: Style II, sweetened—not less than 16.0 degrees.

Acid: Not less than 0.45 gram per 100 ml. nor more than 1.40 grams per 100 ml., calculated as tartaric acid.

Brix-acid ratio: For both Style I, unsweetened, and Style II, sweetened, not less than 11.5 to 1.

(iii) Canned grape juice that fails to meet the requirements of subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph may be given a score of 0 to 27 points and shall not be graded above U. S. Grade D or Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(g) Explanation of terms. (1) "Brix" means the degrees Brix of canned grape juice when tested with a Brix hydrometer calibrated at 20 degrees C. (68 degrees F.). If canned grape juice is tested at a temperature other than 20 degrees C. (68 degrees F.), the applicable temperature correction shall be made to the reading of the scale as prescribed in "Official Methods of Analysis of the Association of Official Agricultural Chemists." The degrees Brix of canned grape juice may be determined by any other method which gives equivalent results.

(2) "Acid" means grams of acid (calculated as tartaric acid) per 100 ml. of juice in canned grape juice determined by titration with standard sodium hydroxide solution, using phenolphthalein as indicator or any other satisfactory indicator.

(h) Tolerances for certification of officially drawn samples. (1) When certifying samples that have been officially drawn and which represent a specific lot of canned grape juice, the grade for such lot will be determined by averaging the total scores of the containers comprising the sample, if:

(i) Not more than one-sixth of such containers fails to meet all the requirements of the grade indicated by the average of such total scores, and, with respect to such containers which fail to meet the requirements of the indicated grade by reason of a limiting rule, the average score of all containers in the sample for the factor, subject to such limiting rule, is within the range for the grade indicated;

(ii) None of the containers comprising the sample falls more than 4 points below the minimum score for the grade indicated by the average of the total scores; and

(iii) All containers comprising the sample meet all applicable standards of quality promulgated under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and in effect at the time of the aforesaid certification.

TITLE 14—CIVIL AVIATION

Chapter I—Civil Aeronautics Board

Subchapter A—Civil Air Regulations

[Supp. 11]

PART 3—AIRPLANE AIRWORTHINESS; NORMAL, UTILITY, ACROBATIC, AND RESTRICTED-PURPOSE CATEGORIES

DRY-CELL BATTERIES; RED PASSING LIGHTS

The following policies are hereby adopted. The section of the regulations being implemented is repeated here to assist the public in understanding how the Administrator's policies apply to it.

§ 3.682 Batteries. When an item of electrical equipment which is essential to the safe operation of the airplane is installed, the battery required shall have sufficient capacity to supply the electrical power necessary for dependable operation of the connected electrical equipment.

§ 3.682–1 Dry-cell batteries. (CAA policies which apply to § 3.682). When a battery is installed to provide power for electrical equipment which is essential to the safe operation of the airplane, it should be of a type whose pre-flight state of charge can readily be determined by simple and reliable means. Dry-cell batteries are not considered to be of this type, and should not be used to supply essential electrical equipment.

§ 3.700 Position light system installation—(a) General. The provisions of §§ 3.700 through 3.703 shall be applicable to the position light system as a whole, and shall be complied with if a single circuit type system is installed.[1] The single circuit system shall include the items specified in paragraphs (b) through (f) of this section.

(b) Forward position lights. Forward position lights shall consist of a red and a green light spaced laterally as far apart as practicable and installed forward on the airplane in such a location that, with the airplane in normal flying position, the red light is displayed on the left side and the green light is displayed on the right side. The individual lights shall be type certificated in accordance with the applicable provisions of Part 15 of this chapter.

(c) Rear position light. The rear position light shall be a white light mounted as far aft as practicable. The light shall be type certificated in accordance with the applicable provisions of Part 15 of this chapter.

[1] Requirements for dual circuit position light systems are contained in Part 4b of this chapter.

(d) Circuit. The two forward position lights and the rear position light shall constitute a single circuit.

(e) Flasher. If employed, an approved position light flasher for a single circuit system shall be installed. The flasher shall be such that the system is energized automatically at a rate of not less than 60 nor more than 100 flashes per minute with an on-off ratio between 2:1 and 1:1. Unless the flasher is of a fail-safe type, means shall be provided in the system to indicate to the pilot when there is a failure of the flasher and a further means shall be provided for turning the lights on steady in the event of such failure.

(f) Light covers and color filters. Light covers or color filters used shall be of noncombustible material and shall be constructed so that they will not change color or shape or suffer any appreciable loss of light transmission during normal use.

§ 3.700–1 Red passing lights (CAA policies which apply to § 3.700 (a)). When it is desired to improve the conspicuity of the aircraft, a steady red light, commonly known as a passing light, may be installed. This light is not considered to be a position light and therefore need not be type certificated. When installed, its location should be one of the following:

(a) Within the left landing light unit.

(b) On the centerline of the aircraft nose.

(c) In the leading edge of the left wing, outboard of the propeller disc.

These policies to become effective April 15, 1951.

(Sec. 205, 52 Stat. 984, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 425. Interpret or apply sec. 603, 52 Stat. 1009, 49 U. S. C. 553)

Administrator of Civil Aeronautics.

PART 4b—AIRPLANE AIRWORTHINESS; TRANSPORT CATEGORIES

RED PASSING LIGHTS

The following policies are hereby adopted. The section of the regulations being implemented is repeated here to assist the public in understanding how the Administrator's policies apply to it.

§ 4b.632 Position light system installation—(a) General. The provisions of §§ 4b.632 through 4b.635 shall be applicable to the position light system as a whole. The position light system shall be of the dual circuit type and shall include the items specified in paragraphs (b) through (g) of this section.

(b) Forward position lights. Forward position lights shall consist of a red and a green light spaced laterally as far apart as practicable and installed forward on an airplane in such a location that, with the airplane in normal flying position, the red light is displayed on the left side and the green light is displayed on the right side. The individual lights shall be type certificated in accordance with the applicable provisions of Part 15 of this chapter.

(c) Rear position lights. Rear position lights shall consist of a red and a white light mounted on the airplane as far aft as practicable and located in close proximity to each other. The individual lights shall be type certificated in accordance with the applicable provisions of Part 15 of this chapter.

(d) Fuselage lights. Fuselage lights shall consist of two white lights installed approximately in line with the forward position lights. One of these lights shall be mounted on the top of the fuselage, the other on the bottom. In the case of seaplanes, the location of the bottom fuselage light shall be subject to specific approval. The individual lights shall be of an approved type.

(e) Circuits. The forward position lights and the rear white position light shall be on one circuit, while the two fuselage lights and the rear red position light shall be on the other.

(f) Flasher. An approved dual circuit position light flasher shall be installed. The flasher shall be such that the system is actuated automatically with the two circuits energized alternately at a frequency of not less than 36 and not more than 60 cycles per minute. A switch shall be provided in the system to disconnect the flasher from the circuit so that continuous light can be supplied by the forward position lights and the rear white position light while the fuselage lights and the rear red position lights are not energized.

(g) Light covers and color filters. Light covers or color filters used shall be of noncombustible material and shall be constructed so that they will not change color or shape or suffer any appreciable loss of light transmission during normal use.

§ 4b.632–1 Red passing lights (CAA policies which apply to section 4b.632 (a)). When it is desired to improve the conspicuity of the aircraft, a steady red light, commonly known as a passing light, may be installed. This light is not considered to be a position light and therefore need not be type certificated. When installed, its location should be one of the following:

(a) Within the left landing light unit.

(b) On the centerline of the aircraft nose.

(c) In the leading edge of the left wing, outboard of the propeller disc.

These policies to become effective April 15, 1951.

TITLE 15—COMMERCE AND FOREIGN TRADE

Chapter III—Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, Department of Commerce

Subchapter C—Office of International Trade

[5th Gen. Rev. of Export Regs., Amdt. P. L. 43 [1]]

PART 399—POSITIVE LIST OF COMMODITIES AND RELATED MATTERS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

Section 399.1 Appendix A—Positive List of Commodities is amended in the following particulars:

1. The following revisions are made in commodity descriptions and Schedule B numbers:

Dept. of Commerce Schedule B No.	Commodity	Unit	Processing code and related commodity group	GLV dollar value limits	Validated license required
[1] 322402	Jute bags or sacks, new	Lb	TEXT	50	RO
[1] 322407	Jute bags or sacks, used or reclaimed	Lb	TEXT	50	RO
[2] 400909	Logs, bolts, and hewn timber: Teak	M. bd. ft.	LUMB	100	RO
620520	Metal drums and containers for transporting gas or lower hydrocarbons: Filled drums and containers capable of withstanding pressures over 300 pounds per square inch, where the value of the containers represent 20 percent or more of the total value of the container plus contents.[3]	Lb	STEE	100	RO
620540	Unfilled drums and containers capable of withstanding pressures over 300 pounds per square inch.[3]	Lb	STEE	100	RO
620915	Lined steel tanks, for storage or transporting gas or lower hydrocarbons, capable of withstanding pressures over 300 pounds per square inch.[3]	Lb	STEE	100	RO
656598	Other tin and manufactures	Lb.[4]	NONF	25	RO
724800	Textile machinery: Rayon filament and hand forming machinery, and parts; and spinnerettes for all synthetic filaments.[5]		GIEQ	None	R

[1] By this amendment the reference to Schedule B No. 322403 for jute bags or sacks, new, with a unit of quantity "No." and the reference to Schedule B No. 322408 for jute bags or sacks, used or reclaimed, with a unit of quantity "No." are deleted from the Positive List in accordance with the Bureau of the Census Bulletin No. P. B. No. 152–I and II.

[2] The present Schedule B number for this entry, teak logs, bolts and hewn timber, is incorrectly shown as 400905.

[3] Note that the pressure ratings stamped on metal drums and containers are the working pressures, which usually allow maximum safety margins. The actual pressure capability is approximately five times the working pressure. (Any containers under this Schedule B number which do not have a pressure rating stamped thereon are not pressure containers and are not subject to the validated license control imposed by this Positive List entry.)

[4] Previously no specific unit of quantity was provided in the column headed "Unit."

[5] This revision amends the entry to include specifically "and spinnerettes for all synthetic fibers" which are in fact covered by this entry as indicated in Current Export Bulletin No. 611, Subject II, Paragraph A, Note 6.

2. The following commodities are changed from R to RO commodities. Accordingly, the entry therefor on the Positive List is amended to read as follows:

Dept. of Commerce Schedule B No.	Commodity	Unit	Processing code and related commodity group	GLV dollar value limits	Validated license required
622096	Ferrotungsten	Lb	NONF	500	RO
663900	Other tungsten metal, stellite, wire, shapes, and alloys.[1]	Lb	NONF	100	RO
664580	Ores and concentrates, n. e. s.: Tungsten	Lb	NONF	100	RO

[1] Tungsten carbide tool blanks, tips, and inserts, Schedule B No. 663900, remain under R control.

3. The dollar value limits in the column headed "GLV dollar-value limits" set forth opposite the commodities listed below are amended to read as follows:

Dept. of Commerce Schedule B No.	Commodity	GLV dollar value limits
669198	Tantalum rings and tantalum wire[1]	None

[1] Formerly included in the entry on the Positive List under Schedule B No. 669198, "Other metal and metal composition manufactures, n. e. s., GLV Dollar-value limit $100."

[1] This amendment was published in Current Export Bulletin No. 614 dated April 5, 1951.

Section 399.3 Appendix C—Commodity Processing Codes is amended by changing the processing codes for certain commodities, as follows:

Dept. of Commerce Schedule B No.	Commodity	Processing Code
504800	Petroleum coke, including petroleum coke flour [1]	COAL
506025	Mineral wax, natural	COAL

[1] The petroleum products classified under Schedule B Nos. 504100–504720 and 505200–505900 retain the processing code of PETR. By this amendment the processing code for the present listing on the Positive List under Schedule B No. 504800 is also changed from PETR to COAL.

Shipments of any commodities removed from general license to Country Group O destinations, or where GLV dollar-value limits were reduced as a result of changes set forth in Parts numbered 2 and 3 above, of this amendment, which were on dock, on lighter, laden aboard an exporting carrier, or in transit to a port of exit pursuant to actual orders for export prior to 12:01 a. m., April 10, 1951, may be exported under the previous general license provisions up to and including May 5, 1951. Any such shipment not laden aboard the exporting carrier on or before May 5, 1951, requires a validated license for export. This saving clause is not applicable to any such shipments to Subgroup A destinations.

This amendment shall become effective as of April 5, 1951, except that Parts numbered 2 and 3 above shall become effective as of April 10, 1951, 12:01 a. m.

TITLE 26—INTERNAL REVENUE

Chapter I—Bureau of Internal Revenue, Department of the Treasury

Subchapter A—Income and Excess Profits Taxes

[T. D. 5837]

PART 19—INCOME TAX UNDER THE INTERNAL REVENUE CODE

PART 29—INCOME TAX; TAXABLE YEARS BEGINNING AFTER DECEMBER 31, 1941

PERIOD OF LIMITATIONS ON CLAIM FOR REFUND WHEN WAIVER IS FILED

In order to conform Regulations 111 (26 CFR Part 29) and Regulations 103 (26 CFR, Part 19, 1940 Supp.) to Public Law 716 (81st Cong., 2d Sess.), approved August 18, 1950, such regulations are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. There is inserted immediately preceding § 29.322–1 of Regulations 111 and § 19.322–1 of Regulations 103 the following:

PUBLIC LAW 716 (81ST CONG., 2D SESS.),
APPROVED AUGUST 18, 1950

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That (a) section 322 (b) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code is hereby amended by striking out the last sentence and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this paragraph, the period within which a claim for credit or refund may be filed, or credit or refund allowed or made if no claim is filed, shall not expire prior to two years after the time the tax was paid, but if a claim is filed, or credit or refund allowed or made if no claim is filed, more than six months after the expiration of the period within which the Commissioner may make an assessment pursuant to such agreement or any extension thereof, the amount of the credit or refund shall not exceed the portion of the tax paid during the two years immediately preceding the filing of the claim, or, if no claim is filed, immediately preceding the allowance of the credit or refund."

(b) The amendment made by subsection (a) shall be applicable to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941, and, subject to the provisions of the second sentence of section 169 (c) of the Revenue Act of 1942 (added by section 509 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1943 and amended by section 2 of this Act), the amendment shall also be applicable to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1923, and before January 1, 1942.

SEC. 2. The second sentence of section 169 (c) of the Revenue Act of 1942 is hereby amended to read as follows: "A provision having the effect of section 322 (b) (3), as amended, of the Internal Revenue Code and a provision having the effect of the amendment made by subsection (b) of this section, shall be deemed to be included in the revenue laws respectively applicable to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1923, but such provisions shall be effective with respect to taxable years beginning prior to January 1, 1942, only if at some time after February 24, 1944, the Commissioner may assess the tax for such taxable year solely by reason of having made (either before, on, or after February 24, 1944) an agreement with the taxpayer pursuant to section 276 (b) of the Internal Revenue Code or the corresponding provision of the applicable prior revenue law to extend beyond the time prescribed in section 275 of such code or the corresponding provision of such prior revenue law the date within which the Commissioner may assess the tax."

PAR. 2. Paragraph (b) of § 29.322–7 of Regulations 111, as amended by Treasury Decision 5816, approved December 5, 1950 (26 CFR 29.322–7), is further amended as follows:

(A) By striking out that part of the sentence comprising the second undesignated paragraph beginning with the word "limitations" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "preceding provisions of this paragraph (b) shall apply to such credit or refund."

(B) By striking out the third undesignated paragraph and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

The period within which a claim for credit or refund may be filed, or credit or refund allowed or made if no claim is filed, shall not expire prior to two years after the time the tax was paid, but if a claim is filed ,or credit or refund allowed or made if no claim is filed, more than six months after the expiration of the period within which the Commissioner may make an assessment pursuant to such agreement or any extension thereof, the amount of the credit or refund shall not exceed the portion of the tax paid during the two years immediately preceding the filing of the claim, or, if no claim is filed, immediately preceding the allowance of the credit or refund.

PAR. 3. Paragraph (d) of § 19.322–7 of Regulations 103, as amended by Treasury Decision 5395, approved August 11, 1944, is further amended by adding in the first sentence thereof after "Regulations 111" the following: ", as amended,".

The amendments to § 19.322–7 of Regulations 103 and § 29.322–7 of Regulations 111 covering taxable years beginning after December 31, 1938, set forth in this Treasury decision are hereby made applicable to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1923, and prior to January 1, 1939 (such years being covered by Regulations 65, 69, 74, 77, 86, 94, and 101).

Because of the technical nature of the amendments made herein, it is found that it is unnecessary to issue this Treasury decision with notice and public procedure thereon under section 4 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act, approved June 11, 1946, or subject to the effective date limitation of section 4 (c) of said act.

TITLE 29—LABOR

Chapter V—Wage and Hour Division, Department of Labor

PART 703—MEN'S AND BOYS' CLOTHING AND RELATED PRODUCTS INDUSTRY IN PUERTO RICO

MINIMUM WAGE ORDER

Pursuant to the Administrator Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C., Supp., 1001) notice was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on March 6, 1951 (16 F. R. 2101–2102) of my decision to approve the minimum wage recommendation of Special Industry Committee No. 8 for Puerto Rico for the Men's and Boys' Clothing and Related Products Industry in Puerto Rico, and the wage order which I proposed to issue to carry such recommendation into effect was published therewith. Interested parties were given an opportunity to submit exceptions within 15 days of the date of publication of the notice.

An exception was filed by Ponce Manufacturing Corporation. This petition has been considered and I find that the exceptions contained therein present no new matters which would require any modification of my previous decision, as set forth in my findings and opinion entitled "In the Matter of the Recommendation of Special Industry Committee No. 8 for Puerto Rico for Minimum Wage Rates in the Men's and Boys' Clothing and Related Products Industry in Puerto Rico."

Accordingly, pursuant to authority under the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended (52 Stat. 1060, as amended; 29 U. S. C. 201), the said decision is hereby affirmed and made final, and the said wage order is hereby issued, to become effective May 14, 1951.

Sec.
703.1 Approval of recommendations of industry committee.
703.2 Wage rates.
703.3 Notices of order.
703.4 Definitions of the men's and boys' clothing and related products industry in Puerto Rico and its divisions.

AUTHORITY: §§ 703.1 to 703.4 issued under sec. 8, 52 Stat. 1064; 29 U. S. C. 208. Interprets or applies sec. 3, 54 Stat. 615; 29 U. S. C. 205.

§ 703.1 Approval of recommendations of industry committee. The Committee's recommendations are hereby approved.

§ 703.2 Wage rates. (a) Wages at a rate of not less than 35 cents per hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, by every employer to each of his employees in the suits, coats, trousers, and work clothing division of the men's and boys' clothing and related products industry in Puerto Rico who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce.

(b) Wages at a rate of not less than 35 cents per hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, by every employer to each of his employees in the General Division of the men's and boys' clothing and related products industry in Puerto Rico who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce.

§ 703.3 Notices of order. Every employer employing any employees so engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce in the men's and boys' clothing and related products industry in Puerto Rico shall post and keep posted in a conspicuous place in each department of his establishment where such employees are working such notices of this order as shall be prescribed, from time to time, by the Wage and Hour Division of the United States Department of Labor and shall give such other notice as the Division may prescribe.

§ 703.4 Definition of the men's and boys' clothing and related products industry in Puerto Rico and its divisions. (a) The men's and boys' clothing and related products industry in Puerto Rico, to which this part shall apply, is hereby defined as follows:

The manufacture from any material of men's and boys' clothing and related products, including, but without limitation, suits, coats, overcoats, trousers, shirts, underwear, nightwear, work clothing, sportswear (including bathing suits, riding habits and athletic uniforms), heavy outerwear, neckties, caps, hats (except hand-made straw hats), belts, robes and dressing gowns, raincoats, suspenders, garters, academic caps and gowns, vestments, costumes, and other items of apparel and accessories (except gloves, handkerchiefs, hosiery and shoes).

This definition supersedes the definitions contained in any and all wage orders heretofore issued for other industries in Puerto Rico to the extent that such definitions include products or operations covered by the definition of this industry.

(b) The separable divisions of the industry, as defined in paragraph (a) of this section, to which this part and its several provisions shall apply, are hereby defined as follows:

(1) Suits, coats, trousers and work clothing division. The manufacture from any material of men's and boys' suits, coats, topcoats, overcoats, trousers, and work clothing.

(2) General division. The manufacture from any material of all products included in the men's and boys' clothing and related products industry in Puerto Rico, as defined in paragraph (a) of this section, except those included in the suits, coats, trousers, and work clothing division, as defined in this section.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 6th day of April 1951.

WM. R. MCCOMB,
Administrator,
Wage and Hour Division.

TITLE 32A—NATIONAL DEFENSE, APPENDIX

Chapter III—Office of Price Stabilization, Economic Stabilization Agency

[Ceiling Price Regulation 17; Amendment 1]

CPR 17—GASOLINES, NAPHTHAS, FUEL OILS AND LIQUEFIED PETROLEUM GASES

NATURAL GAS, PETROLEUM GAS, CASINGHEAD GAS ANI REFINERY GAS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Amendment to Ceiling Price Regulation 17 (16 F. R. 3033) is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

Ceiling Price Regulation 17, which has been issued, covers the principal petroleum products at the wholesale level. It was decided to include in this regulation natural gas, petroleum gas, casinghead gas and refinery gas after consultation with various members from industry and the Industry Advisory Committee for Natural Gas, since the basic provisions of Ceiling Price Regulation 17 are equally applicable to these products. However, under pricing methods for natural gas, casinghead gas and refinery gas, a provision has been included to permit long term contracts to continue in effect. Such contracts are customary in the industry, many having been written several years prior to the base period to continue in effect for as long as twenty years. Moreover, many phases of the industry are subject to permanent Federal and State regulatory agencies. Permission for this type of contract to continue in effect in accordance with contract terms will not increase the general level of prices for gas beyond prices under long term contracts, nor to create hardships for purchasers. Most of the gas which will be sold under the pricing provisions of this regulation is delivered through long pipe lines certificated by Federal and State regulatory authority. The practice in the gas pipeline industry is to amortize the investment over a period of years and such amortization is in part related to the terms of purchase contracts covering the gas supply to such lines.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Ceiling Price Regulation No. 17 is amended in the following respects:

1. The title is amended to read as set forth above.

2. Section 1 is amended by inserting in the list of products between the words "Residual fuel oils and blends thereof with distillate fuel oils" and the words "Crude petroleum when sold" the following:

Natural gas, petroleum gas, casinghead gas, and refinery gas.

3. Section 16 is amended by adding the following: (o) "Natural gas," "petroleum gas," "casinghead gas" and "refinery gas" as used in this regulation means any natural or petroleum gas which is sold to be processed for the extraction of vapors and liquids, or for consumption either directly as fuel or to be consumed in the production of any other commodity or for use in gas lift, pressure maintenance or repressuring operations, and includes such gas when delivered directly from wells, and the residue gas resulting from extraction operations.

4. A new section, 23a, is inserted between section 23 and section 24 to read as follows:

SEC. 23a. Natural gas, petroleum gas, casinghead gas and refinery gas.—(a) Exemption. Nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize the regulation of a rate that is exempt from control by the Office of Price Stabilization under the Defense Production Act of 1950.

(b) Specific prices. In cases where there were published rate schedules, or offering prices, of a seller during or within one year prior to the base period, then the highest of such published rates or prices shall be the ceiling prices of the seller as to the classes of purchasers to whom such rate schedules or offering prices relate in any particular market or producing area. In order for a seller to price under this section his published rates, or offering prices, shall be filed with the Petroleum Branch of the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., on or before May 15, 1951.

(c) Formula prices.—(1) Ceiling prices based on sales. In the absence of a specific price determined under paragraph (b) of this section, the ceiling price for each seller at each delivery point in a particular market or producing area shall be the highest price charged by him in such particular market or producing area during the period December 19, 1950, to January 25, 1951, inclusive, for a sale of a particular type of gas to a purchaser of the same class. In the case of sales of natural gas, petroleum gas, casinghead gas, and refinery gas, the definition of sale contained in the definitions section of this regulation shall not apply. For these products sale shall include:

(i) Sales in the base period pursuant to oral or written contracts, including spot sales, made during such period.

(ii) All long term written contracts in effect in the base period can be used, in accordance with the terms of such contracts, as the basis for determining ceiling prices for all purchasers of the same class.

(iii) Written contracts made in the base period whether or not any deliveries were made thereunder, and written contracts made during the period June 1, 1950, to December 18, 1950, inclusive, under which no deliveries were made in the base period but which provided for performance to begin during or after the base period.

(iv) Deliveries made during the base period under a written contract made prior to December 19, 1950, and after June 1, 1950, if the prices reflected current market conditions.

(2) Existing contracts. Where a buyer and seller have entered into a contract prior to January 25, 1951, such contract may be carried out in accordance with the terms of such contract, notwithstanding any other provision of this regulation.

(3) Competitive or in-line ceiling price.—(i) Ceiling price of another seller. When a seller at a given shipping or delivery point is unable to determine a ceiling price for a particular gas under subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, his ceiling price at the delivery point shall be the highest ceiling price of any seller of the same class for gas of the particular type to a purchaser of the same class in the same market or producing area. This method of determining a ceiling price cannot be used unless the seller's records show that for the purpose of such sale he has adopted as his ceiling the ceiling price of such other seller under similar contract terms.

(ii) In-line ceiling price. If under this method (3) (i) of pricing, a seller arrives at a ceiling price for a particular gas which is not in line with the price he would have arrived at by use of his customary pricing practices in the same market or producing area during the base period December 19, 1950, to January 25, 1951, he may nevertheless sell at a price in line with his price for the particular gas at other comparable points which reflects his customary pricing practices. The seller shall within 15 days after making a sale file this in-line price with the Petroleum Branch, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., stating his proposed ceiling price and in what way the ceiling price determined according to the price of a competitive seller of the same class is inconsistent with the customary pricing practices of the seller. Such price shall be the seller's ceiling price for the particular product unless it is disapproved in writing or a substitute price is established by the Office of Price Stabilization. A ceiling price established under this section may be changed at any time by order of the Office of Price Stabilization.

(4) Final pricing method. See section 28 of this regulation.

GCPR, INT. 2—WHOLESALE PORK CUTS, PARITY ADJUSTMENTS

Section 3 of the General Ceiling Price Regulation sets the ceiling price for wholesale pork cuts at the highest price at which they were delivered by each seller during the period from December 19, 1950, to January 25, 1951, inclusive. Such ceiling prices may not be increased under the parity adjustment provisions of section 11 (b) and (c), since live hogs, from which wholesale pork cuts are processed, are not one of the agricultural commodities listed in section 11 (a).

[General Overriding Regulation 3]

GOR 3—EXEMPTION OF CERTAIN RUBBER, CHEMICAL AND DRUG COMMODITY TRANSACTIONS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Public Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this General Overriding Regulation 3 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This regulation is issued to provide for exemptions from price controls of certain rubber, chemical and drug commodity transactions for the reasons set out below. All of the exemptions provided for now include minor items of insignificant importance to the cost of living or to the cost of the defense program. In addition, their control involves administrative and enforcement difficulties out of all proportion to their intrinsic significance, and there is little or no likelihood that withdrawal of control in these situations will affect sales of other commodities through diversion of materials, labor, or facilities. From time to time this regulation may be amended to provide for additional exemptions of this kind as the need arises.

This regulation exempts experimental chemicals and small quantity sales of new chemicals. Sales of new chemicals which a manufacturer did not sell during the base period December 19, 1950, to January 25, 1951, or prior thereto, are exempt until the total amount of such sales reaches the sum of $1,000. This provision will have the effect of relieving the Office of Price Stabilization and manufacturers from the burden of establishing ceiling prices for numerous small quantity transactions in new chemicals where their money value is minor and which are insignificant from the standpoint of control of inflation or of the cost of living, and whose commercial significance is still a dubious matter. These new chemicals will become controlled again after sales exceed $1,000.

Sales of experimental chemicals after their sales reach $1,000 are likewise exempt if the Office of Price Stabilization does not disapprove the manufacturer's report describing the chemical, explaining why it is considered in the experimental stage, specifying the prices the manufacturer plans to charge, and stating the volume of production which would represent commercial production.

Many of these experimental chemicals never reach the commercial stage and the time and effort involved in establishing ceiling prices for such commodities could be better be used on more important commodities. Experimental chemicals are usually sold at a price bearing little relation to costs but are sold at a price designed to promote trial and use. Reliable cost data are usually not available. Ceiling prices based on actual experimental costs, would, moreover, probably prove inflationary. When commercial production is achieved, these chemicals will also become controlled again.

This regulation likewise exempts sales of hog cholera virus and anti-hog serum. In addition to the other factors mentioned above, the Secretary of Agriculture under the authority of the Anti-Hog Cholera Serum and Hog-Cholera Virus Marketing Agreement Act passed by Congress in 1935 exercises a general control over supply and prices of these items. The Secretary has stated that the maintenance of an adequate supply of anti-hog cholera serum and hog cholera virus is of prime importance in insuring the health of the Nation's swine population. Such serum and virus are the only products available generally capable of permanently immunizing swine against the disease of hog cholera, which disease is of a highly contagious and fatal nature. The disease exists at all times in some parts of the United States.

Also exempted are the following, when sold for the purposes of scientific and medical research, for analytical and educational uses, and for quality control of industrial products: reagent chemicals, laboratory reagent speciality solutions and prepared culture media. These are minor items insignificant in the cost of living or in the control of inflation. There are thousands of individual items in these classifications which are used in laboratories in the performance of tests, and although sales of a single item may be so insignificant that it is almost impossible to handle them on an individual basis, each item may be vitally necessary to an industrial consumer or a research laboratory.

The transactions exempted by this regulation were also exempt for substantially the same reasons by the Office of Price Administration during the last war.

FINDINGS OF THE DIRECTOR

In the judgment of the Director of Price Stabilization the provisions of this regulation are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to effectuate the purposes of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

So far as practicable the Director of Price Stabilization gave due consideration to the national effort to achieve maximum production in furtherance of the objectives of the Defense Production Act of 1950 to prices prevailing during the period from May 24, 1950, to June 24, 1950, inclusive; and to relevant factors of general applicability.

REGULATORY PROVISIONS

Sec.
1. What this regulation does.
2. Exemption of certain chemical commodity transactions.
3. Exemption of certain drug commodity transactions.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 3 issued under sec. 704 Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply Title IV, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong., E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 supp.

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. This regulation exempts from price control certain rubber, chemical and drug commodity transactions, as set forth in later sections of this regulation, either absolutely or, where the exemption is qualified, under the conditions and to the extent indicated.

SEC. 2. Exemption of certain chemical commodity transactions. No price regulation issued by the Office of Price Stabilization shall apply to the following:

(a) New chemicals. Sales by a manufacturer of a chemical which that manufacturer did not sell or offer for sale during the period December 19, 1950, to January 25, 1951, or prior thereto, until the total sales of that chemical exceed $1,000.

(b) Experimental chemicals. Sales by a manufacturer of a chemical which is in the experimental stage of production, on condition, however, that before making any sale of any such chemical which would bring the total sales thereof to a sum in excess of $1,000, the manufacturer must file with the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington, D. C., a report setting forth his name, a description of the chemical, the reasons why he considers the chemical to be in an experimental stage of production, the prices he proposes to charge for the chemical during the experimental stage of production, and the monthly volume which he believes would represent commercial production as opposed to the experimental stage of production. Unless the Office of Price Stabilization by letter disapproves this report or requests further information within twenty days, sales of the chemical shall continue to be exempted from price control until the volume of production specified in the report as commercial production is reached.

(c) Certain reagent chemicals. The following, when sold for the purposes of scientific and medical research, for analytical and education uses, and for quality control of industrial products: reagent chemicals, laboratory reagent speciality solutions and prepared culture media.

SEC. 3. Exemption of certain drug commodity transactions. No price regulation issued by the Office of Price Stabilization shall apply to the following:

(a) Hog-cholera virus and anti-hog cholera serum. All sales of hog cholera virus and anti-hog cholera serum (products used in the immunization of swine against hog cholera).

Effective date. This General Overriding Regulation No. 3 is effective April 16, 1951.

NOTE: The reporting requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

MICHAEL V. DISALLE,
Director of Price Stabilization.

Chapter XII—Defense Minerals Administration, Department of the Interior

[MO-3]

MO-3—ZINC ORE—TOLL AGREEMENTS

This order is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the authority granted by the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this order there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations.

Sec.
1. What this order does.
2. Definitions.
3. Authorization required.
4. Records and audit.
5. Adjustments and exceptions.
6. Directives and authorizations.
7. Communications.
8. Violations.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 8 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

SECTION 1. What this order does. The purpose of this order is to regulate the delivery and acceptance of zinc ore under toll agreements.

SEC. 2. Definitions. As used in this order:

(a) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association or any other organized group of persons and includes any agency of the United States or any other government.

(b) "Zinc ore" means all zinc ores, concentrates, fumes and residues.

(c) "Toll agreement" means an agreement or arrangement, of any kind or character, under which title to zinc ore, delivered for processing, is vested in a person other than the person processing the zinc ore, or pursuant to which unalloyed or alloyed zinc, in any quantities, equivalent or otherwise, is to be returned to the person delivering or owning the zinc ore.

SEC. 3. Authorization required. (a) On and after the effective date of this order, no person shall deliver or accept delivery of zinc ore for the purpose of converting, remelting, refining, or other processing into zinc metal, zinc dust, zinc pigments, or zinc salts pursuant to the terms of an existing or proposed toll agreement, except as specifically authorized in writing by the Defense Minerals Administration. The provisions of this paragraph shall apply with equal effect on any agency relationship which would result in a toll agreement.

(b) Persons desiring such authorization shall file with the Defense Minerals Administration a letter setting forth: The names and addresses of the parties to an existing or proposed toll agreement; the kind, grade and form of zinc ore involved; the tonnage of the zinc products resulting after processing; the estimated rate and dates of delivery of the zinc products; the length of time the toll agreement has been in force; the duration of the toll agreement; the purpose for which the processed zinc products are to be used; and such other information as the applicant may wish to submit.

SEC. 4. Records and audit. Each person participating in any transaction covered by this part shall retain in his possession for at least two years records of receipts, deliveries, inventories, and use, in sufficient detail to permit inspection and audit by representatives of authorized Government agencies for determining that the provisions of this order have been met. This does not specify any particular accounting method and does not require alteration of the system of records customarily maintained, provided such records supply an adequate basis for audit. Records may be retained in the form of microfilm or other photographic copies instead of the originals.

SEC. 5. Adjustments and exceptions. Any person affected by any provision of this order may file a request for adjustment or exception upon the ground that such provision works an undue or exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry, or that its enforcement against him would not be in the interest of national defense or in the public interest. In considering requests for adjustment claiming that the public interest is prejudiced by the application of any provision of this order, consideration will be given to the requirements of public health and safety, civilian defense, and dislocation of labor and resulting unemployment that would impair the defense program. Each request shall be in writing and shall set forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought and shall state the justification therefor.

SEC. 6. Directives and authorizations. The Defense Minerals Administration may from time to time issue special directives or authorizations with respect to the delivery and acceptance of zinc ore under toll agreements, and unless otherwise provided therein, such directives will prevail over the provisions of this order.

SEC. 7. Communications. All communications concerning this part shall be addressed to the Defense Minerals Administration, Department of the Interior, Washington 25, D. C.

SEC. 8. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or furnishes false information or conceals any material fact in the course of operation under it, is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment, or both.

This order shall take effect upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

JAMES BOYD,
Administrator,
Defense Minerals Administration.

TITLE 46—SHIPPING

Chapter I—Coast Guard, Department of the Treasury

Subchapter G—Ocean and Coastwise; General Rules and Regulations

[CGFR 51-6]

PART 62—SPECIAL OPERATING REQUIREMENTS

LOOKOUTS, FIRE PATROLMEN, AND ADDITIONAL WATCHES

The regulations in 46 CFR 62.25 contain the requirements for lookouts, fire patrolmen, and cabin watchmen on merchant vessels of the United States navigating the oceans or coastwise waters. The purpose of the amendment to 46 CFR 62.25 is to clarify the misunderstandings regarding the intent of the regulations and the requirements for lookouts, fire patrolmen, and additional watches when necessary.

This amendment to clarify the requirements of 46 CFR 62.25 shall become effective immediately upon publication of this document in the FEDERAL REGISTER. This regulation is published without prior general notice of its proposed issuance for the reason that notice, public rule making procedure thereon, and effective date requirements in connection therewith as required by the Administrative Procedure Act are hereby found to be impracticable and contrary to the public interest.

By virtue of the authority vested in me as Commandant, United States Coast Guard, by Treasury Department Order No. 120, dated July 31, 1950 (15 F. R. 6521), to promulgate regulations in accordance with the statutes cited with the regulation below, § 62.25 is amended to read as follows and this amendment shall become effective upon the date of publication of this document in the FEDERAL REGISTER:

§ 62.25 Lookouts, fire patrolmen, and additional watches when necessary—(a) Lookouts. Every vessel navigating the ocean shall have a lookout at all times at or near the bow during the nighttime.

(b) Fire patrolmen. (1) On every passenger vessel having berth or stateroom accommodations for passengers, there shall be maintained an efficient watch by the fire patrol so as to cover all parts of the vessel accessible to passengers or crew, except machinery spaces, spaces occupied by passengers or crew as sleeping accommodations and cargo compartments which are inaccessible to passengers or crew while the passenger vessel is being navigated.

(2) The duties of the fire patrolman shall be to guard against fire or any disaster and to give an alarm in case of accident. The fire patrol shall be adequate to cover the areas described in this section at intervals of not more than twenty minutes between the hours of 10:00 p. m. and 6:00 a. m. In the case of a passenger vessel of noninflammable construction which is fitted with an approved automatic fire-detecting and alarm system in public spaces, the patrol throughout the entire patrol area may be at one hour intervals.

(3) The failure of a patrolman to follow a prescribed route, or to record each station within a definite time shall be entered on the record, along with the reason for the irregularity.

(4) The patrolman shall report to the bridge every hour on a passenger vessel where the fire patrol system is not equipped with a recording apparatus in the control station. In every passenger vessel requiring more than one patrol group, one patrolman may contact the others and make the joint report to the bridge.

(5) A patrolman while on duty shall have no other tasks assigned to him. He shall be provided with a flashlight and shall wear a distinctive uniform or badge.

(6) The number of fire patrolmen shall be specified on the certificate of inspection.

(c) Responsibility of master. Nothing in this section shall exonerate any master or officer in command from the consequences of any neglect to keep a proper lookout or to maintain a proper fire watch or for the neglect of any precaution which may be required by the ordinary practice of seamen or by the special circumstances of the case. When circumstances require it, additional watches shall be maintained to guard against fires or other danger and to give an alarm in case of accident or disaster.

(R. S. 4405, as amended, secs. 1, 2, 49 Stat. 1544, sec. 5, 55 Stat. 244, as amended; 46 U. S. C. 375, 367, 50 U. S. C. App. 1275. Interprets or applies R. S. 4426, 4477, 4478, and sec. 2, 54 Stat. 1028, as amended; 46 U. S. C. 404, 470, 471, 463a)

Subchapter R—Nautical Schools

[CGFR 51-11]

PART 167—PUBLIC NAUTICAL SCHOOL SHIPS

A notice regarding proposed regulations for nautical school ships was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER dated December 21, 1950, 15 F. R. 9146-9156, and a public hearing to consider these regulations was held on January 30, 1951, at Washington, D. C. All the comments submitted were considered and where possible were incorporated into the regulations.

These regulations apply to nautical school ships which are vessels used as nautical school ships by any State or political subdivision thereof, or schools operated by the United States Maritime Administration, but do not include vessels of the United States Navy or Coast Guard. It is the purpose of the regulations to provide minimum standards for vessels used as nautical school ships. The regulations include requirements for the design, construction, and inspection of nautical school ships; lifesaving, firefighting, and fire prevention requirements; special operating requirements; and the number of persons permitted to be carried.

By virtue of the authority vested in me as Commandant, United States Coast Guard, by Treasury Department Order No. 120, dated July 31, 1950 (15 F. R. 6521), to promulgate regulations in accordance with the statutes cited with the regulations below, the following regulations are prescribed which shall be added to Chapter I as Subchapter R, Part 167, and shall become effective on and after July 1, 1951:

SUBPART 167.01—GENERAL PROVISIONS

Sec.
167.01-1 Basis and purpose of part.
167.01-5 Application of regulations.
167.01-10 Effective date of regulations.
167.01-15 Specifications for articles or materials.

SUBPART 167.05—DEFINITIONS

167.05-1 Definition of terms.
167.05-5 Approved.
167.05-10 Commandant.
167.05-15 Coast Guard District Commander.
167.05-20 Marine inspector or inspector.
167.05-25 Nautical school ship.
167.05-30 Officer in Charge, Marine Inspection.

SUBPART 167.10—ENFORCEMENT AND RIGHT OF APPEAL

167.10-1 Enforcement.
167.10-50 Right of appeal.

SUBPART 167.15—INSPECTIONS

167.15-1 Inspections required.
167.15-5 Authority of marine inspectors.
167.15-10 Application for annual inspection.
167.15-15 Application for inspection of a new nautical school ship or a conversion of a vessel to a nautical school ship.
167.15-20 Inspections of nautical school ships.
167.15-25 Inspection standards for hulls, boilers and machinery.
167.15-50 Tail shaft examination.

SUBPART 167.20—HULL REQUIREMENTS, CONSTRUCTION AND ARRANGEMENT OF NAUTICAL SCHOOL SHIPS

167.20-1 Construction.
167.20-5 Subdivision.
167.20-10 Means of escape.
167.20-15 Scupper, sanitary and similar discharges.
167.20-17 Bilge pumps, bilge piping, and sounding arrangements.
167.20-20 Stability.
167.20-25 Plans.
167.20-30 Ballast.

SUBPART 167.25—MARINE ENGINEERING

167.25-1 Boilers, pressure vessels, piping and appurtenances.
167.25-5 Inspection of boilers, pressure vessels, piping and appurtenances.
167.25-20 Carrying of excess steam.

SUBPART 167.30—REPAIRS OR ALTERATIONS

167.30-1 Notice of repairs or alterations required.
167.30-5 Proceeding to another port for repairs.
167.30-10 Gas-free certificates for repairs or alterations involving hot work.

SUBPART 167.35—LIFESAVING EQUIPMENT

167.35-1 Use of approved lifesaving equipment.
167.35-5 Life preservers.
167.35-10 Lifeboats.
167.35-15 Tests of lifeboats at annual inspection.

Sec.
167.35-20 Air tanks in lifeboats.
167.35-25 Numbering and marking of lifeboats.
167.35-30 Care of lifeboats.
167.35-35 Davits.
167.35-40 Strength and operation of davits.
167.35-45 Releasing gear or disengaging apparatus.
167.35-50 Inspection of releasing gear or disengaging apparatus.
167.35-60 Lifeboat equipment.
167.35-65 Motor lifeboat equipment.
167.35-70 Radios and portable radio equipment.
167.35-75 Handling of lifeboats.
167.35-80 Life buoys.
167.35-85 Line-throwing appliances.
167.35-90 Embarkation ladders.

SUBPART 167.40—CERTAIN EQUIPMENT REQUIREMENTS

167.40-1 Electrical installations.
167.40-5 Alarm bells.
167.40-7 Voice tubes, telephone, and telegraph systems.
167.40-10 Fog bells.
167.40-15 Whistles.
167.40-20 Deep-sea sounding apparatus.
167.40-25 Signaling lamp.
167.40-30 Guards and rails.
167.40-35 Motion-picture projectors.

SUBPART 167.45—SPECIAL FIRE-FIGHTING AND FIRE PREVENTION REQUIREMENTS

167.45-1 Steam and inert-gas fire extinguishing systems.
167.45-5 Steam fire pumps or their equivalent.
167.45-10 Couplings on fire hose.
167.45-15 Capacity of pipes and hose.
167.45-20 Examination and testing of pumps and fire-extinguishing equipment.
167.45-25 Fire mains and hose connections.
167.45-30 Use of approved fire-fighting equipment.
167.45-40 Fire-fighting equipment on nautical school ships using oil as fuel.
167.45-45 Carbon dioxide fire-extinguishing system requirements.
167.45-50 Foam smothering system requirements.
167.45-55 Fixed water spray system requirements.
167.45-60 Emergency breathing apparatus and flame safety lamps.
167.45-65 Portable fire extinguishers in accommodation spaces.
167.45-70 Portable fire extinguishers, general requirements.
167.45-75 Fire extinguishers for emergency power plants.
167.45-80 Fire axes.

SUBPART 167.50—ACCOMMODATIONS

167.50-1 Hospital accommodations.

SUBPART 167.55—SPECIAL MARKINGS REQUIRED

167.55-1 Draft marks.
167.55-5 Marking of fire and emergency equipment, etc.

SUBPART 167.60—CERTIFICATES OF INSPECTION

167.60-1 Issuance by Officer in Charge, Marine Inspection.
167.60-5 Period of time for which valid.
167.60-10 Exhibition of certificate of inspection.
167.60-15 Persons allowed to be carried.

SUBPART 167.65—SPECIAL OPERATING REQUIREMENTS

167.65-1 Station bills, drills, and log book entries.
167.65-5 Flashing the rays of a searchlight or other blinding light.
167.65-10 Unauthorized lights.
167.65-15 Routing instructions; strict compliance with.
167.65-20 Unnecessary whistling.

AUTHORITY: §§ 167.01-1 to 167.65-70 issued under R. S. 4405, as amended; 46 U. S. C. 375. Interpret or apply R. S. 4417, 4418, 4426, 4428-4434, 4450, 4488, 4491, as amended, 41 Stat. 305, 49 Stat. 1544, 54 Stat. 163-167, 1028, sec. 5, 55 Stat. 244, as amended; 46 U. S. C. 391, 392, 404, 406-412, 239, 363, 367, 463a, 481, 489, 526-526t, 50 U. S. C. 1275.

SUBPART 167.01—GENERAL PROVISIONS

§ 167.01-1 Basis and purpose of part. By virtue of the authority in R. S. 4405 (46 U. S. C. 375), as amended, and to apply the requirements of the act of October 25, 1919, as amended (41 Stat. 305; 46 U. S. C. 363), the rules and regulations in this part are prescribed and apply to public nautical school ships, except vessels of the Navy or Coast Guard. It is the intent of the regulations in this part to provide minimum standards for vessels used as nautical school ships in accordance with the various inspection statutes and to obtain their correct and uniform application. This part is not applicable to civilian nautical school ships.

§ 167.01-5 Application of regulations. (a) Regulations in this part contain requirements for the design, construction, inspection, lifesaving equipment, firefighting and fire prevention requirements, special operating requirements and number of persons allowed to be carried on nautical school ships.

(b) Vessels owned or chartered by the United States Maritime Administration that may be used by or in connection with any nautical school are not normally considered as merchant vessels of the United States and, therefore, are not documented.

§ 167.01-10 Effective date of regulations. (a) The regulations in this part shall be in effect on and after July 1, 1951: Provided, That amendments, revisions, or additions shall become effective 90 days after the date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER unless the Commandant shall fix a different time.

(b) Amendments to regulations in this part will not be retroactive in effect unless specifically made so at the time the amendments are issued.

§ 167.01-15 Specifications for articles or materials. Articles of equipment or materials used in the equipment or the construction of vessels, which conform to the specifications of the Navy or Coast Guard, or their approved equivalent, may be accepted.

SUBPART 167.05—DEFINITIONS

§ 167.05-1 Definition of terms. Certain terms used in the regulations of this part are defined in this subpart.

§ 167.05-5 Approved. This term means approved by the Commandant unless otherwise stated.

§ 167.05-10 Commandant. This term means Commandant of the Coast Guard.

§ 167.05-15 Coast Guard District Commander. This term means an Officer of the Coast Guard designated as such by the Commandant to command all Coast Guard activities within his district, which include the inspections, enforcement, and administration of Title 52, R. S., and acts amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto, and rules and regulations thereunder.

§ 167.05-20 Marine inspector or inspector. These terms mean any person from the civilian or military branch of the Coast Guard assigned under the superintendence and direction of an Officer in Charge, Marine Inspection, or any other person as may be designated for the performance of duties with respect to the inspections, enforcement, and the administration of Title 52, R. S., and acts amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto, and rules and regulations thereunder.

§ 167.05-25 Nautical school ship. This term means any vessel used as a nautical school ship by any state or political subdivision thereof or a school operated by the United States Maritime Administration, but shall not include vessels of the Navy or Coast Guard.

§ 167.05-30 Officer in Charge, Marine Inspection. This term means any person from the civilian or military branch of the Coast Guard designated as such by the Commandant, and who, under the superintendence and direction of the Coast Guard District Commander, is in charge of an inspection zone for the performance of duties with respect to the inspections, enforcement, and administration of Title 52, R. S., and acts amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto, and rules and regulations thereunder.

SUBPART 167.10—ENFORCEMENT AND RIGHT OF APPEAL

§ 167.10-1 Enforcement. The Officer in Charge, Marine Inspection, is responsible for the performance of duties within his jurisdiction with respect to inspection of nautical school ships which are subject to the provisions of Title 52, R. S., and acts amendatory thereof or supplementary thereto, rules and regulations issued thereunder, and the inspections required thereby.

§ 167.10-50 Right of appeal. Whenever any person directly interested in or affected by any decision or action of any Officer in Charge, Marine Inspection, shall feel aggrieved by such decision or action, he may appeal therefrom to the Coast Guard District Commander having jurisdiction and a like appeal shall be allowed from any decision or action of the Coast Guard District Commander to the Commandant, whose decision shall be final: Provided, however, That application for such reexamination of the case by a Coast Guard District Commander or by the Commandant shall be made within 30 days after the decision or action appealed from shall have been rendered or taken.

SUBPART 167.15—INSPECTIONS

§ 167.15-1 Inspections required. (a) Before a vessel may be used as a nautical school ship, it shall be inspected by the Coast Guard to determine that the hull, boilers, machinery, equipment and appliances comply with the regulations in this part.

(b) Every nautical school ship subject to the regulations in this part shall be inspected annually, or oftener if necessary, by the Coast Guard to determine that the hull, boilers, machinery, equipment and appliances comply with the regulations in this part.

(c) Nautical school ships while laid up and dismantled and out of commission are exempt from any or all inspections required by law or regulations in this part.

§ 167.15-5 Authority of marine inspectors. Marine inspectors may at any time lawfully inspect any nautical school ship.

§ 167.15-10 Application for annual inspection. Application in writing for the annual inspection of every nautical school ship required to be inspected by law and the regulations in this part shall be made by the master, owner, or agent to the Officer in Charge, Marine Inspection, at any local Marine Inspection Office, U. S. Coast Guard, where the nautical school ship may be operating. The application shall be on Form CG 833, Application for Inspection of Vessel, which requires information on name and type of vessel, nature of employment and route in which to be operated, place where and date when the vessel may be inspected, and that no other application has been made to any Officer in Charge, Marine Inspection, since the issuance of the last valid certificate of inspection.

§ 167.15-15 Application for inspection of a new nautical school ship or a conversion of a vessel to a nautical school ship. Prior to the commencement of the construction of a new nautical school ship, or a conversion of a vessel to a nautical school ship, application for the approval of contract plans and specifications and for a certificate of inspection shall be made in writing by the owner or agent to the Officer in Charge, Marine Inspection, at the nearest local Marine Inspection Office, U. S. Coast Guard.

§ 167.15-20 Inspections of nautical school ships. At each annual inspection, or oftener if deemed necessary, the inspector will inspect the hull, boilers, machinery, equipment, and appliances generally for compliance with the regulations in this subpart and in addition will inspect and test certain specific items as specifically set forth in this part.

§ 167.15-25 Inspection standards for hulls, boilers and machinery. Except as otherwise provided by law or regulations in this subpart, the following standards shall be accepted as standard by the inspectors:

(a) American Bureau of Shipping "Rules for Building and Classing Steel Vessels" regarding the construction of hulls, boilers and machinery in effect on the date of inspection. These rules may be purchased from the American Bureau of Shipping, New York, N. Y.

(b) U. S. Navy Standard Construction Specification in effect on the date of inspection.

(c) U. S. Coast Guard Standard Construction Specification in effect on the date of inspection.

§ 167.15-50 Tail shaft examination. The outboard shaft or shafts on every nautical school ship shall be drawn for examination once at least in every 3 years: Provided, That, if the circumstances warrant it, the Coast Guard District Commander may extend this time to the next regular drydocking period, not to exceed four months: Provided further, That when it is shown that a nautical school ship has had a long period of lay up, the Coast Guard District Commander may grant an extension equal to the time the vessel has been out of commission, but in no case shall the extension exceed one year.

SUBPART 167.20—HULL REQUIREMENTS, CONSTRUCTION AND ARRANGEMENT OF NAUTICAL SCHOOL SHIPS

§ 167.20-1 Construction. Except as otherwise provided by law or regulation in this subpart, the following standards for construction are acceptable.

(a) American Bureau of Shipping "Rules for Building and Classing Steel Vessels" regarding the construction of hulls, boilers and machinery in effect on the date of inspection. These rules may be purchased from the American Bureau of Shipping, New York, N. Y.

(b) U. S. Navy Standard Construction Specification in effect on the date of inspection.

(c) U. S. Coast Guard Standard Construction Specification in effect on the date of inspection.

§ 167.20-5 Subdivision. All nautical school ships shall meet the minimum standard for one-compartment subdivision, calculated in accordance with Part 46 of Subchapter E (Load Lines) of this chapter.

§ 167.20-10 Means of escape. (a) On all nautical school ships where the arrangements will possibly permit, all inclosures where persons may be quartered, or where anyone may be employed, shall be provided with not less than two avenues of escape, so located that if one of such avenues is not available another may be.

§ 167.20-15 Scupper, sanitary and similar discharges. (a) All scupper, sanitary, and other similar discharges which lead through the ship's hull shall be fitted with efficient means for preventing the ingress of water in the event of a fracture of such pipes. The requirements do not apply to the discharges in the machinery space connected with the main and auxiliary engines, pumps, etc.

§ 167.20-17 Bilge pumps, bilge piping and sounding arrangements. The number, capacity, and arrangement of bilge pumps and bilge piping shall be in accordance with the requirements for cargo vessels contained in Parts 50 to 57 of Subchapter F (Marine Engineering) of this chapter. Sounding pipes shall be fitted in each compartment, except those accessible at all times. The main and secondary drain systems installed in accordance with U. S. Navy or U. S. Coast Guard Construction Specifications shall be accepted as meeting the intent of this section.

§ 167.20-20 Stability. Each nautical school ship shall be subjected to a stability test under the supervision of the Coast Guard. A stability letter, prepared by the Coast Guard, embodying necessary instructions to insure maintenance of sufficient stability at all times, for both intact and damaged condition, shall be posted on board the nautical school ship.

§ 167.20-25 Plans. (a) For use in connection with the stability test, the following plans shall be furnished to the Coast Guard:

(1) General arrangement plans;
(2) Midship section;
(3) Lines; and
(4) Curves of form.

(b) In the case of new construction of a nautical school ship, the same kind of plans as required by the Coast Guard for a cargo ship shall be submitted for approval. A list of the necessary plans may be obtained from the Commandant upon request.

(c) The owner or builder shall submit required drawings or blueprints in triplicate so that one set may be retained by the Commandant, one set approved and returned to the Officer in Charge, Marine Inspection, for his records, and one set approved and returned to the owner or builder for his information. If the owner or builder desires additional sets of drawings or plans approved, he shall submit such additional sets with the required drawings or plans.

§ 167.20-30 Ballast. When a nautical school ship is required to carry fixed ballast, in order to increase the metacentric height, such ballast shall not be moved except for examination and repair of the nautical school ship, and then only in the presence of an inspector.

SUBPART 167.25—MARINE ENGINEERING

§ 167.25-1 Boilers, pressure vessels, piping and appurtenances. (a) Except as otherwise provided by law or regulations in this subpart, all vessels constructed or reconverted to use as nautical school ships on or after July 1, 1951, shall conform with one of the following standards for boilers, pressure vessels, piping and appurtenances:

(1) Marine engineering regulations and material specifications in Parts 50 to 57, inclusive, of Subchapter F (Marine Engineering) of this chapter.

(2) Navy Standard Construction Specifications in effect at time of construction or conversion.

(3) U. S. Coast Guard Standard Construction Specifications in effect at time of construction or conversion.

(b) The boilers, pressure vessels, and appurtenances shall be inspected initially under the provisions of § 52.01-50 of Subchapter F (Marine Engineering) of this chapter. All alterations, replacements, or repairs on nautical school ships shall conform to the applicable standards in paragraph (a) of this section insofar as practicable.

§ 167.25-5 Inspection of boilers, pressure vessels, piping and appurtenances. The inspection of boilers, pressure vessels, piping and appurtenances shall be in accordance with the appropriate sections in Parts 50 to 57, inclusive, of Subchapter F (Marine Engineering) of this chapter, insofar as they relate to tests and inspection of cargo vessels.

§ 167.25-20 Carrying of excess steam.[1] When it is known or comes to the knowledge of the Officer in Charge, Marine Inspection, that any steam nautical school ship is or has been carrying an excess of steam beyond that which is allowed by her certificate of inspection, the Officer in Charge, Marine Inspection, in whose zone the nautical school ship is being navigated, in addition to reporting the fact to the United States District Attorney for prosecution under R. S. 4437 (46 U. S. C. 413), shall require the owner or owners of the nautical school ship to place on the boiler a lockup safety valve which will prevent the carrying of an excess of steam and it shall be under the control of said Officer in Charge, Marine Inspection.

SUBPART 167.30—REPAIRS OR ALTERATIONS

§ 167.30-1 Notice of repairs or alterations required. (a) It shall be the duty of the master, owner, or agent to notify the nearest Officer in Charge, Marine Inspection, whenever repairs or alterations are required, or will be made on a nautical school ship.

(b) Whenever a nautical school ship is placed upon the dock, it shall be the duty of the master, owner or agent to report the same to the Officer in Charge, Marine Inspection, so that a thorough inspection may be made by the Coast Guard to determine what is necessary to make such a nautical school ship seaworthy, if the condition or age of the nautical school ship, in the judgment of the Officer in Charge, Marine Inspection, renders such examination necessary.

§ 167.30-5 Proceeding to another port for repairs. (a) The Officer in Charge, Marine Inspection, may issue a permit to proceed to another port for repairs, if in his judgment it can be done with safety. In the issuance of such a permit the Officer in Charge, Marine Inspection, will state upon its face, the conditions upon which it is granted.

(b) When a nautical school ship obtains a permit from the Officer in Charge, Marine Inspection, to go to another port for repairs, the Officer in Charge, Marine Inspection, shall so notify the Coast Guard District Commander, and state the repairs to be made. The Coast Guard District Commander shall notify the Coast Guard District Commander of the district where such repairs are to be made, furnishing him a copy of the report indicating the repairs ordered.

§ 167.30-10 Gas-free certificates for repairs or alterations involving hot work. On any nautical school ship which has carried inflammable or combustible liquids in bulk, as fuel or cargo, whether in a repair yard or elsewhere, no repairs or alterations involving riveting, welding, burning, or like fire-producing operations shall be made in or on the boundaries of oil bunkers, oil tanks, oil pipe lines and heating coils until an inspection has been made to determine that such operations can be undertaken with safety. Such inspections shall be made and evidenced as follows:

(a) When in a port of the United States, this inspection shall be made by a gas chemist certificated by the American Bureau of Shipping; however, if the services of such certified gas chemist are not reasonably available, the marine inspector of the Coast Guard, upon recommendation of the nautical school ship's owner and his contractor, or their representatives, shall select a person who, in the case of an individual nautical school ship, shall be authorized to make the inspection. If the inspection indicates that such operations can be undertaken with safety, a certificate setting forth that fact in writing and qualified, as may be required, shall be issued by the certified gas chemist or the authorized person before the work is started.

(b) When not in such a port and a gas chemist is not available, this inspection shall be made by the senior officer present, who shall make an entry in the nautical school ship's log to that effect.

SUBPART 167.35—LIFESAVING EQUIPMENT

§ 167.35-1 Use of approved lifesaving equipment. Lifeboats, lifeboat disengaging apparatus, life rafts, life preservers, or other lifesaving equipment which conform to the specifications of the Navy or Coast Guard, or their approved equivalent, may be accepted for use on nautical school ships.

§ 167.35-5 Life preservers—(a) Number required. All nautical school ships shall be provided with one life preserver for each person carried.

(b) Shipboard inspections. At each annual inspection of any nautical school ship, or oftener if deemed necessary, all life preservers shall be examined by an inspector to determine serviceability. When life preservers are found to be in accordance with the requirements, the inspector shall stamp them with the word "Passed", his initials, port, and date. Life preservers found not to be in a serviceable condition shall be removed from the vessel's equipment and, if beyond repair, shall be destroyed in the presence of the inspector.

§ 167.35-10 Lifeboats. Each nautical school ship shall be provided with fully equipped lifeboats of sufficient capacity to accommodate all persons on board.

§ 167.35-15 Tests of lifeboats at annual inspection. At each annual inspection, or oftener if necessary, the inspectors shall satisfy themselves that every lifeboat, together with its equipment, is in every respect in good condition and ready for immediate use. Every lifeboat, with its required equipment, shall be lowered to near the water and loaded to its allowed capacity, evenly distributed throughout its length, and then lowered into the water afloat. In making this test, persons or satisfactory deadweight may be used. If persons are used, the weight of each person shall average at least 165 pounds. When deadweight is used, the weight shall be equivalent to at least 165 pounds for each person allowed.

§ 167.35-20 Air tanks in lifeboats. Before any lifeboat is passed and accepted, the air tanks if installed shall be tested in the presence of an inspector by an air pressure of not more than 1 pound per square inch. At each subsequent annual inspection, or oftener if necessary or desirable, the inspectors shall satisfy themselves that the air tanks are in good condition, but pressure need not be applied unless the inspectors are in doubt regarding the efficiency of the tanks. This does not take from the inspectors the right and authority to satisfy themselves at any time, either by examination or pressure, as to the condition of the air tanks.

§ 167.35-25 Numbering and marking of lifeboats. (a) The number of each lifeboat shall be plainly marked or painted on each side of the bow in figures three inches high; and, where lifeboats are carried on both sides of a vessel, the odd-numbered boats shall be stowed on the starboard side and even-numbered boats on the port side; i. e., lifeboat No. 1 shall be forward on the starboard side, and lifeboat No. 3 next abaft lifeboat No. 1; lifeboat No. 2 shall be forward on the port side and lifeboat No. 4 next abaft lifeboat No. 2, etc. Where lifeboats are nested, the lifeboat under lifeboat No. 1 shall be numbered 1a, the lifeboat under lifeboat No. 2 shall be numbered 2a, etc.

(b) The cubical contents and number of persons allowed to be carried on each lifeboat shall be plainly marked or painted on each side of the bow in letters and numbers 1½ inches high. In addition, the number of persons allowed shall be plainly marked or painted on the top of at least two of the thwarts in letters and numbers three inches high.

(c) Such letters and numbers required by paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section shall be dark on a light background or light on a dark background.

§ 167.35-30 Care of lifeboats. Lifeboats shall be stripped, cleaned, and thoroughly overhauled, at least once in every year.

§ 167.35-35 Davits. All lifeboats shall be carried under davits of approved types. Davits approved by the Navy may be used. More than one type of davit may be carried on any one vessel.

§ 167.35-40 Strength and operation of davits. The davits shall be of such strength that the boats can be lowered with their full complement of persons and equipment.

§ 167.35-45 Releasing gear or disengaging apparatus. More than one type of approved releasing gear or disengaging apparatus may be installed in the lifeboats on any one nautical school ship. Releasing gear approved by the Navy may be used.

§ 167.35–50 Inspection of releasing gear or disengaging apparatus. The inspectors, when inspecting or reinspecting vessels, shall carefully examine the releasing gear or disengaging apparatus and the blocks and falls thereof to satisfy themselves that the same are in good condition.

§ 167.35–60 Lifeboat equipment. The equipment specified in this section shall be provided for each lifeboat. This equipment need not be stowed in the lifeboat but shall be readily available for emergency use. The lifeboat, except where otherwise specified in this subpart, shall be equipped as follows:

(a) Bailer. One bailer of sufficient size and suitable for bailing with lanyard attached.

(b) Boathooks. Two boathooks of clear-grained white ash of suitable length but not less than 8 feet long by 1½ inches in diameter.

(c) Bucket. One galvanized iron bucket of about 2-gallon capacity, with lanyard attached.

(d) Compass. One compass.

(e) Distress signals. Twelve hand red flare distress signals in a watertight container, and 4 floating orange smoke distress signals; or 12 hand red flare distress signals in a watertight container, and 12 hand orange smoke distress signals in a watertight container; or 12 hand combination flare and smoke distress signals in a watertight container. Service use shall be limited to a period of 3 years from date of manufacture.

(f) Ditty bag. One canvas bag containing sailmaker's palm, needles, sail twine, marline, and marline spike.

(g) Drinking cups. Two drinking cups.

(h) Flashlight. One flashlight.

(i) Hatchets. Two hatchets attached to the boat by individual lanyards and readily available for use, one at each end of the boat.

(j) Lantern. One lantern containing sufficient oil to burn at least 9 hours and ready for immediate use.

(k) Life line. When necessary a life line, or grab line, properly secured the entire length on each side, festooned in bights not longer than 3 feet, with a seine float in each bight. The life line shall be of a size and strength not less than 12-thread manila rope, and the seine float in each bight shall hang to within 12 inches of the surface of the water when the boat is light.

(l) Life preservers or life buoys. Two life preservers or two life buoys.

(m) Mast and sails. A mast or masts with at least one good sail and proper gear for each, the sail and gear to be protected by a suitable canvas cover. Where a nautical school ship in the North Atlantic north of 35° north latitude is provided with a radiotelegraph installation, only one of the lifeboats on each side of the nautical school ship shall be required to be so equipped.

(n) Matches. One box of friction matches in a watertight container.

(o) Oars. A single banked complement of oars, two spare oars, and a steering oar with rowlock or becket. Motor lifeboats and lifeboats fitted with propellers operated by hand shall be equipped with four oars and one steering oar.

(p) Painter. One painter of manila rope not less than 2¾ inches in circumference and a length not less than three times the distance between the boat deck and the light draft.

(q) Plugs. Each drain hole shall be provided with two plugs or caps attached by chains, or with one cap attached by chain to the lifeboat if the cap is fitted with a setscrew to prevent its being taken off without removing the setscrew.

(r) Provisions. Two pounds of provisions for each person consisting of hard bread or its equivalent in any emergency ration approved by the Coast Guard or Navy of cereal or vegetable compound packaged in hermetically sealed containers.

(s) Rowlocks. One set and a half of rowlocks, each attached to the lifeboat by a separate chain.

(t) Rudder. One rudder and tiller.

(u) Sea anchor. One sea anchor.

(v) Signaling mirrors. Two signaling mirrors.

(w) Storm oil. One container holding 1 gallon of vegetable or animal oil, so constructed that the oil can be easily distributed on the water and so arranged that it can be attached to the sea anchor.

(x) Water. For each person at least 1 quart of drinking water contained in hermetically sealed cans of a type approved by the Coast Guard or Navy.

§ 167.35–65 Motor lifeboat equipment—(a) Equipment required. In addition to the equipment required by § 167.35–60, motor lifeboats shall carry two fire extinguishers of the carbon tetrachloride, carbon dioxide, or dry chemical type, approved by the Navy or Coast Guard, but need not carry a mast or sails nor more than four rowing oars and one steering oar.

(b) Motor and accessories. (1) The engine for motor-propelled lifeboats shall be of a reliable, marine, heavy-duty type, permanently installed inside the lifeboat.

(2) Motor-propelled lifeboats certified for 100 or more persons shall be fitted with at least two bilge pumps, one of which shall be an efficient hand pump. Each bilge pump shall be capable of pumping from each compartment. Motor-propelled lifeboats certified for less than 100 persons shall be fitted with one bilge pump, either hand or power, having suitable suctions or drainage to different parts of the lifeboat.

§ 167.35–70 Radios and portable radio equipment. Two portable radio units suitable for use in lifeboats.

§ 167.35–75 Handling of lifeboats. All the lifeboats shall be stowed in such a way that they can be launched in the shortest possible time and that, even under unfavorable conditions of list and trim from the point of view of the handling of the lifeboats, it may be possible to embark in them as large a number of persons as possible.

§ 167.35–80 Life buoys—(a) Number required. (1) The minimum number of life buoys and the minimum number to which water lights shall be attached shall be in accordance with the following table:

TABLE 167.35–80—(a) LIFE BUOYS

Length of nautical school ship	Minimum number of life buoys	Minimum number of life buoys with water lights attached
Under 100 feet	2	0
100 feet and under 200 feet	4	2
200 feet and under 300 feet	6	2
300 feet and under 400 feet	12	4
400 feet and under 600 feet	18	9
600 feet and under 800 feet	24	12
800 feet and over	30	15

(2) One life buoy on each side of a vessel shall have an attached line at least 15 fathoms in length.

(b) Distribution and securing of life buoys and water lights. All life buoys and water lights shall be distributed and secured as follows:

(1) All life buoys shall be so placed as to be readily accessible to the persons on board, and their positions plainly indicated so as to be known to the persons concerned.

(2) The life buoys shall always be capable of being cast loose, and shall not be permanently secured in any way.

§ 167.35–85 Line-throwing appliances—(a) Requirements. All nautical school ships (regardless of tonnage or manner of propulsion) engaged on international voyages and all nautical school ships of 500 gross tons and over, shall be equipped with an approved line-throwing appliance, and equipment auxiliary thereto, of the impulse-projected rocket type, the requirements for which are set forth in subpart 160.040 of Subchapter Q (Specifications) of this chapter. All nautical school ships of 150 gross tons and over and less than 500 gross tons, shall be equipped with an approved line-throwing appliance, and equipment auxiliary thereto, of the shoulder gun type or the impulse-projected rocket type, the requirements for which are set forth in subparts 160.031 and 160.040, respectively, of Subchapter Q (Specifications) of this chapter. The line-throwing appliances shall be approved by the Coast Guard or the Navy. Service use of rockets shall be within four years from date of manufacture. Lyle gun type line-throwing appliances already in service may be continued in use so long as in good and serviceable condition in lieu of impulse-projected rocket type or shoulder gun type line-throwing appliances: Provided, That any replacements shall be made with a line-throwing appliance of the impulse-projected rocket type or shoulder gun type, as applicable.

(b) Accessibility. The line-throwing appliance and its equipment shall be kept always easily and immediately accessible and ready for use. No part of this equipment shall be used for any other purpose.

(c) Drills. The master of a nautical school ship equipped with a line-throwing appliance shall drill his crew in its use and require it to be fired at least once in every 3 months. Each drill shall be recorded in the nautical school ship's log book. The service line shall not be used for drill purposes. The drills shall be conducted as follows:

(1) For impulse-projected rocket type, by actually firing the rocket with any ordinary line of proper length attached; or,

(2) For shoulder gun type, by actual firing, using the regular cartridge and projectile with any ordinary line of proper length; or,

(3) For Lyle gun type, by actual firing, using one-half the usual charge of powder with regular service projectile and any ordinary line of proper length.

§ 167.35–90 Embarkation ladders. Nautical school ships shall be provided with flexible ladders to enable people to descend to lifeboats, one such ladder being provided for each set of boat davits. These ladders shall be kept ready and convenient for use on the lifeboat deck, and shall reach from such deck to the nautical school ship's light water line.

SUBPART 167.40—CERTAIN EQUIPMENT REQUIREMENTS

§ 167.40–1 Electrical installations. (a) Except as otherwise provided by law or regulation in this part, the electrical equipment may be considered acceptable if it complies with the requirements covered by any one of the following:

(1) U. S. Navy Standard Construction Specifications currently in effect.

(2) U. S. Coast Guard Standard Construction Specifications currently in effect.

(3) American Institute of Electrical Engineers Standard No. 45, 1945 or 1948 Revision. These standards may be purchased from the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, New York, N. Y.

(b) Changes or alterations in the electrical installations of vessels now in service shall be in accordance with standards set forth in paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) Special attention shall be given by the inspectors in the examination of present installation to see that it is of such nature as to preclude any danger of fire, giving particular attention to wiring which is carried through wooden bulkheads, partitions, etc.

§ 167.40–5 Alarm bells. All nautical school ships over 100 gross tons shall have all sleeping accommodations, public spaces, and machinery spaces equipped with a sufficient number of alarm bells so located as to warn all occupants. The system shall operate from a continuous source of electric energy capable of supplying the system for a period of at least 8 hours without being dependent upon the main, auxiliary or emergency generating plants. Each bell shall produce a signal of a tone distinct from that of other bell signals in the vicinity and shall be independently fused, with each of these fuses located above the bulkhead deck. The bells shall be controlled by a manually-operated contact maker located in the pilothouse. The characteristics of the contact maker shall be such that it possesses:

(a) Positive contact;

(b) Watertightness (when located in open spaces subject to weather);

(c) Means whereby its electrically open or closed position can be determined by sense of touch;

(d) Means to affect a make-or-break circuit for signaling; and

(e) Self-maintaining contacts.

§ 167.40–7 Voice tubes, telephone, and telegraph systems. (a) Each nautical school ship shall be fitted with an efficient means of communication between the pilothouse and engine room. This may be by bell signals with voice tubes, telephone, or telegraph systems.

(b) A voice tube or telephone system between the radio room and the navigating bridge shall be provided when the nautical school ship is equipped with a radio installation.

(c) A voice tube or telephone system between the pilothouse and emergency steering station shall be provided when the nautical school ship is equipped with an emergency steering station.

§ 167.40–10 Fog bells. The efficient fog bell required upon vessels by law (sec. 1, 26 Stat. 325, as amended; 33 U. S. C. 91) shall be held to mean a bell not less than 8 inches in diameter from outside to outside and constructed of bronze or brass or other material equal thereto in tone and volume of sound, and located where the sound shall be the least obstructed.

§ 167.40–15 Whistles. Nautical school ships shall be provided with an efficient whistle sounded by steam or by some substitute for steam to give the necessary whistle signals.

§ 167.40–20 Deep-sea sounding apparatus. Nautical school ships shall be equipped with an efficient mechanical deep-sea sounding apparatus in addition to the ordinary deep-sea hand lead. The mechanical deep-sea sounding apparatus required shall be installed, kept in working order, and ready for immediate use.

§ 167.40–25 Signaling lamp. Nautical school ships of over 150 gross tons shall be equipped with an efficient signaling lamp. This lamp shall be permanently fixed above the bridge and equipped with a Fresnel lens and high-speed bulb, operated by a weatherproof key, fitted with a suitable condenser. The lamp shall be so connected that it can be operated from the normal source of the nautical school ship's current, the emergency source, and other emergency batteries if provided.

§ 167.40–30 Guards and rails. On nautical school ships all exposed and dangerous places, such as gears and machinery shall be properly protected with covers, guards, or rails, in order that the danger of accidents may be minimized. On nautical school ships equipped with radio (wireless) the lead-ins shall be efficiently incased or insulated to insure the protection of persons from accidental shock. Such lead-ins shall be located so as not to interfere with the launching of lifeboats and life rafts.

§ 167.40–35 Motion-picture projectors. (a) Motion-picture projectors of the 16 mm. or 8 mm. size, using only slow-burning films, need not be of an approved type and may be used without booths.

(b) Motion-picture projectors using the 35 mm. size, unless mounted on weather deck shall be used in booths, in accordance with § 61.23 of Subchapter G (Ocean and Coastwise Regulations) of this chapter or applicable Navy specifications.

SUBPART 167.45—SPECIAL FIRE-FIGHTING AND FIRE PREVENTION REQUIREMENTS

§ 167.45–1 Steam and inert-gas fire extinguishing systems—(a) General requirements. (1) Nautical school ships shall be provided with steam or inert-gas fire-extinguishing systems when required.

(2) All nautical school ships carrying combustible cargo in the holds, between decks, or other closed cargo compartments shall be equipped with means for extinguishing fire in such compartments by the use of steam fire-extinguishing systems or by the use of any inert-gas fire-extinguishing system approved by the Coast Guard or Navy. However, in specific cases where by reason of the design, such compartments are normally accessible and considered to be part of the working or living quarters, a water sprinkling system may be installed in lieu of either a steam or inert-gas fire-extinguishing system.

(3) Cabinets, boxes, or casings inclosing manifolds or valves shall be distinctly marked in painted letters about 3 inches in height, "Steam Fire Apparatus," or "CO_2 Fire Apparatus," as the case may be.

(4) Steam or gas piping fitted for extinguishing fire shall not be used for any other purpose except that it may be used for fire-detecting purposes.

(5) Pipes for conveying steam from the boilers for the purpose of extinguishing fire shall not be led into the cabins, other living spaces, or working spaces. Pipes for conveying carbon dioxide or other extinguishing vapors for the purpose of extinguishing fire shall not be led into the cabins or other living spaces.

(6) Steam smothering lines shall be tested with at least 50 pounds air pressure with ends of the smothering lines capped, or by blowing steam through the lines, and a survey made for detecting corrosion and defects, using the hammer test or such other means as may be necessary.

(7) At annual inspections, all carbon dioxide (CO_2) cylinders, whether fixed or portable, shall be examined externally and replaced if excessive corrosion is found; and all cylinders shall also be checked by weighing to determine contents and if found to be more than 10 percent under required contents of carbon dioxide, the same shall be recharged.

(b) Steam systems. (1) Steam for fire-extinguishing systems shall be available at a suitable pressure from the main boilers or a donkey or auxiliary boiler.

(2) The pipe lines shall be led from not more than three stations in easily accessible locations on the weather deck to each cargo hold, cargo 'tween decks, or other closed cargo compartments, and to each cargo-oil deep tank, lamp locker, oil room, and like compartments, which lamp locker, oil room, and like compartments, shall be wholly and tightly lined with metal. The steam connections to the lamp lockers, oil rooms, and like compartments may be taken from the nearest steam supply line, independent of the extinguishing manifolds. In lamp lockers, oil rooms, and like compartments, adequate means may be provided for ventilation if suitable dampers capable of being operated from outside the spaces are fitted in each vent duct.

(3) Each pipe in the extinguishing manifolds shall be fitted with a shut-off valve plainly and permanently marked to indicate into which compartment it discharges. This requirement also applies to independent extinguishing lines.

(4) Manifold steam supply pipes shall be fitted with master valves at the manifolds, and provision shall be made for draining the manifold and individual lines to protect them against freezing. If the manifolds are located on an open deck, they shall be inclosed in a metal box.

(5) The minimum diameter of any steam fire-extinguishing pipe to a cargo hold, cargo 'tween-decks, other closed cargo compartments, or cargo-oil deep tank shall be one inch, the size and number of pipes to be governed by the size of the compartment. The minimum diameter of any steam fire-extinguishing pipe to a lamp locker, oil room, or like compartments, shall be three-fourths of an inch.

(c) Inert-gas systems. (1) When a carbon dioxide (CO_2) smothering system is fitted in the cargo hold, cargo 'tween-decks, or other closed cargo compartments, or cargo-oil deep tanks, the quantity of carbon dioxide shall be sufficient to give a gas saturation of 30 percent of the gross volume of the largest cargo hold. The quantity in pounds of carbon dioxide required may be determined approximately by the following formula:

$$W=\frac{L\times B\times D}{30} \quad (1)$$

where

W = the weight of CO_2 required, in pounds.
L = the length of the hold, in feet.
B = the mean breadth of the hold, in feet.
D = the depth from tank top or flat forming lower boundary to top of uppermost space in which freight may be carried, in feet.

(2) When a carbon dioxide (CO_2) smothering system is fitted in the lamp locker, oil room, or like compartments, the quantity in pounds of carbon dioxide required may be determined by dividing the gross volume of the space by a factor of 22. Lamp lockers, oil rooms, and like compartments, in all classes of vessels, shall be wholly and tightly lined with metal. The whole charge of gas shall be capable of being released simultaneously by operating one valve and control, and all cylinders shall be completely discharged in not more than two minutes.

(3) Pipes used for supplying carbon dioxide to the cargo holds, cargo 'tween-decks, other closed cargo compartments, and cargo-oil deep tanks shall be not less than three-fourths inch inside diameter. Pipes used for supplying carbon dioxide to lamp lockers, oil rooms, and like compartments shall not be less than one-half inch inside diameter.

(4) The control(s) releasing the inert gas shall be located in a position(s) outside the space(s) protected and shall be readily accessible when the vessel is being navigated. All valves shall be permanently marked to indicate into which compartment they discharge. A space which is protected by a carbon dioxide extinguishing system, and is normally accessible to crew while the nautical school ship is being navigated shall be fitted with an approved audible alarm in such space, which will be automatically sounded when the carbon dioxide is admitted to the space.

(5) Provisions shall be made to prevent the admission of air into the lower parts of cargo holds, cargo 'tween-decks, and other closed cargo compartments while the inert-gas system is in operation.

(6) Cylinders, piping, and controls for the inert-gas system shall be protected from damage and shall be securely fastened and supported.

§ 167.45-5 Steam fire pumps or their equivalent. (a) All nautical school ships shall be equipped with fire pumps.

(b) Nautical school ships of 100 gross tons and under shall be equipped with one hand fire pump with a pump-cylinder capacity not less than 100 cubic inches, or a power-driven pump of equivalent discharge capacity.

(c) Nautical school ships over 100 gross tons shall be equipped with fire pumps and piping as follows:

(1) All nautical school ships shall be provided with powerful pumps available for use as fire pumps. When of less than 1,000 gross tons it shall have 1, and when larger it shall have at least 2 independently driven pumps connected to the fire main. Each pump shall be capable of delivering two powerful jets of water simultaneously from the highest outlets on the fire main at a Pitot tube pressure of approximately 50 pounds per square inch through nozzles, each having an orifice of not less than $\frac{7}{8}$ inch diameter where the internal diameter of the hose exceeds $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches and not less than $\frac{5}{8}$ inch in diameter where the internal diameter of the hose does not exceed $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches.

(2) On oil-burning nautical school ships, where two pumps are required, they may be located in the same compartment, if the compartment is equipped with an approved fixed carbon dioxide extinguishing system.

(d) Outlets from the fire mains shall be of a sufficient number and so arranged that any part of the living quarters, weather decks and any part of cargo decks, accessible to crew, while the nautical school ship is being navigated, may be reached with a single 50-foot length of hose. Outlets within accommodations and service spaces adjacent thereto shall comply with the above or they may be so arranged that any part may be reached with a single 75-foot length of hose provided a siamese connection is fitted at each outlet. Where the fire main is located on an exposed deck, branches shall be provided so that the hose connections necessary to comply with the foregoing be distributed on both sides of the nautical school ship. The fire hose shall be connected to the outlet at all times, except on open decks where the location of the fire hydrants is such that no protection is afforded for the hose in heavy weather. The fire hose may be temporarily removed from the hydrant when it will interfere with the handling of cargo.

(e) Outlet openings shall have a diameter of not less than $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches and shall be fitted with suitable hose connections and spanners. The arrangement of the fire hydrant shall be limited to any position from the horizontal to the vertical pointing downward, so that the hose will lead downward or horizontally, in order to minimize the possibility of kinking. In no case will a hydrant arranged in a vertical position with the outlet pointing upward be accepted.

(f) Fire pumps shall be fitted on the discharge side with relief valves set to relieve at 25 pounds higher than the pressure necessary to maintain the requirements of paragraph (c) (1) of this section and a pressure gage to indicate the pressure on the fire main. If the fire pumps operating under shut-off conditions are not capable of producing a pressure exceeding 125 pounds per square inch, the relief valve may be omitted.

§ 167.45-10 Couplings on fire hose. The couplings on fire hose shall be of brass, copper, or composition material. All hydrants shall be provided with suitable spanners.

§ 167.45-15 Capacity of pipes and hose. The capacity of the pipes and hose leading from the pumps shall in no case be less than that of the discharge opening of the pump: Provided, however, That the pipe and hose shall in no instance be less than $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches in internal diameter.

§ 167.45-20 Examination and testing of pumps and fire extinguishing equipment. The inspectors will examine all pumps, hose, and other fire apparatus and will see that the hose is subjected to a pressure of 100 pounds to the square inch at each annual inspection and that the hose couplings are securely fastened.

§ 167.45-25 Fire mains and hose connections. All pipes used as mains for conducting water from fire pumps on nautical school ships shall be of steel, wrought iron, brass, or copper with wrought iron brass, or composition hose connections.

§ 167.45-30 Use of approved fire-fighting equipment. Portable fire extinguishers or fire-extinguishing systems which conform to the specifications of the Navy or Coast Guard, or their approved equivalent, may be accepted for use on nautical school ships.

§ 167.45-40 Fire-fighting equipment on nautical school ships using oil as fuel. Steam-propelled nautical school ships burning oil for fuel shall be fitted with the fire-fighting equipment of the following type and character:

(a) In each fire room a metal receptacle containing not less than 10 cubic feet of sand, sawdust impregnated with soda, or other approved dry materials, and scoop or shaker for distributing it: Provided, That a nautical school ship of 1,000 gross tons and under using oil as fuel, shall be fitted with a metal receptacle, containing not less than 5 cubic feet of sand, sawdust impregnated with soda, or other approved dry material, and scoop or shaker for distributing it.

(b) In each boiler room and in each of the machinery spaces of a nautical school ship propelled by steam, in which a part of the fuel-oil installation is situated, two or more approved fire extinguishers of the foam type of not less than $2\frac{1}{2}$ gallons each or two or more approved fire extinguishers of the carbon dioxide (CO_2) type of not less than 15 pounds each shall be placed where accessible and ready for immediate use: Provided, That on a nautical school ship of 1,000 gross tons and under only one of the fire extinguishers may be required.

(c) In boiler and machinery spaces of a nautical school ship of 1,000 gross tons and over, there shall be fitted in each such compartment not less than two spray-nozzle hydrants to which shall be attached sufficient length of hose so that any part of the boiler or machinery space may be reached. An approved spray nozzle shall be attached to each hose line. The use of any Navy or Coast Guard approved type of combination nozzle, which can project a solid stream or a fog spray or can be shut off, is acceptable in boiler and machinery spaces when the nozzle is equipped with an applicator having an approved low velocity water fog spray head attached. In this equipment the standard portable self-cleaning hose strainer shall be included.

(d) On every steam propelled nautical school ship of over 1,000 gross tons having one boiler room there shall be provided one fire extinguisher of the foam type of at least 40 gallons rated capacity or one carbon dioxide (CO_2) extinguisher of at least 100 pounds. If the nautical school ship has more than one boiler room, an extinguisher of the above type shall be provided in each boiler room. On every steam propelled nautical school ship of 1,000 gross tons and under, foam type fire extinguishers of at least 20 gallons rated capacity or carbon dioxide (CO_2) extinguishers of at least 50 pounds shall be used. Extinguishers fitted shall be equipped with suitable hose and nozzles on reels or other practicable means easy of access, and of sufficient length to reach any part of the boiler room and spaces containing oil-fuel pumping units.

(e) All nautical school ships propelled by internal-combustion engines shall be equipped with the following foam type or carbon dioxide type fire extinguishers in the machinery spaces:

(1) One approved 12-gallon foam-type extinguisher or one approved 35-pound carbon dioxide type extinguisher.

(2) One approved $2\frac{1}{2}$-gallon foam-type, or one approved 15-pound carbon dioxide type extinguisher for each 1,000 B. H. P. of the main engines, or fraction thereof. The total number of fire extinguishers carried shall not be less than two and need not exceed six.

(3) When a donkey boiler fitted to burn oil as fuel is located in the machinery space, there shall be substituted for the 12-gallon foam type or 35-pound carbon dioxide type fire extinguisher required either one 40-gallon foam type or one 100-pound carbon dioxide type fire extinguisher.

(f) In this section any reference to an approved fire extinguisher means either approved by the Coast Guard or the Navy.

§ 167.45-45 Carbon dioxide fire-extinguishing system requirements. (a) When a carbon dioxide (CO_2) smothering system is fitted in the boiler room, the quantity of carbon dioxide carried shall be sufficient to give a gas saturation of 25 percent of the gross volume of the largest boiler room from tank top to top of the boilers. Top of the boilers is to be considered as the top of the shell of a Scotch or leg type of boiler, and the top of the casing or drum, whichever is the higher, on water-tube boilers. The quantity of carbon dioxide required may be determined approximately by the following formula:

$$W=\frac{L\times B\times D}{36} \quad (1)$$

where

W = the weight of CO_2 required in pounds.
L = the length of the boiler room in feet.
B = the breadth of the boiler room in feet.
D = the distance in feet from tank top or flat forming lower boundary to top of boilers.

(b) When a carbon dioxide (CO_2) smothering system is fitted in the machinery space of a nautical school ship propelled by internal combustion engines, the quantity of carbon dioxide required may be determined approximately by the following formula:

$$W=\frac{L\times B\times D}{22} \quad (2)$$

where

W = the weight of CO_2 required in pounds.
L = the length of machinery space in feet.
B = breadth of the machinery space in feet.
D = distance in feet from tank top or flat forming lower boundary to the underside of deck forming the hatch opening.

(c) The whole charge of gas shall be capable of being released simultaneously by operating one valve and control. All cylinders shall be completely discharged in not more than two minutes. The arrangement of the piping shall be such as to give a general and fairly uniform distribution over the entire area protected. An alarm which shall operate automatically with the operation of the system shall be provided to give a warning in the space when the carbon dioxide is about to be released. Provision shall be made to prevent the admission of air into the lower parts of the boiler or engine room while the system is in operation.

§ 167.45-50 Foam smothering system requirements. (a) When a foam-type system is fitted, its capacity shall be such as to rapidly discharge over the entire area of the bilge (tank top) of the largest boiler room a volume of foam 6 inches deep in not more than 3 minutes. The arrangement of piping shall be such as to give a uniform distribution over the entire area protected.

(b) The foam-type system may be of a type approved by the Navy or Coast Guard. All containers and valves by which the system is operated shall be easily accessible and so placed that control valves and containers will not readily be cut off from use by an outbreak of fire.

§ 167.45-55 Fixed water spray system requirements. (a) When a fixed system is fitted for spraying water on oil in bilges, its capacity shall be such as to blanket the entire area of the bilge (tank top) of the largest boiler room with an adequate supply of water.

(b) The arrangement of piping and nozzles shall be such as to give a uniform distribution over the entire area protected. The piping system for each space protected shall be one unit, unless otherwise specifically approved by the Commandant.

(c) All valves by which the system is operated shall be located outside of the space protected and shall be easily accessible. Suitable means shall be provided to prevent the passage of foreign substances into the spray nozzles.

(d) The primary source of supply for the system shall be from a pump or pumps of suitable capacity and pressure. The pump or pumps shall be reserved for this purpose only. This pump or pumps shall be located outside of space protected.

§ 167.45-60 Emergency breathing apparatus and flame safety lamps. All nautical school ships shall be equipped with the following devices, approved by Coast Guard or Navy:

(a) One self-contained breathing apparatus.

(b) One supplied air respirator.

(c) One flame safety lamp.

(d) One gas mask of a type giving protection against refrigerant used on board the nautical school ship.

§ 167.45-65 Portable fire extinguishers in accommodation spaces. (a) All nautical school ships shall be provided with such number of good and efficient portable fire extinguishers approved by the Navy or Coast Guard as follows:

(1) Nautical school ships less than 150 feet in length shall have at least two fire extinguishers on each passenger deck.

(2) Nautical school ships 150 feet and over in length shall be provided with at least one fire extinguisher for every 150 linear feet of corridor length or fraction thereof in the spaces occupied by passengers and crew.

(3) In all public spaces fire extinguishers shall be located not more than 150 feet apart.

(b) The number of required fire extinguishers is based on the capacity of the ordinary fire extinguisher, which is about $2\frac{1}{2}$ gallons, and no fire extinguisher of larger capacity shall be allowed a greater rating than that of the ordinary fire extinguisher. Fire extinguishers of approved types of less capacity are allowable when their total contents equal the required quantity.

§ 167.45–70 Portable fire extinguishers, general requirements. (a) Extra safety-valve units shall be carried on board for 50 percent of the hand fire extinguishers of the foam type and extra charges shall be carried on board for 50 percent of each class of fire extinguishers provided. If 50 percent of each class of fire extinguishers carried gives a fractional result, extra charges and extra safety-valve units shall be provided for the next largest whole number.

(1) The following is an example:

Fire extinguishers carried:	Extra charges required

(2) When a nautical school ship is provided with carbon dioxide type of fire extinguishers it may be furnished with either an additional carbon dioxide fire extinguisher or a 2½-gallon foam fire extinguisher in lieu of carrying extra charges. For that 2½-gallon foam fire extinguisher no extra charge will be required.

(b) Recharges, particularly the acid, used in charging soda-and-acid type of fire extinguishers, shall be packed in such manner that the filling operation (i. e., in recharging the extinguisher) can be performed without subjecting the person doing the recharging to undue risk of acid burns and shall be contained in Crown stopper type of bottle.

(c) There shall also be carried on board a complete recharge for any fixed or built-in fire extinguishing system that has been approved by the Navy or Coast Guard, except systems for engine rooms, firerooms, and cargo holds.

(d) Fire extinguishers shall be located in such places as in the judgment of the Officer in Charge, Marine Inspection, will be most convenient and serviceable in case of emergency and so arranged that they may be easily removed from their fastenings.

(e) Every fire extinguisher provided shall be examined at each annual inspection to determine that it is still in good condition. Soda-and-acid and foam fire extinguishers shall be tested by discharging the contents, cleaning thoroughly, and then refilling. Carbon tetrachloride fire extinguishers shall be tested for their pumping efficiency and the liquid discharged with proper care so that it may be replaced in the extinguishers. Carbon dioxide fire extinguishers shall be checked by weighing to determine contents and if found to be more than 10 percent under required contents of carbon dioxide shall be recharged. Pump tank fire extinguishers shall be tested by pumping and discharging the contents, cleaning thoroughly, and then refilling or recharging. Cartridge-operated type fire extinguishers shall be checked by examining the extinguishing agents to determine if in still good condition and by weighing the cartridges; if the weight of the cartridge is ½ ounce or more under the weight stamped thereon or if it is punctured, the cartridge shall be rejected and a new one inserted. The hoses and nozzles of all fire extinguishers shall be inspected to see that they are clear and in good condition.

§ 167.45–75 Fire extinguishers for emergency power plants. In compartments where emergency lighting and wireless units are located, two fire extinguishers approved by the Coast Guard or the Navy, of either carbon tetrachloride, carbon dioxide, or dry chemical type shall be permanently located at the most accessible points. In addition, two fire extinguishers of the above types, or foam type, shall be permanently located so as to be readily accessible to the emergency fuel tanks containing gasoline, benzine or naphtha.

§ 167.45–80 Fire axes. (a) All nautical school ships shall be provided with fire axes, as follows:

Gross tons of nautical school ships:	Number of axes
All not over 50 tons	1
All over 50 tons and not over 200 tons	2
All over 200 tons and not over 500 tons	4
All over 500 tons and not over 1,000 tons	6
All over 1,000 tons	8

(b) All fire axes shall be located so as to be readily found in time of need, shall not be used for general purposes, and shall be kept in good condition.

SUBPART 167.50—ACCOMMODATIONS

§ 167.50–1 Hospital accommodations. Each nautical school ship, which makes voyages of more than 3 days' duration between ports and carries 12 or more persons, shall be equipped with a compartment suitably separated from other spaces for hospital purposes, and such compartment shall have at least 1 bunk for every 12 persons allowed to be carried: Provided, That not more than 6 bunks shall be required in any case.

SUBPART 167.55—SPECIAL MARKINGS REQUIRED

§ 167.55–1 Draft marks. Every nautical school ship of 50 gross tons and over, shall have its draft plainly and legibly marked upon the stem and upon the sternpost or rudderpost or at such other place at the stern of the vessel as may be necessary for easy observance. The draft shall be taken from the bottom of the lowest part of the keel to the surface of the water, the bottom of the mark to indicate the draft in feet.

§ 167.55–5 Marking of fire and emergency equipment, etc. Marking of fire and emergency apparatus, watertight doors, lifeboat embarkation stations and direction signs, stateroom notices, instructions for changing steering gears, etc., shall be carried out as follows:

(a) General alarm bell switch. The general alarm bell switch in the pilothouse or fire control station shall be clearly marked with lettering on a brass plate or with a sign in red letters on suitable background: "General Alarm."

(b) General alarm bells. General alarm bells shall be marked in not less than ½-inch red letters: "General Alarm—When Bell Rings Go to Your Station."

(c) Steam, foam or CO_2 fire smothering apparatus. Steam, foam or CO_2 fire smothering apparatus shall be marked "Steam Fire Apparatus" or "Foam Fire Apparatus" or "CO_2 Fire Apparatus", as appropriate, in not less than 2-inch red letters. The valves of all branch piping leading to the several compartments shall be distinctly marked to indicate the compartments or parts of the nautical school ship to which they lead.

(d) Fire hose stations. At each fire hose valve there shall be marked in not less than 2-inch red letters and figures "Fire Station 1," 2, 3, etc.

(e) Emergency squad equipment. Lockers or spaces containing equipment for use of the emergency squad shall be marked "Emergency Squad Equipment." Lockers or spaces where oxygen or fresh air breathing apparatus is stowed shall be marked "Oxygen Breathing Apparatus" or "Fresh Air Breathing Apparatus," as appropriate.

(f) Fire extinguishers. Each fire extinguisher shall be marked with a number and the location where stowed shall be marked in corresponding numbers in not less than 1-inch figures.

(g) Watertight doors. Each watertight door shall be numbered in at least 2-inch letters and figures "W. T. D. 1," 2, 3, etc. The color of the marking shall be in contrast to the background. All watertight door remote hand-closing stations shall be marked in at least 2-inch letters and figures "W. T. D. 1," 2, 3, etc. The direction of operation of the lever or wheel provided to close or open the door at all watertight door remote hand-closing stations shall be marked. The color of the sign shall contrast with the background.

(h) Instructions for changing steering gear. Instructions in at least 1-inch letters and figures shall be posted at each emergency steering station and in the steering engine room, relating in order, the different steps to be taken in changing to the emergency steering gear. Each clutch, gear wheel, level, valve, or switch which is used during the change-over shall be numbered or lettered on a brass plate or painted so that the markings can be recognized at a reasonable distance. The instructions shall indicate each clutch or pin to be "in" or "out" and each valve or switch which is to be "opened" or "closed" in shifting to any means of steering for which the vessel is equipped. Instructions shall be included to line up all steering wheels and rudder amidship before changing gears.

(i) Rudder orders. At all steering stations, there shall be installed a suitable notice on the wheel or device or at such other position as to be directly in the helmsman's line of vision, to indicate the direction in which the wheel or device must be turned for "right rudder" and for "left rudder."

(j) Nautical school ship's name on equipment. All lifeboats, life rafts, life floats, buoyant apparatus, including equipment, also life preservers, life buoys, fire hose, and axes shall be painted or branded with the name of the nautical school ship.

SUBPART 167.60—CERTIFICATES OF INSPECTION

§ 167.60–1 Issuance by Officer in Charge, Marine Inspection. (a) Every nautical school ship shall be inspected annually and if in the opinion of the Officer in Charge, Marine Inspection, the nautical school ship can be operated safely, he shall issue a certificate of inspection with the following indorsement: "Nautical School Ship" in lieu of the classification "Passenger vessel", "cargo vessel", etc.

(b) When a nautical school ship, in the opinion of the Officer in Charge, Marine Inspection, may be navigated on the waters of any ocean or the Gulf of Mexico more than 20 nautical miles offshore, the route shall be designated on certificate of inspection as "Ocean".

(c) When a nautical school ship, in the opinion of the Officer in Charge, Marine Inspection, may be navigated on the waters of any ocean or the Gulf of Mexico 20 nautical miles or less offshore, the route shall be designated on the certificate of inspection as "Coastwise".

§ 167.60–5 Period of time for which valid. A certificate of inspection for any period less than one year shall not be issued, but nothing herein shall be construed as preventing the revocation or suspension of a certificate of inspection in case such process is authorized by law.

§ 167.60–10 Exhibition of certificate of inspection. On every nautical school ship, the original certificate of inspection shall be framed under glass and posted in a conspicuous place.

§ 167.60–15 Persons allowed to be carried. In view of the fact that nautical school ships normally are not merchant vessels of the United States and are, therefore, not documented, manning requirements shall not be stated in the certificate of inspection. The certificate of inspection shall show the total number of persons allowed to be carried. This total shall be based on the total capacity of the vessel's lifeboats.

SUBPART 167.65—SPECIAL OPERATING REQUIREMENTS

§ 167.65–1 Station bills, drills, and log book entries.—(a) Station bills and muster lists. It shall be the duty of the master of every nautical school ship to cause station bills and muster lists to be prepared before the nautical school ship sails, which shall be signed by the master who shall be responsible for their preparation. The station bills and muster lists shall be posted in conspicuous places in several parts of the nautical school ship, particularly in the quarters, and must contain full particulars of the signals which will be used for calling all persons to their stations for emergency duties. Special duties shall be allotted to each person and the muster lists shall show all these special duties and indicate the station to which each man must go and the duties he has to perform. The special duties should, as far as possible, be comparable to the regular work of the individual. When practicable, several members of the crew shall be designated as an emergency squad and required to report to the bridge with certain equipment for instructions. The duties provided for by the muster lists should include:

(1) The closing of airports, watertight doors, fire doors, and fire screens, the covers and all valves of all scuppers, sanitary and other discharges which lead through the ship's hull below the margin line, and stopping the fans and ventilating systems.

(2) The extinction of fire.

(3) The equipment of boats, rafts, and buoyant apparatus and their preparation for launching.

(4) The muster of all persons aboard.

(b) Emergency signals—(1) Fire alarm signals. (i) The general fire alarm signal shall be a continuous rapid ringing of the ship's bell for a period not less than 10 seconds supplemented by the continuous ringing of the general alarm bells for not less than 10 seconds.

(ii) For dismissal from fire-alarm stations, the general alarm bells shall be sounded three times, supplemented by three short blasts of the whistle.

(2) Boat station or boat drill signals. (i) The signal for boat drill or boat stations shall be more than six short blasts and one long blast of the whistle, supplemented by the same signal on the general alarm bells.

(ii) Where whistle signals are used for handling boats, they shall be as follows:

(a) To lower boats, one short blast of the whistle.

(b) To stop lowering the boats, two short blasts of the whistle.

(c) For dismissal from boat stations, three short blasts of the whistle.

(3) Other emergency signals. The master of any vessel may establish such other emergency signal, in addition to the above, so that all persons will have positive and certain notice of the existing emergency. The signals used for the assembly of the emergency squad should not conflict with the navigational signals or the signals used for a general alarm.

(c) Drills, tests, and inspection. (1) It shall be the duty of the master or the mate or officer in command, once at least in each week, to call all hands to quarters and exercise them, weather permitting, in the unlashing and swinging out of the lifeboats, the closing of all hand or power-operated watertight doors which are in use at sea, closing all fire doors and fire screens, the use of fire pumps and all other apparatus for the safety of life on board of such vessels, with special regard for the drill of the crew in the method of adjusting life preservers and educating others in this procedure, and to see that all the equipments required by law are in complete working order for immediate use; the fact of exercise of the crew, as herein contemplated, shall be entered in the log book.

(2) The requirements relating to fire and boat drills contemplate that such drills shall be conducted precisely as though an emergency existed. To accomplish the purpose of this section, lifeboat covers and strongbacks shall be removed, plugs or caps put in place, boat ladders secured in position for use, painters carried forward and tended so as to provide a good lead and slack to hold the boat in position under the davits when in the water. The person in charge of each lifeboat or life raft should have a list of its crew and should see that the men under his orders are acquainted with their several duties. The hand pumps and fire pumps shall be operated long enough and a sufficient number of outlets used to insure that such equipment is in order and effectual. The motor and the hand-operated propeller gear of each lifeboat shall be operated for a period of not less than 5 minutes once at least in every 7 days, in order that it may be ready for service at any time. Such operation shall be a part of the lifeboat drill and the fact of such operation shall be made a part of the report of such drill. When emergency breathing apparatus, such as gas masks, or other special equipment is carried, certain members of the crew shall be trained in the use of the equipment.

(d) Log book entries. The entries in the log book relating to the exercise of the crew in fire and boat drills shall state the day of the month and the hour when so exercised, length of time of the drill, number on the boats swung out, number of lengths of hose used, together with a statement of the condition of all fire and lifesaving apparatus, watertight door mechanism, valves, etc.

§ 167.65–5 Flashing the rays of a searchlight or other blinding light. Flashing the rays of a searchlight or other blinding light onto the bridge or into the pilothouse of any vessel under way is prohibited.

§ 167.65–10 Unauthorized lights. Any master or pilot of a nautical school ship shall not authorize or permit the carrying of any light, electric or otherwise, not required by law that in any way will interfere with distinguishing the lights required to be carried.

§ 167.65–15 Routing instructions: strict compliance with. Due to existing mine field dangers, all masters, officers, and seamen on nautical school ships shall comply strictly with the routing instructions issued by competent naval authority. Nothing herein shall be construed as relieving the master of the responsibility for the safety of his nautical school ship.

§ 167.65–20 Unnecessary whistling. Unnecessary sounding of a nautical school ship's whistle is prohibited within any harbor limits of the United States.

§ 167.65–25 Steering gear tests. On all nautical school ships making voyages of more than 48 hours' duration, the entire steering gear, the whistle, the means of communication and the signaling appliances between the bridge or pilothouse and engine room shall be examined and tested by an officer of the nautical school ship within a period of not more than 12 hours before leaving port. All nautical school ships making voyages of less than 48 hours' duration shall be so examined and tested at least once in every week. The fact and time of such examination and test shall be recorded in the log book.

§ 167.65–30 Steering orders. (a) "Right rudder" shall be given only when it is intended that the wheel, the rudder blade, and the head of the nautical school ship should go to the right.

(b) "Left rudder" shall be given only when it is intended that the wheel, the rudder blade, and the head of the nautical school ship should go to the left.

(c) Where rudder indicators are provided, they shall be installed consistent with the foregoing.

§ 167.65–40 Draft. The master of every nautical school ship over 50 gross tons shall, whenever leaving port, enter the maximum draft of his nautical school ship in the log book.

§ 167.65–45 Notice to mariners; aids to navigation. (a) Officers are required to acquaint themselves with the latest information published by the Coast Guard and the United States Navy regarding aids to navigation, and neglect to do so is evidence of neglect of duty. It is desirable that nautical school ships navigating oceans and coastwise and Great Lakes waters shall have available in the pilothouse for convenient reference at all times a file of the applicable Notice to Mariners. All nautical school ships shall have charts of the waters on which they operate available for convenient reference at all times.

(b) Notice to Mariners published weekly by the Coast Guard which contains announcements and information regarding aids to navigation and charts of waters of the United States is available for free distribution at the following places: Field offices of the Coast Guard; United States Coast and Geodetic Survey field stations; and the Marine Division, Customhouse. Notice to Mariners published weekly by the United States Navy for the correction of charts, sailing directions, light lists and other publications, and which includes foreign waters and certain waters of the United States, is available for free distribution at the Hydrographic Office, Branch Hydrographic Offices, or any of the agencies of seaboard ports, and is also on file in the United States consulates where they may be inspected.

§ 167.65–50 Posting placards containing instructions for use of breeches buoy. A placard containing instructions for the use of breeches buoy gear, Form CG 811, shall be posted in the pilothouse, engine room, and in the seamen's, firemen's, and stewards' departments of every nautical school ship.

§ 167.65–60 Examination of boilers and machinery by engineer. It shall be the duty of an engineer when he assumes charge of the boilers and machinery of a nautical school ship to examine the same forthwith and thoroughly, and if he finds any part thereof in bad condition, he shall immediately report the facts to the master, owner, or agent, and to the Officer in Charge, Marine Inspection, of the district, who shall thereupon investigate the matter and take such actions as may be necessary.

§ 167.65–65 Notice of casualty and voyage records. (a) The owner, agent, master, or person in charge of a nautical school ship involved in a marine casualty shall give notice as soon as possible to the nearest marine inspection office of the U. S. Coast Guard whenever the casualty results in any of the following:

(1) Damage to property in excess of $1,500.

(2) Material damage affecting the seaworthiness or efficiency of a vessel.

(3) Stranding or grounding.

(4) Loss of life.

(5) Injury causing any persons to remain incapacitated for a period in excess of 72 hours.

(b) The notice required by paragraph (a) of this section shall show the name and official number (if any) of the nautical school ship involved, the owner or agent thereof, the nature and probable cause of the casualty, the locality in which it occurred, the nature and extent of injury to persons and the damage to property.

(c) In addition to the notice required by paragraph (a) of this section, the person in charge of the nautical school ship shall, as soon as possible, report in writing and in person to the Officer in Charge, Marine Inspection, at the port in which the casualty occurred or nearest the port of first arrival: Provided, That when from distance it may be inconvenient to report in person it may be done in writing only. The written report required for personal accident not involving death shall be made on Form CG 924E and for all other marine casualties or accidents the written report shall be made on Form CG 2692.

NOTE: If filed without delay these forms may also provide the notice required by paragraph (a) of this section.

(d) The owner, agent, master, or other person in charge of any nautical school ship involved in a marine casualty shall retain such voyage records of the nautical school ship that are maintained, such as both rough and smooth deck and engine room logs, bell books, navigation charts, navigation work books, compass deviation cards, gyrocompass records, stowage plans, record of draft, aids to mariners, radiograms sent and received, the radio log, and lists of persons aboard. The owner, agent, master, or other officer in charge, shall make these records available to a duly authorized Coast Guard officer or employee for examination upon request.

(e) Whenever a nautical school ship collides with a lightship, buoy, or other aid to navigation under the jurisdiction of the Coast Guard, or is connected with any such collision, it shall be the duty of the person in charge of such nautical school ship to report the accident to the nearest Officer in Charge, Marine Inspection. No report on Form CG 2692 is required unless one of the results listed in paragraph (a) of this section occurs.

§ 167.65–70 Reports of accidents, repairs, and unsafe boilers and machinery by engineers. (a) Before making repairs to a boiler of a nautical school ship the engineer in charge shall report, in writing, the nature of such repairs to the nearest Officer in Charge, Marine Inspection, where such repairs are to be made.

(b) And it shall be the duty of all engineers when an accident occurs to the boilers or machinery in their charge tending to render the further use of such boilers or machinery unsafe until repairs are made, or when, by reason of ordinary wear, such boilers or machinery have become unsafe, to report the same to the Officer in Charge, Marine Inspection, immediately upon the arrival of the nautical school ship at the first port reached subsequent to the accident, or after the discovery of such unsafe condition by said engineer.

Dated: April 5, 1951.

INDUSTRIAL ALCOHOL

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

A notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act, approved June 11, 1946, that the regulations set forth in tentative form below are proposed to be prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury. Prior to the final adoption of such regulations, consideration will be given to any data, views or arguments pertaining thereto which are submitted in writing, in duplicate, to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington 25, D. C., within the period of 30 days from the date of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The proposed regulations are issued under the authority of 53 Stat. 355, 358 and 375 (26 U. S. C., 3070, 3105 and 3176).

[SEAL] GEO. J. SCHOENEMAN,
Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

1. The appendix to Regulations 3, approved March 6, 1942 (26 CFR Part 182), is hereby amended by modifying Formula 2–B for the manufacture of specially denatured alcohol to read as follows:

Formula No. 2–B

To every 100 gallons of ethyl alcohol add: One-half gallon benzol or one-half gallon rubber hydrocarbon solvent. (This formula must be used in a closed and continuous process unless it is shown that it is not practicable to do so.)

2. The appendix is further amended by inserting in the specifications for denaturants in specially denatured alcohol, immediately following the specifications for pyridine bases, specifications for rubber hydrocarbon solvent, as follows:

RUBBER HYDROCARBON SOLVENT

Rubber Hydrocarbon Solvent is a product derived from petroleum, and meeting the following requirements:

Distillation range (according to A. S. T. M. Specifications D 86–40). When 10 percent of the sample has been distilled into a graduated receiver, the thermometer shall not read more than 72° C. (162° F.) nor less than 49° C. (120° F.). When 90 percent has been recovered in the receiver the thermometer shall not read more than 121° C. (250° F.).

3. The purposes of these amendments are to modify specially denatured alcohol Formula No. 2–B to permit the use of either benzol or rubber hydrocarbon solvent as a denaturant, and to prescribe specifications for the latter material.

4. This Treasury decision shall be effective upon its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

MILWAUKEE, WIS., MARKETING AREA

NOTICE OF HEARING ON HANDLING OF MILK

Proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Milwaukee, Wisconsin, marketing area.

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), notice is hereby given of a public hearing to be held in Room 316, Federal Building, East Wisconsin Avenue, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, beginning at 9:30 a. m., c. s. t., April 17, 1951, for the purpose of receiving evidence with respect to economic and emergency conditions which relate to certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement as heretofore approved by the Secretary of Agriculture and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Milwaukee, Wisconsin, marketing area (7 CFR 907.0 et seq.), which relate to the computation of "base milk" and "excess milk," and payment therefor. The proposed amendments have not received the approval of the Secretary of Agriculture.

Proposed by the Milwaukee Cooperative Milk Producers Association, the Waukesha Milk Producers Cooperative, and the Pure Milk Producers Cooperative: Proposal No. 1: Delete the following provisions: §§ 907.16, 907.17, 907.18, 907.30 (b), 907.60, 907.61, that portion of 907.71 which reads "for each of the months of August through March", 907.72, that portion of 907.80 (a) which reads "of August through March", 907.80 (b), and such other provisions as relate to the base and excess plan as a method of payment.

Proposed by the Dairy Branch, Production and Marketing Administration: Proposal No. 2: Make such other changes as may be required to make the entire marketing agreement and order conform with any amendments thereto that may result from this hearing.

Copies of this notice of hearing and of the order, as amended, now in effect may be procured from the Market Administrator, 956 North 12th Street, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, or from the Hearing Clerk, United States Department of Agriculture, in Room 1353, South Building, Washington 25, D. C., or may be there inspected.

Dated: April 11th, 1951, Washington, D. C.

HANDLING OF MILK IN FORT WAYNE, IND., MARKETING AREA

DECISION WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO TENTATIVE MARKETING AGREEMENT AND TO ORDER, AS AMENDED

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held at Fort Wayne, Indiana, on January 3, 1951, pursuant to notice thereof which was issued on December 30, 1950 (15 F. R. 9522), upon a proposed amendment to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Fort Wayne, Indiana, marketing area.

Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, the Assistant Administrator, Production and Marketing Administration, on March 8, 1951, filed with the Hearing Clerk, United States Department of Agriculture, his recommended decision in this proceding. The notice of the filing of such recommended decision and the opportunity to file written exceptions thereto was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on March 14, 1951 (16 F. R. 2399).

The only issue of record was whether the Class I and Class II differentials provided in the Fort Wayne order should be increased 15 cents per hundredweight for the delivery periods of January, February and March 1951.

No exceptions to the recommended decision were filed on behalf of interested parties.

Findings and conclusions. The findings and conclusions of the recommended decision set forth in the FEDERAL REGISTER (F. R. Doc. 51–3261; 16 F. R. 2399), with respect to the issues set forth above are approved and adopted as the findings and conclusions of this decision as if set forth in full herein.

It is hereby ordered, That this decision be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

This decision filed at Washington, D. C., this 9th day of April 1951.

[SEAL] CHARLES F. BRANNAN,
Secretary of Agriculture.

[Docket No. AO–184–A6]

HANDLING OF MILK IN NASHVILLE, TENN., MARKETING AREA

NOTICE OF RECOMMENDED DECISION AND OPPORTUNITY TO FILE WRITTEN EXCEPTIONS WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO TENTATIVE MARKETING AGREEMENT, AND TO ORDER, AS AMENDED

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), notice is hereby given of the filing with the Hearing Clerk of the recommended decision of the Assistant Administrator, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture with respect to proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Nashville, Tennessee, market area. Interested parties may file written exceptions to this decision with the Hearing Clerk, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than the close of business the 3rd day after publication of this decision in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Exceptions should be filed in quadruplicate.

Preliminary statement. The hearing, on the record of which the proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, were formulated, was conducted at Nashville, Tennessee, on March 6, 1951, pursuant to notice thereof which was issued February 28, 1951 (16 F. R. 2005).

The material issues of record related to:

1. Classification of skim milk and butterfat used in Yoghurt.

2. Classification of skim milk and butterfat used in Reddi-wip.

3. Whether skim milk or butterfat transferred in the form of cream to a non-fluid milk plant 85 miles or more from the City Hall at Nashville, Tennessee, shall under certain circumstances be classified as Class III milk.

4. Whether the fall incentive plan should be modified so as to pertain to producers who are supplying the market during a representative period of each year.

Findings and conclusions. The following findings and conclusions are based upon the evidence introduced at the hearing and the record thereof:

1. Skim milk and butterfat used in the product known as Yoghurt and also known as Yogurt, Yoghourt, and Yogourt should be classified as Class I milk.

The Nashville Milk Producers, Inc., proposed that skim milk and butterfat used in the product known as Yoghurt be named in the order as a Class I use. This product is being marketed by handlers on their wholesale and retail routes in the marketing area along with the various Class I products. It is made from milk through the fermenting action of certain bacteria, and is similar to Bulgarian buttermilk. The Department of Health of the City of Nashville requires that Yoghurt be made from milk from sources approved for fluid consumption in the City of Nashville. The product is presently considered along with other products which must be derived from inspected milk as a Class I use. Handlers' representatives at the hearing presented no evidence concerning the designation of Yoghurt as a Class I use of skim milk and butterfat.

2. The definition of Class II milk should be changed to exclude cream products which are not required by the Nashville Health Department to be made from approved milk.

A handler requested that the order be amended to provide for classification of Reddi-wip as a Class III use. The handler testified that the product Reddi-wip is composed of a mixture of cream, stabilizer, vanilla and a dispersing inert gas, is similar in composition to ice cream mix, but has a higher fat content, is marketed in cans under pressure of the inert gas, and is generally used as a food decoration.

Under the present classification provisions of the order, Reddi-wip is considered to be a form of aerated cream, and as such is Class II milk.

The Health Department of the City of Nashville does not require that Reddi-wip or aerated cream distributed in this area be made from approved milk.

The proponent handler testified the product Reddi-wip is now being manufactured from milk not inspected for fluid consumption in the marketing area, and that the manufacturing operation is physically entirely separate from his operations as a fluid milk handler for this market. He stated that if milk used in manufacture of Reddi-wip were Class III, he would be able to use cream derived from producer milk for this product and intends to do so.

The butterfat test of milk received from producers for this market is considerably higher than the average test of milk for fluid uses including cream. Although the quantity of skim milk received in producer milk is not adequate to fulfill the total requirements for Class I and Class II uses during all months of the year, the butterfat contained in producer receipts exceeds requirements in these uses throughout the year. Since there is butterfat not needed for Class I or Class II uses, it is reasonable to promote its utilization in such other local outlets which are available by pricing it at more nearly the level at which butterfat for such use is available from uninspected sources. Accordingly, the definition of Class II milk should be changed so as to exclude cream products which are not required by the Health Department to be made from approved milk.

3. Provision should be made for the classification of skim milk and butterfat transferred in the form of cream for manufacturing uses more than 85 miles from the City Hall of Nashville as Class III milk during April, May, and June 1951.

It was proposed that skim milk and butterfat transferred in the form of cream to a nonfluid milk plant 85 miles or more from City Hall, be classified on the same basis as transfers to nonfluid milk plants located less than 85 miles from the City Hall. The proposed change would permit the classification of such transfers in Class III milk provided that an equivalent amount of skim milk and butterfat is devoted to a Class III use in the transferee plant.

The desirability of widening the available outlets for excess butterfat from producer milk is explained in the findings in connection with issue numbered 2. The average test of milk received from farmers in this section of Tennessee is relatively high, and as a result manufacturing plants, such as condenseries, cheese factories, usually have excessive fat at the same time of the year as handlers on the Nashville market. Butterfat from the latter source must compete with this uninspected butterfat for a local market, which at times results in relatively low returns to handlers. For this reason, in order to find a ready market for butterfat not needed by the Nashville market and at prices which enable handlers to pay the Class III price it is at times necessary to dispose of cream for manufacturing uses, such as ice cream, to plants beyond the 85-mile limit.

The proponent handler asserted that such outlets would provide a market for his excess producer butterfat as well as that of other handlers which could be diverted to his plant. The latter handler has recently expanded his manufacturing facilities and is in a position to handle seasonal excess producer milk for a substantial part of the market. The removal of the distance limitation during the flush production season of 1951 to allow a Class III classification of cream used for manufactured products at more distant plants will promote the orderly marketing of excess butterfat.

As one means of meeting the administrative problem of verifying utilization of cream at more distant points, it was suggested by the proponent handler that the cream to be transferred might be suitably labeled stating that it is for manufacturing use only, or that the product might be colored, thus limiting the use to manufactured products such as ice cream or butter. The suggested methods for determining classification are not satisfactory substitutes for the certification and auditing procedures applying to transfers to plants within 85 miles of Nashville. Cream transferred to more distant plants will be subject to reclassification pending certification of use by the operator of the receiving nonfluid milk plant, such certification to be furnished to the market administrator not later than the last day of the month following the month in which the cream was shipped, and pending audit of the records of the handler and of the nonfluid milk plant.

The evidence failed to show the need for transferring cream for manufacturing uses beyond 85 miles from the market other than during the flush production months. The proposed change in the classification provision on cream transferred more than 85 miles from Nashville has been limited to the flush production season of 1951 pending a more comprehensive study of the various phases of the classification and pricing of butterfat in this market.

4. The fall incentive production payment plan should be amended to change the fall months to which the plan applies.

Under the present fall incentive plan, 45 cents per hundredweight of producer milk is set aside from the amount handlers are required to pay for milk received during April, May, and June and is held by the Market Administrator in the Producer-Settlement Fund of the market-wide pooling arrangement. One-third of this fund is included in the computation of the uniform price to be paid to all producers delivering milk during each of the following months of September, October, and November.

The producers' association proposed that only those producers who have a valid dairy farm inspection permit for this market during some period about April 1 of each year should participate in the plan and the period in which distribution of the fund is made should be changed to the months of October, November, and December. Producers not included in the program would receive a price equivalent to the market-wide average utilization value of total receipts from producers during each month deliveries of milk are made.

On the basis of the evidence presented at a hearing held in 1948, it was decided that some seasonal price adjustment plan was necessary for the Nashville market to encourage deliveries of milk throughout the year which are more nearly in accordance with a relatively uniform monthly demand for fluid milk. A fall incentive plan was incorporated in the order in that year. The fall incentive producer price plan was supported by interested parties in preference to seasonal Class I pricing or other alternative plans for accomplishing this purpose. This plan was preferred by the market because it is possible to achieve substantial seasonal differences in the average prices paid producers without seasonal variation in the cost of Class I milk to handlers.

Producer representatives testified at the recent March hearing that the presently operating form of the seasonal production incentive plan is unsatisfactory because new producers who enter the market after June participate in the distribution of the fall incentive payments, thereby reducing such payments to producers who are in the market the year round. Producers' complaint with respect to the present plan resulted principally from the entry of a substantial number of new producers in the market during 1949 and 1950. In each year approximately 70 percent of the increase in the number of producers occurred following the spring set-aside period.

The Class I price differential of $1.25 over the monthly prices for manufacturing milk was incorporated in the present order to provide a level of prices which was intended to increase receipts of producer milk. Receipts have increased through larger deliveries by old producers and by the addition of new producers. With the increase in receipts it has been necessary to devote more and more milk to manufacturing uses during the flush production season and the need for more uniform production throughout the year has been emphasized. New producers who have entered the market have been needed to meet shortages of milk for Class I uses during fall and winter months. Under these conditions it is desirable to accomplish greater receipts of milk during the fall months by encouraging more even deliveries by all producers and by encouraging new producers, who are interested in supplying the market, to start delivery following the flush production months of each year. Producers who enter the market during the flush season merely add to the seasonal excess and reduce the uniform price received by all producers. For this reason, producers who are on the market prior to the flush months receive a higher annual return when new producers postpone entry into the market until following set-aside period rather than enter the market at the beginning of such period. Although the entry of new producers may reduce the component of the uniform price which may be attributed to the incentive plan during the fall months, it is important to note that a corresponding increase in deliveries from regular producers during the fall months has the same effect.

Under the proposed change in the fall incentive plan, producers who were not on the market April 1 or some other designated period would receive a higher price for milk than other producers during the remainder of the set-aside period and a lower price during the fall months. This would tend to encourage new producers to postpone entry into the market until immediately following the designated date or period. The higher price received by such producers during the remainder of the spring and summer when production costs are lowest would tend to encourage production and increase market receipts at the time of the year when additional milk is not needed. No incentive would be offered to such producers to increase receipts during the fall months when production costs are highest, and receipts tend to be lightest.

Individual producers make their own decision as to when and how much milk they will ship to plants in the market. The value of the milk to the market depends on the season in which it is shipped. The addition of a new plant to the market is not usually the decision of the farmers who deliver milk to such plant and its supply might not be available to the whole market to the same extent as that of individual producers who deliver milk to established handlers. Consequently, some different treatment might be afforded receipts of milk at plants of new handlers who may enter the market; however, producers did not indicate that this is a serious problem at this time.

The position of proponents implies that only producers who delivered milk during the spring set-aside months have an equity in the fund and producers who were not on the market during the spring months have no right to share in the fund. Actually this fund which is set aside prior to the calculation of uniform price is not the property of any particular group of producers. It is a market fund which is set aside from the total dollars charged handlers for milk to discourage unneeded receipts of milk during the spring season and to encourage greater receipts during the fall months.

Under seasonal pricing this would be accomplished by charging handlers lower Class I price differentials during the flush production months than during the short production months with a resulting annual average Class I differential equivalent to the uniform Class I differential now provided in the order. The seasonally higher prices in the fall months under seasonal pricing is shared by all producers in proportion to their deliveries of milk during this season. The fall incentive fund likewise must be distributed on the basis of deliveries of milk by all producers during the fall months. If it were assumed that individual producers contributed to the fund and thereby have an equity in it, in order to return this equity to each producer, provision would need to be made for paying each producer the same amount of money as he contributed to the fund. In this case a sum of money merely would be set aside in the spring and the same amount paid to the producer during the fall regardless of the quantity of milk delivered. Obviously, no incentive would be offered for fall deliveries and the plan would serve no useful purpose.

If producers desire a seasonal payment plan which provides for adjustments in the uniform price received by producers on the basis of participation in the market during a designated or representative period, it appears that such adjustments should be made on the basis of marketings during the period.

For the reasons stated above the proposal to limit the fall incentive plan to producers of record in a certain period of each year should be denied. The proposed change is inconsistent with the principles underlying the plan and is not in accordance with the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act.

Under present operation of the fall production incentive plan, distribution of the spring set-aside is made in the three months of September, October and November. Since the principal objective of the plan is to encourage increased deliveries of milk during the shortest months, the distribution of the fall incentive should be made on the basis of deliveries in these months. Based upon the relationship of producer receipts to sales of fluid products (Class I and Class II) during 1948, 1949, and 1950, the three shortest months have been October, November and December. Accordingly, distribution of the money from the producer-settlement fund as a fall delivery incentive should be made on receipts of milk during these months.

Rulings on proposed findings and conclusions. Briefs were filed on behalf of a producer organization and handlers who are concerned with the proposed marketing agreement and proposed order amending the order now in effect. The briefs contained suggested findings of fact, conclusions, and arguments with respect to the proposals considered at the hearing. Every point covered in the briefs was carefully examined along with evidence in the record in making the findings and reaching the conclusions hereinbefore set forth. Producers and handlers contended that an emergency exists which warrants immediate effectuation of the proposed amendments and requested that a recommended decision and exceptions thereto be omitted. The extent to which these claims are applicable is not sufficient to warrant omission of the opportunity to file written exceptions to the recommendations contained herein. The time for filing such exceptions should be held to a minimum, however, to expedite amendment action. To the extent that other suggested findings and conclusions contained in the briefs are inconsistent with the findings and conclusions contained herein, the requests to make such findings or to reach such conclusions are denied on the basis of the facts found and stated in connection with the findings and conclusions in this decision.

General findings. (a) The proposed marketing agreement and the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(b) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supply of and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the proposed marketing agreement and in the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest; and

(c) The proposed marketing agreement and the order, as amended and as hereby proposed to be further amended, will regulate the handling of milk in the same manner as, and are applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in the said marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Recommended amendment to the order. The following amendment to the order, as amended, is recommended as the detailed and appropriate means by which the foregoing conclusions may be carried out. The amendments to a proposed marketing agreement are not repeated because they would be identical to the following:

1. Delete § 978.4 (b) (1) and substitute:

(1) Class I milk shall be all skim milk and butterfat: (i) Disposed of in fluid form as milk, skim milk, buttermilk, flavored milk, and flavored milk drinks, and Yoghurt and (ii) not specifically accounted for as Class II or Class III milk.

2. In § 978.4 (b) delete subparagraph (2) and substitute the following:

(2) Class II milk shall be all skim milk and butterfat disposed of in the form of cream, eggnog and any other cream product disposed of in fluid form which is required by the Nashville Health Department to be made from approved butterfat and skim milk.

3. In § 978.4 (d) delete subparagraph (4) and substitute:

(4) As Class I milk if transferred or diverted in the form of any item specified in paragraph (b) (1) of this section and as Class II milk if transferred or diverted in the form of any item specified in paragraph (b) (2) of this section, to a nonfluid milk plant located 85 miles or more from the City Hall in Nashville, Tennessee, by the shortest highway distance as determined by the market administrator, except in the case of fluid cream only, for the delivery periods of April, May and June 1951 if (i) the handler reports its use in another class and the operator of the receiving plant certifies to the market administrator in writing not later than the last day of the month next following the month in which such cream was shipped that such cream was used in the class reported by the handler, (ii) the operator of the nonfluid milk plant maintains books and records showing the utilization of all skim milk and butterfat at such plant which are made available if requested by the market administrator for the purpose of verification, (iii) not less than an equivalent amount of skim milk and butterfat was actually utilized in such plant in the use indicated in such statement: Provided, That if upon inspection of the records of such plant it is found that an equivalent amount of skim milk and butterfat was not actually used in such indicated use the remaining pounds shall be classified on the basis of the next highest-priced available use in accordance with the classes set forth in paragraph (b) of this section.

4. Delete § 978.7 (b) (3) (ii) and substitute therefor the following:

(ii) For each of the delivery periods of October, November and December, add an amount equivalent to one-third of the total of the three amounts representing the cash balance established, during the delivery periods of April, May and June, immediately preceding, as a fall season production incentive pursuant to subparagraph (5) (ii) of this paragraph.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 9th day of April 1951.

IRREGULAR AIR CARRIER AND OFF-ROUTE RULES

PASSENGER AND CREW WEIGHTS

Notice is hereby given that revision of Title 14, § 42.32-4 (c) (4), published on November 22, 1949, in 14 F. R. 7038, is contemplated. All interested persons who desire to submit comments and suggestions for consideration by the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics in connection with the proposed rule shall send them to Civil Aeronautics Administration, Office of Aviation Safety, Washington 25, D. C., within 30 days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Section 42.32-4 (c) (4), as revised, would read:

§ 42.32-4 Maintenance manual. • • •

(c) Weight control. • • •

(4) Passenger and crew weights—(i) General. These weights apply to operators with or without an approved weight control system. Consideration will be given to a different average of weights for crew and passengers, provided the operator can substantiate these weights based on an average of actual weights for each group.

(ii) Passenger weights. The actual passenger weights may be used in all computations and are preferable from the standpoint of accuracy. In addition, the use of average weights is approved as a means of expediting load manifest calculations. The use of average weights, however, does not relieve the operator of responsibility for compliance with the weight and c. g. location limitations as specified in the appropriate aircraft specification and the operating requirements in operating limitations prescribed in this part. In other words, if there is any evidence that the use of average weights will result in erroneous computations and possible violation of applicable CAR, the total weight and c. g. location should be recomputed using actual weights. This condition is most likely to arise in cases where the major portion of a passenger load consists of a specialized group such as athletic teams or of a specific racial group which does not conform with the U. S. average. In all cases of such nonaverage groups actual weights must be used.

The approved averages are as follows:

(a) An average passenger weight (summer) of 160 pounds may be used during the calendar period of May 1 through October 31.

(b) An average passenger weight (winter) of 165 pounds may be used during the calendar period of November 1 through April 30.

(c) An average passenger weight of 80 pounds may be used at any time for children between the ages of 3 and 12.

In all computations, either the actual or average weights indicated above will be used; in no case will a combination of average and actual weights be used. However, the above calendar periods may be varied where climatic conditions warrant, upon specific approval of the CAA.

(iii) Crew weights. Actual or average weights may be used in the case of crew members under conditions as set forth for passenger weights. The approved averages are as follows:

(a) Male cabin attendants 150 pounds; female cabin attendants 130 pounds.

(b) All other crew members 170 pounds.

(Sec. 205, 52 Stat. 984, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 425. Interprets or applies sec. 601, 52 Stat. 1007, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 551)

AIRMAN AGENCY CERTIFICATES

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Notice is hereby given that adoption of the following rules is contemplated. All interested persons who desire to submit comments and suggestions for consideration by the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics in connection with the proposed rules shall send them to the Civil Aeronautics Administration, Office of Aviation Safety, Washington 25, D. C., within 30 days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

§ 50.11-1 Basic ground school curriculum (CAA rules which apply to § 50.11 (a)). The applicant must provide a basic ground instruction curriculum which is satisfactory to the Administrator. The minimum acceptable curriculum must include not less than 50 hours of instruction in the subjects listed below, followed by examination on each subject.

(a) Civil air regulations. At least five classroom hours of instruction to include:

Part 1: Certification, identification, and marking of aircraft and related products.
Part 20: Pilot certificates.
Part 43: General operation rules.
Part 60: Air traffic rules, including air traffic control practices and procedures.
Part 62: Notice and reports of aircraft accidents and missing aircraft.

(b) Meteorology. At least 15 classroom hours of instruction to include:

Recognition of weather, icing, fog, and frontal conditions.
General cloud formations.
Study of weather maps, teletype sequences, and elementary weather forecasting.
Pressure areas, including motion of air masses, isobars, and winds aloft.
Humidity and its relation to visibility.
Temperature-dew point relationship and precipitation.
How to use knowledge of meteorology in private flying in promoting safety.
U. S. Weather Bureau facilities and weather assistance service.

(c) Aerial navigation. At least 15 classroom hours of instruction to include:

Study of aeronautical charts, including explanation of how charts are made, with emphasis on the Lambert conformal projection.
The navigational methods, including piloting, dead reckoning, and radio.
Navigational instruments: Types, errors, and practical usage.
Practical navigation problems: Dead reckoning, piloting, ETA's, flight plans, wind-triangle solutions using a simple computer, and maximum endurance problems.
Use of CAA publications (Airman's Guide, etc.).

(d) Radio. At least five classroom hours of instruction to include:

Explanation of radio aids to flight.
Use of simple receiver and transmitter, including tuning and voice procedure.
CAA communication facilities and flight assistance service, including search and rescue procedures.
International code: Memorizing of code, sufficient to provide ready recognition of radio range identification signals.
Use of loop antenna in homing on broadcast and other stations.
Distress signals and visual signals (on parking line).

(e) General service of aircraft. At least 10 classroom hours of instruction to include:

Care of aircraft: Line inspection, procedures, and general safety precautions.
Care of engines: Octane ratings, detonation, warming up and idling precautions, full throttle operations, and icing.
Operations limitations; performance characteristics as affected by full load, altitude, and temperature conditions. Reason for placard limits, acceleration limits, air-speed limitations in rough air, and other restrictions in the interest of safety.
Inspections required.
Use of aircraft instruments and errors inherent in them.
Use and care of parachutes.
Use of logbooks.
Explanation of major and minor repairs.
Explanation of aircraft operation record.

§ 50.11-2 Advanced ground school curriculum (CAA rules which apply to § 50.11 (b)). The applicant must provide an advanced ground instruction curriculum which is satisfactory to the Administrator. The minimum acceptable curriculum must include not less than 150 hours of instruction in the subjects listed below, followed by examination on each subject. Students who have successfully completed an approved basic ground school course may be given appropriate credit when applying for the advanced ground school course. The determination of credit for previous ground school work is left to the discretion of the airman agency, with the understanding that a graduate must have completed all course requirements.

(a) Civil air regulations. At least 15 classroom hours of instruction to include:

Part 1: Certification, identification, and marking on aircraft and related products.
Part 20: Pilot certificates.
Part 43: General operation rules.
Part 60: Air traffic rules, including air traffic control practices and procedures.
Part 62: Notice and reports of aircraft accidents and missing aircraft.

(b) Meteorology. At least 35 classroom hours of instruction to include:

General cloud formations.
Pressure areas, including motion of air masses, isobars, and winds aloft.
Humidity and its relation to visibility.
Temperature-dew point relationship and precipitation.
Recognition of weather masses, icing, fog and frontal conditions as to reasonably forecast the weather accompanying these masses.
How to use knowledge of meteorology in flying to promote safety.
Study of weather maps, teletype sequences, and coded weather data sufficient to permit ready interpretation of all symbols used.
U. S. Weather Bureau facilities and weather assistance service.
Weather map analysis, including pressure areas and fronts.

(c) Aerial navigation. At least 35 classroom hours of instruction to include:

Study of aeronautical charts, including explanation of how charts are made, with emphasis on the Lambert conformal projection.
The study and use of all forms of navigational methods, with emphasis placed on pilotage, dead reckoning, and the use of radio.
Study, use, and limitations of all types of navigational instruments, navigational aids, and the daily use of CAA publications (Airman's Guide and Flight Information Manual).
All types of practical navigational problems, including radius of action to an alternate airport and maximum endurance under economy conditions, as well as the precision planning of a flight, the filing of a flight plan that allows for a climb to altitude and descent therefrom, check and reporting points, alternate airports, the use of radio compass and direction finder equipment and radio ranges, sectional and world aeronautical charts.

(d) Radio. At least 15 classroom hours of instruction to include:

Explanation of radio aids to flight.
Types, usage, and limitation of radio receivers and transmitters, the effects of proper and improper tuning, frequency control, static and night effects, as well as antennaes and microphone techniques.
The use and limitations of all types of radio aids to air navigation, including very high frequency and omni-directional facilities.
Sufficient study in International code to allow ready recognition of radio range identification signals.
Use of loop antenna in homing on broadcast and other stations.
The coding and use of aeronautical lights, true lights, and distress signals.
The detailed explanation and use of airways traffic control, approach control, and airport traffic control.

(e) Aircraft engines. At least 20 classroom hours of instruction to include:

Principles of the internal combustion engine.
Fuels: Octane rating and detonation.
Construction and design: Metals, tolerances, compression ratios, and horsepower.
Classification and construction of engine components.
Lubrication and cooling systems.
Carburetion and ignition.
Propellers: Fixed, adjustable, controllable, constant speed, and full-feathering.
Disassembly.
Inspection and Maintenance.
Overhaul, repair, timing, and assembly.
Trouble shooting.
Logbooks and other records.
Practices: Precautions in the operation of engines, such as starting, warm-up, idling, testing, and full-throttle operation.

(f) Aircraft. At least 20 classroom hours of instruction to include:

Aerodynamics and theory of flight.
Factors of aircraft design, construction, and riggin..
Aircraft operation placard: Necessity for limitations as to speed, load factors, rough air, gross load, and center of gravity limits; how to determine safe loadings, with C. G. limits.
Aircraft construction and materials used.
Repair and maintenance.
Airplane operations manual.
Logbooks and records.
Aircraft accessories.

The remaining 10 hours of the required 150 hours prescribed for the advanced ground school course to be utilized by the operator in accordance with the individual student's need.

§ 50.13-1 Primary flying school-curriculums; airplanes; land and sea (CAA rules which apply to § 50.13 (a) (1))—(a) Airplanes; land. The applicant shall provide a primary flight curriculum satisfactory to the Administrator. Such a curriculum must include not less than 35 hours of flying time and must be arranged so as to allow a minimum of 15 hours dual and 13 hours of solo flight time. Flying time devoted to student progress or stage checks will be credited as dual instruction for the purpose of meeting the requirements of primary flying school curriculums. Such flights may be conducted by the regularly assigned flight instructor, agency check pilot, or an Aviation Safety Agent. A minimum of 8 hours dual instruction must be given prior to solo flight. A minimum of 4 hours dual and 8 hours solo cross-country experience must be provided. This must include at least one solo cross-country flight with two full stop landings, one of which must be at a point more than 100 airline miles from the base of operation. Each cross-country flight shall include a landing at a point more than 25 miles from the point of departure. The required dual instruction in cross-country flying must be given after the student's initial solo. During the course of the flight instruction, ground discussion must be given at the ratio of at least 15 minutes per hour of flight time and is to include familiarization with the aircraft, controls, instruments, fuel systems, accessories, parachutes, use of safety precautions, starting and stopping of engines, securing of aircraft, as well as all pertinent local air traffic rules and patterns. During the course, the student should do as many of the pre-flight and line inspections as possible prior to flight. Dual instruction prior to solo must include instruction in:

Orientation, including determination of wind direction.
Taxiing (into wind, cross-wind, downwind).
Straight and level flight.
Medium turns.
Climbs, glides, including turns.
Confidence maneuvers.
Coordination exercises (elementary eights, S-turns across ground reference lines, etc.)
Slow flight.
Stalls with and without power.
Take-offs.
Landings.
Slips.
Emergency procedures.

The above should be followed by additional dual and solo practice. Periodic checks should be given throughout the course. Dual instruction and solo practice must also be given on the following maneuvers:

Flight at various power settings in which straight and level flight and turns are accomplished without loss of altitude.
Precision turns of shallow, medium, and steep banks (emphasizing constant bank, speed and altitude).
Medium banked around-pylon figure eights.
720° power turns (banked attitude in excess of 45°).
Spirals.
Stalls with and without power from all normally anticipated flight attitudes.
Precision landings from 180° side approach (use of key position should be emphasized).
Power approaches to landings.
Cross-wind take-offs and landings.
Rectangular course (right and left).

(b) Airplanes; sea. Where flight instruction is given in a seaplane, the following must also be included in the curriculum:

(1) Pre-flight instruction:

Explanation of float action.
Retraction of water rudders.
Determination of wind direction.
Fundamentals of water handling.
Fundamentals of aviation seamanship.
Use of life preservers.
General care of seaplanes.

(2) Additional maneuvers to be included:

Semi-stall and full-stall landings.
Power approaches and power landings given under average water conditions and on glassy water.
Where practicable, landings and take-offs on various bodies of water such as a bay (tide action) and streams (currents).
Precision sailing (with and without power).
Precision docking, beach, and mooring.
Forced landings, executed to buoy markers.

(c) Alternate curriculum; primary flying school. An applicant for an approved airman agency primary flying school may utilize a curriculum different from those prescribed in this manual, provided prior approval is obtained from the Administrator.

Request for approval should be made to the local CAA Aviation Safety District Office. Two copies of the proposed curriculum should accompany request.

§ 50.13–2 Primary flying school curriculum; helicopter (CAA rules which apply to § 50.13 (a) (3)—(a) Helicopters; 35 hours flying time. A curriculum satisfactory to the Administrator must include not less than 35 hours of flying time. The course must be arranged to give each student a minimum of 15 hours dual and 13 hours of solo flight time. A minimum of 8 hours dual instruction must be given prior to solo flight and is to be included in the 15 hours of required dual.

It may be found necessary to modify or eliminate certain flight maneuvers because of the wide variation in flight characteristics that exist in helicopters of different manufacture. In general, however, any curriculum to be satisfactory to the Administrator must include the following:

(1) Familiarization, including control usage, starting, warm-up, run-up, and stopping of engine, limitation placards, engine and flight instruments, fuel and electrical system, servicing precautions, safety belts, and hazards to spectators; local airport rules and regulations.

(2) The dual instruction prior to solo shall include both theoretical and practical instruction in:

Taxiing (into wind, downwind and cross-wind).
Take-offs (upwind and cross-wind).
Landings (into the wind).
Hovering (into wind and cross-wind, downwind hovering should be demonstrated).
90° hovering turns.
Sideward and backward flight.
Rectangular course (hovering altitude constant heading).
Climbing and descending.
Minimum steep turns (not to exceed 30°).
Normal, 30° angle, approaches to landing.
Traffic pattern flying.
Elementary autorotative approaches.
Simulated emergency landings.

(3) The above should be followed by additional dual and solo practice. Periodic checks should be given throughout the course. Dual instruction and solo practice must also be given on the following maneuvers.

Hovering downwind.
Hovering turns, 90° through 360°.
Settling with power and recovery.
Accuracy landings: normal, slow-steep, fast-low, flare and no-flare type approaches.
Autorotative approaches: straight, 90°, 180°, and 360°.

Dual and solo cross-country. A minimum of 2 hours dual and 3 hours solo cross-country experience must be provided in the curriculum. This must include a solo cross-country flight with two intermediate full-stop landings, one leg of which must be at least 50 miles in length.

At least one hour of dual instruction shall be given at an altitude sufficiently high to demonstrate the misconceptions of attitude and movement which may occur when flying a helicopter at altitude by outside visual reference only.

Turns, medium steep bank (20° to 45°).
S-turns along ground reference line (varying speeds).

§ 50.13–3 Primary flying school curriculum; glider (CAA rules which apply to § 50.13 (a) (4))—(a) Gliders; 8 hours flying time. An applicant for a primary glider flying school rating must provide a flight curriculum satisfactory to the Administrator. This curriculum must include not less than 8 hours of total flight time. Any curriculum, to be satisfactory to the Administrator, must include the following:

A minimum of 3 hours of dual and check time.
A minimum of 5 hours of supervised solo flight time.
A minimum of 80 gliding flights.
Flight instruction shall include, but not be limited to, the following maneuvers:
Straight glides.
Confidence maneuvers.
Turns.
Coordination exercises.
Stalls.
Airplane tow technique.
Glidepath technique.
Use of spoilers.
Cross- and downwind technique.
Landings.

Additional dual instruction and solo practice should follow to obtain proficiency in all maneuvers. The apportionment of dual and solo time and the amount of instruction and practice in each maneuver should be adequate to enable the student to sufficiently demonstrate his proficiency in each, to a degree required of a private glider pilot.

§ 50.13–4 Commercial flying school curriculums; airplanes; land and sea (CAA rules which apply to § 50.13 (b) (1))—(a) Airplanes; land. An applicant for a commercial flying school rating must provide a flight instruction curriculum satisfactory to the Administrator. Such curriculum must consist of not less than 160 hours of flying time for the purpose of qualifying persons for commercial pilot certificates. Any curriculum to be satisfactory to the Administrator shall meet the following requirements:

(1) A minimum of 50 hours dual and check time. 8 hours of such instruction time must be given prior to first solo flight.

(2) A minimum of 105 hours of supervised solo must be given.

(3) A total of 10 hours of pilot-in-command, dual, or solo night flying must be given. Whenever practicable, at least 3 hours should be devoted to night cross-country flying. During this phase of training, at least 5 hours, including 10 take-offs and 10 landings, should be accomplished while solo, or while serving as pilot-in-command and the sole manipulator of the controls. Normally the practicability of conducting the cross-country portion of the night flying requirement will be established by the local CAA Aviation Safety District Office. In making this determination, consideration shall be given to such items as nature of terrain, navigation facilities, alternate landing areas, etc.

(4) A minimum of 25 hours of dual and solo cross-country flying must be given. During the course of instruction, at least one solo cross-country flight must be made to a point not less than 300 miles distant from the point of departure. During such flight, at least 3 full-stop landings at different points along the route are to be made. In the course of the student's training, his flight record must indicate one flight wherein all radio aids to air navigation that are available have been utilized, and must include the preparation and use of a predetermined flight plan.

(5) A minimum of 10 hours solo must be given in tandem seating aircraft.

(6) A minimum of 10 hours solo must be given in side-by-side seating aircraft.

(7) A minimum of 10 hours solo must be given in aircraft equipped with wing flaps, two-way radio, controllable propeller, and a manifold pressure gauge.

(8) The first 35 hours of instruction and solo practice must be identified with the Primary Flying School Curriculum. Students who have successfully completed such curriculum in a certificated flying school, or possess a private pilot certificate, may be given appropriate credit when applying for the commercial pilot flight course. The determination of credit for previous flight experience is left to the discretion of the airman agency, with the understanding that a graduate must have completed all course requirements.

(9) The flight curriculum must be arranged so as to give instruction and solo-flight practice on all maneuvers necessary to enable a student to demonstrate proficiency to a degree required of a commercial pilot. Such maneuvers, in addition to those taught and practiced in the primary course, are:

Use of airplane check list.
Eights on pylons (steep and shallow banked).
Lazy eights.
Chandelles.

(b) Airplanes; sea. Where flight instruction is given in a seaplane, the following must also be included in the curriculum:

(1) Pre-flight instruction:

Explanation of float action.
Retraction of water rudders.
Determination of wind direction.
Fundamentals of water handling.
Fundamentals of aviation seamanship.
Use of life preservers.
General care of seaplanes.

(2) Additional maneuvers to be included:

Semi-stall and full-stall landings.
Power approaches and power landings given under average water conditions and on glassy water.
Where practicable, landings and take-offs on various bodies of water such as a bay (tide action) and streams (currents).
Precision sailing (with and without power).
Precision docking, beaching, and mooring.
Forced landings, executed to buoy markers.

§ 50.13–5 Commercial flying school curriculum; helicopter (CAA rules which apply to § 50.13 (b) (2)). An applicant for a commercial flying school rating (helicopter) must provide a flight instruction curriculum satisfactory to the Administrator. Such curriculum must consist of not less than 160 hours of flying time for the purpose of qualifying persons for commercial pilot certificate.

It may be found necessary to modify or eliminate certain flight maneuvers because of the wide variation in flight characteristics that exist in helicopters of different manufacture. In general, however, any curriculum to be satisfactory to the Administrator must meet the following requirements:

(a) A minimum of 70 hours dual and check time. 8 hours of such instruction time must be given prior to first solo flight.

(b) A minimum of 90 hours of supervised solo must be given.

(c) A total of 10 hours of pilot-in-command, dual, or solo night flying must be given. During this phase of training at least 5 hours, including 10 take-offs and 10 landings, should be accomplished while solo, or while serving as pilot-in-command, and the solo manipulator of the controls.

(d) A minimum of 25 hours of dual and solo cross-country flying must be given. During the course of instruction, at least one solo cross-country flight must be made to a point not less than 150 miles distant from the point of departure. During such flight, at least 3 full-stop landings at different points along the route shall be made.

(e) The first 35 hours of instruction and solo practice must be identical with the helicopter private pilot flight curriculum. Students who have successfully completed such curriculum in a certificated flying school, or possess a private pilot certificate with helicopter rating, may be given appropriate credit when applying for the commercial pilot (helicopter) flight course.

(f) The flight curriculum must be arranged so as to give instruction and solo flight practice on all maneuvers necessary to enable the student to demonstrate commercial pilot proficiency in the maneuvers characteristic of the helicopter type on which his training was received. In addition to those maneuvers taught and practiced in the primary course or initial 35 hours of training, theoretical and practical instruction shall be provided in the following:

Running take-offs.
S-turns along ground reference line (varying speeds).
Pattern flying changing headings at hovering altitude.
Rapid decelerations (quick stops).

§ 50.13–6 Commercial flying school curriculum; gliders (CAA rules which apply to § 50.13 (b) (3)). An applicant for a commercial flying school rating (glider) must provide a flight instruction curriculum satisfactory to the Administrator. Such curriculum must consist of not less than 20 hours of flight and must meet the following requirements:

(a) A minimum of 8 hours of dual and check time: 3 hours of such instruction time must be given prior to first solo flight.

(b) A minimum of 12 hours of supervised solo must be given after solo.

(c) A minimum of 100 gliding flights or 5 hours of soaring flight time must be given.

(d) The first 8 hours of instruction and solo practice must be identical with the private glider curriculum.

(e) The following maneuvers must be included in addition to those taught and practiced in the private glider pilot course:

Emergency maneuvers such as recovery from stalls, entered from both level and steeply banked attitudes.
Spirals.
Cross-wind take-offs and landings.
Soaring techniques.
Lazy eights.
Accuracy landings.

§ 50.13–7 Instrument flying school. (CAA rules which apply to § 50.13 (c)—(a) Ground school curriculum. The applicant must provide an instrument ground school curriculum satisfactory to the Administrator. Such curriculum should include not less than 30 hours of classroom instruction on the subjects listed below:

(1) Civil air regulations. At least 2 classroom hours of instruction to include:

Part 1: Certification, Identification, and Marking on Aircraft and related products.
Part 20: Pilot Certificates.
Part 43: General Operation Rules.
Part 60: Air Traffic Rules, including air traffic control practices and procedures.

(2) Meteorology. At least 5 classroom hours of instruction, of which one should be practical weather observation and the identification of weather conditions, to include:

Those subjects listed for advanced ground school rating.
Detailed study of conditions found under instrument flying conditions, with emphasis on icing conditions.
Advanced meteorology: Weather maps, fronts, and analysis.

(3) Aircraft and theory of flight. At least 3 classroom hours of instruction to include:

Study of aircraft equipment: deicing equipment, static eliminators, effect of ice on propeller, and wing efficiency.
Power required under various load conditions, and change in stalling speeds therein.

(4) Navigation. At least 5 classroom hours of instruction to include:

Navigational problems under instrument conditions.
Use of computer.
Methods of obtaining fixes.
Correction of drift to regain position.

Alternate airport problems.
Airman's Guide, Flight Information Manual, Radio Facilities, and Instrument Approach Charts.
Radio orientation (at least 3 methods).

(5) Instruments, radio and navigational aids. At least 5 classroom hours of instruction to include:

Review of all instruments and errors that may be encountered under instrument conditions.
Study of radio aids to instrument flight.
Tuning radio, and use of volume control.
Description of various radio aids.
CAA communications facilities and flight assistance service, including search and rescue operations.

(6) Instrument flight procedures. At least 10 classroom hours of instruction, to be given in phase with or before actual flight training, to include:

Technique of instrument flight.
Beam and bracketing procedures.
Let-down procedures.
Air Traffic Control procedures.
Flight plans.

Each person giving, or employed to give, ground school instruction in an instrument flying school must be certificated as required by § 50.10 (c) or must possess a valid instrument rating.

(b) Flight curriculum. This curriculum must include not less than 30 hours of flight instruction, of which not more than 10 hours may be given in a flight simulator. That portion of the instruction which is conducted in a flight simulator must remain in phase with the flight instruction.

The curriculum, to be satisfactory to the Administrator, must include at least the following:

Climbs and climbing turns.
Level flight.
Timed turns.
Steep turns (over 45°).
Stalls, and approaches to stalls.
Recovery from abnormal attitudes.
Slow flight and controlled descent.
Radio range orientation, including at least three methods.
Beam bracketing.
Station identification.
Airport and Airway Traffic Control holding and emergency procedures.
Final approach.
Missed approach.
Practical speed, wind, drift problems.

The CAA wishes to encourage the use of VHF range systems. VHF facilities may be used in training and in accomplishing as much of the present flight test as is practicable; however, until the low frequency range system becomes obsolete and is supplanted by the new systems, orientation and the execution of a standard instrument approach, utilizing the low frequency system will be required. This portion may be accomplished in a simulator, provided a low approach is successfully made during the flight test utilizing VHF facilities.

§ 50.13–8 Flight instructor school (CAA rules which apply to § 50.13 (d)).—(a) Ground school curriculum. An applicant for a flight instructor flying school rating must provide a ground school curriculum satisfactory to the Administrator. Such curriculum must include not less than 40 hours instruction on "Analysis and Performance of Maneuvers" and "Psychology, Technique and Methods of Flight Instruction." A curriculum satisfactory to the Administrator shall include, but not be limited to:

(1) Steps in teaching students how to fly:

Preparation—knowledge of what to say and how to say it.
Definition of what is to be taught in a specific lesson. (Statement of Aims.)
Explanation of maneuvers. (Presentation.)
Demonstration of maneuvers.
Student's practice.
Determination of student's progress and review of weak points.

(2) Common errors in instruction:

Lack of planned instruction.
Variations in terminology used in flight instruction.
Giving instruction in flight which could better be given on ground.
Failure to stress important or key points.
Poor speech habits, e. g., failure of instructor to speak clearly, etc.
Bad personal habits—impatience, lack of promptness, etc.
Failure to overcome prejudices with respect to other people's "peculiarities."
Emphasizing pet "hobbies" or "peeves."

(3) How students learn:

Importance of directed practice as compared with mere repetition.
Effect of old habits on learning how to fly. (Habit interference.)
Difficulties in trying to learn too much, too fast.
Value of training aids, e. g., charts, models, films, etc.

(4) Adapting training to individual students:

Slow versus fast learners.
Under-confident versus over-confident students.
The "problem child."
Preparatory planning of each student's lessons in order to deal with his individual problems.

(5) Keeping student interested:

Judicious use of praise and blame.
Informing student of his progress.
Importance of instructor appreciating student's problems.

(6) Keeping student fit:

Minimizing student fatigue.
Dealing with questions regarding health in relation to flying, e. g., ear trouble, the common cold, air sickness, etc.
Dealing with problem of "muscular tension."
Maintaining emotional stability.

(7) Finding out how student is progressing:

Reasons for standardization of check flights.
Subjective observation:
CAA rating procedures and other rating scales.
Training in use of above.
Objective evaluation:
Flight inventory.
Graphic methods.
Use of above techniques.
Difficulties in observing student's performance:
Errors of observation.
Elimination of errors.

(8) Checking up on your ability as an instructor.

Need for periodic check-up.
The teaching "Self-Audit."

(9) Summary of points to remember in flight instruction.

Plan instruction, on ground and in air, to meet student's problems.
Give all instruction possible on ground so that student has a clear idea of what is expected of him before start of flight lesson.
Keep instruction in air simple, clear, and concise.
Keep student interested and try to understand his problems.
Give student ample opportunity to review maneuvers already learned.
Direct student's solo practice along lines in which he is most inadequate.
Emphasize importance of judgment and necessity to "plan ahead."

(10) Civil air regulations.
(11) Analysis and performance of maneuvers.
(12) Final examination.

Each student will "instruct" the class on topics assigned in advance. Student's method of presentation will be criticized in light of principles of flight instruction discussed in course.
Analysis and performance of maneuvers.

(b) Flight curriculum. An applicant for flight instructor flying school rating must provide a flight instruction curriculum satisfactory to the Administrator. Such curriculum must consist of not less than 25 hours flying time for the purpose of qualifying persons for the flight instructor rating. A curriculum satisfactory to the Administrator must include the following:

(1) A minimum of 10 hours dual and solo practice in the performance of all elementary, intermediate, and advanced maneuvers, to enable the student to demonstrate these with smoothness and precision and to assist him to develop an easy, confident manner when flying.

(2) A minimum of 15 hours in the practice of giving flight instruction in all elementary, intermediate, and advanced maneuvers, where the instructor will ride as trainee, simulating the usual errors of the novice pilot, and the student acts as instructor. The purpose is to develop proficiency in the analysis of maneuvers and to evolve a technique of imparting this knowledge under actual flight conditions. The curriculum shall include, but not be limited to, the following:

(i) Elementary maneuvers.

Straight and level flight.
Medium turns.
Confidence maneuvers.
Taxiing.
Normal climbs.
Medium climbing turns.
Normal glides.
Medium gliding turns.
Steep turns.
Stalls and slow flight maneuvers without power.
Stalls and slow flight maneuvers with power.
Spins.
S-turns along ground reference lines.
Medium and steep eights up and down a road.
The square or rectangular course.
Take-offs.
Landings.
Forced landings.

(ii) Intermediate maneuvers.

Eights across a road.
Eights "around" pylons.
Eights "on" pylons.

Gentle turns.
Precision turns.
Steep climbing turns.
Steep gliding turns.
Tight spirals.
90° approach for a landing.
180° side approach for a landing.
360° approach for a landing (simulated).
Spirals for a landing (simulated).
Slips (forward and side).
Controlled slipping turns.
Cross-wind take-offs.
Cross-wind landings.
Downwind landings (moderate winds).
Power approaches and wheel landings.
Dragging areas.
Accidental and cross-control spins (climbing and level flight turns).

(iii) Advanced maneuvers.

Lazy eights.
Chandelles.
Precision spins (1½, 2, and 3 turns).

(3) A minimum of 15-minute discussion periods must be provided before and after each flight.

(4) Where seaplanes are used the following should be included:

(i) Additional maneuvers.

Semi-stall and full-stall landings.
Power approaches and power landings given under average water conditions and on glassy water.
Where practicable, landings and take-offs on various bodies of water such as a bay (tide action) and streams (current).
Precision sailing (with and without power).
Precision docking, beaching, and mooring.
Forced landings executed to buoy markers.

(5) Where helicopters are used, it may be found necessary to modify or eliminate certain flight maneuvers because of the wide variation in flight characteristics that exist in helicopters of different manufacture. This is permissible within the placarded limitations of the aircraft flight manual. In general, the curriculum shall include the following:

(i) Elementary maneuvers.

Taxiing (into wind, downwind, and cross-wind).
Take-offs (upwind and cross-wind).
Landings (into the wind).
Hovering (into wind and cross-wind).
90° hovering turns.
Sideward and backward flight.
Rectangular course (hovering altitude constant heading).
Climbing and descending.
Minimum banked turns (not to exceed 30°).
Normal, 30° angle, approaches to landing.
Traffic pattern flying.
Elementary autorotative approaches.
Simulated emergency landings.

(ii) Intermediate maneuvers.

360° hovering turns.
Accuracy landings: normal, slow-steep, fast-low, flare and no-flare type approaches.
Autorotative approaches: straight, 90°, 180°, and 360°.
S-turns along ground reference line (varying speeds).
Medium steep banked turns (30° to 45°).
Rapid decelerations (quick stops).
Pattern flying changing headings at hovering altitude.
Cross-wind take-offs and landings.

(iii) Advanced maneuvers.

Running take-offs and landings.
Accuracy landings from autorotative glides: 90°, 180°, and 360°.
Vertical autorotation.
Settling with power and recovery.
Altitude flying: this to be accomplished sufficiently high above terrain to realize the deceptions which may occur when flying a helicopter at altitude by outside visual reference only.
Downwind hovering.

§ 50.20–1 Application (CAA rules which apply to § 50.20). The application shall be submitted on Form ACA–387, Application for Airman Agency Certificate and Rating, and Inspection Report. This form may be obtained from the nearest CAA Aviation Safety District Office. The local Aviation Safety Agent will furnish full information as to the execution of this application and will arrange appointments for the inspection of the facilities, equipment, etc. It is suggested that prior to the execution of the application the applicant discuss the rating sought with the Aviation Safety Agent involved.

Unless requested by the local Aviation Safety Agent, it will not be necessary to submit the proposed curriculums in duplicate.

§ 50.29–1 Graduation certificates (CAA rules which apply to § 50.29). A graduation certificate shall be issued on Form ACA–391. It may be obtained from the local Aviation Safety Agent and, in addition to other pertinent data, shall reflect the grades obtained by the individual student on the written or practical examination conducted by the school.

[SEAL] J. S. MARRIOTT,
Acting Administrator of Civil Aeronautics.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

Wage and Hour Division

LEARNER EMPLOYMENT CERTIFICATES

NOTICE OF ISSUANCE TO VARIOUS INDUSTRIES

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to section 14 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended (52 Stat. 1068, as amended; 29 U. S. C. and Supp. 214), and Part 522 issued thereunder (29 CFR Part 522), special certificates authorizing the employment of learners at hourly wage rates lower than the minimum wage rates applicable under section 6 of the act have been issued to the firms listed below. The employment of learners under these certificates is limited to the terms and conditions therein contained and is subject to the provisions of Part 522. The effective and expiration dates, occupations, wage rates, number or proportion of learners, and learning period for certificates issued under the general learner regulations (§§ 522.1 to 522.14) are as indicated below; conditions provided in certificates issued under special industry regulations are as established in these regulations.

Single Pants, Shirts and Allied Garments, Women's Apparel, Sportswear and Other Odd Outerwear, Robes and Leather and Sheep-Lined Garments Divisions of the Apparel Industry Learner Regulations (29 CFR 522.160 to 522.166, as amended September 25, 1950; 15 F. R. 5701; 6326).

Abatex Dress Manufacturing Co., Chesterton, Ind., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; for normal labor turnover, five learners (plastic aprons and raincoats).

Abbottstown Garment Co., Box 48, Abbottstown, Pa., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; for normal labor turnover, five learners (men's and boys' sport jackets).

Abetta Sportswear, Inc., Page Hill, New Bedford, Mass., effective 4–2–51 to 4–1–52; for normal labor turnover, 10 percent of productive factory workers (women's dresses).

Alabama Textile Products Co., River Falls Street, Andalusia, Ala., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; 10 percent normal labor turnover (dress shirts and work pants) (replacement certificate).

Alabama Textile Products Corp., Panama City, Fla., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; 10 percent normal labor turnover (dress shirts).

J. M. Bernstein & Co., Inc., Sixth and Oxford Streets, Pocomoke City, Md., effective 4–4–51 to 4–3–52; for normal labor turnover, 10 learners (sport shirts).

J. M. Bernstein & Co., Inc., Sixth and Oxford Streets, Pocomoke City, Md., effective 4–4–51 to 10–3–51; 40 learners for expansion purposes (sport shirts).

Blue Bell, Inc., 301 North Main Street, Abingdon, Ill., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; 10 percent normal labor turnover (bib overalls).

Blue Bell, Inc., West Lee and Fuller Streets, Greensboro, N. C., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; 10 percent normal labor turnover (overalls and coveralls).

Blue Bell, Inc., 626 South Elm Street, Greensboro, N. C., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; 10 percent normal labor turnover (boys' dungarees, boxer shorts and longs; kiddies' dungarees and bib overalls).

Blue Bell, Inc., Lenoir, N. C., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; 10 percent normal labor turnover (dungarees).

Boonville Manufacturing Corp., Boonville, Ind., effective 4–3–51 to 10–15–51; for normal labor turnover, 10 percent of total number of productive factory workers engaged in manufacture of men's woven pajamas (men's and boys' pajamas) (replacement certificate).

Brewster Shirt Manufacturing Co., P. O. Box 778, Ocala, Fla., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; for normal labor turnover, 10 percent or 10 learners, whichever is greater (men's sport shirts).

California Manufacturing Co., California, Mo., effective 3–31–51 to 3–30–52; 10 percent normal labor turnover (jackets).

Carbondale Products Co., Inc., 21 Dundaff Street, Carbondale, Pa., effective 4–3–51 to 4–2–52; for normal labor turnover, five learners (ladies' rayon underwear).

Cleardale Sportswear Co., Inc., Coalport, Pa., effective 4–3–51 to 4–2–52; 10 percent normal labor turnover (sport shirts).

Commerce Manufacturing Co., 345 East Commerce Street, San Antonio, Tex., effective 4–2–51 to 10–1–51; 40 learners for expansion purposes (boys' shirts, overalls, and slacks).

D & D Sewing Co., Delta (York County), Pa., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; 10 percent normal labor turnover (children's cotton outerwear).

D & R Sportswear Co., Main Street, Roseto, Pa., effective 3–27–51 to 3–26–52; five learners for normal labor turnover (blouses).

Dalomar Dress Co., 41 Polk Street, Riverside, N. J., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; 10 learners for normal labor turnover (dresses).

East Jewett Dress Co., East Jewett, N. Y., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; five learners for normal labor turnover (dresses).

Edgefield Shirt Co., Inc., Swainsboro, Ga., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; five learners for normal labor turnover (shirts).

Elder Manufacturing Co., McLeansboro, Ill., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; 10 percent normal labor turnover (men's and boys' dress shirts).

Empire Manufacturing Corp., Statesville, N. C., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; 10 percent normal labor turnover (hunting clothing).

Florida Maid Sportswear, Inc., 114–118 Canal Street, New Smyrna Beach, Fla., effective 3–30–51 to 3–29–52; five learners for normal labor turnover (ladies' play clothes).

N. L. Friedlen & Co., 278 West Thirteenth Street, Holland, Mich., effective 4–4–51 to 4–3–52; for normal labor turnover, 10 percent or 10 learners, whichever is greater (jackets).

The Fuller Shirt Co., Inc., Kingston, N. Y., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; 10 percent normal labor turnover (dress shirts, collars, sleeping wear).

Carver Manufacturing Corp., 1213 South Thirteenth Street, Wilmington, N. C., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; 10 percent normal labor turnover (sport shirts).

Copher Manufacturing Co., Buffalo, Minn., effective 4–2–51 to 4–1–52; 10 learners for normal labor turnover (dungarees and jeans).

Gopher Manufacturing Co., Buffalo, Minn., effective 4–2–51 to 10–1–51; 15 learners for expansion purposes (dungarees and jeans).

Hardwick Woolen Mills, Inc., Cleveland, Tenn., effective 3–30–51 to 3–29–52; 10 percent normal labor turnover (single pants).

The Hercules Trouser Co., Wellston, Ohio, effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; 10 percent normal labor turnover (men's and boys' single pants).

Hickory Overall Co., 902–4 Federal Street, Hickory, N. C., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; 10 learners for normal labor turnover (overalls, pants, and work shirts).

I. B. S. Manufacturing Co., Second and Clark Streets, New Albany, Miss., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; 10 percent normal labor turnover (men's and boys' cotton work shirts).

The Jay Garment Co., Brookville, Ind., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; 10 learners for normal labor turnover (children's cotton overalls).

The Jay Garment Co., South Meridian, Portland, Ind., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; 10 percent normal labor turnover (men's cotton work clothing, children's overalls).

Kaplan and Koral, 587 Main Street, Edwardsville, Pa., effective 4–4–51 to 4–3–52; for normal labor turnover, 10 percent or 10 learners, whichever is greater (women's dresses).

Katz Underwear Co., Honesdale, Pa., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; 10 percent normal labor turnover (women's and children's nightwear).

Julius Kayser & Co., Susquehanna, Pa., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; 10 learners for normal labor turnover (ladies' slips and petticoats).

Kings Dresses, 519 Broadway, Kingston (Ulster County), N. Y., effective 4–2–51 to 4–1–52; 10 percent normal labor turnover (housecoats, lounging pajamas, and dresses).

J. S. Lamy Manufacturing Co., Pacific and Osage Streets, Sedalia, Mo., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; 10 percent normal labor turnover (pants, overalls, coveralls, etc.).

Lee Champion Garment Co., Inc., 900 Lagarde Avenue, Anniston, Ala., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; 10 percent normal labor turnover (men's and boys' dress trousers).

Lillian Dress Co., 109 Chestnut Street, Dunmore, Pa., effective 4–4–51 to 4–3–52; six learners for normal labor turnover (women's and misses dresses).

Linwood Mills, Inc., LaFayette, Ga., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; five learners for normal labor turnover (shirts and pants).

Kay Lynn, Inc., 64 North Sixth Street, Hudson, N. Y., effective 4–3–51 to 4–2–52; 10 percent normal turnover (ladies' and misses' dresses and blouses).

M & C Sportswear Co., 613 Main Street, Rockland, Maine, effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; five learners for normal labor turnover (pants, overalls, coveralls, and work pants).

Manell Sportswear Co., Inc., Paola, Kans., effective 4–6–51 to 4–5–52; 10 learners for normal labor turnover (cotton and rayon skirts and sport jackets).

Maybelle Sportswear Manufacturing Co., 310½ West Weatherford Street, Fort Worth, Tex., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; 10 percent normal labor turnover (ladies' and misses' dresses).

Mode Manufacturing Corp., Wind Gap, Pa., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; six learners for normal labor turnover (ladies' blouses).

Mode O'Day Corp., Plant No. 3, 39 Federal Avenue, Logan, Utah, effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; 10 learners for normal labor turnover women's cotton house dresses).

B. F. Moore & Co., Newport, Vt., effective 4–2–51 to 4–1–52; five learners for normal labor turnover (work and sport clothing).

New England Pants Co., Inc., 131 Ash Street, Willimantic, Conn., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; 10 percent normal labor turnover (men's and boys' trousers).

Perfect Maid Apparel Co., 372 North Main Street, Taylor, Pa., effective 3–28–51 to 3–27–52; five learners for normal labor turnover (children's dresses).

Phillips-Jones Factory, Sixth and Ruddle Streets, Coaldale, Pa., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; 10 percent normal labor turnover (men's sport shirts).

Phillips-Jones Factory, Kane, Pa., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; 10 percent normal labor turnover (dress shirts).

Phillips-Jones Factory, Sunbury Street, Minersville, Pa., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; 10 percent normal labor turnover (men's sport shirts).

Phillips-Jones Factory, Muir, Pa., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; for normal labor turnover, 10 percent or 10 learners, whichever is greater (men's sport and dress shirts).

Pioneer Manufacturing Co., Inc., 83 Waller Street, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., effective 4–4–51 to 4–3–52; 10 percent normal labor turnover (children's dresses and sunsuits).

Pioneer Manufacturing Co., Inc., 83 Waller Street, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., effective 4–4–51 to 10–3–51; 61 learners for expansion purposes (children's dresses and sunsuits).

Plastex Protective Products, Inc., 145–151 Catty Avenue, Clifton, N. J., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; five learners for normal labor turnover (plastic raincoats).

Puritan Knitting Mills, 813 Twenty-fifth Street, Altoona, Pa., effective 4–2–51 to 10–1–51; 50 additional learners (supplemental certificate) (sport jackets).

Siceloff Manufacturing Co., Inc., East Second Street, Lexington, N. C., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; 10 percent normal labor turnover (overalls, dungarees, and work pants).

The Solomon Co., Inc., Leeds, Ala., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; 10 percent normal labor turnover (dress and sport trousers; junior dress jackets).

South Pine Nightwear Co., Inc., York, Pa., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; 10 percent normal labor turnover (men's pajamas and night shirts).

Southland Manufacturing Co., Inc., 1700 South Third Street, Wilmington, N. C., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; 10 percent normal labor turnover (dress and sport shirts).

Spotlight Co., Inc., 812 Hamilton Street, Allentown, Pa., effective 4–4–51 to 4–3–52; five learners for normal labor turnover ladies' slips).

Star Sportswear Manufacturing Co., 373 Broad Street, Lynn, Mass., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; 10 percent normal labor turnover (men's and boys' leather and cloth jackets).

Stylecraft Frocks, Inc., 1427 Vine Street, Philadelphia, Pa., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; for normal labor turnover, 10 percent or 10 learners, whichever is greater (ladies' and misses' dresses).

I. Taitel & Son, Drew, Miss., effective 4–6–51 to 10–5–51; 53 learners for expansion purposes (jackets).

I. Taitel & Son, Drew, Miss., effective 4–6–51 to 4–5–52; for normal labor turnover, 10 percent or 10 learners, whichever is greater (jackets).

Texas Infants Dress Co., 410 South Main Avenue, San Antonio, Tex., effective 4–5–51 to 4–2–52; eight learners for normal labor turnover (infants' and children's apparel).

Troy Textiles, Inc., Troy, Ala., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; 10 percent normal labor turnover (sport shirts).

Wentworth Manufacturing Co., Lake City, S. C., effective 4–16–51 to 10–15–51; 75 learners for expansion purposes (house dresses).

Woltz Textile Products, Inc., Old Lowe Road, Mount Airy, N. C., effective 4–1–51 to 3–31–52; 10 percent normal labor turnover (corsets and allied garments).

Wood Garment Manufacturing Co., Inc., Republic, Mo., effective 4–2–51 to 4–1–52; 10 percent normal labor turnover (men's dress trousers).

Cigar Industry Learner Regulations (29 CFR 522.201 to 522.211, as amended January 25, 1950; 15 F. R. 400).

Pennstate Cigar Corp., Philadelphia, Pa., effective 4–2–51 to 10–1–51; 40 learners for expansion purposes only in the occupation of cigar machine operating; 320 hours; 60 cents per hour for first 160 hours, and 65 cents per hour for remaining 160 hours.

Glove Industry Learner Regulations (29 CFR 522.220 to 522.231, as amended October 26, 1950; 15 F. R. 6888).

Good Luck Glove Co., Carbondale, Ill., effective 4–1–51 to 10–1–51; 10 learners for expansion purposes.

Hosiery Industry Learner Regulations (29 CFR 522.40 to 522.51, as revised January 25, 1950; 15 F. R. 283).

Berkshire Knitting Mills, Andrews, N. C., effective 3–27–51 to 11–26–51; 50 learners for expansion purposes.

Hatfield Hosiery Co., Hatboro, Pa., effective 3–29–51 to 3–28–52; three learners for normal labor turnover.

Stanly Knitting Mills, Inc., Oakboro, N. C., effective 4–5–51 to 4–4–52; five learners for normal labor turnover.

Stanly Knitting Mills, Inc., Oakboro, N. C., effective 4–5–51 to 12–4–51; five additional learners for expansion purposes.

Union Dye & Finishing Works, Inc., Union, S. C., effective 3–23–51 to 3–27–52; five learners for normal labor turnover.

Vanity Hosiery Mills, Race and Pepper Streets, Georgetown, Del., effective 4–7–51 to 4–6–52; four learners for normal labor turnover.

Knitted Wear Industry Learner Regulations (29 CFR 522.69 to 522.79, as amended January 25, 1950; 15 F. R. 398).

The Atlas Underwear Co., Piqua, Ohio, effective 4–2–51 to 4–1–52; 5 percent normal labor turnover.

Booneville Manufacturing Corp., Booneville, Ind., effective 4–3–51 to 10–2–51; 20 learners for expansion purposes, to be employed in manufacture of men's woven shorts and union suits only.

E-Z Mills, Inc., Cartersville, Ga., effective 4–2–51 to 4–1–52; 5 percent normal labor turnover.

ECONOMIC STABILIZATION AGENCY

[Gen. Order 7]

APPOINTMENT OF TEMPORARY EMERGENCY RAILROAD WAGE PANEL

By virtue of the authority vested in me as Economic Stabilization Administrator by Executive Order No. 10161 of September 9, 1950 (15 F. R. 6105), and in order to expedite the disposition of an urgent railroad wage matter now pending, and for other purposes, it is hereby determined and ordered:

SECTION 1. Appointment of Temporary Emergency Railroad Wage Panel. (a) A Temporary Emergency Railroad Wage Panel is hereby established.

(b) The Panel shall consist of three members appointed by the Administrator, one of whom shall be designated by the Administrator as Chairman.

(c) No member appointed shall be pecuniarily or otherwise interested in any carrier or in any organization representing employees of any carrier.

(d) The Administrator shall make provisions for appropriate compensation and expenses for the members of the Panel.

SEC. 2. Functions of the Board. (a) The Panel is directed and authorized to conduct hearings and otherwise investigate the circumstances and merits of the request for approval of increases in wages of certain non-operating railroad employees, filed by the Eastern Carriers' Conference Committee, the Western Carriers' Conference Committee, and the Southeastern Carriers' Conference Committee with the Administrator under date of March 27, 1951.

(b) The Panel is further directed and authorized to make findings of fact, and to report its findings and recommendations to the Administrator.

(c) The Panel may conduct hearings and investigations and make findings of fact and recommendations with respect to such other matters involving wages of employees subject to the Railway Labor Act as the Administrator may request.

(d) In making its findings and recommendations, the Panel shall give due consideration to the over-all national economic stabilization program, including wage stabilization regulations.

SEC. 3. Railway Labor Act. No provision hereof shall be deemed to interfere or conflict with the Railway Labor Act or any agency created thereby or thereunder.

SEC. 4. Definitions. (a) "Employees" means "employees" as defined in sec. 1 of the Railway Labor Act of "carriers" as defined in said act (45 U. S. C. 151).

(b) "Administrator" means the Economic Stabilization Administrator.

(c) "Panel" means the Temporary Emergency Railroad Wage Panel.

SEC. 5. Tenure. The members of the Panel shall serve until the Panel is dissolved or successors are appointed by the Administrator.

SEC. 6. Executive Officer. The Administrator shall appoint an Executive Officer, who shall serve as administrative aide to the Panel and shall otherwise assist the Panel in its functions.

SEC. 7. Effective date. This general order shall become effective at 6:35 p. m., Monday, April 9, 1951.

General Order No. 3 of January 24, 1951 (16 F. R. 739), is hereby superseded to the extent that it is inconsistent herewith.

Issued: April 9, 1951.

ERIC JOHNSTON,
Economic Stabilization Administrator.

[No. 709]

ALASKA HERRING PACKERS ASSN. ET AL. AND ALASKA STEAMSHIP COMPANY

NOTICE OF HEARING

This case involves increased rates of respondent on fish meal, in sacks, and fish oil from Southeastern and Southwestern Alaskan ports to Seattle, Washington. In a petition filed on behalf of Alaska Herring Packers Association and members thereof, it was alleged that such rates were in violation of the Shipping Act, 1916, and request was made that they be suspended. The Board, on April 3, 1951, ordered that the rates be not suspended; that the complaint presented by the petition be set for hearing; that respondent deposit in a separate account all money representing increased revenue accruing subsequent to April 5, 1951; that respondent, upon entry of the Board's final order in the complaint proceeding repay to shippers, out of the aforementioned account, the sums, if any, to which they may be entitled; that all sums in the account other than sums which the Board may order repaid to shippers shall, upon entry of and compliance with the order, become unconditionally the property of respondent, and that respondent shall be relieved of further obligation to maintain said account or to make further deposits therein.

The hearing will be held beginning at 10 o'clock a. m., May 7, 1951, in Seattle, Washington, before Examiner F. J. Horan.

Notice of the place of hearing will be issued later.

All persons desiring to intervene in this proceeding are requested to notify the Board accordingly on or before April 23, 1951, and should file intervening petitions in accordance with the rules of procedure.

Dated: April 3, 1951.

By order of the Federal Maritime Board.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[Docket No. G-1646]

TEXAS EASTERN TRANSMISSION CORP. ET AL.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

APRIL 9, 1951.

In the matter of Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation, The East Ohio Gas Company, New York State Natural Gas Corporation; Docket No. G-1646.

Take notice that Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation (Texas Eastern), a Delaware corporation, address, Shreveport, Louisiana, The East Ohio Gas Company (East Ohio), an Ohio corporation, address, Cleveland, Ohio, and New York State Natural Gas Corporation (New York State Natural), a New York corporation, address, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania (hereinafter sometimes referred to as Applicants) filed on March 30, 1951, a joint application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, authorizing, for a limited period, the emergency delivery, exchange and transportation, through the existing pipelines of East Ohio and New York State Natural, of base storage gas for the Oakford Storage Pool, Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania, pending the completion by Texas Eastern of its lateral pipeline to such storage pool.

Applicants state that Texas Eastern now has natural gas available for injection into the Oakford Storage Pool during the storage months of April through October 1951, but due to delay in receipt of materials, the lateral pipeline required for such deliveries into storage has not been completed. Applicants propose to utilize the pipelines of East Ohio and New York State Natural which are not utilized to capacity during the input storage months to deliver Texas Eastern's storage gas to the storage area. This is proposed to be accomplished by the delivery of gas by Texas Eastern to East Ohio at the existing Mullett Farm connection in Ohio and the successive exchange and transportation of like quantities of gas by East Ohio and New York State Natural for the account of Texas Eastern for ultimate delivery into the Oakford Storage Pool as Texas Eastern's share of the base storage gas for the injection period, as heretofore authorized by the Commission in Docket No. G-1391. Applicants have entered into an agreement dated March 30, 1951, to effect the proposed temporary operating arrangement, and they estimate that quantities up to approximately 30,000 Mcf per day of natural gas will be handled in accordance therewith. The agreement provides for termination upon the completion of Texas Eastern's lateral to the Oakford Storage Pool or on November 1, 1951, whichever first occurs.

Applicants propose to perform the operations without undertaking any additional service and they state that such operations can be performed with the use of existing facilities and without incurring additional operating costs.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before the 27th day of April 1951. The joint application is on file with the Commission for public inspection.

[Docket No. G-1648]

CENTRAL KENTUCKY NATURAL GAS CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

APRIL 9, 1951.

Take notice that Central Kentucky Natural Gas Company (Applicant), a Kentucky corporation, address, Charleston, West Virginia, filed on April 2, 1951, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act authorizing the construction and operation of approximately 12.8 miles of 20-inch loop pipeline paralleling Applicant's existing 14-inch line extending northwestward from North Means, Kentucky.

Applicant proposes, by means of the proposed facilities, to increase the estimated capacity of its existing facilities from 247,000 Mcf per day of natural gas to 299,000 Mcf per day. This increase of 52,000 Mcf per day of natural gas is proposed to be used to make deliveries to Applicant's customers in the Cincinnati, Ohio, area to meet their estimated peak day requirements during the winter of 1951-52.

The estimated cost of the proposed facilities is $780,000 and Applicant proposes to finance the cost of construction by the issuance and sale of securities to its parent company, The Columbia Gas System, Inc.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before the 27th day of April 1951. The application is on file with the Commission for public inspection.

[Docket No. G-1653]

MISSISSIPPI RIVER FUEL CORP.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

APRIL 6, 1951.

Take notice that Mississippi River Fuel Corporation (Applicant), a Delaware corporation, of 407 North Eighth Street, St. Louis, Missouri, filed on April 4, 1951, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, authorizing the construction and operation of certain natural gas transmission pipeline facilities hereinafter described.

The principal facilities proposed to be constructed and operated by Applicant are:

(a) A natural gas transmission pipeline approximately 98 miles in length, beginning in Lincoln Parish, Louisiana, at the southwestern terminus of Applicant's existing Perryville-California Company pipeline authorized in Docket Nos. G-1281 and G-1490, and extending westwardly to the Woodlawn Gas Field in Harrison County, Texas, the said pipeline to consist of approximately 5 miles of 18-inch and 93 miles of 16-inch diameter pipe, and 1.1 miles of 12-inch diameter pipe in two lines across the Red River.

(b) Approximately 11 miles of 10-inch diameter natural gas transmission pipeline beginning at a point on the proposed line to the Woodlawn Field approximately 14 miles east of the Woodlawn Field line terminus, and extending southwardly to the Waskom Field in Harrison County, Texas.

(c) Approximately 200 horsepower compressor facilities to be installed on the Perryville-California Company pipeline at the California Company gasoline plant.

The estimated cost of the facilities proposed to be constructed is $5,135,070 exclusive of gathering lines to be installed initially, which are estimated in the application at $489,147. Applicant states that arrangements for borrowing money to finance the project are presently being made.

The purpose of the proposed facilities, according to the application, is to enable Applicant to obtain supplies of natural gas from two additional sources as follows:

(a) From Stanolind Oil and Gas Company and Continental Oil Company out of the Woodlawn Field of Harrison County, Texas, and

(b) From Ed E. Hurley and Byrd Oil Corporation out of the Waskom Field, Harrison County, Texas.

Applicant states that the substantial terms of gas purchase contracts have been agreed upon with the above-named prospective suppliers and that it expects to execute within a few days such contracts under which the quantities of gas available will be variable "but will probably total not less than 50,000 Mcf per day during the 1951-52 heating season." Applicant further states that reserve studies are being made and that the contracts and studies will be filed as a supplement to its application as soon as available.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.10) on or before the 27th day of April 1951. The application is on file with the Commission for public inspection.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 70-2593]

CENTRAL AND SOUTH WEST CORP.

ORDER PERMITTING DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 5th day of April A. D. 1951.

Central and South West Corporation ("Central"), a registered holding company, having filed a declaration, pursuant to sections 6 (a), 7 and 12 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") and Rules U-62 and U-100 of the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, with respect to the following transactions:

Central proposes to amend its Articles of Incorporation so as to (1) increase its authorized capital stock from 8,000,000 shares of $5 par value common stock to 10,000,000 shares of $5 par value common stock and (2) limit the present preemptive rights of its common stockholders so as to permit the sale for cash of shares of common stock, or any securities convertible into common stock, either by means of a public offering, or to or through underwriters or investment bankers who shall have agreed promptly to make a public offering of such shares or securities.

The declaration states that, under the laws of Delaware, the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding common stock is required for the adoption of each of said amendments.

Central proposes to solicit the holders of its common stock for proxies to be voted at the annual meeting to be held on May 15, 1951 in favor of the proposed amendments to its Articles of Incorporation. The declaration states that Central may retain the services of Dudley King, a professional solicitor, to assist in the solicitation of proxies from a specified group of stockholders, consisting primarily of dealers, commercial banks, trust companies and other institutional investors, and if so retained, the charges and expenses of the solicitor, not to exceed $2,000, will be paid by Central. Other fees and expenses to be incurred by Central in connection with the proposed transactions are estimated at $4,500.

Said declaration having been filed on March 15, 1951, and notice of said filing having been duly given in the form and manner prescribed by Rule U-23 promulgated pursuant to said act, and the Commission not having received a request for hearing with respect to said declaration within the time specified in said notice, or otherwise, and the Commission not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission finding with respect to said declaration that the requirements of the applicable provisions of the act and the rules promulgated thereunder are satisfied, that no adverse findings are necessary, and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers to permit said declaration to become effective and to grant declarant's request that the order herein be accelerated and become effective upon the issuance thereof:

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the act, and subject to the terms and conditions contained in Rule U-24, that said declaration be, and the same hereby is, permitted to become effective.

It is further ordered, That this order shall become effective upon its issuance.

By the Commission.

HARRISBURG GAS CO.

NOTICE OF FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 6th day of April A. D. 1951.

Notice is hereby given that a declaration has been filed with this Commission, pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act"), by The Harrisburg Gas Company ("Harrisburg"), a public utility subsidiary of the United Gas Improvement Company, a registered holding company. Declarant has designated section 6 (b) of the act as applicable to the proposed transaction.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than April 23, 1951, at 5:30 p. m., e. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the reasons for such request, the nature of his interest, and the issues of fact or law raised by said declaration which he desires to controvert, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time after April 23, 1951, said declaration as filed, or as amended, may be permitted to become effective as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may exempt such transaction as provided in Rules U-20 (a) and U-100 thereof.

All interested persons are referred to said declaration which is on file in the offices of this Commission for a statement of the transaction therein proposed, which is summarized as follows:

Harrisburg proposes to issue and sell $1,000,000 principal amount of its First Mortgage Bonds, 3.15 percent series due 1976, for $1,000,000 in cash to the following:

	Principal amount
The Philadelphia Savings Fund Society, Philadelphia, Pa.	$600,000
The Beneficial Savings Fund Society, Philadelphia, Pa.	400,000
Total	1,000,000

The proceeds from the sale of the bonds will be used to repay certain notes and open account indebtedness and to finance Harrisburg's construction program for 1951.

It is stated that the proposed sale of bonds by Harrisburg is subject to the jurisdiction of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission and that the approval of that body will be filed herein by amendment.

By the Commission.

APR 16 '51

FEDERAL REGISTER

VOLUME 16 NUMBER 72

Washington, Friday, April 13, 1951

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

Chapter IX—Production and Marketing Administration (Marketing Agreements and Orders), Department of Agriculture

PART 904—MILK IN THE GREATER BOSTON MARKETING AREA

ORDER AMENDING ORDER AS AMENDED, REGULATING HANDLING

§ 904.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and of each of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon a proposed marketing agreement and certain proposed amendments to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Greater Boston, Massachusetts, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the said marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(b) Additional findings. It is hereby found and determined that good cause exists for making this order amending the order, as amended, effective April 15, 1951. Such action is necessary in the public interest in order to reflect current marketing conditions and to insure the production of an adequate supply of milk. Any substantial consumer acceptance of concentrated milk would be reflected in a reduced volume of Class I sales in the marketing area and would result in a significant reduction in the blend price of milk to producers. Accordingly, any further delay in the effective date of this order amending the order, as amended, will seriously threaten the orderly marketing of milk in the Greater Boston, Massachusetts, marketing area. The provisions of the said order are well known to handlers, the public hearing having been held on March 12, 1951, the recommended decision having been published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (16 F. R. 2658) March 24, 1951, and the final decision having been executed by the Secretary on April 5, 1951. Therefore, reasonable time under the circumstances, has been afforded persons affected to prepare for its effective date and it would be contrary to the public interest to delay the effective date of this amendment for 30 days after its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER. (See section 4 (c) Administrative Procedure Act, Public Law 404, 79th Congress, 60 Stat. 237.)

(c) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing or shipping milk covered by this order amending the order, as amended) of more than 50 percent of the volume of the milk covered by this order amending the order, as amended, which is marketed within the said marketing area, refused or failed to sign the proposed marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order amending the order, as amended, is the only practical means, pursuant to the declared policy of the act, of advancing the interests of producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order amending the order, as amended, is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who during the determined representative period (February 1951) were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered, that on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Greater Boston, Massachusetts, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order as amended, and as hereby further amended, and the aforesaid order, as amended, is hereby further amended as follows:

1. Amend § 904.1 (d) (4) by deleting the present language and substituting therefor the following:

(4) "Fluid milk products" means milk, flavored milk, cream, skim milk, flavored skim milk, cultured skim milk, buttermilk, and concentrated milk, either individually or collectively.

2. Amend § 904.1 (d) by adding a new subparagraph (8) as follows:

(8) "Concentrated milk" means any unsterilized liquid milk product, other than those products commonly known as evaporated milk and sweetened condensed milk, which is obtained by the evaporation of water from milk and milk to which any other milk product may be added in the process of manufacture. For purposes of this part the weight of the fluid milk products used to produce the concentrated milk shall be used rather than the actual weight of the concentrated milk.

3. Amend § 904.3 (a) (2) (i) by deleting the present language and substituting therefor the following:

(i) As being sold, distributed, or disposed of other than as or in milk and other than as or in concentrated milk for fluid consumption, flavored milk or flavored skim milk, buttermilk, or cultured skim milk, for human consumption; and

4. Amend § 904.3 (c) by deleting the introductory language "milk, flavored milk, skim milk, cultured or flavored skim milk or buttermilk" and substituting therefor the following: "Any fluid milk product, except cream,"

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. and Sup. 608c)

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 10th day of April 1951, to be effective on and after the 15th day of April 1951.

PART 934—MILK IN THE LOWELL-LAWRENCE, MASSACHUSETTS, MARKETING AREA

ORDER AMENDING ORDER, AS AMENDED, REGULATING HANDLING

§ 934.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and of each of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon a proposed marketing agreement and certain proposed amendments to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Lowell-Lawrence, Massachusetts, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the said marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(b) Additional findings. It is hereby found and determined that good cause exists for making this order, amending the order, as amended, effective April 15, 1951. Such action is necessary, in the public interest in order to reflect current marketing conditions and to insure the production of an adequate supply of milk. Any substantial consumer acceptance of concentrated milk would be reflected in a reduced volume of Class I sales in the marketing area and would result in a substantial reduction in the blend price of milk to producers. Accordingly, any further delay in the effective date of this order amending the order, as amended, will seriously threaten the orderly marketing of milk in the Lowell-Lawrence marketing area. The provisions of the said order are well known to handlers, the public hearing having been held on March 12, 1951, the recommended decision having been published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (16 F. R. 2658) March 24, 1951, and the final decision having been executed by the Secretary on April 5, 1951. Therefore, reasonable time, under the circumstances, has been afforded persons affected to prepare for its effective date, and it would be contrary to the public interest to delay the effective date of this amendment for 30 days after its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER. (See section 4 (c) Administrative Procedure Act, Public Law 404, 79th Congress, 60 Stat. 237.)

(c) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing or shipping milk covered by this order amending the order, as amended) of more than 50 percent of the volume of the milk covered by this order amending the order, as amended, which is marketed within the said marketing area, refused or failed to sign the proposed marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order amending the order, as amended, is the only practical means, pursuant to the declared policy of the act, of advancing the interests of producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order amending the order, as amended, is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who during the determined representative period (February 1951) were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered, that on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Lowell-Lawrence, Massachusetts, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order as amended, and as hereby further amended, and the aforesaid order, as amended, is hereby further amended as follows:

1. Amend § 934.4 (d) by deleting the present language and substituting therefor the following:

(d) "Fluid milk products" means milk, flavored milk, cream, skim milk, flavored skim milk, cultured skim milk, buttermilk, and concentrated milk, either individually or collectively.

2. Amend § 934.4 by adding a new paragraph (h) as follows:

(h) "Concentrated milk" means any unsterilized liquid milk product, other than those products commonly known as evaporated milk and sweetened condensed milk, which is obtained by the evaporation of water from milk and milk to which any other milk product may be added in the process of manufacture. For purposes of this part the weight of the fluid milk products used to produce the concentrated milk shall be used rather than the actual weight of the concentrated milk.

3. Amend § 934.15 (b) (1) by deleting the present language and substituting therefor the following:

(1) As being sold, distributed, or disposed of other than as or in milk and other than as or in concentrated milk for fluid consumption, flavored milk or flavored skim milk, buttermilk, or cultured skim milk, for human consumption; and

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. and Sup. 608c)

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 10th day of April 1951, to be effective on and after the 15th day of April 1951.

Secretary of Agriculture.

PART 947—MILK IN THE FALL RIVER, MASSACHUSETTS, MARKETING AREA

ORDER AMENDING ORDER, AS AMENDED, REGULATING HANDLING

§ 947.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and of each of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon a proposed marketing agreement and certain proposed amendments to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Fall River, Massachusetts, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the said marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(b) Additional findings. It is hereby found and determined that good cause exists for making this order, amending the order, as amended, effective April 15, 1951. Such action is necessary, in the public interest, in order to reflect current marketing conditions and to insure the production of an adequate supply of milk. Any substantial consumer acceptance of concentrated milk would be reflected in a reduced volume of Class I sales in the marketing area and would result in a substantial reduction in the blend price of milk to producers. The provisions of the said order are well known to handlers, the public hearing having been held on March 12, 1951, the recommended decision having been published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (16 F. R. 2658) March 24, 1951, and the final decision having been executed by the Secretary on April 5, 1951. Therefore, reasonable time, under the circumstances, has been afforded persons affected to prepare for its effective date and it would be contrary to the public interest to delay the effective date of his amendment for 30 days after its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER. (See section 4 (c) Administrative Procedure Act, Public Law 404, 79th Congress, 60 Stat. 237.)

(c) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing or shipping milk covered by this order amending the order, as amended) of more than 50 percent of the volume of the milk covered by this order amending the order, as amended, which is marketed within the said marketing area, refused or failed to sign the proposed marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, and it is hereby further determined that:

(3) The issuance of this order amending the order, as amended, is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who during the determined representative period (February 1951) were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered, that on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Fall River, Massachusetts, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order as amended, and as hereby further amended, and the aforesaid order, as amended, is hereby further amended as follows:

1. Amend § 947.1 (r) by deleting the present language and substituting therefor the following:

(r) "Fluid milk products" means milk, flavored milk, cream, skim milk, flavored skim milk, cultured skim milk, buttermilk, and concentrated milk, either individually or collectively.

2. Amend § 947.1 by adding a new paragraph (s) as follows:

(s) "Concentrated milk" means any unsterilized liquid milk product, other than those products commonly known as evaporated milk and sweetened condensed milk, which is obtained by the evaporation of water from milk and milk to which any other milk product may be added in the process of manufacture. For purposes of this part the weight of the fluid milk products used to produce the concentrated milk shall be used rather than the actual weight of the concentrated milk.

3. Amend § 947.5 (b) (2) (i) by deleting the present language and substituting therefor the following:

(i) Sold, distributed, or disposed of other than as milk which contains one-half of 1 percent or more but less than 16 percent of butterfat, and other than as concentrated milk for fluid consumption, chocolate or flavored whole milk or skim milk, buttermilk, or cultured skim milk, for human consumption; and

TITLE 8—ALIENS AND NATIONALITY

Chapter I—Immigration and Naturalization Service, Department of Justice

Subchapter B—Immigration Regulations

PART 173—CHINESE CITIZENS PARTICIPATING IN THE CHINA AREA AID ACT OF 1950

EMPLOYMENT

APRIL 9, 1951.

Chapter I, Title 8 of the Code of Federal Regulations, is amended by adding the following new part:

§ 173.1 Selected citizens of China. Any citizen of China, admitted temporarily to the United States who has been, or may hereafter be, selected by the Secretary of State to participate in the educational and training program authorized by the China Area Aid Act of 1950 (64 Stat. 202, 22 U. S. C. 1547; Public Law 535, 81st Congress, Title II, section 202), may be permitted to accept employment in the United States during the period he is a participant in such program if he makes application to the district director having jurisdiction over his place of residence for permission to accept employment, and such application is approved. If he remains in the United States after he has completed his participation in such program, he may accept employment in the United States if he makes application to the district director having jurisdiction over his place of residence for permission to accept employment and such application is approved: Provided, That in order to enjoy this privilege he shall submit a report every three months to the district director having jurisdiction over the place of his residence, showing his current address and the nature and place of his employment. Nothing in this part shall be construed as granting to or conferring upon the alien any other status, exemptions, or privilege under the immigration laws of the United States.

This order shall become effective on the date of its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The regulation prescribed by the order is necessary for carrying out the provisions of the China Area Aid Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 535, 81st Cong.). Compliance with the provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 228; 5 U. S. C. 1003) relative to notice of proposed rule making and delayed effective date is not considered necessary in this instance since the regulation prescribed by the order is regarded as merely declaratory of the provisions of the statute.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

§ 30.1 Scope. The regulations in this part establish instructions and standards governing the procurement, delivery, possession, use, transfer (including export), and disposal of radioisotopes (a) originating in or procured from the facilities of the Commission or of a distributor, or (b) originating in domestic facilities not owned by the Commission, but distributed by or through the Commission or a distributor, or (c) originating in any foreign nuclear reactor for shipment into the United States. The regulations in this part do not apply to source and fissionable materials as defined in this part, or to any radioactive material not covered by the immediately preceding sentence.

§ 30.2 Definitions. As used in this part:

(a) Commission. "Commission" means the United States Atomic Energy Commission created by the Atomic Energy Act of 1946, or its duly authorized representative.

(b) Distributor. "Distributor" means any person to the extent that such person is engaged in operating Commission-owned laboratories, plants, or other facilities under a contract with the Commission and is engaged in the distribution of radioisotopes for the Commission.

(c) Fissionable material. "Fissionable material" means fissionable material as defined in section 5 (a) (1) of the Atomic Energy Act of 1946 and in the regulations contained in Part 70, Definition of Fissionable Material, of this chapter.

(d) One millicurie. "One millicurie" means that amount of radioactive material which disintegrates at the rate of 37 million atoms per second.

(e) Person. "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, firm, association, trust, estate, public or private institution, group, the United States or any agency thereof, any government other than the United States, any political subdivision of any such government, and any legal successor, representative, agent, or agency of the foregoing, or other entity, but shall not include the Commission or officers or employees of the Commission in the exercise of duly authorized functions.

(f) Radioisotope. "Radioisotope" means any radioactive material yielded in or made radioactive by exposure to the radiation incident to the processes of producing or utilizing fissionable material. "Radioisotope" also means any other radioactive material.

(g) Roentgen (=r). "Roentgen (=r)" means that quantity of X or gamma radiation such that the associated corpuscular emission per 0.001293 gram of air produces, in air, ions carrying 1 electrostatic unit of electricity of either sign.

(h) Roentgen-equivalent-man (=rem). "Roentgen-equivalent-man (=rem)" means that quantity of radiation that when absorbed by mammalian tissue produces an effect equivalent to the absorption by this tissue of one roentgen of X or gamma radiation.

(i) Roentgen-equivalent-physical (=rep). "Roentgen-equivalent-physical (=rep)" means that dose of ionizing radiation that is capable of producing energy absorption of 93 ergs per gram of tissue.

(j) Service irradiation. "Service irradiation" means the exposure of materials of any kind to radiation in accordance with instructions and at the request of some person.

(k) Source material. "Source material" means source material as defined in section 5 (b) (1) of the Atomic Energy Act of 1946 and in the regulations contained in Part 40, Control of Source Material, of this chapter.

§ 30.3 Amendment. Nothing in this part shall limit the authority of the Commission to issue or amend its regulations in accordance with law.

§ 30.4 Communications. All communications about the regulations in this part or any Authorization issued under them should be addressed to the United States Atomic Energy Commission, Post Office Box E, Oak Ridge, Tennessee, Attention: Isotopes Division.

EXEMPTIONS

§ 30.10 Persons operating Commission-owned facilities. The regulations in this part do not apply to persons to the extent that such persons operate Commission-owned facilities in carrying out programs on behalf of the Commission. In such cases, the acquisition, transfer, use, and disposal of radioisotopes are governed by the contracts between such persons and the Commission, and internal bulletins, instructions and directives issued by the Commission.

§ 30.11 Transfer to the Commission. The actions of any person in transferring or delivering radioisotopes to the Commission are not subject to the regulations in this part. The exemption provided in this section does not, however, relieve any person from the obligation to comply with shipping requirements otherwise provided by law. (See § 30.41.)

§ 30.12 Carriers. Common and contract carriers transporting radioisotopes in the normal course of business are exempt from the regulations in this part.

§ 30.13 Items and quantities. (a) Sections 30.20 through 30.61, inclusive, do not apply to any item listed in § 30.70 Schedule A, nor to any quantity listed in § 30.71 Schedule B: Provided, however, That no person shall, except as otherwise permitted by the regulations contained in this part, effect an increase in the radioactivity of such scheduled items or quantities by adding other radioactive material thereto, by combining the radioisotopes from two or more such items or quantities, or by altering them in any other manner so as to increase thereby the rate of radiation exposure of himself or others above the original rate therefrom.

(b) In addition the Commission may, upon application of any interested party, exempt specific items from the application of all or any portion of the regulations in this part subject to such conditions as the Commission may establish whenever the Commission determines that the possession, use, or transfer, of such items will not endanger health or present a hazard to life or property.

APPLICATIONS

§ 30.20 Filing. (a) Any person, except the official representative of a foreign applicant, who desires to possess or use radioisotopes shall file "Application for Radioisotope Procurement," Form AEC–313, with the Isotopes Division of the Commission, or such other place as may be designated by the Commission, specifying the use to be made of the material and giving all other information called for by the form. Copies of the form will be furnished upon request to the United States Atomic Energy Commission, Post Office Box E, Oak Ridge, Tennessee, Attention: Isotopes Division.

(b) Applications for radioisotopes to be used in a foreign country shall be submitted through that country's official representative in charge of isotope procurement. Upon request, foreign representatives will be informed by the Commission of the desired form and content of applications and the terms and conditions upon which radioisotopes may be obtained.

§ 30.21 Conditions. The Commission will not approve a domestic application:

(a) Unless the radioisotope is requested for one or more of the following purposes: research or development activity, medical therapy, industrial uses, processing or making of compounds, or such other useful applications as may be developed; or

(b) If it is determined by the Commission that the applicant is not equipped to observe the health and safety standards established by the Commission; or

(c) If it is determined by the Commission that the applicant is not qualified to use radioisotopes for the requested purpose.

§ 30.22 Service irradiations. Upon receipt of an application requesting that radioisotopes be produced through a service irradiation, the Commission may authorize such irradiation and subsequent possession and use of the irradiated materials in accordance with the regulations contained in this part.

AUTHORIZATIONS

§ 30.30 Issuance. Upon approval of an application, the Commission will issue an "Authorization for Radioisotope Procurement," Form AEC–374. The authorization shall be the only valid approval for procurement, and its issuance shall be based upon the representations in the application and shall be subject to and in accordance with the regulations in this part and the terms and conditions stated in the application.

§ 30.31 Nontransferability. The persons to whom an authorization has been issued shall be deemed the holder thereof, and none of the rights or privileges conferred by the authorization shall be transferable.

§ 30.32 Expiration. An authorization shall be valid only for the period stated thereon; it shall expire at the end of such period without the necessity of notice or warning from the Commission. The holder shall not order radioisotopes after the period of validity stated on the authorization has run.

§ 30.33 Modification. Upon written request from the holder of an authorization for a modification of its terms, the Commission will usually consider the request without requiring a separate application, and it may modify the authorization by giving written notice to the holder or by issuing a supplemental authorization.

§ 30.34 Revocation. Any authorization may be annulled, suspended, or revoked at any time in the discretion of the Commission upon a determination by the Commission that the public health or safety requires such action, or that the holder has wilfully failed to comply with any term or condition to which his authorization may be subject. In the absence of such determination, no annulment, suspension, or revocation of any authorization will be made except upon request of the holder thereof, or unless conduct or other facts meriting such action shall have been called to the attention of the holder previously in writing, and unless he shall have been accorded opportunity to comply with all lawful requirements but shall have failed to do so.

POSSESSION, TRANSFER, USE

§ 30.40 Limitations. No person shall possess, use, or transfer radioisotopes except as permitted by a valid authorization from the Commission or as otherwise permitted by the regulations in this part. When transferring any non-exempt items or quantities of radioisotopes, the transferor shall limit delivery to the locations, materials, and quantities stated in the transferee's authorization.

§ 30.41 Authorized use. Each person authorized by the Commission to use radioisotopes shall confine his use to the locations and purposes approved by the Commission on his authorization, and such use is subject to all applicable laws, regulations of the Commission, and terms and conditions stated in the application for such material.

NOTE: Shipment and use of radioisotopes may also be subject to control by other authority; see, for example, (a) Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and the general regulations for its enforcement, (b) Rules and Regulations of the Interstate Commerce Commission, (c) Civil Air Regulations, (d) Postal Laws and Regulations, and (e) Laws and Regulations of State or other local authority.

RECORDS, REPORTS, INSPECTIONS

§ 30.50 General records. Each person who possesses or uses radioisotopes shall keep permanent records showing the receipt, use, storage, delivery, and disposal of such radioisotopes, and the safety measures used to protect health. These records shall be accurate and complete and shall be made available to the Commission upon request.

§ 30.51 Overexposure records. No report of the overexposure of a person to radioisotopes need be forwarded to the Commission, but where an overexposure is believed to have occurred, the occurrence and its observed effect upon the overexposed person shall be recorded in detail and filed with the general records.

§ 30.52 Reports of use. Upon written request from the Commission, any person who uses radioisotopes shall report fully the use made, stating substantially those facts required by §§ 30.50 and 30.51 to be recorded.

§ 30.53 Reports of transfer. In the absence of written waiver by the commission, any person who transfers radioisotopes to another person shall promptly report to the Commission each delivery made, indicating the name and location of the transferee, transferee's authorization number, type and amount of material transferred, and date of delivery.

§ 30.54 Inspections. Each person who possesses or uses radioisotopes shall permit the Commission, at all reasonable times, to make such inspections of the facilities wherein materials are stored or used as the Commission deems necessary, and shall make available to the Commission the records required by §§ 30.50 and 30.51.

VIOLATIONS

§ 30.60 Right to recall. The Commission may withhold or recall radioisotopes from any person when it is determined by the Commission that such person (a) is not equipped to observe the health and safety standards established by the Commission, or has failed to do so; or (b) has used the material in a manner other than as disclosed in the application therefor; or (c) has used the material in violation of any law or of any regulation of the Commission.

§ 30.61 Other action. Any person who violates any provision of the regulations in this part, or who, in connection with the regulations in this part, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to the Commission, may be prohibited by the Commission from making or obtaining further deliveries of radioisotopes or using, possessing, or storing them, and may be required to return to the Commission all radioisotopes remaining on hand. Violation of the regulations contained in this part or the furnishing of false information in connection with applications, statements and reports thereunder may also be a crime under the provision of the Atomic Energy Act of 1946 or of 18 U. S. C. 1001, act of June 25, 1948, 62 Stat. 749.

SCHEDULES

§ 30.70 Schedule A: Exempt items. (See § 30.13.) None.

§ 30.71 Schedule B: Exempt quantities. (See § 30.13.)

(a) Alpha emitters. None.

(b) Beta and gamma emitters. Not more than a combined total of 0.011 millicurie, made up as follows:

(1) Half-lives no greater than 30 days: Not more than 0.010 millicurie.

(2) Half-lives greater than 30 days: Not more than 0.001 millicurie.

(c) Neutron emitters. None.

NOTE: The quantities listed in Schedule B are not to be interpreted or considered as having any bearing on the determination of safe permissible levels of personnel exposure or for waste disposal. It is the Commission's intention to publish at a later date and incorporate in this part appropriate health and safety standards.

Effective date. The regulations in this part shall become effective upon publication of this part in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Dated this 9th day of April 1951.

M. W. BOYER,
General Manager.

Chapter I—Federal Trade Commission

[Docket 5742]

PART 3—DIGEST OF CEASE AND DESIST ORDERS

CARBOLA CHEMICAL CO., INC., ET AL.

Subpart—Advertising falsely or misleadingly: § 3.170 Qualities or properties of product or service. In connection with the offering for sale, sale and distribution in commerce of respondents' products designated as "CCC Rat and Mouse Destroyer" and "CCC Liquid Mouse and Rat Destroyer", or any product of substantially similar composition or possessing substantially similar properties, whether sold under the same name or under any other name, representing, directly or by implication, (1) that said product is an effective killing agent for mice; (2) that said product will kill all rats on infested premises; or, (3) that rats, after eating said product, go outdoors to die; prohibited.

(Sec. 6, 38 Stat. 722; 15 U. S. C. 46. Interprets or applies sec. 5, 38 Stat. 722; 15 U. S. C. 45) [Cease and desist order, Carbola Chemical Company, Inc., et al., Docket 5742, January 26, 1951]

In the Matter of Carbola Chemical Company, Inc., a Corporation, and Carl J. Zimmermann, Gladys G. Zimmermann and Henry T. Koenig, Individually and as Officers of Said Corporation

This proceeding having been heard by the Federal Trade Commission upon the complaint of the Commission, the answer of respondents, evidence, a stipulation of facts, and recommended decision of the trial examiner (briefs in support of and in opposition to the complaint having been waived and oral argument not having been requested), and the Commission having made its findings as to the facts and its conclusion that the respondents (except the respondents Carl J. Zimmermann and Gladys G. Zimmermann in their individual capacities) have violated the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act;

It is ordered, That the respondents, Carbola Chemical Company, Inc., a corporation, and its officers, and Henry T. Koenig, individually and as an officer of said corporation, and said respondents' agents, representatives, and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale, and distribution in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, of said respondents' product designated as "CCC Rat and Mouse Destroyer" and "CCC Liquid Mouse and Rat Destroyer", or any product of substantially similar composition or possessing substantially similar properties, whether sold under the same name or under any other name, do forthwith cease and desist from representing, directly or by implication:

1. That said product is an effective killing agent for mice.

2. That said product will kill all rats on infested premises.

3. That rats, after eating said product, go outdoors to die.

It is further ordered, That said respondents shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission a report, in writing, setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with this order.

It is further ordered, That the complaint herein be, and the same hereby is, dismissed as to the respondents Carl J. Zimmermann and Gladys G. Zimmermann as individuals, but not in their official capacities as officers of the respondent Carbola Chemical Company, Inc.

Issued: January 26, 1951.

F. M. Soluble Seasonings" or any other products of substantially similar composition or possessing substantially similar properties, whether sold under the same name or any other name, are sterile or entirely free from bacteria; (2) representing that ground natural spices are filthy products or representing in any other manner that they are unsanitary or that their use is deleterious to health; (3) representing in any manner that the use of ground natural spices will cause or tend to cause a musty or moldy flavor; (4) representing in any manner that respondents' "B. F. M. Soluble Seasonings" or any other products of substantially similar composition or possessing substantially similar properties, whether sold under the same name or any other name, will cause less gastric distress than ground natural spices; prohibited.

(Sec. 6, 38 Stat. 722; 15 U. S. C. 46. Interpret or apply sec. 5, 38 Stat. 722; 15 U. S. C. 45) [Cease and desist order, Basic Food Materials, Inc., et al., Docket 5734, January 26, 1951]

In the Matter of Basic Food Materials, Inc., a Corporation, and Ray F. Beerend, Individually and as an Officer of Said Corporation

This proceeding having been heard by the Federal Trade Commission upon the complaint of the Commission, the answer of respondents, and a stipulation containing a statement of facts entered into between respondents and counsel supporting the complaint; and the Commission having made its findings as to the facts and its conclusion that respondents have violated the Federal Trade Commission Act:

It is ordered, That respondent, Basic Food Materials, Inc., a corporation, and its officers, agents, representatives and employees, and respondent Ray F. Beerend, individually and as an officer of said corporation, and his agents, representatives and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale or distribution in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, of seasonings and spices, do forthwith cease and desist from:

1. Representing in any manner that respondents' "B. F. M. Soluble Seasonings" or any other products of substantially similar composition or possessing substantially similar properties, whether sold under the same name or any other name, are sterile or entirely free from bacteria.

2. Representing that ground natural spices are filthy products or representing in any other manner that they are unsanitary or that their use is deleterious to health.

3. Representing in any manner that the use of ground natural spices will cause or tend to cause a musty or moldy flavor.

4. Representing in any manner that respondents' "B. F. M. Soluble Seasonings" or any other products of substantially similar composition or possessing substantially similar properties, whether sold under the same name or any other name, will cause less gastric distress than ground natural spices.

It is further ordered, That the charges of the complaint directed to use by respondents of advertising statements attributing greater uniformity and retention of flavor to their soluble seasonings and spices in comparison to those products which contain ground natural spices be, and the same hereby are, dismissed.

It is further ordered, That the respondents shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission a report, in writing, setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with this order.

Issued: January 26, 1951.

TITLE 32A—NATIONAL DEFENSE, APPENDIX

Chapter VIII—Defense Transport Administration

[General Order DTA 2, as amended April 12, 1951]

DTA 2—PREFERENCE AND PRIORITY IN PORT TERMINAL STORAGE AND HANDLING OF BULK GRAIN FOR EXPORT

It is deemed necessary in the public interest and to promote the national defense, by reason of the short supply of port facilities for the storage and handling of bulk grain, to regulate, allocate, and promote preferences in, the use of such facilities for the storage and handling of bulk grain for export to selected countries. In the formulation of General Order DTA 2, consultation was had with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations. In the formulation of the order as amended, consultation with industry representatives and trade association representatives has been rendered impractical because of the necessity for immediate action. Accordingly, pursuant to Title I of the Defense Production Act of 1950, Executive Orders 10161, 10200, and 10219, and Defense Production Administration Delegation No. 1 (16 F. R. 378): It is hereby ordered, That General Order DTA 2 is amended to read as follows:

NOTE: This amendment affects sections 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, and 7.

Sec.
1. Port terminal storage and handling of bulk grain; permit required.
2. Issuance of permits, period effective.
3. Applications for permits and extensions thereof.
4. Records, investigations and reports.
5. Petition for relief from hardship.
6. Definitions.
7. Communications.
8. Violations.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 8 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply Title I, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR 1950 Supp., E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61, E. O. 10219, Feb. 28, 1951, 16 F. R. 1963.

SECTION 1. Port terminal storage and handling of bulk grain; permit required. Notwithstanding any contract or other commitment, express or implied, no person operating any port terminal warehouse shall store or handle in bulk at such warehouse any grain unless a grain port handling permit for such grain has been issued by the Defense Transport Administration authorizing such storage or handling: Provided, That no such permit shall be required for the storage or handling of grain covered by a transportation permit issued prior to March 3, 1951, by Interstate Commerce Commission permit agents pursuant to its Service Order No. 872, as amended (15 F. R. 9242; 16 F. R. 1549), or by the operator of a port of terminal warehouse: Provided further, That such grain is loaded for movement to the port terminal warehouse on or before March 10, 1951.

SEC. 2. Issuance of permits, period effective. (a) Grain port handling permits for the storage or handling of bulk grain by port terminal warehouses will be issued by the Defense Transport Administration upon recommendations of the United States Department of Agriculture.

(b) With respect to bulk grain intended for export or for coastwise or intercoastal movement, such recommendations will be based upon: (1) In the case of grain intended for export, the relative needs of the countries of ultimate destination for the grain, (2) the availability of grain for the proposed movement, (3) the availability of ocean shipping space, (4) the availability of inland transportation, and (5) the availability of port terminal storage and handling facilities.

(c) With respect to bulk grain intended for import by water or for receipt at a port terminal warehouse upon completion of a coastwise or intercoastal movement, such recommendations will be based upon: (1) The availability of port terminal storage and handling facilities, (2) the need for the use of such facilities for grain for export or other essential uses, (3) in the case of grain to move coastwise or intercoastally, whether a permit has been or will be issued for the storage and handling thereof at the port of origin and (4) the availability of inland transportation from the port terminal warehouse at the port of destination.

(d) With respect to bulk grain intended for domestic sale or use, as herein defined, such recommendations will be based upon: (1) The need for use of the port terminal warehouse facilities for grain for export, (2) the availability of other warehouse space, within the normal marketing area, for the grain proposed to be stored or handled, (3) the extent to which the port terminal warehouse for which the permit is sought normally has been used for storage and handling of grain for domestic sale or use, and (4) the period for which the permit is requested.

(e) A grain port handling permit may be issued to the operator of any port terminal warehouse authorizing him to store or handle thereat to such extent and for such time (to be specified in the permit) as may be consistent with the purpose and intent of this order, bulk grain which, at the time of its receipt at such warehouse, is intended for domestic sale or use.

(f) Each permit shall be effective only for the period specified therein and may be extended for an additional period upon request of the holder and recommendation of the United States Department of Agriculture.

SEC. 3. Applications for permits and extensions thereof. (a) Applications for grain port handling permits shall be made to the Director, Transportation and Warehousing Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C.

(b) With respect to bulk grain intended for export, the application shall be made by the person proposing to export such grain. With respect to bulk grain intended for coastwise or intercoastal movement, the application shall be made by the person proposing such movement. Each such application shall contain the following information to the extent available to the applicant:

(1) Applicant's name and address;

(2) Name and location of each port terminal warehouse for which the permit is sought;

(3) Quantity, kind, and class of grain for which permit is sought;

(4) Points or areas of origin of such grain;

(5) With respect to grain intended for export the country of ultimate destination of such grain; with respect to grain intended for coastwise or intercoastal movement the domestic port of destination of such grain;

(6) Name of vessel and expected date of readiness to load such grain thereon;

(7) Name and address of vessel's agent and (when applicable) exporter's forwarder unless such forwarder's name is already on file with the Director, Transportation and Warehousing Branch;

(8) With respect to sales made by "fobbers" to the person proposing to export the grain, the name and address of the "fobber";

(9) Any other pertinent supplemental information requested by the Director, Transportation and Warehousing Branch.

(c) With respect to bulk grain intended for import by water, the application shall be made by the importer, and, with respect to bulk grain to be stored or handled upon completion of coastwise or intercoastal movement, by the person for whose account the grain is to be so stored or handled. Each such application shall contain the following information to the extent available to the applicant:

(1) Applicant's name and address and (when applicable) name and address of importer's agent;

(2) Name and location of each port terminal warehouse with respect to which the permit is sought;

(3) Quantity, kind, and class of grain for which permit is sought;

(4) Port or country of origin of the grain;

(5) Name of vessel and expected date of readiness to unload such grain therefrom;

(6) Name and address of vessel's agent;

(7) Any other pertinent supplemental information requested by the Director, Transportation and Warehousing Branch.

(d) With respect to bulk grain intended for domestic sale or use, the application shall be made by the operator of the port terminal warehouse desiring to store or handle such grain, and shall contain the following information:

(1) Applicant's name and address;

(2) Name and location of the port terminal warehouse with respect to which the permit is sought;

(3) Quantity of grain for which permit is sought;

(4) Points or areas of origin of the grain with respect to which the permit is sought;

(5) The extent to which the port terminal warehouse for which permit is sought normally has been used for storage and handling of grain for domestic sale or use; if no grain for domestic sale or use has previously been stored or handled at such warehouse, the extent to which it is now desired to store or handle such grain and the reasons therefor;

(6) The period of time during which applicant desires to store and handle grain under the permit;

(7) Any other pertinent supplemental information requested by the Director, Transportation and Warehousing Branch.

(e) Applications for extensions of the expiration dates of permits shall be made to the Director, Transportation and Warehousing Branch, and shall contain a full statement of the reasons necessitating such extensions.

SEC. 4. Records, investigations and reports. (a) Every port terminal warehouse operator shall retain in his possession for at least two years a record of each transaction involving the storage or handling of bulk grain at each port terminal warehouse operated by him. Such records shall include such information as is customarily incorporated in negotiable warehouse receipts and such additional information as may be necessary to permit an audit from which it may be determined whether the provisions of this order have been met.

(b) The Defense Transport Administration may obtain by investigation and interviews such information from, and make such inspection of the books, records and other writings, premises or property, and take the sworn testimony, of any person as may be necessary or appropriate, in the discretion of the Administrator, to the enforcement or administration of this order and the provisions of the Defense Production Act of 1950 pertinent thereto.

(c) Persons subject to this order shall make such additional records and submit such reports to the Defense Transport Administration as it shall require, subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act (Pub. Law 831, 77th Cong., 5 U. S. C. 139–139F).

SEC. 5. Petitions for relief from hardship. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance herewith would work an exceptional or unreasonable hardship on him may file a petition for relief with the Director, Transportation and Warehousing Branch. Petitions shall be in writing and set forth all pertinent facts, the nature of relief sought, and justification therefor. As soon as possible after receipt of such petition the United States Department of Agriculture shall furnish the Administrator with its recommendation concerning the petition. After consideration of such recommendation, the Administrator shall take such action with reference to the petition as he deems appropriate to carry out the purposes and provisions of this order.

SEC. 6. Definitions. As used in this order or in any permit issued hereunder, the term:

(a) "Person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, joint stock company, business trust, or other organized group of persons, or any trustee, receiver, assignee, or personal representative, and includes any department, agency, or corporation of the United States, any State, or any political, governmental, or legal entity;

(b) "Grain" includes all grain for which standards are authorized to be established under the U. S. Grain Standards Act, as amended (7 U. S. C. 71–87), and rough rice;

(c) "Port terminal warehouse" means any warehouse, elevator, or loading facility in a port area that stores or handles bulk grain for export to a point outside the continental United States and is equipped to discharge grain to ship or lighter;

(d) "Port area" means any port or place shown in Appendix A, attached hereto and by this reference made a part hereof, and includes both the switching and lighterage limits of each such port or place;

(e) "Administrator" means the Administrator of the Defense Transport Administration or any person designated by him to administer the provisions of this order;

(f) "Director, Transportation and Warehousing Branch" means the Director, Transportation and Warehousing Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture;

(g) "Grain intended for domestic sale or use" and "grain for domestic sale or use" mean all grain stored or handled in bulk by a port terminal warehouse except that stored or handled in connection with its exportation, importation by water, coastwise or intercoastal movement;

(h) "Grain intended for export" and "grain for export" mean all bulk grain, including bulk grain originating in Canada or Mexico, stored or handled by a port terminal warehouse in connection with its movement to a foreign country.

SEC. 7. Communications. Communications concerning this order shall refer to "General Order DTA 2, as amended April 12, 1951," and shall be addressed to Director, Transportation and Warehousing Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C.

SEC. 8. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or any other order or regulation of the Defense Transport Administration, or wilfully conceals any material fact, or furnishes false information, in the course of operation under this order, is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against any person to suspend or revoke any permit issued to him hereunder.

NOTE: The record-keeping and reporting requirements of this order have been approved and subsequent record-keeping and reporting requirements are subject to approval by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This General Order DTA 2, as amended, shall take effect on April 17, 1951.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 12th day of April 1951.

HOMER G. KING,
Deputy Administrator,
Defense Transport Administration.

TITLE 47—TELECOMMUNICATION

Chapter I—Federal Communications Commission

PART 11—INDUSTRIAL RADIO SERVICES

ELIGIBILITY

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 4th day of April 1951;

The Commission having under consideration an amendment to its rules governing the Special Industrial Radio Service to permit the more efficient utilization of plant area communication systems licensed under the provisions of § 11.501 (a) (3) in matters involving the security and protection of industrial installations during the current emergency.

It appearing, that in view of the current national defense program it is desirable to extend the scope of plant area communication systems licensed under the provisions of § 11.501 (a) (3) to permit the operation of mobile transmitters outside of the physical limits of such installations on matters involving plant security;

It further appearing, that since the matter is of urgent need to the national defense and constitutes only a minor extension of the scope of plant area communications for security purposes during the period of national emergency, publication of notice of proposed rule making as set forth in section 4 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act is unnecessary and not in the public interest.

The Commission also having under consideration a further amendment to § 11.501 to permit a subsidiary corporation organized for the purpose of furnishing radio service on a non-profit basis to its parent corporation or other subsidiaries when the parent or other subsidiaries are engaged in an activity qualifying them under the rules.

It appearing, that this matter was duly published in the FEDERAL REGISTER as part of an overall revision of Subpart K of Part 11, rules governing the Special Industrial Radio Service (Docket 9703), and that although many comments which require additional study were filed relative to the other proposed amendments, no unfavorable comment was received with respect to this particular item:

It further appearing, that it is desirable to implement this change as soon as possible to avoid undue hardship;

It further appearing, that public interest, convenience and necessity would be served by adoption of these rule changes and that authority therefor is contained in sections 4 (i), 303 (b), (f), and (r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended;

It further appearing, that since the persons affected by these changes need no time to conform their conduct the changes may be made effective immediately:

It is ordered, That effective immediately § 11.501 of the Commission's rules is amended as follows:

Section 11.501 Eligibility, delete present subparagraph (3) of paragraph (a) and substitute the following:

(3) The use of radio is required within the yard area of a single plant for mobile service communications and the use of the Low-Power Industrial Service does not meet the operational requirements of the industry otherwise found eligible under this subparagraph. (Mobile units may be operated outside of the physical limits of the "yard area" for the purpose of maintaining plant security when authorized by the Commission in writing or by notation on the instrument of station authorization upon a showing that such operation is necessary in the interest of the national defense.)

Redesignate paragraph (b) of § 11.501 as paragraph (c) of § 11.501 and insert a new paragraph (b) to read:

(b) A subsidiary corporation organized for the sole purpose of furnishing a non-profit communication service to its parent corporation and/or its subsidiaries may be considered eligible for this service if the parent corporation and/or its subsidiaries meet the requirements of paragraph (a) of this section.

(Sec. 4, 48 Stat. 1066, 47 U. S. C. 154. Interpret or apply sec. 303, 48 Stat. 1082; 47 U. S. C. 303)

Adopted: April 4, 1951.

Released: April 4, 1951.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
[SEAL] T. J. SLOWIE,
Secretary.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

Bureau of Internal Revenue

[26 CFR, Part 29]

INCOME TAX; TAXABLE YEARS BEGINNING AFTER DECEMBER 31, 1941

AMORTIZATION OF EMERGENCY FACILITIES

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act, approved June 11, 1946, that the regulations set forth in tentative form below are proposed to be prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury. Prior to the final adoption of such regulations, consideration will be given to any data, views, or arguments pertaining thereto which are submitted in writing in duplicate to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington 25, D. C., within the period of 30 days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The proposed regulations are to be issued under the authority contained in sections 62 and 3791 of the Internal Revenue Code (53 Stat. 32, 467; 26 U. S. C. 62, 3791) and section 124A of the Internal Revenue Code.

[SEAL] GEO. J. SCHOENEMAN,
Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

In order to conform Regulations 111 (26 CFR Part 29) to section 216 of the Revenue Act of 1950, approved September 23, 1950, such regulations are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. There is inserted immediately following section 23 (t) the following:

SEC. 216. AMORTIZATION OF EMERGENCY FACILITIES (REVENUE ACT OF 1950, APPROVED SEPTEMBER 23, 1950).

• • • • • •

(b) Technical amendments. Section 23 (t) is hereby amended by striking out "section 124" and inserting in lieu thereof "section 124 and section 124A".

• • • • •

(d) Effective dates. The amendments made by this section shall be applicable with respect to taxable years ending after December 31, 1949.

PAR. 2. There is inserted immediately following § 29.124–10 the following:

SEC. 216. AMORTIZATION OF EMERGENCY FACILITIES (REVENUE ACT OF 1950, APPROVED SEPTEMBER 23, 1950).

(a) Amortization deduction. Chapter 1 is hereby amended by inserting after section 124 the following:

SEC. 124A. AMORTIZATION DEDUCTION.

(a) General rule. Every person, at his election, shall be entitled to a deduction with respect to the amortization of the adjusted basis (for determining gain) of any emergency facility (as defined in subsection (d)), based on a period of sixty months. Such amortization deduction shall be an amount, with respect to each month of such period within the taxable year, equal to the adjusted basis of the facility at the end of such month divided by the number of months (including the month for which the deduction is computed) remaining in the period. Such adjusted basis at the end of the month shall be computed without regard to the amortization deduction for such month. The amortization deduction above provided with respect to any month shall, except to the extent provided in subsection (f) of this section, be in lieu of the deduction with respect to such facility for such month provided by section 23 (l), relating to exhaustion, wear and tear, and obsolescence. The sixty-month period shall begin as to any emergency facility, at the election of the taxpayer, with the month following the month in which the facility was completed or acquired, or with the succeeding taxable year.

(b) Election of amortization. The election of the taxpayer to take the amortization deduction and to begin the sixty-month period with the month following the month in which the facility was completed or acquired, or with the taxable year succeeding the taxable year in which such facility was completed or acquired, shall be made by filing with the Secretary, in such manner, in such form, and within such time, as the Secretary may by regulations prescribe, a statement of such election.

(c) Termination of amortization deduction. A taxpayer which has elected under subsection (b) to take the amortization deduction provided in subsection (a) may, at any time after making such election, discontinue the amortization deductions with respect to the remainder of the amortization period, such discontinuance to begin as of the beginning of any month specified by the taxpayer in a notice in writing filed with the Secretary before the beginning of such month. The deduction provided under section 23 (l) shall be allowed, beginning with the first month as to which the amortization deduction is not applicable, and the taxpayer shall not be entitled to any further amortization deductions with respect to such emergency facility.

(d) Definitions—(1) Emergency facility. As used in this section, the term "emergency facility" means any facility, land, building, machinery, or equipment, or any part thereof, the construction, reconstruction, erection, installation, or acquisition of which was completed after December 31, 1949, and with respect to which a certificate under subsection (e) has been made. In no event shall an amortization deduction be allowed in respect of any emergency facility for any taxable year unless a certificate in respect thereof under this paragraph shall have been made prior to the filing of the taxpayer's return for such taxable year, or, in the case of an emergency facility completed or acquired by a taxpayer after December 31, 1949, and before the date of enactment of the Revenue Act of 1950, unless a certificate in respect thereof under this paragraph shall have been made prior to the expiration of twelve months after the date of enactment of the Revenue Act of 1950.

(2) Emergency period. As used in this section, the term "emergency period" means the period beginning January 1, 1950, and ending on the date on which the President proclaims that the utilization of a substantial portion of the emergency facilities with respect to which certifications under subsection (e) have be (sic) made is no longer required in the interest of national defense.

(e) Determination of adjusted basis of emergency facility. In determining, for the purposes of subsection (a) or subsection (g), the adjusted basis of an emergency facility—

(1) There shall be included only so much of the amount of the adjusted basis of such facility (computed without regard to this section) as is properly attributable to such construction, reconstruction, erection, installation, or acquisition after December 31, 1949, as the certifying authority, designated by the President by Executive order, has certified as necessary in the interest of national defense during the emergency period, and only such portion of such amount as such authority has certified as attributable to defense purposes. Such certification shall be under such regulations as may be prescribed from time to time by such certifying authority with the approval of the President. An application for a certificate must be filed at such time and in such manner as may be prescribed by such certifying authority under such regulations but in no event shall such certificate have any effect unless an application therefor is filed before the expiration of six months after the beginning of such construction, reconstruction, erection, or installation or the date of such acquisition, or before the expiration of six months after the date of enactment of the Revenue Act of 1950, whichever is later.

(2) After the completion or acquisition of any emergency facility with respect to which a certificate under paragraph (1) has been made, any expenditure (attributable to such facility and to the period after such completion or acquisition) which does not represent construction, reconstruction, erection, installation, or acquisition included in such certificate, but with respect to which a separate certificate is made under paragraph (1), shall not be applied in adjustment of the basis of such facility but a separate basis shall be computed therefor pursuant to paragraph (1) as if it were a new and separate emergency facility.

(f) Depreciation deduction. If the adjusted basis of the emergency facility (computed without regard to this section) is in excess of the adjusted basis computed under subsection (e), the deduction provided by section 23 (l) shall, despite the provisions of subsection (a) of this section, be allowed with respect to such emergency facility as if its adjusted basis for the purpose of such deduction were an amount equal to the amount of such excess.

(g) Payment by United States of unamortized cost of facility. If an amount is properly includible in the gross income of the taxpayer on account of a payment with respect to an emergency facility and such payment is certified as provided in paragraph (1), then, at the election of the taxpayer in its return for the taxable year in which such amount is so includible—

(1) The amortization deduction for the month in which such amount is so includible shall (in lieu of the amount of the deduction for such month computed under subsection (a)) be equal to the amount so includible but not in excess of the adjusted basis of the emergency facility as of the end of such month (computed without regard to any amortization deduction for such month). Payments referred to in this paragraph shall be payments the amounts of which are certified, under such regulations as the President may prescribe, by the certifying authority designated by the President as compensation to the taxpayer for the unamortized cost of the emergency facility made because—

(A) A contract with the United States involving the use of the facility has been terminated by its terms or by cancellation, or

(B) The taxpayer had reasonable ground (either from provisions of a contract with the United States involving the use of the facility, or from written or oral representations made under authority of the United States) for anticipating future contracts involving the use of the facility, which future contracts have not been made.

(2) In case the taxpayer is not entitled to any amortization deduction with respect to the emergency facility, the deduction allowable under section 23 (l) on account of the month in which such amount is so includible shall be increased by such amount, but such deduction on account of such month shall not be in excess of the adjusted basis of the emergency facility as of the end of such month (computed without regard to any amount allowable, on account of such month, under section 23 (l) or this paragraph).

(h) Life tenant and remainderman. In the case of property held by one person for life with remainder to another person, the deduction shall be computed as if the life tenant were the absolute owner of the property and shall be allowable to the life tenant.

(i) Cross reference. For special rule with respect to gain derived from the sale or exchange of property the adjusted basis of which is determined with regard to this section, see section 117 (g) (3).

• • • • •

(d) Effective dates. The amendments made by this section shall be applicable with respect to taxable years ending after December 31, 1949.

§ 29.124a–1 Introductory. Sections 29.124a–2 to 29.124a–9, inclusive, which are applicable only with respect to taxable years ending after December 31, 1949, comprise the regulations under section 124A of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to the amortization of emergency facilities, and are to be distinguished from the regulations under section 124 of the Code (§§ 29.124–1 to 29.124–10, inclusive), relating to the amortization of emergency facilities during World War II. For the right of estates and trusts to amortize emergency facilities, see section 172 and § 29.172–1. For the allowance of amortization deduction in the case of emergency facilities of partnerships, see section 190 and § 29.190–1. For income tax treatment of gain from the sale or exchange of an emergency facility for which an amortization deduction has been taken, see section 117 (g) (3) and § 29.117–9.

§ 29.124a–2 Definitions. As used in this section and §§ 29.124a–3 to 29.124a–9, inclusive, the term:

(a) "Certifying authority" means the certifying authority designated by the President by Executive order.

(b) "Emergency facility" means any facility, land, building, machinery, or equipment, or any part thereof, the acquisition of which occurred after December 31, 1949, or the construction, reconstruction, erection, or installation of which was completed after such date, and with respect to which a certificate under section 124A (e) has been made. In the case of an application for a certificate under section 124A (e) which is filed after March 23, 1951, only the part of any such facility which is constructed, reconstructed, erected, or installed by any person not earlier than six months prior to the filing of such application, and which is certified in accordance with section 124A (e), shall be deemed to be an emergency facility, notwithstanding that the other part of such facility was constructed, reconstructed, erected, or installed earlier than six months prior to the filing of such application. The term "emergency facility," as so defined, may include, among other things, improvements of land, such as the construction of roads, bridges, and airstrips, and the dredging of channels.

(c) "Emergency period" means the period beginning on January 1, 1950, and ending on the date on which the President proclaims that the utilization of a substantial portion of the certified emergency facilities is no longer required in the interest of national defense.

§ 29.124a–3 Amortization deduction; general rule. (a) A person is entitled, at its election, to a deduction with respect to the amortization of the adjusted basis (for determining gain) of an emergency facility, such amortization to be based on a period of 60 months. As to the adjusted basis of an emergency facility, see § 29.124a–6. The taxpayer may, with respect to an emergency facility, elect to begin the 60-month amortization period with (1) the month following the month in which such facility was completed or acquired, or (2) the taxable year succeeding that in which such facility was completed or acquired (see § 29.124a–4). The date on which, or the month within which, an emergency facility is completed or acquired is to be determined upon the facts in the particular case. Ordinarily, the taxpayer is in possession of all the facts and, therefore, in a position to ascertain such date. A statement of the date ascertained by the taxpayer, together with a statement of the pertinent facts relied upon, should be filed with the taxpayer's election to take amortization deductions with respect to such facility.

(b) In no event shall an amortization deduction be allowed with respect to an emergency facility for any taxable year unless such facility has been certified prior to the date of filing of the taxpayer's return for such taxable year, or, in the case of an emergency facility completed or acquired after December 31, 1949, and before September 23, 1950, unless certified on or before September 23, 1951, or the date on which the return is filed, whichever is later. See section 124A (d) (1).

(c) In general, with respect to each month of the 60-month period which falls within the taxable year, the amortization deduction is an amount equal to the adjusted basis of the facility at the end of such month divided by the number of months (including the particular month for which the deduction is computed) remaining in the 60-month period. The adjusted basis of the facility at the end of any month shall be computed without regard to the amortization deduction with respect to such facility for such month. The total amortization deduction with respect to an emergency facility for a particular taxable year is the sum of the amortization deductions allowable with respect to such facility for each month of the 60-month period which falls within such taxable year. The amortization deduction with respect to an emergency facility taken for any month is in lieu of the deduction for depreciation which would otherwise be allowable under section 23 (l) with respect to such facility for such month. See, however, § 29.124a–7, relating to depreciation with respect to any amount not subject to amortization.

(d) This section may be illustrated by the following examples:

Example (1). On July 1, 1950, the X Corporation, which makes its income tax returns on the calendar year basis, begins the construction of an emergency facility which is completed on September 30, 1950, at a cost of $240,000. The certificate covers the entire construction. The X Corporation elects to take amortization deductions with respect to the facility and to begin the 60-month amortization period with October, the month following its completion. The adjusted basis of the facility at the end of October is $240,000. The allowable amortization deduction with respect to such facility for the taxable year 1950 is $12,000, computed as follows:

Monthly amortization deductions:
October: $240,000 divided by 60	$4,000
November: $236,000 ($240,000 minus $4,000) divided by 59	4,000
December: $232,000 ($236,000 minus $4,000) divided by 58	4,000
Total amortization deduction for 1950	12,000

Example (2). The Y Corporation, which makes its income tax returns on the basis of a fiscal year ending November 30, purchases an emergency facility (No. 1) on July 29, 1951. On June 15, 1951, it begins the construction of an emergency facility (No. 2) which is completed on August 2, 1951. The entire acquisition and construction of such facilities are covered by the certificate. The Y Corporation elects to take amortization deductions with respect to both facilities and to begin the 60-month amortization period in each case with the month following the month of acquisition or completion. At the end of the first month of the amortization period the adjusted basis of facility No. 1 is $300,000 and the adjusted basis of facility No. 2 is $54,000. In September 1951 facility No. 1 is damaged by fire, as a result of which its adjusted basis is properly reduced by $25,370. The allowable amortization deduction with respect to such facilities for the taxable year ending November 30, 1951, is $21,410, computed as follows:

FACILITY NO. 1

Monthly amortization deductions:
August: $300,000 divided by 60	$5,000
September: $269,630 ($300,000 minus $5,000 and $25,370) divided by 59	4,570
October: $265,060 ($269,630 minus $4,570) divided by 58	4,570
November: $260,490 ($265,060 minus $4,570) divided by 57	4,570
Amortization deduction for 1951	18,710

FACILITY NO. 2

Monthly amortization deductions:
September: $54,000 divided by 60	$900
October: $53,100 divided by 59	900
November: $52,200 divided by 58	900
Amortization deduction for 1951	2,700
Total amortization deduction for 1951	21,410

Example (3). On June 15, 1951, the Z Corporation, which makes its income tax returns on the calendar year basis, completes the construction of an emergency facility at a cost of $110,000. In its income tax return for 1951, filed on March 15, 1952, the Z Corporation elects to take amortization deductions with respect to such facility and to begin the 60-month amortization period with July, the month following its completion. No certificate with respect to such facility is made until April 10, 1952, and therefore no amortization deduction with respect to such facility is allowable for any month in the taxable year 1951. The Z Corporation is entitled, however, to take a deduction for depreciation of such facility for the taxable year 1951, such deduction being assumed, for the purposes of this example, to be $2,000. Accordingly, the adjusted basis of such facility at the end of January 1952 (without regard to the amortization deduction for such month) is $108,000 ($110,000 minus $2,000). For the taxable year 1952, the Z Corporation is, with respect to such facility, entitled to an amortization deduction of $24,000, computed as follows:

Monthly amortization deductions:
January: $108,000 divided by 54	$2,000
February: $106,000 ($108,000 minus $2,000) divided by 53	2,000
March: $104,000 ($106,000 minus $2,000) divided by 52	2,000
For the remaining nine months (similarly computed)	18,000
Total amortization deduction for 1952	24,000

Since the Z Corporation elected in its return for 1951 to take amortization deductions with respect to such facility and to begin the 60-month amortization period with July 1951, it must compute its amortization deductions for the 12 months in the taxable year 1952 on the basis of the remaining months of the established 60-month amortization period, as indicated in the above computation.

§ 29.124a–4 Election of amortization—(a) General rule. An election by the taxpayer to take amortization deductions with respect to an emergency facility and to begin the 60-month amortization period either with the month following the month in which such facility was completed or acquired, or with the taxable year succeeding the taxable year in which such facility was completed or acquired, shall be made by a statement to that effect in its return for the taxable year in which falls the first month of the 60-month amortization period so elected.

(b) Special rules in case return filed on or before April 15, 1951. In the case of an emergency facility completed or acquired by a taxpayer after December 31, 1949, and within a taxable year for which a return was filed on or before April 15, 1951, an election by the taxpayer to take amortization deductions with respect thereto for such taxable year shall be made by a statement in writing to that effect filed with the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington 25, D. C., on or before May 1, 1951. A statement of election by the taxpayer in a return filed on or before April 15, 1951, shall be considered as the statement of election provided for by this paragraph unless the taxpayer does make the statement of election provided for by this paragraph.

(c) Election not made in prescribed manner. If the statement of election is not made by the taxpayer as prescribed in paragraph (a) or (b) of this section, it may, in the discretion of the Commissioner and for good cause shown, be made in such manner and form and within such time as may be approved by the Commissioner.

(d) Other requirements and considerations. No method of making such election other than those prescribed in this section is permitted. Any statement of election should contain a description clearly identifying each emergency facility for which an amortization deduction is claimed. A taxpayer which does not elect, in the manner prescribed in this section, to take amortization deductions with respect to an emergency facility shall not be entitled to amortization deductions with respect to such facility. See also the last sentence of section 124A (d) (1) and § 29.124a–3 (b), restricting allowance of amortization deduction to cases where the facility has been certified prior to certain applicable dates.

§ 29.124a–5 Election to discontinue amortization. (a) If a taxpayer has elected to take amortization deductions with respect to an emergency facility, it may, after such election and prior to the expiration of the 60-month amortization period, discontinue the amortization deductions with respect to such facility for the remainder of the 60-month period. An election to discontinue the amortization deductions shall be made by a notice in writing filed with the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington 25, D. C., specifying the month as of the beginning of which the taxpayer elects to discontinue such deductions. Such notice shall be filed before the beginning of the month specified therein, and should contain a description clearly identifying the emergency facility with respect to which the taxpayer elects to discontinue the amortization deductions. If the taxpayer so elects to discontinue the amortization deductions with respect to an emergency facility, it shall not be entitled to any further amortization deductions with respect to such facility.

(b) A taxpayer which thus elects to discontinue amortization deductions with respect to an emergency facility is entitled, if such facility is depreciable property under section 23 (l) and the regulations thereunder, to a deduction for depreciation with respect to such facility. The deduction for depreciation shall begin with the first month as to which the amortization deduction is not applicable, and shall be computed on the adjusted basis of the property as of the beginning of such month (see section 113 (b) and the regulations thereunder).

(c) This section may be illustrated by the following example:

Example. On July 1, 1950, the X Corporation, which makes its income tax returns on the calendar year basis, purchases an emergency facility, consisting of land with a building thereon, at a cost of $306,000 of which $60,000 is allocable to the land and $246,000 to the building. The certificate covers the entire acquisition. The corporation elects to take amortization deductions with respect to the facility and to begin the 60-month amortization period with the taxable year 1951. Depreciation of the building in the amount of $6,000 is deducted and allowed for the taxable year 1950. On March 25, 1952, the corporation files notice with the Commissioner of its election to discontinue the amortization deductions beginning with the month of April 1952. The adjusted basis of the facility on January 31, 1951, is $300,000, or the cost of the facility ($306,000) less the depreciation allowed for 1950 ($6,000). The amortization deductions for the taxable year 1951 and the months of January, February, and March, 1952, amount to $75,000, or $5,000 per month for 15 months. Since, at the beginning of the amortization period (January 1, 1951), the adjusted basis of the land is one-fifth of the adjusted basis of the entire facility and since there are no adjustments to basis other than on account of amortization during the period, the adjusted basis of the land should be reduced by $15,000, or one-fifth of the entire amortization deduction, and the adjusted basis of the building should be reduced by $60,000, or four-fifths of the entire amortization deduction. Accordingly, the adjusted basis of the facility as of April 1, 1952, is $225,000, of which $180,000 is allocable to the building for the purpose of depreciation deductions under section 23 (l), and $45,000 is allocable to the land.

§ 29.124a–6 Adjusted basis of emergency facility—(a) In general. (1) The adjusted basis of an emergency facility for the purpose of computing the amortization deduction may differ from what would otherwise constitute the adjusted basis of such emergency facility, in that it shall be the adjusted basis for determining gain (see section 113) and in that it may be only a portion of what would otherwise constitute the adjusted basis. It will be only a portion of such other adjusted basis if only a portion of the basis (unadjusted) is attributable to certified construction, reconstruction, erection, installation, or acquisition taking place after December 31, 1949. Also, it will be only a portion of what would otherwise constitute the adjusted basis of the emergency facility if only a portion of the basis (unadjusted) is certified as attributable to defense purposes. It is therefore necessary first to determine the unadjusted basis of the emergency facility from which the adjusted basis for amortization purposes is derived.

(2) The unadjusted basis for amortization purposes is the same as the unadjusted basis otherwise determined only when the entire construction, reconstruction, erection, installation, or acquisition takes place after December 31, 1949, and is certified in its entirety by the certifying authority.

(3) In cases in which only a portion of the construction, reconstruction, erection, installation, or acquisition attributable to the facility takes place after December 31, 1949, and that portion is certified in its entirety by the certifying authority, the unadjusted basis for the purpose of amortization is so much of the entire unadjusted basis as is attributable to the certified construction, reconstruction, erection, installation, or acquisition which takes place after December 31, 1949. For example, the X Corporation begins the construction of a facility on November 15, 1949, and such facility is completed on April 1, 1950, at a cost of $500,000, of which $300,000 is attributable to construction after December 31, 1949. The entire construction after December 31, 1949, is certified by the certifying authority. The unadjusted basis of the emergency facility for amortization purposes is therefore $300,000. For depreciation of the remaining portion of the cost ($200,000) see § 29.124a–7.

(4) If the certifying authority certifies only a portion of the construction, reconstruction, erection, installation, or acquisition of property which takes place after December 31, 1949, the unadjusted basis for amortization purposes is limited to such portion so certified. Assuming the same facts as in the example in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, except that only 50 percent of the construction, reconstruction, erection, installation, or acquisition after December 31, 1949, is certified, the unadjusted basis for amortization purposes is 50 percent of $300,000, or $150,000.

(5) The adjusted basis of an emergency facility for amortization purposes is the unadjusted basis for amortization purposes less the adjustments properly applicable thereto. Such adjustments are those specified in section 113 (b), except that no adjustments are to be taken into account which increase the adjusted basis. (See paragraph (b) of this section.) If the taxpayer constructs, reconstructs, erects, installs, or acquires an emergency facility pursuant to a cost reimbursement contract with an obligation for reimbursement by the United States of all or a part of the cost of such facility, the unadjusted basis of such facility for amortization purposes shall not include that part of the cost for which the taxpayer is entitled to reimbursement, and the amount received as reimbursement shall be treated as a capital receipt. However, amounts received by a taxpayer which represent in fact compensation by reason of termination of a government contract or payment for articles under such a contract, though denominated reimbursements for all or a part of the cost of an emergency facility, are not to be treated as capital receipts but are to be taken into account in computing income, and are therefore not to be applied in reduction of the basis of such facility.

(6) The following examples will illustrate the computation of the adjusted basis of an emergency facility for amortization purposes:

Example (1). The X Corporation completes an emergency facility on July 1, 1950, the entire unadjusted basis of which is $500,000, and the unadjusted basis of which for the purpose of amortization is $300,000. The X Corporation elects to begin amortization as of January 1, 1951. The only adjustment to basis for the period July 1, 1950, to January 31, 1951, other than depreciation or amortization for January 1951, is $5,000 for depreciation for the last six months of 1950. The adjusted basis for the purpose of amortization is therefore $300,000 less $3,000 (300,000/500,000 x $5,000), or $297,000.

Example (2). On July 31, 1954, the Y Corporation has an emergency facility (a building) which was completed on July 1, 1950, the entire basis of which is $500,000, and the unadjusted basis of which for the purpose of amortization is $300,000. The corporation elected to begin amortization as of January 1, 1951, at which time it was entitled to $5,000 depreciation for the last six months of 1950. On July 1, 19[illegible], the facility was damaged by fire, as the result of which its adjusted basis is properly reduced by $200,000. The adjusted basis of the emergency facility as of July 1954 for the purpose of amortization and depreciation, and the adjusted basis for other purposes, are $23,849.18, $49,250.82, and $73,100.00, respectively, computed as follows:

	For amortization	For depreciation	For other purposes
Unadjusted basis	$300,000.00	$200,000.00	$500,000
Less depreciation to Jan. 1, 1951	3,000.00	2,000.00	5,000
Adjusted basis January 1951	297,000.00	198,000.00	495,000
Less amortization for 42 months	267,900.00		267,900
Less depreciation for 42 months		14,000.00	14,000
Adjusted basis at time of fire	89,100.00	184,000.00	273,100
Less fire loss (apportioned as explained below)	65,250.82	134,749.18	200,000
Adjusted basis after fire loss	23,849.18	49,250.82	73,100

The $200,000 fire loss is applied against the adjusted basis for the purpose of amortization and the adjusted basis for the purpose of depreciation in the proportion that each such adjusted basis at the time of the fire bears to their sum, i. e., 89,100/273,100 x $200,000 or $65,250.82, against the amortization basis, and 184,000/273,100 x $200,000, or $134,749.18, against the depreciation basis.

(b) Capital additions. If, after the completion or acquisition of an emergency facility which has been certified by the certifying authority, further expenditures are made for construction, reconstruction, erection, installation, or acquisition attributable to such facility but not covered by such certification, such expenditures shall not be added to the adjusted basis of the emergency facility for amortization purposes under such certification. If such further expenditures are separately certified in accordance with the provisions of section 124A (e) (1) and this section, they are treated as certified expenditures in connection with a new and separate emergency facility and, if proper election is made, will be taken into account in computing the adjusted basis of such new and separate emergency facility for the purpose of amortization.

Example. On March 1, 1951, the certifying authority certifies as an emergency facility a heating plant proposed to be constructed by the Z Corporation. Such facility is completed on July 1, 1951. The Z Corporation, on August 1, 1951, begins the installation in the plant of an additional boiler, which is not included in the certification for the plant but is certified as a new and separate emergency facility. For amortization purposes, the adjusted basis of the heating plant is determined without including the cost of the additional boiler. Such cost is taken into account in computing the adjusted basis of the new and separate emergency facility (the boiler), as to which the taxpayer has a separate election for amortization purposes and a separate amortization period.

§ 29.124a–7 Depreciation of portion of emergency facility not subject to amortization. (a) The rule set forth in section 124A (a) (see § 29.124a–3), that an amortization deduction with respect to an emergency facility is in lieu of any deduction for depreciation which would otherwise be allowable under section 23 (l) with respect to such facility, is subject to the exception provided in section 124A (f). Under this exception, if the property constituting such facility is depreciable property under section 23 (l) and the regulations thereunder and if the adjusted basis of such facility as computed under section 113 (b) for purposes other than the amortization deductions (see § 29.113 (b) (1)–1) is in excess of the adjusted basis computed under section 124A (c) for the purpose of the amortization deductions (see § 29.124a–6), then the excess shall be charged off over the useful life of the facility and recovered through depreciation deductions. Thus, if the construction of an emergency facility is begun on or before December 31, 1949, and completed after such date, no amortization deductions are allowable with respect to the amount attributable to such construction on or before such date (see § 29.124a–6). However, if the property constituting such facility is depreciable property under section 23 (l) and the regulations thereunder, then the depreciation deduction provided by such section and regulations is allowable with respect to the amount attributable to such construction on or before December 31, 1949.

(b) Similarly, if only a portion of the construction, reconstruction, erection, installation, or acquisition after December 31, 1949, of an emergency facility has been certified by the certifying authority, and if such facility is depreciable property under section 23 (l) and the regulations thereunder, then the depreciation deduction provided by such section and regulations is allowable with respect to the portion which has not been so certified.

(c) For illustration of the treatment of a depreciable portion of an emergency facility, see example (2) in § 29.124a–6 (a).

§ 29.124a–8 Payment by United States of unamortized cost of facility. (a) Section 124A (g) contemplates that certain payments may be made by the United States to a taxpayer as compensation for the unamortized cost of an emergency facility. If any such payment is properly includible in gross income and has been certified, as provided in section 124A (g), as having been paid under the circumstances described therein, a taxpayer which is recovering the adjusted basis of an emergency facility through amortization rather than depreciation may elect to take an amount equal to such payment as an amortization deduction with respect to such facility for the month in which such payment is so includible. Such amortization deduction shall be in lieu of the amortization deduction otherwise allowable with respect to such facility for such month, but it shall not, in any case exceed the adjusted basis of such facility (see § 29.124a–6) as of the end of such month (computed without regard to any amortization deduction for such month). The election referred to in this paragraph shall be made in the return for the taxable year in which the amount of such payment is includible in gross income.

(b) If a taxpayer is recovering the adjusted basis of an emergency facility through depreciation rather than amortization, the depreciation deduction allowable under section 23 (l) for the month in which the amount of any such payment is includible in gross income shall, at the taxpayer's election, be increased by such amount; but the total deduction with respect to the certified portion of such facility shall not in any case exceed the adjusted basis of such facility (computed as provided in section 124A (e) and § 29.124a–6 for amortization purposes) as of the end of such month (computed without regard to any amount allowable for such month under section 23 (l) or 124A (g) (2)). The election referred to in this paragraph shall be made in the return for the taxable year in which the amount of such payment is includible in gross income.

(c) This section may be illustrated by the following examples:

Example (1). On January 31, 1951, the X Corporation purchases an emergency facility at a cost of $600,000. The certificate covers the entire acquisition. The X Corporation elects to take amortization deductions with respect to such facility and to begin the 60-month amortization period with February 1951, the month following the month of acquisition. On July 15, 1952, as a result of the cancellation of certain contracts with the X Corporation, the United States makes a payment of $300,000 to the corporation as compensation for the unamortized cost of such facility. The $300,000 payment is includible in the X Corporation's gross income for July 1952. The adjusted basis of such facility for amortization purposes as of the end of July 1952, computed without regard to any amortization deduction for such month, is $430,000. Accordingly, the corporation is entitled to take an amortization deduction of $300,000 for such month, in lieu of the $10,000 amortization deduction which is otherwise allowable.

Example (2). On November 30, 1951, the Y Corporation purchases an emergency facility, consisting of land with a building thereon, at a cost of $500,000, of which $200,000 is allocable to the land and $300,000 to the building. The certificate covers the entire acquisition. The Y Corporation does not elect to take amortization deductions with respect to such facility, but is entitled to a depreciation deduction with respect to the building at the rate of 3 percent per annum, or $750 per month. On August 12, 1953, as a result of cancellation of certain contracts, the United States makes a payment of $400,000 to the corporation as compensation for the unrecovered cost of such facility. The $400,000 is includible in the Y Corporation's gross income for August 1953. The adjusted basis of the facility as of the end of August 1953, computed without regard to depreciation for such month, is $485,000, of which amount $200,000 is allocable to the land and $285,000 to the building. Accordingly, the corporation is entitled to increase the $750 depreciation deduction for August 1953 by the full amount of the $400,000 payment.

§ 29.124a–9 Life tenant and remainderman. In the case of an emergency facility held by one person for life with remainder to another person, the amortization deduction shall be computed as if the life tenant were the absolute owner of the facility and shall be allowable to the life tenant during his life.

PAR. 3. There is inserted immediately preceding § 29.117–1 the following:

SEC. 216. AMORTIZATION OF EMERGENCY FACILITIES (REVENUE ACT OF 1950, APPROVED SEPTEMBER 23, 1950).

* * * * *

(c) Gain attributable to amortization deduction. Section 117 (g) is hereby amended by striking out the period at the end of paragraph (2) and inserting in lieu thereof "; and", and by inserting after paragraph (2) the following new paragraph:

(3) Gain from the sale or exchange of property, to the extent that the adjusted basis of such property is less than its adjusted basis determined without regard to section 124A (relating to amortization deduction), shall be considered as gain from the sale or exchange of property which is neither a capital asset nor property described in subsection (j).

(d) Effective dates. The amendments made by this section shall be applicable with respect to taxable years ending after December 31, 1949.

PAR. 4. There is inserted immediately following § 29.117–8 the following:

§ 29.117–9 Gain attributable to amortization deduction. (a) Section 117 (g) (3) provides that gain from a sale or exchange of property, to the extent that the adjusted basis of such property is less than its adjusted basis determined without regard to section 124A, shall be considered as ordinary income. For example, on December 31, 1950, a taxpayer making his income-tax returns on the calendar year basis acquires at a cost of $10,000 an emergency facility (used in his business) which normally would have a useful life of 20 years. Under section 124A he elects to begin the 60-month amortization period on January 1, 1951. He takes amortization deductions in the amount of $4,000 for the years 1951 and 1952 (24 months). On December 31, 1952, he sells the facility for $9,500. The adjusted basis of the facility on that date is $6,000 ($10,000 cost less $4,000 amortization). Without regard to section 124A, the facility would have been depreciated at the rate of $500 a year and its adjusted basis on December 31, 1952, would have been $9,000 ($10,000 cost less $1,000 depreciation). The difference between the facility's actual adjusted basis ($6,000) and its adjusted basis determined without regard to section 124A ($9,000) is $3,000. Accordingly, $3,000 of the $3,500 gain on the sale of the facility ($9,500 sale price less $6,000 adjusted basis) would be treated as ordinary income and the remaining $500 would be subject to the provisions of section 117 (j).

(b) If the taxpayer acquires other property in an exchange for an emergency facility with respect to which amortization deductions have been allowed, and if the basis in his hands of such other property is determined by reference to the basis of the emergency facility, then the basis of such other property is determined with regard to section 124A, and therefore the provisions of section 117 (g) (3) apply with respect to gain realized on a sale or exchange of such other property. The provisions of section 117 (g) (3) likewise apply with respect to gain realized on the sale or exchange of an emergency facility (or other property acquired, as described in the preceding sentence, in an exchange for an emergency facility) by a taxpayer in whose hands the basis of such facility (or other property) is determined by reference to the basis thereof in the hands of another person who was allowed deductions with respect to such facility under section 124A.

PAR. 5. Section 29.172–1 is amended by striking out the second sentence and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "The same rule is applicable in the case of an emergency facility, as defined in section 124A (d), acquired or completed by an estate or trust after December 31, 1949. See section 23 (t) and sections 124 and 124A and the regulations thereunder."

PAR. 6. Section 29.190–1 is amended by striking out the second sentence and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "The same rule is applicable in the case of an emergency facility, as defined in section 124A (d), acquired or completed by a partnership after December 31, 1949. See section 23 (t) and sections 124 and 124A and the regulations thereunder."

GILLETTE LIVESTOCK EXCHANGE AND CENTRAL MONTANA STOCKYARDS

POSTING OF STOCKYARDS

The Secretary of Agriculture has information that the stockyards listed below are stockyards as defined in section 302 of the Packers and Stockyards Act, 1921, as amended (7 U. S. C. 202), and should be made subject to the provisions of that act:

Gillette Livestock Exchange, Gillette, Wyoming.

Central Montana Stockyards, Lewistown, Montana.

Therefore, notice is hereby given that the Secretary of Agriculture proposes to issue a rule designating the stockyards named above as posted stockyards subject to the provisions of the Packers and Stockyards Act, 1921, as amended (7 U. S. C. 181 et seq.), as is provided in section 302 of that act. Any interested person who desires to do so may submit within 15 days of the publication of this notice any data, views or argument, in writing, on the proposed rule to the Director, Livestock Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 10th day of April 1951.

ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION

[10 CFR, Part 60]

BONUS FOR INITIAL PRODUCTION OF URANIUM ORES FROM DOMESTIC MINES

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Pursuant to the Atomic Energy Act of 1946 (Pub. Law 585, 79th Cong.; 60 Stat. 755 ff) and to section 4 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act of 1946 (Pub. Law 404, 79th Cong.), notice is hereby given of intention to issue regulations concerning bonus payments for initial production of uranium ores from domestice mines. The proposed regulations are set forth hereunder.

Interested parties are to be given an opportunity to submit their views and other relevant information with respect to the proposed regulations in writing to the United States Atomic Energy Commission, Raw Materials Operations, at either 1901 Constitution Avenue, Washington, D. C. or P. O. Box 270,

Grand Junction, Colorado, within thirty (30) days from the date of publication of this notice of intention in the daily issue of the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Dated at Washington, D. C., this 6th day of April 1951.

M. W. BOYER,
General Manager.

[Domestic Uranium Program Circular 6]

§ 60.6 Bonus for initial production of uranium ores from new domestic mines—(a) What this section does. This section provides for bonus payments for initial and certain other production of uranium-bearing ores. It is intended to encourage and assist the development of new sources of domestic uranium production in the interest of the common defense and security.

(b) Production bonus established. The U. S. Atomic Energy Commission will pay a bonus under the conditions set forth in this section for delivery to a Commission ore-buying station or a qualified uranium mill (hereafter called station or mill) of uranium ores from an eligible mining property up to the maximum quantities specified in the paragraphs below.

(c) Term of this section. This section will apply to deliveries made under its terms between March 1, 1951 and February 28, 1954, inclusive.

(d) Payment of the bonus. Bonus payments will be computed on the following basis:

Ores assaying less than 0.10 percent U_3O_8; no payment.

Ores assaying 0.10 percent U_3O_8 and more, as follows:

U_3O_8 assay:	Payment per pound of U_3O_8
0.10 percent	$1.50
0.11 percent	1.70
0.12 percent	1.90
0.13 percent	2.10
0.14 percent	2.30
0.15 percent	2.50
0.16 percent	2.70
0.17 percent	2.90
0.18 percent	3.10
0.19 percent	3.30
0.20 percent and more	3.50

Fractional parts of a pound will be paid for on a pro rata basis to the nearest cent. Assays will be adjusted to the nearest 0.01 percent for purposes of payment. Weights are avoirdupois dry weights. Bonus payments made under this section will be in addition to any other payments for delivery of the ore. They will be paid directly by the Commission and not by the station or mill.

(e) Maximum quantity of uranium oxide for which bonus payments will be made. Subject to the conditions of this section, bonus payments will be made on deliveries of uranium ore from an eligible mining property to a station or mill until bonus payments have been made on 10,000 pounds of uranium oxide less the number of pounds, if any, accepted by any station or mill from that mining property between April 9, 1948, and February 28, 1951, inclusive.

(f) Ores for which bonus payments will be made. Ores for which bonus payments will be made must have been delivered to and paid for by either a station or mill. However, in special cases, bonus payments may be made for ores which have been accepted but not paid for by the station or mill. The weights and final assays made to ascertain the amount of payment due from the station or mill shall be used to determine the amount of bonus payments under this section.

(g) Which mining properties are eligible. In order for a mining property to be eligible for bonus payments under this section:

(1) As required by paragraph (e) in this section, the total quantity of uranium oxide as contained in ore accepted by any station or mill from that property between April 9, 1948, and February 28, 1951, inclusive, must have been less than 10,000 pounds; and

(2) The property must be within the United States, its territories, possessions or the Canal Zone; and

(3) The property must be certified by the Commission as an eligible mining property in accordance with the following criteria:

(i) Purpose of the bonus. The purpose of the bonus is to encourage and assist the development of new sources of domestic uranium production.

(ii) Character of mining property. The mining property may consist of a placer or lode location, or if not covered by location, a tract which the Commission finds to be comparable or otherwise appropriate. However, if contiguous locations or tracts are held in common in the manner set forth in the following paragraph, the entire holding will be regarded as a single mining property.

(iii) Title or interest of the holder of the property. The title or interest in the mining property should be one of ownership or lawful possession of mining rights. This type of holding will generally be that of an owner or leaser (lessee). It is recognized that there are various arrangements such as split check leases, piece rate contracts and the like whereby persons either as employees or independent contractors conduct mining operations on designated areas of property held by another who also supplies certain of the mining services or equipment or both and who receives in return a percentage of the proceeds of the ore produced. In the case of such arrangements, the person who grants the right to conduct these mining operations will be considered as the holder of the mining property although others perform mining operations on it.

(iv) Minimum size of mining property. The mining property, if it is made up of a location or locations, should contain at least 15 acres. The minimum size of lands on Indian reservations will be established by the Commission after consultation with the Bureau of Indian Affairs of the Department of Interior. The minimum size of other mining properties will be established by the Commission in individual cases in the light of the purpose of the bonus.

(v) Subdivision or consolidation of property. Since the division of existing mining properties into smaller units might have the effect of increasing bonus payments without advancing the purpose of the program, division of a single mining property on or after March 1, 1951, will not be recognized in determining its eligibility for bonus payments under this section. In addition, consolidation or merger of contiguous mining properties on or after March 1, 1951, will not affect the eligibility of the separate properties for bonus payments.

(vi) Special cases. Since the above criteria are merely guides to assist the Commission in its decisions, properties which fail to meet all of the criteria may be certified by the Commission as eligible mining properties in special cases where it is determined that the deviations are not substantial or that their disqualification would cause serious inequities. On the other hand, technical compliance with these criteria will not necessarily make a property eligible as a mining property.

Normally properties leased to private operators by the Commission will not be eligible for bonus payments.

(h) Determination by the Commission. The Commission expressly reserves the right to decide the amount of any bonus payments to be made, whether the property should be certified as an eligible mining property, the person to whom the bonus should be paid and whether for any reason a bonus is not payable. These decisions shall rest in the sole discretion of the Commission and shall be final and conclusive. The Commission further reserves the right to establish procedures to carry out the bonus program. Any bonus payments made hereunder with respect to particular ores shall be the only such bonus payments made for those ores. The Commission will not consider any other application for bonus payments on those ores.

(i) Application for certification. Applications for certification of a property as eligible should be made to:

U. S. Atomic Energy Commission,
Colorado Raw Materials Office,
P. O. Box 270,
Grand Junction, Colo.

The application should include a brief description of the mining property indicating its size, location, ownership, interest of the applicant and public recording. There should also be included a statement by the applicant that to the best of his knowledge the total quantity of uranium oxide contained in ore from the property and accepted by a station or mill between April 9, 1948, and February 28, 1951, inclusive, was less than 10,000 pounds. A form prescribed by the Commission and obtainable at a station or mill should be used for supplying the above information. Certification by the Commission will be a prerequisite to payment of the bonus, but after certification, payments will be made for ores which are delivered before certification and which meet the requirements of this section. Normally certification will not be made before uranium deposits have been discovered on the property, but the Commission may issue certifications prior to discovery in special cases. The Commission reserves the right to revoke a certification if it determines that its issuance was based on fraud, misrepresentation or mistake or if the requirements of this section are not complied with. The Commission may require such information and right to make such inspections of the mining property as it finds necessary for the purpose of determining its eligibility for bonus payments and the amounts to be paid.

NOTE: Misrepresentation or falsification of facts in an application for certification or for bonus payments may subject the offender to criminal penalties under pertinent provisions of the United States Code including section 1001 of Title 18.

(j) Application for bonus payment. Application for a bonus payment should be made on a prescribed form (obtainable at a station or mill) at intervals not more frequent than once a month during a period when ore deliveries from the property are believed to meet the requirements of this section. Applications may be addressed as follows:

U. S. Atomic Energy Commission,
Colorado Raw Materials Office,
P. O. Box 270,
Grand Junction, Colo.

In addition to the application, the Commission may require such other information as it finds necessary.

(k) Who may apply for bonus payments. The person who has lawfully received payment from a station or mill for the delivery of ore from a certified mining property may apply for bonus payments under this section. However, in special cases, the applications of persons whose ores have been accepted but not paid for by the station or mill will be considered.

(l) Mill processing ores from its own mines. In the event that an operator of a mill processes in the mill ores which it obtains from mining properties operated by it, the Commission will pay the bonus under the conditions set forth in this section to the same extent as if the mining properties were operated by another person who delivered ore to the mill and received payment for it from the mill. In such case, however, the weights and assays used to fix the amount of payment due as a bonus under this section shall be determined in accordance with practices satisfactory to the Commission.

(m) Definitions. As used in this section:

(1) "Commission" means the Atomic Energy Commission created by the Atomic Energy Act of 1946, or its duly authorized representative;

(2) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, firm, association, trust, estate, public or private institution, group, or combination thereof. The term "person" shall not include the United States or any agency thereof or any officer or employee of the Commission.

(n) Commission ore-buying stations and qualified uranium mills—(1) Stations. The following are Commission ore-buying stations:

American Smelting & Refining Co., Monticello, Utah.
American Smelting & Refining Co., Marysvale, Utah.

(2) Mills. The following are qualified uranium mills:

United States Vanadium Co., Uravan, Colo.
United States Vanadium Co., Rifle, Colo.
Climax Uranium Co., Grand Junction, Colo.
Vanadium Corp. of America, Durango, Colo.
Vanadium Corp. of America, Naturita, Colo.
Vanadium Corp. of America, Hite, Utah.
Vitro Chemical Co., 600 West Thirtieth Street South, Salt Lake City, Utah.

(3) Modifications. These lists may be modified from time to time by public announcement of the Commission.

(o) Inquiries and communications. Inquiries about this section and all other communications should be addressed as follows:

U. S. Atomic Energy Commission,
Colorado Raw Materials Office,
P. O. Box 270,
Grand Junction, Colo.

(p) Records, rules and regulations. The Commission may require applicants for bonus payments under this section to keep for Commission inspection such records concerning production and deliveries of uranium ores for which application is made as it finds proper and may issue such additional rules and regulations relating to bonus payments as it finds necessary or desirable.

[Docket No. 9939]

CLASS B FM BROADCAST STATIONS

AMENDMENT OF REVISED TENTATIVE ALLOCATION PLAN

1. Notice is hereby given of proposed rule making in the above-entitled matter.

2. It is proposed to amend the Revised Tentative Allocation Plan for Class B FM Broadcast Stations as follows:

General area	Channels
	Delete	Add
1. Rexburg, Idaho		229
Idaho Falls, Idaho	229
2. Dillon, S. C.		225
Jacksonville, N. C.	225

3. The purpose of the proposed amendment is to provide Class B channels in the areas set forth in paragraph 2 above, thereby facilitating consideration of pending applications requesting Class B assignments in these areas.

4. Authority for the adoption of the proposed amendments is contained in sections 4 (i), 301, 303 (c), (d), (f), and (r) and 307 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

5. Any interested party who is of the opinion that the proposal herein should or should not be adopted, or should not be adopted in the form set forth herein, may file with the Commission, on or before May 7, 1951, a written statement or brief setting forth his comments. Comments or briefs in reply to the original comments or briefs may be filed not later than May 17, 1951. The Commission will consider all such comments that are presented before taking action in this matter and, if any comments are submitted which appear to warrant that oral argument be held thereon, notice of the time and place of such oral argument will be given.

6. In accordance with the provisions of § 1.764 of the Commission's rules and regulations, an original and 14 copies of all statements, briefs or comments shall be furnished the Commission.

Adopted: April 4, 1951.

Released: April 5, 1951.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Production and Marketing Administration

REASONABLE WAGE RATES FOR PERSONS EMPLOYED IN SUGARCANE INDUSTRY IN FLORIDA

NOTICE OF HEARING AND DESIGNATION OF PRESIDING OFFICERS

Pursuant to the authority contained in subsections (c) (1) and (c) (2) of section 301 of the Sugar Act of 1948 (61 Stat. 929; 7 U. S. C., Sup. 1131), notice is hereby given that a public hearing will be held in Clewiston, Florida, in the Sugarland Park Auditorium on May 5, 1951, at 10:00 a. m.

The purpose of this hearing is to receive evidence likely to be of assistance to the Secretary of Agriculture in determining (1), pursuant to the provisions of section 301 (c) (1) of the act, fair and reasonable wage rates for persons employed in the production, cultivation, or harvesting of sugarcane in Florida during the period July 1, 1951, through June 30, 1952, on farms with respect to which applications for payment under the act are made, and (2), pursuant to the provisions of section 301 (c) (2) of the act, fair and reasonable prices for the 1951 crop of sugarcane to be paid under either purchase or toll agreements by processors who, as producers, apply for payments under the act. In the interest of obtaining the best possible information, all interested persons are requested to appear to express their views and present appropriate data in regard to the foregoing matters.

The hearing, after being called to order at the time and place mentioned herein, may be continued from day to day within the discretion of the presiding officers and may be adjourned to a later day or to a different place without notice other than the announcement thereof by the presiding officers.

Thomas H. Allen and Ward S. Stevenson are hereby designated as presiding officers to conduct either jointly or severally the foregoing hearing.

Issued this 10th day of April 1951.

[SEAL] G. F. GEISSLER,
Administrator.

HANDLING OF MILK IN NEW YORK METROPOLITAN MILK MARKETING AREA

DETERMINATION THAT HEARING SHOULD NOT BE HELD

Section 927.5 (a) (1) (ii) of the order as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the New York metropolitan milk marketing area (7 CFR Part 927) (hereinafter referred to as "the order") provides that:

(ii) Whenever any of the following conditions exist for 3 consecutive months, the Secretary shall call a public hearing promptly to consider those and other economic conditions, or promptly announce his determination that such a hearing should not be held, together with reasons for such determination:

(a) There is a difference of more than 6 points for each of 3 consecutive months between the index of the cost of production announced pursuant to paragraph (g) (1) (vi) of this section and the index of wholesale prices (1948 base) announced pursuant to paragraph (g) (1) (i) of this section.

(b) There is a difference of more than 15 points for each of 3 consecutive months between the index of the cost of production announced pursuant to paragraph (g) (1) (vi) of this section and the index of the Class I–A price announced pursuant to paragraph (g) (1) (vii) of this section.

(c) The Class I–A price for each of 3 consecutive months is less than $1.00 higher than the condensery price announced pursuant to paragraph (g) (1) (viii) of this section for such months or more than $2.50 higher than such condensery price.

The factors compared in the above-quoted provisions of the order for each month since October 1950 have been as follows:

	November	December	January	February	March	April
Index of cost of production	97	98	100	100	.....	.....
Index of wholesale prices	104.1	106.3	109.2	111.3	.....	.....
Difference between index cost of production and index of wholesale price	7.1	8.3	9.2	11.3	.....	.....
Index of class I–A price	98	96	97	100	102	103
Difference between index of cost of production and index of class I–A price	1	2	3	0	.....	.....
Class I–A price	$6.02	$5.81	$5.78	$5.84	$5.78	$5.48
Condensery price	$6.121	$3.409	$3.672	$3.742	.....	.....
Difference between class I–A price and condensery price	$2.899	$2.401	$2.018	$2.098	.....	.....

There has been a difference of more than 6 points for each of 3 consecutive months between the index of cost of production and the index of wholesale prices, thus requiring, pursuant to the above quoted provisions of the order, the call of a public hearing or, in the alternative, announcement of a determination that a public hearing should not be held to consider the existence of those and other economic conditions.

The Class I–A pricing formula is designed to result in changes in the Class I–A price from month to month from the selected base price of $5.66 (average for 1948) in accordance with changes in the index of wholesale prices and in supply in relation to sales of Class I milk from the levels of 1948. Factors designed to provide seasonal variation are also specified.

It is apparent from the comparisons tabulated above that the index of cost of production and the index of wholesale prices have both increased during the period from October 1950 to February 1951, but that the wholesale price index has increased at a somewhat faster rate. The February cost of production index is at the 1948 level while the wholesale price index is 11.3 points above the 1948 level.

However, the supply of pool milk in relation to the volume of milk utilized in Class I has been larger during the past several months than in 1948 with the result that operation of the utilization adjustment percentage factor in the formula has tended to offset the price raising effect of the wholesale price index, and has fixed Class I–A prices for recent months at approximately the same level as in 1948. The Class I–A price index and the cost of production index are both at the same level for the last month (February) for which the latter is available.

The Class I–A price in relation to the midwest condensary price is higher than in 1948 but is well within the limits specified. The difference has declined in recent months, and in view of scheduled seasonal reductions in the Class I–A price, is expected to decline further during the first half of 1951.

Although the volume of pool milk in excess of Class I utilization continues high in relation to 1948, the number of producers of pool milk declined in each month from July 1950 to virtually the same number in February 1951 as in February 1950, and production per day per dairy in each month since July 1950 has ranged from 2 to 7.6 lower than in the same month a year earlier. Accordingly, the volume of pool milk in each month since August 1950 has been lower than in the same month a year earlier in amounts ranging from 1 to 5.8 percent.

Representatives of cooperative associations of producers constituting a majority of the producers of pool milk contend that the downward trend of the past several months in production is primarily a reflection of two factors (1) high beef prices in relation to milk prices, and (2) a shortage of good farm labor, and that these factors will result in a further reduction in supply during the next several months. Available data are not sufficiently current to permit a determination of the extent, if any, of the influence of the first of such factors on the number of dairy cows in the New York milkshed. There may be some lag in the reflection of both factors through operation of the Class I–A pricing formula.

It is concluded, in view of other considerations herein set forth, that the divergence of the index of cost of production and the index of wholesale prices does not constitute a condition which justifies the calling of a public hearing at this time to consider that and other economic conditions affecting the supply and demand for milk in the New York Metropolitan area. Accordingly, it is determined that such a hearing should not be held.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 10th day of April 1951.

[SEAL] CHARLES F. BRANNAN,
Secretary of Agriculture.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

STATEMENTS OF ORGANIZATION, DELEGATIONS OF AUTHORITY AND PUBLIC INFORMATION

ENGINEERS IN CHARGE OF PORT OFFICES

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C. on the 4th day of April 1951;

The Commission having under consideration the provision of section 0.151 which delegates to the Commission's engineers in charge of port offices authority to act on applications for waiver of the requirement of section 353 (b) of the Communications Act that at least one operator possessing a minimum of six months' experience be employed on certain ships and having under consideration section 0.152 of the Commission's rules which provides for recording in the Commission's official minutes action taken under section 0.151, and

It appearing, that the provisons of section 353 (b) authorizing the Commission to grant waivers of the six months' service requirement was repealed by Congress effective July 1, 1948; and

It further appearing, that the Commission's engineers in charge of port offices now do not have authority under the Communications Act to waive the six months' service requirement of section 353 (b) of the Communications Act; and

It further appearing, that notice of proposed rule making and public rule making procedure may be omitted in accordance with section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act as being unnecessary since the Commission's engineers in charge do not have statutory authority to exercise the delegation contained in section 0.151,

It is ordered, That Part 0 of the Commission's rules and regulations be amended to delete sections 0.151 and 0.152.

It is further ordered, That this order shall become effective immediately.

Adopted: April 4, 1951.

Released: April 5, 1951.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[Docket No. E-6346]

CONNECTICUT RIVER POWER CO.

NOTICE OF DECLARATION OF INTENTION

APRIL 9, 1951.

Notice is hereby given that Connecticut River Power Company of Littleton, New Hampshire has filed a declaration of intention pursuant to section 23 (b) of the Federal Power Act (16 U. S. C. 817) to construct a hydroelectric development on the Connecticut River upstream from the Comerford Development and near Waterford, Vermont and Littleton, New Hampshire.

The proposed development would consist of a dam about 5,325 feet long composed of two earth embankment sections, a concrete intake section, and a concrete spillway section with gates and flashboards extending to elevation 809 feet; a reservoir about 11 miles long having a usable storage of 115,000 acre-feet with a draw-down of 40 feet; a powerhouse at the foot of the dam containing four turbines, each rated at 55,000 horsepower at 160-foot head and connected to a 39,000-kilovolt-ampere generator; 4 penstocks, each about 296 feet long; a switchyard; and two 230-kilovolt transmission lines about 7 miles long extending from the switchyard to the Comerford switchyard.

The proposed development would be operated as a peak-load plant and as part of the Fifteen Mile Falls project which would consist of the constructed McIndoes and Comerford developments and the proposed Littleton development. The proposed development would be interconnected with the New England Electric System at the Comerford development and used for public-utility purposes.

The proposed development will be investigated by the Commission and if, upon such investigation, the Commission finds that the interests of interstate or foreign commerce would be affected, or that any lands of the United States would be affected thereby, construction may not be commenced until a license has been applied for and obtained.

Any communication from persons interested in this matter may be submitted, within 30 days from publication of this notice, addressed to the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION

[File No. 21-435]

GLADIOLUS BULB INDUSTRY

NOTICE OF HOLDING OF TRADE PRACTICE CONFERENCE

A trade practice conference for the Gladiolus Bulb Industry will be held by the Federal Trade Commission in the LaSalle Hotel, Chicago, Illinois, on May 4, 1951, commencing at 10 a. m. c. s. t.

All persons, firms, corporations and organizations engaged in the business of growing and distributing or marketing gladiolus bulbs in commerce are cordially invited to attend or be represented at the conference and to take part in the proceedings.

The proceedings in this matter were instituted by the Commission pursuant to an application therefor by the North American Commercial Gladiolus Growers. A regional conference was held at Los Angeles on January 6, 1951, for the purpose of facilitating participation on the part of industry members located in the states of Washington, Oregon, California, Idaho, Nevada, Utah, Wyoming, Arizona, Colorado, and New Mexico. The conference to be held on May 4 constitutes a further step in the proceedings.

The conference and further proceedings in the matter will be directed toward the eventual establishment and promulgation by the Commission of trade practice rules for the industry under which unfair methods of competition, unfair or deceptive acts or practices, and other trade abuses, may be eliminated and prevented.

Issued: April 10, 1951.

TITLE 5—ADMINISTRATIVE PERSONNEL

Chapter I—Civil Service Commission

PART 9—SEPARATIONS, SUSPENSIONS AND DEMOTIONS

EFFECT OF REMOVAL ON FUTURE EMPLOYMENT

Section 9.106 is amended to read as follows:

§ 9.106 Effect of removal on future employment. When an employee has been removed on charges (other than loyalty) or has resigned upon learning the agency planned to prefer charges or while charges were pending (other than loyalty), the Commission may receive the sworn statement of such employee, setting forth fully and in detail the facts surrounding his removal or resignation and within its discretion may make investigation to determine his eligibility for further employment in the competitive Federal service insofar as suitability and fitness are concerned. After such investigation such employee will be advised whether the Commission as a result of the investigation has found him to be suitable for further employment in the competitive Federal service. No case will be considered under this provision unless submitted to the Commission within six months from the date of separation or 60 days after the date of the last adverse decision as a result of an appeal under Part 22 of this chapter.

(R. S. 1753, sec. 2, 22 Stat. 403; 5 U. S. C. 631, 633. E. O. 9830, Feb. 24, 1947, 12 F. R. 1259; 3 CFR, 1947 Supp.)

Chapter IV—Fair Employment Board

PART 410—INSTRUCTIONS FOR CARRYING OUT THE FAIR EMPLOYMENT PROGRAM UNDER EXECUTIVE ORDER 9980

Effective May 1, 1951, Part 410 is revised and amended to read as follows:

Sec.
410.1 Coverage.
410.2 Explanation of terms.
410.3 Fair Employment Officer.
410.4 Instructions for handling complaints and appeals made by individuals.
410.5 Instructions for handling complaints filed by groups or organizations.
410.6 Records and reports.
410.7 Dissemination of information.

AUTHORITY: §§ 410.1 to 410.7 issued under E. O. 9980, July 26, 1948, 13 F. R. 4311, 3 CFR, 1948 Supp.

§ 410.1 Coverage. (a) Executive Order 9980 and this part apply to all departments and agencies in the executive branch of the Federal government.

(b) The remedies provided under Executive Order 9980 and this part shall be available to citizens of, and persons who owe allegiance to the United States who are employed by, or are applicants for employment in the executive branch of the Federal Government.

§ 410.2 Explanation of terms.—(a) Department. Any department or agency of the executive branch of the Federal government, including the Civil Service Commission.

(b) Employee. An individual appointed by a Federal officer, and who is engaged in the performance of Federal functions in the executive branch of the Federal government under authority of an act of Congress or an Executive order, and who, in the performance of such duties, is supervised and directed by a Federal officer.

(c) Applicant. A person failing of appointment in the executive branch of the Federal government who alleges a grievance relating to discrimination.

(d) Discrimination. An unfavorable personnel action affecting an employee or applicant based on race, color, religion, or national origin and not on merit and fitness. Preference in appointment and difference in conditions of employment, such as pay, leave, hours of work, etc., based upon law or upon regulations under authority of law do not constitute discrimination within the meaning of Executive Order 9980.

(e) Personnel action. Any action taken within a department which affects the equality of economic opportunity of an employee or applicant, except an action taken pursuant to a formal decision of the Fair Employment Board and designed to correct a specific discrimination. The term "personnel action" shall include failure to act.

(f) Complete file. All letters, notices, memoranda, reports, transcripts, affidavits or supporting documents in connection with the initiation, investigation, hearing, decison and closing of a case or cases.

(g) Deputy Fair Employment Officer. The term "Deputy Fair Employment Officer" shall include committees and boards.

§ 410.3 Fair Employment Officer. The head of each department shall appoint a Fair Employment Officer who shall have full operating responsibility under the immediate supervision of the head of the department for carrying out the fair employment policies stated in Executive Order 9980. In each department, as defined in § 410.2 (a), which is composed of two or more bureaus or comparable subordinate organizational units, the Fair Employment Officer shall appoint one or more Deputy Fair Employment Officers who, under his general supervision shall have the responsibility for carrying out the fair employment policy and procedures within their respective organizational units.

§ 410.4 Instructions for handling complaints and appeals made by individuals—(a) Initiation of complaint. (1) Procedures under this section shall apply and be available only to an employee or to a person failing of appointment who alleges that a personnel action, as defined in § 410.2 (a), which affects him has been taken because of race, color, religion, or national origin.

(2) The complaint must be made not later than three months from the date of the personnel action complained of, unless failure to submit the complaint within these time limits was due to unusual circumstances beyond the control of the complainant.

(3) An employee may file a complaint with the first-line supervisor, with the Deputy Fair Employment Officer, or with the Fair Employment Officer. Complaints initiated with the supervisor may be oral or in writing. Those initiated with the Deputy Fair Employment Officer or the Fair Employment Officer must be in writing.

NOTE: Employees should be encouraged to seek informal adjustment of their complaints with their immediate supervisors. It is the view of the Board that good relations between the supervisor and the employee will thus be furthered. Many incipient complaints can be eliminated by giving valid reasons for an action that is being brought into question. Where error has crept in, the supervisor will have opportunity to correct it on his own motion. Furthermore, with responsibility upon the supervisor for initial action on the complaint the problems involved will be more forcefully impressed upon him. If no adjustment can be made, the supervisor should advise the employee to put his complaint in writing.

(4) An applicant may file a complaint with the Deputy Fair Employment Officer, or with the Fair Employment Officer of the department. Such complaints must be in writing.

(5) Any initial written complaint must specify:

(i) The name of the department and employing unit against which complaint is made.

(ii) The specific personnel action or actions complained of.

(iii) The approximate dates or date thereof.

(iv) A statement of all pertinent facts in support of the allegation of discrimination, including dates, names of individuals involved, incidents, occurrences, and circumstances.

(v) Remedies sought.

(vi) Signature of complainant.

(b) Supervisor's action on a complaint. (1) If a written complaint is made to a supervisor, immediate steps shall be taken to effect such adjustment as is warranted by the facts. If the complaint is adjusted to the satisfaction of the complainant, a written report of such adjustment shall be made to the Deputy Fair Employment Officer. If the complaint cannot be adjusted satisfactorily and promptly, the report to the Deputy Fair Employment Officer shall set forth the basis for the complaint and the reasons for the supervisor's inability to effect a satisfactory adjustment.

(c) Deputy Fair Employment Officer's action on a complaint—(1) Investigation and adjustment by informal negotiation. On receipt of an original complaint or a complaint referred to him by a supervisor, the Deputy Fair Employment Officer shall promptly make or cause to be made such investigation as is necessary to ascertain the facts at issue on the complaint. He should endeavor through informal negotiation to effect a satisfactory settlement of the complaint, and, if necessary, shall take or cause to be taken corrective action. The Fair Employment Officer and all other interested parties shall be advised of the settlement of the complaint and any corrective action which may be taken.

(2) Failure of adjustment by informal negotiation. In the event the Deputy Fair Employment Officer is not able to effect a satisfactory settlement of the complaint by informal negotiation, he shall forward to the Fair Employment Officer the complete file on the complaint.

(d) Action by the Fair Employment Officer on a complaint. (1) On receipt of an original complaint or a complaint referred to him by a Deputy Fair Employment Officer or by the Fair Employment Board, the Fair Employment Officer shall make or cause to be made such investigation as is necessary to resolve all issues raised by the individual complaint. Simultaneously he shall make or cause to be made an appraisal of the personnel actions in the unit in which the complaint originated, in accordance with specifications furnished by the Fair Employment Board.

(2) If, after the above action is taken it is not possible to adjust the complaint to the satisfaction of the complainant the Fair Employment Officer shall advise him of his right to a hearing.

(3) On request from the complainant, the Fair Employment Officer shall schedule a hearing which shall be held in a place reasonably convenient to the complainant. The complainant must attend the hearing but he may be assisted by a representative of his own choosing. The hearing shall be conducted either by the Fair Employment Officer or by a deputy, committee or hearing board which the Fair Employment Officer shall designate from among the officers or employees of the department. At this hearing the complainant shall be permitted to present by witness or otherwise any facts pertinent to the issues. Where practicable, a transcript of testimony shall be made. If a verbatim transcript is not practicable a full summary of the testimony shall be made by the hearing officer. The summary may be agreed to and signed by the complainant and the hearing officer, or if the complainant does not agree with the summary, he may note and sign his exceptions which will become a part of the summary. Any transcript or summary shall be available for inspection by the complainant or his authorized representative and by interested agency officials.

(4) On the material facts disclosed by the investigation, by the general appraisal of personnel actions, and by the hearing, if held, the Fair Employment Officer shall make findings of fact. From these findings of fact he shall make a decision or recommend a decision to the head of the department. If he makes a decision, he shall advise the interested parties of the decision and furnish them with a copy of the findings of fact. If his decision is favorable to the complainant, the Fair Employment Officer shall take or cause to be taken appropriate corrective action. If his decision is unfavorable to the complainant, the Fair Employment Officer shall notify the complainant, in writing, of his right to appeal to the head of the department.

(e) Appeal to the head of the department. (1) In the event that a decision is recommended by the Fair Employment Officer to the head of the department, or an appeal is taken from a decision of the Fair Employment Officer, the head of the department shall make a decision upon the facts of the case and notify the interested parties in writing of such decision. If the complainant has not previously been furnished with a copy of the findings of fact, he shall be furnished such a copy with the decision of the head of the department.

(2) If the decision is favorable to the appellant, the head of the department shall take, or cause to be taken, such corrective and disciplinary action as appears warranted.

(3) If the decision is unfavorable to the appellant, the head of the department shall advise the appellant in writing, in duplicate, of the decision and of his right to appeal to the Fair Employment Board of the Civil Service Commission. In addition, he should be advised that if he appeals to the Fair Employment Board, a copy of the adverse decision must accompany his appeal.

(f) General provisions relating to complaints. (1) The head of each department shall prescribe procedures, consistent with Executive Order No. 9980 and this part, for the prompt handling of complaints and appeals which are made under that order.

(2) Amendments in regulations and changes in procedures becoming effective while an appeal is being processed may be applied to such appeal at whatever stage it has then reached, Provided, That the appellant shall not be deprived of any substantive right or resource to which he would have been entitled under the regulations and procedures in effect at the time his complaint was initiated.

(3) If a complaint of discrimination because of race, color, religion or national origin is denied on the ground that the action complained of is not a personnel action as defined in § 410.2 (e) the complainant shall be advised that he may appeal this determination through the same channels as are prescribed in this section. If, on appeal, it is determined that the action complained of is a personnel action as defined in § 410.2 (e), the case may be remanded to the proper officers for further investigation or action on the issue of discrimination.

(4) The means of relief provided by Executive Order 9980 or any regulations thereunder shall be supplemental to those provided by existing statutes, Executive orders and regulations, such as appeals to the Civil Service Commission under section 14 of the Veterans' Preference Act of 1944 or the reduction-in-force regulations, etc. If the complainant has the right of appeal to the Civil Service Commission under authority of law, for example, section 14 of the Veterans' Preference Act of 1944, and also has a right of appeal under Executive Order 9980, he may elect the channel through which he presents his complaint, but if he elects to appeal directly to the Civil Service Commission, he may not thereafter avail himself of the procedures under Executive Order 9980.

§ 410.5 Instructions for handling complaints filed by groups or organizations (except groups or organizations proscribed by Executive Order 9835). (a) Letter of complaint. A group or organization may file a written complaint regarding personnel actions which have the effect of discriminating against a group of employees or applicants on account of race, color, religion, or national origin. Such a letter of complaint must not be based on supposition or belief but must include full and complete information to support the allegations of discrimination in personnel actions, setting forth dates, names and identification of individuals involved, incidents, occurrences and circumstances.

(b) Where filed. Complaints made by groups or organizations should be filed with the Fair Employment Officer of the department in which the alleged discrimination occurred.

(c) Action by Fair Employment Officer on complaint. The Fair Employment Officer must make a full and complete investigation of the allegations of discrimination. The holding of a hearing is optional with the Fair Employment Officer. The Fair Employment Officer shall report the results of his investigation, together with his recommendations, to the head of the department. The head of the department shall make a decision on the specific allegations of discrimination and take corrective action where necessary. The group or organization making the complaint shall be advised of the decision, of the facts on which such decision is based, and of the right to appeal to the Fair Employment Board of the U. S. Civil Service Commission. Any appeal shall be filed with the Board within 30 days of the receipt of the decision and shall set forth specifically the basis for the appeal.

§ 410.6 Records and reports. Section 6 of Executive Order 9980 provides that all departments shall furnish the Fair Employment Board with all information needed for the review of personnel actions or for the compilation of reports. The complete file in each case or cases under Executive Order 9980 shall be maintained intact in each department at least until such time as all appeal rights have been exhausted and, upon request, shall be promptly forwarded to the Fair Employment Board.

§ 410.7 Dissemination of information. (a) The procedures adopted by each department for handling complaints and appeals under Executive Order 9980 shall be brought to the attention of every officer and employee.

(b) In the agenda of all in-service training programs which involve classroom work or other formalized group instruction, the fair employment policy and program shall be included. Likewise, at reasonable intervals the fair employment policy shall be included in the agenda for departmental and field staff, executive, and supervisory conferences.

(c) Information concerning the fair employment policy and the department's practice in putting it into effect shall be published periodically in employee publications.

Effective May 1, 1951.

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

Chapter VII—Production and Marketing Administration (Agricultural Adjustment), Department of Agriculture

PART 729—PEANUTS

NATIONAL MARKETING QUOTA, NATIONAL ACREAGE ALLOTMENT, AND APPORTIONMENT TO STATES OF NATIONAL ACREAGE ALLOTMENT FOR PEANUTS FOR THE 1951 CROP

The purpose of the amendment contained herein is to revise the 1951 State peanut acreage allotments issued October 30, 1950 (15 F. R. 7291), in order to comply with certain changes recently made in the peanut marketing quota provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended (7 U. S. C. 1357–1359) by Public Law 17, 82d Congress, approved April 12, 1951. Section 358 (c) of the act, as amended by the aforesaid Public Law, reads in part as follows:

SECTION 358 (c). (1) The national acreage allotment for 1951, less the acreage to be allotted to new farms under subsection (f) of this section, shall be apportioned among States on the basis of the larger of the following for each State: (a) The acreage allotted to the State as its share of the 1950 national acreage allotment of two million one hundred thousand acres, or (b) the State's share of two million one hundred thousand acres apportioned to States on the basis of the average acreage harvested for nuts in each State in the five years 1945–49: Provided, That any allotment so determined for any State which is less than the 1951 State allotment announced by the Secretary prior to the enactment of this Act shall be increased to such announced allotment and the acreage required for such increases shall be in addition to the 1951 national acreage allotment and shall be considered in determining State acreage allotments in future years. • • •

The additional acreage required to establish State acreage allotments in accordance with the foregoing provisions of the act is 34,900 acres.

Farmers throughout the peanut-producing States have been planting peanuts for the 1951 crop. It is therefore imperative that the revised State acreage allotments become effective at the earliest possible date in order that State and county Production and Marketing Administration committees in affected States may redetermine farm acreage allotments and notify farm operators of the additional acreage which may be planted in 1951 within the farm allotment. Accordingly, it is hereby determined and found that compliance with the notice, procedure, and effective date requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act (7 U. S. C. 1003) is impracticable and contrary to the public interest. The State allotments proclaimed herein shall be effective upon filing of this document with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

Section 729.203 of a proclamation establishing the national marketing quota, national acreage allotment, and the State acreage allotments for the 1951 crop of peanuts (15 F. R. 7291) is amended to read as follows:

§ 729.203 Apportionment of the national peanut acreage allotment for the crop produced in the calendar year 1951. The national peanut acreage allotment proclaimed in § 729.202 (c) and the additional acreage of 34,900 acres authorized by Public Law 17, 82d Congress approved April 12, 1951, are hereby apportioned as follows:

State:	1951 State acreage allotment
Alabama	243,321

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 12th day of April 1951. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

PART 729—PEANUTS

MARKETING QUOTA REGULATIONS FOR 1951 CROP

The amendments set forth herein are made to give effect to certain changes made in the peanut marketing quota provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended (7 U. S. C. 1357–1359), by Public Law 17, 82nd Congress, approved April 12, 1951. Section 729.228 implements section 358 (g) of the act relating to the release, reapportionment and adjustment of farm acreage allotments. Section 729.229, which is based upon section 358 (h) of the act, governs the reallocation of farm acreage allotments established for farms which are removed from agricultural production. Section 729.230 contains the procedure for apportioning among farms producing a type of peanuts in short supply, the additional acreage which the Secretary of Agriculture determines, pursuant to section 358 (c) (2) of the act, is necessary to produce the quantity of such type of peanuts needed to meet demand therefor. Section 729.231 provides that the county committee shall establish for each peanut farm the acreage of peanuts picked or threshed in 1947, or in 1948 if no peanuts were harvested on the farm in 1947, and states the procedure under which a producer may appeal the determination of the county committee with respect to such acreage. The acreage of peanuts harvested in 1947 or 1948, as the case may be, is required to be established for purposes of section 359 (g) of the act.

Farmers in the southernmost areas of the United States have already begun the planting of their 1951 crops of peanuts, and farmers in the other peanut-producing areas of the Nation are completing their plans for the production of peanuts in 1951. In order that peanut farmers who are affected by the amendments set forth below may make the necessary changes in their plans and operations, it is essential that the amendments be made effective as soon as possible. Accordingly, it is hereby determined and found that compliance with the notice, procedure, and effective date requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003) is impracticable and contrary to the public interest, and the amendments contained herein shall be effective upon filing of this document with the Director, Division of the FEDERAL REGISTER.

The marketing quota regulations for the 1951 crop of peanuts (15 F. R. 7292) are hereby amended by adding the following new sections:

Sec.
729.228 Release and reapportionment.
729.229 Reallocation of allotments released from farms removed from agricultural production.
729.230 Additional acreage allotment for farms producing types of peanuts in short supply.
729.231 Determination of 1947 or 1948 picked or threshed peanut acreage for farms and right of appeal with respect to such determination.

AUTHORITY: §§ 729.228 to 729.231 issued under sec. 375, 52 Stat. 66, as amended. 7 U. S. C. 1375. Interpret or apply secs. 358, 359, 55 Stat. 88, 90, as amended, Pub. Law 17, 82nd Cong.; 7 U. S. C. and Sup., 1358, 1359.

§ 729.228 Release and reapportionment—(a) Release of acreage allotments. Any part of the acreage allotted for 1951 to an individual farm in any county under the provisions of § 729.222 and § 729.226 on which peanuts will not be produced and which the owner or operator of the farm voluntarily surrenders in writing to the county committee by the closing date established by the State Committee, which shall not be later than June 1, 1951, shall be deducted from the allotment to such farm in accordance with instructions issued by the Assistant Administrator. If any part of the farm acreage allotment is permanently released (i. e., for 1951 and all subsequent years), such release shall be in writing and signed by both the owner and the operator of the farm.

(b) Reapportionment of released acreage allotment. The acreage allotments released under paragraph (a) of this section shall be reapportioned by the county committee, in accordance with instructions issued by the Assistant Administrator, to other farms in the same county receiving allotments in amounts determined by the county committee to be fair and reasonable on the basis of land, labor, and equipment available for the production of peanuts; crop rotation practices; and soil and other physical factors affecting the production of peanuts. Such reapportionments shall be made on the basis of applications filed on Form MQ–30–(Peanuts) 1951 by farm owners or operators with the county committee not later than a closing date established by the State committee, which shall be not earlier than May 1, 1951, or later than July 1, 1951.

(c) Maximum acreage allotment. No allotment shall be increased by reason of the provisions in paragraph (b) of this section to an acreage in excess of the larger of (i) the result obtained by multiplying the tillable acreage available for the farm by the tillable acreage factor or (ii) the largest picked and threshed peanut acreage for the farm (excluding excess acreage) for any one of the years 1948, 1949, or 1950, as determined under instructions issued by the Assistant Administrator.

(d) Credit for acreage allotment released for 1951 only. The release, for 1951 only, of any part of the acreage allotted for 1951 to individual farms, pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, shall not operate to reduce the allotment for any subsequent year for the farm from which such acreage was released unless the farm becomes ineligible for an old farm allotment in 1952 because peanuts were not produced on the farm in 1949, 1950 or 1951. Any reapportionment of allotment under this section shall not operate to increase the allotment for any year subsequent to 1951 for the farm to which the acreage is reapportioned.

§ 729.229 Reallocation of allotments released from farms removed from agricultural production. The allotment determined or which would have been determined for any land which is removed from agricultural production for any purpose because of acquisition by any Federal, State, or other agency having a right of eminent domain shall be placed in a State pool and shall be available for use in providing equitable allotments for farms owned or purchased by owners displaced because of acquisition of their farms by such agencies. Upon application to the county committee within five years from the date of such acquisition of the farm, any owner so displaced shall be entitled to have an allotment for any other farm owned or purchased by him equal to an allotment which would have been determined for such other farm plus the allotment which would have been determined for the farm so acquired: Provided, That such allotment shall not exceed 50 percent of the acreage of cropland on the farm.

The provisions of this section shall not be applicable if (a) there is any marketing quota penalty due with respect to the marketing of peanuts from the farm or by the owner of the farm at the time of its acquisition by the Federal, State, or other agency; (b) any peanuts produced on such farm have not been accounted for as required by the Secretary; or (c) the allotment next to be established for the farm acquired by the Federal, State, or other agency would have been reduced because of false or improper identification of peanuts produced on or marketed from such farm.

§ 729.230 Additional acreage allotment for farms producing types of peanuts in short supply. The additional acreage allotment apportioned to any State producing peanuts of a type or types determined to be in short supply for 1951, less a reserve for the correction of errors, shall be apportioned among farms on which peanuts of such type or types were produced in any one of three years 1948, 1949, and 1950, on the basis of the average picked and threshed acreage of peanuts of such type or types (excluding excess acreage) on each such farm during such period. The reserve for the correction of errors shall be determined by the State Committee on the basis of experience in past allotment programs and its knowledge as to the reliability of data used in apportioning the additional acreage to farms, and shall not exceed three-fourths of one percent of the additional acreage apportioned to the State.

The increase in acreage allotment under this section shall not be considered in establishing future State, county, or farm acreage allotments.

§ 729.231 Determination of 1947 or 1948 picked or threshed peanut acreage for farms and right of appeal with respect to such determination. If the total acreage of peanuts picked or threshed on a farm does not exceed the total acreage of peanuts picked or threshed on the farm in 1947, or 1948 if no peanuts were harvested on the farm in 1947, payment of the marketing penalty as provided in section 359 (a) of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, will not be required on any excess peanuts which are delivered to or marketed through an agency or agencies designated by the Secretary. The county committee shall, on the basis of data furnished by producers and other available records of peanut acreages and production, determine for each peanut farm in the county the acreage of peanuts picked or threshed in 1947, or 1948 if no peanuts were harvested on the farm in 1947. A notice of the acreage so determined shall be prepared by the county committee and mailed to the farm operator. Any interested person who, as operator, landlord, tenant or sharecropper, is dissatisfied with the acreage so determined for the farm may file an appeal for reconsideration of such acreage. The request for appeal and facts constituting a basis for such consideration must be submitted in writing and postmarked or delivered to the county committee within 15 days after the date of mailing the notice. If the applicant is dissatisfied with the decision of the county committee with respect to his appeal, he may appeal to the State committee within 15 days after the date of mailing the notice of the decision of the county committee. The decision of the State committee shall be final.

Chapter IX—Production and Marketing Administration (Marketing Agreements and Orders), Department of Agriculture

PART 944—MILK IN QUAD CITIES MARKETING AREA

ORDER SUSPENDING CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF THE ORDER, AS AMENDED, REGULATING THE HANDLING

Pursuant to the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), hereinafter referred to as the "act," and of the order, as amended (7 CFR Part 944), regulating the handling of milk in the Quad Cities marketing area, hereinafter referred to as the "order," it is hereby found and determined that:

(a) The provisions of the order only insofar as they relate to the pricing and pooling of non-Grade A milk received from producers and the administrative and marketing service assessments levied thereon no longer tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(b) Notice of proposed rule making, public procedure thereon, and 30 days prior notice of the effective date hereof are found to be impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest in that (1) this suspension order relieves handlers from certain restrictions with respect to non-Grade A milk received from producers; (2) it is necessary to issue immediately and make effective not later than April 16, 1951, the suspension order to reflect current marketing conditions and to facilitate, promote and maintain the orderly marketing of milk produced for the Quad Cities marketing area; (3) non-Grade A milk is no longer sold or permitted to be sold for fluid consumption in any of the several municipalities of the marketing area; (4) the recent changes in marketing conditions in the area have further aggravated the need for removing non-grade A milk received from producers from the pricing and pooling provisions of the order; (5) this suspension does not require of persons affected substantial or extensive preparation prior to the effective date; and (6) the time intervening between the date of this suspension and its effective date affords persons affected a reasonable time to prepare for its effective date.

It is therefore ordered, That those provisions of the order, as amended (7 CFR Part 944), regulating the handling of milk in the Quad Cities marketing area, only insofar as they relate to the pricing and pooling of non-Grade A milk received from producers and the administrative and marketing service assessments levied thereon be and hereby are suspended effective at 12:01 a. m., c. s. t., April 16, 1951.

[Lemon Reg. 378]

PART 953—LEMONS GROWN IN CALIFORNIA AND ARIZONA

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

§ 953.485 Lemon Regulation 378—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 53, as amended (7 CFR Part 953; 14 F. R. 3612), regulating the handling of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Lemon Administrative Committee, established under the said amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of the quantity of such lemons which may be handled, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective as hereinafter set forth. Shipments of lemons, grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, are currently subject to regulation pursuant to said amended marketing agreement and order; the recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified herein was promptly submitted to the Department after an open meeting of the Lemon Administrative Committee on April 11, 1951, such meeting was held, after giving due notice thereof to consider recommendations for regulation, and interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit their views at this meeting; the provisions of this section, including its effective time, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such lemons; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period hereinafter specified; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject thereto which cannot be completed by the effective time thereof.

(b) Order. (1) The quantity of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona which may be handled during the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., April 15, 1951, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., April 22, 1951, is hereby fixed as follows:

(i) District 1: Unlimited movement;

(ii) District 2: 350 carloads;

(iii) District 3: Unlimited movement.

(2) The prorate base of each handler who has made application therefor, as provided in the said amended marketing agreement and order, is hereby fixed in accordance with the prorate base schedule which is attached to Lemon Regulation No. 377 (16 F. R. 3028), and made a part hereof by this reference.

(3) As used in this section, "handled," "handler," "carloads," "prorate base," "District 1," "District 2," and "District 3," shall have the same meaning as when used in the said amended marketing agreement and order.

[Grapefruit Reg. 77]

PART 955—GRAPEFRUIT GROWN IN ARIZONA; IN IMPERIAL COUNTY, CALIFORNIA; AND IN THAT PART OF RIVERSIDE COUNTY, CALIFORNIA, SITUATED SOUTH AND EAST OF THE SAN GORGONIO PASS

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

§ 955.338 Grapefruit Regulation 77—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 55, as amended (7 CFR Part 955), regulating the handling of grapefruit grown in the State of Arizona; in Imperial County, California; and in that part of Riverside County, California, situated south and east of the San Gorgonio Pass, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, and upon the basis of the recommendations of the Administrative Committee (established under the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order), and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of shipments of grapefruit, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient; a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions of this section effective not later than April 15, 1951. Shipments of grapefruit, grown as aforesaid, have been subject to regulation by grades and sizes, pursuant to the amended marketing agreement and order, since October 15, 1950, and will so continue until April 15, 1951; the recommendation and supporting information for continued regulation subsequent to April 14, 1951, was promptly submitted to the Department after an open meeting of the Administrative Committee on April 5; such meeting was held to consider recommendations for regulation, after giving due notice of such meeting, and interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit their views at this meeting; the provisions of this section, including the effective time thereof, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such grapefruit; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period hereinafter set forth so as to provide for the continued regulation of the handling of grapefruit; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject thereto which cannot be completed by the effective time hereof.

(b) Order. (1) During the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., April 15, 1951, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., April 22, 1951, no handler shall ship:

(i) Any grapefruit of any variety grown in the State of Arizona; in Imperial County, California; or in that part of Riverside County, California, situated south and east of the San Gorgonio Pass unless such grapefruit are at least fairly well colored, and otherwise grade at least U. S. No. 2; or

(ii) From the State of California or the State of Arizona (a) to any point outside thereof in the United States, any grapefruit, grown as aforesaid, which are of a size smaller than $3\frac{11}{16}$ inches in diameter, or (b) to any point in Canada, any grapefruit, grown as aforesaid, which are of a size smaller than $3\frac{6}{16}$ inches in diameter ("diameter") in each case to be measured midway at a right angle to a straight line running from the stem to the blossom end of the fruit, except that a tolerance of 5 percent, by count, of grapefruit smaller than the foregoing minimum sizes shall be permitted which tolerance shall be applied in accordance with the provisions for the application of tolerance, specified in the revised United States Standards for Grapefruit (California and Arizona), 7 CFR 51.241: Provided, That, in determining the percentage of grapefruit in any lot which are smaller than $3\frac{11}{16}$ inches in diameter, such percentage shall be based only on the grapefruit in such lot which are of a size $4\frac{2}{16}$ inches in diameter and smaller; and in determining the percentage of grapefruit in any lot which are smaller than $3\frac{6}{16}$ inches in in diameter, such percentage shall be based only on the grapefruit in such lot which are of a size $3\frac{15}{16}$ inches in diameter and smaller.

(2) During the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., April 22, 1951, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., May 13, 1951, no handler shall ship:

(i) Any grapefruit of any variety grown in the State of Arizona; in Imperial County, California; or in that part of Riverside County, California, situated south and east of the San Gorgonio Pass unless such grapefruit are at least fairly well colored, and otherwise grade at least U. S. No. 2; or

(ii) From the State of California or the State of Arizona (a) to any point outside thereof in the United States, any grapefruit, grown as aforesaid, which are of a size smaller than $3\frac{6}{16}$ inches in diameter, or (b) to any point in Canada, any grapefruit, grown as aforesaid, which are of a size smaller than $3\frac{6}{16}$ inches in diameter ("diameter" in each case to be measured midway at a right angle to a straight line running from the stem to the blossom end of the fruit, except that a tolerance of 5 percent, by count, of grapefruit smaller than the foregoing minimum sizes shall be permitted which tolerance shall be applied in accordance with the provisions for the application of tolerance, specified in the revised United States Standards for Grapefruit (California and Arizona), 7 CFR 51.241: Provided, That, in determining the percentage of grapefruit in any lot which are smaller than $3\frac{6}{16}$ inches in diameter, such percentage shall be based only on the grapefruit in such lot which are of a size $3\frac{15}{16}$ inches in diameter and smaller; and in determining the percentage of grapefruit in any lot which are smaller than $3\frac{6}{16}$ inches in diameter, such percentage shall be based only on the grapefruit in such lot which are of a size $3\frac{10}{16}$ inches in diameter and smaller.

(3) As used in this section, "handler," "variety," "grapefruit," and "ship" shall have the same meaning as when used in said amended marketing agreement and order; and the terms "U. S. No. 2" and "fairly well colored" shall each have the same meaning as when used in the revised United States Standards for Grapefruit (California and Arizona), 7 CFR 51.241.

TITLE 14—CIVIL AVIATION

Chapter I—Civil Aeronautics Board

Subchapter A—Civil Air Regulations

[Supp. 10]

PART 3—AIRPLANE AIRWORTHINESS; NORMAL, UTILITY, AND ACROBATIC CATEGORIES

COMPILATION OF CAA RULES, POLICIES, AND INTERPRETATIONS

The following rules, policies, and interpretations concerning Part 3 are hereby adopted. Approximately one year ago the rules were issued to interested persons including accessories manufacturers, engine and propeller manufacturers, aircraft manufacturers, and State aviation officials. No adverse comments have been received. No useful purpose would be served by compliance with the notice, procedures, and effective date procedures of section 4 of the Administrative Procedures Act. Therefore, compliance is unnecessary and is not required.

1. Sections 3.6–1, 3.6–2, 3.11–1, 3.11–2, and 3.19–1 are adopted to read:

§ 3.6–1 Approved maneuvers for normal category aircraft (CAA interpretations which apply to § 3.6). The phrase "nonacrobatic operation" as used in § 3.6 (a) (1) is interpreted to mean that type of operation in which the aircraft is limited to those maneuvers incidental to normal flying and including stalls (except whip stalls) and turns in which the angle of bank is not in excess of 60°.

§ 3.6–2 Approved limited acrobatic maneuvers for utility category aircraft (CAA interpretations which apply to § 3.6). The phrase "limited acrobatic maneuvers" as used in § 3.6 (a) (2) is interpreted to include spins (where approved for the particular type airplane), lazy eights, chandelles and steep turns in which the angle of bank is in excess of 60°. It is recognized that aircraft in this category are also capable of performing all normal maneuvers listed in § 3.6–1 for normal category aircraft. Although it is possible in many airplanes to perform other acrobatic maneuvers, such as loops, without exceeding airspeed and strength limitations, inexperienced or uninstructed pilots are likely to get into difficulty. It is therefore considered unwise to label such maneuvers "approved" in the Airplane Flight Manual.

§ 3.11–1 Flight testing requirements for production aircraft prior to certification (CAA policies which apply to § 3.11 (b)). (a) This flight test procedure should apply to new aircraft which are assembled and flight tested at the manufacturer's plant, and to those which are delivered unassembled by the manufacturer to an authorized distributor for initial assembly and flight testing by the distributor.

(b) The acceptability of the flight test procedure established and of the flight check-off form utilized will be determined by the Flight Engineering Branch. Flight testing procedure established at the distributor's plant should be equivalent to those established at the manufacturer's plant, including the use of an identical flight test check-off form, and it should be the manufacturer's responsibility to acquaint his authorized distributors with the flight test procedures established at the manufacturer's plant, and to provide these distributors with copies of the accepted flight test check-off form.

(c) It should be noted that aircraft manufactured under a type certificate only should be assembled and flight tested at the manufacturer's plant prior to certification, regardless of whether delivery is by flyaway or shipment.

(d) The flight testing of aircraft manufactured under a type certificate only should be conducted by, or under the supervision of, CAA flight engineering inspectors at the manufacturer's plant. At the discretion of the CAA flight engineering inspector, this responsibility may be delegated to the manufacturer to the extent determined expedient in each individual case.

(e) Airplanes which have been flight tested by the manufacturer (including all airplanes manufactured under a type certificate only), when shipped to, and assembled by, an authorized distributor, should be given an abbreviated functional flight test to determine that the engine or engines perform satisfactorily and that there is no evidence of malfunctioning of the airplane controls, systems, etc.

(f) Having determined that the flight test procedure established by the holder of a production certificate and the flight check-off form utilized are adequate, the CAA will subsequently conduct such periodic checks of this procedure as may be deemed necessary to determine that it continues to be satisfactory and acceptable.

(g) Inasmuch as this test is considered an operational and functional test, the flight test check-off form should provide for at least the following:

(1) A functional check of each part or system normally operated by the crew in flight.

(2) An investigation of the trim, controllability, and other operational characteristics of the aircraft throughout the normal range of operation while in flight.

(3) A check of the operational characteristics of the aircraft on the ground.

(4) A determination that all instruments are properly marked and readings are "normal", and that all gauges and control markings are correct.

(5) Any other items peculiar to the aircraft which can best be checked during the ground operation or flight of the aircraft.

(h) The flight test form, signed by the pilot, should be filed with the manufacturer's or the distributor's record of inspection of the aircraft.

(i) Data to be submitted by the manufacturer or distributor in substantiation of the flight test procedure established should be determined in each instance by the Flight Engineering Division, inasmuch as the procedure will vary at different activities by reason of the size and complexity of the aircraft.

(j) To facilitate compliance with the provisions of § 43.10 (b), and in order that the foregoing flight tests may be conducted prior to the issuance of individual airworthiness certificates, as prescribed in § 3.11 (b), Dealers' Aircraft Registration Certificates, Form ACA–1707, issued to manufacturers and authorized distributors, should have the following entry made on the reverse side of these certificates:

> In accordance with the provisions of § 43.10 (b), special authority is herewith issued to ---------- (list manufacturer or distributor named on reverse side) to conduct flight tests of new aircraft, as prescribed in § 3.11 (b).

The utilization of the reverse side of the dealer's aircraft registration certificate for this purpose is for convenience only and has no connection with the issuance, validity, or continuation of the dealer's aircraft registration certificate. Accordingly, this entry may be signed by any agent of the CAA authorized to issue an airworthiness certificate. Normally, this is accomplished by the agent responsible for CAA activities at the plant of the agency to which the dealer's aircraft registration certificate is issued.

(k) In the event the manufacturer or an authorized distributor is not in possession of a dealer's aircraft registration certificate, production aircraft, prior to the initial flight, should be registered in accordance with regulations of the Administrator, Part 501 of this title, in the name of the manufacturer or distributor, as the case may be, and the agency should be issued a letter containing the above special authorization and a concluding paragraph indicating that the authorization thus issued may be utilized for the purpose of conducting the tests authorized for a period of one year from the date of issuance. This authorization should be prepared in duplicate, typed and signed in accordance with instructions pertinent to the entry to be made on the reverse side of the dealer's aircraft registration certificate, and the carbon copy should be forwarded to the pertinent regional office and filed. It is the responsibility of the operating agency to request that these authorizations be reissued upon expiration, in the event continuation is desired.

(l) Aircraft flight tested in accordance with the foregoing procedures should, upon satisfactory completion of such tests, be immediately issued a Certificate of Airworthiness, Form ACA–1362, without respect to the status of registration and regardless of whether the aircraft is to be delivered via shipment or flyaway.

(m) Aircraft flight tested in accordance with the foregoing which are intended for domestic registration and certification should display the appropriate identification markings in accordance with regulations and instructions pertinent thereto. New aircraft intended for export which are thus tested should display the foreign identification markings assigned, or, if these markings are not available, should display U. S. identification markings, except that, under the following circumstances, aircraft intended for export may be flight tested without displaying identification markings, provided these flights are confined to a radius of twenty miles of the manufacturer's base, and provided notices of such flights are transmitted to the local municipal, state, or CAA authorities responsible for the enforcement of flight regulations, prior to such flights:

(1) When foreign identification markings have been requested, but not received, for aircraft to be delivered via flyaway, or

(2) When foreign identification markings are not available and the aircraft is to be disassembled and crated for shipment immediately upon completion of the flight test.

§ 3.11–2 Logging of new production aircraft flight test time (CAA policies which apply to § 3.11 (b)). (a) Operating time, accumulated during flight tests of new production aircraft manufactured under a type or a type and production certificate conducted in accordance with requirements contained in § 3.11 (b), should be construed as a part of the inspection accomplished in accordance with this part for the purpose of determining conformity, airworthiness, and eligibility for certification. Inasmuch as aircraft, pending the completion of inspections and tests prescribed in this part, are operated under "special authorization" instead of a formal certificate, it should not be necessary that a record of the subject flight tests be made a part of the aircraft or aircraft engine records or logbooks furnished by the manufacturer to accompany such aircraft. (This policy does not apply to time accumulated during accelerated service testing of prototype or modified aircraft.) Once the airplane is certificated, all subsequent flights should be appropriately recorded in accordance with § 43.23.

(b) The company flight test check-off form developed by the manufacturer to be utilized in connection with these flight tests, indicating the date or dates and duration of these flights, should be filed at the manufacturer's plant (or, in the event the initial production flight test is conducted by a distributor, will be filed by the distributor), as a part of the aircraft inspection records.

§ 3.19–1 Accelerated service tests for aircraft (CAA policies which apply to § 3.19)—(a) Additional flight tests. To satisfactorily accomplish the objectives of § 3.19 concerning additional flight tests and the extent thereof, the Administrator deems it necessary that:

(1) A comprehensive and systematic check be made in flight of the operation of all components to determine whether they "function properly", i. e., perform their intended function without introducing safety hazards.

(2) Sufficient testing and supplementary experience under actual, or a combination of simulated and actual, experience be obtained and evaluated to give reasonable assurance that the airplane is "reliable", i. e., should continue to function properly in service.

NOTE: In order to obtain wider experience, manufacturers should be encouraged to cooperate with airlines or other responsible operators in operating experimental airplanes of the same type under service conditions.

(3) Appropriate corrective action be taken when the need therefor is determined under subparagraph (1) or (2) of this paragraph.

NOTE: The CAA should be concerned only to the extent that the airplane can be operated safely under suitable inspection and maintenance procedures, but should not be concerned with maintenance costs.

(b) Terms. Terms used in § 3.19–1 are defined as follows:

(1) T. C. Board. The Type Certification Board set up by the CAA Field Offices for each new type aircraft project.

(2) Routine car tests. The flight tests prescribed in the CAR to determine performance, flight characteristics, power plant characteristics, etc. (e. g. §§ 3.61 through 3.780), conducted in accordance with existing procedures.

(3) Official functioning and reliability tests. That portion of the flight tests conducted in showing compliance with the regulations quoted above, which is under the immediate supervision of the T. C. Board, as described hereinafter.

(4) Supplementary experience. Other flight tests and experience with an airplane type which is taken into consideration in establishing the extent of the official portion of the tests. This supplementary experience may be obtained by the manufacturer, military services, airlines, etc.

(5) Simulated tests. Tests on the ground or in an airplane of components and equipment under conditions simulating those likely to be obtained in service, which are taken onto consideration in establishing the extent of the official portion of the tests.

(c) Test program. The Type Certification Board for each project should decide upon a proposed official test program at the time of the Preflight meeting of the Board (prior to the routine CAR flight tests) and coordinate this with the airplane manufacturer. At the conclusion of the routine CAR tests, the T. C. Board should meet again to review the experience gained in those tests, changes made in the design, and any additional supplementary experience, and to revise the proposed program accordingly.

(d) Planning and execution of test program. The following points should be considered:

(1) The test program should be sufficiently well planned to enable its execution in an efficient manner without overlooking important items.[1] The T. C. Board should review the design features and equipment with respect to the general objectives, and prepare a list showing:

(i) Components and system[1a] to be checked in subparagraph (4) of this paragraph,

(ii) A brief description of the operations to be performed, where these are not obvious (referencing any necessary operating instructions),

(iii) Special checks or likely critical conditions,

(iv) Estimated flight time required.

(2) Allowance may be made for the functional tests already required by the routine CAR tests. Allowance may also be made for simulated testing of new features and equipment; however, the flight test program will be planned to determine the adequacy of the simulated tests (e. g. to determine whether the actual environmental conditions of temperature,[2] vibration, etc. are covered by the simulated tests) when these may be critical, and to determine whether the installation and connected systems are satisfactory. The T. C. Board will then make a consolidated estimate of the total flight time required, allowing for overlapping, and adjust this in accordance with the "test time" section outlined in paragraph (e) of this section.

(3) The program will be arranged to permit the Aviation Safety Agent in charge to become thoroughly familiar with the characteristics of the airplane, particularly those not specifically covered in the routine CAR tests.

(4) In accordance with paragraph (a) (1) of this section, all components of the airplane should be intensively[3] operated and studied under all operating conditions expected in service and obtainable within the time and geographic limitations of the tests. Particular attention will be given to the emergency procedures which would be required in the event of malfunctioning of any component, source of crew error, and overtaxing of crew abilities. This intensive type of testing should be conducted in all cases, but the length of time for which it is continued will depend upon the simulated and supplementary experience available for the particular type, as outlined in "test time" under paragraph (e) of this section.

(5) Ground inspections should be made at appropriate intervals during the test program to determine whether there are any failures or incipient failures in any of the components which might be a hazard to safe flight.

(6) When design changes are made during the course of the test, or when the official test airplane differs from those on which supplementary experience is obtained, or from modified versions of the same basic airplane type, the revised or modified items should be rechecked in accordance with the above procedure, but every effort should be made to include such items in the program in such a way as to avoid unduly extending the over-all test time. To this end, the Administrator may accept, in lieu of additional flight tests:

(i) Special tests of the original and revised components in which the conditions causing failure are intensified, and

(ii) Simulated tests of differing components.

(e) Test time. It is highly desirable that functioning and reliability test programs be administered uniformly in the sense that the program and flight time for a given project would be approximately the same regardless of which T. C. Board administered the project. This is difficult to achieve without establishing fixed arbitrary test times. However, such fixed arbitrary times would obviously be contrary to the intent of the Regulations. The following procedure with regard to establishing the required test time which permits considerable flexibility is, therefore, established for the guidance of T. C. Boards.

(1) The times suggested in this paragraph apply when supplementary experience is not taken into account, and are for airplanes which are conventional in regard to complexity and design features. Those times may be reduced to allow for supplementary experience, as outlined in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, and for simulated testing, as outlined in paragraph (d) (1) of this section. In extreme cases of complexity[4] radically new design features, or difficulties in earlier flights, these times may be increased. Non-Transport (this part)—40 to 150 hours, depending on complexity.

(2) When satisfactory supplementary experience is available and taken into account, the following allowances should be used as a guide and applied with judgment in reducing the official flight test time determined in accordance with the preceding paragraph. However, in any case, the official program should provide sufficient time to accomplish the objective in paragraph (a) (1) of this section in accordance with paragraph (d) (3) and (4) of this section.

(i) For intensive experience. When the allowance is based on the total time of any one airplane in airline crew training and similar intensive operations, two hours of such operation may be considered equivalent to one hour of official testing.

(ii) For miscellaneous experience. When the allowance is based on the total time of any one airplane, five hours of such experience may be considered equivalent to one hour of official testing.

(iii) Reduction for supplementary experience. Whenever a reduction of official test time is desired on the basis of supplementary experience, such experience must be adequately recorded and submitted to the T. C. Board, as described in paragraph (f) of this section.

(f) Reports and records. (1) A log should be kept of all flight tests, and accurate and complete records kept of the inspections made and of all defects, difficulties, and unusual characteristics and sources of crew error discovered during the tests, and of the recommendations made and action taken. Items for which design changes may be required will be reported to the manufacturer and the appropriate CAA engineering division.

(2) If supplementary experience is to be taken into account, similar records of such experience should be kept and submitted to the T. C. Board, together with a list of the differences between the airplane on which the experience was obtained and the official test airplane. When supplementary experience is obtained on a large fleet of airplanes (for example, military operations) of the same or a comparable type (see item 5 under Test Program), these records may consist of statistical summaries in lieu of complete records for each individual airplane.

(3) At the conclusion of the official tests, a summary report should be prepared by the T. C. Board and forwarded to Washington for inclusion in the Type Inspection Report.

(g) Administration. The CAA Aviation Safety Agent in charge should act as coordinator of all flight activities of the T. C. Board during the official program and the agent or an alternate designated by him will participate in all flights. He should collaborate with the manufacturers' pilots in all these activities, particularly in regard to flight plans and procedures. The manufacturers' pilot should be in command of all flights, but CAA pilots should fly the airplane at least sufficiently to accomplish paragraph (d) (3) of this section.

(1) Other CAA personnel (e. g. representatives of other Divisions and specialists) should participate in the flight tests when deemed necessary by the T. C. Board to accomplish the purposes of the tests.

(2) When supplementary experience is obtained in airline operations, a CAA Aviation Safety Agent should be assigned to follow the operations, review the operator's records, and supplement these by reports to the T. C. Board.

(h) Test airplane. Section 3.19 contains the phrase "If practicable, the flight tests * * * shall be conducted on the same airplane. * * *" This phrase will be liberally interpreted to facilitate completion of the type certification procedure. Thus, one airplane may be used for the official functioning and reliability tests while another airplane (or airplanes) is used for the routine CAR tests. In this case the test time on at least one airplane must be sufficient to accomplish the objective of paragraph (a) (2) of this section.

(i) Modified types. The procedure outlined above applies to new type designs. When a design employs components identical to those used in previous designs, credit may be given for the supplementary experience available for such components. When a design is modified (for example, several versions of the same basic type with different engines, propellers, etc.) the modified features and components should be treated in accordance with paragraph (d) (6) of this section.

2. Section 3.23-1 as published July 16, 1949, in 14 F. R. 4040 is amended to read:

§ 3.23-1 Changes of engines (CAA rules which apply to § 3.23). (a) There are currently available newly designed engines of approximately the same size and weight as previously designed engines, but with considerable variations in power. It is possible to interchange these engines with little or no installation changes, and although minor changes in engine weight may be involved, it will still be practical to operate the aircraft at the originally approved gross weight. Under § 3.185, the maneuvering load factor is not dependent upon engine power, and under § 3.184 the design airspeeds can be independent of engine power. Therefore, a change which involves or permits a practical power increase by exchange of engines shall be approved by the Administrator: Provided, That such exchange of engines is not accompanied by an increase in the gross weight of the aircraft, or an increase in placard speeds. Under those conditions it will not be necessary to restrict the maximum continuous horsepower by a placard because of the airplane speed limitations since the latter are indicated on the speed placards.

(b) Aircraft alterations involving weight or speed changes beyond those set forth above will be approved by the Administrator only if the applicant shows compliance with all of the applicable sections of Part 4a of this chapter, or all of the applicable sections of this part, or relies on the provisions of § 3.2 by complying with certain particular and related items of the requirements under this part, and certain of the requirements under Part 4a of this chapter, i. e., the level of safety for certain particular and related items is equivalent to the requirements under this part and the level of safety for the remaining items is equivalent to the requirements under Part 4a of this chapter.

(c) Under § 3.23, it will be necessary to require such investigations of local structure, weight and balance, power plant installations and flight tests as are normally involved in a change of engine type. However, every effort will be made by reference to data already on hand to minimize the amount of testing and structural analysis required of the applicant.

3. Section 3.31-1 as published January 25, 1951 in 16 F. R. 669 is renumbered to read: "§ 3.31-2."

4. Section 3.31-1 is adopted to read:

§ 3.31-1 Approval of aircraft components and materials under the Technical Standard Order system (CAA rules which apply to § 3.31).—(a) Purpose of Technical Standard Orders. Technical Standard Orders of the "C" series are intended to be used to set forth Civil Aeronautics Administration requirements for approval of aircraft components and materials for which specific approval standards are not contained in the airworthiness requirements of the Civil Air Regulations.

(1) The approval status of such items formerly was covered by Product and Process Specifications, Equipment Specifications, Letters of Approval, and CAA policy letters. The bases for such approvals were not set forth in any one place or series of publications, thus leading to confusion and unnecessary expense on the part of product manufacturers. The Technical Standard Order system will provide one source of information regarding the basis for approval of components and materials, thereby assuring the product and aircraft manufacturer of standardized approval procedures and also enabling Civil Aeronautics Administration personnel to administer the system uniformly.

(2) Technical Standard Orders of the "C" series are those which the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics is authorized to approve in accordance with § 3.31 and Subpart F of this part, § 4a.31 and Subpart F of Part 4a, § 4b.41, § 6.6, and §§ 6.50 through 6.53 of this chapter.

(b) Application of Technical Standard Order requirements. Minimum performance requirements established by the Civil Aeronautics Administration and published in Technical Standard Orders serve as a means by which component equipment and materials intended for use in certificated aircraft will be approved. With the exceptions hereinafter noted, component equipment and materials already approved by the Administrator may continue to be installed in aircraft:

(1) For which an application for original type certificate is made prior to the effective date of the TSO,

(2) The prototype of which is flown within one year after the effective date of the TSO, or

(3) The prototype of which is not flown within one year after the effective date of the TSO if due to causes beyond the applicant's control.

(c) Exceptions. Exceptions to paragraph (b) of this section are:

(1) If the Civil Aeronautics Board specifically establishes mandatory dates for the installation of equipment covered by a TSO, such requirements must be complied with.

(2) If service experience demonstrates that the use of certain equipment or materials in a particular make and model of aircraft renders the plane unairworthy, modification or removal of the equipment or materials may be required by means of an airworthiness directive.

(3) If within nine months after the effective date of the TSO a major change is made in the installation which involves a change in the type or model of equipment or materials, previously approved equipment or materials may be installed. However, in any such change made after the nine months' period, new types of equipment or materials installed must comply with existing TSO requirements.

(d) The Technical Standard Order System. The Technical Standard Order (TSO) System has been adopted based upon the following:

(1) Technical Standards Orders reference performance provisions of recognized government specifications, or established industry specifications, which have been found acceptable by the CAA. If no satisfactory specification exists, the orders will include criteria prepared by the Administrator and any item of equipment or material which meets these criteria will be acceptable to the Administrator. In preparing criteria of this type, the Administrator will give consideration to recommendations made by the industry.

(2) TSO's set forth the minimum requirements for safety. Every effort will be made by the CAA to keep the requirements at the minimum levels of safety and TSO's will not be used to set forth "desirable" standards. Industry committees or groups developing specifications which are intended to become the basis of TSO's have been and will continue to be reminded of this very basic consideration.

(3) When a TSO is issued covering a particular product, the aircraft manufacturer, owner, or operator using such products will be required to use components complying with the TSO (where the TSO is applicable as specified in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, and except as noted under subparagraph (4) of this paragraph). However, the CAA will not formally approve such parts as meeting the requirements of TSO's. It will be entirely the responsibility of the product manufacturer to conduct the necessary tests demonstrating compliance, and to state that his product meets the requirements of the TSO. Generally, the CAA will not exercise inspection control over the manufacturer's products. The product manufacturer himself will be responsible for maintaining quality control adequate to assure that products which he guarantees to meet the requirements of a TSO do, in fact, meet these standards. The product manufacturer's statement of conformance with the provisions of a Technical Standard Order normally will be accepted by the CAA as sufficient indication that the applicable requirements have been fulfilled.

(4) The establishment of a Technical Standard Order for any given type of product does not preclude the possibility of establishing the acceptability of a particular product as part of the aircraft, engine, or propeller. In such cases, however, it shall be established that there is a level of safety equivalent to that provided in the Technical Standard Order and the product will be

[1] It is not intended that the "paper work" be over-emphasized to the detriment of the practical results, and it should be reduced to a minimum for small, simple airplanes.

[1a] Tests of anti-icing systems under actual icing conditions will in many cases be impracticable prior to type certification. A policy is in preparation regarding the approval and use of such systems in air-carrier operations. This will outline the flight testing required at various stages.

[2] This does not imply that flight tests must be conducted under the most severe outside air temperatures likely to be encountered in service. It should normally be possible to determine the effects of extreme outside temperatures on local temperatures by extrapolation or by suitable correction factors.

[3] Intensive operation means repeated operation of components in various sequences and combinations likely to occur in service.

[4] An example of extreme complexity would be transport intended for operation at 40,000 feet altitude, with automatic dive recovery flaps, turbos, variable jet exhaust, two speed cooling fans, retractable wind screens, automatic control of engine cooling, turbos, intercoolers, jet exhaust, etc. The test program for such an airplane might require as much as 300 hours if no supplementary experience were available.

identified as a part of the particular airplane, engine, or propeller.

(e) Status of product and process specifications. In placing the Technical Standard Order System into operation, it is planned to discontinue issuance of the present series of "listings" of acceptable products, known as Product and Process Specifications, by establishing a suitable TSO for each product at the time of revision of any of the existing approvals, or as soon as adequate airworthiness criteria are available upon which to base a Technical Standard Order.

(f) Conversion to new system. From the foregoing, it can be concluded that conversion to the new system will progress slowly. Many items will remain for an indefinite period of time, controlled by either the existing Product and Process Specification or policies by means of which parts, materials, finishes, and related items are approved by the CAA as integral parts of the complete airplane.

(g) Statement of conformance. If a manufacturer has sufficient technical development background on his product to prove to himself that the product as supplied, meets the provisions of the applicable TSO, he may forward a statement of conformance to that effect to the Chief, Aircraft Division, Office of Aviation Safety, Civil Aeronautics Administration, Washington, D. C. He may immediately thereafter make deliveries to his customers of the items covered by this statement of conformance, supplying them, of course, with a similar statement.

(1) The vendor should identify products so supplied in accordance with paragraph (k) of this section. The presence of such markings on the product will be accepted by CAA personnel as satisfactory evidence that the manufacturer guarantees the provisions of the applicable safety requirements to have been fulfilled.

(2) Where complaints of nonconformity of a product with the applicable TSO are brought to the attention of the CAA, the CAA will investigate and, if necessary, will take appropriate action to restrict or prohibit the use of the product involved in certificated airplanes.

(h) Effective dates. TSO's will generally be made effective approximately 60 days after they are prepared, in order to allow sufficient time for distribution.

(i) Data requirements. The product manufacturer shall submit to the CAA, data called for in the TSO. Those data will not be used by the CAA for the purpose of issuing an approval for the product, but rather are needed for purposes of administering the TSO System and generally will consist only of installation information. The data called for in the TSO should be forwarded to the Aircraft Division, Civil Aeronautics Administration, Washington 25, D. C., with the statement of conformance.

(1) In investigating complaints of nonconformity, the CAA may request additional data and test reports from the manufacturer.

(j) Deviation or waiver. Deviations from or waivers of the literal provisions of a TSO, which obviously do not affect basic airworthiness and which manifestly provide an equivalent degree of safety, may be taken by the manufacturer on his own responsibility, but notice of such should be transmitted in writing to the Chief, Aircraft Division, Civil Aeronautics Administration, Washington 25, D. C., with the statement of conformance. Requests for deviations from or waivers of those provisions which affect the basic standard of airworthiness will be referred by the CAA field offices or the manufacturer to the Washington Office of the Aircraft Division for decision. If granted, these will involve revision of the TSO itself.

(k) Identification of components or materials. Suitable means shall be provided to identify an article manufactured in compliance with a particular Technical Standard Order.

(1) Where practical, the information should be legible and permanently marked either on a nameplate securely attached to the article or on the article itself. Stencils or other means of identification may be used.

(2) If the items are too small for individual identification, this information shall be placed on each package and shipping container.

(3) The necessary identification for each particular product will be specified in the appropriate TSO.

(l) Technical Standard Register. Copies of the Technical Standard Register or index and the various Technical Standard Orders may be obtained by applying to:

Aviation Information Staff,
Civil Aeronautics Administration,
Department of Commerce,
Washington 25, D. C.

(m) Numbering of Technical Standard Orders. Each Technical Standard Order shall be assigned a number consisting of the letters "TSO," a series code number "C," relating to technical orders issued by the Aircraft Division, and a serial number to be assigned in sequence for each of the TSO's issued in the "C" series, e. g. TSO–C–1, "Smoke Detectors."

5. Sections 3.46–1, 3.48–1, 3.71–1, 3.71–2, 3.72–1, 3.73–2, 3.73–3, and 3.76–1 are adopted to read:

§ 3.46–1 Margin between V_{no} speed and level flight speed (CAA interpretations which apply to § 3.46). (a) Airplanes may be approved under this part even though a large margin exists between the placard V_{no} speed and the level flight speed actually attainable by the airplane. The regulations specify minimum values for design cruising speed based only on wing loading; no attempt was made nor was it intended to relate the design cruising speed to power or maximum speeds attainable in level flight. (See § 3.740 for limits on the range of V_{no}.)

(b) On the basis of paragraph (a) of this section it is not necessary to reinvestigate the complete airplane structure for design cruising speed changes when increased power is installed provided the original placard speed V_{no} is retained.

§ 3.48–1 Fire-resistant aircraft material (CAA rules which apply to § 3.48 (b)). (a) The minimum safety requirements for fire-resistant material which is intended for use in civil aircraft have been established by the Administrator in Technical Standard Order No. TSO–C17, effective September 1, 1948, "Fire Resistant Aircraft Material."

§ 3.71–1 Weighing procedure for new production aircraft not falling within the transport category (CAA policies which apply to § 3.71 (a)). (a) The manufacturer may weigh the first five aircraft and compute an average empty weight from which the empty weight of none of the aircraft should vary by more than one half of one percent, the average empty weight thus determined may then be used for the next four production aircraft. The effects of variable equipment may be computed.

(b) Following the above, each fifth aircraft should be weighed and its empty weight determined.

(1) If the empty weight of each fifth aircraft recurrently falls within the specified weight tolerance defined above, the continued use of the average empty weight for each succeeding group of four production aircraft is acceptable.

(2) If the empty weight of a fifth aircraft falls outside of the specified weight tolerance, the following five aircraft should be weighed and a new average empty weight determined. The procedure described in the foregoing paragraphs is then repeated.

(c) Paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section apply only to those manufacturers producing aircraft under a currently effective Production Certificate, and only at the discretion of the Chief, Aircraft Division, in the region in which the manufacturer is located.

§ 3.71–2 Weight and balance limitations for flight tests (CAA policies which apply to § 3.71 (a)). (a) Flight tests should be conducted at the maximum weight for which the airplane is to be certificated and at no time during the test should the weight exceed the following tolerances from the maximum weight:

Item	Tolerance (percent)
General	+5; −10.
Flight characteristics, general	+5; −10.
Flight characteristics, critical items affected by weight	+5; −1.

(b) The forward and rearward center of gravity during flight test loading should be within a tolerance of 7 percent of the total travel for which the airplane is to be certificated.

(c) When the maximum weight at maximum center of gravity limits cannot be obtained practically during type tests, aircraft specifications center of gravity limits information should be referred to the Chief, Aircraft Division, Civil Aeronautics Administration, Washington, D. C., for ruling.

(d) The airplane certificated weight and center of gravity range should not exceed the authorized structural limits.

§ 3.72–1 Use of ballast (CAA policies which apply to § 3.72. (a) Removable ballast may be used in accordance with § 3.72 provided compliance is demonstrated with §§ 3.72 (a) and (b) as related items. If the airplane does not have an Airplane Flight Manual, the instructions regarding use of the ballast should be included on the placard prescribed in § 3.766.

(b) If misuse of ballast would result in a particularly dangerous situation, such as spin recovery difficulties, a warning note should be included in the instructions.

(c) Because of the operational difficulties likely to occur in using removable ballast, it should be used only as a last resort when it is found that fixed ballast cannot accomplish the purpose without seriously limiting the utility of the airplane. On new designs manufacturers should make every effort to arrange or modify the designs to avoid the use of removable ballast.

§ 3.73–2 Empty weight items (CAA interpretations which apply to § 3.73). (a) The empty weight must at least include the items covered in § 3.73. Any additional items such as de-icer fluid, wash water and toilet chemical, if carried, should be included in the empty weight, or so handled that they will be included in the useful load and take-off weight.

(b) In any case, of course, the equipment list should clearly reflect which items are included in the empty weight. If this is done, it is not believed that confusion will result at some later date as to what is or is not added into the empty weight.

§ 3.73–3 Unusable fuel supply and undrainable oil (CAA interpretations which apply to § 3.73). (a) Unusable fuel is determined by the provisions of § 3.437. The unusable fuel, whether or not greater than 5 percent of the fuel tank capacity or one gallon (see § 3.440) should be included in the empty weight. If the unusable fuel supply is greater than 5 percent or one gallon, the fuel quantity indicator should be marked in accordance with the provisions of § 3.761.

(b) Undrainable oil is defined as that oil which remains in the system after draining oil from all aircraft components including the engine by means of the oil drains provided, with the aircraft in ground attitude.

(c) All fuel and oil weight in the airplane that is not measureable by the gauges provided should be accounted for, preferably in inclusion in the empty weight.

§ 3.76–1 Center of gravity position (CAA policies which apply to § 3.76). (a) It is suggested that as wide a range of c. g. as practicable be investigated (using ballast if necessary) in the flight tests to provide for future changes in empty weight c. g. without rerunning tests or structural analysis.

(b) Where practicable, the extreme c. g. positions should be investigated, both in structural design and flight tests in combination with maximum weight (using ballast if necessary) to make loading instructions as simple as possible, and also provide for future changes in empty weight c. g. and useful load.

(c) In cases where the permissible c. g. positions vary with maximum weight, it is suggested that a note be included in the loading instruction portion of the Airplane Flight Manual advising owners to contact the airplane manufacturer for new loading instructions when any change is made to the airplane which would appreciably affect the location of the empty weight c. g. or the useful load.

6. Section 3.83–1 as published July 16, 1949, in 14 F. R. 4042 is revoked.

7. Section 3.84–1 as published July 16, 1949, in 14 F. R. 4042 is amended to read:

§ 3.84–1 Take-off performance (CAA policies which apply to § 3.84). To meet the requirements of § 3.84 pertaining to certification of take-off performance and to provide the Airplane Flight Manual performance data required in § 3.780 (a) (3) and (4), the following procedure may be used during official type tests:

(a) The ground and climb distances may be determined separately and the corrected data pieced together (as is now done in the transport category). Thus, for the simplest procedure, the airplane would be accelerated on (or near) the ground with gear extended to a speed not less than $1.3V_{s_1}$, and a climb segment to the 50-foot height point with gear extended would be determined by saw-tooth climb data. If it is desired to assume retraction of the landing gear at an earlier point, such point should be assumed to occur not earlier than that which would be used in normal take-offs. The acceleration to $1.3V_{s_1}$ should then be measured as above, with gear retraction being initiated at the selected speed. If gear retraction is completed before reaching $1.3V_{s_1}$, only one climb segment, with gear retracted, need be determined. If retraction is not completed during acceleration to $1.3V_{s_1}$, two climb segments should be determined; one with gear extended for the time period necessary to complete retraction; the second with gear retracted. The acceleration segment should be determined photographically, and a minimum of three trials should be made up to speeds equal to or greater than $1.3V_{s_1}$.

NOTE: (CAA camera equipment may be obtained on a loan basis.)

(b) Based upon the CAA's experience to date, the test method outlined in paragraph (a) of this section has given the desired accuracy of results. It also provides suitable means for showing the approximate calculated effect of temperature and altitude upon climb (up to 7,000 feet).

NOTE: It is permissible for other methods to be used in accomplishing these tests, providing that any method used is one which the average pilot may be reasonably expected to duplicate without use of unusual skill or experience, and one which produces equivalent accuracy. The operating procedure which must be followed to achieve the measured performance should in all cases be described in the Airplane Flight Manual.

(c) The take-off and climb requirements of § 3.84 and § 3.85 were written to assure the airplane's ability to clear obstacles in the vicinity of the airport. Consequently, the wing flap used for the airborne portion of the takeoff to the 50-foot height should not exceed that used for the "normal climb condition" of § 3.85 (a). However, if the applicant so desires, he may enter additional take-off data in the Airplane Flight Manual in which the flap setting specified in § 3.84 or § 3.85 (a) has been exceeded, provided the portion of the flight path beyond the 50-foot point which will cover the transition to normal climb configuration of § 3.85 (a), is also included.

8. Sections 3.84–2, 3.84–3, 3.85–5, and 3.86–2 are adopted to read:

§ 3.84–2 Measurement of seaplane take-off distances (CAA interpretation which applies to § 3.84 (a). The standard starting point for the measurement of seaplane take-off distances may be assumed to be the point at which the seaplane has attained an initial speed of three miles per hour during take-off.

§ 3.84–3 Take-off speed (CAA interpretation which applies to § 3.84 (b)). $1.3\times V_{s_1}$ or V_2+5 speed should be used for take-off even if throttling back is necessary to prevent exceeding r. p. m. limits.

§ 3.85–5 Low-pitch propeller setting in normal climb position (CAA interpretations which apply to § 3.85 (a)). (a) In the event an airplane has:

(1) An engine for which the take-off and maximum continuous power ratings are identical, and

(2) A fixed-pitch, two-position or similar type propeller,

then the regultions provide that the best rate of climb speed specified in § 3.85 (a) for normal climb should be determined with the low-pitch propeller setting which would restrain the engine to an r. p. m. at full throttle not exceeding its permissible take-off r. p. m. (see § 3.419 (a)).

(b) A relaxation of the propeller pitch setting requirement stipulated by § 3.419 (a) may be granted, however, for an airplane falling into the foregoing classification, when it shows a marginal item of performance as, for example, when it can meet the rate of climb requirement of § 3.85 (a) for normal climb, but may have difficulty in meeting the angle of climb requirements of § 3.85 (a) for normal climb and/or § 3.85 (c) for balked landing. In this case, it will be permissible to use a lower propeller pitch setting than specified in § 3.419 (a), in order to obtain rated engine r. p. m. at the best angle of climb speed: Provided, Acceptable engine cooling can be demonstrated at the lower speed associated with the best angle of climb. In employing this procedure, consideration should also be given to the following:

(1) That the best angle of climb speed for the balked landing condition may be considerably lower than the best angle of climb speed for the normal climb condition.

(2) That as a result of subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, the engine would normally have to be part throttled to avoid exceeding rated r. p. m. at the higher speeds, and would therefore develop less than rated power for showing compliance with the normal climb and take-off requirements of §§ 3.85 (a) and 3.84, respectively.

§ 3.86–2 Use of camera equipment (CAA policy which applies to § 3.86). The landing distance should be determined photographically. CAA camera equipment is available on a loan basis.

9. Section 3.112–1 as published July 16, 1949, in 14 F. R. 4044 is amended by adding paragraph (c) to read:

§ 3.112–1 Trim during a glide (CAA policies which apply to § 3.112 (a) (2) (ii)). • • •

(c) Either the requirement of § 3.112 (a) (2) (ii) or that of the alternate method outlined in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section should be met in full; no interpolation between the $1.4V_{s_1}$ and $1.5V_{s_1}$ (for cases where the 90 percent factor cannot be met) may be permitted. For example, an airplane whose flaps-down stall speed is 95 percent of flaps-up stall speed is not to be permitted to demonstrate minimum trim at $1.45V_{s_1}$, but should comply with the original requirement in § 3.112 (a) (2) (ii).

10. Sections 3.118–2, 3.118–3, 3.120–2, 3.121–1, 3.124–1, 3.124–2, 3.174–2, 3.174–3, 3.174–4, 3.174–5, 3.174–6, 3.174–7, and 3.174–8 are adopted to read:

§ 3.118–2 Large displacements of flight controls in directional and lateral stability tests (CAA policies which apply to § 3.118). (a) In performing flight tests to determine compliance with § 3.118, it should be borne in mind that the airplane structural requirements do not provide for large displacements of the flight controls at high speeds. Full application of rudder and aileron controls should be confined to speeds below the design maneuvering speed V_p. The following rules (approximations) will serve as a guide for the maximum permissible control surface deflections at speeds above V_p. (This does not imply that these maximum deflections must be used in the tests at high speeds).

(1) The permissible rudder angle decreases approximately according to the ratio $(V_p/V)^2$, where V is the speed of the test.

(2) The permissible aileron deflection decreases approximately at the ratio (V_p/V), up to the design cruising speed. V_c. Above V_c, the permissible aileron deflection decreases at a faster rate.

(b) Thus, in a typical case, assuming V_p is 141 mph, V_c is 200 mph, and V_{NE} is 250 mph:

	V_c	V_{NE}
Permissible rudder deflection	50%	32%
Permissible aileron deflection	70%	32%

where 100 percent is the deflection obtainable at V_p.

(c) Control movements should be made smoothly and sudden reversals avoided.

§ 3.118–3 Flight tests for adverse control force reversal or control locking (CAA policies which apply to § 3.118 (a) (3)). (a) Tests should be conducted in all critical configurations, weights and c. g. positions from power off to 75 percent M. C. P. for the following speeds and any higher speeds if considered more critical:

(1) Normal category. (i) Over 4,000 pounds: $1.2V_{s_1}$

(ii) Under 4,000 pounds: All speeds from $1.2V_{s_1}$ down to the lowest speed attainable in steady unstalled flight.

(2) Utility and acrobatic categories (regardless of weight). Same as subparagraph (1) (ii) of this paragraph.

(b) V_{s_1} is the stalling speed in the critical configuration as defined in § 3.82 (b).

(c) The rear c. g. is usually critical for these tests.

§ 3.120–2 Indications of stall warnings (CAA policies which apply to § 3.120). (a) No precise and complete description of the various warnings that would comply with § 3.120 can be given at this time, but the following lists of items may be used as a guide:

(1) Satisfactory items include:

(i) Buffeting, which may be defined as general shaking or vibration of the airplane, elevator nibble, aileron nibble, rudder nibble, audible indications such as oil canning of structural members or covering roughness in riding qualities of the airplane due to aerodynamic disturbances, etc.

(ii) Stall warning instrument, either visual or aural. A visual instrument could be either a light or a dial.

(iii) Stick force, defined as heavy.

(iv) Stick travel to hold attitude.

(v) Stick position.

(2) Unsatisfactory items include:

(i) Airplane attitude.

(ii) Inability to hold heading.

(iii) Inability to hold wing level.

§ 3.121–1 Climbing stall flight tests for limited control airplanes (CAA interpretations which apply to § 3.121). (a) This requirement is intended to draw particular attention to any stall recovery characteristics that might be encountered when a limited control airplane is completely stalled from an extremely nose high attitude, either intentionally or inadvertently. In practice it is possible that the elevator control travel could be limited to such an extent that stalls could not be obtained at the normal rate of deceleration used in testing. However, if the airplane was pulled up into a very steep climbing attitude from reasonably high speed flight either power on or power off, and held in this attitude, excessive pitching may occur. At the same time, the limited elevator travel may retard recovery from the pitched attitude until excessively high speeds are obtained. These characteristics would normally be considered under § 3.106; however, it appears wise to call particular attention to the control characteristics that might result from these flight configurations on limited control airplanes.

(b) Although Form ACA–283–03, item A. (3), (a), indicates that take-off power should be used for these tests, this is not a mandatory requirement. In this regard it is to be noted that although § 3.121 is entitled "Climbing Stalls", it specifically states: ". . . when stalled from an excessive climb attitude", thus a specified application of power is not required. For example, flight tests recently conducted on several aircraft have indicated that the power-off configuration was critical since the stall resulted in greater pitch and less elevator control. The technique used for inducing such stalls consisted of stalling the airplane (power off) in as steep a climbing attitude as possible without falling into a whip stall, or other flight maneuver that might overstress the structure. (Form ACA–283–03 will be revised at the next printing, so that the power found to be critical can be recorded in a space that will be provided for this purpose.)

§ 3.124–1 Spin tests for category N airplanes (CAA interpretation which applies to § 3.124 (a)). If during recovery from a one-turn flaps-down spin the airplane exceeds the placard flap speed or limit load factor, it is permissible to retract the flaps during recovery to avoid exceeding these limits.

§ 3.124–2 Spin tests for category A airplanes (CAA interpretation which applies to § 3.124 (c)). If during recovery from a one-turn flaps-down spin the airplane exceeds the placard flap speed or limit load factor, it is permissible to retract the flaps during recovery to avoid exceeding these limits. In addition the airplane is to be placarded "Intentional spins with flaps down prohibited."

§ 3.174–2 Structural testing of new projects (CAA policies which apply to § 3.174). (a) The following is a general procedure that may be followed for determining the extent of required structural testing of a new project:

(1) As the initial step to determine the structural testing of a new project, a meeting between representatives of the manufacturer, the Civil Aeronautics Administration project engineer, and (if practicable) the pertinent Branch Chief of the Aircraft Division should be arranged. The question of minimum tests should be reviewed first. This will include generally such tests as proof and operation tests of control surfaces and systems, drop tests of landing gear, vibration tests, and wing torsional stiffness tests.

(2) If the structure is of a type on which the manufacturer has a thorough background of experience, analysis and proof tests can usually be considered acceptable. If, in addition, the analysis has a high degree of conservatism, proof tests other than those specifically required by Regulation may be omitted at the discretion of the CAA.

(b) If the structure or parts thereof are definitely outside the manufacturer's previous experience, the manufacturer may be requested to establish a strength test program. In the case of a wing, this will usually involve a 100 percent ultimate load test for PHAA. In cases of this type, it should be suggested to the manufacturer that he carry the PHAA test to destruction. If a comparison of the effects of inverted and normal types of loading can be carried out, some of the above tests, such as ILAA test, can be omitted and a test made for one condition only.

(c) When ultimate load static tests are made, the limit load need not be removed provided that continuous readings of deflections of the structure are measured at an adequate number of points, and also provided that a close examination of the structure is maintained throughout the tests with particular emphasis being placed upon close observation of the structure at limit load for any indications of local distress, yielding buckles, etc.

(d) In the case of small airplanes of other than two spar and steel tube construction, the manufacturer should be encouraged to strength test his product and reduce formal analysis to a minimum.

§ 3.174–3 Allowable bending moments of stable sections in the plastic range (CAA policies which apply to § 3.174). (a) The analytical method for determining allowable bending moments of stable sections in the plastic range as outlined in "Bending Strength in the Plastic Range" by F. P. Cozzone, Journal of Aeronautical Sciences. May 1943, is satisfactory for general use; however, the following should be considered in the application of this method of analysis to particular problems:

(1) The above method may be unconservative and should not be used for sections subject to local failure unless verified by suitable tests. For example, ANC–5a should be used for round tubing.

(2) The method may be unconservative and should be verified by testing representative cross sections for materials having stress-strain curves differing materially from those discussed in the reference article, or for materials whose stress-strain properties in compression differ materially from those in tension.

§ 3.174–4 Acceptability of static and/or dynamic tests in lieu of stress analyses (CAA policies which apply to § 3.174). Static testing to ultimate load is considered an adequate substitute for and in some cases superior to formal stress analysis where static loads are critical in the design of the component. In cases where a dynamic loading is critical dynamic load tests are equivalent to formal stress analysis. An example of components on which dynamic loading is usually critical is the landing gear and landing gear structure of an aircraft. (See § 3.174–2.) The same yield criteria apply to dynamic tests as to static tests.

§ 3.174–5 Operation tests (CAA policies which apply to § 3.174). Operation tests of structural components are required for mechanisms and linkages in several of the Civil Air Regulations. For this part these are: § 3.343 Control system and § 3.358 Landing gear retracting mechanisms.

§ 3.174–6 Material correction factors, fitting factors, and other factors; their effect on test loads (CAA policies which apply to § 3.174). (a) This part specifies certain factors which must be taken into account in establishing design and test loads for structural components. These factors are to be found in the following sections of this part and are discussed in paragraphs (b) through (g) of this section:

(1) § 3.172 Factor of safety.

(2) § 3.301 Material strength properties and design values.

(3) § 3.304 Castings.

(4) § 3.305 Bearing factors.

(5) § 3.318 Ribs.

(6) § 3.329 Hinges.

(7) § 3.346 Joints.

(b) Factor of safety of 1.50. In all cases of ultimate load testing the factor of safety of 1.50 should be included in the test load.

(c) Material correction factors. (See § 3.174–1).

(d) Fitting factor. The additional multiplying factor of safety of 1.15 specified in § 3.306 need not be included in test loads in which the actual stress conditions are simulated in the fitting and the surrounding structure. Also, these factors are considered to be included in and covered by the other special factors specified in § 3.302.

(e) Casting factors. Casting factors should be included in all tests in the substantiation of castings. (See § 3.304–1.)

(f) Hinge and bearing factors. Hinge and bearing factors specified shall be included in tests unless the appropriate portions of the parts are substantiated otherwise.

(g) Other factors. Test factors for rib, wing, and wing-covering are as follows:

(1) No additional factors of safety need be applied when rational chordwise upper and lower surface pressure distribution is used, provided that the test includes a complete wing or a section of a wing with end conditions and loadings applied in a manner closely simulating the actual wing conditions.

(2) When a rib alone, a section of wing, or small section of the airplane covering is tested without employing a completely rational load analysis and distribution, a factor of 1.25 should be included in the test loads. In an intermediate case, a factor between 1.0 and 1.25 may be employed in wing section tests if it is suitably established that a reduction from 1.25 is warranted by the particular conditions of the test.

§ 3.174–7 Establishment of material strength properties and design values by static test (CAA policies which apply to § 3.174). (a) There are several types of material design allowables, all of which are derived from test data. These are:

(1) Minimum acceptable values based on a minimum value already in an applicable materials procurement specification.

(2) Minimum non-specification values derived from tests of a series of standard specimens.

(3) Ninety percent probability values which are the lowest strength values expected in 90 percent of the specimens tested.

(4) Values based on "premium selection" of the material.

(b) Where testing is used to determine any of these types of allowable, procedures outlined in existing Government or industry specifications, e. g. QQ–M–151, ASTM's, etc., should be used although other procedures if approved by the CAA, may be used. No clear-cut rules as to the extent of testing to be done can be established herein, as this usually varies with the case. It is therefore a matter for joint discussion between the manufacturer and the CAA. The results, however, should be based on a sufficiently large number of tests of the material to establish minimum acceptable or probability values on a statistical basis.

(c) Design values pertinent to the items in paragraphs (a) (1), (2) and (3) of this section are presented in ANC–5a and ANC–18 for commonly used materials.

(d) With reference to paragraph (a) (4) of this section, some manufacturers have indicated a desire to use values greater than the established minimum acceptable values even in cases where only the use of minimum acceptable values is indicated. Such increases will be acceptable provided that specimens of each individual item of basic material as obtained are tested prior to use, to ascertain that the strength properties of that particular item will equal or exceed the properties to be used in design.

§ 3.174–8 Unusual test situations. (CAA policy which applies to § 3.174). It should be borne in mind that in any unusual or different situations a conference between the CAA and the manufacturer should be held to determine if the testing program as proposed by the manufacturer is sufficient to substantiate the structural strength of the aircraft or its component.

11. Section 3.186–1 as published July 16, 1949, in 14 F. R. 4047–48 is revoked.

12. Section 3.190–1 is adopted to read:

§ 3.190–1 Design flap speed V_f. (CAA interpretations which apply to § 3.190 (a). (a) The minimum permissible speed of 1.8 V_{s_1} is specified in order to cover power-off flight tests as required by § 3.315 (a). Section 3.223 requires that slipstream effects be considered in the design of the flaps and operating mechanism up to a speed of at least 1.4 V_s in order to cover the power on flight tests of § 3.109 (b) (5).

(b) The designer may treat the foregoing conditions as two separate cases, or he may combine them if he so desires.

13. Section 3.191–1 as published July 16, 1949, in 14 F. R. 4048 is amended to read:

§ 3.191–1 Aileron rolling conditions (CAA policies which apply to § 3.191 (a)). In determining whether airplanes of small to medium size and speed comply with § 3.191 (a), the Administrator will accept the following simplified procedure:

(a) Steady roll. Determine the C_n value, corresponding to $\frac{2}{3}$ the symmetrical maneuvering load factor. The C_n distribution over the span may be assumed the same as that for the symmetrical flight conditions. Modify the wing moment coefficient over the aileron portions of the span, as described in the "Note" under § 3.191 (a), corresponding to the required aileron deflections. The wing may be critical in torsion on the up, as well as on the down aileron side, depending upon airfoil section, elastic axis location, aileron differential, etc. (For the up aileron, the moment coefficient increment will be positive.)

The above assumption concerning C_n distribution implies that the aerodynamic damping forces have exactly the same distribution as the rolling forces, which is not strictly correct. However, since the load factor in the rolling conditions is only ⅔ of that in the symmetrical conditions, the errors involved in this assumption are not likely to be significant.

(b) Maximum angular acceleration. This condition need be investigated only for wings carrying large mass items outboard. In such cases instantaneous aileron deflection (zero rolling velocity) may be assumed and the local value of C_n and C_m over the aileron portions of the span modified accordingly to obtain the spanwise airload distribution. The average C_n of the entire wing should correspond to ⅔ of the symmetrical maneuvering load factor. The resulting rolling moment should be resisted by the rolling inertia of the entire airplane. This procedure is, in general, conservative, and a more rational investigation based on the time history of the control movement and response of the airplane may be used if desired.

14. Sections 3.211–1, 3.216–1, 3.216–2, 3.216–3, 3.216–4, 3.216–5, 3.216–6, 3.217–1, 3.219–1, 3.220–1, 3.223–1, and 3.224–1 are adopted to read:

§ 3.211–1 Control surface loads for design of "Vee" type tail assemblies (CAA policies which apply to § 3.211). (a) "Vee" type tail assemblies require special design criteria in order to show "the same level of safety" under § 3.1. Thus, for "Vee" type tail assemblies, all the tail road requirements as set forth in this part are considered acceptable to this type tail design. It will be necessary, however, to increase the unit loads on each side of the tail surface to account for the tail surface dihedral, since air loads act normal to the surface only. Thus the unit loads, based on the projected area, on each side of the tail surface due to vertical loads on the tail assembly should be increased by a factor equal to $1/\cos\theta$, while the unit horizontal loads on the tail assembly should be increased by a factor equal to $1/\sin\theta$, where θ is the dihedral angle, or the angle between each side of the tail surface and the horizontal.

(b) The following supplementary conditions should also be investigated:

(1) A ±30 fps gust, acting normal to the chord plane of one side of the tail surface at V_C, should be combined with a one "g" balancing tail load. Reduction for downwash is acceptable. It is evident that this condition will be unsymmetrical, since one side of the "Vee" tail will not be highly loaded by the gust.

(2) Combined rudder and elevator maneuvering condition. (i) In order to obtain the full one way travel of the ruddervator, it is desirable to have full elevator travel in conjunction with full rudder travel. The limiting factor for this configuration is ⅔ elevator load for one pilot, and ⅔ rudder load for one pilot applied simultaneously.

(ii) When it can be shown that the lateral gust condition (reference: § 3.220) is less critical than the condition in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, no analysis for the lateral gust need be made.

§ 3.216–1 Time histories of pull-up maneuvers (CAA policies which apply to § 3.216).

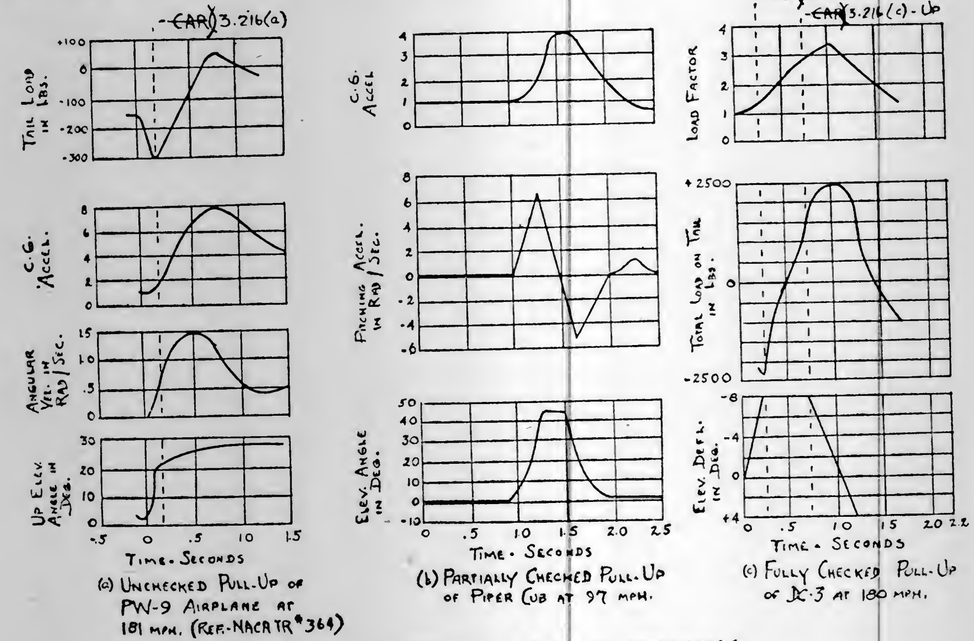

FIG. 1. TIME HISTORIES OF PULL-UP MANEUVERS

§ 3.216–2 Unchecked pull-up maneuver (CAA policies which apply to § 3.216 (a). (a) The condition given in § 3.216 (a) represents what may occur in an "unchecked" pull-up maneuver. The basic assumption is that while the airplane is flying in steady level flight at the speed V_p, the pilot suddenly pulls the elevator control back and holds it in the full back position.

(1) An example of the time history of a typical case of an unchecked pull-up maneuver is shown in Figure 1 (a) (see § 3.216–1). It will be noted from this figure that approximately full elevator deflection was applied in roughly 0.1 second and that the elevator was held in the full up position until after the peak c. g. acceleration was obtained. It will also be noted that the maximum down tail load was attained before the airplane had a chance to pitch appreciably since the c. g. acceleration corresponding to maximum down tail load was approximately 1.5.

(2) This condition is intended to represent the condition obtained at the instant of maximum down tail load in an unchecked pull-up as shown on the Figure 1 (a) (see § 3.216–1) at the time of approximately 0.15 seconds.

(b) For purposes of simplifying analysis procedure the download applied to the horizontal tail surface may be carried forward to the wing attachment points, assuming that the fuselage load factor is equal to zero. The moment at the wing due to the above described loads need not be balanced out as a couple at the wing attachment points. However, the linear and angular inertia forces may be taken into account if desired.

§ 3.216–3 Unchecked push-down maneuvering load (CAA policy which applies to § 3.216 (b). The condition given in § 3.216 (b) represents an "unchecked" push-down and is identical to § 3.216 (a) in principle, except that sudden application of full forward stick is assumed. To simplify the analysis the up load applied to the horizontal tail surfaces may be carried through the attachment of the horizontal tail surfaces to the fuselage, and local fuselage members. No other structure need be investigated for this condition.

§ 3.216–4 Checked maneuvering load condition (CAA policies which apply to § 3.216 (c)). (a) The condition given in § 3.216 (c) involves a down load and up load corresponding to what may occur in a "checked maneuver."

(b) A "checked maneuver" is defined as one in which the pitching control is suddenly displaced in one direction and then suddenly moved in the opposite direction, the deflections and timing being such as to avoid exceeding the limit maneuvering load factor.

(c) A typical case of a fully checked pull-up maneuver is shown for the DC–3 airplane in Figure 1 (c) (see § 3.216–1). This figure will be briefly reviewed as it contains all of the information essential to explaining the down load and up load cases required by § 3.216 (c).

(1) It will be noted that 8 degrees of up elevator was obtained in approximately 0.2 second. This 0.2 second time is the time at which the critical down load case occurs. It will be noted that a maximum down tail load of approximately 2,500 pounds is obtained at this point; further, that the airplane load factor is only slightly over 1 g. (The requirements specify a load factor of 1.0 for simplicity.) As time increases, it will be noted that the load factor begins to build up but that, when the load factor had been built up to approximately 2.7 g, the pilot started to push forward rapidly on the elevator control. This pushing forward is called "checking" and at speeds above the maneuvering speed such "checking" is required in order to prevent the airplane from exceeding the limit maneuvering factor. It will be noted that at the end of one second, the elevator has been completely "checked" back to zero deflection and that the maximum up tail load was obtained at this point concurrent with the maximum load factor of 3.2 g. The condition occurring at this time (1.0 second) represents the critical up tail load condition of § 3.216 (c).

§ 3.216–5 Principles applicable to detailed analysis of conditions given in § 3.216 (CAA policies which apply to § 3.216). (a) The basic principles underlying detailed analysis for the conditions covered in § 3.216 (a), (b) and (c) are described below:

(1) For the down load case, a normal acceleration of 1.0 is specified, concurrent with a specified positive value of angular acceleration. The forces acting on the airplane should therefore satisfy the following conditions:

(i) The algebraic sum of the upload on the wing and down load on the tail should equal the weight of the airplane. (For analysis purposes, a reasonable approximation to this condition is satisfactory.)

(ii) The summation of wing, fuselage and tail moments about the center of gravity of the airplane should be equal to the pitching moment of inertia of the airplane multiplied by the specified angular acceleration.

(2) The analysis of the upload condition may be carried out in the same manner, except that "n_m" times the weight of the airplane is used in subparagraph (1) (i) of this paragraph.

(b) In all of the conditions covered in § 3.216 (c), the thrust may be assumed zero for simplicity. There are many computation procedures by which these conditions can be satisfied. An example of a typical method is that given in Navy Specification SS–1A. In Figure 3–4 of this part, the maneuvering tail load increment has been based on average values of the ratio of airplane pitching inertia to overall length.

(c) Conditions specified by this requirement are likely to be critical only at speeds V_p and V_d. Investigation has shown that at V_p the specified down load condition is adequately taken care of by § 3.216 (a) and that the specified upload condition is adequately taken care of by § 3.216 (b). For these reasons, the conditions of § 3.216 (c) need not be investigated at the speed V_p.

§ 3.216–6 Maneuvering control surface loading figure 3–3 (b) in this part (CAA policies which apply to § 3.216). (a) The curves on Figure 3–3 (b) in this part were derived as follows:

(1) The three curves A, B and C of Figure 3–3 (b) of this part giving control surfaces loading vs. W/S correspond to normal force coefficients of 0.80, 0.70, and 0.55 respectively. These curves represent psf loading obtained with the above normal force coefficients acting at a design speed of V_p based on the assumption of $C_{L_{max}}$ equals 1.5.

(2) The basic computations for these curves were as follows:

$$V_p = V_s\sqrt{n}$$

$$q_p = 0.00256\ V_p^2 = 0.00256\ n\ V_s^2$$

$$V_s^2 = \frac{W/S}{0.00256 C_{L_{max}}}$$

$$q_p = \frac{n\ (W/S)}{C_{L_{max}}} = \frac{(W/S)}{1.5}$$

$$w = C_n q_p = \frac{C_n\ n (W/S)}{1.5}$$

$$4.4\ w = \frac{4.4\ C_n}{1.5}\ (W/S)$$

(3) These curves are all straight line curves and can be extended as straight lines to give the correct pounds per square foot loadings on the surface on the same basis as given above.

§ 3.217–1 Gust loads: horizontal tail surfaces (CAA policy which applies to § 3.217). The specified up gust and down gust load may be carried through the fuselage structure to the wing attachment points, assuming that the fuselage load factor is equal to that given by positive and negative gusts of 30 fps at V_c respectively. The angular inertia forces in general produce relieving loads and may be taken into account if desired. The attachments of concentrated mass items in the rear portion of the fuselage may be critically loaded by pitching acceleration forces.

§ 3.219–1 Vertical surface maneuvering loads (CAA policy which applies to § 3.219). The specified maneuvering loads may be applied to the vertical surfaces and carried through the fuselage structure to the wing attachment points, assuming the lateral inertia load factor along the fuselage structure as zero. The wing drag bracing through the fuselage should be analyzed for this condition since the wings will furnish a large part of the resisting angular inertia. Angular inertia forces on the fuselage may be included if desired.

§ 3.220–1 Gust loads; vertical tail surfaces (CAA policies which apply to § 3.220). (a) The K factor specified in § 3.220 was derived from the K factor for vertical gusts (§ 3.188) on the assumption that the effective area of the airplane for lateral gusts is twice the vertical surface area. Substituting $2S_v$ in place of S in the formula of § 3.188, we obtain:

(b) The specified gust loads may be applied to the vertical surfaces and carried through the fuselage structure to the wing attachment points as described in § 3.219–1.

§ 3.223–1 Wing flap load distribution (CAA policies which apply to § 3.223). A trapezoidal chord load distribution with the leading edge twice the trailing edge loading is acceptable. (Note that these loadings apply in the up direction only; however, it is recommended that the supporting structure also be designed to withstand a down load equal to 25 percent of the up load.)

§ 3.224–1 Trim tab design (CAA policies which apply to § 3.224). (a) To provide ruggedness and for emergency use of tabs, it is recommended that trim tabs, their attachments and actuating mechanism be designed for loads corresponding to full tab deflection at speed V_c with main surface neutral; except that the tab deflection need not exceed that which would produce a hinge moment on the main surface corresponding to maximum pilot effort.

(b) A trapezoidal chord load distribution with the loading of the leading edge twice that of the trailing edge is acceptable.

15. Sections 3.231–1 and 3.231–2 as published July 16, 1949 in 14 F. R. 4052 are amended to read:

§ 3.231–1 Hinge moments (CAA policies which apply to § 3.231 (a). The 125 percent factor on computed hinge moments provided in § 3.231 (a) need be applied only to elevator, aileron and rudder systems. A factor as low as 1.0 may be used when hinge moments are based on test data; however, the exact reduction will depend to an extent upon the accuracy and reliability of the data. Small scale wind tunnel data are generally not reliable enough to warrant elimination of the factor. If accurate flight test data are used, the factor may be reduced to 1.0.

§ 3.231–2 System limit loads (CAA policies which apply to § 3.231 (a) (1). (a) When the autopilot is acting in conjunction with the human pilot, the autopilot effort need not be added to human pilot effort, but the autopilot effort should be used for design if it alone can produce greater control system loads than the human pilot.

(b) When the human pilot acts in opposition to the autopilot, that portion of the system between them should be designed for the maximum effort of human pilot or autopilot, whichever is the lesser.

16. Sections 3.231–3, 3.241–1, 3.244–1, 3.245–2, 3.257–1, 3.257–2, 3.257–3, 3.265–1, and 3.265–2 are adopted to read:

§ 3.231–3 Interconnected control systems on two control airplanes (CAA policies which apply to § 3.231). (a) With respect to interconnected control systems such as in two control airplanes, the following is recommended in showing the "same level of safety" specified in § 3.1.

(1) If, in the case of two or more interconnected control systems, the control wheel or stick forces due to combined control system loads resulting from air loads on the control surfaces are less than the minimum prescribed in Figure 3–11 of this part, each control system from the interconnection to the control surface should be designed for minimum pilot effort on the control wheel or stick in order that sufficient ruggedness be incorporated into the system.

(2) If the control wheel or stick forces due to combined control system loads resulting from air loads on the control surfaces are in excess of the maximum forces prescribed in Figure 3–11 of this part, it is considered permissible to divide the maximum pilot effort loads in the control systems from the point of interconnection to the control surfaces in proportion to the control surface air loads. However, the load in each such control system should be increased 25 percent to allow for any error in the determination of the control surface loads, but in no case need the resulting loads in any one system exceed the total pilot effort, if the pilot effort were applied to that system alone. In any case, the minimum load in any one system should be no less than that specified in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph.

§ 3.241–1 Four wheel type alighting gears (CAA policies which apply to § 3.241. At present, little operational data or other information are available on which to base requirements for airplanes equipped with four wheel type alighting gears. The following is suggested for applying the requirements of this part to aircraft equipped with four wheel type alighting gears.

(a) The provisions of §§ 3.241 through 3.256, except for the following, should be considered applicable: § 3.245 (a), § 3.246 (a), and §§ 3.250 through 3.252.

(b) The conditions as specified in § 3.245 (b) (2), § 3.246 (b), § 3.247 and § 3.249 should be considered applicable to four wheel type gear without modification, the rear wheels being considered the main gear.

(c) The landing conditions specified in § 3.245 (b) (1) should be modified by dividing the total required load on the forward gear between the two wheels, 60 percent to one wheel and 40 percent to the other.

(d) The requirements of § 3.253 should be modified by applying the required loads simultaneously to the two front wheels, 120 percent to one wheel and 80 percent to the other. (Note that this gives a 80–40 percent distribution of the total load on the front gear.)

(e) It is believed that the method of applying the requirements of this part for single nose wheel type alighting gear to four wheel type alighting gear should result in a satisfactory design. It is suggested, however, that sufficient landing and taxiing tests be conducted to determine the suitability of the landing gear design and configuration. Since higher speed turns should be possible with a four wheel aircraft than with one having a conventional tricycle gear, it is believed that provision should be made to include high speed turns in the taxiing test programs of all four wheel aircraft.

(f) If an aircraft with four wheel type alighting gear is also designed for roadability, i. e. for use as an automobile, which is usually the case, the design of the alighting gear in accordance with applicable motor vehicle design requirements is acceptable, provided it can be shown that these requirements fully cover the airworthiness requirements of the Civil Air Regulations.

§ 3.244–1 Landing cases and attitudes (CAA policy which applies to § 3.244). The supporting structure as well as the landing gear itself should be capable of withstanding the loads occurring at the critical extension of the shock struts in accordance with Note (2) of Figure 3–12 (a).

§ 3.245–2 Level landing inclined reaction resultant (CAA policy which applies to § 3.245). In Figure 3–12 (b) the level landing inclined reaction resultant for both tail wheel and nose wheel type landing gears is assumed to pass through the wheel axles.

§ 3.257–1 Type certification of skis (CAA policy which applies to § 3.257). Type certification of skis is not contingent upon compliance with § 3.257 which applies to skiplanes only.

§ 3.257–2 Supplementary conditions for skiplanes (CAA policy which apply to § 3.257). (a) The following material outlines acceptable supplementary structural conditions for skiplanes with a tricycle type gear, in order to show "the same level of safety" under § 3.1.

(1) To provide adequate strength for normal landing, taxiing and ground handling conditions for skiplanes equipped with a tricycle gear, a limit torque equal to 0.667 W foot pounds should be separately applied about the vertical axis through the centerline of each main pedestal bearing of each main gear, W being the maximum design weight of the airplane in pounds.

(2) For the nose gear, a limit torque equal to 1.333 WK foot pounds should be separately applied about the vertical axis through the centerline of the nose gear pedestal bearing, where K is the ratio of the nose gear ground reaction (total of both sides), as determined from § 3.245 (b) (1), proper account being taken of the increase of load on the nose gear due to pitching of the airplane.

(3) In the case of a steerable nose gear, the limit torque on the nose gear need not exceed the pilot effort.

(b) An ultimate factor of safety of 1.5 should be applied to the limit torques specified in paragraph (a) (1), (2) and (3) of this section.

§ 3.257–3 Factor of safety of 1.0 (CAA policy which applies to § 3.257). (a) The load P/3 in § 3.257 is considered an ultimate loading. Therefore the factor of 1.0 is considered an ultimate factor.

§ 3.265–1 Float loads (CAA policies which apply to § 3.265). (a) Floats which are presently certificated on the basis of Part 4a of this chapter in effect prior to November 9, 1945, are considered satisfactory structurally for installation on airplanes which are designed in accordance with this part.

(b) New float designs which are submitted for approval should be investigated for the structural design requirements of this part. In this connection, it is pointed out that Part 15 of this chapter refers to Part 4a of this chapter for design requirements, whereas the latest structural requirements in this part should be used. Part 15 of this chapter is to be revised accordingly.

§ 3.265–2 Water loads; alternate standards (CAA policies which apply to §§ 3.1 and 3.265). ANC–3 provides a level of safety equivalent to, and may be applied in lieu of, §§ 3.267 through 3.272, 3.280, and 3.281.

17. Section 3.301–1 (c) as published July 16, 1949, in 14 F. R. 4056 is amended to read:

(c) See § 3.174–1 (a).

18. Section 3.301–2 is adopted to read:

§ 3.301–2 Substitution of seam welded for seamless steel tubing (CAA policies which apply to § 3.301). Seam welded tubing may be substituted for seamless steel tubing as follows:

(a) SAE 4130 welded tubing as per Specification AN–T–3, may be substituted for SAE 4130 seamless tubing conforming to Specification AN–WW–T–850a, and vice versa.

(b) SAE 1025 welded tubing as per Specification AN–T–4, may be substituted for SAE 1025 seamless tubing conforming to Specification AN–WW–T–846, and vice versa.

(c) SAE 8630 welded tubing conforming to Specification AN–T–33a may be substituted for SAE 8630 seamless tubing conforming to Specification AN–T–15 and vice versa.

19. Section 3.318–1 as published July 16, 1949, in 14 F. R. 4057 is amended to read:

§ 3.318–1 Rib tests (CAA policies which apply to § 3.318 (a). See § 3.174–6 (g).

20. Sections 3.320–1, 3.320–2, 3.328–1, 3.336–1, 3.337–1, 3.345–2, and 3.356–1 are adopted to read:

§ 3.320–1 Aircraft fabric (CAA rules which apply to § 3.320. (a) The minimum safety requirements for "Intermediate" grade fabric which is intended for use as external covering material on civil aircraft, have been established by the Administrator in Technical Standard Order No. TSO–C14, effective September 1, 1948, "Aircraft Fabric, 'Intermediate' Grade, External Covering Material."

(b) The minimum safety requirements for Grade "A" fabric which is intended for use as external covering material on civil aircraft, have been established by the Administrator in Technical Standard Order No. TSO–C15, effective September 1, 1948, "Aircraft Fabric, Grade 'A', External Covering Material."

§ 3.320–2 Wing, rib, and wing covering test factors (CAA interpretations which apply to § 3.320). See § 3.174–6 (g).

§ 3.328–1 Bonding of control surfaces (CAA policy which applies to § 3.328). In order to avoid possible "freezing" of control surface bearings caused by electrical discharges (as for example when flying through thunderstorms), it is recommended that all control surfaces be bonded to the airframe.

§ 3.336–1 Aileron controls for two-control airplanes (CAA interpretation which applies to § 3.336 (b)). In the case of two-control airplanes having side by side control wheels, the aileron controls in the right wing should be independent of those in the left wing; however, they may be connected to a common bell-crank or lever in the fuselage. From the point of common connection to the control wheels, the margins of safety should be large and the detail design adequate to minimize possibility of failure of any part.

§ 3.337–1 Independent means of control of control system (CAA interpretations which apply to § 3.337). The intent of § 3.337 is to provide an independent means of control from the cockpit in case of the failure of the primary control system. The installation of a bungee system to trim an airplane by actuating a primary control surface is, for example, not acceptable. In such a case, even the provision of large margins of safety would not preclude the possibility of failure of the primary control system caused by loosening bolts, wear and tear, etc. On the other hand, an equivalent degree of safety can be incorporated into a tab control system by some other means as, for example, by attaching a bungee directly to the control surface horn. Such an arrangement could be shown to meet the intent of § 3.337; however, each design will be reviewed on the basis of its individual merits.

§ 3.345–2 Special aircraft turnbuckle assemblies and/or turnbuckle safetying devices (CAA rules which apply to § 3.345). The minimum safety requirements for special aircraft turnbuckle assemblies and/or turnbuckle safetying devices which are intended for use in civil aircraft have been established by the Administrator in Technical Standard Order No. TSO–C21 effective October 1, 1949, "Special Aircraft Turnbuckle Assemblies and/or Turnbuckle Safetying Devices."

§ 3.356–1 Retracting mechanism (CAA policies which apply to § 3.356). (a) In order to provide for adequate strength of the landing gear doors, landing gear, etc., in yawed attitude, it will be satisfactory to show compliance with § 3.356 at the maximum yaw angle as determined by the flight characteristic requirements of § 3.105 and at speeds up to $1.6V_1$ flaps retracted.

(b) To meet the requirement that a positive means be provided for maintaining wheels in the extended position, a positive mechanized lock or latch should be provided that can be released directly or sequentially only by some specific manual actuation by the pilot. In this regard, the use of hydraulic pressure is not considered a positive means of down lock.

21. Section 3.359–1 as published July 16, 1949, in 14 F. R. 4059 is amended to read:

§ 3.359–1 Wheel position indicators (CAA policies which apply to § 3.359). (a) The means to be provided for in § 3.359 to indicate to the pilot when the wheels are secured in the extreme positions may consist of lights. For example, a green light for the gear down and locked position is considered satisfactory, provided a placard indicates that this is the down position. "All lights out" is considered satisfactory for intermediate gear positions. However, there should then be another light indicating gear up and locked. "All lights out" is not considered desirable for either extreme gear locked position, since such a system would not "fail safe" if a lamp burned out.

(b) The regulations do not require an aural warning device for amphibian aircraft. A two-light warning system similar to the following would be considered sufficient and satisfactory:

Gear Up----------	Light #1-------	Water
Gear Down-------	Light #2-------	Land

When light #1 is on, the gear would be in the extreme up position and locked and when light #2 is on, the gear would be in the extreme down position and locked.

22. Sections 3.359–2, 3.362–1, 3.364–1, 3.382–1, 3.382–2, 3.383–1, 3.386–1, 3.388–1, 3.388–2, 3.388–3, 3.388–4, 3.390–1, 3.391–1, and 3.392–1 are adopted to read:

§ 3.359–2 Position indicator and warning device (CAA policy which applies to § 3.359). A throttle stop is not considered an acceptable alternative to an aural landing gear warning device.

§ 3.362–1 Tire and rim association (TRA) ratings (CAA interpretation which applies to § 3.362). Experimental ratings assigned by the TRA are considered fully adequate for determining that a tire is satisfactory for use on commercial aircraft.

§ 3.364–1 Tail skis (CAA interpretation which applies to § 3.364). Type certification of tail skis is not required under the Civil Air Regulations. Such skis should therefore be approved as a part of the airplane.

§ 3.382–1 Openable window or openable portion of the windshield (CAA interpretations which apply to § 3.382). (a) The third sentence of § 3.382 is interpreted to mean that an openable window, or an openable portion of the windshield is required only when the windshield does not remain, or is not maintained (by means of windshield wipers or other devices) in a clean condition during a moderate rain.

(b) If deflectors or other means are provided, so that the elements do not fully impair the pilot's ability to see when an openable window, or a movable portion of the windshield is open, then the pilot should have an adequate view during the rain condition of the flight path in normal flight and landing with these deflectors or other devices installed (and, if applicable, in any position within the limits of adjustability).

§ 3.382–2 Pilot vision in rain conditions. (CAA interpretation which applies to § 3.382. The means for providing vision during flight in rain conditions should permit the pilot to view both the normal flight path and the instrument panel without difficulty or excessive head movement.

§ 3.383–1 Plexiglas windshields and windows (CAA policy which applies to § 3.383). A plastic material such as plexiglass is considered to be a nonsplintering material and can be used in windshields and windows.

§ 3.386–1 Crash protection (CAA interpretations which apply to § 3.386). (a) Cockpit arrangements and collapse of cabin structure have been found to cause excessive injuries in crashes. Close study of crash results shows that the human body, when properly supported, can tolerate crash forces which exceed those necessary to demonlish contemporary aircraft structure.

(b) The following points are of general significance:

(1) Many survivable accidents are "fatal" because of insufficient design consideration when mocking up the cabin and its installation.

(2) The torso is rarely exposed to dangerous injury when the safety belts hold and control wheels provide reasonable support for the chest.

(3) Fractures of the extremities occur in severe crashes but are not normally regarded as dangerous injuries.

(4) Head injuries are the principal cause of crash fatalities. Increased protection for the head can be provided by elimination, shielding, or redesigning of elements of the cabin which permit solid head blows in a crack-up, such as turnovers during a bad landing.

(c) In view of the fact that injuries and fatalities in many moderate and severe accidents are purely mechanical results of poor cockpit design, the following guide rules for design are suggested:

(1) Typical injurious objects, from the standpoint of crash injury, are listed as follows:

(i) Those which present a hard surface and are so attached or have sufficient mass to produce a severe impact when struck by the head or other vulnerable part of the body as it swings forward under the specified inertia forces.

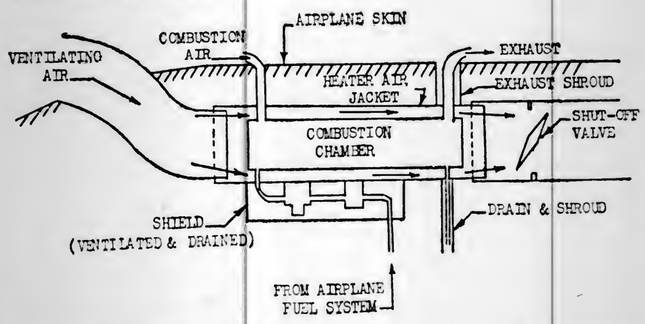
(ii) Those which present corners, knobs, or similar projections which are likely to penetrate a vulnerable part of the body, even when the impact forces are not as high as in paragraph (a) of this section.

(2) A flat or curved sheet metal panel which will dent upon impact by the head is not considered dangerous, whereas a magnetic compass case having appreciable mass and a rigid mounting might cause fatal head injuries.

(3) Heavy transverse braces or other structures immediately behind a light instrument panel have changed many accident reports from "Instrument panel depresed six inches by pilot's head" to "Fatal head injury; depressed fracture of the skull." Pilot's chances can be greatly improved by spacing solid braces several inches behind the ductile skirt of an instrument panel.

(4) The solid tubing used as a backrest of the front seats of tandem aircraft is a set-up for excessive head injury. The suggestion has been made that backs of forward seats be allowed to pivot forward so that the head of the occupant of the rearward seat would not contact the solid members when the body pivots about the belt.

(5) Panels should be smooth, with top edge curved in a substantial radius.



(6) Apertures for instruments should preferably have bevelled instead of sharp edges.

(7) In personal aircraft, every consideration should be given to holding the body by adequate safety belt installations, and by the support which can be provided in control wheels and instrument panels. The present "1000 pound" safety belts have failed in a high percentage of accidents without causing internal injuries or bruising of the hips. In failing, they have exposed the pilot to excessive injuries.

(8) Control wheels should be designed to provide broad areas of support for the chest. Wheels which break under heavy loads from the hands or deform to permit contact between the chest and a small hub, localize force and set up chances of unnecessary chest injury.

§ 3.388–1 Heater isolation (CAA policies which apply to § 3.388 (b)). (a) Under §§ 3.388 (b) and 3.623, heaters should be isolated from the remainder of the airplane by means of a fireproof shield. However, this need not necessarily mean a complete shield around the entire heater unit (although this would be satisfactory) since in many heater designs, a fireproof air jacket largely surrounds the flame chamber. Thus, the heater design itself practically provides a steel shield between the combustion unit and the remainder of the airplane. In such cases, it should suffice to provide isolation for the fuel system components mounted on the heater and for the heater exhaust and combustion chamber drains.

(b) The following schematic sketch shows an example of an installation which should be satisfactory:

The shut-off valve shown in the sketch should be provided if there are fuel system components within the ventilating air shroud which may be subject to leakage or failure. In such cases, that portion of the ventilating air duct up to the valve, as well as the valve itself, should be of fire resistant construction and the valve should provide as flame tight a seal as possible. If the fuel system is so arranged that there are no fittings or connections within the ventilating air shroud, the downstream air shut-off valve and fire resistant duct between the heater and the valve may be dispensed with.

(c) As regards shrouds for the combustion chamber drain lines, the necessity for these will generally depend upon the location of the drain in the heater. If the drain outlet from the combustion chamber is so located that products of combustion can issue through the drain line, it will no doubt become hot and require isolation. However, drains are sometimes connected in such a manner that they do not carry exhaust gases and remain relatively cool. In such cases, shrouds are not necessary.

§ 3.388–2 Fire-detector and extinguisher equipment (CAA policies which apply to § 3.388 (b)). (a) For non-transport category airplanes equipment of this type is not required. If such equipment is installed and it is shown to provide equivalent safety to the use of fireproof isolation, it may be considered a suitable alternative for fireproof isolation provisions discussed in § 3.388–1 (b). In such cases, the detection and extinguishing provisions should comply with the requirements for transport category airplanes; that is, detectors and extinguishers should be provided wherever potential sources of fuel leakage and sources of ignition are in close proximity.

(b) In the sketch in § 3.388–1 (b) the space within the shield would require such protection. In addition, detectors and extinguisher nozzles should be installed in the ventilating air passages of the heater if this chamber contains fuel system fittings or connections that may be subject to leakage.

(c) Hand fire extinguishers should be considered equivalent to a fixed fire extinguisher installation only when the heater is located in such a manner that it is readily accessible to the crew and when all fire zones in the installation can easily be reached with a hand extinguisher.

(d) All extinguishers may also be dispensed with when the heater is so shielded and located that a fire could be permitted to burn itself out without danger of damage to any important structural members or otherwise endangering the safety of the airplane.

(e) Detectors may be dispensed with as an alternative to fireproof isolation, only when the heater is so located that the occurrence of fire would immediately be noted by the crew.

§ 3.388–3 Heater fuel system (CAA policies which apply to § 3.388 (b)). (a) The heater fuel system should comply with airworthiness standards for the engine fuel system as regards fuel lines, fittings and accessories.

(b) Valves should be provided for shutting off in flight the flow of fuel at its source, unless equivalent provisions in the form of a separate heater fuel pump are available.

(c) All pressure lines should comply with the provisions of § 3.432 regarding pressure cross feed arrangements.

§ 3.388–4 Combustion heaters (CAA rules which apply to § 3.388 (b)). The minimum safety requirements for combustion heaters which are intended for use in civil aircraft have been established by the Administrator in Technical Standard Order No. TSO–C20, effective June 15, 1949, "Combustion Heaters."

§ 3.390–1 Approval of seats and berths, and their installations (CAA policies which apply to § 3.390). (a) Seats and berths and their installations, as well as related aircraft components, can be approved by any one of the three following procedures:

(1) Proof of compliance with the strength and deformation requirements of the regulations may be obtained on the basis of structural analysis alone when the structure conforms with conventional types for which the existing methods of analysis are known to be reliable.

(2) Proof of such compliance may be obtained by a combination of analysis and load tests to limit loads.

(3) Proof of such compliance may be obtained by static load tests alone, when such tests are carried to design ultimate loads.

(b) All seats shall be designed for the weights stipulated in this section (170 pounds for normal category; 190 pounds for utility and acrobatic category). When designed for a lower weight than those referred to above, the seat should be placarded to indicate the permissible, maximum weight of the occupant (see § 3.766).

§ 3.391–1 Safety belt attachment loads (CAA interpretations which apply to § 3.391). All airplanes to which § 3.391 is applicable under § 3.2, should have structural provisions and attachments adequate for the safety belt loads corresponding to the requirements of § 3.386, even though certificated safety belts meeting these requirements may not yet be available.

§ 3.392–1 Load factors for design of cargo compartments located in the fuselage (CAA interpretations which apply to § 3.392). (a) It would seem on examination of §§ 3.392 and 3.386 that there is a conflict between the load factors required for the design of cargo compartments which are located in the fuselage. The following explanation should clarify this possible misconception:

(1) Section 3.392 was specially promulgated to overcome objections to the excessively heavy cargo compartment structure that would be required to meet the crash conditions of § 3.386. In past cases of crashes, injuries to passengers caused by shifting cargo or baggage have not been prevalent despite the fact that in many cases the lower design factors of Bulletin 7a and Part 4a of this chapter were in effect. Because of this, § 3.392 was incorporated in the requirements, to apply specifically to cargo compartments. It should therefore not be necessary to consider the strength requirements of § 3.386 in their design.

23. Sections 3.411–1 as published July 16, 1949 in 14 F. R. 4061 is revoked.

24. Sections 3.419–1, 3.422–1, 3.422–2, 3.442–1, 3.582–1, 3.583–1, 3.587–1, 3.606–1, 3.623–1, 3.681–1, 3.688–1, 3.696–1, 3.702–1, 3.716–1, 3.721–1, 3.755–1, 3.755–2, 3.757–1, 3.759–1, 3.762–1, 3.777–1, 3.777–2, 3.777–3, 3.777–4, 3.780–2, and 3.780–3 are adopted to read:

§ 3.419–1 Propeller pitch and speed limitations (CAA interpretations which apply to § 3.419). (a) The low pitch setting should comply with § 3.419 (a) which states that the propeller shall not exceed the rated engine take-off r. p. m. with take-off power (full throttle unless limited by manifold pressure) during take-off and initial climb at best rate of climb speed. It is not permissible to use a lower pitch setting than that specified above in order to obtain take-off r. p. m. at the best angle of climb speed for the purpose of showing compliance with § 3.85 (c), Balked Landing Climb. An exception to the above may be granted in the specific case covered by § 3.85–5, when satisfactory engine cooling can be demonstrated at the best angle of climb speed in the balked landing configuration (§ 3.85 (c)). However, in cases where the interpretation of § 3.85 does not govern, it will be necessary to conduct the balked landing climb with whatever r. p. m. is possible without exceeding the engine take-off limitations with the low pitch setting determined in accordance with § 3.419 (a).

(b) In cases where the airplane is to be operated using either the water injection or dry take-off power ratings of the engines, the low pitch stop setting shall be determined on the basis of whichever rating will result in the lower pitch. This will generally be the "dry" rating. In instances where the airplane is intended to be operated only at the water injection take-off power ratings of the engines, the low pitch stop for the propellers should be determined on that basis. These settings are to be determined in the usual manner with the airplane static unless there are unconventional features in the propeller installation requiring this determination by some other means.

(c) In cases where dual engines drive a single propeller through free wheeling clutches, the setting of the low pitch stop should be such that the propeller will not overspeed when take-off power is applied to one engine at an airplane speed of V_2.

§ 3.422–1 Propeller clearance on tricycle gear airplanes (CAA interpretation which applies to § 3.422 (a) (1)). In determining minimum propeller clearance for aircraft equipped with tricycle gear, dynamic effects need not be considered.

§ 3.422–2 Propeller clearance on aircraft with leaf spring type shock struts (CAA interpretation which applies to § 3.422 (a) (2)). Section 3.422 (a) (2) applies only to conventional landing gear struts employing fluid and for mechanical means for absorbing landing shocks. For aircraft employing struts of the leaf spring type, a deflection corresponding to 1.5g should be used to determine whether positive clearance exists.

§ 3.442–1 Bladder type fuel cells located in a personnel compartment (CAA interpretations which apply to § 3.442). In the case where a bladder type fuel cell having a fuel capacity in excess of 25 gallons is located in a personnel compartment, a separate fume and fuel proof enclosure for the fuel cell and its retaining shell is not deemed necessary provided the retaining shell is at least equivalent to a conventional metal fuel tank in structural integrity and fume and fuel tightness. The shell surrounding the tank should be adequately drained to the exterior of the airplane.

§ 3.582–1 Water taxiing tests (CCA interpretation which applies to § 3.582). No water taxiing tests need be conducted on aircraft certificated under this part, except in the case of flying boats which may reasonably be expected to be taxied for extended periods.

§ 3.583–1 Powerplant winterization equipment (CAA interpretations which apply to § 3.583). (a) Cooling test results for winterization installations may be corrected to any temperature desired by the manufacturer rather than the conventional 100° F. hot day. For example, if a manufacturer chooses to demonstrate cooling to comply with requirements for a 50° or 60° F. day with winterization equipment installed, he may do so. In such a case the sea level temperature for correction purposes should be considered to be the value elected by the manufacturer with a rate of temperature drop of 3.6° F. per thousand feet above sea level.

(b) Cooling tests and temperature correction methods should be the same as for conventional cooling tests.

(c) The airplane flight manual should clearly indicate that winterization equipment must be removed whenever the temperature reaches the limit for which adequate cooling has been demonstrated. The cockpit should also be placarded accordingly. In addition, the airplane should be equipped with an ambient air temperature gauge or, alternatively, a cylinder head, barrel, or oil inlet temperature gauge (depending upon which is critical).

(d) If practical, winterization equipment such as baffles for oil radiators or for engine cooling air openings should be marked clearly to indicate the limiting temperature at which this equipment should be removed.

(e) Since winterization equipment is often supplied in kit form, accompanied by instructions for its installation, suitable information regarding temperature limitations should be included in the installation instructions for such kits.

§ 3.587–1 Cooling test procedure for twin engine aircraft which do not meet the minimum one-engine-inoperative climb performance (CAA interpretation which applies to § 3.587 (b)). In order to provide a practicable test procedure for compliance with this requirement, the engine temperatures should be stabilized in flight at the lowest practicable altitude above the ground, with maximum continuous power from the engine on which cooling is being investigated, and with just sufficient power on the other engine to maintain level flight at the speed for minimum rate of descent.

§ 3.606–1 Induction system de-icing provisions (CAA policies which apply to § 3.606). (a) A series of pressure type carburetors for small engines has been developed which incorporate the feature of injecting fuel into the intake air at a point downstream from the throttle and carburetor venturi. This feature tends to greatly reduce the possibility of ice formation in the engine induction system and the results of extensive tests have demonstrated the carburetors to be relatively free of icing hazards.

(b) In order to outline the limitations of our approval for the elimination of preheat on the carburetors, and to provide what are considered equivalent safety margins the following is stipulated:

(1) This approval applies only to sea level engines of the general power class with which the largest of these pressure carburetors has been tested. No tests have as yet been conducted on any altitude engines. The largest of these carburetors which has been tested at present is a model which is intended for use on engines in the general range of approximately 220 horsepower.

(2) Unless the main carburetor air intake is located in a sheltered position where it is free from impact icing possibilities, a sheltered alternate air intake should be provided even though there is no preheater.

(c) During tests of the non-icing qualities of these carburetors, it was found that in some cases poor idling of the engine was encountered and this was attributed to a possible ice formation in the internal carburetor passage which acts as the air bleed for the main discharge nozzle. As a result, it is necessary to provide a small intensifier tube to supply hot air to the air bleed side of the main discharge nozzle on installation in which the carburetor and a portion of the induction system are exposed to the exterior of the airplane. When the installation is completely cowled, the hot air bleed will not be necessary.

§ 3.623–1 Fire-proof materials for firewalls (CAA rules which apply to § 3.623). (a) The test for demonstrating compliance with criteria for fireproof material or components shall subject the material or unit to a 2,000±50° F. flame. Sheet materials shall be tested by subjecting a sample approximately 10 inches square to a flame from a suitable burner. The flame shall be large enough to maintain the required test temperature over an area approximately five inches square.

(b) Firewall materials and fittings shall resist flame penetration for 15 minutes.

(c) The following materials are considered satisfactory for use in firewalls or shrouds without being tested as outlined in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section:

(1) Stainless steel sheet, 0.015 inch thick.

(2) Mild steel sheet coated with aluminum or otherwise protected against corrosion, 0.018 inch thick.

(3) Terne plate, 0.018 inch thick.

(4) Monel metal, 0.018 inch thick.

(5) Steel or copper base alloy firewall fittings.

§ 3.681–1 Shielding of flare circuits (CAA policy which applies to § 3.681). Flare circuits should be shielded or separated from other circuits far enough to preclude induction of other current into flare circuit.

§ 3.688–1 Stall warning indicator circuits (CAA policies which apply to § 3.688)—(a) Wiring of circuit by the master switch. Airplanes on which the indicators are required for type certification as a result of the particular stall characteristics of the airplane, should have the indicator circuit by-pass the master switch. A circuit protector should be installed for the protection of the indicator wiring and this protector should be located as near as is practicable to the source of electric power.

(b) Wiring of circuit through the master switch. Where the indicator is installed as an accessory but not as required equipment, it is permissible to wire the indicator through the master switch or direct to the source of power. A circuit protector should be installed for the protection of the indicator wiring and this protector should be located as near as is practicable to the source of the electric power.

§ 3.696–1 Instrument lights (CAA interpretation which applies to § 3.696). The use of the cabin dome light is not considered adequate to comply with the provision of § 3.696.

§ 3.702–1 Rear position light installation (CAA interpretation which applies to § 3.702). A single rear position light may be installed in a position displaced laterally from the plane of symmetry of an airplane if the axis of the maximum cone of illumination is parallel to the flight path in level flight, and if there is no obstruction aft of the light and between planes 70° to the right and left of the axis of maximum illumination.

§ 3.716–1 Life rafts and life preservers (CAA rules which apply to § 3.716). (a) The minimum safety requirements for life preservers and life rafts which are intended for use in certificated civil aircraft engaged in over-water operations have been established by the Administrator in the following Technical Standard Orders:

(1) No. TSO–C12, "Life Rafts," effective August 1, 1948.

(2) No. TSO–C13, "Life Preservers," effective August 1, 1948.

§ 3.721–1 Radio equipment installation (CAA interpretation which applies to § 3.721). Engineering flight tests are not required for equipment installations unless a particular installation could conceivably interfere with flight operation of airplane or change the airplane configuration so that performance or flight characteristics became adversely affected.

§ 3.755–1 Markings and placards for an airplane certificated in more than one category (CAA policies which apply to § 3.755 (b)). (a) The following suggestions are given to assist in making placards and markings as simple and straightforward as possible:

(1) The applicant (who may be the manufacturer or an individual operator) should select a "basic" category on which all markings and placards will be based and installed on a particular airplane. However, this does not prevent the selection of some other category as "basic" for the placarding and marking of other airplane of the same model.

(2) Placards of markings pertaining to other categories should be installed only when this can be done without confusing the placards or markings for the "basic" category. For example, previous attempts to put dual sets of markings on airspeed indicators have proven unsatisfactory. On the other hand, it may be desirable to install baggage capacity and number of persons placards which cover both normal and utility categories.

(3) A statement on the placard, required by § 3.769 and § 3.770, should refer the operator to the "Approved Airplane Flight Manual" for information on the placards and markings appropriate to the other categories in which the airplane is certificated.

(4) All placards should be arranged to present the necessary information to the pilot in as simple and practical a manner as possible. In many cases, it may be convenient to consolidate various placards.

(5) The following is an example of a possible (but not necessarily complete) form for a consolidated placard for an airplane certificated in Normal and Utility Categories, using the Normal Category as the "basic" category for purposes of placarding and marking:

> THIS AIRPLANE MUST BE OPERATED AS A NORMAL OR UTILITY CATEGORY AIRPLANE IN COMPLIANCE WITH THE APPROVED AIRPLANE FLIGHT MANUAL.
> All markings and placards on this airplane apply to its operation as a Normal Category Airplane. For Utility Category operations, refer to the Airplane Flight Manual.
> NO ACROBATIC MANEUVERS (INCLUDING SPINS) ARE APPROVED FOR NORMAL CATEGORY OPERATIONS.

(6) When the category selected for marking and placarding is the Utility Category, the appropriate placards for limiting the weight to the approved utility value should, of course, be posted. This may, for example, require placards on some of the seats, "Not to be occupied during Utility operations," and "Maximum baggage capacity during Utility Category operations, ------ pounds."

When the number of occupants permitted for the Utility Category is less than the number of seats, but the seating arrangement makes no difference, it may be more convenient to omit the seat placards and substitute a statement such as the following on the consolidated placard, "Maximum number of persons for Utility Category Operations. ------."

(7) For Utility Category maneuvering limitations, see § 3.6–1.

§ 3.755–2 Markings and placards for flap settings (CAA policies which apply to § 3.755 (a)). (a) Flap settings as related to performance. Instructions on flap settings relating to airplane performance should be included in the "performance information" section of the Manual, and should be identified with the corresponding performance data given in § 3.777–1 (g). If the applicant has demonstrated compliance with the pertinent performance requirements for a range of flap settings, the range may be given instead of a single setting. In this case, performance data should be shown for both extremes of the range, or for the critical setting within the range, plus explanation of the qualitative effect on performance of using other settings within the range.

(b) Flap settings resulting in unsafe characteristics. If improper setting of the flaps can result in dangerous characteristics, a suitable item should be included in the "operating limitations" section of the Flight Manual, and on a placard in view of the pilot.

Typical examples of "dangerous characteristics" would be cases in which a flap take-off setting less than that marked on the flap indicator would cause unusual difficulty in take-off by greatly extending the take-off distance, or affecting controllability (e. g., porpoising, or inability to raise nose wheel). Reasonable and gradual variations in performance with change in flap setting would not be considered dangerous. Cases of obvious pilot error need not be considered such as take-off with flaps in landing setting, provided the pertinent settings are adequately marked on the flap indicator.

§ 3.757–1 White arc on air-speed indicator (CAA interpretations which apply to § 3.757 (a) (4)). The white arc on the air-speed indicator should extend to the "basic" flaps extended speed specified in § 3.742. Additional combinations of flap setting, airspeed and power established in accordance with § 3.742 should be listed in the airplane flight manual and may be listed on a placard if the manufacturer desires.

§ 3.759–1 Power-plant instrument markings (CAA interpretations which apply to § 3.759). (a) Where the propeller is restricted against operation in a definite r. p. m. range, because of vibrating stress considerations, such restrictions should be indicated by a red arc on the tachometer extending from the low to the high engine r. p. m. speeds corresponding to the restricted propeller speed r. p. m. ranges. This policy follows the general practice of the regulations in prescribing the use of red markings instead of yellow markings in indicating restrictions that are more than precautionary.

(b) Tachometer dial should not be marked to indicate restricted operating range due to propeller vibratory stress considerations when this consideration applies only under certain conditions such as when landing gear is extended. It is considered satisfactory for a placard covering such restricted ranges to be provided.

§ 3.762–1 Marking of button-type starter switches (CAA interpretation which applies to § 3.762). Simple push-button type starter switches need not be marked to indicate method of operation.

§ 3.777–1 Preparation of airplane flight manuals for airplanes in the normal, utility, and acrobatic categories (CAA policies which apply to § 3.777). (a) This section outlines an acceptable arrangement for the Airplane Flight Manual as required by § 3.777. It should be noted that the items outlined below for inclusion in the document will not all be necessary for a given airplane, and the Civil Aeronautics Administration is desirous of holding the document to the smallest practicable amount of material. Only the material required by this part should be included in the Civil Aeronautics Administration approved portion of the manual. However, if desired, the manufacturer may add other data in a distinctly separate section in the same cover. The portion of the material that is to be approved by the Civil Aeronautics Administration must be so marked and clearly separated from any other material so that no one could easily err in regard to the part that is approved.

(b) The page size for the Airplane Flight Manual will be left to the decision of the manufacturer. Some sort of a cover should be provided where more than one page is involved and should indicate the nature of the contents with the following title: "Airplane Flight Manual." Each page of the approved portion should bear the notation "CAA Approved" and the date of issuance. The material should be bound in some semi-permanent fashion so that pages will not easily be lost, but should be so bound that revised pages can be inserted. In the case of small airplanes where the document consists of only one or two pages, superseding the entire document would be preferable to issuing revised pages. The aircraft specification will identify the manual by the approval date, and when different versions of the airplane (skiplanes, seaplanes, etc.) are covered in separate manuals, each will be listed. Also, the latest approved revisions will be shown.

(1) When an aircraft has tentative approval only, the following statement should appear on the inside of the front covering page of the manual:

> The certificate of airworthiness issued to the aircraft described hereon, subject to the final issuance of a covering type certificate, is based upon tentative approval of aircraft of this model. Upon issuance of a covering type certificate, it may become necessary to make certain modifications or adjustments to the subject aircraft in order that the certificate of airworthiness may remain effective.

(c) The Airplane Flight Manual should contain as much of the material in paragraphs (d) through (h) of this section as is applicable to the individual model. It is suggested that the document be divided into sections as indicated in paragraphs (d) through (h) of this section. The sequence of sections and of items within sections should follow the outline in so far as is practicable. This will facilitate revising the document when an airplane is altered in the field.

(d) Administrative section. (This section will be unnecessary in the case of small uncomplicated airplanes where the limitations consist of only one or two pages. In such cases the data noted for inclusion on the title page can be placed at the top of the first page.)

(1) Title page. This page should include the manufacturer's name, airplane model and the registration number.

(2) Table of contents. This page will not be necessary where the document consists of only a few pages.

(3) Log of revisions. Should provide spaces in which to record revised pages and the date inserted. This page will not be necessary where the document is short and will be superseded completely if changes are necessary.

(e) Limitations section—(1) Engine power and speed limits. Should also list engine and propeller manufacturer and model.

(2) Temperature and manifold pressure limits. Include, if applicable, minimum climbing airspeeds for hot weather operation.

(3) Fuel grade. This item as well as subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph may, in the case of most airplanes, be covered together.

(4) Propeller. Should list propeller manufacturer and model.

(5) Power-plant door and flap settings. Pertains only when cowl flaps, cooler doors or other similar devices are installed.

(6) Placards (power-plant only). Should list all power-plant operating placards and explain their significance, where pertinent.

(7) Instrument markings (power-plant instruments). Should list all power-plant instrument markings.

(8) Airspeed limitations. Should include "never exceed speed," "maximum structural cruising speed," "maneuvering speed," "flaps extended speed," and "landing gear extended speed" where applicable.

(9) Flight load factors. The pertinent load factors should be given in terms of accelerations.

(10) Maximum weight. This should list maximum weights.

(11) C. G. Range. The approved c. g. limits and datum should be listed in inches.

(12) Maneuvers. This should list the approved maneuvers with recommended entry speeds.

(13) Placards (except power-plant placards). Should list all flight placards and explain their significance where pertinent.

(14) Instrument markings (except power-plant instruments). Should list all flight instrument markings, and explain their significance. (In most cases this will involve only the airspeed indicator.)

(15) Minimum crew. This section should be used only when the minimum crew is more than one. Where used, the section should explain the basic duties of each crew member.

(f) Procedures section—(1) Normal operating procedures. For the small conventional airplane where all procedures are conventional, this section will not be necessary. Only unconventional features and peculiarities of the particular airplane should be covered here, and, in the case of more complex airplanes, the following should be covered where pertinent.

(i) One engine inoperative. Applies only to multiengine types and should contain all necessary procedures for such operation.

(ii) Propeller feathering. Applies only to multiengine types equipped with feathering propellers. Should contain full instructions on feathering and unfeathering.

(iii) Circuit breakers. Should contain full information on the location and method of resetting all circuit breakers installed.

(iv) Fire procedures. Pertains only to airplanes equipped with a built-in fire extinguishing system. Should contain full instructions on the operation of such systems as well as associated fire protection equipment and procedures.

(v) Emergency procedures for flaps, landing gear, fuel dumping, etc.

(vi) Other special operating procedures (if any).

(g) Performance information section—(1) Take-off data. Should include distance to clear 50-foot obstacle, etc., at various altitudes and temperatures.

(2) Climb data. Should give normal rate of climb, balked landing climb (landing gear extended and wing flaps in landing position) and one-engine inoperative climb (for multiengine types) at various altitudes and temperatures.

(3) Landing data. Should give distance to complete landing over 50-foot obstacle and approach speed for various altitudes and temperatures.

(4) Stalling data. Should give stall speeds, stall warning indications and other pertinent data including stalling speeds at various angles of bank.

(h) Weight and balance data section. This section will not be included in the approved portion of the Airplane Flight Manual. It is the intention of the Civil Aeronautics Administration to place the responsibility for the control of weight and balance with the manufacturer and operator. The manufacturer will furnish a weight and balance report for each new airplane. The Civil Aeronautics Administration representative will not approve each individual report but will make only occasional spot checks to ascertain that the manufacturer's weight control procedure is adequate. The manufacturer will be expected to furnish complete information with the airplane, not only regarding its actual weight and balance, but also to include sketches, samples, and other data that will assist the operator in checking the balance after alterations. The Repair and Alteration Form (ACA-337) has been revised to include space for recording the new empty weight, empty weight C. G. and useful load on the form after each change. A copy of this form will be given to the owner and his file of such forms, together with the manufacturer's original data will afford the owner with a complete and up-to-date file. In cases where the permissible C. G. positions vary with gross weight, it is suggested that a note be included in the weight and balance report advising owners to contact the airplane manufacturer when any change is made to the airplane which would appreciably affect the location of the empty C. G. or location of useful load items. The manufacturer is asked to cooperate in an educational program to inform the owner of his responsibility and the means whereby he can discharge it. To this end, a statement substantially as follows should be prominently displayed in the weight and balance section:

NOTE: It is the responsibility of the airplane owner and the pilot to insure that the airplane is loaded properly. The empty weight, empty weight C. G. and useful load are noted below for this airplane as delivered from the factory. If the airplane has been altered, refer to the latest approved Repair and Alteration Form (ACA-337) for this information.

(1) Weight limits. Should list and explain (where necessary) the various weight limits. In the case of a small airplane, only the maximum (gross) weight would be applicable.

(2) C. G. limits. Approved operating C. G. range.

(3) Empty weight C. G. limits where practicable. This applies to the empty weight C. G. range which will automatically assure compliance with the operating C. G. limits under the most adverse loading conditions.

(4) Empty weight and empty weight C. G. location.

(5) Equipment list. All equipment included in the empty weight. Equipment items should normally be identified by the item number and name used in the Aircraft Specification.

(6) Weight computations. The computations necessary to determine the empty weight C. G. location and the check of forward and aft C. G. locations where applicable.

(7) Loading schedule. Supply where necessary.

(8) Loading schedule instructions. Complete instructions in the use of the loading schedule.

(9) Unconventional airplanes. The material in paragraph (h) of this section is believed to be complete and adequate for a conventional airplane. In the case of unconventional airplanes or airplanes with special features, the foregoing should be modified or amplified as necessary to cover the case.

(i) Number of copies. Three copies of the above material, less the Weight and Balance Data Section, should be submitted to the appropriate Civil Aeronautics Administration regional office by the manufacturer for an original approval. One copy will be signed by the Chief, Aircraft Division, and returned to the manufacturer. Revisions to the manual will be approved in the regional office. One copy of the Weight and Balance Data Section should be included in the manual by the manufacturer for each airplane at the time of certification.

(j) Sample of airplane flight manual. A sample of an Airplane Flight Manual that fulfills the requirements in the case of a small uncomplicated airplane is given in paragraph (k) of this section.

(k) Sample sheet.

C. A. A. Approved January 1, 1947.

RONSON AIRCRAFT CO.
LOS ANGELES, MAINE

CAA Identification No. ------ RONSON 65 NORMAL AND UTILITY CATEGORIES

AIRPLANE FLIGHT MANUAL

1. LIMITATIONS

The following limitations must be observed in the operation of this airplane:

Engine: Motors model 150A.
Engine limits: For all operations—2500 rpm, 150 hp.
Fuel: 73 minimum octane aviation gasoline.
Propeller: Hamilton Standard constant speed, hub 2D30, blades 6167A-15. Pitch settings, low 29°, low 14° at 42 in. sta.
Power instrument: (a) Fuel quantity gauge: Fuel remaining in tank when indicator is in the region marked in RED cannot safely be used in flight.
(b) Oil temperature: Unsafe if indicator exceeds RED line (200° F).
(c) Tachometer: RED line at rated engine speed. DO NOT EXCEED.

		Normal category	Utility category
Airspeed limits (true indicated airspeed):	Never exceed	150 mph	165 mph
	Max. structural cruising	120 mph	120 mph
	Maneuvering	110 mph	110 mph
	Flaps extended	90 mph	90 mph
Flight load factors:	Max positive load factors	3.9	4.5
	Max. negative load factor	No inverted maneuvers approved.
Maximum weight:		2,100 lbs.	1,900 lbs.
C. G. range:	(+11.0) to (+22.4)

Datum—L. E. of wing.

NOTE: It is the responsibility of the airplane owner and the pilot to insure that the airplane is properly loaded.

(a) No acrobatic maneuvers approved for Normal Category operation.
(b) The following maneuvers are approved for operation in the Utility Category only, with recommended entry speeds shown:
CHANDELLES—110 MPH TIAS LAZY EIGHTS—105 MPH TIAS
STEEP TURNS—100 MPH TIAS SPINS
STALLS (EXCEPT WHIP STALLS)

SAMPLE SHEET—Continued

Airspeed instrument markings and their significance:
(a) Radial RED line marks the never exceed speed which is the maximum safe airspeed.
(b) YELLOW arc on indicator denotes range of speeds in which operations should be conducted with caution and only in smooth air.
(c) GREEN arc denotes normal operating speed range.
(d) WHITE arc denotes speed range in which flaps may safely be lowered.

NOTE: Maneuvers involving approach to stalling angle or full application of elevator rudder or aileron should be confined to speeds below maneuvering speed.

2. PROCEDURES

Normal operating procedures: (a) Rear seat must not be occupied when airplane is operated in the Utility Category.

3. PERFORMANCE INFORMATION

The following performance figures were obtained during Civil Aeronautics Administration type tests and may be realized under conditions indicated with the airplane and engine in good condition and with average piloting technique.

All performance is given for 2100 lbs. weight, with no wind and on level, paved runways. In using the following data, allowance for actual conditions must be made.

Item	Altitude	Outside air temperatures
		0° F.	25° F.	50° F.	75° F.	100° F.
Take-off distance (in feet): Distance required to take-off and climb 50 feet. Full throttle 80 mph climb speed. Flaps down 10°.	Sea level	625	750	900	1,000	1,075
	2,000 feet	1,125	1,275	1,475	1,600	1,700
	4,000 feet	1,625	1,875	2,050	2,200	2,550
	6,000 feet	2,100	2,300	2,500	2,700	3,000
Landing distance (in feet): Distance required to land over 50 feet obstacle and stop. Flaps full down. Approach at 75 mph.	Sea level	1,200	1,250	1,300	1,350	1,400
	2,000 feet	1,260	1,320	1,380	1,440	1,500
	4,000 feet	1,340	1,400	1,460	1,510	1,570
	6,000 feet	1,420	1,480	1,520	1,580	1,640
Normal rate of climb (ft. per min.): Full throttle. Flaps up. Air speed 80 mph.	Sea level	800	760	720	680	640
	2,000 feet	680	640	600	560	520
	4,000 feet	550	510	470	430	390
	6,000 feet	420	380	340	300	260
Balked landing climb (feet per minute). Full throttle. Flaps down. Airspeed 80 mph.	Sea level	600	570	550	500	470
	2,000 feet	490	450	420	380	350
	4,000 feet	380	340	300	270	240
	6,000 feet	260	230	190	160	120

Stalling speeds (mph). Power off	Angle of bank	0°	20°	40°	50°	60°
	Flaps up	55	57	64	70	80
	Flaps full down	50

Following the performance information would be the section on weight and balance. The manufacturer may merely append his regular weight and balance forms if he desires).

§ 3.777–2 Calculated effects of temperature and altitude variations (CAA policies which apply to § 3.777). See § 3.780–1.

§ 3.777–3 Performance data for altered airplanes of this part (CAA policies which apply to § 3.777). See § 3.780–2.

§ 3.777–4 Performance data and flight tests for ski installations on airplanes of this part (CAA policies which apply to § 3.777). See § 3.780–3.

§ 3.780–2 Performance data for altered airplanes of this part (CAA policy which applies to § 3.780). Performance data for altered airplanes of this part must be changed in the Airplane Flight Manual if the alteration decreases the performance below that given in the existing manual. If performance can be shown to equal or exceed original values then a statement in the manual to this effect is sufficient.

§ 3.780–3 Performance data and flight tests for ski installations on airplanes of this part (CAA policies which apply to § 3.780)—(a) Take-off and landing distances. It will not be necessary, in complying with § 3.780 (a) (3) and (4), to make take-off and landing distance tests on skiplane installations where landplane distances are given in the Airplane Flight Manual. The following, or similar, statements should be given in the performance information section of the Airplane Flight Manual.

(1) Take-off. Under the most favorable conditions of smooth packed snow at temperatures approximating 32° F. the skiplane take-off distance is approximately 10 percent greater than that shown for the landplane.

NOTE: In estimating take-off distances for other conditions caution should be exercised in that lower temperatures or other snow conditions will usually increase these distances.

(2) Landing. Under the most favorable conditions of smooth packed snow at temperatures approximating 32° F. the skiplane landing distance is approximately 20 percent greater than that shown for the landplane.

NOTE: In estimating landing distances for other conditions caution should be exercised in that other temperatures or other snow conditions may either decrease or increase these distances.

(b) Climb performance. In cases where the landing gear is fixed (both landplane and skiplane), where the climb requirements are not critical, and the climb reduction is small (30 to 50 feet per minute), the CAA will accept a statement of the approximate reduction in climb performance placed in the Airplane Flight Manual performance information section. For larger variations in climb performance, or where the minimum requirements are critical, or where the landing gear of the landplane was retractable, appropriate climb data should be obtained to determine the changes, and new curves, tables, or a note should be incorporated in the Airplane Flight Manual.

(c) Flight and handling tests. At least a general flight check should be made prior to approval. This should include more than one landing to determine the ground handling characteristics as well as take-off and landing characteristics. Note should be taken of ski angle at landing contact during tail high and tail low landings to avoid having the ski dig in or fail from localized stress. Ground control should be sufficient to satisfactorily complete a landing run with a turn off at slow speed in cases where brakes are not provided. In flight the ski should ride steady with no unusual drag and produce no unsatisfactory flight characteristics. Spin checks should be made on all aircraft in which spins are an approved maneuver. When spins are approved under § 3.124 (a), investigation with ski installations need not be made unless the spin characteristics of the type are known to be marginal.

(Sec. 205, 54 Stat. 984, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 425. Interpret or apply secs. 601, 603, 52 Stat. 1007, as amended, 1009, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 551, 553)

These rules, policies, and interpretations shall become effective April 15, 1951.

DONALD W. NYROP,
Administrator of Civil Aeronautics.

TITLE 29—LABOR

Chapter V—Wage and Hour Division, Department of Labor

PART 704—LEATHER, LEATHER GOODS, AND RELATED PRODUCTS INDUSTRY IN PUERTO RICO

MINIMUM WAGE ORDER

Pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C., Supp., 1001) notice was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on March 23, 1951, 16 F. R. 2637–2639) of my decision to approve the minimum wage recommendation of Special Industry Committee No. 8 for Puerto Rico for the Leather, Leather Goods, and Related Products Industry in Puerto Rico, and the wage order which I proposed to issue to carry such recommendation into effect was published therewith. Interested parties were given an opportunity to submit exceptions within 15 days of the date of publication of the notice.

An exception has been received. This petition has been considered and I find that the exceptions contained therein present no new matters which would require any modification of my previous decision, as set forth in my findings and opinion entitled "In the Matter of the Recommendation of Special Industry Committee No. 8 for Puerto Rico for Minimum Wage Rates in the Leather, Leather Goods, and Related Products Industry in Puerto Rico."

Accordingly, pursuant to authority under the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended (52 Stat. 1060, as amended; 29 U. S. C. 201), the said decision is hereby affirmed and made final, and the said wage order is hereby issued, to become effective May 14, 1951.

Sec.
704.1 Approval of recommendations of industry committee.
704.2 Wage rates.

Sec.
704.3 Notices of order.
704.4 Definitions of the leather, leather goods, and related products industry in Puerto Rico and its Divisions.

AUTHORITY: §§ 704.1 to 704.4 issued under sec. 8, 63 Stat. 915; 29 U. S. C., Sup., 208, Interpret or apply sec. 5, 63 Stat. 911; 29 U. S. C., Sup., 205.

§ 704.1 Approval of recommendations of industry committee. The Committee's recommendations are hereby approved.

§ 704.2 Wage rates. (a) Wages at a rate of not less than 50 cents per hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, by every employer to each of his employees in the hide curing division of the leather, leather goods, and related products industry in Puerto Rico who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce.

(b) Wages at a rate of not less than 27 cents per hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, by every employer to each of his employees in the leather tanning and processing division of the leather, leather goods, and related products industry in Puerto Rico who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce.

(c) (1) Wages at a rate of not less than 23 cents per hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, by every employer to each of his employees in the baseball and softball division of the leather, leather goods, and related products industry in Puerto Rico who is engaged in hand-sewing operations, and who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce.

(2) Wages at a rate of not less than 32 cents per hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, by every employer to each of his employees in the baseball and softball division of the leather, leather goods, and related products industry in Puerto Rico who is engaged in operations other than hand-sewing operations, and who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce.

(d) (1) Wages at a rate of not less than 23 cents per hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, by every employer to each of his employees in the small leather goods division of the leather, leather goods, and related products industry in Puerto Rico who is engaged in hand-sewing or hand-lacing operations, and who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce.

(2) Wages at a rate of not less than 32 cents per hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, by every employer to each of his employees in the small leather goods division of the leather, leather goods, and related products industry in Puerto Rico who is engaged in operations other than hand-sewing or hand-lacing operations, and who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce.

(e) (1) Wages at a rate of not less than 23 cents per hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, by every employer to each of his employees in the general division of the leather, leather goods, and related products industry in Puerto Rico who is engaged in hand-sewing or hand-lacing operations, and who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce.

(2) Wages at a rate of not less than 35 cents per hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, by every employer to each of his employees in the general division of the leather, leather goods, and related products industry in Puerto Rico who is engaged in operations other than hand-sewing or hand-lacing operations, and who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce.

§ 704.3 Notices of order. Every employer employing any employees so engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce in the leather, leather goods, and related products industry in Puerto Rico shall post and keep posted in a conspicuous place in each department of his establishment where such employees are working such notices of this order as shall be prescribed from time to time by the Wage and Hour Division of the United States Department of Labor and shall give such other notice as the Division may prescribe.

§ 704.4 Definitions of the leather, leather goods, and related products industry in Puerto Rico and its divisions. (a) The leather, leather goods, and related products industry in Puerto Rico, to which this order shall apply, is hereby defined as follows:

(1) The curing, tanning or other processing of hides, skins, leather or furs and the manufacture of products therefrom; the manufacture from artificial leather, fabric, or similar materials of suitcases, brief cases, wallets, billfolds, coin purses, card cases, key cases, cigarette cases, watch straps, pouches, tie cases, toilet kits, checkbook covers, and like articles; and the manufacture of baseballs and softballs covered with leather, artificial leather, fabric or similar materials: Provided, however, That this definition shall not include any product or activity included in the shoe manufacturing and allied industries in Puerto Rico or the button, buckle, and jewelry industry in Puerto Rico, as defined in the wage orders for these industries or in the needlework and fabricated textile products industry or the men's and boys' clothing and related products industry, as those industries in Puerto Rico are defined in Administrative Order No. 399, appointing Special Industry Committee No. 8 for Puerto Rico (15 F. R. 3970).

(2) This definition supersedes the definitions contained in any and all wage orders heretofore issued for other industries in Puerto Rico to the extent that such definitions include products or operations covered by the definition of this industry.

(b) The separable divisions of the industry, as defined in paragraph (a) of this section, to which this order and its several provisions shall apply, are hereby defined as follows:

(1) Hide curing division. This division consists of the salting and other curing of hides and skins and operations incidental thereto.

(2) Leather tanning and processing division. This division consists of the tanning or other processing of hides, skins, leather, or furs, except the activities included in the hide curing division, as defined in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, and except the processing of such materials in the course of the fabrication of products therefrom.

(3) Baseball and softball division. This division consists of the manufacture of baseballs and softballs covered with leather, artificial leather, fabric or similar materials.

(4) Small leather goods division. This division consists of the manufacture from leather, artificial leather, fabric or similar materials, of wallets, billfolds, coin purses, card cases, key cases, cigarette cases, watch straps, belts, pouches, tie cases, toilet kits, checkbook covers, and like articles.

(5) General division. This division consists of all products and activities included in the leather, leather goods, and related products industry, as defined in this section, except those included in the hide curing division, the leather tanning and processing division, the baseball and softball division, and the small leather goods division, as defined in this paragraph.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 10th day of April 1951.

WM. R. MCCOMB,
Administrator,
Wage and Hour Division,
United States Department of Labor.

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter V—Department of the Army

Subchapter A—Aid of Civil Authorities and Public Relations

PART 518—RECORDS AND REPORTS

ACCESS TO AND RELEASE OF INFORMATION FROM ARMY RECORDS TO THE PUBLIC

A new Part 518 is added to Subchapter A, to include new §§ 518.1 through 518.5, as follows:

Sec.
518.1 Introductory.
518.2 General principles and procedures.
518.3 Information obtainable by general public.
518.4 Information which may be released only to persons properly and directly concerned.
518.5 Unofficial research use of transferred files.

AUTHORITY: §§ 518.1 to 518.5 issued under R. S. 161; 5 U. S. C. 22. Interpret or apply 60 Stat. 238, 62 Stat. 697, 977, 64 Stat. 159; 5 U. S. C. 1002, 18 U. S. C. 283, 641, 793, 795, 797, 1905, 28 U. S. C. 2507, 50 U. S. C. 46, 46a. President's Memorandum, 13 March 1948 (13 F. R. 1359).

SOURCE: §§ 518.1 to 518.5 contained in AR 345-20, 9 March 1951, and SR 345-920-1, 15 March 1949, including change 1, 17 April 1950.

§ 518.1 Introductory—(a) Authority of the Secretary of the Army. The Secretary of the Army has charge and control of all records and papers of the Army Establishment and has responsibility for assuring that the information contained therein is utilized in such a manner as will serve best the public interest. The release of information therefrom is a matter for the determination of the Secretary of the Army. No subordinate in the Army Establishment has any authority to release information contained in, or papers forming a part of, the records of the Army Establishment, or to permit any papers to be taken from the files of the Army Establishment for other than official use within the executive department, except as provided in §§ 518.1 through 518.5 and in delegation of authority at 16 F. R. 3309.

(b) Scope. (1) Set forth in this part are the basic policies of the Secretary of the Army together with implementing procedures pertaining to the furnishing of information from, access to, or copies of papers forming a part of the records of the Army Establishment, to individuals whose official duties do not entitle them thereto, private companies and organizations, and agencies of State and local governments. Included in the procedures are methods whereby those individuals and organizations properly and directly concerned may request and obtain from the records of the Army Establishment such information as is not held confidential for good cause. All papers referred to in §§ 518.1 through 518.5 will be construed to be records of the Army Establishment, whether or not it is specifically so stated. As used in §§ 518.1 through 518.5, authority to grant access to papers includes the authority to give information from or copies of such papers.

(2) Some of the missions of the Department of the Army require as a fundamental operation the release to the general public of information from, or papers forming a part of, the records. For example, pertinent regulations in connection with the procurement and public information missions contemplate the release and dissemination of a vast amount of data and information. The regulations concerning missions of that type constitute specific authority for the release of information appropriate and necessary to the accomplishment of the respective missions.

(3) Sections 518.1 through 518.5 do not embrace the detailed policies and procedures relative to the release, in special cases, of information classified under Part 505 of this chapter nor is authority granted to release information prohibited by Part 505 or by other Army regulations.

(4) Similarly, §§ 518.1 through 518.5 do not encompass policies and procedures concerning the release of information to congressional committees nor to the furnishing of information from, access to, or copies of papers to officials of other agencies of the executive department as they may be entitled to by reason of their official duties. The release of information in connection with litigation is dealt with specifically in pertinent Army Regulations.

(c) General policy. While information from, access to, or copies of papers forming a part of the records of the Department of the Army may be furnished to members of the public only by authority of the Secretary of the Army, all requests compatable with the public interest and in conformance with pertinent regulations will be granted upon receipt of requests for such information or access to or copies of papers, the Secretary of the Army or the person to whom authority has been delegated to act for the Secretary of the Army will determine, taking into account the nature of the information sought and the use proposed to be made thereof by the applicant, whether the private interests involved are such as properly outweigh any public considerations which may exist against granting the request.

§ 518.2 General principles and procedures—(a) Requests. (1) Requests by individuals, including those in the executive branch of the Government whose official duties do not entitle them thereto, private companies and organizations, and agencies of State and local governments for information from, access to, or copies of papers will be directed as follows:

(i) Requests involving medical records, other than those pertaining to former members of the military service, will be directed to the medical treatment facility where they are maintained, if known; if not known, or if the requests involve medical records which pertain to former members of the military service, to The Adjutant General, Department of the Army, Washington 25, D. C.

(ii) Requests involving papers relating to the civil works of the Department of the Army, i. e., river and harbor and flood control work, will be directed to the appropriate division or district office of the Corps of Engineers, if known; otherwise to the Chief of Engineers, Department of the Army, Washington 25, D. C.

(iii) Requests involving personnel records of civilian employees will be directed to the activity of the Army Establishment at which the individual is employed, if known; otherwise to The Adjutant General, Department of the Army, Washington 25, D. C.

(iv) All other requests will be directed to The Adjutant General, Washington 25, D. C.

(2) All such requests will contain the following:

(i) A description of the papers to which the request relates in sufficient detail to afford a ready identification thereof.

(ii) A statement as to why the information is needed and the proposed use to be made thereof.

(iii) If the request is made by an individual acting in a representative capacity on behalf of another individual, a private company or organization, or an agency of State or local government, evidence establishing that the individual making the request is the authorized representative of the individual, private company, etc., on whose behalf the request is made.

(iv) If the request relates to information or papers the release of which is limited to persons properly and directly concerned, a statement as to the nature of the concern which, when taken together with such information as may be readily available to the Department of the Army, shows that the individual or private company, etc., is properly and directly concerned.

(b) Location of records and place of access. Because of the large number of agencies and the wide variety of papers in the Army Establishment, it is not feasible to establish by general rule the places at which access may be granted to particular documents. Similarly, it is not feasible to list by general rule all papers which may be made available to the general public, to list all papers which may be released to persons properly and directly concerned, or to predetermine who, under unforeseen circumstances, may be held to be properly and directly concerned. However, when access to papers is granted, such access normally will be permitted at the place where the papers are maintained or stored, during regular business hours, and under such circumstances and procedures to safeguard the papers as are deemed appropriate by the custodian or as may be prescribed by higher authority. It is imperative that the records of the Department of the Army remain intact and unimpaired at all times. Consequently, papers will not be permitted to leave the possession of the authorized custodian thereof, except with the authority of The Adjutant General in each instance. However, in appropriate circumstances as governed by the principles set forth in §§ 518.1 through 518.5, copies of papers may be furnished to requesting parties.

(c) Burdensome requests for information or copies. Unless specifically provided otherwise with regard to particular papers, authority recognized or delegated to furnish access to papers includes the authority, in the discretion of the officer concerned, to furnish information from copies of such papers: Provided, however, That the searching for and compiling of the information requested or the furnishing of copies of the papers requested would not, under the circumstances attendant upon the particular request, materially interfere with the current mission of the Department of the Army. In determining whether information or copies of documents will be furnished, the officer concerned will consider all pertinent factors, including, but not limited to, whether the cost thereof will be borne by the requesting party and whether a precedent would likely be established which would result in a burdensome number of similar requests.

(d) General restrictions on release. Without the express approval of the Secretary of the Army or The Adjutant General in each instance, individuals, other than those in the executive branch of the Government who are entitled thereto by reason of their official duties, private companies or organizations, or agencies of State or local governments will not be furnished information from, access to, or copies of papers:

(1) Which are required by statute or regulation to be held confidential.

(2) Relating to the loyalty of individuals in particular, or the loyalty program in general, as prohibited by Executive order and Memorandum by the President.

(3) Relating to State secrets, e. g., confidential communications with foreign nations.

(4) Relating to military secrets, i. e., information of value to the enemy in time of war or of assistance to a foreign power in time of peace.

(5) Which contain information classified under Part 505 of this chapter, or information the release of which is prohibited by other Army regulations.

(6) Containing counterintelligence investigative material, whether developed by Army investigative agencies or obtained from other sources.

(7) Relating to Army, Navy, or Air Force installations or equipment, the release of information concerning which is prohibited by statute:

(8) Containing information the disclosure of which would interfere with or militate against the performance of the missions or functions of the Department of the Army.

(9) Relating to information the disclosure of which would interfere with the maintenance of discipline within the Army or with law enforcement generally.

(10) Containing information the release of which would breach a legal obligation, e. g., disclosure of a manufacturing process or know-how contrary to a licensing agreement.

(11) Containing information as to the identity of a confidential informant or any other information the disclosure of which would involve a breach of faith or violate a moral obligation to keep the information confidential.

(12) Containing information relating solely to the internal management, administration, or operations of the Army Establishment.

(13) Containing information which aids in the prosecution of or support of a claim against the United States under circumstances other than in the proper discharge of official duties.

(14) Which constitute records of hearings or reports by military personnel or civilian employees to superiors, irrespective of whether such records of hearings or reports are in fact classified, the same being hereby held to be privileged and confidential for good cause. Such records of hearings and reports include, but are not limited to records of hearings before courts martial, boards of officers, boards of inquiry, and courts of inquiry, reports by inspectors general; investigative reports as to particular incidents and transactions, such as reports by claims officers and reports of survey; and routine and special reports as to matters relating to the internal management, administration, and operation of the Army Establishment or as to the manner of performance of assigned duties by military personnel and civilian employees.

(15) Which contain rumors and unsubstantiated allegations prejudicial to the character, standing, or efficiency of an individual the release of which might result in irremediable, and incalculable injury to innocent parties.

(16) Containing information which, although officially or otherwise appropriately collected and reported, probably would expose the individual who reported it to the resentment of those whose conduct is impugned thereby.

(17) Relative to suspected criminal conduct or fraudulent activity on the part of military personnel or civilian employees of the Army Establishment, or by private commercial companies or any other organizations or individuals in connection with the procurement activities of the Army Establishment.

(e) Declassification. If it appears that information from, access to, or copies of classified papers are of vital importance to a party requesting them and that the granting of the request would be appropriate but for such classification, consideration will be given, in light of the circumstances and current regulations, to the propriety of declassifying the papers involved.

(f) Reference to The Judge Advocate General. Doubtful questions of law which may arise with regard to the release of information will be referred to The Judge Advocate General. Such questions which are likely to arise include, but are not limited to, those as to whether information which would aid in the prosecution of or support of claims against the United States may, nevertheless, under various situations be released as in the proper discharge of official duties, and those as to whether parties requesting certain information which is not the proper subject of release to the general public are properly and directly concerned therewith.

§ 518.3 Information obtainable by general public—(a) Authority to furnish access. Upon the receipt of requests therefor from individuals, private companies or organizations, or agencies of State or local governments, the commander of a unit, head of a technical service, head of an agency, or officer concerned, may furnish access to copies of unclassified regulations, publications, rules, orders, and decisions, except those which, under special circumstances, are held by him to be confidential for good cause.

(b) Categories. The types of unclassified papers covered by this section, access to which usually may be afforded to members of the general public, include but are not limited to the following:

(1) Army Regulations, Special Regulations, readjustment regulations, mobilization regulations, joint Army-Air Force adjustment regulations, general orders, bulletins, circulars, commercial traffic bulletins, Department of the Army pamphlets, procurement regulations, procurement circulars, Army procurement regulations (joint procurement regulations), joint procurement circulars, Armed Services procurement regulations, joint termination regulations, Army renegotiation manual, joint renegotiation manual, renegotiation manual, Army renegotiation manual—part II, military renegotiation manual, and standard forms of bids, acceptances, contracts, and leases.

(2) Decisions by the Armed Services Board of Contract Appeals and by the War Contract Hardship Claims Board.

(3) Rules, orders, and opinions in the adjudication of cases of general public interest which may be cited as precedents; regulations concerning river and harbor and flood control activities and regulations governing navigable inland and coastal waters; and courts-martial orders.

(4) Historical data, in accordance with § 518.5.

§ 518.4 Information which may be released only to persons properly and directly concerned—(a) General. (1) Nothing in §§ 518.1 through 518.5 or other regulations will be construed to detract from the recognized authority of the commanding officer of a medical treatment facility to:

(i) Release such information as to the condition of sick and injured patients as he deems necessary to allay the anxiety of the relatives of such patients.

(ii) Inform the person designated by a patient to be notified in case of an emergency or the nearest known relative that the patient's condition has reached a stage which seriously endangers life.

(iii) Inform the person designated by a patient to be notified in case of an emergency or the nearest known relative that a diagnosis of psychosis has been made.

(iv) Report, in accordance with local law and regulations, all births, deaths, and cases of communicable diseases.

(2) Similarly, contracting officers may, in accordance with ordinary commercial practices, furnish Department of the Army contractors, during the pendency of the contractual relationship, access to contracts or other papers pertinent to the obligations incident to that relationship or reasonably necessary in the furtherance of the work or the furnishing of the supplies or services being obtained: Provided, That, if classified information is involved, the provisions of Part 505 of this Chapter are strictly complied with: And provided further, That in the absence of a contractual obligation so to do or other circumstance making such release of information a proper discharge of official duties, a contracting officer will not furnish information to a contractor which aids or supports a claim against the United States. Pertinent regulations of the Department of the Army, pursuant to the Contract Settlement Act of 1944 (58 Stat. 649; 41 U. S. C. 101, et seq.) prescribing that certain advice, aid, and assistance will be rendered to war contractors in preparing contract termination claims, constitute an example of circumstances where a contracting officer may be required in the proper performance of official duties to furnish information which aids or supports a claim against the United States (58 Stat. 668; 41 U. S. C. 120 (f)).

(3) The disclosure to the individual concerned of the precise nature of allegations made before boards of officers and boards of inquiry which are prejudicial to his character, standing, or efficiency, and the evidence adduced before such boards in support thereof, as well as the disclosure to the individual concerned of the evidence adduced before such boards tending to establish pecuniary liability on his part, is governed by pertinent Army regulations.

(4) A claims officer, judge advocate, or others officially concerned with the processing of or the disposition of claims, sounding in contract or tort, against the United States arising out of the operations of the Army Establishment may furnish to a claimant or the authorized representative of the claimant access to papers submitted by the claimant. However, in the absence of pertinent regulations specifically providing therefor, a claimant or the authorized representative of the claimant will not be furnished information from, access to, or copies of other papers of record concerning the claim without the prior approval of The Judge Advocate General in each instance. No provision of these or other regulations will be construed as providing that such personnel may not in the proper discharge of their official duties, after a claimant has manifested intention to file a claim against the United States, advice the claimant as to proper form and method of filing the claim or, if the claim be unusually complex in nature, aid in the completion of the required forms and supporting data.

(5) The Department of the Army has no objection to stockholders being furnished information on the financial operations of corporations holding Department of the Army contracts when access to books and records containing such information is permitted by State law; Provided, That no classified military information is divulged to unauthorized persons concerning the terms of Department of the Army contracts, or rate of or processes of production of military equipment or specific war items. Requests for access to such books and records will be reported to the contracting officer for appropriate disposition in accordance with current regulations.

(b) Release of certain information in proper discharge of official duties. Information released by The Adjutant General, The Surgeon General, or the commanding officer of a medical treatment facility, as provided by paragraph (c) of this section, is hereby found to have been released in the proper discharge of his official duties within the meaning of section 283, Title 18, United States Code.

(c) Release of certain papers by The Adjutant General, The Surgeon General, or the commanding officer of a medical treatment facility. (1) Set forth below are findings that certain individuals, private companies or organizations, or agencies of State or local governments are properly and directly concerned with described categories of papers. The Surgeon General or the commanding officer of any medical treatment facility may, to the extent that authority therefor is delegated and subject to the restrictions set forth in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, furnish access to or information from unclassified papers within any of the categories set forth in subdivisions (v) through (viii) of this subparagraph to the parties indicated in the respective findings. In addition, The Adjutant General may, subject to the restrictions set forth in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, and pursuant to his delegated authority, furnish access to or information from unclassified papers within any of the categories set forth in subdivisions (i) through (viii) of this subparagraph to the parties indicated in the respective findings.

(i) Papers relative to applications for, beneficiaries to be designated in, and allotments in payment of, National Service Life Insurance are the proper and direct concern of the applicant or insured and, in the event of his death or insanity, the beneficiaries named in or designated for naming in such policies and his next of kin. Access may be furnished to the applicant or insured or his authorized representative and, in the event the applicant or insured has been adjudged insane or is dead, to the beneficiaries named in or designated for naming in such policies, his next of kin, and legal representative.

(ii) Papers recording the death of a member of the military service or a civilian employee are the proper and direct concern of and access thereto may be furnished to his next of kin, his life insurance carrier, and legal representative.

(iii) Personnel records relating to a member or former member of the military service are the proper and direct concern of and information therefrom may be furnished to the individual to whom they pertain, his authorized agent, and legal representative: Provided, however, That information or data compiled from or copies of such personnel records will be furnished only at the discretion of The Adjutant General. In addition, access to personnel records relating to a member of the military service on active duty may be furnished to the individual to whom they pertain, his authorized agent, and legal representative. Such access will be permitted only in the Personnel Information Branch, Office of The Adjutant General, The Pentagon, Washington 25, D. C.

(iv) Papers relating to the pay and allowances of a member of the military service or the pay of a civilian employee, including a former member of the military service or civilian employee, are the proper and direct concern of, and access thereto may be furnished to, the individual to whom they pertain, his authorized agent, and legal representative.

(v) Medical records relating to a member of the military service or a civilian employee, including any such former member or civilian employee, or to any other person who was a patient in a medical treatment facility of the Army Establishment are the proper and direct concern of the individual to whom they pertain and, in the event he has been adjudged insane or is dead, the next of kin and legal representative. Information therefrom and copies thereof may be furnished to the individual to whom they pertain: Provided, That no information which might prove injurious to his physical or mental health will be released to him; and, in the event the information would be injurious to his physical or mental health or he has been adjudged insane or is dead, to next of kin and legal representative.

(vi) Medical records pertaining to an individual within a class described in subdivision (v) of this subparagraph are the proper and direct concern of, and information therefrom or copies thereof may be furnished with the consent of the individual concerned or his legal representative to, a registered civilian physician when required in connection with medical treatment of that individual.

(vii) Medical records pertaining to an individual within a class described in subdivision (v) of this subparagraph are the proper and direct concern of, and information therefrom or copies thereof may be furnished to, a Federal or State hospital or penal institution when the individual to whom they pertain is a patient or inmate therein.

(viii) Information from or copies of medical records may be furnished to duly accredited representatives of the National Academy of Sciences and National Research Council, when engaged in cooperative studies undertaken at the specific request of or with the consent of The Surgeon General.

(2) Information released pursuant to the provisions of subparagraph (1) (vi), (vii), and (viii) of this paragraph pertaining to a particular individual, as well as such information released pursuant to the provisions of subparagraph (1) (v) of this paragraph to others than the individuals to whom it pertains, will be accompanied by a statement to the effect that the information is released upon the condition that it will not be disclosed to third parties, except in accordance with the limitations and principles adhered to in the civilian professional medical practice relative to privileged communications between doctor and patient.

§ 518.5 Unofficial research use of transferred files—(a) Policy. Research in noncurrent files in records depositories by authorized individuals, under the conditions and procedures specified below, is to be encouraged and facilitated. Space and facilities will be furnished at the records depository to authorized researchers. No withdrawals of records from records depositories will be made for the purpose of unofficial research. When properly cleared as indicated in paragraph (b) of this section, certain civilians (such as social scientists, historians, journalists, and other writers, including writers of unofficial unit histories) will be permitted to examine unclassified records in records depositories, exclusive of personnel records. Certain classified records may be made available for background purposes of unofficial research under special restrictions specified in paragraph (d) of this section.

(b) Use of interview board. All applications for permission to examine records will be submitted on DA AGO Form R–5472 (Interview Record of Applicant Requesting Permission to Use Official Files) to the Chief, Public Information Division, Office, Chief of Staff, United States Army. The application will indicate:

(1) Purpose of investigation.

(2) Subject to be investigated and, when possible, individual documents to be consulted.

(3) Whether publication or dissemination is intended and, if so, the form or media of publication or dissemination.

(4) For a former officer or enlisted man designated to prepare an unofficial unit history, grade and serial number and, in addition, a signed statement from his former commanding officer authorizing him to prepare such a history.

(c) Clearance of applicants. Clearance of applicants will be for a specified time and will be applicable to a clearly defined research project. Upon approval of an application for permission to examine records, the Chief, Public Information Division, Office, Chief of Staff, United States Army, will inform the appropriate records depository of such approval in writing, citing the following:

(1) Name of individual authorized to examine the records.

(2) Description of the subject to be investigated.

(3) Length of time for which access to records is authorized.

(d) Conditions on access to files. Access to records for unofficial research purposes will be subject to the following conditions:

(1) Files will be charged specifically to individuals and will be used only in a reference area to be designated by the head of the records depository.

(2) Records will be returned to file at the end of the day.

(3) Papers will not be defaced, damaged, or detached from a file by the investigator.

(4) Arrangement of files for photographic purposes will be the responsibility of appropriate personnel of the records depository.

(5) Papers, brief cases, and packages of the investigator will be subject to inspection.

(e) Reproduction of files. Reproduction of records by photographic means will not be undertaken by the Department of the Army for unofficial purposes. However, under appropriate supervision, individuals will be permitted to perform such reproduction of unclassified records at their own expense.

[SEAL] EDWARD F. WITSELL,
Major General, U. S. Army,
The Adjutant General.

Subchapter D—Military Reservations and National Cemeteries

PART 555—MOTION PICTURE SERVICE

REVISION OF PART

Part 555 is revised to read as follows:

Sec.
555.1 Scope.
555.2 Command responsibility.
555.3 Army and Air Force Motion Picture Service (AAFMPS).
555.4 Films.
555.5 Admission charges.
555.6 Patronage eligibility.
555.7 Insurance.

AUTHORITY: §§ 555.1 to 555.7 issued under R. S. 161; 5 U. S. C. 22.

SOURCE: §§ 555.1–555.4, 555.6 and 555.7 contained in AR 110–105, 14 Dec. 1950; and § 555.5 contained in SR 110–105–1, 14 Dec. 1950 and C 1, SR 110–105–1, 14 Mar. 1951.

§ 555.1 Scope. This part will govern the operation of the Army and Air Force Motion Picture Service, and Army and Air Force theaters, and the exhibition of entertainment motion pictures at military installations of the United States Army and United States Air Force within the continental limits of the United States, Alaska, and specified bases in Canada, Newfoundland, Bermuda, and the Azores.

§ 555.2 Command responsibility. Army and Air Force theaters are operated by the installation commanders under the supervision of the appropriate Army and Air Force major commanders. All policy matters will be channeled through these commanders for action or recommendation as appropriate.

§ 555.3 Army and Air Force Motion Picture Service (AAFMPS). (a) The Army and Air Force Motion Picture Service, hereinafter referred to as AAFMPS, is an adjunct of the Departments of the Army and the Air Force and functions as a nonappropriated fund activity under the supervision of the Joint Welfare Board.

(b) Regional and branch offices necessary for efficient operation, and the Engineering Depot, will be maintained, reporting direct to the Chief, AAFMPS, Washington 25, D. C. Direct communication is authorized between these offices and Army and Air Force installations to insure efficient performance of the functions charged to these offices. Army and Air Force commanders have no responsibilities in connection with the operation of the above offices.

(c) The Chief, AAFMPS, is the custodian of the Army and Air Force Motion Picture Service Fund and will receive, safeguard, disburse, and account for the fund in accordance with regulations and directives pertaining thereto.

§ 555.4 Films—(a) Supply. (1) All entertainment motion pictures for exhibition at installations in the areas prescribed in § 555.1 will be obtained from the AAFMPS except the American Red Cross service for patients in hospitals.

(2) Sixteen-millimeter entertainment motion pictures will not ordinarily be shown at installations where Army or Air Force theaters are operated. Any unusual conditions that would appear to justify an exception to this policy will be communicated, through command channels, to the Chief, AAFMPS, Washington 25, D. C., for consideration.

(3) Organization day programs and children's special matinees may be held in accordance with procedures set forth in special regulations.

(4) No requests will be made upon producing or distributing motion picture companies or their agents or employees, for free or paid showing of any film subject(s), and any offers of such subjects for free or paid showings will be rejected.

(b) Selection. The product of all film companies is available for Army and Air Force theaters, and selection thereof is based on quality as determined primarily by past experience gained from study of audience reactions, attendance reports, and comments of individual installation commanders.

(c) Suitability. If the installation commander objects to the showing of any scheduled motion picture, a substitute booking will be arranged, provided that adequate prior notice is transmitted to the appropriate regional office of the AAFMPS.

(d) Exhibition. (1) Entertainment motion picture programs furnished by the AAFMPS will be shown only at the Army or Air Force theater at the established admission charge upon the dates contracted for by the AAFMPS as shown on the station notification form. No portion of a scheduled motion picture program may be shown to an audience at other than authorized performances. The program will consist only of such subjects as are scheduled by the AAFMPS. Nonentertainment motion pictures on such subjects as orientation, training, appeals for funds, appeals for attendance at an activity, appeals to support a cause, recruiting, or purely educational, will not be used in connection with regularly scheduled AAFMPS motion picture programs.

(2) The AAFMPS sound and projection equipment will be used only for approved performances of entertainment motion picture films scheduled by the AAFMPS, and for the exhibition of training films or educational films dealing with subjects applicable to the training of personnel.

(3) Films or slides advertising commercial products or services will not be used during paid performances of entertainment motion picture programs.

§ 555.5 Admission charges. The charges for admission will be 21 cents, plus Federal admissions tax, for adults, and 15 cents, plus Federal admissions tax, for children under 12 years of age. With reference to areas enumerated in § 555.1, the Federal admission tax is applicable only in the Continental United States and Alaska. The charges for admission at bases in Canada, Newfoundland, Bermuda and the Azores will be 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children under 12 years of age.

§ 555.6 Patronage eligibility. Admission to Army or Air Force theaters will be restricted as follows:

(a) Military personnel on active duty may attend any Army or Air Force theater. Military personnel when not in uniform will present appropriate identification. Reserve officers on duty for a period requiring assignment to quarters overnight may attend the Army or Air Force theater when so assigned.

(b) Members of the households of military personnel on active duty may attend Army or Air Force theaters located at the installations where they reside or to which the military personnel are assigned although not in the company of such military personnel, provided proper identification is presented. Proper identification will be presented at all times by members of the households of the military personnel, whether or not they are in the company of such military personnel.

(c) Members of the households of military personnel on active duty may attend Army or Air Force theaters located at installations other than that to which the military personnel are assigned, but only when in the company of such military personnel and provided proper identification is presented.

(d) Civilian employees of the Government and members of their households residing within the limits of Army or Air Force installations may attend theaters at the installation where they reside provided proper identification is presented.

(e) Civilian guests of military personnel may attend Army or Air Force theaters when in company of military personnel and provided proper written authorization is presented.

(f) The term "proper identification" as used in paragraphs (b), (c), and (d) of this section contemplates the use of an authenticated Identification Card for Patronage Eligibility for authorized civilians (AAFMPS Form 282b), or a properly authorized substitute identification card.

§ 555.7 Insurance. The AAFMPS will carry insurance and indemnity coverage consistent with sound business practice. The expenditure of AAFMPS funds is authorized for the payment of the employer's contribution to the cost of group insurance and retirement plans for civilian employees of the AAFMPS.

TITLE 32A—NATIONAL DEFENSE, APPENDIX

Chapter XI—Defense Electric Power Administration, Department of the Interior

[DEPA Order EO-1, as amended April 13, 1951]

EO-1—PLANT ADDITIONS: INFORMATION TO BE FILED

This order, as amended, is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the authority granted by the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this order, there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations.

This amendment affects DEPA Order EO-1 as follows: It amends the title; it amends Section 1; it amends Section 2 by adding the definitions of "critical materials" and "plant addition" and eliminating from the definition of "major plant addition" structures for which specific NPA authorization is required under NPA Order M-4; it amends Section 3 by adding the requirement that electric utilities file Form DEPA 3-S relating to steel, file Form DEPA-5 relating to heavy power equipment; submit additional information with Form DPA-2 for generating plant additions, and submit a detailed description of all conductor required in each major plant addition; it redesignates the present Section 4 as Section 5; it adds a new Section 4 which requires the filing of amendments to Forms DPA-2, DPA-3 and DEPA 3-S, and it adds List I. As amended, DEPA Order EO-1 reads as follows:

Sec.
1. What this order does.
2. Definitions.
3. Filing instructions.
4. Filing of amendments.
5. Communications.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 5 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong., E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

SECTION 1. What this order does. This order requires electric utilities to file certain information with DEPA. On the basis of this information, authorizations will be issued for the purchase of certain critical materials for major plant additions. This information, where applicable, will also be used in scheduling the manufacture of heavy power equipment.

SEC. 2. Definitions. As used in this order:

(a) "Electric utility" means any individual, partnership, association, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not, located in the United States, its territories, or possessions, supplying, or having facilities built for supplying, electric power, directly or indirectly for general use by the public or for use by its members. In the case of an electric utility engaged in the supply of electric power and in other activities, this order shall apply only to the procurement and use of materials required directly or indirectly for the supply of electric power.

(b) "Critical materials" means mill shapes and forms of aluminum, copper, copper-base alloys, iron and steel.

(c) "Net material cost" means the cost of all material, including any commodity, equipment, accessory, part, assembly, or product of any kind, incorporated in plant, less the cost of all material removed from plant, priced in accordance with the electric utility's regular accounting practice.

(d) "Plant addition" means the construction or installation of new facilities or the replacement of existing facilities with facilities of greater capacity. Single plant additions may not be combined or subdivided for purposes of affecting their classification as "major plant additions," as defined herein. To assist in determining whether particular construction constitutes one, or more than one, plant addition, it shall be considered that a single plant addition consists of:

(1) Any construction of related facilities, excluding maintenance and repair work, which is completed during a continuous period of construction, not interrupted by periods of time such as months or years, except where such interruption is caused by uncontrollable forces, such as adverse weather conditions.

(2) In the case of line construction, a single continuous integrated system of lines, with necessary connected substations. (Thus, several sections of line emanating from different points on a utility's system would be several plant additions, not one plant addition.)

(e) "Major plant addition" means any plant addition constructed by an electric utility which involves one or more of the following:

(1) Line construction designed for operation at more than 15 kv where the plant addition requires more than 10,000 pounds gross weight of conductor, or

(2) Line construction designed for operation at 15 kv or less where the plant addition has a net material cost exceeding $50,000, or

(3) Non-line construction, including but not limited to construction of or additions to generating plant, substations, or buildings, where the plant addition has a net material cost over $50,000, except that non-line construction shall not include construction for which specific NPA authorization is required under NPA Order M-4.

(f) "Gross weight of conductor" means, in the case of overhead lines, the weight of conductor as installed, including steel content in the case of conductor containing steel, without deduction for material salvaged; and in the case of underground lines the copper and aluminum content only, without deduction for material salvaged.

(g) "Line construction" means construction of both overhead and underground lines.

SEC. 3. Filing instructions. (a) Effective at once, electric utilities shall file:

(1) Form DPA-3, "Electric Utility Statement of Proposed Use of Aluminum, Copper and Copper-Base Alloy for a Construction Project," for each major plant addition which involves use or receipt of aluminum, copper or copper-base alloy on or after April 1, 1951.

(2) Form DEPA 3-S, "Electric Utility Statement of Required Shipments of Iron and Steel for a Construction Project," for each major plant addition which involves receipt of iron or steel in May or June 1951, or in any quarter thereafter.

(3) Form DPA-2, "Electric Utility Statement of a Current or Proposed Construction Project," for each major plant addition for which Form DPA-3 or DEPA 3-S is required above, or which involves installation of heavy power-producing equipment after April 1, 1951.

(4) Form DEPA-5, "Electric Utility Statement of Major Power Equipment Items Required for a Construction Project," for each plant addition, whether a major or a minor plant addition, for which an item in attached List I has been ordered.

(b) In filing Form DPA-2 covering generating plant additions, in connection with Section II of that form, there should be shown a detailed construction schedule and sufficient information as to the prospective load, capacity, margin of capacity over load, and other information necessary to justify the need for,

and the timing of, the proposed installation.

(c) In filing Form DPA–2 for any major plant addition for which Form DPA–2 has not previously been filed, each electric utility shall state, in Section III of Form DPA–2, an exact description of each kind of aluminum and copper conductor required. In the case of copper conductor, state gross weight of conductor, weight of copper content, number, size, and composition of strands, kind of insulation, and any special features; in the case of aluminum conductor steel reinforced, state gross weight, weight of aluminum content, code word, size and stranding.

(d) Filing of Forms DPA–2, DPA–3 and DEPA 3–S shall occur as soon as the project has taken specific form and, whenever practicable, at least four months prior to the earliest quarter in which receipt of critical material for the project is required. Form DEPA–5 shall be filed by April 30, 1951, covering List I items on order as of the effective date of this order. Form DEPA–5 shall be filed for List I items ordered subsequently as soon as such items are ordered.

SEC. 4. Filing of amendments. (a) Electric utilities which have filed Form DPA–2 for major plant additions involving generating plant additions without the data required in paragraph (b) of section 3 of this order shall file an amendment to the Form DPA–2 for each such major plant addition incorporating the required data. Such amendments shall be filed within 20 days of the effective date of this order as amended.

(b) If at any time the proposed schedule, scope, equipment, location or other important characteristic of any major plant addition for which a Form DPA–2 has been filed are changed materially for any reason whatsoever, the electric utility shall file an amendment to the Form DPA–2 for such plant addition describing the change in plans. Such amendment shall be filed as soon as the change in plans has taken specific form and only the changes need be indicated in such amendment.

(c) If at any time the critical material requirements for a major plant addition for which a Form DPA–3 or DEPA 3–S has been filed are changed either in quantity or time period, for any reason whatsoever, the electric utility shall file amended Forms DPA–3 and/or DEPA 3–S as appropriate, which shall supersede previous forms submitted and which shall show the complete critical materials requirements for the project as amended. Such amendment shall be filed as soon as the change in requirements is known.

(d) Amendments to Forms DEPA–5 should be filed whenever the information previously submitted on a Form DEPA–5 changes significantly.

SEC. 5. Communications. All communications concerning this order and requests for Forms DPA–2, DPA–3, DEPA 3–S, or DEPA–5 shall be addressed to the Defense Electric Power Administration, Department of the Interior, Washington 25, D. C.

KEN G. WHITAKER,
Acting Administrator,
Defense Electric Power Administration.

LIST I—HEAVY POWER EQUIPMENT ITEMS TO BE INCLUDED ON FORM DEPA-5

Item (a)	Definition (b)
Steam turbine a. c. generator sets	Steam propelled turbine generator sets.
Gas turbine a. c. generator sets	Designed for the generation of power.
Diesel engine a. c. generator sets	Designed for the generation of power.
Steam boilers	Steam boilers designed for the generation of power.
Steam condensers	Steam condensers of the surface, jet, or barometric type, inter and after condensers and steam jet air ejectors, or any combination thereof designed for use in the generation of power.
Transformers	Liquid filled and dry type transformers with a capacity of 501 kva. and larger designed for single phase and multiple phase operation above 15 kv.
Hydraulic turbines	Hydraulic and hydroelectric turbines and water wheels.
Hydraulic turbine generator sets	Hydraulic (water) turbine driven generator sets.
High voltage metal clad switchgear	Metal enclosed switchgear containing circuit breakers, over 15 kv.
Low voltage metal enclosed switchgear	Metal enclosed switchgear containing circuit breakers, 2.2 kv to 15 kv.
Circuit breakers	Circuit breakers of 2,200 volts or higher.

[CR 1]

CR 1—RESIDENTIAL CREDIT CONTROLS: POLICY AND PROCEDURE FOR PROCESSING AND APPROVAL OF EXCEPTIONS AND TERMS FOR AREAS AFFECTED BY SAVANNAH RIVER (S. C. AND GA.), PADUCAH (KY.), AND REACTOR TESTING STATION (IDAHO) INSTALLATIONS OF THE ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION

The policy and procedure statement, originally issued at 16 F. R. 2231–2232 (March 10, 1951) pursuant to Reorganization Plan No. 3 of 1947 (61 Stat. 954), sections 601 through 605 and section 704 of Public Law 774, 81st Cong. (64 Stat. 813, 814, 815, 816), sections 501, 502, and 902 of Executive Order 10161, September 9, 1950 (15 F. R. 6106), and the approval and authorization by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System immediately following that statement, is hereby amended to read as follows:

SECTION 1. Areas of Savannah River (S. C. and Ga.), Paducah (Ky.), and Reactor Testing Station (Idaho) Installations of Atomic Energy Commission. In the areas of the Savannah River, Paducah (Kentucky) and Idaho Reactor Testing Station installations of the Atomic Energy Commission the restrictions on residential real estate construction credit contained in Regulation X of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System and in the related regulations of the Federal Housing Commissioner and the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs have been relaxed to meet the need for housing accommodations to support the development and operation of the installations. The relaxation of these restrictions has been based on housing market field surveys. Exceptions from credit restrictions will be issued in accordance with area program schedules adopted from time to time by the Housing and Home Finance Agency. Such program schedules relate to the location of the housing within the area, the number and types of rental and sales units required, the levels of rentals or sales prices which must be achieved if the housing is to meet the needs of the persons employed or stationed at the installations for whom it is to be made available, and similar factors.

With respect to proposed housing so programmed by the Housing and Home Finance Administrator, real estate credit restrictions of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, the Federal Housing Commissioner, and the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs have been relaxed to the extent announced by such Board and agencies, respectively, subject to such conditions and requirements as are found necessary by the Housing and Home Finance Administrator to assure that the proposed housing will serve the purpose for which the credit restrictions were relaxed.

With respect to housing programmed for rent in accordance with this procedure, the relaxed credit restrictions will be made available only upon the approval by the Housing and Home Finance Administrator of an application submitted to the local field office of the Housing and Home Finance Agency on a form prescribed by the Administrator. This application must be submitted by the persons proposing to construct the housing, and will be approved only if the housing is found by the Administrator to be within reasonable commuting distance of the above Atomic Energy Commission installations. Such person and his successors in interest must agree to such conditions and requirements as are prescribed in the application form and in appropriate regulations or procedures of the Housing and Home Finance Administrator. These conditions and requirements are for the purpose of assuring that the housing will be so built, rented, and occupied as to meet most effectively the housing needs of persons engaged in national defense activities and to best support the development and the operations of the above Atomic Energy Commission installations.

With respect to housing programmed for sale in accordance with the proposed procedure, such housing may be sold for the purchaser's own occupancy or built for the owner-occupant only if the prospective purchaser or owner-occupant has been issued a certificate from the Atomic Energy Commission indicating his eligibility as a person engaged or to be engaged in national defense activities.

APRIL 10, 1951.

RAYMOND M. FOLEY,
Housing and Home Finance Administrator.

The Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System hereby approves, for application in the areas of the Savannah River, Paducah (Kentucky) and Idaho Reactor Testing Station installations of the Atomic Energy Commission, the policy and procedure described above and, for the purpose of making the policy and procedure applicable to residential real estate construction credit subject to Regulation X, authorizes the Housing and Home Finance Administrator or his designee to take such administrative action as he determines to be appropriate in carrying out such policy and procedure, including the issuance of specific forms, applications, and regulations.

HOUSING BUILT OR SOLD FOR OWNER-OCCUPANCY

12. Certificates of eligibility for financing, pursuant to relaxed credit terms, of owner-occupied housing for Atomic Energy Commission employees.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 12 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply Title VI, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Secs. 501, 502, 902, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.

GENERAL

SECTION 1. Statement of purpose. In order to reduce serious inflationary pressures and to limit residential construction to a level which can be met with the materials and labor available in the light of national defense requirements, restrictions on residential real estate credit (applicable where construction was started after noon of August 3, 1950) have been imposed, with the concurrence of the Housing and Home Finance Administrator, by Regulation X (Chapter XV of this title) issued by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (hereinafter called the "Board"). Related credit restrictions (applicable to both new and old residential property) are contained in regulations of the Federal Housing Commissioner and the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs. Actions restricting residential credit were taken under the authority of Title VI of the Defense Production Act of 1950, approved September 8, 1950, and of Executive Order 10161, issued September 9, 1950. The Housing and Home Finance Administrator has made surveys with respect to the housing needs within the areas affected by the Savannah River, Paducah (Kentucky), and Idaho Reactor Testing Station installations of the Atomic Energy Commission and has designated such areas, with the concurrence of the Board and in accordance with section 6 (p) of said Regulation X (Chapter XV of this title), as areas for prescribing relaxed credit terms in order to help provide the housing needed to support the development and operation of the three installations. Residential credit controls in the three areas will continue to be administered by the Board with respect to real estate construction credit which is subject to said Regulation X and by the Federal Housing Administration and the Veterans' Administration, respectively, with respect to residential real estate credit assisted under the programs of those two agencies. Accordingly, relaxed or modified credit terms applicable in the Savannah River, Paducah, and Idaho Reactor Testing Station areas are being announced by those agencies for their respective spheres of administrative responsibility.

It is the purpose of this Regulation CR 2, issued by the Housing and Home Finance Agency, to prescribe uniform conditions and procedures under which such relaxed credit terms will be made available in order to assure that the housing financed under the relaxed credit terms announced by the Board, the Federal Housing Administration and the Veterans' Administration will meet the needs of the persons employed or stationed at the three installations.

SEC. 2. What this regulation does. This regulation prescribes, among other things, who may apply for an exception from residential credit restrictions in the areas of the Savannah River, Paducah, and Idaho Reactor Testing Station installations of the Atomic Energy Commission; the type of housing eligible; where and how to apply; the basis on which applications will be approved; the rules which applicants and their successors in interest must abide by with respect to holding and offering certain housing for rent to persons engaged in national defense activities and with respect to rents which may be charged; and the manner in which eligibility will be determined for the occupancy or purchase of housing for which credit restrictions have been relaxed.

SEC. 3. Geographical areas affected. The special exceptions from residential credit restrictions for areas affected by the Savannah River, Paducah, and Idaho Reactor Testing Station installations of the Atomic Energy Commission are authorized only for housing which is within reasonable commuting distance from such installations. In the case of housing which is to be held for rent and for which application for exceptions from credit restrictions is made under sections 6 through 11 of this regulation, the Housing and Home Finance Administrator or his designee will determine whether the housing is within reasonable commuting distance. In the case of housing the construction or sale of which is financed in accordance with an exception under section 12 of this regulation, such determination will be made by the Atomic Energy Commission or its designee on the basis of standards concurred in by the Housing and Home Finance Administrator.

SEC. 4. Type of housing eligible; definition of family dwelling. The special exceptions from residential credit restrictions for areas affected by the Savannah River, Paducah, and Idaho Reactor Testing Station installations of the Atomic Energy Commission are authorized only for family dwellings which are suitable and intended for year-round occupancy. A family dwelling, for purposes of this regulation, means a house or apartment designed for residential occupany by two or more persons and which contains kitchen facilities or space designed for kitchen facilities. It does not include hotels, motels, rooming houses, club houses, fraternity or sorority houses, dormitories, or any other structure designed or used either for transient accommodations or for occupancy by single persons or by non-family groups. Only real property containing a single-family or two-family structure may be financed pursuant to the exceptions governing sales housing referred to in section 12 of this regulation. Housing to be held for rent, and to be financed pursuant to the exceptions governing rental housing set out in sections 6 through 11 of this regulation, may consist of a single-family home or single-family homes (whether detached, semi-detached, or row houses), two- to four-family structures, or other multi-family structures.

SEC. 5. Programming by HHFA. As explained in Housing and Home Finance Agency CR 1, relaxations of residential real estate credit restrictions for areas affected by the Savannah River, Paducah, and Idaho Reactor Testing Station installations of the Atomic Energy Commission were based on housing market field surveys by the HHFA, and exceptions from credit restrictions will be approved in accordance with schedules of need determined by the HHFA. These program schedules relate to the location of the housing, the number and types of rental and sales units required, the levels of rentals or sales prices which must be achieved if the housing is to meet the needs of the persons employed or stationed at the Atomic Energy Commission installations, and similar factors. Accordingly, exceptions from credit restrictions will be approved on a selective basis pursuant to the procedures, standards, and conditions set out below.

HOUSING TO BE HELD FOR RENT

SEC. 6. Who may apply for exception from credit restrictions. With respect to housing programmed by the Housing and Home Finance Administrator for rental occupancy, application for a special defense exception from residential credit restrictions may be made only by a person (including a corporation, partnership, trust, or other legal entity) who is the owner of, or otherwise has effective control over, the land on which there is proposed to be erected a new family dwelling or dwellings which will be held for rental to eligible occupants as defined below. Effective control over the land, for the purposes of this section, includes holding ownership in fee simple, a firm contract to purchase, an option to purchase which may be exercised at the will of the applicant, or a long-term lease for a term of not less than 50 years.

SEC. 7. Where and how to apply. Application for an exception from credit restrictions with respect to housing to be held for rental should be made to the appropriate local office of the Housing and Home Finance Administrator at Aiken, South Carolina, Paducah, Kentucky, or Idaho Falls, Idaho, on HHFA Form No. H–1051. A separate application should be made for each property or parcel which is intended to be financed separately when construction is completed. An original and three copies of the application form must be submitted for each application. Only the original need be signed. Each application must be accompanied by a letter from a lending institution or other lender stating that such lender intends, if the application is approved, to provide the financing for the residential property, including the proposed improvements, described in the application. Only the original letter or one certified copy need be submitted. If the application is approved, two copies of the application form will be returned to the applicant endorsed to indicate that an exception from the credit restrictions has been approved. One of these copies must be submitted to the lending institution or other lender making the loan. Such lender need not necessarily be the lending institution or proposed lender which furnished the letter which was required to accompany the application. The applicant will also be notified if the application is rejected.

SEC. 8. Standards for approving application. As among applications otherwise eligible for approval under the terms of this regulation, applications made under sections 6 through 11 will be approved for dwelling units within a total number consistent with program schedules adopted from time to time by the Housing and Home Finance Administrator pursuant to the surveys and procedures referred to in section 5 above on the basis of achieving a maximum contribution toward filling the needs for rental housing of persons employed or stationed at the Atomic Energy Commission installation which the proposed housing is intended to serve. For this purpose, the Housing and Home Finance Administrator or his designee may consider the size of units in terms of the number of rooms and bedrooms proposed to be provided, the rentals proposed to be charged, the distance between the proposed housing and the Atomic Energy Commission installation, the desirability of the site of the housing in terms of transportation, commercial and community facilities, street improvements and utilities, similar relevant factors, and the order in which applications are filed.

SEC. 9. Beginning of construction; time limit and definition. When an application for an exception from credit restrictions is approved under sections 6 through 11 of this regulation, construction of the housing described in the application should be begun not later than sixty calendar days after the date of the approval, and should be continued with reasonable diligence thereafter. Unless construction is begun within such sixty-day period and is so continued, the approval automatically expires and becomes null and void. For the purposes of said sections 6 through 11, construction shall be deemed to be begun when any essential materials which are to be an integral part of the structure have been affixed to or incorporated on the site in a permanent form.

SEC. 10. Rules and conditions applicable. (a) In the event that an application for an exception from credit restrictions is approved pursuant to sections 6 through 11, the applicant is hereby required, for a period of five years after the completion of the housing, to:

(1) Notify the Housing and Home Finance Agency in writing (i) when the construction of the dwelling unit or units described in the application is begun, and (ii) when any such dwelling unit is completed;

(2) Notify the Atomic Energy Commission installation which the housing is intended to serve, in writing, (i) when any such dwelling unit is completed and (ii) whenever any such dwelling unit is vacated by its occupant;

(3) Publicly offer any such dwelling unit for rent, for a period of at least thirty calendar days after the Atomic Energy Commission has been given any notification with respect to such unit required by subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, to such persons, and only to such persons, as are certified by the Atomic Energy Commission to be eligible to rent such unit, unless the unit has already been rented to such a person;

(4) Charge not more than the rent or rents specified in the application;

(5) Hold the dwelling unit or units for rent unless (i) the property is being sold to a purchaser for investment purposes rather than for his own occupancy, or (ii) prior permission to sell is granted in writing by the Housing and Home Finance Agency, or (iii) a period of at least sixty calendar days has elapsed after the Atomic Energy Commission has been given any notification required by subparagraph (2) of this paragraph and the Commission has failed to certify a person who is willing to rent and public offering has not produced a tenant; and

(6) Require that the purchaser, if the property is sold pursuant to subdivision (i) of subparagraph (5) of this paragraph, agree in writing to abide by all the provisions and conditions set forth in this regulation, including this paragraph, which shall be applicable to all successive sales pursuant to said subdivision (i) of subparagraph (5) of this paragraph made by the first and all successive purchasers for investment purposes.

For the purposes of this section, a dwelling shall be deemed to be completed when, in conformity with general practice in the community, it is ready for occupancy.

The written notifications required to be given by subparagraph (2) of this paragraph shall be deemed to be given as of the date when they are received by the Atomic Energy Commission or, if mailed, as of the date they are postmarked.

(b) No purchaser of property for investment purposes (pursuant to paragraph (a) (5) (i) of this section) shall occupy a dwelling unit in such property unless it contains two or more family dwelling units and such purchaser has himself been certified by the Atomic Energy Commission as eligible for occupancy of a dwelling pursuant to section 11 or unless such occupancy is pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section.

(c) Notwithstanding any provision of this section, if a parcel of real property contains five or more family dwelling units required to be held for rent under sections 6 through 11 of this regulation, the owner of said parcel, or a person actually employed as a resident manager or janitor of said dwelling units, may occupy one of such units. Two such units may be occupied by such owners, resident managers, or janitors if the property required to be held for rent pursuant to said sections contains not less than 20 family dwelling units, and an additional unit may be so occupied for every additional 30 family dwelling units above 20.

(d) Sales in the course of judicial or statutory proceedings in connection with foreclosures are not subject to the provisions of this section.

SEC. 11. Certification by Atomic Energy Commission of persons eligible for occupancy. The Atomic Energy Commission, or any officer or employee of said Commission designated by it, (hereinafter collectively referred to as the "Commission") is hereby authorized to certify (by the issuance of appropriate certificates of tenancy eligibility) persons who shall be eligible to rent housing for which an exception from credit restrictions has been approved by the Housing and Home Finance Agency pursuant to sections 6 through 11 of this regulation. Such certifications of tenancy eligibility shall be granted only to persons (including, for purposes of said sections 6 through 11, Atomic Energy Commission contractors on behalf of such persons) whom the Commission determines to be essential, in-migrant personnel employed or to be employed by the Atomic Energy Commisson or its contractors (or stationed at an installation of said Commission) and who are in need of family dwellings. The Commission is authorized to prescribe such further requirements for, or conditions to, the issuance of certificates of tenancy eligibility (including conditions governing the expiration or cancellation of such certificates) as it shall determine to be reasonable and in the interest of national defense.

HOUSING BUILT OR SOLD FOR OWNER-OCCUPANCY

SEC. 12. Certificates of eligibility for financing, pursuant to relaxed credit terms, of owner-occupied housing for Atomic Energy Commission employees. (a) The Atomic Energy Commission or any officer or employee of the Commission designated by it (herein collectively referred to as the "Commission") is hereby authorized to certify (by the issuance of appropriate certificates of ownership eligibility) persons who shall be eligible to finance the construction or purchase of family dwellings, for their own occupancy, under relaxed residential credit terms announced for the Savannah River, Paducah, and Idaho Reactor Testing Station areas by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, the Federal Housing Commissioner and the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs. Such certificates of ownership eligibility shall be issued only for one- and two-family dwelling properties (whether existing or to be built) determined by the Commission to be within reasonable commuting distance of its installations and shall be issued in accordance with program schedules for sales type houses prescribed by the Housing and Home Finance Administrator from time to time on the basis of the surveys and procedures referred to in section 5 of this regulation. Such certificates shall be granted by the Commission only to persons whom the Commission determines to be essential, in-migrant personnel employed (or to be employed) in permanent positions by the Commission or its contractors; to be in need of family dwellings; and to have declared their intention to occupy at least one family dwelling unit in the property, the construction or purchase of which is financed pursuant to such a certificate of ownership eligibility.

(b) The Commission is authorized to prescribe such further requirements for, or conditions to, the issuance of certificates of ownership eligibility (including conditions governing the expiration or cancellation of such certificates) as it shall determine to be reasonable and in the interest of national defense.

(c) A lending institution or other lender which makes a loan under relaxed residential credit terms pursuant to an exception granted under this section 12 shall obtain from the borrower the certificate of ownership eligibility issued to such borrower by the Atomic Energy Commission.

This regulation, as herein amended, is effective as of the 14th day of April 1951.

RAYMOND M. FOLEY,
Housing and Home Finance Administrator.

TITLE 47—TELECOMMUNICATION

Chapter I—Federal Communications Commission

[Docket No. 9934]

PART 13—COMMERCIAL RADIO OPERATORS

TEMPORARY LIMITED RADIOTELEGRAPH SECOND CLASS OPERATOR LICENSE

In the matter of amendment of Part 13 of the Commission's rules to establish and provide for a class of operator license designated "Temporary Limited Radiotelegraph Second Class Operator License."

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held in its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 4th day of April 1951;

The Commission having under consideration a proposal to amend Part 13 of its rules to establish on a temporary basis, for the duration of the emergency proclaimed by the President on December 16, 1950, to exist, or until further order of the Commission, whichever is sooner, a class of operator license designated "Temporary Limited Radiotelegraph Second Class Operator License", in addition to the classes of licenses specified in § 13.2 of the rules and regulations, which will authorize the holder thereof to operate certain licensed radio equipment aboard ships only;

It appearing, that a notice of proposed rule making setting forth* the above amendments was adopted by the Commission on March 21, 1951, released March 26, 1951, and was duly published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, which notice provided that interested parties might file statements or briefs with respect to the said amendments on or before April 16, 1951, but that since the date such notice was issued information has come to the Commission's attention concerning a serious existing shortage of available licensed commercial radio operators to operate licensed radiotelegraph equipment aboard ships which necessitates immediate action by the Commission.

It further appearing, that it would be in the public interest to provide for the issuance of a Temporary Limited Radiotelegraph Second Class Operator License to eligible persons found qualified in the manner hereinafter set forth;

It further appearing, that in view of the urgent need for immediate action in this matter caused by the present national emergency, compliance with the public notice and procedure provided for in section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act is impracticable and contrary to the public interest;

It further appearing, that authority for the amendment of § 13.2 and other sections of Part 13 of the Commission's rules as appropriate is contained in sections 4 (i) and 303 (l) and (r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended;

It is ordered, That, the notice of proposed rule making adopted by the Commission on March 21, 1951, and released on March 26, 1951, setting forth the above amendments is hereby withdrawn and cancelled;

It is further ordered, That, effective immediately, and for the duration of the present emergency proclaimed by the President on December 16, 1950, or until further order of the Commission, whichever is sooner, there is hereby established a class of operator license designated "Temporary Limited Radiotelegraph Second-Class Operator License" in addition to the classes of licenses specified in § 13.2 of the Commission's rules which will authorize the holder thereof to operate certain licensed radio equipment installed aboard ships only.

It is further ordered, That a Temporary Limited Radiotelegraph Second-Class Operator License may be issued, upon written application, to any eligible person who has on or after January 1, 1950, held, but is not a present holder of, a radiotelegraph first-class, radiotelegraph second-class, or temporary limited radiotelegraph second-class (obtained after examination), operator license, which was valid and outstanding on its date of expiration, and who, upon examination pursuant to his application, shows his ability to transmit and receive spoken messages in English and successfully passes the Commission's code test at a speed of not less than sixteen (16) code groups per minute.

It is further ordered, That effective immediately, Part 13 of the Commission's rules be and it hereby is amended as shown below.

(Sec. 4, 48 Stat. 1066, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 154. Interprets or applies sec. 303, 48 Stat. 1082, as amended; 470 U. S. C. 303)

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
[SEAL] T. J. SLOWIE,
Secretary.

Adopted: April 4, 1951.

Released: April 5, 1951.

1. Section 13.2 (a) (1) is amended by adding the following new subdivision and footnote:

(iii) Temporary limited radiotelegraph second-class operator license.*

* For limitation as to persons eligible to apply for this class of license, see § 13.5 (d).

2. Section 13.3 is amended to include at the end thereof the following new proviso: "Provided, however, That a person may at the same time hold both a temporary limited radiotelegraph second-class operator license and either a radiotelegraph third-class operator permit or a restricted radiotelegraph operator permit."

3. Section 13.5 is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new paragraph:

(d) Even though otherwise eligible to apply for an operator license, no person shall be eligible to apply for a temporary limited radiotelegraph second-class operator license except a person who, on or after January 1, 1940, held, but at the time of filing application does not hold, a radiotelegraph first-class, radio-telegraph second-class, or temporary limited radiotelegraph second-class (issued after examination), operator license which was valid and outstanding on its date of expiration.

4. Section 13.22 is amended by renumbering paragraphs (d) through (g) as (e) through (h), respectively, and by adding the following new paragraph (d):

(d) Temporary limited radiotelegraph second-class operator license:

(1) Ability to transmit and receive spoken messages in English.

(2) Transmitting and receiving code test of sixteen (16) code groups per minute.

5. Section 13.25 is amended to include the following new sentence at the end thereof: "In addition, no person holding a temporary limited radiotelegraph second-class operator license will, by the holding of such license, be relieved of qualifying by examination when applying for any other class of license for which examination on any subject matter is required."

6. Section 13.61 is amended by renumbering paragraphs (c) through (g) as (d) through (h), respectively, and by adding the following new paragraph (c):

(c) Temporary limited radiotelegraph second-class operator license. Any ship station or ship radar station, subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(1) On a passenger vessel required by treaty or statute to maintain a continuous radio watch by operators or on a vessel having continuous hours of service for public correspondence, the holder of this class of license may not act as chief operator.

(2) On a vessel (other than a vessel operated exclusively on the Great Lakes) required by treaty or statute to be equipped with a radiotelegraph installation, the holder of this class of license may not act as chief or sole operator until he has had at least 6 months' satisfactory service in the aggregate as a qualified radiotelegraph operator in a station on board a ship or ships of the United States.

(3) At a ship radar station licensed in the Ship Service, the holder of this class of license may not supervise or be responsible for the performance of any adjustments or tests during or coincident with the installation, servicing or maintenance of the radar equipment while it is radiating energy unless he has satisfactorily completed a supplementary examination (with the passing grade normally required) qualifying him for that duty and received a ship radar endorsement on his license certifying to that fact: Provided, That nothing in this subparagraph shall be construed to prevent persons holding licenses not so endorsed from making replacements of fuses or of receiving-type tubes. The supplementary examination shall consist of:

(i) Written examination element: 8.

7. Section 13.62 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) The holder of any class of commercial radio operator license except temporary limited radiotelegraph second-class operator license may operate any station in the experimental service while using frequencies solely above 300 megacycles.

PART 13—COMMERCIAL RADIO OPERATORS

RENEWAL REQUIREMENTS

In the matter of amendment of § 13.28 of the Commission's rules and waiver of the existing renewal requirements to permit renewal of commercial radio operator licenses without prior service and written examination.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held in its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 4th day of April 1951;

The Commission having under consideration a proposal to amend § 13.28 of its rules governing commercial radio operators which requires, in part, prior service as a radio operator and in some instances also a limited examination for renewal of radio operator licenses of certain classes;

It appearing, that a notice of proposed rule making setting forth the above amendment was adopted by the Commission on March 21, 1951, released March 26, 1951, and was duly published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, which notice provided that interested parties might file statements or briefs with respect to the said amendment on or before April 16, 1951, but that since the date such notice was issued information has come to the Commission's attention concerning a serious existing shortage of available licensed commercial radio operators to operate licensed radio-telegraph equipment aboard ships which necessitates immediate action by the Commission;

It further appearing, that, in addition to the immediate shortage of operators available for sea service, many commercial radio operators are not able to comply with such requirements because they either are actively serving or entering into active service in the various branches of the armed services of the United States, or are serving temporarily in various civilian activities in connection with the present emergency other than as radio operators;

It further appearing, that it would be in the public interest to waive the normal requirement of prior service as a radio operator and of examination for renewal of commercial radio operator licenses, and to amend § 13.28 of the rules by the addition of a footnote in which the conditions of such waiver are stated;

It further appearing, that in view of the urgent need for action in this matter caused by the national emergency, proclaimed by the President on December 16, 1950, to exist, compliance with the public notice and procedure provided for in section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act is impracticable and contrary to the public interest;

It further appearing, that authority for the aforesaid waiver and amendment of rules is contained in sections 4 (i) and 303 (l) and (r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended;

It is ordered, That, the notice of proposed rule making adopted by the Commission on March 21, 1951, and released March 26, 1951, setting forth the above amendments is hereby withdrawn and cancelled.

It is further ordered, That effective immediately, § 13.28 of the Commission's rules governing commercial radio operators in so far as it requires prior service as a radio operator or examination for renewal of commercial radio operator licenses which expired beginning July 1, 1950, be and it hereby is waived until further order of the Commission.

It is further ordered, That, effective immediately, § 13.28 of the Commission's rules be and it hereby is amended by the addition of the following footnote:

[1] By order dated and effective April 4, 1951, the Commission temporarily waived the requirement of prior service as a radio operator or examination for renewal in the case of any applicant for renewal of his commercial radio operator license. This order is applicable to commercial radio operator licenses which expired after June 30, 1950 until further order of the Commission.

(Sec. 4, 48 Stat. 1066, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 154. Interprets or applies sec. 303, 48 Stat. 1082, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 303)

Adopted: April 4, 1951.

Released: April 5, 1951.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Production and Marketing Administration

[7 CFR, Part 946]

HANDLING OF MILK IN LOUISVILLE, KY., MARKETING AREA

NOTICE OF RECOMMENDED DECISION AND OPPORTUNITY TO FILE WRITTEN EXCEPTIONS THERETO WITH RESPECT TO A PROPOSED MARKETING AGREEMENT AND A PROPOSED ORDER AMENDING THE ORDER, AS AMENDED

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), notice is hereby given of the filing with the Hearing Clerk of this recommended decision of the Assistant Administrator, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, with respect to a proposed marketing agreement and a proposed order amending the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Louisville, Kentucky, marketing area.

Interested parties may file written exceptions to this recommended decision with the Hearing Clerk, Room 1353, South Building, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than the close of business on the 3d day after the publication of this recommended decision in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Exceptions should be filed in quadruplicate.

Preliminary statement. Public hearings, on the record of which the proposed marketing agreement and the proposed order amending the order, as amended, were called by the Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, following receipt of petitions filed by the Falls Cities Cooperative Milk Producers' Association, Inc., Louisville, Kentucky. Additional proposals were submitted by Louisville Milk Dealers' Association, Ideal Pure Milk Company, Inc., and Dairy Branch, Production and Marketing Administration. The public hearings were conducted at Louisville, Kentucky on December 18-21, 1950 and on March 9 and 14, 1951 pursuant to notices duly published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (15 F. R. 8827 and 16 F. R. 2041, respectively).

The material issues presented on the record of the hearings were whether:

1. The level of Class I prices should be revised.

2. Deductions for the fall production incentive payment plan should be increased and the method of distributing payments should be revised.

3. An emergency exists which warrants immediate effectuation of the proposed amendments to the provisions relating to classification pricing and payments.

4. The order should be amended to provide for a definition of "pool plant" which is based on the extent to which the operations of such plants are associated with the marketing area, and which would include all portions of such plants used during the month in the processing of producer milk.

5. The definition of "producer" should be amended to clearly define the regular source of supply of graded milk for the market.

6. Provisions applicable to the procedure for determining plant shrinkage and the classification thereof should be amended.

7. Language of the order should be clarified with respect to responsibility of handlers in determining the classification and reclassification of skim milk and butterfat.

8. Class I and Class II milk should be included in one class.

9. The order should be clarified with respect to the classification of milk which was received from producers and transferred to other plants.

10. The level of the basic formula price should be revised.

11. The level of prices for Class III should be revised.

12. The Class I butterfat differential should be reduced.

13. Prices charged handlers for Class I milk and uniform prices to be paid producers for milk received at pool plants located 50 miles or more from Louisville should be adjusted by a location differential.

14. Other administrative changes should be made.

Findings and conclusions. The following findings and conclusions on issues Nos. 1 through 3 are based upon the evidence introduced at the hearings and the record thereof. Findings and conclusions relating to issues Nos. 4 through 14 will be included in a separate decision which will be issued at a later date.

(1) The price for Class I milk should be the basic formula price plus $1.25 per hundredweight, which represents an average annual increase of 8⅓ cents. This $1.25 differential is the same as the order currently provides for the months of September through March and compares with $1.05 now provided in the order for the months of April through August.

Since November 1950, when 2178 producers were shipping, the number delivering to the Louisville market has been declining rapidly. A total of 151 producers discontinued shipments during the months of December 1950 and January and February 1951 while 41 producers commenced shipping, making a net loss of 110 producers to the market. In addition 14 producers had discontinued shipments during the first 14 days of March.

The 2063 producers shipping in February 1951 compares to 2078 for February 1950. This was the first time since May 1946 that the number of producers delivering to the market was less than for the same month of the preceding year.

The average daily producer shipment during February 1951 was 295 pounds compared to 308 pounds in February 1950. This continues the trend which began with the month of December 1950, when for the first time in recent years the average daily shipment per producer was less than for the same month of the preceding year. The average daily producer shipment during January 1951 of 274 pounds was 7 pounds less than for January 1950, and the decline from December 1949 to December 1950 was from 267 to 257 pounds daily.

While the supply of graded milk for the Louisville market has been declining by reason of the decrease in the number of producers supplying the market and by the decrease in the shipments from producers, the demand for graded milk in the market has been increasing markedly. In February 1951 sales of Class I milk were 11 percent above sales for February 1950, for January 1951 the corresponding increase was 9 percent, and for the year 1950 the increased Class I sales were 5 percent over 1949.

Increased employment and employment opportunities in the Louisville area have contributed both to the increased demand for milk in the market and toward the decreased supply. Dairy farmers have experienced difficulty in obtaining farm labor because of the competition of nearby factories within commuting distance of the areas wherein the dairy farmers supplying the market are located. Out of approximately 7500 people who were registered with the Louisville office of the U. S. Employment Service on March 1, 1951, as being available for employment, approximately one percent were available for farm employment. Of this one percent only a few had any experience working on dairy farms and even fewer were interested in accepting such employment.

In the Louisville metropolitan area, approximately 210,000 people were employed in February 1951 as compared with the peak of 230,000 reached during World War II. A significant surge in employment manifested itself during the past year, having risen 24,000 or 13 percent since February 1950. The potential labor market includes, in addition to those currently employed, 20,000 people most of whom would be available only on a part time basis. The current situation is not conducive toward obtaining farm labor and should make it increasingly more difficult to keep from losing farm help to defense plants and factories in the area.

The Cincinnati and Louisville milksheds overlap and this requires that class prices for fluid milk under each of these Federal orders be at approximately the same levels. The average annual differential under the Cincinnati order is $1.25 over the basic formula which is the same as is herein proposed for Louisville.

Maintaining the differential for Class I milk at $1.25 over the basic formula price for the months of April, May, and June would result in this differential being maintained at the same level as prevailed for the preceding months of September through March. The 20 cents decline which had heretofore taken place as of April 1 would be avoided. However, the 20 cents by which the differential would be increased would not provide an incentive for unneeded production in the spring months but would be used principally to provide an additional incentive for fall production by using the increased payments from handlers during the spring months to increase the payments to producers for fall production under the fall incentive plan.

(2) The fall production incentive plan should be revised to provide for a deduction per hundredweight of milk of 12 percent of the average basic formula price for the preceding calendar year. This rate of deduction should apply to May, June, and July deliveries in 1951 and April, May, June, and July deliveries for each year thereafter, and one-fourth of the moneys so accumulated should be paid to producers for deliveries during each of the months of September, October, November, and December.

As now provided in the order, the rate per hundredweight to be set aside from payments made by handlers for milk received from producers during the months of April, May, and June is 8 percent of the average basic formula price for the preceding calendar year. The fund thus accumulated is distributed to producers as an additional payment for milk delivered to the Louisville market during the months of September, October, and November.

The average basic formula price for the year 1950 was $3.286 per hundredweight. Without change in the order the 8 percent rate of deduction would result in a 26 cents spring take-out. Increasing the rate to 12 percent of the basic formula price as proposed would result in an amount withheld per hundredweight of 39 cents. The proposed increase in the deduction would approximate the increase of the Class I differential from $1.05 to $1.25 as proposed above.

There were various proposals made with regard to the months to which the take-out and pay-back provisions of the fall incentive plan should apply. Proponents' suggestion of including in the take-out period the month of July, which at times is associated with the flush production months in the Louisville market, will contribute toward increasing payments to producers through the fall incentive plan and tend to insure during the months of short production an adequate supply of milk. In increasing the number of months in the take-out to four months it is appropriate that the pay-back period be extended through December to include the same number of months. Average daily producer deliveries in December have been less than in other take-out months except November, and during the past year were even less than in November.

The increased moneys set aside during the take-out months for fall incentive payments will result in correspondingly larger payments to producers for milk delivered to the market in September, October, November, and December; and this will accentuate the seasonality of uniform prices returned to producers. As indicated above, the prices currently provided in the order have not improved the seasonality of production sufficiently to provide the market with enough milk in the fall months.

At the hearing handlers proposed that payments made to producers through the fall incentive plan be included in the regular payment made by handlers to producers for milk deliveries during the pay-back months instead of being made as separate payments to producers by the market administrator and the cooperative association. The same proposal had been considered at a hearing held in Louisville April 21–24, 1947, and the decision resulting from this hearing dated October 2, 1947 (12 F. R. 6504) denied the proposal. No additional evidence was submitted on this record to support the proposal and the request of the handlers in this matter is therefore denied.

Farmers must have reasonable notice in order to be able to plan for improving the seasonality of their production. To obtain an adequate supply of milk in the fall months for the Louisville market, assurance of improved price for fall deliveries must be given farmers now. The proposed amendment provides the funds necessary to insure an adequate supply of milk when it is most needed in the market for fluid use.

(3) Emergency requiring effectuation of the findings and conclusions set forth above without allowing time for a recommended decision and the filing of exceptions thereto does not exist.

Proponents contended at the hearing that an emergency exists which warrants immediate effectuation of the proposed amendments to the provisions relating to classification, pricing and payments. Evidence in the record is insufficient to warrant elimination of the opportunity to file written exceptions to the recommendations contained herein, but the time for filing such exceptions should be held to a minimum.

Rulings on proposed findings and conclusions. Briefs were filed on behalf of producers and handlers who would be subject to the proposed marketing agreement and order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended. The briefs contained suggested findings of fact, conclusions, and arguments with respect to the proposals discussed at the hearing. Every point covered in the briefs was carefully considered along with evidence in the record in making the findings and reaching the conclusions hereinbefore set forth. To the extent that the suggested findings and conclusions contained in the briefs are inconsistent with the findings and conclusions contained herein, the requests to make such findings or to reach such conclusions are denied on the basis of the facts found and stated in connection with the findings and conclusions in this recommended decision.

General findings. (a) The proposed marketing agreement and the proposed order, amending the order, as amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(b) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supply of and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the proposed marketing agreement and the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(c) The proposed order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, will regulate the handling of milk in the same manner as, and will be applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Recommended marketing agreement and order amending the order, as amended. The following order amending the order, as amended, is recommended as the detailed and appropriate means by which the foregoing conclusions may be carried out. The marketing agreement is not included in this recommended decision because the regulatory provisions thereof would be identical with those contained in the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended.

1. Delete § 946.4 (b) (1) and substitute therefor the following:

(1) Class I Milk. The price for Class I milk shall be the basic formula price plus $1.25.

2. Delete § 946.7 (b) (3) and substitute therefor the following:

(3) Subtract for each of the delivery periods of April, May, June, and July an amount computed by multiplying the total hundredweight of milk received from producers by handlers whose milk plants are included under subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, by 12 percent of the average of the announced basic formula prices, computed to the nearest cent, for the twelve months of the preceding calendar year.

3. Amend § 946.8 (d) (2) by replacing the words "September, October, and November" and "September, October, or November" in such subparagraph by the words "September, October, November, and December" and "September, October, November, or December" respectively.

Filed at Washington, D. C., this 11th day of April 1951.

Assistant Administrator.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

[47 CFR, Part 1]

[Docket No. 9937]

APPLICATIONS FOR TEMPORARY PERMISSION TO OPERATE STANDARD AND FM BROADCAST STATIONS WITH LICENSED OPERATORS OF LESSER GRADE THAN NORMAL

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

In the matter of amendment of Part 1 of the Commission's rules and regulations to add new § 1.334.

1. Notice is hereby given of proposed rule making in the above-entitled matter.

2. The Commission proposes to amend Part 1 of its rules and regulations by adding § 1.334 which will prescribe the procedure to the followed and information required to be submitted to the Commission by licensees of Standard and FM broadcast stations when applying for permission to operate such stations with operators holding lesser grades of licenses than required by the Commission's rules. This rule will codify the requirements which have been established by the Commission as a result of examining such requests. The publication of these requirements will clarify for licensees the steps that must be taken before the Commission will grant relief in cases of hardship of this nature and thus, facilitate the handling of such requests. The text of proposed § 1.334 is set forth below.

3. Authority to issue the proposed rule is vested in the Commission pursuant to the provisions of sections 4 (i), 5 (e), 303 (l), and 303 (r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

4. Any interested person who is of the opinion that the proposed amendments should not be adopted, or should not be adopted in the form set forth herein, may file with the Commission, on or before May 4, 1951, written data, views, or arguments concerning said proposals. At the same time, any person who favors the rules as set forth may file a statement in support thereof. Comments or briefs in reply to the original comments or briefs may be filed within 15 days from the last date of the filing of the original comments or briefs. The Commission will consider all such comments before taking final action in the matter and, if comments are submitted which appear to warrant the holding of oral argument, notice of the time and place of such oral argument will be given.

5. No data, views, or arguments will be accepted in this proceeding with respect to the grade of license or technical knowledge which should be required by radio stations, or relating to any possible amendment to §§ 13.61, 3.165 or 3.265 of the Commission's rules.

6. Interested persons who desire to submit written data, views, or arguments shall, in accordance with § 1.764 of the Commission's rules and regulations, furnished the Commission with an original and 14 copies thereof.

Adapted: April 4, 1951.

Released: April 5, 1951.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
[SEAL] T. J. SLOWIE,
Secretary.

§ 1.334 Applications for temporary permission to operate standard and FM broadcast stations with licensed operators of lesser grade than normal. (a) Applications for temporary permission to operate Standard and FM broadcast stations with licensed operators of a lesser grade than normally required by the Commission's rules shall be submitted to the Engineer in Charge of the Commission's district headquarters field office in the area where the station is located. Such permission will be granted for periods of not to exceed thirty days if a proper showing is made, as set forth below, and may be renewed upon request only upon the making of an adequate similar showing.

(b) Such applications are not required to be submitted on any numbered or prescribed form. However, the request shall be in writing, signed by the licensee, if the licensee is an individual; by a partner, if the licensee is a partnership; or by an officer of the corporation, if the licensee is a corporation.

(c) A specific request for permission to use operators of lesser grade than required by the Commission's rules shall be included and the following information shall be furnished:

(1) Call letters of the station;

(2) Name of licensee;

(3) The number of persons holding radiotelephone first class operator licenses that will be employed as full-time operators at the station (this does not include part-time employees and persons only available on call in case of emergencies);

(4) A showing that at least one first class operator will be employed full time at the station and will be available on call at all times in the event of equipment failure;

(5) A statement that the additional licensed radiotelephone first class operators required for maintaining the normal schedule of operation could not be obtained for employment at the station;

(6) A showing that all known sources of broadcast operators within a reasonable distance have been exhausted. Names and addresses of sources contacted and the date of such contact shall be stated.

(d) The chief operator holding a radiotelephone first class operator license at a station to which temporary permission has been granted shall mail to the Engineer in Charge of the area from whom permission is received within three days after employment of a lesser grade operator a written certification that the person employed under the temporary permission has the ability to perform the normal operation of the station.

Department of the Army

DELEGATION OF AUTHORITY WITH RESPECT TO THE RELEASING OF INFORMATION FROM ARMY RECORDS

Authority to furnish access to and release information from Army records has been delegated by the Secretary of the Army, as follows:

(a) Upon receipt of requests therefor by individuals, including those in the executive branch of the Government who are not entitled thereto by virtue of their official duties, private companies or organizations, or agencies of State or local governments, properly and directly concerned, The Adjutant General is authorized to furnish access to unclassified papers within the categories covered by § 518.4 (c) of Title 32, CFR, except those which, in special instances, are held by him to be confidential for good cause. In addition to the foregoing delegation of authority and irrespective of other delegations of authority contained herein or herein recognized with regard to the release of information, The Adjutant General, in accordance with the principles set forth in §§ 518.1 through 518.4 of Title 32,[1] CFR, is hereby delegated authority to take final action on behalf of the Secretary of the Army upon requests of any character by individuals, private companies or organizations, or agencies of State or local governments for information from, access to, or copies of any classified or unclassified papers.

[1] See F. R. Doc. 51–4405, Title 32, Chapter V, Part 518, supra.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in this paragraph, the Chief of Engineers is delegated authority to take final action on behalf of the Secretary of the Army upon all requests by individuals, private companies or organizations, or agencies of State or local governments for information from, access to, or copies of unclassified papers which relate solely to the civil works assigned to the Corps of Engineers. However, this authority does not extend to papers held by the Chief of Engineers to be confidential for good cause, nor to papers within the categories covered by § 518.4 (c) of Title 32, CFR. In exercising this authority, the Chief of Engineers will be governed by the rules and principles set forth in §§ 518.1 through 518.4 of Title 32, CFR.

(c) Upon receipt of requests therefor by individuals, including those in the executive branch of the Government who are not entitled thereto by virtue of their official duties, private companies or organizations, or agencies of State or local governments, properly and directly concerned, The Surgeon General and the commanding officer of any medical treatment facility, respectively, are authorized, subject to the restrictions set forth in § 518.4 (c) (2) of Title 32, CFR, to furnish access to unclassified papers within the categories covered by § 518.4 (c) (1) (v) through (viii) of Title 32, CFR, except those which involve former members of the military service and those which, in special instances, are held to be confidential for good cause by the officer acting on the request.

(d) Upon receipt of requests therefor by individuals, including those in the executive branch of the Government who are not entitled thereto by virtue of their official duties, private companies or organizations, or agencies of State or local governments, properly and directly concerned, the Director of Civilian Personnel, Office of the Secretary of the Army, and the commanding officer of any activity of the Army Establishment, respectively, are authorized, to the extent provided in the civilian personnel regulations of the Department of the Army, to furnish information from, access to, or copies of papers forming a part of civilian personnel records.

(e) Any authority herein delegated to The Adjutant General may be redelegated by him in specific instances to the commander of the army concerned, when the papers involved are maintained or stored by an agency under his jurisdiction. The Adjutant General may also redelegate such authority to the theater or oversea commander concerned in specific instances or with regard to specified categories of papers which are maintained or stored by an agency or agencies under the jurisdiction of the commander concerned. Any authority herein delegated to the Chief of Engineers may be redelegated by him to the district or division engineer concerned in specific instances or with regard to specified categories of papers which are maintained or stored by an agency or agencies under their jurisdiction.

[SEAL] EDWARD F. WITSELL,
Major General, U. S. Army.
The Adjutant General.

ALASKA

SHORE SPACE RESTORATION NO. 460

APRIL 3, 1951.

By virtue of the authority contained in the act of June 5, 1920 (41 Stat. 1059, 48 U. S. C. 372), and in accordance with 43 CFR, § 4.275 (56) (Departmental Order No. 2325 of May 24, 1947, 12 F. R. 3566), and Order No. 319 of July 19, 1948 (43 CFR 50.451, 13 F. R. 4278), it is ordered as follows:

Subject to valid existing rights and the provisions of existing withdrawals, the 80-rod shore space reserve created under the act of May 14, 1898 (30 Stat. 409), as amended by the act of March 3, 1903 (32 Stat. 1028, 48 U. S. C. 371), is hereby revoked as to the following described lands;

A tract of land located on Nushagak Bay, Alaska, identified as U. S. Survey No. 2541, containing approximately 1.35 acres (embracing the improvements of John W. Felder, Soldiers Additional Homestead Application and Petition for Shorespace Restoration, Anchorage 09752).

A tract of land located on Nushagak Bay, Alaska, identified as U. S. Survey No. 2837, containing approximately 15 acres (embracing improvements of the Alaska Packers Association, Soldiers Additional Homestead Application, and Petition for Shorespace Restoration, Anchorage 011547).

A tract of land located on Leader Creek, a navigable tidal slough tributary to Naknek River, Alaska, identified as U. S. Survey No. 2490, containing approximately 1.94 acres (Soldiers Additional Homestead Application of Albert R. Davey, Anchorage 09593).

A tract of land located on Gastineau Channel, Alaska, containing approximately 5 acres, more particularly described as follows: Beginning at Corner No. 1, U. S. Survey 1798, thence northerly 54° 26' east 330' thence south 35° 34' east 660', thence south 54° 26' west 330' to intersection of line 2-3 of U. S. Survey 1798, thence north 35° 34' west 660' to the point of beginning (embracing Settlement Claim, Notice of Location of Earl Crass, Jr., Anchorage 016252).

A tract of land located on Nushagak River, Alaska, identified as U. S. Survey No. 2543, containing approximately 0.32 of an acre (Soldiers Additional Homestead Application and Petition for Shorespace Restoration of Pacific American Fisheries, Inc., Anchorage 09819).

A tract of land located on Uganik Bay, Alaska, identified as U. S. Survey No. 2431, containing approximately 7.94 acres (embracing improvements of Uganik Fisheries, Inc., Soldiers Additional Homestead Application Anchorage 09127).

A tract of land located on Uganik Bay, Alaska, identified as U. S. Survey No. 2432 containing approximately 11.93 acres (embracing improvements of Uganik Fisheries, Inc., Trade and Manufacturing Site Application and Petition for Shorespace Restoration Anchorage 09128).

The above described areas aggregate 43.48 acres.

No application for these lands may be allowed under the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938 (52 Stat. 609; 43 U. S. C. 682a), unless the land has already been classified as valuable or suitable for such type of application or shall be so classified upon consideration of an application.

At 10:00 a. m. on April 24, 1951, the lands shall, subject to valid existing rights and the provisions of existing withdrawals become subject to application, petition, location, or selection as follows:

(a) Ninety-day period for preference-right filings. For a period of 90 days from April 24, 1951, to July 24, 1951, inclusive, the public lands affected by this order shall be subject to (1) application under the homestead or homesite laws, or the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938 (52 Stat. 609, 43 U. S. C. sec. 682a) as amended, by qualified veterans of World War II, for whose service recognition is granted by the act of September 27, 1944 (58 Stat. 747, 43 U. S. C. secs. 279-283), as amended, subject to the requirements of applicable law, and (2) application under any applicable public-land law, based on prior existing valid settlement rights and preference rights conferred by existing laws or equitable claims subject to allowance and confirmation. Applications by such veterans shall be subject to claims of the classes described in subdivision (2).

(b) Twenty-day advance period for simultaneous preference-right filings. For a period of 20 days from April 3, 1951, to April 23, 1951, inclusive, such veterans and persons claiming preference rights superior to those of such veterans, may present their applications, and all such applications, together with those presented at 10:00 a. m. on April 24, 1951, shall be treated as simultaneously filed.

(c) Date for non-preference right filings authorized by the public land laws. Commencing at 10:00 a. m. on July 25, 1951, any of the lands remaining unappropriated shall become subject to such application, petition, location, or selection by the public generally as may be authorized by the public land laws.

(d) Twenty-day advance period for simultaneous non-preference right filings. Applications by the general public may be presented during the 20-day period from July 2, 1951, to July 24, 1951, inclusive, and all such applications, together with those presented at 10:00 a. m. on July 25, 1951, shall be treated as simultaneously filed.

A veteran shall accompany his application with a complete photostatic, or other copy (both sides), of his certificate of honorable discharge, or of an official document of his branch of the service which shows clearly his honorable discharge as defined in § 181.36 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, or constitutes evidence of other facts upon which the claim for preference is based and which shows clearly the period of service. Other persons claiming credit for service of veterans must furnish like proof in support of their claims. Persons asserting preference rights, through settlement or otherwise, and those having equitable claims, shall accompany their applications by duly corroborated statements in support thereof, setting forth in detail all facts relevant to their claims.

Applications for these lands, which shall be filed in the District Land Office at Anchorage, Alaska, shall be acted upon in accordance with the regulations contained in § 295.8 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations (Circular No. 324, May 22, 1914, 43 L. D. 254), to the extent that such regulations are applicable. Applications under the homestead and homesite laws shall be governed by the regulations contained in Parts 64, 65 and 66, of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations and applications under the small tract act of June 1, 1938, shall be governed by the regulations contained in Part 257 of that title.

Inquiries concerning these lands shall be addressed to the District Land Office at Anchorage, Alaska.

LOWELL M. PUCKETT,
Regional Administrator.

[Order No. 2625]

COMMISSIONER OF THE BUREAU OF RECLAMATION

DELEGATION OF AUTHORITY WITH RESPECT TO THE ACQUISITION OF LANDS AND WATER RIGHTS

APRIL 6, 1951.

SECTION 1. Acquisition of lands and water rights. (a) In connection with the development, construction, operation and maintenance of reclamation and water conservation and utilization projects, the Commissioner of Reclamation may:

(1) Authorize and approve the appraisal or reappraisal of lands or interests therein and water rights, by appraisers or appraisal boards;

(2) Contract for and effect the purchase or exchange of lands or interests therein and water rights at appraised values, but any exchange involving withdrawn public lands, except in the case of public lands within the Columbia Basin Project, shall be effected only with the concurrence of the Director of the Bureau of Land Management;

(3) Effect, at approved appraised values, the acquisition or, through exercise of the power of attorney, the sale of lands or interests therein under the provisions of recordable contracts entered into in accordance with the Columbia Basin Project Act (16 U. S. C., 1946 ed., sec. 835, et seq.);

(4) Enter into contracts for the relocation of properties;

(5) Enter into contracts for the right to construct project facilities across private property, including the property of States and political subdivisions thereof;

(6) Enter into contracts for the exchange or replacement of water rights; and

(7) Enter into contracts for the adjustment of water rights.

(b) In connection with the authority granted under subsection (a) (4), (5), (6), (7), the Commissioner of Reclamation may execute, in the name of the Secretary, all necessary grants or conveyances, but any grant or conveyance involving withdrawn public lands shall be executed only with the concurrence of the Director of the Bureau of Land Management.

(c) In the event that the authority granted under subsection (a) is exercised by an officer other than the Commissioner of Reclamation, all grants, conveyances, and contracts shall be on forms approved by the Commissioner, except that only the basic provisions of forms used in transactions on the Columbia Basin Project pursuant to the authority granted in subsection (a) (2) and (3) shall be first approved by the Commissioner.

SEC. 2. Redelegation. The Commissioner may in writing redelegate to an Assistant Commissioner or the official in charge of any office, region, district, division, or project of the Bureau of Reclamation, the authority granted in section 1 of this order.

SEC. 3. Revocations; savings clause. This order supersedes 43 CFR, 1936 Supp., 4.411 (a) (2), (5), paragraphs (b) and (e) of section 1 of Order No. 2017 (10 F. R. 258, 43 CFR, 1947 Supp., 4.412 (a) (2), paragraph (b) of section 1 of Order No. 2018 (10 F. R. 259), Order No. 2376 (12 F. R. 8230), 43 CFR, 1946 Supp., 4.412 (a) (1), and paragraph (a) of section 1 of Order No. 2018 (10 F. R. 259), as revised in Order No. 2377 (13 F. R. 1088). Any redelegation of the authority contained in 43 CFR, 1946 Supp., 4.411 (a) (2), (5), 4.412 (a) (1); 43 CFR, 1947 Supp., 4.412 (a) (2), Order No. 2376, and Order No. 2377, which have been made pursuant to 43 CFR, 1946 Supp., 4.411 (b) and 4.412 (b), and which are still in force on the effective date of this order shall remain in force until revoked or superseded.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

[Docket Nos. 7938, 9944]

WESTERN BROADCASTING ASSOCIATES AND WEST SIDE RADIO

ORDER DESIGATING APPLICATION FOR CONSOLIDATED HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In re applications of Western Broadcasting Associates, Modesto, California, Docket No. 7938; File No. BP–5336; Maxon B. Sayre and George Stevans, Jr. d/b as West Side Radio, Tracy, California, Docket No. 9944, File No. BP–7802; for construction permits.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 5th day of April 1951;

The Commission having under consideration the above-entitled applications of Western Broadcasting Associates requesting a permit to construct a new standard broadcast station to operate on frequency 710 kilocycles, with 1 kilowatt power, unlimited time, employing a directional antenna (DA-1), at Modesto, California and of Maxon B. Sayre and George Stevans, Jr., requesting a permit to construct a new standard broadcast station to operate on frequency 710 kilocycles, with 1 kilowatt power, daytime only at Tracy, California; and also having under consideration a petition filed on August 22, 1950, by Queen City Broadcasting Company, licensee of Station KIRO, Seattle, Washington, requesting that the application of Western Broadcasting Associates be designated for hearing and that petitioner be made a party to the proceeding;

It appearing, that the application of West Side Radio requests authorization to operate daytime only on a United States Clear Channel and pursuant to the Commission's policy with respect to such requests has been placed in the pending file to await decisions in the hearings regarding Clear Channels (Docket Number 6741) and Daytime Skywave Transmissions (Docket Number 8333); and

It further appearing, that the above-entitled applications may involve mutually prohibitive interference each with the other and that it is the policy of the Commission as announced in the Public Notice of August 9, 1946, to remove applications placed in the pending file for the aforestated reason, for the purpose of designating same for hearing in a consolidated proceeding with conflicting applications for operation on the same or adjacent channels;

It is ordered, That the said petition is granted, the application of West Side Radio is removed from the pending file and that, pursuant to section 309 (a) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the said applications of Western Broadcasting Associates and of West Side Radio are designated for hearing in a consolidated proceeding, at 10:00 a. m., Monday, May 14, 1951, at Modesto, California, and Wednesday, May 16, 1951, at Tracy, California, upon the following issues:

1. To determine the legal, technical, financial and other qualifications of the applicant corporation, its officers, directors and stockholders and of the applicant partnership and the partners to construct and operate the proposed stations.

2. To determine the areas and populations which may be expected to gain or lose primary service from the operation of the proposed stations and the character of other broadcast service available to those areas and populations.

3. To determine the type and character of program service proposed to be rendered and whether it would meet the requirements of the populations and areas proposed to be served.

4. To determine whether the operation of the proposed stations would involve objectionable interference with any existing broadcast stations and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other broadcast service to such areas and populations with particular reference to whether the operation of the station proposed in the application of Western Broadcasting Associates would involve objectionable interference with Station KIRO, Seattle, Washington.

5. To determine whether the operation of the proposed stations would involve objectionable interference each with the other or with the services proposed in any other pending applications for broadcast facilities and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other broadcast service in such areas and populations.

6. To determine whether the installation and operation of the proposed stations would be in compliance with the Commission's rules and Standards of Good Engineering Practice Concerning Standard Broadcast Stations.

7. To determine the overlap, if any, that will exist between the service areas of the station proposed in the application of Western Broadcasting Associates and of Station KSTN, Stockton, California, the nature and extent thereof, and whether such overlap, if any, is in contravention of § 3.35 of the Commission's rules.

8. To determine whether the above-entitled application of Maxon B. Sayre and George Stevans, Jr. d/b as West Side Radio was filed in good faith or for the purpose of delaying or hindering the grant of the above-entitled application of Western Broadcasting Associates.

9. To determine on a comparative basis which, if either, of the applications in this consolidated proceeding should be granted.

It is further ordered, That Queen City Broadcasting Company, licensee of Station KIRO, Seattle, Washington, is made a party to this proceeding with reference to the application of Western Broadcasting Associates only; and

It is further ordered, That, if, as a result of the consolidated proceeding, it appears that, were it not for the issues pending in the hearing regarding Clear Channels (Docket Number 6741) and in the hearing regarding Daytime Skywave Transmissions (Docket Number 8333) and the Commission's policy pertaining thereto as announced in the Public Notices of August 9, 1946, and May 9, 1947, the public interest would be best served by a grant of the application of Maxon B. Sayre and George Stevans, Jr. d/b as West Side Radio, then said application shall be returned to the pending file until after conclusion of the said hearings regarding clear channels and daytime skywave transmissions at which time it will be considered in connection with any applications with which it may then be in conflict.

LOGAN BROADCASTING CORP. (WVOW) ET AL.

ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATION FOR CONSOLIDATED HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In re applications of Logan Broadcasting Corporation (WVOW), Logan, West Virginia, for modification of construction permit, Docket No. 9741, File No. BMP-5144; I. K. Corkern, Jr., tr/as Bogalusa Broadcasting Co. (WIKC), Bogalusa, Louisiana, for construction permit, Docket No. 9942, File No. BP-7529; Jennings Broadcasting Company, Inc. (KJEF), Jennings, Louisiana, for modification of construction permit, Docket No. 9943, File No. BMP-5313.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission, held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 5th day of April 1951;

The Commission having under consideration the above-entitled applications of I. K. Corkern, Jr., tr/as Bogalusa Broadcasting Co., for a construction permit to change frequency from 1490 kc. to 1290 kc., increase power from 250 watts to 500 watts, with 1 kilowatt until local sunset, change transmitter and transmitter location, and install separate directional antennas for day and night use at Station WIKC, Bogalusa, Louisiana; and of Jennings Broadcasting Company, Inc., for a modification of construction permit to change hours of operation from daytime only to unlimited time, using a directional antenna at night at Station KJEF, Jennings, Louisiana;

It appearing, that the above-entitled application of Logan Broadcasting Corporation, for modification of construction permit to increase nighttime power from 1 kw. to 5 kw. and make changes in the antenna system at Station WVOW, Logan, West Virginia, was designated for hearing on July 21, 1950, on engineering issues only, which hearing, after several continuances, is presently scheduled to be heard on June 4, 1951;

It is ordered, That, pursuant to section 309 (a) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the above-entitled applications of I. K. Corkern, Jr., tr/as Bogalusa Broadcasting Co. (WIKC), and Jennings Broadcasting Company, Inc. (KJEF), are designated for hearing in a consolidated proceeding with the above-entitled application of Logan Broadcasting Corporation (WVOW), commencing at 10:00 a. m., on June 4, 1951, at Washington, D. C., upon the following issues:

1. To determine the technical, financial, and other qualifications of the corporate applicants, their officers, directors and stockholders, and of the individual applicant to operate Stations WVOW, WIKC and KJEF, as proposed.

2. To determine the areas and populations which may be expected to gain or lose primary service from the operation of Stations WVOW, WIKC and KJEF, as proposed, and the character of other broadcast service available to such areas and populations.

3. To determine the type and character of program service proposed to be rendered and whether it would meet the requirements of the populations and areas proposed to be served.

4. To determine whether the operation of Station WVOW, as proposed, would involve objectionable interference with Stations KOIL, Omaha, Nebraska; WKNE, Keene, New Hampshire; WNBF, Binghamton, New York; KTRN, Wichita Falls, Texas; KRGV, Weslaco, Texas; and WHIO, Dayton, Ohio; or with any other existing broadcast stations and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other broadcast service to such areas and populations.

5. To determine whether the operation of Station WIKC, as proposed, would involve objectionable interference with Stations KOIL, Omaha, Nebraska, and KTRN, Wichita Falls, Texas; and to determine whether the operation of Stations WIKC and KJEF, as proposed, would involve objectionable interference with any other existing broadcast stations and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other broadcast service to such areas and populations.

6. To determine whether the operation of Stations WVOW, WIKC, and KJEF, as proposed, would involve objectionable interference, each with the other two, or with the services proposed in any other pending applications for broadcast facilities and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other broadcast service to such areas and populations.

7. To determine whether the operation of Station WIKC, as proposed, would involve objectionable interference with Station CMCW, Havana, Cuba, or with any other existing foreign broadcast stations and, if so, the nature and extent of such interference.

8. To determine whether the installation and operation of Stations WVOW, WIKC and KJEF, as proposed, would be in compliance with the Commission's rules and Standards of Good Engineering Practice Concerning Standard Broadcast Stations, with particular reference to the nighttime coverage to the City of Logan, West Virginia, with respect to Station WVOW, as proposed; with particular reference to the ratio of the population within the normally protected and actual nighttime interference-free contours to the population which would receive satisfactory service with respect to both Stations WIKC and KJEF, as proposed; with particular reference to the nighttime coverage to the City of Jennings, Louisiana, with respect to Station KJEF, as proposed; and with particular reference to whether the operation of Station KJEF, as proposed, would meet the minimum antenna efficiency requirements of the Standards.

9. To determine whether the installation and operation of Station WIKC, as proposed, would constitute a hazard to air navigation.

10. To determine on a comparative basis which, if any, of the applications in this consolidated proceeding should be granted.

It is further ordered, That Central States Broadcasting Company, licensee of Station KOIL, Omaha, Nebraska, and Texoma Broadcasting Company, licensee of Station KTRN, Wichita Falls, Texas, are made parties to this proceeding with respect to the applications of Stations WVOW, Logan, West Virginia, and WIKC, Bogalusa, Louisiana, only; and

It is further ordered, That WKNE Corporation, licensee of Station WKNE, Keene, New Hampshire; Clark Associates, Inc., licensee of Station WNBF, Binghamton, New York; Taylor Radio & Television Corporation, licensee of Station KRGV, Weslaco, Texas; and Miami Valley Broadcasting Corporation, licensee of Station WHIO, Dayton, Ohio, are made parties to this proceeding with respect to the application of Station WVOW, Logan, West Virginia, only; and

It is further ordered, That the Commission's order of July 21, 1950, designating for hearing the above-entitled application of Logan Broadcasting Corporation (WVOW) is amended to include the above issues.

To determine whether the operation of Station KROY, as proposed, would involve objectionable interference with Station KWG, Stockton, California, or with any other existing broadcast stations, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other broadcast service to such areas and populations.

3. To determine whether the operation of Station KROY, as proposed, would involve objectionable interference with the services proposed in any other pending applications for broadcast facilities, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other broadcast service to such areas and populations.

4. To determine whether the installation and operation of Station KROY, as proposed, would be in compliance with the Commission's rules and Standards of Good Engineering Practice Concerning Standard Broadcast Stations.

5. To determine whether the installation and operation of Station KROY, as proposed, would constitute a hazard to air navigation.

It is further ordered, That McClatchy Broadcasting Company, licensee of Station KWG, Stockton, California is made a party to this proceeding.

LEONARD R. LYON

ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATION FOR HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In re application of Leonard R. Lyon, El Reno, Oklahoma, for construction permit; Docket No. 9945, File No. BP-7869.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission, held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 5th day of April 1951;

The Commission having under consideration the above-entitled application requesting a permit to construct a new standard broadcast station to operate on frequency 1490 kilocycles, with 100 watts power, daytime only at El Reno, Oklahoma;

It appearing, that the applicant is legally, technically, financially and otherwise qualified to operate the proposed station, but that the application may involve interference with one or more existing stations and otherwise not comply with the Standards of Good Engineering Practice;

It is ordered, That pursuant to section 309 (a) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the said application is designated for hearing at 10:00 a. m. on June 8, 1951, at Washington, D. C., upon the following issues:

1. To determine the areas and populations which may be expected to gain or lose primary service from the operation of the proposed station and the character of other broadcast service available to those areas and populations.

2. To determine whether the operation of the proposed station would involve objectionable interference with station KBIG, Guthrie, Oklahoma, or with any other existing broadcast stations and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other broadcast service to such areas and populations.

3. To determine whether the operation of the proposed station would involve objectionable interference with the services proposed in any other pending applications for broadcast facilities and, if so the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other broadcast service to such areas and populations.

4. To determine whether the installation and operation of the proposed station would be in compliance with the Commission's rules and Standards of Good Engineering Practice Concerning Standard Broadcast Stations.

It is further ordered, That Leader Publishing Company, permittee of Station KBIG, Guthrie, Oklahoma, is made a party to the proceeding.

[Docket No. 9946]

GEORGIA-ALABAMA BROADCASTING CORP. (WGBA)

ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATION FOR HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In re application of Georgia-Alabama Broadcasting Corporation (WGBA), Columbus, Georgia, for construction permit; Docket No. 9946, File No. BP-7674.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 5th day of April 1951;

The Commission having under consideration the above-entitled application for a construction permit to change facilities of Station WGBA, Columbus, Georgia, from 1460 kc. with power of 1 kw., unlimited time, using the same directional antenna for day and night operation, to 1460 kc., with power of 5 kw. day and 1 kw. night, unlimited time, using a directional antenna for night operation only; and the following pleadings: (1) a petition filed August 3, 1950, by J. W. Woodruff and J. W. Woodruff, Jr., d/b as Columbus Broadcasting Company, licensee of Station WRBL, Columbus, Georgia, requesting that the above-entitled application be designated for hearing with petitioner a party thereto; (2) an opposition to said petition filed September 15, 1950, by Georgia-Alabama Broadcasting Corporation; (3) a reply to said opposition filed October 31, 1950, by Columbus Broadcasting Company; and (4) a pleading entitled "Supplemental Data in Support of Application for Increase in Power", filed January 11, 1951, by Georgia-Alabama Broadcasting Corporation; and

It appearing, that the operation of Station WGBA as proposed would not result in objectionable interference to any existing broadcast station or with the services proposed in any pending application for broadcast facilities; that the above-entitled application does not propose any new antenna construction; that accordingly special aeronautical study of the application is not required and present obstruction marking of the antenna is considered satisfactory; but that the operation of Station WGBA, as proposed might result in excessive population within the 250 mv/m contour and otherwise not comply with the Commission's Standards of Good Engineering Practice; and

It further appearing, that the above-mentioned pleadings raise substantial questions of fact and law which the Commission is unable to resolve upon the basis of the information presently available to it;

It is ordered, That the said petition requesting that the above-entitled application be designated for hearing is granted; and that, pursuant to section 309 (a) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the above-entitled application is designated for hearing commencing at 10:00 a. m. on the 12th day of June 1951 at Columbus, Georgia, upon the following issues:

1. To determine whether the officers, directors and stockholders of the applicant corporation have, in the operation of Station WGBA or in the conduct of other business enterprises under common control with applicant corporation, engaged in discriminatory or unfair trade practices in violation of law.

2. To determine, particularly in the light of the evidence adduced under issue No. 1 above, the qualifications of the applicant corporation, its officers, directors, and stockholders to operate Station WGBA as proposed.

3. To determine the areas and populations which would gain or lose primary service from the operation of Station WGBA, as proposed, and the availability of other broadcast service to such areas and populations.

4. To determine whether the operation of Station WGBA, as proposed, would be in compliance with the Commission's rules and Standards of Good Engineering Practice concerning populations residing within blanket contours and in connection therewith to obtain full information concerning the following:

(a) The populations residing within the proposed 500 mv/m and 250 mv/m contours of Station WGBA.

(b) The availability of other sites for the operation of Station WGBA, as proposed, and whether such sites, if any, would meet the requirements of the Commission's rules and standards with respect to blanketing and other matters.

(c) The number and nature of complaints concerning blanket interference by Station WGBA, which have been received by Stations WGBA and WRBL and others.

(d) The steps which applicant corporation has taken and will take to satisfy legitimate complaints of blanket intereference by Station WGBA.

It is further ordered, That J. W. Woodruff and J. W. Woodruff, Jr., d/b as Columbus Broadcasting Company, licensee of Station WRBL, Columbus, Georgia, is made a party to this proceeding.

STATEMENTS OF ORGANIZATION, DELEGATIONS OF AUTHORITY AND PUBLIC INFORMATION

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 4th day of April 1951;

The Commission having under consideration the provisions of section 0.144 (h) of the Commission's rules which authorize the Commission's Secretary, with the approval of the Commission's Chief Engineer and General Counsel, to act upon applications for temporary permission to use operators of lesser grade than required by the Commission's rules; and

It appearing, that applicants for relief under section 0.144 (h) must presently file their applications with the Commission's Secretary in Washington, D. C.; and

It further appearing, that individual action on such applications submitted by broadcast stations can best be taken by the Engineers in Charge of the Commission's field offices; and

It further appearing, that the Commission may delegate authority to act on such applications to members of the Commission's field staff under section 5 (e) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended; and

It further appearing, that general notice of proposed rule making is not required herein under provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act since the new rules relate to internal Commission organization and procedure with respect to applications hereinbefore referred to and are not substantive in nature;

It is ordered, That a new section 0.151 of the Commission's rules be adopted to provide as follows:

SEC. 0.151 The Commission's Engineer in Charge (or in his absence the acting Engineer in Charge) at each headquarter office of the 23 districts of the Field Engineering & Monitoring Division is designated to act upon applications for temporary permission to operate Standard and FM broadcast stations with licensed operators of lesser grade than normally required by the Commission's Rules or for waiver of other technical requirements of operators at such stations.

It is further ordered, That section 0.144 (h) of the Commission's rules be amended to provide as follows:

(h) Applications or requests for temporary operation by radio station licensees, except licensees of Standard and FM broadcast stations, with a licensed operator of lesser grade than normally required or for waiver of other technical requirements for operators.

It is further ordered, That section 0.152 be adopted to provide as follows:

SEC. 0.152 Record of actions taken. Action taken on applications in accordance with section 0.151 shall be recorded each week and a copy thereof forwarded to the Secretary of the Commission to be filed in the official minutes of the Commission.

It is further ordered, That this order shall become effective the 16th day of April 1951.

Adopted: April 4, 1951.

Released: April 6, 1951.

[S. O. 874, General Permit 14]

CHICAGO, BURLINGTON & QUINCY RAILROAD CO. AND SCHREIBER MILLS, INC.

LOADING REQUIREMENTS

Pursuant to the authority vested in me in paragraph (d) of Service Order No. 874 (16 F. R. 2040), permission is granted for Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company, serving Schreiber Mills, Inc., at St. Joseph, Missouri, to disregard the provisions of Service Order No. 874 insofar as it applies to any car loaded with Animal Feed, containing 40 to 46 percent molasses in pellet form, by Schreiber Mills, Inc. when Schreiber Mills, Inc. advise that service would be denied because of its inability to meet the minimum requirements because the hygroscopic properties of the commodity make it unsalable when exposed.

The waybills shall show reference to this general permit and the Schreiber Mills, Inc. shall furnish the Permit Agent the dates shipped, car numbers, initials, weights and destinations of the cars shipped under this Permit, and car numbers, initials and weights of all cars of straight molasses feed in pellet form shipped. Such information to be furnished on the first of each month.

This general permit shall become effective at 12:01 a. m., April 10, 1951, and shall expire at 11:59 p. m., September 15, 1951, unless otherwise modified, changed, suspended or revoked.

A copy of this general permit has been served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as agent of the railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement, and notice of this permit shall be given to the general public by depositing a copy in the Office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and by filing it with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 9th day of April 1951.

HOWARD S. KLINE,
Permit Agent.

DISTILLERS DRIED FEED AND/OR DISTILLERS SOLUBLES

LOADING REQUIREMENTS

Pursuant to the authority vested in me in paragraph (d) of Service Order No. 874 (16 F. R. 2040), permission is granted for any common carrier by railroad, subject to the Interstate Commerce Act, to disregard the provisions of Service Order No. 874 insofar as it applies to any car loaded with Distillers Dried Feed and/or Distillers Solubles because of the tendency of said commodities to heat, cake, and possible burning during summer months.

The waybills shall show reference to this general permit and any shipper of Distillers Dried Feed and/or Distillers Solubles shall furnish the Permit Agent the dates forwarded, car numbers, initials, weights, and destinations of the cars shipped under this permit, and also the car numbers, initials, and weights of all cars of Distillers Dried Feeds and/or Distillers Solubles shipped, such information to be furnished on the first of each month.

This general permit shall become effective at 12:01 a. m., April 10, 1951, and shall expire at 11:59 p. m., September 15, 1951, unless otherwise modified, changed, suspended, or revoked. This Revised General Permit vacates and supersedes General Permit No. 9 on the effective date hereof.

A copy of this general permit has been served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as agent of the railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement, and notice of this permit shall be given to the general public by depositing a copy in the Office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and by filing it with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 9th day of April 1951.

HOWARD S. KLINE,
Permit Agent.

[Rev. S. O. 562, King's I. C. C. Order 46]

MERIDIAN AND BIGBEE RIVER RAILWAY CO.

REROUTING OR DIVERSION OF TRAFFIC

In the opinion of Homer C. King, Agent, the Meridian and Bigbee River Railway Company, because of high water and floods, is unable to transport traffic routed over its lines. It is ordered, That:

(a) Rerouting Meridian and Bigbee River Railway Company traffic: The Meridian and Bigbee River Railway Company is hereby authorized and directed to reroute or divert traffic moving on its lines, routed via its lines, over any available route to expedite the movement; the billing covering all such cars rerouted shall carry a reference to this order as authority for the rerouting.

(b) Concurrence of receiving roads to be obtained: The railroad desiring to divert or reroute traffic under this order shall confer with the proper transportation officer of the railroad or railroads to which such traffic is to be diverted or rerouted, and shall receive the concurrence of such other railroads before the rerouting or diversion is ordered.

(c) Notification to shippers: Each carrier rerouting cars in accordance with this order shall notify each shipper at the time each car is rerouted or diverted and shall furnish to such shipper the new routing provided under this order.

(d) Inasmuch as the diversion or rerouting of traffic by said agent is deemed to be due to carrier's disability, the rates applicable to traffic diverted or rerouted by said agent shall be the rates which were applicable at the time of shipment on the shipments as originally routed.

(e) In executing the directions of the Commission and of such Agent provided for in this order, the common carriers involved shall proceed even though no contracts, agreements, or arrangements now exist between them with reference to the divisions of the rates of transportation applicable to said traffic; divisions shall be, during the time this order remains in force, those voluntarily agreed upon by and between said carriers; or upon failure of the carriers to so agree, said divisions shall be those hereafter fixed by the Commission in accordance with pertinent authority conferred upon it by the Interstate Commerce Act.

(f) Effective date: This order shall become effective at 3:00 p. m., April 6, 1951.

(g) Expiration date: This order shall expire at 11:59 p. m., April 20, 1951, unless otherwise modified, changed, suspended or annulled.

It is further ordered, That this order shall be served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as agent of all railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement.

Issued at Washington, D. C., April 6, 1951.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 7-1276]

BALDWIN SECURITIES CORP.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR UNLISTED TRADING PRIVILEGES, AND OF OPPORTUNITY FOR HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 10th day of April A. D. 1951.

The Los Angeles Stock Exchange, pursuant to section 12 (f) (2) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X-12F-1 thereunder, has made application for unlisted trading privileges in the Common Stock, 75 cents par value, of Baldwin Securities Corporation, a security listed and registered on the New York Curb Exchange and on the Philadelphia-Baltimore Stock Exchange.

Rule X-12F-1 provides that the applicant shall furnish a copy of the application to the issuer and to every exchange on which the security is listed or already admitted to unlisted trading privileges. The application is available for public inspection at the Commission's principal office in Washington, D. C.

Notice is hereby given that, upon request of any interested person received prior to May 1, 1951, the Commission will set this matter down for hearing. In addition, any interested person may submit his views or any additional facts bearing on this application by means of a letter addressed to the Secretary of the Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D. C. If no one requests a hearing on this matter, this application will be determined by order of the Commission on the basis of the facts stated in the application, and other information contained in the official file of the Commission pertaining to this matter.

By the Commission.

NATIONAL POWER & LIGHT CO. ET AL.

ORDER EXTENDING TIME

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 10th day of April A. D. 1951.

National Power & Light Company ("National"), a registered holding company, having previously notified the Commission pursuant to paragraph (c) of Rule U-44 promulgated pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, of its intention to sell 30,000 shares of its holdings of the common stock of Pennsylvania Power & Light Company ("Pennsylvania") from time to time in the open market on the New York Stock Exchange at prices to be fixed by the Company; and

The Commission having previously determined, as set forth in the Commission's order entered February 2, 1951, that the proposed sale did not require the filing of a declaration with the Commission under the act, provided that if such stock were not sold by April 1, 1951, National should file a further notice with the Commission pursuant to Rule U-44 (c), which order also contained findings and recitations conforming to the applicable requirements of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended; and

National having advised the Commission that it has sold all of said 30,000 shares, with the exception of a balance of 6,100 shares, of the common stock of Pennsylvania, and National having requested that the Commission extend the time within which it might dispose of said remaining 6,100 shares for a period of 40 days from April 1, 1951, and having given notice of its intention to sell such shares in accordance with paragraph (c) of Rule U-44; and National having requested that the Commission enter an order containing specific findings and recitations pursuant to the Internal Revenue Code with respect to said 6,100 shares; and

It appearing to the Commission that the period within which such stock may be sold without the filing of said declaration may properly be extended for 40 days from April 1, 1951, and that the proposed sale does not appear to require the filing of a declaration under the act if completed within such period as so extended, and it appearing appropriate to the Commission that an order be entered with respect to said 6,100 shares containing findings and recitations conforming to the applicable requirements of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended;

It is ordered, That the time within which National Power & Light Company may dispose of its remaining holdings of common stock of Pennsylvania Power & Light Company, without the filing of a declaration, be and is hereby extended for a period of 40 days from April 1, 1951; and

It is further ordered and recited, That the sale and transfer by National Power & Light Company of 6,100 shares of common stock of Pennsylvania Power & Light Company is necessary or appropriate to the integration and simplification of the holding company system of which National Power & Light Company is a member and is necessary or appropriate to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935.

By the Commission.

NATIONAL FUEL GAS CO. ET AL.

NOTICE OF FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 9th day of April A. D. 1951.

In the matter of National Fuel Gas Company, United Natural Gas Company, Iroquois Gas Corporation, Pennsylvania Gas Company, file No. 70-2600.

Notice is hereby given that a joint application-declaration has been filed with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 by National Fuel Gas Company ("National"), a registered holding company, and its gas utility subsidiaries, United Natural Gas Company ("United"), Iroquois Gas Corporation ("Iroquois") and Pennsylvania Gas Company ("Pennsylvania"). Applicants-declarants designate sections 6, 7, 9 (a), 10, and 12 (f) of the act and Rule U-43 of the general rules and regulations promulgated thereunder as applicable to the proposed transactions.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than April 20, 1951, at 5:30 p. m., e. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the reasons for such request, the nature of his interest, and the issues of fact or law raised by said application-declaration, as filed or as subsequently amended, which he desires to controvert, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time after April 20, 1951, said application-declaration, as filed or as amended, may be granted and permitted to become effective as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rules U-20 (a) and U-100 thereof.

All interested persons are referred to said joint application-declaration which is on file in the offices of this Commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed which are summarized as follows:

National has entered into a credit agreement with The Chase National Bank of the City of New York contemplating the issuance and sale by National to the bank, from time to time prior to December 31, 1951, of promissory notes in an aggregate amount not to exceed $11,000,000. National agrees to issue and sell $6,300,000 of such notes within ten days of receiving the order of this Commission permitting the transactions herein proposed, and to apply said $6,300,000 to the repayment without premium on the date of such sale of the promissory notes of National presently outstanding in the same aggregate amount and held by The Chase National Bank. National further agrees to issue and sell an additional $2,000,000 of such notes prior to July 1, 1951. All notes will bear interest at the rate of 2½ percent per annum and will be payable on or before July 1, 1952. National will apply the proceeds from the sale of the notes, other than the $6,300,000 previously mentioned, together with some treasury funds to purchase (a) installment promissory notes of Iroquois in an aggregate amount not to exceed $2,000,000; (b) to purchase installment promissory notes of Pennsylvania in an aggregate amount not to exceed $2,000,000; and (c) to purchase installment promissory notes of United in an aggregate sum not to exceed $1,000,000.

Iroquois has entered into a Credit Agreement with National, providing that Iroquois shall issue and sell to National from time to time during 1951 a series of installment promissory notes each in the principal amount of $100,000, with the aggregate principal amount not to exceed $2,000,000. Such notes will be unsecured, and the first note of the series will mature on June 1, 1953, and each succeeding note in the series will mature on June 1 of the calendar year following maturity date of the next prior note in the series. Each note will bear interest at the rate of 3 percent per annum. Iroquois will have the option to prepay any of said notes at any time, or from time to time, in whole or in part, without premium.

Iroquois proposes with the proceeds of the sale of such notes to provide its treasury with funds with which, together with certain funds becoming available from current operations, it will make additions to its utility plant in 1951, and with which additional working funds will be provided to increase its Materials and Supplies account, particularly for additional gas to be purchased and placed in storage.

Pennsylvania has entered into a Credit Agreement with National, providing that Pennsylvania will issue and sell to National from time to time during 1951 a series of installment promissory notes, each in the principal amount of $125,000, with the aggregate principal amount not to exceed $2,000,000. Such notes will be unsecured, and the first note of the series will mature on June 1, 1959, and each succeeding note in the series will mature on June 1 of the calendar year following the maturity date of the next prior note in the series. Each note will bear interest at the rate of 3 percent per annum. Pennsylvania will have the option to prepay any of said notes at any time, or from time to time, in whole or in part, without premium.

Pennsylvania proposes with the proceeds from the sale of such notes to provide its treasury with funds with which, together with certain funds becoming available from current operations, it will make additions to its utility plant in 1951, and with which additional working funds will be provided to enable it to purchase additional gas for underground storage.

United has entered into a Credit Agreement with National providing that United will issue and sell to National from time to time during 1951 a series of installment promissory notes, each in the principal amount of $100,000, with the aggregate principal amount not to exceed $1,000,000. Such notes will be unsecured, and the first note of the series will mature on June 1, 1953, and each succeeding note in the series will mature on June 1 of the calendar year following the maturity date of the next prior note commencing with 1953 until the entire series is paid. Each note will bear interest at 3 percent per annum. United will have the option to prepay any of said notes at any time, or from time to time, in whole or in part, without premium.

United proposes with the proceeds from the sale of such notes to provide its treasury with funds with which, together with certain funds becoming available from current operations, it will make additions to its utility plant in 1951, and with which additional working funds will be provided to purchase additional gas for underground storage.

The issuance and sale of the promissory notes by Pennsylvania and United are stated to be subject to the jurisdiction of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission. The issuance and sale of the promissory note by Iroquois is stated to be subject to the jurisdiction of the Public Service Commission of the State of New York.

It is stated to be the intention of National to finance the payment of any bank loans outstanding after the present period of large construction needs is over through the issuance and sale of common stock or long term debenture bonds or both, when and if conditions are favorable.

By the Commission.

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

Chapter IX—Production and Marketing Administration (Marketing Agreements and Orders), Department of Agriculture

PART 959—IRISH POTATOES GROWN IN THE COUNTIES OF CROOK, DESCHUTES, JEFFERSON, KLAMATH, AND LAKE IN OREGON, AND MODOC AND SISKIYOU IN CALIFORNIA

EXEMPTION CERTIFICATES AND SAFEGUARDS

A notice of proposed rule making regarding rules and regulations for the issuance of exemption certificates and the establishment of safeguards, to be made effective under Marketing Agreement No. 114 and Order No. 59, as amended (7 CFR Part 959) regulating the handling of Irish potatoes grown in the counties of Crook, Deschutes, Jefferson, Klamath, and Lake in the State of Oregon, and Modoc and Siskiyou in the State of California, was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (16 F. R. 1680). This regulatory program is effective pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.). After consideration of all relevant matters presented, including the rules and regulations set forth in the aforesaid notice, which rules and regulations were adopted and submitted for approval by the Oregon-California Potato Committee, established pursuant to said marketing agreement and order, the following rules and regulations are hereby approved, and such rules and regulations supersede the exemption rules and regulations heretofore issued under Order No. 59 and currently in effect, and such prior rules and regulations are hereby terminated and revoked as of the effective date of the rules and regulations hereinafter set forth.

Sec.
959.100 General.
959.101 Definitions.
959.102 Area determinations.
959.103 Exemption certificates.
959.104 Safeguards for special purpose shipments.

AUTHORITY: §§ 959.100 to 959.104 issued under sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. and Sup. 608c.

§ 959.100 General. Unless otherwise provided in the marketing agreement and order, or by specific direction of the committee, all reports, applications, submittals, requests, and communications in connection with the marketing agreement and order shall be addressed to the committee at its principal office.

§ 959.101 Definitions. For the purpose of §§ 959.100 to 959.104, "agreement" means Marketing Agreement No. 114 and "order" means Order No. 59, as amended (7 CFR Part 959), regulating the handling of Irish potatoes grown in the counties of Crook, Deschutes, Jefferson, Klamath, and Lake in Oregon, and Modoc and Siskiyou in California, and the terms used in such sections shall have the meanings set forth in said agreement and order.

§ 959.102 Area determinations. "Immediate production area" and "immediate shipping area", respectively, are synonymous with "district."

§ 959.103 Exemption certificates—(a) Application. Any producer or handler applying for exemption from regulations issued pursuant to § 959.4 shall file such application with the committee, or its duly designated agent for such purpose, on forms to be furnished by the committee. Each application shall state (1) the name and address of the applicant, (2) the grade, size, and quality regulations from which exemption is requested, and (3) facts demonstrating that the potatoes, for which exemption is requested, were adversely affected by acts beyond the applicant's reasonable expectation and control. In addition, producer applications shall set forth the information required by subparagraphs (1), (2), (3) and (4) of this paragraph; and handler applications by subparagraphs (5), (6), (7) and (8) of this paragraph; and all applications shall set forth such additional information as the committee may find necessary in making determinations with respect to such applications.

(1) The location of the applicant's farm or ranch, and the field or storage facility where the applicant's potato crop may be inspected;

(2) The applicant's acreage and production of potatoes for the current season, varieties produced, and the quantity of each variety stated in terms of hundredweights, grades, and sizes;

(3) An estimate of the percentage of such applicant's potato crop which cannot be shipped because of regulations issued and in effect pursuant to § 959.4, stated in terms of varieties, grades, and sizes;

(4) A statement of the amount of the applicant's potato crop (i) which has been sold during the current marketing season, and (ii) remaining to be sold, each stated in terms of varieties, hundredweights, grades, and sizes;

(5) The quantity of potatoes acquired by the applicant during and immediately following the digging season and stored, stated in terms of varieties, hundredweights, grades, and sizes;

(6) The location of the cellar, warehouse, or other storage facility where such potatoes are stored;

(7) An estimate of the percentage of the applicant's holdings of ungraded potatoes which cannot be shipped because of a regulation issued and in effect pursuant to § 959.4, stated in terms of varieties, grades, and sizes; and

(8) A statement of the total amount of potatoes referred to in subparagraph (5) of this paragraph which have been sold by the applicant during the current marketing season and the total amount of such potatoes remaining to be sold, each in terms of varieties, hundredweights, grades, and sizes.

(b) Investigation of applications. (1) Each exemption application filed with the committee shall be accompanied by the applicant's certified statement setting forth the total quantity of such applicant's potatoes which have been graded; the quantity of such potatoes which are culls; the quantity of such potatoes which meet regulatory requirements in effect on the date of the application; and the quantity of such potatoes (exclusive of culls) which fail to meet such requirements on such date. Such certified statement shall be based upon the actual packout or grading of such potatoes. The committee, or any specifically authorized representative thereof, including a Federal-State inspector, may make such further investigations deemed necessary by the committee to verify the foregoing statements, and the cost of any such Federal-State inspection shall be borne by the applicant for exemption. If more than one exemption certificate is issued to an applicant during a marketing season, the total quantity of potatoes authorized to be shipped by such certificates shall not exceed the proportion specified in paragraph (c) of this section.

(2) The committee shall keep account of the exemptions issued to applicants in those cases where the exemption certificate covers only a portion of the applicant's production or storage holdings. The quantity of potatoes exempted, if computed on a part of an applicant's production or storage holdings, shall be taken into consideration prior to issuing any future exemptions on the remainder of such applicant's production or storage holdings and shall be computed as part of the exemptions granted to such applicant during the then current season.

(3) In any case where the committee feels that the total quantity of graded potatoes referred to in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph is not representative of the applicant's entire production or ungraded storage holdings, the committee may require the exemption application to be accompanied by a report of a Federal-State inspector, which report shall contain the following:

(i) A statement by the inspector that he personally visited the farm, ranch, cellar, warehouse, or storage facility described in the application, and that a representative sample of the potatoes remaining therein or contained thereon was taken by him;

(ii) A statement of the percentage of the potatoes sampled by him which meet the grade, size, and quality requirements of regulation then in effect;

(iii) A statement of the defects or damage causing such potatoes to fail to meet such grade, size, and quality requirements. In the event that different regulations are in effect for different varieties of potatoes, the inspector's report shall show such percentages for each variety separately. The cost of the above inspection shall be borne by the applicant for exemption. The committee, or any specifically authorized representative thereof, may make such investigations as is deemed necessary to determine whether the exemption requested should be granted.

(c) Issuance of certificate. (1) Whenever the committee finds and determines, from proof satisfactory to the committee, that the applicant is entitled to an exemption certificate, the committee shall issue or authorize the issuance of an exemption certificate, which shall authorize the applicant to ship, or cause to be shipped, such quantity of potatoes which fail to meet the minimum grade, size, and quality requirements in effect at the time thereof as is authorized by § 959.4 (g).

(2) The manager of the committee, or any employee authorized by him may issue exemption certificates for and on behalf of the committee: Provided, That the committee shall have first determined the "average proportions" or percentages referred to in § 959.4 (g).

(3) If it is determined that an applicant is not entitled to an exemption certificate, the applicant shall be so advised in writing and given the reasons therefor.

(4) Each certificate of exemption issued as provided in this section shall contain the producer's or handler's name and address; the location of his farm or ranch, or, in the case of a handler, the location of his cellar, warehouse or storage facility with respect to which the exemption is granted; the particular grade, size, and quality regulations from which exemption is granted; the amount of potatoes which may be shipped by virtue of such exemption; and such other information as may be necessary to evidence the rights of the producer or handler to ship potatoes which do not meet the requirements of particular grade, size, and quality regulations. Each certificate of exemption shall be transferable, in whole or in part, with the potatoes in accordance with the amount of potatoes transferred.

(d) Reports and records. For the purpose of enabling the committee to perform its functions, pursuant to the provisions of this part, each handler shall report shipments under exemption certificates to the committee in such form and at such times and substantiated in such manner as shall be prescribed by the committee. All forms, reports, correspondence and documents used, pursuant to this subpart, shall be kept on file by the committee and records thereof shall be maintained by the manager of the committee. A record of all exemption certificates issued (if any) shall be furnished weekly by the manager to the Secretary of Agriculture.

§ 959.104 Safeguards for special purpose shipments—(a) Application for Certificates of Privilege. (1) All handlers desiring to make shipments of potatoes for the following purposes shall, when such shipments are regulated pursuant to § 959.5, obtain from the committee prior to initiating such shipments, a Certificate or Certificates of Privilege permitting such shipments:

(i) Grading or storing in the production area;

(ii) Export;

(iii) Distribution by relief agencies or consumption by charitable institutions;

(iv) Manufacture or conversion into specified products or by-products;

(v) Livestock feed.

(2) Handlers desiring to make shipments of seed potatoes may be required to first apply to the committee for and obtain a Certificate or Certificates of Privilege permitting such shipments.

(3) Applications for Certificates of Privilege shall be made on forms furnished by the committee. Each application shall contain the name and address of the handler, the quantity of potatoes to be shipped, name of the consignee, destination, certification as to correctness of statements made, a statement that the applicant will comply with disposition stated therein, and such other information or documents as the committee may require in safeguarding against the entry of such potatoes into trade channels other than those for which the Certificate or Certificates of Privilege were granted.

(b) Reports. Each handler shipping potatoes for any purpose set forth in paragraph (a) of this section shall supply the committee with a report thereon showing the name and address of the shipper, car or truck number, Federal-State Inspection Certificate number (if such inspection is required by regulation at time of such shipment), loading point, destination, and consignee.

(c) Denial and appeals. The committee may rescind a Certificate, or Certificates of Privilege, issued to a handler pursuant to this section, or deny Certificates of Privilege to a handler, upon proof satisfactory to the committee that such handler has shipped potatoes contrary to the provisions of this section. Such committee action denying a Certificate or Certificates of Privilege shall apply to and not exceed a reasonable period of time as determined by the committee. Any handler who has been denied a Certificate of Privilege, or who has had a Certificate of Privilege rescinded, may appeal to the committee for reconsideration. Such appeal shall be in writing.

It is hereby found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give 30-day notice of the effective date of this subpart in that (a) shipments of potatoes from the production area are now being made and have been taking place since the beginning of harvest for the 1950 crop year; (b) more orderly marketing in the public interest than would otherwise prevail will be promoted by effectuating the rules and regulations hereinafter set forth on and after the effective date of this subpart; (c) compliance with the rules and regulations will require no preparation on the part of producers and handlers which cannot be completed by the effective date of this subpart; (d) notice has been given of the proposed rules and regulations by publication thereof as required by law (16 F. R. 1680); and (e) the rules and regulations should be approved upon publication of this subpart in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 12th day of April 1951, to be effective upon the publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Secretary of Agriculture.

[Orange Reg. 367]

PART 966—ORANGES GROWN IN CALIFORNIA OR IN ARIZONA

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

§ 966.513 Orange Regulation 367—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the provisions of Order No. 66, as amended (7 CFR Part 966; 14 F. R. 3614), regulating the handling of oranges grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Orange Administrative Committee, established under the said amended order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of the quantity of such oranges which may be handled, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective as hereinafter set forth. Shipments of oranges, grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, are currently subject to regulation pursuant to said amended order; the recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified herein was promptly submitted to the Department after an open meeting of the Orange Administrative Committee on April 12, 1951, such meeting was held, after giving due notice thereof to consider recommendations for regulation, and interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit their views at this meeting; the provisions of this section, including its effective time, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such oranges; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period hereinafter specified; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject thereto which cannot be completed by the effective time thereof.

(b) Order. (1) The quantity of oranges grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona which may be handled during the period beginning 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., April 15, 1951, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., April 22, 1951, is hereby fixed as follows:

(i) Valencia oranges. (a) Prorate District No. 1: 3 carloads;

(b) Prorate District No. 2: No movement;

(c) Prorate District No. 3: 80 carloads;

(d) Prorate District No. 4: No movement.

(ii) Oranges other than Valencia oranges. (a) Prorate District No. 1: Unlimited movement;

(b) Prorate District No. 2: 1,200 carloads;

(c) Prorate District No. 3: Unlimited movement;

(d) Prorate District No. 4: Unlimited movement.

(2) The prorate base of each handler who has made application therefor, as provided in the said amended order, is hereby fixed in accordance with the prorate base schedule which is attached hereto and made a part hereof by this reference.

(3) As used in this section, "handled," "handler," "varieties," "carloads," and "prorate base" shall have the same meaning as when used in the said amended order; and the terms "Prorate District No. 1," "Prorate District No. 2," "Prorate District No. 3," and "Prorate District No. 4" shall each have the same meaning as given to the respective terms in § 966.107, as amended (15 F. R. 8712), of the current rules and regulations (7 CFR 966.103 et seq.), as amended (15 F. R. 8712).

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. and Sup. 608c)

Done at Washington, D. C., this 13th day of April 1951.

TITLE 8—ALIENS AND NATIONALITY

Chapter I—Immigration and Naturalization Service, Department of Justice

Subchapter B—Immigration Regulations

PART 105—HEAD TAX

EXEMPTION

MARCH 2, 1951.

Effective as of July 13, 1950, paragraph (r) of § 105.3 of Chapter I, Title 8 of the Code of Federal Regulations, is amended so that when taken with the introductory sentence it will read as follows:

§ 105.3 Aliens not subject to head tax. The head tax shall not be levied upon the following classes of aliens:

* * * * * * *

(r) Eligible displaced persons, eligible displaced orphans, persons of German ethnic origin, and adopted children. Eligible displaced persons and eligible displaced orphans as defined in sections 2 (c), 2 (d), 2 (e), and 2 (g) of the Displaced Persons Act of 1948, as amended, and persons of German ethnic origin and the adopted children of American citizens who qualify for admission under sections 12 (a) and 12 (c), respectively, of the Displaced Persons Act of 1948, as amended.

(Sec. 23, 39 Stat. 892, sec. 24, 43 Stat. 166, sec. 37, 54 Stat. 675; 8 U. S. C. and Sup. 102, 222, 458. Interprets or applies sec. 5, 62 Stat. 1011, sec. 10, Pub. Law 555, 81st Cong.; 50 U. S. C. App. Sup., 1954)

The amendatory regulation prescribed by this order is necessary to carry out the amendment to the Displaced Persons Act of 1948 made by section 10 of Public Law 555, 81st Congress, which was approved on June 16, 1950, and which became effective on that date. Compliance with the provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 238; 5 U. S. C. 1003) is impracticable and unnecessary because the amendatory regulation prescribed by this order merely recognizes a statutory exemption, which is clearly advantageous to persons affected thereby.

A. R. MACKEY,
Acting Commissioner,
Immigration and Naturalization.

Approved: April 10, 1951.

J. HOWARD MCGRATH,
Attorney General.

PART 170—REGISTRATION AND FINGERPRINTING OF ALIENS IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE ALIEN REGISTRATION ACT, 1940

REPLACEMENT OF ALIEN REGISTRATION RECEIPT CARDS

MARCH 19, 1951.

Section 170.9 of Chapter I, Title 8 of the Code of Federal Regulations, is amended to read as follows:

§ 170.9 Issuance of new alien registration receipt card in changed name, or in lieu of one lost, mutilated, destroyed, or on Form AR-3 or AR-103. (a) Any alien lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence whose name has been changed after registration by order of court or by marriage, or whose alien registration receipt card has been lost, mutilated, or destroyed, or who is in possession of a receipt card that does not constitute prima-facie evidence of his lawful admission for permanent residence (Forms AR-3 and AR-103), may apply for a new receipt card. Application therefor shall be made under oath or affirmation on Form AR-16. If the alien is less than fourteen years of age, the application shall be made by his parent or guardian. If no parent or guardian is available, the matter shall be reported to the district director having jurisdiction over the case for instructions concerning the procedure to be followed in replacing the original receipt card.

(b) The application shall be submitted to the appropriate Immigration and Naturalization Service field office as required by § 60.30 (a) of this chapter, and shall be accompanied by two photographs of the alien which shall meet the specifications prescribed therefor by § 364.1 of this chapter, by a fee of one dollar in accordance with section 342 (b) (8) of the Nationality Act of 1940, remitted as required by § 60.30 (b) of this chapter and, if the application is for the issuance of a receipt card in a changed name, by appropriate documentary evidence of such change. If the applicant is in possession of a mutilated receipt card, a Form AR-3 or AR-103 receipt card, or an immigrant identification card, the same must be surrendered before a new receipt card is issued.

(c) When an application for a new receipt card is received, an investigation shall, if necessary, be conducted by an officer of the Immigration and Naturalization Service for the purpose of determining whether or not the application should be granted. The officer considering the case shall submit a report in writing to the district director for consideration and decision on the application.

(d) Upon consideration of the application and record, the district director may, if satisfied that the applicant's name has been changed after registration by order of court or by marriage, or that the original receipt card has been lost, mutilated, destroyed, or was issued on Form AR-3 or AR-103 for which a replacement is desired, and that the applicant has been lawfully admitted for permanent residence, issue a new receipt card on Form I-151, which shall be mailed to the alien. Form I-151 shall be utilized as the new receipt card notwithstanding that the card which is alleged to be lost, mutilated, destroyed, or for which a replacement is desired, was issued originally on Form AR-3 or AR-103. The district director shall place thereupon the proper registration number, affix the alien's photograph, and mark the form to show that it is a duplicate of an original receipt card which has been lost, mutilated, destroyed, or surrendered. The new receipt card on Form I-151 shall be mailed by the district director directly to the alien or, if the alien is less than fourteen years of age, to his parent or guardian. If the district director is satisfied that a new receipt card should not be issued, he shall deny the application and take whatever action is deemed appropriate under existing laws and regulations. Upon denial of any application, the fee accompanying the application shall be refunded to the applicant.

(e) An alien seaman who has been admitted to the United States as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of section 3 (5) of the Immigration Act of 1924, has remained for 30 days or more, has been registered and fingerprinted, and whose alien registration receipt card (Seaman Form AR-103-S) has been lost, mutilated, or destroyed, shall be reregistered and given a new receipt card. A mutilated receipt card must be surrendered before a new receipt card is issued.

(Sec. 23, 39 Stat. 892, sec. 24, 43 Stat. 166, sec. 37, 54 Stat. 675; 8 U. S. C. 102, 222, 458)

A. R. MACKEY,
Acting Commissioner,
Immigration and Naturalization.

Approved: April 10, 1951.

PART 60—AIR TRAFFIC RULES

DANGER AREA ALTERATIONS

The danger area alterations appearing hereinafter have been coordinated with the civil operators involved, the Army, the Navy, and the Air Force, through the Air Coordinating Committee, Airspace Subcommittee, and are adopted when indicated in order to promote safety of the flying public. Compliance with the notice, procedures, and effective date provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act would be impracticable and contrary to the public interest, and therefore is not required. Title 14, § 60.13-1 is amended as follows:

The Matagorda Island, Texas, area, published on April 21, 1949, in 14 F. R. 1913, and revised on November 10, 1950, in 15 F. R. 7543, is further revised by adding the following:

Name and location (chart)	Description by geographical coordinates	Designated altitudes	Time of designation	Using agency
MATAGORDA ISLAND (San Antonio Chart). PART 600—DESIGNATION OF CIVIL AIRWAYS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

The civil airway alterations appearing hereinafter have been coordinated with the civil operators involved, the Army, the Navy, and the Air Force, through the Air Coordinating Committee, Airspace Subcommittee and are adopted when indicated in order to promote safety of the flying public. Compliance with the notice, procedures, and effective date provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act would be impracticable and contrary to public interest, and therefore is not required.

Part 600 is amended as follows:

1. Section 600.107 Amber civil airway No. 7 is amended by changing caption to read: "Amber civil airway No. 7 (Key West, Fla., to U. S.-Canadian Border)" and by changing last phrase to read: "Presque Isle, Maine, radio range station via a direct line between the Presque Isle, Maine, radio range station and the Mont Joli, Quebec, Canada, radio range station to the U. S.-Canadian Border."

2. Section 600.222 Red civil airway No. 22 is amended by changing caption to read: "Red civil airway No. 22 (Mount Clemens, Mich., to Rochester, N. Y.)" and by adding a first sentence to read: "From the Mount Clemens, Mich., Selfridge AFB radio range station to the intersection of the southeast course of the Selfridge AFB radio range and the west course of the Clear Creek, Ont., Canada, radio range, excluding the portion which lies outside the continental United States."

3. Section 600.617 Blue civil airway No. 17 (Bangor, Maine, to Presque Isle, Maine), is amended by changing last portion to read: "the intersection of the north course of the Houlton, Maine, radio range and the southeast course of the Presque Isle, Maine, radio range via the Presque Isle, Maine, radio range station to the Municipal Airport, Caribou, Maine, excluding that portion which lies outside the continental United States."

4. Section 600.681 Blue civil airway No. 81 is amended by changing caption to read: "Blue civil airway No. 81 (Charleston, W. Va., to U. S.-Canadian Border)" and by adding a last phrase to read: "from the intersection of the east course of the Cleveland, Ohio, radio range and the southeast course of the Sarnia, Ontario, Canada, radio range to the intersection of the southeast course of the Sarnia, Ontario, Canada, radio range with the U. S.-Canadian Border."

(Sec. 205, 52 Stat. 984, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 425. Interpret or apply sec. 302, 52 Stat. 985, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 452)

This amendment will become effective 0001 e. s. t. April 17, 1951.

PART 601—DESIGNATION OF CONTROL AREAS, CONTROL ZONES, AND REPORTING POINTS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

The control area, control zone and reporting point alterations appearing hereinafter have been coordinated with the civil operators involved, the Army, the Navy and the Air Force, through the Air Coordinating Committee, Airspace Subcommittee, and are adopted when indicated in order to promote safety of the flying public. Compliance with the notice, procedures, and effective date provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act would be impracticable and contrary to public interest, and therefore is not required.

Part 601 is amended as follows:

1. Section 601.13 is amended to read:

§ 601.13 Green civil airway No. 3 control areas (San Francisco, Calif., to Boston, Mass.). All of Green civil airway No. 3 including all that area within 5 miles either side of the en route and altitude change radials and the area between the altitude change and en route radials from the Fort Bridger, Wyo., omnirange station to the Rock Springs, Wyo., omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° north altitude change radials; from the Rock Springs, Wyo., omnirange station to the Cherokee, Wyo., omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° north altitude change radials; from the Cherokee, Wyo., omnirange station to the Rock River, Wyo., omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° north altitude change radials; from the Rock River, Wyo., omnirange station to the Cheyenne, Wyo., omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° north altitude change radials and from the Rock River, Wyo., omnirange station to the Laramie, Wyo., omnirange station via the direct en route radials; from the Laramie, Wyo., omnirange station to the Cheyenne, Wyo., omnirange station via the direct en route radials; Cheyenne, Wyo., omnirange station to the Sidney, Nebr., omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° north altitude change radials; from the Sidney, Nebr., omnirange station to the North Platte, Nebr., omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° north altitude change radials; North Platte, Nebr., omnirange station to the Grand Island, Nebr., omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° north altitude change radials; from the Grand Island, Nebr., omnirange station to the Omaha, Nebr., omnirange station via the direct en route radials, including all that area bounded on the north by Green civil airway No. 3 on the south by the Grand Island-Omaha direct en route radials and on the east by Amber civil airway No. 4. From the Chicago Heights, Ill., omnirange station to the intersection of the Chicago Heights omnirange 333° True en route radial and the Chicago-Midway ILS localizer course; from the Chicago Heights, Ill., omnirange station to the Millersburg, Ind., omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° south altitude change radials; Millersburg, Ind., omnirange station to the Toledo, Ohio, omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° north and south altitude change radials; Toledo, Ohio, omnirange station to the Cleveland, Ohio, omnirange station via the direct en route radials excluding danger areas; Cleveland, Ohio, omnirange station to the Youngstown, Ohio, omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° north altitude change radials and the Cleveland 116° True and the Youngstown 250° True altitude change radials; Toledo, Ohio, omnirange station to the Youngstown, Ohio, omnirange station via the intersection of the Toledo 119° True altitude change radial and the west course of the Wellington, Ohio, VHF VAR station including all that area bounded on the north by Green civil airway No. 3 on the east by Red civil airway No. 62, on the southwest by the Toledo, Ohio, omnirange 119° True radial and on the south by the west course of the Wellington, Ohio, VHF VAR station; Wellington, Ohio, VHF VAR station; the intersection of the east course of the Wellington, Ohio, VHF VAR station and the Youngstown 250° True altitude change radial; from the Youngstown, Ohio, omnirange station to the Philipsburg, Pa., omnirange station via the direct en route and the Youngstown 87° True and the Philipsburg 303° True altitude change radials; Philipsburg, Pa., omnirange station to the Selinsgrove, Pa., omnirange station via the direct en route radials; Selinsgrove, Pa., omnirange station to the Allentown, Pa., omnirange station via the direct en route radials; Allentown, Pa., omnirange station to the Matawan, N. J., VHF VAR station via the Allentown omnirange direct en route radial; from the Allentown, Pa., omnirange station to the Linden, N. J., nondirectional radio beacon via the Allentown omnirange direct en route radial; from the Allentown, Pa., omnirange station to the Caldwell, N. J., omnirange station via the direct en route radials; and from the Philipsburg, Pa., omnirange station to the Caldwell, N. J., omnirange station via the Philipsburg 83° True and the Caldwell 277° True altitude change radials; from Selinsgrove, Pa., omnirange station to the Caldwell, N. J., omnirange station via the Selinsgrove 78° True and the Caldwell 277° True altitude change radials, and from the Philipsburg, Pa., omnirange station to the Allentown, Pa., omnirange station via the Philipsburg 113° True and the Allentown 258° True altitude change radials, excluding that portion which lies more than 3 miles south of the Allentown, Pa., omnirange 258° True altitude change radial.

2. Section 601.14 Green civil airway No. 4 control areas (Los Angeles, Calif., to Philadelphia, Pa.) is amended by adding the following control areas before "Wichita, Kans., omnirange station" to read: "Gage, Okla., omnirange station to the Anthony, Kans., omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° northwest altitude change radials; from the Anthony, Kans., omnirange station to the Wichita, Kans., omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° northwest altitude change radials;"

3. Section 601.15 is amended to read:

§ 601.15 Green civil airway No. 5 control areas (Los Angeles, Calif., to Boston, Mass.). All of Green civil airway No. 5 including all that area within 5 miles either side of the en route and altitude change radials and the area between the altitude change and en route radials from the intersection of the Douglas, Ariz., omnirange 63° True en route and the Columbus, N. Mex., 276° True en route radials to the Columbus, N. Mex., omnirange station via the Columbus 276° True en route radial; from the Columbus, N. Mex., omnirange station to the El Paso, Tex., omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° north altitude change radials; from the El Paso, Tex., omnirange station to the Salt Flat, Tex., omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° north altitude change radials; from the Salt Flat, Tex., omnirange station to the Wink, Tex., omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° north altitude change radials; from the Wink, Tex., omnirange station to the Midland, Tex., omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° north altitude change radials; from the Midland, Tex., omnirange station to the Big Spring, Tex., omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° north altitude change radials; from the Big Spring, Tex., omnirange station to the Abilene, Tex., omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° south altitude change radials; from the Abilene, Tex., omnirange station to the Mineral Wells, Tex., omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° north altitude change radials; from the Mineral Wells, Tex., omnirange station to the Fort Worth, Tex., omnirange station via the direct en route radials.

4. Section 601.103 Amber civil airway No. 3 control areas (El Paso, Tex., to Great Falls, Mont.) is amended by adding concluding phrases to read: "from the Cheyenne, Wyo., omnirange station to the Douglas, Wyo., omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° east altitude change radials; from the Douglas, Wyo., omnirange station to the Casper, Wyo., omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° north altitude change radials."

5. Section 601.107 is amended by changing the caption to read: "Amber civil airway No. 7 control areas (Key West, Fla., to U. S.-Canadian Border)".

6. Section 601.209 is amended to read:

§ 601.209 Red civil airway No. 9 control areas (San Diego, Calif., to Winslow, Ariz.). All of Red civil airway No. 9 including all that area within 5 miles either side of the en route and altitude change radials and the area between the altitude change and en route radials from the San Diego, Calif., omnirange station to the Yuma, Ariz., omnirange station via the intersection of the San Diego 108° True en route radial and the Yuma 267° True en route radial; from the Yuma, Ariz., omnirange station to the Gila Bend, Ariz., omnirange station via the direct en route radials.

7. Section 601.222 is amended by changing caption to read: "Red civil airway No. 22 control areas (Mount Clemens, Mich., to Rochester, N. Y.)".

8. Section 601.609 is amended to read:

§ 601.609 Blue civil airway No. 9 control areas (Columbia, Mo., to United State-Canadian Border). All of Blue civil airway No. 9 including all that area within 5 miles either side of the en route and altitude change radials and the area between the altitude change and en route radials from the Columbia, Mo., omnirange station to the Kirksville, Mo., omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° east altitude change radials; from the Kirksville, Mo., omnirange station to the Des Moines, Iowa, omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° northeast altitude change radials.

9. Section 601.613 is amended to read:

§ 601.613 Blue civil airway No. 13 control areas (Houston, Tex., to Minneapolis, Minn.). All of Blue civil airway No. 13 including all that area within 5 miles either side of the en route and altitude change radials and the area between the altitude change and en route radials from the Lamoni, Iowa, omnirange station to the Des Moines, Iowa, omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° east and west altitude change radials.

10. Section 601.637 is amended to read:

§ 601.637 Blue civil airway No. 37 control areas (Casper, Wyo., to Rapid City, S. Dak.). All of Blue civil airway No. 37 including all that area within 5 miles either side of the en route and altitude change radials and the area between the altitude change and en route radials from the Rock River, Wyo., omnirange station to the Casper, Wyo., omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° east altitude change radials.

11. Section 601.661 is amended to read:

§ 601.661 Blue civil airway No. 61 control areas (Springfield, Mo., to Kansas City, Mo.). All of Blue civil airway No. 61 including all that area within 5 miles either side of the en route and altitude change radials and the area between the altitude change and en route radials from the Springfield, Mo., omnirange station to the Butler, Mo., omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° east altitude change radials.

12. Section 601.681 is amended by changing the caption to read: "Blue civil airway No. 81 (Charleston, W. Va., to U. S.-Canadian Border)."

13. Section 601.1003 is amended to read:

§ 601.1003 Control area extension (Beaumont, Tex.). From the Beaumont, Tex., radio range station extending 5 miles either side of the north course of the radio range to a point 20 miles north of the radio range station and extending 5 miles either side of the south course of the radio range to a point 25 miles south of the radio range station.

14. Section 601.1006 is amended to read:

§ 601.1006 Control area extension (Lake Charles, La.). From the Lake Charles, La., radio range station extending 5 miles either side of the south course of the radio range to a point 20 miles south of the radio range station and extending 5 miles either side of the north course of the radio range to a point 25 miles north of the radio range station.

15. Section 601.1007 is amended to read:

§ 601.1007 Control area extension (Laredo, Tex.). From the Laredo, Tex., radio range station extending 5 miles either side of the northwest course of the radio range to a point 20 miles northwest of the radio range station and extending 5 miles either side of the southeast course of the radio range to a point 25 miles southeast of the radio range station, excluding the portion which lies outside the continental limits of the United States.

16. Section 601.1021 Control area extension, Tampa, Fla. is revoked.

17. Section 601.1073 is amended to read:

§ 601.1073. Control area extension (Fresno, Calif.). All that area within a 35-mile radius of the Fresno Air Terminal extending clockwise from a line bearing 153° True from the Fresno Air Terminal to a line bearing 316° True from the Fresno Air Terminal, and extending 5 miles either side of the northeast course of the Fresno, Calif., radio range from the radio range station to a point 20 miles northeast.

18. Section 601.1112 Control area extension, Seattle, Wash., is revoked.

19. Section 601.1124 is amended to read:

TITLE 32A—NATIONAL DEFENSE, APPENDIX

Chapter III—Office of Price Stabilization, Economic Stabilization Agency

[General Ceiling Price Regulation, Supplementary Regulation 3]

GCPR, SR 3—FOOD, AGRICULTURAL AND RELATED COMMODITIES

Correction

In Federal Register Document 51-2329, appearing in the issue for Wednesday, February 14, 1951, section 1 (d) is corrected by changing the colon at the end thereof to a period.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 18, Amdt. 1]

CPR 18—MANUFACTURES' PRICES FOR WOOL YARN AND FABRICS

EXTENSION OF TIME FOR PERMISSIVE USE

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this amendment 1 to Ceiling Price Regulation 18 (16 F. R. 3039) is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

Ceiling Price Regulation 18 established methods by which manufacturers of wool yarns or fabrics are to determine their ceiling prices. Manufacturers subject to the order were directed to begin using ceiling prices established by Ceiling Price Regulation 18 on and after April 16, 1951.

Subsequent to the issuance of Ceiling Price Regulation 18 a substantial number of manufacturers subject to the regulation informed the Director of Price Stabilization that the computations necessary to determine ceiling prices could not be completed by April 16, 1951. Many of the larger manufacturers will have to compute the ceiling prices of over 500 items. Moreover, manufacturers who are currently delivering at prices fixed by the General Ceiling Price Regulation would on April 16, 1951, have to cease delivering those fabrics whose ceiling prices they have not yet computed under Ceiling Price Regulation 18, since, in the absence of such computations, they cannot obtain the requisite authorization from the Director of Price Stabilization to continue delivering at their former prices.

This amendment extends until May 5, 1951 the date upon which manufacturers must begin to use ceiling prices established by Ceiling Price Regulation 18. This extension of time will allow manufacturers an additional period in which to compute ceiling prices under Ceiling Price Regulation 18. Until May 5, 1951, they may, at their own option, use ceiling prices fixed either by the General Ceiling Price Regulation or Ceiling Price Regulation 18. The extension also will provide the additional time necessary for a manufacturer to obtain authorization to perform the contracts specified in section 8 of Ceiling Price Regulation 18.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Ceiling Price Regulation 18 (16 F. R. 3039) is amended as follows:

In sections 1, 8, 10 and 12 wherever the date April 16, 1951, appears, it is amended to read May 5, 1951.

(Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interprets or applies Title IV, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.)

This amendment shall become effective on April 16, 1951.

MICHAEL V. DISALLE,
Director of Price Stabilization.

Chapter VI—National Production Authority, Department of Commerce

[NPA Order M-4, as Amended Apr. 16, 1951]

M-4—CONSTRUCTION

This order as amended is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense, and is issued pursuant to authority granted by section 101 of the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this order, there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations. However, in the issuance of this amendment, consultation with industry representatives has been rendered impracticable due to the necessity of immediate action.

This amendment deletes the parenthetical phrase following "Swimming pool" in List A and adds "Tobacco auction warehouse" to List B.

As amended, NPA Order M-4 reads as follows:

Sec.
1. What this order does.
2. Policy of the National Production Authority.
3. Definitions.
4. Prohibited construction.
5. Exemptions.
6. Authorization for certain construction.
7. Multiple use of buildings, structures or projects.
8. Scope of this order.

14. Violations.
15. List A—Prohibited construction.
16. List B—Construction where NPA authorization is required.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 16 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

SECTION 1. What this order does. In order to further the purposes of the Defense Production Act of 1950 by conserving critical materials and services needed for the defense program, this order prohibits the commencement of construction of certain types of buildings, structures and projects unless specific exception is made, or authorization issued, by the National Production Authority. The construction prohibited generally does not further the defense effort, either directly or indirectly, and does not increase the Nation's production capacity for defense. The order allows, within specified limits, small construction jobs, and necessary maintenance and repair of buildings, structures or projects, and also permits, under specified circumstances, the restoration of buildings, structures, or projects in the event of a disaster, act of God, or an act of war.

SEC. 2. Policy of the National Production Authority. In the event that increasing shortages clearly indicate the necessity for such action, in the national interest, the National Production Authority may further limit the commencement of construction of additional types of buildings, structures or projects which do not support the defense effort, or increase the Nation's production capacity for defense.

SEC. 3. Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(a) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, and includes any agency of the United States or any other government.

(b) "Construction" means the erection of any building, structure, or project, or addition or extension thereto, or alteration thereof, through the incorporation-in-place on the site of materials which are to be an integral and permanent part of the building, structure or project.

(c) (1) "Commence construction" means to incorporate into a building, structure or project, a substantial quantity of materials which are to be an integral and permanent part of such building, structure, or project (for example, the pouring or placing of footings or other foundations).

(2) The following activities do not constitute commencing construction: Demolition of buildings; tearing out partitions; site preparation; erecting temporary fences or construction barricades, work sheds, and shanties; bringing utilities to the site; fabrication or processing of building materials, building equipment, or personal property to be installed.

(d) "Construction cost" means the total expense for demolition of existing structures in connection with a new construction, for site preparation, and for building materials, building equipment, labor and services used in the construction of the particular building, structure, or project, by whomever spent. It does not include the cost of personal property, or the expense for land acquisition, attorneys, architects, and financing.

(e) "Consumer goods" means articles or commodities that directly satisfy human wants or desires, and which are capable of use without further processing (for example, clothing, food, furniture, floor covering, household appliances, motor vehicles, etc.). They are distinguished from capital goods (for example, dynamos, industrial ovens, generators, etc.). They are distinguished also from production goods that satisfy wants only indirectly as factors in the production of other articles or commodities (for example, machine tools, heavy duty presses, etc.).

(f) "Damage restoration" means restoring to substantially the same size and condition on the same site, any building, structure or project which has been damaged by storm, fire, flood, or other disaster, or by act of God, or act of war.

(g) "Maintenance and repair" means such work as is necessary to keep a building, structure, or project in sound working condition or to rehabilitate a building, structure, or project or any portion thereof, when the same has been rendered unsafe or unfit for service by wear and tear, or other similar causes. The term does not include any building operation or job where substantial structural alterations or changes in design are made.

(h) "Personal property" means property used in connection with, but which does not become a part of, the building, structure, or project in the sense of its becoming a permanent part of the real property upon which it is located or in which it is installed.

(i) "Office building" means any building the principal use of which is to provide office space or office facilities, regardless of whether it is designed for the exclusive or partial use of its owner or is to be used commercially and rented to prospective tenants, including buildings for use by government agencies. The size of the building is not a determinative factor in deciding whether a building is an office building as the term includes both one-story and multistoried structures; but the term does not include a private residence with incidental office space located therein for the use of the occupant.

(j) "Hotel" means either or both an establishment furnishing sleeping accommodations for transient guests, or an establishment classified as a hotel under applicable State, municipal, or other local law.

SEC. 4. Prohibited construction. (a) (1) Except as permitted in section 5 of this order, or pursuant to an adjustment or exception granted under section 11 of this order, after midnight October 26, 1950, no person shall commence construction of any building, structure, or project to be used for, or in connection with, any of the purposes specified, as set forth in section 15 of this order.

(2) Since October 26, 1950, the National Production Authority has issued exceptions to permit the commencement of construction of specific buildings, structures, or projects of the type prohibited by section 15 of this order. All such exceptions granted prior to January 13, 1951, will cease to be effective 120 days after the date of issuance, unless construction has been commenced within that time; and construction of any such building, structure, or project may not be commenced thereafter without a further authorization from the National Production Authority.

(b) (1) After midnight, January 13, 1951, no person shall commence construction of any building, structure, or project to be used for, or in connection with, any of the purposes specified, as set forth in section 16 of this order, until a specific authorization therefor has been issued by the National Production Authority. As a general rule, no authorization will be issued prior to February 15, 1951. However, in emergency situations, an authorization may be issued by the National Production Authority prior to that date. (The conditions which must exist before an authorization will be issued are set forth in section 6 of this order.)

(2) Further, in matters involving unreasonable hardship, or when required in the interest of the national defense, the National Production Authority may grant an exception from this order at any time, pursuant to section 11 of this order, with respect to types of construction specified in section 16.

SEC. 5. Exemptions. The following construction in connection with the buildings, structures, or projects to be used in connection with any of the purposes specified in sections 15 and 16 of this order is exempted from this order:

(a) Maintenance and repair on any building, structure, or project.

(b) Small jobs of new construction or in connection with any such building, structure, or project including, but not limited to, alterations, additions, improvement, and modernization, provided the work does not require the use of partitions made in whole or part of metal, where the cost of all such work shall not exceed:

(1) In the case of alterations, additions, improvement, or modernization of hotels, store-space of department stores, office buildings, and loft buildings, 25 cents per square foot of occupied space for any consecutive 12-month period. (In computing this cost, both construction cost and all other expenses or charges incident to the work shall be taken into consideration.)

(2) In the case of any type of construction of all other buildings, structures, or projects specified in section 15 (List A) and section 16 (List B), $5,000 for any consecutive twelve-month period. (In computing this cost, only construction cost shall be considered.)

(c) Reconstruction of any such building, structure, or project following a fire, flood, storm, disaster, act of God, or act of war, which occurred on or after July 29, 1950.

(d) Construction by, or for the account of, the Department of Defense, the Atomic Energy Commission, or the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics.

(e) Buildings, structures or projects for radio broadcasting and television broadcasting.

(f) Printing establishments where the primary use of the building is the publication of a newspaper; or printing establishments which are operated by a publishing company primarily for the publication of books and periodicals.

(g) Terminal warehouses which are an integral part of a common carrier system.

SEC. 6. Authorization for certain construction. (a) Any person desiring to erect a building, structure, or project to be used for, or in connection with, any of the purposes specified, as set forth in section 16 of this order, may apply for a National Production Authority authorization to commence such construction. The application shall be made on NPA Form NPAF-24, copies of which are available at all field offices of the Department of Commerce, and should be addressed to the field office of the Department of Commerce in the region of the site of the proposed construction.

(b) Authorization under this section will be granted if the National Production Authority is satisfied that the desired construction conforms to the following requirements:

(1) It furthers the defense effort by providing facilities of the type specified in section 16 of this order in areas adjacent to military establishments or defense plants and projects, which construction the National Production Authority considers necessary to furnish or to supplement facilities in connection with the activities of the Defense Production Administration, the Department of Defense or the Atomic Energy Commission, including their programs for increasing production capacity; or

(2) It is essential to maintenance of public health, safety or welfare.

(c) Further, with respect to an application for authorization to construct a facility not directly related to the defense effort, the NPA will consider the type and quantity of materials on hand, and needed, for the facility, and the effect on the community at large if the authorization were denied.

SEC. 7. Multiple use buildings, structures, or projects. Where a building, structure, or project to be constructed is designed for a number of different uses and occupants, no portion thereof shall be constructed for use or occupancy in connection with any of the purposes specified in sections 15 or 16 of this order where the construction cost apportionable to such use or occupancy will exceed the small job exemption provided for in section 5 (b) of this order.

SEC. 8. Scope of this order. This order shall apply to construction in the 48 States, the District of Columbia, and in the territories and insular possessions of the United States.

SEC. 9. Prohibited deliveries. No person shall accept an order for, sell, deliver, or cause to be delivered, material, equipment, or supplies which he knows, or has reason to believe, will be used in violation of the provisions of this order.

SEC. 10. Defense against claims for damages. No person shall be held liable for damages or penalties for any default under contract or order which shall result directly or indirectly from compliance with any regulation or order of the National Production Authority (including any direction, directive or other instruction), notwithstanding that any such regulation or order shall thereafter be declared by a judicial or other competent authority to be invalid.

SEC. 11. Applications for adjustment or exception. Any person affected by any provision of this order may file a request for adjustment or exception upon the ground that:

(a) Such provision works an unreasonable hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade, industry, or other relative position; or that enforcement of such provision against him would not be in the interest of the national defense. In determining whether unreasonable hardship exists, the National Production Authority will consider, among other things:

(1) The extent of the work done by the applicant incident to the proposed construction.

(2) Whether the building, structure, or project requires reconstruction as a result of a fire, flood, storm, disaster, act of God, or act of war.

(3) Whether a building, structure, or project of the applicant has been seized by legal action under eminent domain, or condemned by responsible governmental authorities; and the applicant requests permission to replace such facility.

(b) Each request shall be made on NPA Form NPAF-24, copies of which are available at all field offices of the Department of Commerce, and should be addressed to the field office of the Department of Commerce in the region of the site of the proposed construction.

SEC. 12. Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to the Field Offices of the Department of Commerce, Ref: NPA, M-4.

SEC. 13. Reports. Persons subject to this order shall make such records and submit such reports to the National Production Authority as it shall require, subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act (Pub. Law 831, 77th Cong., 5 U. S. C. 139-139F).

SEC. 14. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provisions of this order, or any other order or regulation of the National Production Authority, or wilfully conceals a material fact, or furnishes false information in the course of operation under this order, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against such person to suspend any authority to commence or complete construction or such other assistance as may be rendered pursuant to this order.

SEC. 15. List A—Prohibited construction. All buildings, structures, or projects to be used for, or in connection with, any recreational, amusement, or entertainment purpose, whether public or private (unless authorized pursuant to section 6 of this order), including, but not limited to:

Amphitheater.
Amusement arcade.
Amusement device built into place on the site such as a roller coaster, merry-go-round, or similar device or kind. This shall not include demountable or portable equipment.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 15 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

SECTION 1. What this order does. This order applies particularly to dealers, processors, and manufacturers of all waterfowl feathers and down. Its purpose is to conserve waterfowl feathers and down in order to meet military requirements and to best serve the interests of the national defense. It places restrictions upon the sale, delivery, and processing of waterfowl feathers and down. It also supplements NPA Reg. 2 but only those provisions of Reg. 2 which are inconsistent with this order are superseded, and all other provisions of Reg. 2 continue to apply to the waterfowl feathers industry. This order also modifies and supersedes NPA Reg. 4.

SEC. 2. Definitions. As used in this order:

(a) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons and includes any agency of the United States or any other government.

(b) "Waterfowl feathers" means goose or duck feathers and down, separated from the fowl, domestic and imported, new and used, regardless of length, except flight feathers having no natural curl.

(c) "New waterfowl feathers" means waterfowl feathers which have not been previously incorporated into any product.

(d) "Used waterfowl feathers" means waterfowl feathers which have been previously incorporated into any product.

(e) "Processor" means any person who engages in the business of washing, steaming, blowing, or otherwise preparing waterfowl feathers for use, for his own account or for others.

(f) "Processed," with respect to waterfowl feathers, means any such feathers which have been washed, steamed, blown, or otherwise prepared for use.

(g) "NPA" means National Production Authority.

SEC. 3. Restrictions on processing of waterfowl feathers. No person shall process any waterfowl feathers except in accordance with the then existing specifications of the Department of Defense, the United States Coast Guard, or the General Services Administration, or except for the purpose of filling any DO rated order received by him.

SEC. 4. Restrictions on use of waterfowl feathers. (a) No person shall incorporate into any product or use in manufacture any waterfowl feathers, except to fill DO rated orders.

(b) No person other than a processor shall separate down from any waterfowl feathers.

(c) No person shall mix new waterfowl feathers with used waterfowl feathers, or mix any such feathers with chicken or turkey feathers, except in accordance with the then existing specifications of the Department of Defense, the United States Coast Guard, or the General Services Administration, or except for the purpose of filling any DO rated order received by him.

SEC. 5. Restrictions on sale and delivery of processed waterfowl feathers. No person shall sell, deliver, or accept delivery of any processed waterfowl feathers except to fill DO rated orders received by him.

SEC. 6. Disposition of rejected processed waterfowl feathers. No person shall dispose of processed waterfowl feathers which have been rejected as unsatisfactory by any person to whom delivery was tendered except as follows:

(a) He may process such feathers in accordance with specifications of the Department of Defense, the United States Coast Guard, or the General Services Administration, or for the purpose of filling any DO rated order received by him, and may dispose of such reprocessed feathers in accordance with the provisions of this order; or

(b) He may deliver such feathers to any other purchaser as permitted by this order; or

(c) He may dispose of such feathers in accordance with specific written authorization by NPA.

SEC. 7. Prohibited deliveries. No person shall accept an order for, sell, deliver, or cause to be delivered waterfowl feathers which he knows or has reason to believe will be accepted, held, or used in violation of this order.

SEC. 8. Applicability of NPA Reg. 4 to waterfowl feathers. Notwithstanding the provisions of NPA Reg. 4, the rating symbol DO-97 may not be applied or extended to any order or contract for waterfowl feathers.

SEC. 9. Exemptions. (a) The provisions of sections 3 and 4 of this order shall not apply to waterfowl feathers for personal use by the owner thereof.

(b) The provisions of section 5 of this order shall not apply to deliveries to the General Services Administration for stockpile.

SEC. 10. Adjustments and exceptions. Any person affected by any provision of this order may file with NPA a request for adjustment or exception upon the ground that such provision works an undue or exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry, or that its enforcement against him would not be in the interests of national defense or in the public interest. In considering requests for adjustment which claim that the public interest is prejudiced by the application of any provision of this order, consideration will be given to the requirements of public health and safety, civilian defense, and dislocation of labor and resulting unemployment that would impair the defense program. Each such request shall be in writing and shall set forth all pertinent facts, the nature of the relief sought, and the justification therefor.

SEC. 11. Records. Each person participating in any transaction covered by this order shall retain in his possession for at least 2 years records of receipts, deliveries, inventories, and use, in sufficient detail to permit an audit that determines for each transaction that the provisions of this order have been met.

This does not specify any particular accounting method and does not require alteration of the system of records customarily maintained, provided such records supply an adequate basis for audit. Records may be retained in the form of microfilm or other photographic copies instead of the originals.

SEC. 12. Audit and inspection. All records required by this order shall be made available at the usual place of business where maintained for inspection and audit by duly authorized representatives of NPA.

SEC. 13. Reports. Persons subject to this order shall make such records and submit such reports to NPA as it shall require, subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act (Pub. Law 831, 77th Cong., 5 U. S. C. 139–139F).

SEC. 14. Communications. All communications and reports concerning this order shall be addressed to National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C. Ref.: M–56.

SEC. 15. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or any other order or regulation of NPA or who wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information in the course of operation under this order is guilty of a crime and, upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This order shall take effect on April 16, 1951.

M–57—VEGETABLE TANNING MATERIAL

This order is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the authority granted by section 101 of the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this order, consultation with industry representatives has been rendered impracticable due to the necessity for immediate action.

Sec.
1. What this order does.
2. Definitions.
3. Restrictions on use of vegetable tanning material.
4. Restrictions on use of chestnut extract in blends for resale.
5. Adjustments and exceptions.
6. Records.
7. Audit and inspection.
8. Reports.
9. Communications.
10. Violations.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 10 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

SECTION 1. What this order does. The purpose of this order is to conserve vegetable tanning materials so as best to serve the interests of national defense and essential civilian requirements. It prohibits the use by a processor of any vegetable tanning material for any purpose other than those provided for in this order. It also prohibits a supplier from increasing the proportion of chestnut extract in any blend for resale above the proportion which he used during the year 1950.

SEC. 2. Definitions. As used in this order: (a) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons and includes any agency of the United States or any other government.

(b) "Vegetable tanning material" means any of the following materials and extracts or any blend or combination thereof:

Domestic raw materials and extracts:
- California oak bark.
- Chestnut oak bark.
- Chestnut wood.
- Hemlock bark.
- Sumac.

Foreign raw materials and extracts:
- Algarobilla (pods).
- Divi-divi (pods).
- Gambier.
- Hemlock bark.
- Mangrove bark.
- Myrobelans (nuts).
- Quebracho wood.
- Sumac.
- Tara pods.
- Tara powder
- Urunday.
- Valonia boards and cups.
- Wattle or mimosa bark.

(c) "Processor" means any person who consumed in any calendar month commencing with January 1950, to and including March 1951, or who consumes in April 1951, or in any calendar month thereafter, more than 500 tan units of chestnut extract or more than 2,500 tan units of vegetable tanning material (including chestnut extract), for any purpose.

(d) "Supplier" means any person engaged in the business of producing vegetable tanning material and any person who purchases such material for resale with or without alteration or blending.

(e) "NPA" means National Production Authority.

(f) "Tan unit" means 1 pound of 100 percent tannin as determined by the analytical methods of the American Leather Chemists Association.

SEC. 3. Restrictions on use of vegetable tanning material. (a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, and unless specifically directed by NPA, no processor shall use any vegetable tanning material for any purpose other than the following:

(1) The processing of leather.

(2) The manufacture of pharmaceutical products.

(3) The manufacture of tannic, gallic, or pyrogallic acid.

(4) The manufacture of water treatment materials.

(b) No processor shall use in the calendar quarter commencing April 1, 1951, or in any calendar quarter thereafter, in the drilling of oil or gas wells, quebracho in excess of 60 percent by weight of his average quarterly use of quebracho in such drilling during the 6-month period ending June 30, 1950: Provided however, That this paragraph shall not restrict the use, in the drilling of oil and gas wells, of any quebracho held by him as inventory on the effective date of this order, or which is in transit to him pursuant to any purchase order for quebracho placed by him prior to the effective date of this order.

SEC. 4. Restrictions on use of chestnut extract in blends for resale. No supplier shall use a greater proportion of chestnut extract in any blend for resale than the average proportion of chestnut extract he used in all blends for resale during the 6-month period ending June 30, 1950.

SEC. 5. Adjustments and exceptions. Any person affected by any provision of this order may file with NPA a request for adjustment or exception upon the ground that such provision works an undue or exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry or that its enforcement against him would not be in the interests of national defense or in the public interest. In considering requests for adjustment which claim that the public interest is prejudiced by the application of any provision of this order, consideration will be given to the requirements of public health and safety, civilian defense, and dislocation of labor and resulting unemployment that would impair the defense program. Each such request shall be in writing and shall set forth all pertinent facts, the nature of the relief sought, and the justification therefor.

SEC. 6. Records. Each person participating in any transaction covered by this order shall retain in his possession for at least 2 years records of receipts, deliveries, inventories and use, in sufficient detail to permit an audit that determines for each transaction that the provisions of this order have been met. This does not specify any particular accounting method and does not require alteration of the system of records customarily maintained, provided such records supply an adequate basis for audit. Records may be retained in the form of microfilm or other photographic copies instead of the originals.

SEC. 7. Audit and inspection. All records required by this order shall be made available at the usual place of business where maintained for inspection and audit by duly authorized representatives of NPA.

SEC. 8. Reports. Persons subject to this order shall make such records and submit such reports to NPA as it shall require, subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act of 1942 (Pub. Law 831, 77th Cong., 5 U. S. C. 139–139F).

SEC. 9. Communications. All communications and reports concerning this order shall be addressed to National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M–57.

SEC. 10. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or any other order or regulation of NPA or who wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information in the course of operation under this order is guilty of a crime and, upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This order shall take effect on April 16, 1951.

[NPA Regulation 3 as Amended Apr. 16, 1951]

REG. 3—OPERATIONS OF THE PRIORITIES SYSTEMS BETWEEN CANADA AND THE UNITED STATES

This regulation as amended is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the authority granted by section 101 of the Defense Production Act of 1950 and to implement the provisions of The Statement of Principles for Economic Cooperation issued by the Governments of the United States and Canada, dated October 26, 1950.

Sec.
1. What this regulation does.
2. Definitions.
3. Rated orders from the United States under the United States defense program placed with Canadian suppliers.
4. Rated orders under the Canadian Defence Program, placed with United States suppliers.
5. Certifications by Canadian purchasers to suppliers in the United States.
6. Maintenance, repair, and operating supplies, and industrial expansion and capital equipment assistance to persons located in Canada.
7. Relation to other regulations and orders of NPA.
8. Communications.
9. Violations.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 9 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. In order that the control, priorities, and allocations systems of the two countries be comparable in effect, and in order to coordinate the defense economies of the two countries, this regulation describes how and to what extent contracts or orders in support of the United States defense program or the Canadian Defence Program may have the benefits of the priorities system of the United States. Instructions have been issued by the Canadian Government under appropriate Canadian legislation to provide for priority assistance in obtaining essential Canadian materials and services for the United States defense program.

SEC. 2. Definitions. For the purposes of this regulation: (a) "Person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, or any other organized group, and includes specifically Canadian distributors and importers who have received orders for Canadian Defence and other approved purposes.

(b) "Maintenance, repair, and operating supplies" means MRO as defined in NPA Reg. 4.

(c) "Minor capital additions" means minor capital additions as defined in NPA Reg. 4.

SEC. 3. Rated orders from the United States under the United States defense program placed with Canadian suppliers. (a) If a rated order from a person in the United States, under NPA Reg. 2, is placed with a supplier located in Canada, either directly or through extension, the Canadian supplier may extend the rating received by him in order to acquire materials in the United States, to the extent permitted by the provisions of section 5 of NPA Reg. 2, and subject to the restrictions of section 6, NPA Reg. 2.

(b) A person located in Canada extending the rating to a supplier located in the United States, pursuant to this section, shall mark on his purchase order the prefix DO and the two-digit designation appearing on the rated order received by him, and shall affix thereto the additional statement to read as follows:

Certified under NPA Reg. 3.

Such certification shall be signed by him in the manner prescribed in section 8, NPA Reg. 2.

(c) If a supplier located in Canada requires priority assistance to obtain materials of Canadian origin to fill a rated order under the United States defense program, received by him from the United States, application should be made by him to the Priorities Division, Department of Defence Production, Ottawa, Canada, for appropriate action.

SEC. 4. Rated orders under the Canadian Defence Program, placed with United States suppliers. (a) Any Canadian Government Department or Corporation charged with procurement under the Canadian Defence Program, or other approved purpose calling for delivery of materials to such persons located in Canada by persons located in the United States, may make application through the Priorities Division, Department of Defence Production, Ottawa, Canada, to the National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: NPA Reg. 3, for authority to apply to such orders the DO ratings authorized by NPA Reg. 2. All orders to which DO ratings shall be applied under the provisions of this regulation, shall have equal standing to the ratings applied to United States orders under NPA Reg. 2.

(b) Unless NPA shall otherwise provide, the symbol "DO–47" shall be used for all such rated Canadian orders referred to in paragraph (a) of this section which are placed in the United States pursuant to this section. Such orders shall bear a statement to read as follows:

Certified under NPA Reg. 3

This certification shall be signed in the manner prescribed in section 8 of NPA Reg. 2.

SEC. 5. Certifications by Canadian purchasers to suppliers in the United States. Certifications under sections 3 (b) and 4 (b) of this regulation constitute a representation to the supplier in the United States, to the National Production Authority, and to the Canadian Director of Priorities, Department of Defence Production, that the person signing such certification is either extending a rating received by him from a purchaser in the United States under the provisions of NPA Reg. 2, or is extending a rating specifically authorized by the National Production Authority under this regulation, which rating was applied for the purposes authorized.

SEC. 6. Maintenance, repair, and operating supplies, and industrial expansion and capital equipment assistance to persons located in Canada.—(a) MRO assistance. Any person located in Canada who, without priorities assistance, cannot obtain MRO and minor capital additions from United States sources, and who requires a DO rating to obtain them from a United States supplier, may make application through the Priorities Division, Department of Defence Production, Ottawa, Canada, to National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., for a quota and the right to apply a rating to such requirements under arrangements made by the Department of Defence Production and NPA giving a comparable effect to the provisions of this regulation in respect to Canadian requirements. No such authorization will be issued by NPA unless the application therefor is approved by the said Priorities Division. Unless NPA shall otherwise provide, the symbol "DO–47" shall be used on all orders placed pursuant to this section.

(b) Industrial expansion and capital equipment assistance. Under arrangements made with the Canadian Department of Defence Production, if a person located in Canada receives either a DO rated order from a person located in the United States, or an order for Canadian Defence or other approved purpose, and cannot fill such order without assistance in obtaining materials from the United States for plant improvement, expansion, or construction or obtaining machine tools or other items which he will carry as capital equipment, such Canadian supplier may apply to the Priorities Division, Department of Defence Production, Ottawa, Canada, for priorities assistance. Such request for assistance will be examined by the Priorities Division, and if approved by it, may be forwarded to National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: NPA Reg. 3, for action. Ratings for items included in this category may be applied only when so approved by NPA.

SEC. 7. Relation to other regulations and orders of NPA. All of the provisions of NPA Reg. 2 apply to all persons affected by the provisions of this regulation except to the extent that such provisions are inconsistent, in which event the provisions of this regulation prevail.

SEC. 8. Communications. All communications from persons located in Canada concerning this regulation shall be addressed to the Priorities Division, Department of Defence Production, Ottawa, Canada, and, where necessary, forwarded by that Division to the National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: NPA Reg. 3.

SEC. 9. Violations. Certain provisions of this regulation may be subject to the penalties pursuant to regulations and orders issued under the Canadian Defence Production Act and the Canadian Emergency Powers Act.

This regulation as amended shall take effect on April 16, 1951.

[NPA Reg. 4, as Amended Apr. 16, 1951]

REG. 4—MAINTENANCE, REPAIR, AND OPERATING SUPPLIES AND MINOR CAPITAL ADDITIONS

This regulation as amended is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of the regulation, before amendment, there was consultation with a number of industry representatives including trade association representatives, but it was found impracticable to consult with all affected industries because the regulation applies to all trades and industries. In the formulation of the regulation as amended, however, such consultation has been rendered impracticable by the necessity for immediate action.

NPA Reg. 4 as amended reads as follows:

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 12 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. This regulation provides a uniform procedure by which any business enterprise, Government agency, or public or private institution may use a DO rating (identified by the symbol "DO-97") to obtain limited quantities of maintenance, repair, and operating supplies (hereinafter collectively referred to as "MRO") as well as minor capital additions. The regulation does not limit the quantity of MRO or capital additions that a person may obtain without using this DO rating, except that, if he makes any use of the rating in any particular calendar quarter, his total acquisition of MRO (rated and unrated) for such quarter becomes subject to the limitations of the regulation. The rating may not be used to secure materials for personal or household use.

SEC. 2. Definitions. For purposes of this regulation:

(a) "Person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, or any other organized group and includes specifically any business enterprise, Government agency, or institution. Where such a "person" has more than one department, branch, plant, or other unit which maintains separate MRO records, each shall be treated as a separate "person" hereunder.

(b) "Business enterprise" means lawful activity conducted for profit in the United States (including its territories and possessions).

(c) "Government agency" means the United States, its territories and possessions, any of the 48 States or the District of Columbia, any political subdivision thereof, and any agency of any of the foregoing which is not a business enterprise.

(d) "Institution" means any lawful organization, public or private, within the United States (including its territories and possessions) which is neither a business enterprise nor a Government agency, and includes, more specifically, institutions such as schools, libraries, hospitals, churches, clubs, and welfare establishments.

(e) "Maintenance" means the minimum upkeep necessary to continue any plant, facility, or equipment in sound working condition, and "repair" means the restoration of any plant, facility, or equipment to sound working condition when it has been rendered unsafe or unfit for service by wear and tear, damage, failure of parts, or the like. Neither "maintenance" nor "repair" includes the improvement of any plant, facility, or equipment by replacing material which is in sound working condition with material of a new or different kind, quality, or design.

(f) "Operating supplies" means, in the case of a business enterprise, any materials which are normally carried as operating supplies according to established accounting practice, and also includes items (such as hand tools) purchased by an employer for sale to his employees for use only in his business and under circumstances where they would constitute operating supplies according to established accounting practice if issued to his employees without charge. In the case of a Government agency or an institution, however, "operating supplies" means any materials which are essential for conducting any activity or rendering any service, provided such materials do not constitute capital equipment according to established accounting practice but are consumed in the course of operation. Materials incorporated in a product ordinarily may not be treated by the producer as operating supplies but may be so treated where they are normally chargeable as an operating expense according to established accounting practice.

(g) "Minor capital additions" means any improvement or addition carried as capital according to established accounting practice where the total cost of materials used does not exceed $750 for any one complete capital addition. The term "one complete capital addition" includes all items entering into the improvement or addition as part of a single project or plan whether or not installed or completed at the same time, and the cost of all such items is to be included in figuring the total cost of the addition regardless of whether they are acquired with or without the use of a rating. No capital addition shall be subdivided for the purpose of bringing it or any part of it within the foregoing definitions. Where the capital addition requires construction, authorization to construct must be obtained wherever so required by any applicable order of the NPA.

(h) "MRO" means maintenance, repair, and operating supplies but does not include minor capital additions. The latter term is specifically used in this regulation wherever the meaning so requires. Products used for "MRO" (or materials required for incorporation in such products) shall not be deemed "MRO" as to the producer of such products (except as provided in paragraph (f) of this section) even though he sells them for use by others as "MRO." However, when he receives rated orders for such products, he may extend the rating to get materials to be incorporated in the products. Materials or products sold by a distributor thereof for use by others as "MRO" shall not be deemed "MRO" as to such distributor but, when he receives rated orders for them, he may extend the rating to get them.

SEC. 3. DO rating assigned. (a) The NPA hereby assigns to every business enterprise, Government agency, and institution the right to apply a DO rating to obtain MRO and minor capital additions except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section and subject to the quantity restrictions specified in section 5 of this regulation. Such DO rating shall be applied by placing on the order for MRO or minor capital additions, or on a separate piece of paper attached to the order or clearly identifying it, the symbol "DO-97" together with the words "Certified under NPA Reg. 4." Such certification shall be signed as prescribed in section 8 of NPA Reg. 2. This certification shall constitute a representation to the supplier and to the NPA that the person making it is authorized under the provisions of this regulation to use the rating to obtain the materials covered by the order.

(b) The DO-97 rating shall not be applied or extended to obtain any of the materials listed in Table I at the end of this regulation. However, expenditures for all such materials, if MRO, may be included in computing the quotas referred to in section 4 of this regulation and must be included in making charges against quotas under section 5 of this regulation.

(c) A DO-97 rating which prior to April 16, 1951, was applied or extended to any contract or purchase order for any material listed in Table I, is hereby cancelled and such rating shall no longer have any effect whatever. Nothing herein shall be construed to mean that any such contract or purchase order itself is cancelled or otherwise affected by this regulation.

SEC. 4. Quarterly MRO quotas.—(a) General. Every person making any use of the DO-97 rating herein assigned must establish his quarterly MRO quotas in accordance with this section. In figuring such quotas, he may include all expenditures for MRO (including MRO materials listed in Table I) in the applicable 1950 base periods, but shall not include expenditures for minor capital additions.

(b) Standard quota. A person's standard quarterly MRO quota, to be used unless he elects to use the seasonal quota permitted by paragraph (c) of this section, is one-fourth of the amount he spent for MRO in the calendar year 1950 (or, if he operated on a fiscal year basis, in his fiscal year ending nearest to December 31, 1950). An election to use either the standard quota or the seasonal quota may not afterward be changed without prior written authorization of the NPA.

(c) Seasonal quota. A person may, if he so elects, take as his quarterly MRO quotas the amounts he spent for MRO in the corresponding quarters of the calendar year 1950 (or, if he operated on a fiscal year basis, in the corresponding quarters of his fiscal year ending nearest to December 31, 1950).

(d) Quotas where 1950 base inapplicable. A person not in operation throughout the year 1950 (calendar or fiscal) shall establish and report his quarterly MRO quotas as follows:

(1) Partial operation in 1950. A person who was in operation during a part of the year 1950 (calendar or fiscal) shall compute the amount he would have spent for MRO in that year, had he continued throughout the year the same rate of expenditure for MRO as during that part of the year when he was in operation, making such reasonable corrections as necessary to compensate for seasonal or other exceptional characteristics of the period of actual operation, so that the yearly amount so computed will be fairly representative of the year as a whole. His standard quarterly MRO quota shall be one-fourth of the amount so computed. If he elects to use seasonal quotas, he may apportion the amount so computed into four seasonal quarterly MRO quotas, in accordance with the seasonal demands of the activity in which he is engaged.

(2) No operation in 1950. If a person was not in operation in any part of the year 1950 (calendar or fiscal), his quarterly MRO quota (standard or seasonal) shall be the minimum amount of MRO which he determines to be reasonably necessary for his operation, but not in excess of $5,000 per quarter. If such quota is insufficient, an application for an increased quota may be made as provided in section 10 of this regulation.

(3) Notice to NPA. Any person who establishes a quarterly MRO quota in excess of $1,000 under the provisions of subparagraphs (1) or (2) of this paragraph must, within 30 days after his first use of a DO-97 rating pursuant thereto, notify the NPA in writing of the quota he has established, the base period he has used, the method by which he has figured the quota, and any corrections he has made for seasonal or other factors.

(e) Future use of increased quotas. If a person's quarterly MRO quota is increased by specific authorization of the NPA, he may continue to operate with the increased quota as his standard quota unless the increase is granted on a temporary or seasonal basis or is otherwise restricted by the terms of the authorization. An increased quarterly MRO quota granted as a seasonal quota may be used only in the corresponding quarter of subsequent years.

(f) Increases not retroactive. An increase in quota will not be granted for any period prior to the filing of the application and will not have the effect of retroactively authorizing receipt of MRO or minor capital additions previously received in violation of this regulation.

SEC. 5. Quantity restrictions. (a) Charges against quota. Every person who, during any calendar quarter, makes any use of the DO-97 rating assigned by this regulation, shall charge against his MRO quota for that quarter:

(1) All MRO material (including MRO materials listed in Table I) ordered for delivery during the quarter, whether or not obtained by use of the DO-97 rating, and

(2) All material for minor capital additions ordered for delivery during the quarter, if (but only if) obtained by use of the DO-97 rating.

(If, instead of computing his charges against his quarterly MRO quota on the basis of orders calling for delivery during a quarter, a person prefers to compute such charges on the basis of actual receipts of MRO during the quarter, he may do so. However, he cannot use one method for a part of his MRO and the other method for the remainder in any one quarter.)

(b) Excess of quota prohibited. No person shall use the DO-97 rating assigned by this regulation to get anything except material needed for MRO or minor capital additions nor shall any person who, during any calendar quarter, makes any use of the rating so assigned, order for delivery (or, if he is operating on the basis of receipts, he shall not receive) during such quarter a quantity of material chargeable against his quarterly MRO quota which exceeds the amount of such quota (nor, during the first month of such quarter, a quantity of such material exceeding 40 percent of such quarterly quota): Provided, however, That the quantity restrictions of this section shall not apply in any calendar quarter to any person whose aggregate charges against his MRO quota for that quarter do not exceed $1,000.

SEC. 6. Materials obtained for another's benefit.—(a) Materials supplied by service trades. Any business enterprise (such as a service repair shop) engaged in doing maintenance or repair work or installing minor capital additions for any other person (as defined in section 2 of this regulation) may use the DO-97 rating to obtain material therefor to the same extent that such person would be entitled to use it if he were doing the work himself. The cost of materials so obtained shall be charged to the MRO quota of the person for whom the work is done.

(b) Materials for operators under government franchise. Any person (such as the operator of a toll bridge or a contract garbage collector) who, pursuant to a franchise from or contract with any Government agency, performs any service for such agency, may use the DO-97 rating to obtain MRO or minor capital additions to the same extent that such agency would be entitled to use it if the agency performed such service itself. Such service shall, for purposes of computing the quantity restrictions under section 5 of this regulation, be treated as if performed by a separate unit of such agency, and the cost of the materials so obtained shall be charged against the quota of such unit.

(c) A person who is obligated to maintain, repair, or operate any plant, facilities, or equipment, under the terms of any lease or other agreement for the use of such property by another person, may use the DO-97 rating to obtain materials needed for such purposes. Expenditures for such materials shall be charged to the MRO quota of the person thus using the DO rating except that, if his purchase is made on a reimbursable basis for the account of the person using the property, the latter's MRO quota shall be charged.

SEC. 7. Use of material. If a person has acquired material for MRO or minor capital additions by use of the DO-97 rating and then finds that he has another use for it, he may use the material for such other purpose if he could have used any DO rating to acquire the material for such other purpose. However, if he uses the material for another rated purpose, he may not replace it in inventory by the use of the DO-97 rating assigned by this regulation. He may replace such material in inventory only by using the DO rating under which he might have obtained the material for the purpose to which it was devoted. If he uses material acquired under this regulation for another rated use, his records must be adequate to show that his purchases of material are substantially proportionate to his authorized rated uses.

SEC. 8. Relation to other regulations. (a) Rules governing use of rating. This regulation supplements NPA Reg. 2, which sets forth the basic rules of the priorities system, and the provisions of that regulation govern the use of the DO–97 rating herein assigned.

(b) Inventory limitations. Nothing in this regulation shall be deemed to authorize any person to order or receive any material if acceptance thereof would increase his inventory above a practicable working minimum as provided in NPA Reg. 1 or the limit fixed in any other applicable regulation or order of the NPA.

(c) Delegations to Government agencies. This regulation does not revoke or prevent the use of any authority delegated by NPA to any other Government agency whereby such agency may use ratings other than DO–97 for direct procurement of its own requirements of MRO or minor capital additions.

(d) Other regulations and orders. Nothing in the regulation shall be construed to relieve any person from the obligation of complying with such limitations on acquisition or use of materials or such other provisions as may be contained in any applicable regulation or order of the NPA or with any order of any other competent authority.

SEC. 9. Records and reports. (a) Records to be kept. Each person who makes any use of the rating assigned by this regulation shall make and preserve, for so long as this or any successor regulation remains in effect and for 2 years thereafter, accurate and complete records showing what his quarterly MRO quotas are, how he computed them, the factual justification for them and for corrections or revisions thereof, any elections made as to the use of seasonal quotas, methods of figuring quotas and charges against them, or other options exercised, all materials ordered or received for use as MRO or minor capital additions whether rated or not, and all other relevant data, in sufficient detail to permit an audit that determines for each transaction that the provisions of this regulation have been met. This does not specify any particular accounting method and does not require alteration of the system of records customarily maintained, provided such records disclose the above data and supply an adequate basis for audit. Records may be retained in the form of microfilm or other photographic copies instead of the originals.

(b) Inspection and audit. All records required by this regulation shall be made available at the usual place of business where maintained for inspection and audit by duly authorized representatives of the NPA.

(c) Other records and reports. Persons subject to this regulation shall make such further records and submit such further reports to the NPA as it shall require, subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act of 1942. (Pub. Law 831, 77th Cong., 5 U. S. C. 139–139F.)

SEC. 10. Adjustments and exceptions. Any person affected by any provision of this regulation may file a request for adjustment or exception upon the ground that the MRO quotas provided in section 4 of this regulation are insufficient for his requirements, that a specified provision otherwise works an undue or exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry, or that its enforcement against him would not be in the interest of the national defense or in the public interest. In examining requests for adjustment claiming that the public interest is prejudiced by the application of any provision of this regulation, consideration will be given to the requirements of the public health and safety, civilian defense, and dislocation of labor and resulting unemployment that would impair the defense program. Each request shall be submitted in writing and in triplicate, shall set forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought, and shall state the justification therefor. More particularly, where the relief sought is an increase of MRO quota, the applicant shall fully describe the nature of his business or other activity, indicating any seasonal or other unusual features, products made or distributed, or services or other activities performed, the quarterly volume of such business or other activity since January 1, 1950, etc.; state the amount spent for MRO in each quarter since January 1, 1950; specify the amount of increase in quota requested; and set forth in detail the facts and circumstances allegedly justifying such an increase.

SEC. 11. Communications. All communications concerning this regulation shall be addressed to the National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: Reg. 4.

SEC. 12. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this regulation or who wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information in the course of operation under this regulation is guilty of a crime and, upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against any such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This regulation as amended shall take effect on April 16, 1951.

Chapter XII—Defense Minerals Administration, Department of the Interior

[Mineral Order 7]

MO–7—SERIALIZATION OF MINES, SMELTERS, AND MINERAL PROCESSING PLANTS

This order is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the authority granted by the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this order, there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations.

Sec.
1. What this order does.
2. Definitions.
3. Applicability of order.
4. Serialization of mines, smelters and mineral processing plants.
5. Application by foreign producers.
6. Records and reports.
7. Adjustments and exceptions.
8. Violations.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 8 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.

SECTION 1. What this order does. The purpose of this order is to provide, by serialization of mines (other than petroleum, solid fuels and natural gas), nonferrous smelters, and mineral processing plants, the requisite information to enable the Defense Minerals Administration adequately to provide priority and allocation assistance under its programs relating to the maintenance and acquisition of facilities, machinery, equipment, and operating supplies by the mining industry.

SEC. 2. Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(a) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, or association, and includes any agency of the United States, or any other government or citizen thereof.

(b) "Producer" means any person operating a mine (other than petroleum, solid fuels and natural gas), a nonferrous smelter, or mineral processing plant.

(c) "Mine" means an operation (whether underground, open-pit, quarry or dredging), conducted for the primary purpose of extracting minerals (excepting solid fuels, petroleum and natural gas), and includes prospecting enterprises for the discovery, exploration or development of new or additional mining projects.

(d) "Smelter" means a mill producing non-ferrous metals by smelting or refining.

(e) "Mineral processing plant" means a plant engaged in the beneficiation or concentration of ores.

SEC. 3. Applicability of order. This order shall apply to producers in the United States, its Territories and possessions and to those producers in foreign countries who apply for assistance and whom the Economic Cooperation Administration, Office of International Trade, or the Canadian Division of the National Production Authority may represent as eligible for the programs of the Defense Minerals Administration.

SEC. 4. Serialization of mines, smelters and mineral processing plants. Priority and allocation assistance under the programs of the Defense Minerals Administration as set forth in section 1 of this order, will be given only to producers who have been granted serial numbers as provided in this order. Each producer, except producers subject to the provisions of section 5 of this order, shall file an application for serialization with the Defense Minerals Administration, Department of the Interior, Washington 25, D. C., on Form MF–100, not later than June 1, 1951. Applications shall be approved or rejected on the basis of the information disclosed in Form MF–100.

SEC. 5. Application by foreign producers. Foreign producers seeking assistance as set forth in section 1 of this order shall apply for serialization with the Defense Minerals Administration on Form MF–100 through the facilities of the Economic Cooperation Administration, or the Office of International Trade; in the case of Canadian producers, applications shall be filed through the facilities of the Canadian Division of the National Production Authority.

SEC. 6. Records and reports. Any producer granted serialization under the provisions of this order shall keep such records and submit such reports as the Defense Minerals Administration shall require, subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act (5 U. S. C. 139–139F).

SEC. 7. Adjustments and exceptions. Any producer affected by any provision of this order or by any action taken thereunder may file a request for adjustment or exception upon the ground that such provision or action works an undue or exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same industry, or that its enforcement against him would not be in the interest of the national defense or in the public interest. In considering requests for adjustment claiming that the public interest is prejudiced by the application or any provision of this order or by any action taken thereunder, consideration will be given to the requirements of the public health and safety, civilian defense, and dislocation of labor and resulting unemployment that would impair the defense program. Each request shall be in writing, in duplicate, and shall set forth all pertinent facts, the nature of the relief sought, and the justification therefor.

SEC. 8. Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order or willfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information in the course of operation under this order is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against any such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act.

This order shall take effect upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

JAMES BOYD,
Administrator,
Defense Minerals Administration.

Chapter XV—Federal Reserve System

[Regulation X]

REG. X—REAL ESTATE CREDIT

CASUALTIES

1. Effective April 16, 1951, paragraph (e) of section 5 of Regulation X is amended to read as follows:

(e) Casualties. The prohibitions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of section 4 of this regulation shall not apply to any extension of real estate construction credit as to which the Registrant accepts in good faith a signed Statement of the Borrower certifying that the proceeds thereof are to be used solely for the replacement, reconstruction or repair of a residence, multi-unit residence or nonresidential structure destroyed or substantially damaged by flood, fire or other similar casualty, or solely to finance the purchase or construction of a residence, multi-unit residence or nonresidential structure to be used in substitution for a similar structure of which the borrower has been deprived through or by reason of eminent domain or condemnation proceedings.

2. (a) The above amendment is issued by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System with the concurrence of the Housing and Home Finance Administrator, under authority of the "Defense Production Act of 1950", approved September 8, 1950, and Executive Order No. 10161, dated September 9, 1950.

The purpose of this amendment is to exempt from the regulation extensions of credit to finance the purchase or construction of a structure to be used in substitution for a similar structure of which the borrower has been deprived through or by reason of eminent domain or condemnation proceedings.

(b) Section 709 of the Defense Production Act of 1950 provides that the functions exercised under such act shall be excluded from the operations of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237) except as to the requirements of section 3 thereof.

Special circumstances have rendered impracticable consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, in the formulation of the above amendments; and, therefore, as authorized by the aforesaid section 709, the amendments have been issued without such consultation.

Chapter XVI—Production and Marketing Administration, Department of Agriculture

[Defense Food Order 2]

DFO 2—PROCESSED FRUITS AND VEGETABLES; SET ASIDE REQUIREMENTS

It is hereby found and determined that the provisions of this order are necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense; and this order, is, therefore, made effective pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong., approved September 8, 1950), Executive Order No. 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), Executive Order No. 10200 (16 F. R. 61), Defense Production Administration Delegation No. 1 (16 F. R. 738), and Secretary's Memorandum No. 1270, as amended (15 F. R. 6424; 16 F. R 2446). In the formulation of this order there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations.

This order is designed to provide, to the extent possible, for making available an adequate supply of processed foods for the requirements of government agencies to meet military and essential civilian needs. It delegates to the Director, Fruit and Vegetable Branch, authority to issue orders designating processed foods to be subject to set asides, the quantities required to be set aside, and the conditions under which commodities shall be set aside. The Director is also authorized to require records and reports and designate authorized purchasers of set aside processed foods. Processors will be required to comply with all orders issued pursuant to this authorization.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 11 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.

SECTION 1. Definitions. (a) "Director" means the Director of the Fruit and Vegetable Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, and any other officer or employee of the United States Department of Agriculture authorized to act in his stead.

(b) "Processed food" means any preserved product (including but not being limited to a product that is canned, frozen, or pickled) that the Director may, from time to time, specify that is produced from any one or more fruits or vegetables or products thereof.

(c) "Processor" means any person engaged in the commercial production of any processed food.

(d) "Pack" means the total quantity of any particular processed food produced by any processor during such period as may be specified by the Director.

(e) "Government agency" means any Department, Board, Agency, Commission, or government-owned or government-controlled corporation of the United States as may be designated by the Director.

(f) "Person" includes any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons or legal successor or representative of the foregoing.

SEC. 2. Restrictions. (a) The set aside requirements of this order are not, and shall not be deemed to be, a contract or commitment by Government agencies to purchase any processed food unless and until a contract is entered into for that purpose.

(b) Each processor shall set aside and reserve for the requirements of Government agencies such quantities of the processed foods produced by such processor as the Director may from time to time specify. All processed foods so set aside and reserved shall, unless and until released by the Director, be held for delivery to Government agencies.

SEC. 3. Authorization. The Director is authorized whenever he determines that it is necessary or appropriate to promote the national defense:

(a) To specify the processed foods that are to be subject to the provisions of this order;

(b) To specify the respective quantities of the processed foods (including the types, styles, varieties, grades, and container sizes and types) that are required to be set aside and reserved, as aforesaid;

(c) To specify the respective packs that are to be used in computing the aforesaid quantities;

(d) To designate an authorized purchaser or purchasers for processed foods set aside and reserved, as aforesaid, for Government agencies; and

(e) To release at any time any processed food that is set aside and reserved, as aforesaid, if he determines that such processed food is not required for Government agencies, and to notify the applicable processors thereof of such release.

SEC. 4. Contracts and other obligations. The provisions of this order and requirements pursuant hereto shall be observed without regard to contracts or obligations heretofore or hereafter entered into, or any rights accrued or payments made thereunder.

SEC. 5. Records and reports. (a) The Director shall be entitled to obtain such information from, and to require such reports and the keeping of such records by, any person as may be necessary or appropriate, in the Director's discretion, to the enforcement or administration of the act and the provisions of this order.

(b) Every person subject to this order shall, for at least two years (or such other period of time as the Director may prescribe), maintain accurate records of his transactions in, and use of, processed foods.

SEC. 6. Audits and inspections. The Director shall be entitled to make such audit and inspection of the books, records, and other writings, premises, and stocks of processed foods of any person, and to make such investigations, as may be necessary or appropriate, in the Director's discretion, to the enforcement or administration of the act and this order.

SEC. 7. Violations. Any person who violates any provision of this order, or requirement pursuant to this order, may be prohibited from receiving, making deliveries of, maintaining inventories of, and using processed foods. In addition, any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or requirement pursuant to this order, is guilty of a crime and may be prosecuted under any and all applicable laws. Further, civil actions may be instituted to enforce any liability or duty created by, or to enjoin any violation of, any provision of this order, or requirement pursuant to this order.

SEC. 8. Petition for relief from hardship. Any person affected by this order, or any requirement pursuant this order, who considers that compliance with this order would work an exceptional or unreasonable hardship on him, may file a petition for relief with the Director. Petitions shall be in writing and set forth all pertinent facts, the nature of the relief sought, and justification therefor. The Director may take such action with reference to the petition as he deems appropriate. If the petitioner is dissatisfied with the action taken by the Director on the petition, he shall obtain, by requesting the Director therefor, a review of such action by the Administrator. The Administrator, after the review, shall take such action as he deems appropriate and such action shall be final.

SEC. 9. Delegation of authority. The administration of this order and the powers vested in the Administrator, insofar as such powers relate to the administration of this order, are hereby delegated to the Director. The Director is authorized to redelegate to any employee of a Government agency any or all of the authority vested in him by this order.

SEC. 10. Territorial scope. The provisions of this order shall be applicable within the 48 States, the District of Columbia, and such territories and possessions as the Director may specify.

SEC. 11. Communications. All reports hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise provided in this order or in instructions issued by the Director, be addressed to the Director of the Fruit and Vegetable Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this order have been approved by, and subsequent reporting and record-keeping requirements will be subject to the approval of, Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 12th day of April 1951, to become effective on 17th day of April 1951.

HAROLD K. HILL,
Deputy Administrator, Production and Marketing Administration.

[Defense Food Order 2, Sub-Order 1]

DFO 2—PROCESSED FRUITS AND VEGETABLES; SET ASIDE REQUIREMENTS

SO1—CANNED VEGETABLES—SET ASIDE REQUIREMENTS

It is hereby found and determined that the provisions of this order are necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense; and this order is, therefore, made effective pursuant to the authority vested in me by Defense Food Order No. 2.[1] In the formulation of this order there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations.

This order names the canned vegetables which are required to be set aside out of the 1951 pack and reserved for procurement by Government agencies pursuant to Defense Food Order No. 2. In addition it provides a formula for determining the specific quantity of each canned vegetable to be set aside by each processor. This formula consists of the establishment for each processor of a "base pack", to which is applied a prescribed percentage stated in the order. The order prescribes a time schedule for processors to meet in accumulating the set-aside quantity as the packing season progresses. It also sets forth processors' reporting requirements. It designates the Quartermaster General, United States Department of the Army, and his designees as authorized purchasers of the canned vegetables so set aside and reserved.

The composition of the quantity of canned vegetables set aside under this order is not prescribed, but the order does indicate the preference of Government agencies with respect to type, style, grade, and container sizes and types for each canned vegetable.

[1] See F. R. Doc. 51-4571, supra.

The order does not apply to any processor whose aggregate set aside quotas for all canned vegetables amount to less than one carload.

5. Exemptions.
6. Reports.
7. Designation of authorized purchasers.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 7 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.

SECTION 1. Definitions. (a) Each term defined in Defense Food Order No. 2, shall, when used herein, have the same meaning as set forth for such term in said Defense Food Order No. 2.

(b) "Canned vegetable" means each of the processed foods produced during the quota period and listed in Column A of Table I.

(c) "Table I" means Table I set forth in section 4 of this order.

(d) "Quota period" means the period beginning on January 1, 1951, and ending on December 31, 1951, both dates inclusive.

(e) "Quota period pack" means, with respect to any canned vegetable, the aggregate quantity of such canned vegetable produced during the quota period.

(f) "Base period" means the two-year period beginning on January 1, 1949, and ending on December 31, 1950, both dates inclusive.

(g) "Base pack" means:

(1) With respect to any canned vegetable produced by any processor during both calendar years of the base period, one-half the aggregate quantity of the canned vegetable so produced;

(2) With respect to any canned vegetable produced by any processor during only one calendar year of the base period, the aggregate quantity of the canned vegetable so produced; and

(3) With respect to any canned vegetable that was not produced by a processor during the base period, the quota period pack of such canned vegetable.

SEC. 2. Canned vegetables to be set aside and reserved. (a) The aggregate quantity of a particular canned vegetable that each processor is required, pursuant to Defense Food Order No. 2, to set aside and reserve for the requirements of Government agencies shall be the lesser of (1) the amount obtained by multiplying his base pack for such canned vegetable by the percentage listed therefor in Column B of Table I, or (2) his quota period pack of such canned vegetable. Such aggregate quantity shall be the quota for such processor for such canned vegetable.

(b) The canned vegetable quotas are not required to be of any special composition; however, Table I sets forth the preferences of Government agencies with respect to the types, styles, grades and container sizes and types for each of the canned vegetables.

SEC. 3. Stocks to be set aside. (a) Except as otherwise required, each processor shall set aside and reserve his quota of each canned vegetable in accordance with the following schedule:

(1) At least 50 percent of his quota not later than the date on which the processor's aggregate production of his quota period pack of the canned vegetable is in an amount equal to 40 percent of his base pack of such vegetable; and

(2) The balance of his quota not later than the date on which such processor's aggregate production of his quota period pack of such canned vegetable is in an amount equal to 80 percent of his base pack of such canned vegetable.

(b) With respect to each processor whose base pack of a particular canned vegetable is his quota period pack, in accordance with section 1 (g) (3), the foregoing percentages shall be applied to the respective processor's estimate of his base pack.

SEC. 4. Table I—Canned vegetables: Set aside percentages and preferences with respect to style of pack, grade, and container sizes and types.

Canned vegetables (A)	Percentage of base pack (B)	Style: Sequence denotes preference unless otherwise specified (C)	Grade preference[1]: First (D)	Grade preference[1]: Second (E)	Preferred container sizes and types[2] (cans unless otherwise specified) (F)

[9] With not less than 13 points for drained weight, 21 points for color, and 19 points for absence of defects.

SEC. 5. Exemptions. The provisions of this order shall not apply to any processor whose aggregate set aside quotas for all canned vegetables amount to less than one carload.

SEC. 6. Reports—(a) Base period production. Each processor shall file with the Director, within 30 days after the effective date of this order, accurate reports on DFO Form-3, showing the following information with respect to each canned vegetable produced by such processor during each year of the base period:

(1) Date; name and address of processor; and

(2) Total quantity, in terms of dozens of containers, by container types and sizes.

(b) Quota period production. Each processor who proposes to produce any canned vegetable during the quota period which he did not produce during the base period shall file with the Director, (1) within 30 days after the effective date of this order, a report on DFO Form-3 showing his estimate of his production of such canned vegetable during the quota period, and (2) within 10 days after the completion of his pack of such canned vegetable, an additional report on DFO Form-3 showing his actual production thereof during the quota period. Estimated production and actual production shall be shown on DFO Form-3 in the column headed "1950" by striking "1950" and substituting therefor "1951", and by marking the form "Estimate" or "Actual", as the case may be.

(c) Time of filing. Any report required to be filed pursuant to this order shall be deemed to be filed when it is post-marked, if mailed, or when it is received by the Director, if otherwise delivered.

SEC. 7. Designation of authorized purchasers. The Quartermaster General, United States Department of the Army, and each of his designees for such purpose are hereby designated as authorized purchasers of canned vegetables set aside and reserved hereunder, pursuant to Defense Food Order No. 2, for the requirements of Government agencies, in such amounts as are specifically approved by the Director.

Effective date. This order shall become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

NOTE: All reporting requirements of this order have been approved by, and subsequent reporting and record-keeping requirements will be subject to the approval of,

Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 13th day of April 1951.

Tps. 103, 104, 105, 106, 107, 108, and 109 N., R. 79 W.

The areas described, including both public and non-public lands, aggregate approximately 1,820,160 acres.

Some of the public lands in the above-described areas were reserved for use, administration, and disposition in accordance with the provisions of Title III of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act of July 22, 1937, 50 Stat. 522, 525 (7 U. S. C. sec. 1011), and the related provisions of Title IV thereof, and the jurisdiction thereover was transferred to the Department of Agriculture in connection with the South Central South Dakota Project (SD-LU-2) by Executive Order No. 10046 of March 24, 1949.

The rest of the public lands within the above-described areas are scattered tracts aggregating approximately 96 acres in Nebraska and 5,080 acres in South Dakota. They are considered to be chiefly valuable for disposal at public sale. No application for these lands may be allowed under the homestead, small-tract, or desert-land laws or any other non-mineral public-land laws unless the land has already been classified as valuable or suitable for such type of application or shall be so classified upon consideration of an application.

This order shall not otherwise become effective to change the status of such lands until 10:00 a. m. on the 35th day after the date of this order. At that time the said lands shall, subject to valid existing rights and the provisions of existing withdrawals, become subject to application, petition, location, and selection as follows:

(a) Ninety-one day period for preference-right filings. For a period of 91 days, commencing at the hour and on the day specified above, the public lands affected by this order shall be subject only to (1) application under the homestead or the desert-land laws or the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, 52 Stat. 609 (43 U. S. C. 682a), as amended, by qualified veterans of World War II and other qualified persons entitled to preference under the act of September 27, 1944, 58 Stat. 747 (43 U. S. C. 279–284), as amended, subject to the requirements of applicable law, and (2) application under any applicable public-land law, based on prior existing valid settlement rights and preference rights conferred by existing laws or equitable claims subject to allowance and confirmation. Applications under subdivision (1) of this paragraph shall be subject to applications and claims of the classes described in subdivision (2) of this paragraph. All applications filed under this paragraph either at or before 10:00 a. m. on the 35th day after the date of this order shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at that time. All applications filed under this paragraph after 10:00 a. m. on the said 35th day shall be considered in the order of filing.

(b) Date for non-preference-right filings. Commencing at 10:00 a. m. on the 126th day after the date of this order, any lands remaining unappropriated shall become subject to such application, petition, location, selection, or other appropriation by the public generally as may be authorized by the public-land laws. All such applications filed either at or before 10:00 a. m. on the 126th day after the date of this order, shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at the hour specified on such 126th day. All applications filed thereafter shall be considered in the order of filing.

A veteran shall accompany his application with a complete photostatic, or other copy (both sides), of his certificate of honorable discharge, or of an official document of his branch of the service which shows clearly his honorable discharge as defined in § 181.36 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, or constitutes evidence of other facts upon which the claim for preference is based and which shows clearly the period of service. Other persons claiming credit for service of veterans must furnish like proof in support of their claims. Persons asserting preference rights, through settlement or otherwise, and those having equitable claims, shall accompany their applications by duly corroborated statements in support thereof, setting forth in detail all facts relevant to their claims.

Applications for these lands, which shall be filed in the Bureau of Land Management, Washington 25, D. C., shall be acted upon in accordance with the regulations contained in § 295.8 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations and Part 296 of that title, to the extent that such regulations are applicable. Applications under the homestead laws shall be governed by the regulations contained in Parts 166 to 170, inclusive, of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, and applications under the desert-land laws and the said Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, shall be governed by the regulations contained in Parts 232 and 257, respectively, of that title.

Inquiries concerning these lands shall be addressed to the Director, Bureau of Land Management, Washington 25, D. C.

OSCAR L. CHAPMAN,
Secretary of the Interior.

TITLE 49—TRANSPORTATION

Chapter I—Interstate Commerce Commission

[No. 10122]

PART 139—STANDARD TIME ZONE BOUNDARIES

BOUNDARY LINE BETWEEN MOUNTAIN AND PACIFIC ZONES

In § 139.7, Boundary line between mountain and Pacific zones, appearing in the 1949 Edition of the Code of Federal Regulations, the last sentence of explanatory note under paragraph (b) should refer to "mountain" zone instead of "central" zone. As amended the note should read:

NOTE: While the order in 78 I. C. C. 606 did not in terms modify the boundary in Utah, the effect was a slight modification as "the point last described" in the preceding paragraph, as revised, is Woodruff, Idaho, on the Malad Valley branch of the Oregon Short Line Railroad (now the Union Pacific System), whereas prior to that order it was Weston, Idaho, on the main line of that road. The effect was to include in the mountain zone Utah points on the branch line between it and the main line.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Production and Marketing Administration

[7 CFR, Part 29]

TOBACCO INSPECTION

ANNOUNCEMENT OF REFERENDUM IN CONNECTION WITH PROPOSED DESIGNATION UNDER TOBACCO INSPECTION ACT OF TOBACCO AUCTION MARKET OF LAMAR, S. C.

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture by The Tobacco Inspection Act (7 U. S. C. 511 et seq.) and in accordance with the applicable regulations (13 F. R. 9474–9479) issued thereunder by the Secretary, notice is given that a referendum of tobacco growers will be conducted from May 10 through May 12, 1951, to determine whether growers favor the designation of the Lamar, South Carolina, tobacco auction market for free and mandatory inspection of tobacco sold thereon.

Growers who sold tobacco on the aforesaid market during the 1950 marketing season shall be eligible to vote in said referendum. Ballots for use in said referendum will be mailed to all eligible voters insofar as their names and addresses are known. Eligible voters who do not receive ballots by mail may obtain them from the county agent or the office of the county PHA committee at Darlington, S. C., or from the office of the Planters Warehouse at Lamar.

All completed ballots shall be mailed to the Tobacco Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, P. O. Box 549, Raleigh, North Carolina, and, in order to be counted in said referendum, must be postmarked not later than midnight, May 12, 1951.

Issued this 12th day of April 1951.

DOMESTIC RABBITS AND EDIBLE PRODUCTS THEREOF

GRADING AND INSPECTION; U. S. SPECIFICATIONS FOR CLASSES, STANDARDS, AND GRADES WITH RESPECT THERETO

Notice is hereby given that the United States Department of Agricuuture is considering the issuance, as hereinafter proposed of revised rules governing the grading and inspection of domestic rabbits and edible products thereof and United States specifications for classes, standards, and grades with respect thereto, to become effective May 1, 1951, pursuant to the authority contained in the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 (60 Stat. 1087; 7 U. S. C. 1621 et seq.) and the Department of Agriculture Appropriation Act of 1951 (Pub. Law 759, 81st Cong. approved September 6, 1950). The proposed rules and specifications will supersede the currently effective provisions of Part 70 (7 CFR Part 70), insofar as applicable to domestic rabbits and edible products thereof, and will thereupon be promulgated as Part 54 (7 CFR Part 54). On March 13, 1951 (16 F. R. 2350), a proposed revision of the provisions in Part 70 insofar as applicable to poultry and edible products thereof, was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER; and it is contemplated that the revised poultry regulations and the revised domestic rabbit regulations would become effective at the same time.

A substantial portion of the provisions of the proposed rules and specifications has received thorough consideration throughout the country at conferences held with the industry and other interested persons. Among other things, the proposed revision of rules and specifications changes the provisions governing the grading of ready-to-cook domestic rabbits by requiring, as a prerequisite thereto, some form of prescribed inspection for wholesomeness; clarifies some of the definitions and provisions contained in the currently effective regulations (7 CFR Part 70); and provides changes in the classes and standards of quality for ready-to-cook domestic rabbits.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views, or arguments in connection with the proposals should submit the same in triplicate to the Chief of the Marketing Services Division, Poultry Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, Room 2099 South Building, Washington 25, D. C., not later than the close of business on the 15th day after the publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

The proposal is as follows:

SUBPART A—GRADING AND INSPECTION OF DOMESTIC RABBITS AND EDIBLE PRODUCTS THEREOF

DEFINITIONS

§ 54.1 Definitions. Unless the context otherwise requires, the following terms shall have the following meaning:

(a) "Act" means the following provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 (60 Stat. 1087; 7 U. S. C. 1621 et seq.) and of the Department of Agriculture Appropriation Act, 1951 (Pub. Law 759, 81st Cong., approved September 6, 1950), or any other act of Congress conferring like authority:

AGRICULTURAL MARKETING ACT OF 1946

• • • to develop and improve standards of quality, condition, quantity, grade, and packaging, and recommend and demonstrate such standards in order to encourage uniformity and consistency in commercial practices • • •

To inspect, certify, and identify the class, quality, quantity, and condition of agricultural products when shipped or received in Interstate Commerce under such rules and regulations as the Secretary of Agriculture may prescribe, including assessment and collection of such fees as will be reasonable and as nearly as may be to cover the cost of the service rendered, to the end that agricultural products may be marketed to the best advantage, that trading may be facilitated, and that consumers may be able to obtain the quality product which they desire. • • •

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE APPROPRIATION ACT, 1951

• • • Market inspection of farm products: For the investigation and certification, in one or more jurisdictions, to shippers and other interested parties of the class, quality, and condition of any agricultural commodity or food product, whether raw, dried, canned, or otherwise processed, and any product containing an agricultural commodity or derivative thereof when offered for interstate shipment or when received at such important central markets as the Secretary may from time to time designate, or at points which may be conveniently reached therefrom under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, including payment of such fees as will be reasonable and as nearly as may be to cover the cost for the service rendered. • • •

Marketing farm products: For acquiring and diffusing among the people of the United States useful information relative to the needed supplies, standardization, classification, grading, preparation for market, handling, transportation, storage, and marketing of farm and food products, including the demonstration and promotion of the use of uniform standards of classification of American farm and food products throughout the world. • • •

(b) "Administration" means the Production and Marketing Administration of the Department.

(c) "Administrator" means the Administrator of the Production and Marketing Administration of the Department, or any other officer or employee of the Department to whom there has heretofore been delegated, or to whom there may hereafter be delegated, the authority to act in his stead.

(d) "Applicant" means any interested party who requests any inspection service or grading service.

(e) "Carcass" means any domestic rabbit carcass.

(f) "Class" means any subdivision of a product based on essential physical characteristics that differentiate between major groups of the same kind.

(g) "Condition" means any condition, including, but not being limited to, the state of preservation, cleanliness, or soundness of any product and the processing, handling or packaging which may affect such product.

(h) "Condition and wholesomeness" means the condition of any product, its healthfulness and fitness for human food.

(i) "Department" means the United States Department of Agriculture.

(j) "Domestic rabbit grading and inspection service" means the personnel of the Administration who are engaged in the administration, application, and direction of domestic-rabbit grading and inspection programs and services pursuant to the regulations in this part.

(k) "Edible product" means any product other than live domestic rabbits.

(l) "Grader" means any employee of the Department authorized by the Secretary, or any other individual to whom a license has been issued by the Secretary, to investigate and certify, in accordance with the regulations in this part, the class, quality, quantity, and condition of products.

(m) "Grading" or "grading service" means (1) the act whereby a grader determines, according to the regulations in this part, the class, quality, quantity, or condition of any product by examining each unit thereof, or each unit of the representative sample thereof drawn by a grader, and issues a grading certificate with respect thereto; (2) in addition to the foregoing the act whereby the grader identifies, according to the regulations in this part, the graded product; and (3) any regrading or any appeal grading of a previously graded product.

(n) "Grading certificate" means a statement, either written or printed, issued by a grader, pursuant to the regulations in this part, relative to the class, quality, quantity, or condition of a product.

(o) "Identify" means to apply official identification to products or to containers thereof.

(p) "Inspected and certified" or "certified" means, with respect to any product, that it has undergone an inspection and was found, at the time of such inspection, to be sound, wholesome, and fit for human food.

(q) "Inspection," "inspection service" or "inspection of products for condition and wholesomeness" means any inspection by an inspector to determine, in accordance with the regulations in this part, (1) the condition and wholesomeness of domestic rabbits, or (2) the condition and wholesomeness of any edible product at any stage of the preparation or packaging thereof in the official plant where inspected and certified, or (3) the condition and wholesomeness of any previously inspected and certified product if such product has not lost its identity as an inspected and certified product.

(r) "Inspection certificate" means a statement either written or printed, issued by an inspector, pursuant to the regulations in this part, relative to the condition and wholesomeness of products.

(s) "Inspector" means any person who is licensed by the Secretary to investigate and certify, in accordance with the regulations in this part, the condition and wholesomeness of products. An inspector may be an employee of the Department or of a State; he may be a graduate veterinarian or a layman.

(t) "Interested party" means any person financially interested in a transaction involving any inspection or grading.

(u) "National supervisor" means (1) the officer in charge of domestic rabbit inspection service of the Administration, (2) the officer in charge of domestic rabbit grading service of the Administration, and (3) such other officers or employees of the Department who may be so designated by the officer in charge of the domestic rabbit grading and inspection service of the Administration.

(v) "Office of grading" means the office of any grader.

(w) "Official identification" means the symbol represented by a stamp, label, seal, or other device approved by the Administrator, and affixed to any product, or to any container thereof, stating that the product was graded or inspected, or both; and the class, quality, or condition of such product as determined by a grader may be indicated.

(x) "Official plant" means one or more buildings or parts thereof, comprising a single plant in which the facilities and methods of operation therein have been approved by the Administrator as suitable and adequate for operation under inspection or grading service and in which inspection or grading is carried on in accordance with the regulations in this part.

(y) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(z) "Product" means ready-to-cook domestic rabbits and, with respect to grading service only, live domestic rabbits.

(aa) "Quality" means the inherent properties of any product which determine its relative degree of excellence.

(bb) "Ready-to-cook domestic rabbit" means any domestic rabbit which has been slaughtered for human food, from which the head, blood, skin, feet, and inedible viscera have been removed, that is ready to cook without need of further processing or any cut-up or disjointed portion of such domestic rabbit.

(cc) "Regional supervisor" means any regional supervisor of the Administration in charge of domestic rabbit grading service or domestic rabbit inspection service in a designated geographical area.

(dd) "Regulations" means the provisions of this entire part and such United States specifications for classes, standards, and grades for products as may be in effect at the time grading or inspection is performed.

(ee) "Secretary" means the Secretary of the Department, or any other officer or employee of the Department to whom there has heretofore been delegated, or to whom there may hereafter be delegated, the authority to act in his stead.

(ff) "State supervisor" means any authorized and designated individual who is in charge of domestic rabbit grading service or domestic rabbit inspection service in a State. A State supervisor of domestic rabbit inspection service shall be a veterinarian and may be either a Federal-State employee or a Federal employee.

(gg) "Station supervisor" means any authorized individual who is designated to supervise domestic rabbit grading service or domestic rabbit inspection service in a large official plant or in a group of several small plants.

ADMINISTRATION

§ 54.2 Administration. The Administrator shall perform for and under the supervision of the Secretary, such duties as are prescribed in the regulations in this part and as the Secretary may require in the Administration of the regulations in this part.

GENERAL

§ 54.3 Grading and inspection programs and services—(a) Kinds of services. The regulations in this part provide for the following kinds of services with respect to live and ready-to-cook domestic rabbits:

(1) Grading of live domestic rabbits.

(2) Grading of ready-to-cook domestic rabbits:

(i) In an official plant.

(ii) At terminal markets and other receiving points other than official plants.

(3) Inspection of ready-to-cook domestic rabbits.

(b) Processing of domestic rabbits in official plans; grading and inspection thereof. Only domestic rabbits which are processed in official plants in accordance with the regulations in this part may be graded or inspected; and only domestic rabbits which are inspected pursuant to the regulations in this part or inspected and passed by any other official inspection system acceptable to the Administration may be graded.

All domestic rabbits that are eviscerated in an official plant where inspection service is maintained, shall be inspected for condition and wholesomeness and no uninspected edible products shall be brought into such official plant.

(c) Basis of service and where offered. (1) Any inspection service in accordance with the regulations in this part shall be for condition and wholesomeness.

(2) Any grading service in accordance with the regulations in this part shall be for class, quality, quantity, or condition or any combination thereof. Grading service with respect to determination of quality of products shall be on the basis of United States specifications for classes, standards, and grades as contained in Subpart B of the regulations in this part. However, grading service may be rendered with respect to products which are bought and sold on the basis of institutional contract specifications and such service, when approved by the Administrator, shall be rendered on the basis of the specifications of such contract.

(3) All grading service and all inspection service shall be subject to supervision at all times by the applicable station supervisor, State supervisor, regional supervisor, and national supervisor. Such service shall be rendered where the facilities and conditions are satisfactory for the conduct of the service and the requisite graders and inspectors are available.

(d) Licensed graders and inspectors. (1) Any person who is a Federal or State employee possessing proper qualifications as determined by an examination for competency, and who is to perform grading service or inspection service may be licensed by the Secretary as a grader or an inspector.

(2) Any prospective grader, other than a Federal or State employee, possessing proper qualifications as determined by an examination for competency and who is to perform grading service may be licensed by the Secretary as a grader.

(3) Any prospective grader, other than a Federal or a State employee, shall, prior to granting of the license, procure and deliver to the Administration a surety bond, issued by such surety as may be approved by the Administrator, in the amount of $1,000 for the proper performance of the duties of such licensee under the regulations in this part.

(4) All licenses issued by the Secretary shall be countersigned by the officer in charge of the domestic rabbit grading and inspection service of the Administration or any other designated official of such service.

(e) Suspension of license or authority; revocation. Pending final action by the Secretary, the aforesaid officer in charge of the domestic rabbit grading and inspection service may, whenever he deems such action necessary, suspend any license or authority effective pursuant to the regulations in this part, by giving notice of such suspension to the respective individual involved, accompanied by a statement of the reasons therefor. Within seven days after the receipt of the aforesaid notice and statement of reasons by such individual, he may file an appeal, in writing, with the Secretary supported by any argument or evidence that he may wish to offer as to why his license or authority should not be suspended or revoked. After the expiration of the aforesaid seven-day period and consideration of such argument and evidence, the Secretary will take such action as he deems appropriate with respect to such suspension or revocation. When no appeal is filed within the prescribed seven days the license is revoked.

(f) Surrender of license. Each license which is suspended or revoked, or has expired, shall promptly be surrendered by the licensee to his immediate superior. Upon termination of the services of a licensed grader, the licensee shall promptly surrender his license to his immediate superior for cancellation.

(g) Identification. Each grader and inspector shall have in his possession at all times, and present upon request while on duty, the means of identification furnished by the Department to such person.

(h) Financial interest of inspectors. No inspector shall inspect any product in which he is financially interested.

§ 54.4 Application for grading service or inspection service—(a) Who may obtain grading service or inspection service. An application for grading service or inspection service may be made by any interested person, including, but not being limited to, the United States, any State, county, municipality, or common carrier, and any authorized agent of the foregoing.

(b) How application may be made. (1) An application for inspection service shall be made in writing and filed with the Administrator.

(2) An application for grading service to be rendered in an official plant shall be made in writing and filed with the Administrator.

(3) An application for any grading service to be rendered other than in an official plant may be made in any office of grading or with any grader at or nearest the place where the service is desired. Such application may be made orally, in writing, or by telegraph. If the application for grading service is made orally, the office of grading, grader with whom the application is made, or the Administrator may require that the application be confirmed in writing.

(4) Each application for grading service or inspection service shall include such information as may be required by the Administrator in regard to the products and premises where the service is rendered.

(c) Filing of application. An application for grading service or inspection service shall be regarded as filed only when made pursuant to the regulations in this part.

(d) Authority of applicant. Proof of the authority of any person applying for grading service or inspection service may be required at the discretion of the Administrator.

(e) Application for inspection service or grading service in official plants; approval. Any person desiring to process and pack products in a plant under grading service or inspection service, or both, must receive approval of such plant as an official plant prior to the rendition of such service. An application for grading service or inspection service to be rendered in an official plant shall be approved according to the following procedure:

(1) Initial survey. When application has been filed for grading service or inspection service, as aforesaid, an examination of the plant and premises shall be made by the regional supervisor, or his assistant, and the necessary facilities specified for the service. Appeals with respect to any such specification may be made to the national supervisor.

(2) Drawings and specifications to be furnished. Four copies of drawings, consisting of floor plans of space to be included in the official plant, showing the locations of such features as the principal pieces of equipment, floor drains, principal drainage lines, hand washing facilities, hose connections for clean up purposes, cardinal points of the compass, and the routes of edible and inedible products through the plant, properly drawn to scale, shall be submitted to the regional supervisor. The official plant shall include toilet and dressing rooms, office space for the inspector and grader, store rooms for supplies used in the operations under inspection or grading, feeding rooms, and all rooms, compartments or passageways where products or any ingredients to be used in the preparation of products under inspection service or grading service will be handled or kept, and may include other rooms or compartments located in the building or buildings comprising the official plant. If rooms or compartments shown on the drawings are not to be included as part of the official plant, this should be clearly indicated thereon. Specifications covering the height of ceilings, types of principal pieces of equipment, character of floors, walls, and ceilings, lighting, ventilation, water supply, and drainage, and such other notations as may be required, shall accompany the drawings. Construction or remodeling of buildings, facilities, or premises should not be initiated without prior approval of the drawings. Upon approval of drawings and specifications the application for grading service or inspection service may be approved.

(3) Final survey. Prior to the inauguration of the grading service or inspection service, a final survey of the plant and premises shall be made by the regional supervisor or his assistant to determine if the plant is constructed and facilities are installed in accordance with the approved drawings and the regulations in the part. The plant may be approved only when these requirements have been met, except that conditional approval for a specified limited time may be granted only under emergency conditions of restricted availability of facilities and construction materials; provided practices suitable to the Administrator are employed to effect adequate sanitary conditions in the plant.

(f) Rejection of application. Any application for grading service or inspection service may be rejected by the Administrator (1) for noncompliance, by the applicant, with the act or the regulations in this part, or (2) whenever the product involved is owned by, or located on the premises of, a person currently denied the benefits of the act. Each such applicant shall be notified immediately of the reasons for the rejection.

(g) Withdrawal of application. Any application for grading or inspection service may be withdrawn by the applicant at any time before the service is performed upon payment, by the applicant, of all expenses incurred by the Administration in connection with such application.

(h) Order of service. Grading service or inspection service shall be performed, insofar as practicable, in the order in which application therefor is made except that precedence may be given to any application for an appeal inspection or appeal grading.

§ 54.5 Fraud or misrepresentation. Any wilful violation of the regulations in this part, the use of the terms "Government graded," "Federal-State graded," or terms of similar import in the labeling or advertising of any product without stating in conjunction therewith the U. S. grade of the product, or any wilful misrepresentation or deceptive or fraudulent practice found to be made or committed by any person in connection with:

(a) The making or filing of an application for any grading service or inspection service;

(b) The use of any grading certificate or inspection certificate issued pursuant to the regulations in this part, or the use of any official identification;

(c) The use of the terms "United States" or "U. S." in conjunction with the grade of the product;

(d) The use of any of the aforesaid terms or an official identification in the labeling or advertising of any product; or

(e) The use, in connection with any product, of a facsimile form which simulates in whole or in part any official identification; may be deemed sufficient cause for debarring such person from any or all benefits of the act after opportunity for hearing has been accorded him; and, pending investigation and hearing, the Administrator may, without hearing, direct that such person shall be denied the benefits of the act.

§ 54.6 Political activity. All graders and inspectors who are employees of the Department are forbidden during the period of their respective appointments or licenses, to take an active part in political management or in political campaigns. Political activity in city, county, State, or national elections, whether primary or regular, or in behalf of any party or candidate, or any measure to be voted upon, is prohibited. This applies to all appointees, including, but not being limited to, temporary and cooperative employees and employees on leave of absence with or without pay. Wilful violation of this section will constitute grounds for dismissal in the case of appointees and revocation of licenses in the case of licensees.

§ 54.7 Interfering with a grader or inspector. Any further benefits of the act and the regulations in this part may be denied any applicant who either personally or through an agent or representative interferes with or obstructs, by intimidation, threats, ridicule, or assault, or in any other manner, a grader or inspector in the performance of his official duties.

§ 54.8 Other applicable regulations. Compliance with the regulations in this part shall not excuse failure to comply with any other applicable Federal, State, or municipal laws or regulations.

§ 54.9 Publications. Publications under the act and the regulations in this part shall be made in the FEDERAL REGISTER, the Service and Regulatory Announcements of the Department, and such other media as the Administrator may approve for the purpose.

§ 54.10 Forms of certificates—(a) Grading certificates. Grading certificates (including appeal grading certificates and regrading certificates) shall be issued on forms approved by the Administrator.

(b) Inspection certificates. Each inspection certificate issued pursuant to the regulations in this part shall be approved by the Administrator as to form, and:

(1) Each domestic rabbit inspection certificate shall show the class or classes of domestic rabbits, the quantity of product contained in the respective lot, and all pertinent information concerning the condition and wholesomeness thereof;

(2) Each food product inspection certificate shall show the names of the edible products covered by such certificate, the quantity of each such product, such shipping marks as are necessary to identify such products, and all pertinent information concerning the condition and wholesomeness thereof;

(3) Each export certificate shall show the respective names of the exporter and the consignee, the destination, the shipping marks, the numbers of the export stamps attached to the edible products to be exported and covered by the certificate, and the names of such products and the total net weight thereof.

(c) Advance information. Upon the request of an applicant, all or part of the contents of any grading certificate or inspection certificate issued to such applicant may be telephoned or telegraphed to him, or to any person designated by him at his expense.

§ 54.11 Identifying and marking products—(a) Approval of official identification. (1) Any label or packaging material which bears any offical identification shall be used only in such manner as the Administrator may prescribe. No label or packaging material bearing official identification may be used unless finished copies or samples of such labels and packaging material have been approved by the Administrator. No label bearing official identification shall be printed for use until the printer's final proof has been approved by the Administrator; and no label, other than labels for shipping containers or containers for institutional packs, bearing any official identification shall be used until finished copies or samples of such labels have been approved by the Administrator. Final approval may be given to printer's final proof or photostatic copies of labels for shipping containers or containers for institutional packs, and no such labels shall be used until such proofs or copies have been approved by the Administrator. A label which bears official identification shall not bear any statement that is false or misleading, and if labels in the name of the same packer or distributor, or bearing the same brand name, are used on the same or similar products which are prepared from products which are not inspected, the diameter of the inspection mark, or combination inspection and grading mark, used on labels for inspected products shall be equal to at least one-tenth of the length of the label, plus at least one-tenth of the width of the label. If the labeling is printed or otherwise applied directly to the container, the principal display panel of such container shall, for this purpose, be considered as the label.

(2) Any present supply of labels approved, pursuant to the applicable provisions of Part 70 of this chapter, prior to the effective time of the regulations in this part may continue to be used until such present supply is exhausted.

(b) Products that may be individually identified; information required on grade mark. Only ready-to-cook domestic rabbits which are of A Quality or B Quality may be individually identified with a grade mark. Except as otherwise authorized each grade mark which is to be used shall conspicuously indicate the U. S. grade and class of the product it identifies and shall include one of the following phrases: "Federal-State Graded," or "Government Graded," or a phrase of similar import. Such grade mark shall be contained within the outline of a shield of such design as may be prescribed or approved by the Administrator.

(c) Use of grade mark and inspection mark with respect to the same product. The Administrator is authorized to prescribe and approve the form of the grade mark and inspection mark that may be used individually or in combination with respect to the same product.

(d) Marking inspected products—(1) Wording and form of the inspection mark. Except as otherwise authorized the inspection mark permitted to be used with respect to inspected and certified edible products shall include wording as follows: "Inspected for wholesomeness by U. S. Department of Agriculture." This wording, in such form as the Administrator may prescribe or approve shall be contained within a circle. The Administrator may approve the use of abbreviations of such inspection mark; and such approved abbreviations shall have the same force and effect as the inspection mark. The inspection mark or approved abbreviation thereof, as the case may be, may be applied to the inspected and certified edible product or to the packaging material of such product. The inspection mark, or the approved abbreviation thereof, shall, when used on packaging material, be printed on such material or on a label to be affixed to the packaging material, and the name of the packer or distributor of such product must be legibly printed on the packaging material or label, as the case may be.

(2) Wording on labels. Each trade label to be approved for use pursuant to this section with respect to any inspected and certified edible product shall bear the true name of the edible product, the name and address of the packer or distributor thereof, and, in prominent letters and figures of uniform side, the inspection mark, as aforesaid; and the label shall also bear, in such manner as may be prescribed or approved by the Administrator, the plant number, if any, of the official plant in which such product was inspected and certified.

(3) Labels in foreign languages. Any trade label to be affixed to a container of any edible products for foreign commerce may be printed in a foreign language. However, the inspection mark shall appear on the label in English, but, in addition, may be literally translated into such foreign language. Each such trade label which is to be printed in a foreign language must be approved pursuant to this section.

(4) Use of approved labels. Trade labels approved for use pursuant to this section shall be used only for the purpose for which approved.

§ 54.12 Supervision of marking and packaging—(a) Evidence of label approval. No grader or inspector shall authorize the use of official identification for any graded or inspected product unless he has on file evidence that such official identification or packaging material bearing such official identification has been approved in accordance with the provisions of § 54.11.

(b) Affixing of official identification. (1) No official identification or any abbreviation, copy or representation thereof may be affixed to or placed on or caused to be affixed to or placed on any product or container thereof except by a grader or an inspector or under the supervision of a grader or an inspector or other person authorized by the Administrator. All such products shall have been inspected and certified, or graded, or both. The grader or inspector shall have supervision over the use and handling of all material bearing any official identification.

(2) Each container of inspected and certified edible products to be shipped from one official plant to another official plant for further processing shall be marked for identification and shall show the following information:

(i) The name of the inspected and certified edible products in the container;

(ii) The name and address of the packer or distributor of such product;

(iii) The net weight of the container;

(iv) The inspection mark permitted to be used pursuant to the regulations in this part, unless the containers are sealed or otherwise identified in such manner as may be approved by the Administrator; and

(v) The plant number of the official plant where the products were packed.

(c) Packaging. No container which bears or may bear any official identification or any abbreviation or copy or representation thereof may be filled in whole or in part except with edible products which were inspected and certified or graded or both and are at the time of such filling, sound, wholesome and fit for human food. All such filling of containers shall be under the supervision of an inspector or grader.

§ 54.13 Retention labels. An inspector or grader may use such labels, devices and methods as may be approved by the Administrator for the identification (a) of products which are held for further examination, and (b) all equipment and utensils which are to be held for proper cleaning.

§ 54.14 Prerequisites to grading and inspection. Grading and inspection of products shall be rendered pursuant to the regulations in this part and under such conditions and in accordance with such methods as may be prescribed or approved by the Administrator.

§ 54.15 Accessibility of products. Each product for which grading service or inspection service is requested shall be so arranged so as to permit adequate determination of its class, quality, quantity, and condition as the circumstances may warrant.

§ 54.16 Time of grading or inspection in an official plant. The grader or inspector who is to perform the grading or inspection in an official plant shall be informed, in advance, by the applicant of the hours when such grading or inspection is desired. Graders and inspectors shall have access at all times to every part of any official plant to which they are assigned.

§ 54.17 Report of inspection work and grading work. Reports of the work of inspection and grading carried on within official plants shall be forwarded to the Administrator by the inspector and grader in such manner as may be specified by the Administrator.

(a) Information to be furnished to inspectors and graders. When inspection service or grading service is performed within an official plant, the applicant for such inspection or grading shall furnish to the inspector or grader rendering such service such information as may be required for the purposes of this section.

(b) Reports of violations. Each inspector and each grader shall report, in the manner prescribed by the Administrator, all violations of and noncompliance with the act and the regulations in this part of which he has knowledge.

§ 54.18 Fees and charges—(a) Payment of fees and charges. (1) Fees and charges for any grading or inspection shall be paid by the applicant for the service in accordance with the applicable provisions of this section and, if so required by the Administrator, such fees and charges shall be paid in advance.

(2) Fees and charges for any grading or inspection performed by any grader or inspector who is a salaried employee of the Department shall, unless otherwise required pursuant to subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, be paid by check, draft, or money order payable to the Treasurer of the United States and remitted promptly to the Administration.

(3) Fees and charges for any grading or inspection pursuant to a cooperative agreement with any State or person shall be paid in accordance with the terms of such cooperative agreement.

(b) Grading service on a fee basis. (1) Unless otherwise provided in this part the fees to be charged and collected for any grading service (other than for an appeal grading) on a fee basis shall be based on the applicable rates specified in paragraph (d) of this section.

(2) In the event the aforesaid applicable rates specified in paragraph (d) of this section are deemed by the Administrator to be inadequate fully to reimburse the Administration for all costs and other items paid or incurred by the Administration in connection with such service, the fees for such service shall not be based on the rates specified in paragraph (d) of this section, but shall be based on the time required to perform such service and the travel of each grader at the rate of $3.00 per hour for the time actually required.

(3) If an applicant requests that any grading service be performed on a holiday or a non-work day, he may be charged for such service at a rate one and one-half times the rate which would otherwise be applicable for such service if performed on a day other than on a holiday or non-work day.

(c) Fees for appeal grading. The fees to be charged for any appeal grading shall be double the fee specified in the grading certificate from which the appeal is taken: Provided, That the fee for any appeal grading requested by the United States, or any agency or instrumentality thereof, shall be not more than that set forth in the grading certificate from which the appeal is taken. If the fee on the certificate from which the appeal is taken is based on a contract, then the fee for such appeal grading shall be double the amount specified in paragraph (d) of this section for the applicable volume of product appeal graded. If the result of any appeal grading discloses that a material error was made in the grading appealed from, no fee shall be required.

(d) Domestic rabbits grading fees. For each grading of any lot of domestic rabbits, whether live or ready-to-cook, the following fees shall be applicable:

For 500 pounds or less	$1.50
For 501 to 1,000 pounds, inclusive	2.25
For 1,501 to 3,000 pounds, inclusive	3.00
For 3,001 to 6,000 pounds, inclusive	4.00
For 6,001 to 10,000 pounds, inclusive	6.00
For 10,001 to 20,000 pounds, inclusive	10.00
For each additional 10,000 pounds, or fraction thereof, in excess of 20,000 pounds	3.00

(e) Inspection service on a fee basis. Fees to be charged and collected for inspection services furnished on a fee basis shall be based on the time required to render such services including, but not being limited to, the time required for the travel of the inspector or inspectors in connection therewith, at the rate of $3.25 per hour for each inspector for the time actually required.

(f) Fees for additional copies of grading certificates and inspection certificates. Additional copies, other than those provided for in § 54.27 and § 54.32 of any grading certificates or inspection certificates, may be supplied to any interested party upon payment of a fee of $1.00 for each set for five or fewer copies.

(g) Traveling expenses and other charges. Charges may be made to cover the cost of traveling and other expenses incurred by the Administration in connection with the performance of any grading service or inspection service.

(h) On a contract basis. Fees to be charged and collected for any grading service or inspection service, other than for an appeal grading, on a contract basis shall be those provided for in such contract. The fees to be charged for any appeal grading shall be as provided in paragraph (c) of this section.

(i) Fees for grading service or inspection service performed under cooperative agreement. The fees to be charged and collected for any grading service or inspection service performed under cooperative agreement shall be those provided for by such agreement.

(j) Disposition of fees for inspection made under cooperative agreement. Fees for inspection under a cooperative agreement with any State or person shall be disposed of in acordance with the terms of such agreement. Such portion of the fees collected under a cooperative agreement as may be due the United States shall be remitted to the Administration.

INSPECTION

§ 54.19 Manner of handling products in an official plant. Unless otherwise specified in the regulations in this part by the Administrator, products which are to be further processed under inspection in an official plant shall be prepared and handled in such official plant only in such manner as may be prescribed or approved by the Administrator and under the supervision of an inspector.

§ 54.20 Ante-mortem inspection. Ante-mortem examination of domestic rabbits is required as a prerequisite to any inspection; and such ante-mortem examination shall be carried out under such conditions and in accordance with such methods as may be prescribed or approved by the Administrator.

§ 54.21 Evisceration. No viscera or any part thereof shall be removed from any domestic rabbits which are to be processed under inspection in any official plant, except at the time of evisceration and inspection. Each carcass to be eviscerated shall be opened so as to expose the organs and the body cavity for proper examination by the inspector and shall be prepared immediately after inspection as ready-to-cook domestic rabbit.

§ 54.22 Carcasses held for further examination. Each carcass, including all parts thereof, in which there is any lesion of disease, or other condition, which might render such carcass or any part thereof unfit for human food, and with respect to which a final decision cannot be made on first examination by the inspector, shall be held for further examination. The identity of each such carcass, including all parts thereof, shall be maintained until a final examination has been completed.

§ 54.23 Condemnation and treatment of carcasses. Each carcass, or any part thereof, which is found to be unsound, unwholesome, or otherwise unfit for human food shall be condemned by the inspector and shall receive such treatment, under the supervision of the inspector as will prevent its use for human food and preclude dissemination of disease through consumption by animals.

§ 54.24 Certification of carcasses. Each carcass and all parts and organs thereof which are found by the inspector to be sound, wholesome, and fit for human food shall be certified as provided in this part.

§ 54.25 Reinspection of edible products. (a) Any inspected and certified edible product may be brought into an official plant only if the container of such product is marked for identification in the manner prescribed in § 54.12 (b) (2) and the product is reinspected by an inspector at the time it is brought into such plant. Upon reinspection, if any such product or portion thereof is found to be unsound, unwholesome, or otherwise unfit for human food, such product, or portion thereof, shall be condemned and shall receive such treatment as that provided in § 54.23.

(b) Any product which is prepared under inspection in an official plant shall be inspected in such plant as often as the inspector deems it necessary in order to ascertain whether such product is sound, wholesome, and fit for human food at the time such product leaves such plant. Upon any such inspection, if any such product or portion thereof is found to be unsound, unwholesome, or otherwise unfit for human food, such product or portion thereof shall be condemned and shall receive such treatment as that provided in § 54.23.

(c) All substances and ingredients used in the manufacture or preparation of any edible product shall be clean, sound, wholesome, and fit for human food.

§ 54.26 Appeal inspection; how made. Any interested party may, if dissatisfied with any decision of an inspector relating to any inspection, file an appeal from such decision. Any such appeal from a decision of an inspector shall be made to his immediate superior having jurisdiction over the subject matter of the appeal. Review of such appeal findings, when requested, shall be made by the immediate superior of the employee of the Department making the appeal inspection.

§ 54.27 Inspection certificates; issuance and disposition—(a) Issuance and disposition of domestic rabbits inspection certificates. (1) Upon the request of an interested party, any inspector is authorized to issue a domestic rabbit inspection certificate with respect to any lot of dressed domestic rabbits inspected by him. Each certificate shall be signed by the inspector who made the inspection covered by the certificate, and if more than one inspector participated in the inspection of the lot of domestic rabbits, each such inspector shall sign the certificate with respect to such lot.

(2) The original of each inspection certificate, issued pursuant to this section, and not to exceed three copies thereof, shall, immediately upon issuance, be delivered or mailed to the applicant or person designated by him. One copy shall be filed in the office of the regional supervisor serving the area in which the inspection was performed, and the remaining copies to be disposed of in such manner as the Administrator may approve. Additional copies of any such certificate may be furnished to any interested party as provided in § 54.18.

(b) Food product inspection certificates; issuance and disposition. (1) Upon the request of an interested party, any inspector is authorized to issue a food product inspection certificate with respect to any inspected and certified edible product after suitable examination of the product has been made by the inspector.

(2) The original of each food product inspection certificate, and not to exceed two copies thereof, if requested, shall, immediately upon issuance, be delivered or mailed to the applicant or person designated by him. Another copy shall be filed in the office of the regional supervisor serving the area in which such certificate was issued, and one copy shall be forwarded to the Administrator. The last named two copies shall be retained until otherwise ordered by the Administrator.

(c) Export certificates; issuance and disposition. (1) Upon the request of an exporter, any inspector is authorized to issue an export certificate with respect to the shipment to any foreign country of any inspected and certified edible product after suitable examination of the product has been made by the inspector.

(2) Each export certificate shall be issued in quintuplicate; the original shall be delivered to the exporter who requested such certificate; and the duplicate copy shall be delivered to the agent of the railroad or other carrier transporting such products from the United States. The triplicate copy of such export certificate shall be forwarded to the Administrator; the quadruplicate copy shall be filed in the office of the regional supervisor serving the area in which such export certificate was issued and the memorandum copy shall be retained by the inspector for filing. The last named three copies shall be retained until otherwise ordered by the Administrator.

GRADING

§ 54.28 General. Grading service performed with respect to any quantity of products shall, as the case may require, be on the basis of an examination, pursuant to the regulations in this part, of each unit thereof or of each unit in the representative sample thereof drawn by a grader. Whenever the grading service is performed on a representative sample basis, such sample shall be drawn and consist of not less than the minimum number of containers as indicated in the following table.

[Minimum number of containers comprising a representative sample]

Containers in lot:	Containers in sample
3 containers, or less	(1)
4 to 10, inclusive	3
11 to 20, inclusive	4
21 to 50, inclusive	7
51 to 100, inclusive	10
In excess of 100 containers	(2)

[1] All containers.
[2] 10 percent of the number of containers in the lot.

§ 54.29 Live domestic rabbits. Grading service performed with respect to any quantity of live domestic rabbits shall, as the case may require, be on the basis of an examination, pursuant to regulations in this part, of each unit thereof or of each unit in the representative sample thereof drawn by a grader. Such domestic rabbits may be identified with official identification on a lot basis only.

§ 54.30 Ready-to-cook domestic rabbits—(a) In an official plant. Grading service performed in an official plant with respect to ready-to-cook domestic rabbits shall, as the case may require, be on the basis of each individual carcass or on a representative sample basis.

(1) Only such ready-to-cook domestic rabbits which have been inspected and certified, pursuant to the regulations in this part, or have been inspected and passed by any other official inspection system which is acceptable to the Administrator, may be graded.

(2) Only such ready-to-cook domestic rabbits which were graded on an individual carcass basis and are of A Quality or B Quality may be individually identified with the appropriate grade mark, and any container of such ready-to-cook domestic rabbits may also be so identified. The grading of ready-to-cook domestic rabbits shall be performed prior to the disjointing or cutting up of the respective carcass.

(3) If the ready-to-cook domestic rabbits are of C Quality only the bulk container of such ready-to-cook domestic rabbits may be identified with the appropriate grade mark even though the grading may have been performed on an individual carcass basis.

(b) At terminal markets and other receiving points. Grading service performed with respect to ready-to-cook domestic rabits at terminal markets and other receiving points may be on a representative sample basis. Only such ready-to-cook domestic rabbits which were processed in an official plant and are graded on an individual carcass basis may be individually identified with a grade mark. Only ready-to-cook domestic rabbits which were inspected and certified and are marked with the inspection mark or in accordance with the provisions of § 54.12 (b) (2) may be graded.

§ 54.31 Basis of acceptability of other official inspection systems—(a) General. Any domestic rabbit inspection system may be deemed to be acceptable to the Administrator which (1) is conducted under the authority of laws, ordinances, or similar enactments of the State, county, city, or other political subdivision in which is located the official plant at which the ready-to-cook domestic rabbits are prepared and submitted for grading service; and (2) imposes at least the requirements set forth in paragraph (b) of this section: Provided, That no such inspection shall be deemed acceptable to the Administrator with respect to any official plant in which ready-to-cook domestic rabbits are prepared if he finds at any time that such requirements are not adequately enforced.

(b) Requirements as to manner of inspection. (1) The inspection shall be conducted by an inspector who is a qualified veterinarian or under the supervision of a qualified veterinarian. All such inspectors shall be employed by the State, county, city, or other political subdivision in which the official plant is located.

(2) The inspection shall include postmortem examination of each domestic rabbit carcass during the evisceration operation.

(3) All carcasses which show evidence of disease or any other condition which may render them unwholesome or unfit for food shall be condemned and shall be destroyed for food purposes under the supervision of an inspector. Each carcass and part thereof which has been inspected and passed or containers of carcasses or parts thereof shall bear the identifying inspection symbol of the other official inspection system and the marking devices or labels shall be in the custody of the inspector at all times.

(c) Determining compliance with paragraph (b) of this section. A qualified veterinary supervisor of the domestic rabbit grading service of the Administration shall investigate the manner of operation of the inspection system to determine the adequacy of the postmortem examination and the compliance with the requirements contained in this section prior to approving the official plant for the grading of ready-to-cook domestic rabbits. This supervisor as well as any official graders who may be stationed in the official plant shall periodically observe the inspection operations in the official plant to determine that the requirements of this section are being met. If at any time the inspector fails to enforce the requirements as set forth in the inspection system, grading service may be withdrawn from the official plant.

§ 54.32 Certificates—(a) Issuance. Each grader shall issue a grading certificate covering each product graded.

(b) Disposition. The original of each grading certificate, issued pursuant to this section, and not to exceed three of the copies thereof, shall, immediately upon issuance, be delivered or mailed to the applicant or person designated by him. One copy shall be filed in the office of grading serving the area in which the grading service was performed, and the remaining copies shall be disposed of in such manner as the Administrator may approve. Additional copies of any such certificate may be furnished to any interested party as provided in § 54.18 (f).

§ 54.33 Application for regrading of a graded product; regrading certificates—(a) Application for regrading of a graded product. An application for a regrading of any previously graded product may be made at any time by any interested party, and such application shall clearly state the reasons for requesting the regrading. The provisions of the regulations relative to grading service shall apply to regrading service.
